May ISD Visited By Accreditation Team

During the week of October 27, 1981, an accreditation monitoring visit was conducted in the May School District. All aspects of May Independent School District's operation relevant to accreditation regulations were examined, with an emphasis upon the instructional program.

The accreditation team headed by Dr. James Salmon made several commendations. May ISD was commended for:

(a) hiring professional personnel above those allotted by the state; (b) securing the community support necessary to build and improve campus; (c) striving to establish small classes and having a very small student teacher ratio. Also the administration was commended for its creative innovations in offering a wide variety of courses with a limited number of staff. The accreditation team also suggested a few areas for improvement. The most important are strengthening the resource centers and laboratory methods in science. This will require providing additional supplies and equipment.

Also the district was found in violation of providing an adequate conference and planning period for members of its staff.

Dr. Salmon recommended that May ISD continue to be accredited.

We feel good about the results of this accreditation visit. The areas of suggested improvements and violations are being corrected. We plan to continue to improve and expand our institutional programs and to provide the highest standard of education for our students that we possibly can.

Doctor Carpenter's

office will be closed

from noon,
Friday, November 13th
until Monday 9 A.M.
November 16th.

GORDON SPOT

by DeMarquis Gordon

This was a good year for fruit production in Eastland County. Most people tell me they produced more peaches, plums, apples, pears and other fruit this year than in many years.

We take care of the fruit trees in the spring, but often fruit tree is forgotten or neglected in the fall. Fall is a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year. With the arrival of fall, there is often a tendency to forget our peach and plum trees that served us so well last spring and summer.

Fungicides applied now can stop or reduce three of the six diseases that attack peach and plum trees. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leafspot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper containing fungicide such as Kocide 101.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding the damage. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

Spray when 70% of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide. But again, it is important to spray at the right time to prevent foliage burn.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in Eastland County is most often applied around November 1 and December 1. Application time will vary with the season. Keep a watch on the fruit trees and spray when 70% of the leaves have fallen.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees because there is no other time when 50% of peach and plum tree diseases can be controlled with one spray.

The peanut combines are very busy this week. The weather has been ideal and the soil moisture is good in sandy upland fields. Some peanut fields containing a lot of clay are still too wet for harvesting equipment. The yields have been very good in most areas. I have seen many dryland fields yielding 1,200 to 1,500 pounds per acre.

Swine shortcourse to be November 16

There will be a Swine Shortcourse sponsored by the Eastland County Swine Committee on November 16 at 7:00 P.M. in the Agriculture Building at the Gorman High School. Everyone who wishes to attend this meeting is invited. The guest speaker will be Dr. Armstrong from Texas A&M University and his subject will be diagnostic work on swine. The information will be informative and worthwhile to any swine producer.

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

HOMEMAKING HINTS

How much does it cost to raise a child? Fortunately, we now can get a good idea of the monetary costs of child rearing. Mr. Thomas Espenshade, senior research associate with the Urban Institute in Washington, D.C. has calculated the direct, out-of-pocket expenditure for childbirth, food, housing, transportation, clothing, medical care, educational materials and four years of college in the United States. The most recently updated figures were published in the fall of 1980.

It was estimated that the average middle-income family, with an after-tax income in the $22,500 to $27,000 range would spend approximately $85,000 to rear a child from birth through four years at a publicly supported college - in 1980 dollars, that is. A low-income family, with an after-tax income of $14,000 to $18,000 would spend approximately $58,000. (These standards of living originated through the USDA, which uses family food expenditures to determine them) Although many Americans found the figures sobering, probably none were surprised at the increase of 33% since 1977, when the costs were last tabulated. This corresponds with the increase in the Consumer Price Index during that period of time.

It is also important to note that these figures vary from region to region and from urban to rural families. In addition, there are variations resulting from the educational levels of the parents, their tastes and preferences for an alternative lifestyle. A family's standard of living, in fact, is one of the most important determinants in any expenditures related to child rearing. Housing is an excellent example of this. Our needs can be met by the simplest of shelters, but we generally want the finest home our money can buy. Thus, if a family can afford a mansion, this becomes part of their child-rearing expenses. The same is true for high-priced clothing, cars, recreation, etc.

It also should be noted that many children are raised at one cost level for a few years, then at another, higher one. College expenses too vary greatly, depending upon whether the child attends a public or private institution. Unfortunately, as long as inflation continues, all estimates have to be revised upward from one year to the next anyway.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK

The Extension Homemakers Clubs now have a wonderful cookbook on sale. This is a cookbook featuring the favorite recipes of our club membership. You will want one for your own kitchen. Too, they will make very nice Christmas presents. Mrs. Bernard Campbell, of Eastland, is chairman for the cookbook.

This week I am featuring a recipe for Refrigerator Wheat Rolls. This recipe is printed in the Texas Agricultural Products pamphlet entitled "Recipes for Diabetics". These refrigerator rolls would be good to prepare ahead of time before your Thanksgiving company arrives.

Refrigerator Wheat Rolls

2 cakes yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
1/4 cup honey
1 tablespoon salt
3 cups whole wheat flour, divided
2 beaten eggs
1/2 cup melted shortening
3 cups white flour
Soften yeast in lukewarm water; set aside. Scald milk, add honey and salt; cook to lukewarm. Add 2 cups whole wheat flour and beat well. Add yeast mixture, eggs and shortening; blend well. Add remaining whole wheat flour and white flour to make a soft dough. Knead until smooth and satiny. Place in lightly greased bowl; grease top of dough. Cover well and put into refrigerator. After no less than 12 hours or more than 4 days, remove and punch down. Shape rolls as desired and place rolls in non-stick pans. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 15-20 minutes. Yield: 30 rolls, 1 roll per serving.

Extension Homemakers

This year's annual Extension Homemakers Achievement Day will be Wednesday, November 11 at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Eastland.

Daydreams by the Yard of Abilene will present a fashion show for the afternoon program. The style show will be coordinated by Mrs. Ruthie Keyes of Cisco. Students at Cisco Junior College will be models in the show presentation which will start at 1:15 p.m.

Another highlight of the day's activities will include each club presenting their outstanding club woman of the year honorees. The club honorees will be presented prior to the noon covered dish luncheon.

Individual club member's exhibits will be on display. Exhibits will include classes in sewing, crochet, knitting, handwork, quilts, bedspreads, crafts, paintings, and canned foods.

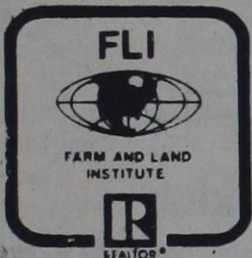

Extension Homemakers Council will meet at 10 a.m. All Council members are urged to attend the business meeting.

Other special awards and recognition will be presented to the club that has enrolled the most new members for the year. Also winners in the club reporter book competition will be announced.

When Benefits Stop

Some people receiving Social Security benefits are not aware of the circumstances under which their benefits may stop because they are no longer eligible for them. This fact is indicated by the number of frantic calls and visitors we get when a Social Security check fails to arrive.

When a person is awarded a Social Security benefit, he or she is sent a special pamphlet called "Your rights and responsibilities." It explains aspects of Social Security benefits every beneficiary should know and specifically under what circumstances the benefits may stop or be reduced. The reader is instructed to make sure these events are reported to the Social Security office.

Generally, benefits may be reduced or may stop when the conditions change and the purpose for which they are paid no longer exists. Social Security benefits are considered a partial replacement for earnings lost by retirement, death, or disability. If events indicate that a person is no longer retired or disabled or not dependent upon a retired, disabled, or deceased worker, benefits may cease or the benefits may be reduced to reflect the changed circumstances.

People can work while receiving Social Security benefits, but the amount of earnings is used to measure whether they are retired, disabled, or remain dependent. Generally, people 65 and over can earn up to $5,500 in 1981 before benefits are affected. People under 65 may earn up to $4,080. Earnings over the exempt amount may reduce benefits $1 for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount.

People who receive benefits as a disabled worker, adult disabled in childhood, or a disabled widow or widower are not subject to the earnings test. There are special rules, which include medical considerations, for determining how any work they do might affect their disability payments. These factors are weighed to determine the person's ability to engage in "substantial gainful employment."

Generally, earnings averaging $300 a month indicate the ability to engage in substantial gainful work. A trial work period of up to 9 months gives disabled workers and disabled adult children an opportunity to demonstrate if they can perform substantial gainful activity. Once this determination is made benefits are paid for another 3 months to provide an adjustment period.

Of course, if a person's condition improves so that he or she is no longer disabled, benefits would be stopped after a 3 month adjustment period even though the trial work period is not over.

Before benefits are stopped, a person is notified by mail. A person may appeal the decision if he or she feels that it is incorrect.

People who are not sure about what events will affect their benefits should call the Social Security office. The Abilene phone number is 698-1360. For those living outside Abilene, there is a toll free number 1-800-392-1603.

PEP RALLY

By Merlinda Munguia
Friday, November 6, 1981 was the last pep rally for the Seniors of 82.

The opening yell was "We're The Cats."

The Student Body had Spirit. But they weren't the only ones. The teachers had spirit too!!

The Senior boys were recognized for the last time of the Football season. Then the rest of the Wildcat team was introduced. The TEAM had a positive attitude.

Two Senior players were called on to inspire the audience with positive remarks.

Overall the Pep Rally was a time to remember for the Seniors of 82!!

A TEAM EFFORT

The Wildcats traveled to Evant Friday for their last game of the season.

Rising Star needed to win to give Coach Finley his first winning season in Rising Star. Also, Senior Jon Vaughn was looking forward to a thousand yard year which he surpassed with 1076 yards.

The Cats went ahead early in the game when Damon Cooper blasted through the line for a three yard TD run.

Evant was quick to come back scoring 14 points in the first half, and holding the Cats to 6.

Coming out of the locker room, Rising Star's team efforts, classy running, and an arrangement of plays brought the Cats home with a victory.

Clay Shults caught a 21 yard pass to put the Cats within 2 points of Evant. Chuck Harris ran in the point after to put Rising Star ahead. Jon Vaughn then put the game out of reach when he plowed over the line for six.

Rising Star finished the season with a 6-4 record. Congratulations to the players and coaches for a winning year.

THE LITTLE TOWN IS WHERE...
A little town is where everybody knows what everybody else is doing...But they read the weekly newspaper to see who got caught at it.

In a little town everybody knows every neighbor's car by sight and mostly by sound-and also knows when it comes and where it goes.
In a little town there's no use anybody lyin' about his age or his ailments or exaggerating about his ancestors or his offspring.
A little town is where, if you get the wrong number, you can talk for fifteen minutes anyway-if you want to.
A little town is where there's hardly anything to do and never enough time to do it..

In any town the ratio of good people to bad people is a hundred to one.
In a big town, the hundred are uncomfortable.
In a little town, the "one" is.
A little town is where busissmen struggle for survival against suburban shopping centers...
Where they dig deep to support anybody's worthy cause...though they know "anybody" shops mostly at city stores.

Small-town gossip tends to cut down anybody who's up...help up anybody who's down...

The small-town policeman has a first name.
The small-town schoolteacher has the last word.

The small-town preacher is a full time farmer.

The small-town fireman-take turns.

Why would anybody want to live in one of these tiny "blink-and-you-miss-it towns"?

I don't know. Maybe because in the class play there's a part for everybody...

In the town jail there's rarely anybody.

In the town cemetery, you're still among friends.

LP Powered Vehicles Need New Tax Decal

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday warned that vehicles using liquified gas must display a new tax decal by January 1, 1982.

Bullock said legislative changes in the LP gas law will permit his office to tax vehicles on both weight and mileage and decals should cost less for those who drive fewer miles.

An LP-powered vehicle cannot legally be refueled or pass state vehicle inspection without a valid tax decal.

Fuel tax decals range in cost from $24 a year for a vehicle driven less than 5,000 miles annually and weighing less than 4,000 pounds, to $300 for a vehicle weighing over 43,501 pounds and driven more than 10,000 miles a year.

Bullock said renewal notices to owners of LP-powered cars and trucks are being sent out by his office, and decals are available from the Comptroller's field offices and at the agency's Austin office. Bullock estimated that there are more than 40,000 liquified gas powered cars and trucks in Texas.

The motor fuels tax on LP gas brings in about $4 million a year in tax revenue.

Growing Child

A toddler's early development is important for getting him ready to read. Learning about left, right, and down inside his own body helps him learn these same directions in the world outside his body.

Many children with serious learning problems have trouble reading because they never learned about left, right, up and down, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. They cannot tell the letter "b" from the letter "d" because they don't know left from right. They are not slow or retarded in learning, they just failed to learn about directions in space.

Experts in learning disabilities see many bright teenagers who can barely read. Many of these young people are confused about their left-right-down directions-both inside their own bodies and also in the world outside.

The real problem is that these children cannot organize relationships among objects in space. They may have sharp vision, which means they can see each object "out there" very clearly. Their problem is that they cannot organize what they see. They see, but do not perceive accurately. It's almost as if each thing they see is separate and distinct from all other things—they have trouble perceiving patterns or relationships among all those things "out there."

Children with problems such as the ones just described have difficulty in organizing space. Objects exist in space, and form patterns in space. As you read this, stop for a moment and do a simple experiment. Look about you at all the objects in the room where you are sitting. Now look at just one object (a chair, table, flower pot, etc.).

As you look at this one object, you know very well where all the other objects are with respect to this one object. Some are to the left or right, some are close to or farther away from you than this one object. All the objects in the room are "there in space," and you can see where each is with respect to all the others; you can organize the patterns of all those objects in space.

The reason you can do this is that when you were a toddler, you learned about relationships among the parts of your own body. You also learned how to project your "body space" onto the world outside your body. For many children, this important "toddler learning" simply did not take place.

Organizing space is a most important learning task for toddlers. But they must also learn how to organize something else which is just as important: They must learn how to organize time.

This does not mean "organizing time" as adults do; rather, it means that a toddler must learn that some things happen "now", that other things happened "before", and that still other things will happen "later." Just as objects are "there" in space and form patterns, in a somewhat similar fashion events occur in time and form patterns.

A child needs to learn about "now" and "before" and "later" just as much as he needs to learn about left and right and up and down. To see how this basic organization of time affects reading, consider this example. Many bright children with severe learning problems will write "frist" for "first" when they are copying words or sentences. This particular mistake is actually an error in organizing time.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Growing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. Include child's birthday when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

Curly Hays Retires From WTU

James L. (Curly) Hays, farm and ranch supervisor for West Texas Utilities Company retired November 1 after serving the company for 43 years.

Curly doesn't seem to have any immediate plans for his retirement, but if he is true to form, he'll be too busy to even know he's reached 65. In fact, at the occasion of his 25th anniversary with WTU in 1964 it took his boss, R.E. (Bob) Kennedy, and others a week to locate him. They finally caught up with Curly in Roby where he was guest speaker at a Lions Club.

Kennedy presented the tall friendly Hays his 25 year pin at the close of the Lions meeting, and said, "We have been trailing him all over West Texas trying to give him this pin. It not only represents 25 years of service with WTU, but also 25 years of devoted service to 4-H Clubs and FFA boy and girls, farmers and ranchers."

Curly came to work for WTU in 1938 after a very successful early life. He was born in Clarksville in 1916, but spent his younger life in San Angelo where he attended schools. He was an outstanding athlete in football, and was named a member of the all-state team for two years. He was also a member of the National Honor Society for two years.

Following high school graduation, he attended Tulsa University and received a bachelor of arts degree in Business Administration. He also received a bachelor of science degree from Dartmouth. While at Tulsa, he was named to the All-American football team as a running back, and to the All-Missouri Valley Conference team for three successive years.

During World War II Curly served with the U.S. Navy and reached the rank of lieutenant-commander. He was active in the Naval Reserve as full commander, and served as a commandant's personal representative in West Texas.

For many years he was busy on weekends during football and basketball season flying all over the Southwest to officiate at athletic contests. He was a member of the Southwest Conference Football Officials Association; the Southwest Conference Basketball Officials Association; and Western Alliance Conference Basketball Officials Association.

Curly has always been a big booster for West Texas towns. He has been active in the Texas Commercial Agriculturists Council, the West Texas Hereford Association which he served as secretary for many years, the Texas Junior Hereford Association, and the Food and Fibers Council of Texas. He also acted as superintendent of the West Texas Fair Fat Stock Show, and was a member of the Fair Board of Directors.

He was awarded an honorary Lone Star Farmer and was also a trustee of the P.T. Montfort Foundation.

In all of his many devoted activities, Curly likely will tell you that work with 4-H boys and girls is his first love. When 4-H club members get together for a district meeting, a Gold Star Banquet, or a Style Review, Curly is always there. He has probably received more hugs from 4-H girls and handshakes from 4-H boys than any other person in Texas. He served many years as a trustee of the Texas 4-H Foundation. He has stirred the hearts of many young people during speaking engagements as he has admonished them to continue working for their communities' betterment.

Hays and his wife, "Shifty," the former Jean Cahill of Kingston, New York were married in Abilene in 1948. She is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Abilene.

Beta Upsilon Meets

Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Dappa Gamma met Saturday, November 7, 1981 at 9:30 a.m. in the Texas Room at the Cisco Junior College, Cisco, Texas with 35 members present.

The serving table was beautifully decorated with autumn colors and a large variety of delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Ruby Lee Pirtle, June Hicks, Ina Stamey, Louise Taylor, and Julie Weise, who poured the punch.

After the group sang the Delta Kappa Gamma Song and said the collect in unison the Research Chairman, Adeline Meredith, reminded the members to bring (1) interesting and challenging articles concerning women to be circulated among the members, and (2) their favorite quotes relating to women for the next meeting.

Reports from, the Area Meeting were given by Bernice Carter and Ruby Lee Pirtle.

Congratulations to Louise Taylor who was recently elected Homecoming Queen for Cisco Junior College.

Recognition was also given Lela Latch Lloyd for her devotional that was included in the November issue of the Upper Room.

First Vice-President, Evelyn Kirk, presented the yearbooks.

In introducing the film, "Pack Your Own Chute," Diana Fraley presented the need for and the availability of "The Dispatched Homemakers Program" and "Second Mile", two courses offered at various Junior

"Pack Your Own Chute" was a motivational film encouraging each person to step out and do something new and adventurous in life. We all pack our own chutes; we choose our own behavior. So don't be immobilized. Take advantage of each new day as an opportunity to do your best. Both interesting and exciting, the program challenged all present.

THE VIRTUE OF APOLOGIZING (or "I am sorry")--the three little words which are the hardest to say.)

Who is right and who is wrong in a family quarrel?

Who is greater, the wife or the husband?

It is usually the person who is willing to say, "I am sorry," and mean it. Apologizing is a virtue. It is not a weakness but rather a sign of greatness. Small people never apologize for they think themselves always right. The person who knows everything has a lot to learn.

Be great in your family relationships by learning to apologize. You will see a difference in your family life.

Always take the initiative in apologizing.

At the end of each week, stop to count how many times you should have apologized and didn't. Think of everything; that raised voice, the mistaken judgement, the lack of consideration, the overcritical spirit, the act of selfishness, and so many other things only you could enumerate them.

As you apologize, don't try to rationalize or throw responsibility on other people or circumstances.

You will never lose respect through a sincere apology.

Remember what Christ said--do not wait for your brother who has something AGAINST YOU to come to you, but for you to go to him and make amends (Matt. 5:23-25).

R.D. Williams, Pastor

COMMENTARY

By Myrtle Owen

St. Luke 3:4-18, As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord. Make His paths straight Isa. 40:3; John 1:23. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth; and all flesh shall see the salvation of God. Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. And the people asked him saying, what shall we do then? He answereth and saith unto them, he

that has two coats, let him import (or give) to him that has none; and he that has meat (or food) let him do likewise. Then came also publicans (or tax collectors) to be baptized, and said unto him, master, what shall we do? And he said unto them, exact no more than that which is appointed you. And the soldiers likewise demanded of him saying, And shall we do? Do violence (or act roughly) to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages. And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ or not; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: Whose fan is in his hand, and He will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into His garner; but the chaff He will burn with fire unquenchable. And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people. It is often difficult to impart truth by the use of words. Frequently they reveal only a half-truth, leaving the other half hidden. The writers of the Bible used certain emblems when unfolding the mysteries of the Holy Spirit, because they illustrate more about Him than volumes can contain. They are: (1) Fire as an emblem (verse above). (2) Wind as an emblem, wind speaks of His hidden depth in His mighty regenerating power. (3) Water as an emblem. Water speaks of His power to fill the believers to overflowing with spiritual life. (4) Seal as an emblem. Seal speaks of His ownership of the believer; it is finished, eternal transaction. (5) Oil as an emblem. Oil speaks of His power to anoint for service.

NUMBERS ARE IMPORTANT

Numbers play a very important part when understood in the scriptures. Take for instance the number forty. This number is symbolic of a time of testing. It represents a time of severe judgment. It rained for forty days and nights during Noah's time. The earth was cleansed during the flood and a new generation inhabited the earth.

Moses was forty years old when he awakened to the fact that he was not an Egyptian but an Israelite. But it took another forty years before he led the children of Israel out of the land of bondage.

Israel spent forty years in the wilderness. This was a time of testing for them and out of that old generation only two men were able to possess the land of Canaan. Those two men were Joshua and Caleb. A type of the Word and Spirit.

Jesus spent forty days and forty nights in the wilderness being tried and tested by the enemy of his soul. And we are told by the writer Luke that Jesus "showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." Acts 1:3.

So the next time you come across the number forty remember that it plays a very important and significant part in what you are studying. It wasn't put there to fill up space but to reveal a deeper meaning.
