The U. S. Supreme Court's decision ruling out the recitation of the Lord's Prayer and reading of the Bible in public schools raises some interesting questions as to the legality of many local school activities which have a religious reference or inspiration.

We can begin to wonder whether or not, in a concern to prevent even a semblance of State influence in the matter of religion we are making religion untouchable in so many spheres of our public life that it will lose respect and influence in all.

Instead of sponsoring freedom of religion, perhaps we are sponsoring disrespect for it—for the spiritual ideals and forces by which our country was nourished.

Since it is now illegal to recite Bible readings or the Lord's Prayer in the public schools, what about school sponsored Baccalaureate services for graduating classes? Will a minister or layman who offers a prayer for divine guidance at a School Board meeting, or a meeting of the City Council, or an invocation at a junior-senior banquet, a high school football game or other school related activity or event, become thereby a criminal in the eyes of the law?

Will the prohibition extend to other and less governmental associations and public institutions under a very interesting, and certainly provocative, theory advanced in more than one Supreme Court opinion—that to the extent a private organization is regulated by the State it becomes involved with the State and subject to civil rights mandates it would otherwise escape? It is conceivable, under a theory that freedom from taxation constitutes government aid that the prohibition could extend to fraternal and charitable institutions. Even a church dedicated to the cultivation of religious values, could in an extremity of the application, be considered as having to make a defense of its own existence.

That is stretching the prognosis a bit far, but it does so to emphasize that somewhere there must be a stopping place between what is denied and what is permissive, a line of clear definition which recognizes the essentially spiritual values that underlie our form of government.

The Supreme Court cannot provide that answer. As a matter of fact it should not provide the answer. It ruled as it saw the facts, which was its province and its duty. The answer lies in a clear expression of the public mind, in the form of a constitutional amendment, if need be.

Even so, the formulation of a statement of such fundamental principle which would meet with general approval would be an almost superhuman task.

The other evening Mrs. Ralph Kizer opened a can of pork and beans for the family supper, poured the beans into a skillet and saw what she took for a cigar wrapper. She lifted it out with a fork and discovered a girl's high school class ring, with the letter "N" distinguishable in the design, and on the inside of the band the letters "EP".

Mr. Kizer sent the ring with a notation of the numbers of the can to the Van Camp Company which processed the food. The Kizers figured that the ring was accidentally dropped by a worker in the factory and found its way into the beans during the processing. At any rate, "I was sure surprised to get that kind of a bonus with a can of beans," said Mrs. Kizer.

Sewer Bonds Carry Nine to One In Complacent Voting

In a quiet election Saturday of last week, exactly 90 of Rising Star's eligible voters went to the polls and authorized issuance of $64,000 in revenue bonds with which to finance the major portion of the cost of modernizing Rising Star's sewage disposal plant.

Approval of the project was overwhelming although the turnout was not impressive. The vote was 81 for to 9 against.

Remainder of the cost of the project is expected to be provided by a grant of $25,800 in federal funds administered through the State Health Department.

Under the plans for the project as developed by the National Engineering Co. of Austin, which will oversee the construction for the city, the site

Questions About Wheat Program Are Answered

COLLEGE STATION—The wheat program for 1964 under provisions of existing law are reviewed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in response to questions that have arisen since the referendum of May 21.

Price support will be available to producers who plant within the acreage allotments which have been established for the 1964 wheat crop. Allotments were announced in April. The national average support will be 50 percent of parity. (The present parity price is $2.51 per bushel.)

There will be no marketing quota penalties for planting in excess of acreage allotments. However, the statute provides that producers who overplant their allotments will receive "history credit" only in the amount of their allotments.

Farmers who have Conservation Reserve Contracts agreed to plant within their farm acreage allotments, and this means that the 1964 Conservation Reserve payment for the farm is dependent on compliance with the wheat acreage allotment.

Wheat that was grown in excess of marketing quotas in the past will be subject to the original penalty provisions until July 1, 1964. After that date, stored excess may be released without penalty. The amount of such wheat in storage on farms and in warehouses is estimated at 45 million bushels. This could be increased from 1963 crop, which is subject to marketing quotas, may be stored by the producer and excess wheat from this crop to avoid payment of the penalty. On the other hand, underplanting or underproduction of 1963-crop wheat could result in the early release of excess wheat that had been stored from previous crops to avoid payment of penalty.

Other items of interest to growers in administration of the 1964 wheat program without marketing quotas include:

—ASC county committees will hear all the appeals of 1964 farm wheat acreage allotments. Farmers have 15 days from the date of the county committee's decision to appeal to the ASC State Committee if they do not agree with the county committee decision.

—Hearings on appeals of farm normal yields will not be scheduled because the yield figures will not be applicable for 1964. Where producers wish to furnish proven yield data, such data will be filed in the county office with other records of that farm.

Farm Bureau Will Share Cost To Firemen's School

The Eastland County Farm Bureau is participating in a program to assist volunteer fire departments in fire prevention and protection in rural areas, according to Jack Cozart, Eastland County Farm Bureau president.

The local county FB leader said the Farm Bureau will help defray the expenses for sending a limited number of volunteer firemen to a Fireman's Training School to be held July 21-25 at Texas A. and M. College. The FB will pay $45 of the $50 registration fee for members of local volunteer fire departments to attend the school which furnishes up-to-date information on fire protection and fire prevention as well as fire fighting techniques. The $50 registration fee also covers lodging and meals, he explained.

The county president said local fire departments are being urged to cooperate in the plan to reduce fire losses in rural areas of the county. Any volunteer fire department that will agree to serve rural areas will be eligible to submit an applicant for the fire training school. But the total number of persons that can attend is limited, and only one applicant for each department can be accepted, he said.

Forty-eight new customers were added to the growing list of Kizer Telephone Co. subscribers during the past quarter, representing a considerable increase in the rate of customer growth, according to Ralph Kizer, secretary-treasurer of the company.

The increase is keeping pace with the addition of new facilities, Mr. Kizer said. During the past months a considerable expansion of these facilities has been taking place. The most recent extension of company lines is in the area just northeast of Sabanno.

Company stations in Rising Star, Cross Plains and May now total 1805.

Modern Barnburners

The statement that you can find an argument to support any conclusion you wish to reach is being well illustrated in these days of political opportunism and racial strife.

So long as the Civil Rights issue was confined to matters of voting rights and the use of public facilities, the questions involved were pretty well defined and capable of more or less clear-cut and acceptable legal solutions.

But, as it was bound to do once the issue was allowed to shift to "social" as well as political "rights", the controversy is getting out of political focus and into fields where there can be no possible solution short of a voluntary acceptance of the conditions demanded.

It is creating a rather desperate state of political maneuvering, out of which have come proposals that threaten to an alarming degree those universal and basic rights lacking which there can be no civil rights of any consequence.

One such proposal, spelled out in a bill of civil rights legislation which the Kennedys have presented Congress in their anxiety to pay a political debt, would lay a predicate for the most revolutionary change in the organization of our society. As surely as there is truth, it would put an ax at the very taproot of the free enterprise system, and hence, of democracy as we have known and practiced it in this country.

The proposal would prohibit discrimination between races in the provision of sales and services by privately owned restaurants, hotels, etc. At first glance, on the basis of what it avows to accomplish, this is a laudable objective. But what would it actually do?

The Administration would base authority to thus enter coercively into the field of private ownership and individual choice upon the interstate clause of the Constitution. That clause, which says that traffic between States is exclusively a field of Federal jurisdiction, has been imaginatively used for more Washington power grabs and violations of Constitutional intent than any other legal avenue through which a bureaucratic, socialist-minded Federal community has inserted its authority into areas of personal rights and local responsibility. It has proven admirably susceptible to prejudicial logic.

An it is now being cited as the authority for what can certainly become the ultimate destruction of our philosophy of private ownership, the very foundation of our free democracy.

The distinction between democratic free enterprise and socialism (communism) and the governments founded upon those philosophies is a difference in the ways in which property is held and managed. The very basis of the free enterprise system, or people's capitalism, is the individual's right to own portions of property and to employ that property to his own wishes, subject only to due process of law. It is simply the right of choice.

If that right—the right to choose to hold or to sell, to serve or to withhold service—is taken away, private property becomes meaningless. It becomes public property, and the holder merely an agent to carry out the mandates of those in power. We would have socialism in all its deceptive tyranny and impoverishment.

If a business man can be compelled to serve or sell a customer because that customer has a certain color of skin, he can be compelled, by the same argument, to give up his right of choice in the management of his property, for any reasons which may prove politically attractive. He can be compelled to surrender all his rights of private ownership, to submit to an agency of government intervention which would progressively destroy all vestiges of the capitalist system in which we have prospered materially and spiritually.

It would be an easy and warless victory for those forces of international communism, avowedly dedicated to our destruction—another Cuba projected to a domestic, vaster and tragically irredeemable result.

More than a century ago there were what is known as "Barnburners," people who, in the vernacular definition, "would burn down the barn to be rid of the rats."

In the present zeal for one good social objective can we afford to destroy the whole house by undermining the foundation upon which it is built?

What this country needs is a riding lawn mower with an extra seat for the grandson.

Sometimes we think that one of the most hopeful things that can be said for a democracy such as ours is its ability to survive a phenomenon like Harry S. Truman.

The only disappointing thing about Saturday's vote was the apparent fact that most people were convinced the bonds would carry.

"I Wonder if They'll Drive Safer This Year?"

As It Looks From Here

By Omar Bureson, M. C. 17th Texas District

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE IN WASHINGTON D. C.—DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS ARE TRYING TO SEE WHICH ONE CAN OUTDO THE OTHER ON THE MATTER OF CIVIL RIGHTS. ORGANIZATIONS PARTICULARLY INTERESTED IN THIS ISSUE ARE VYING WITH ONE ANOTHER FOR THE FOREFRONT, AND SEEMINGLY THE ONE WHICH CAN PRODUCE THE MOST SENSATIONAL ACTION HAS THE HEADLINES. MODERATION AND REASON ARE PUSHED IN THE BACKGROUND, WHICH MEANS THE MORE RADICAL ON BOTH SIDES EMERGE AS THE CHAMPION. AS MUCH AS THE PRESIDENT AND ATTORNEY GENERAL HAVE DONE IN THEIR OFFICIAL CAPACITIES, THEY ARE UNDER THE CRITICISM FROM MANY OF THESE ORGANIZATIONS WHICH THINK THEY HAVE NOT DONE ENOUGH.

IN LAW, A PERSON'S ILLEGAL ACTIONS OR HIS FAILURE TO ACT LEGALLY CAN RESULT IN HIS CONVICTION AND PUNISHMENT. A NEW TWIST TO THIS HISTORIC AND BASIC CONCEPT OF LAW WAS RECENTLY DEMONSTRATED IN BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA, WHEN THE PEOPLE OF THAT COMMUNITY CAME VERY NEAR VOTING AWAY A PART OF THEIR VITAL LIBERTY.

IT SEEMS THE OFFICIALS OF BERKELEY FIRST PASSED AN ORDINANCE WHICH MADE IT UNLAWFUL FOR A LANDLORD TO REFUSE TO RENT PROPERTY TO ANY PERSON FOR REASON OF RACE, COLOR, RELIGION OR NATIONAL ORIGIN. A REFERENDUM FORCED THE MATTER TO A VOTE. THE PROPOSAL WAS BARELY DEFEATED.

THE QUESTION WAS NOT WHETHER THERE SHOULD BE AN ORDINANCE AGAINST THE ACTION OF THIS SORT BY REASON OF RACE, COLOR, RELIGION OR NATIONAL ORIGIN, BUT RATHER IT PLACED AUTHORITY IN THE HANDS OF A BOARD TO DETERMINE THE INTENT OF THE OWNER OF THE PROPERTY WHEN HE REFUSED TO RENT TO CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS.

IN OTHER WORDS, UNDER THE PROPOSED LAW, THE ACT OF TURNING SOMEONE AWAY WAS EITHER LEGAL OR ILLEGAL, DEPENDING ON WHAT THE MOTIVES WERE. IT WOULD BE LEGAL TO REFUSE TO RENT TO SOMEONE BECAUSE HE WAS A BAD RISK OR A MORAL DEFECT; IT WOULD BE ILLEGAL TO REFUSE TO RENT TO THE SAME PERSON FOR REASONS OF RACE, COLOR, RELIGION OR NATIONAL ORIGIN. BUT WHO IS TO SAY WITH CERTAINTY WHAT A MAN'S MOTIVES ARE?

THE FRAMERS OF THE ORDINANCE WERE WELL AWARE OF THE LEGAL DIFFICULTIES INVOLVED. TO CIRCUMVENT THIS THEY RESORTED TO AN INGENUOUS DEVICE. THEY SIMPLY PROVIDED THAT "ANY PERSON WHO SHALL IN ANY MANNER VIOLATE ANY ORDER OF COMPLIANCE MADE BY THE BOARD SHALL BE GUILTY OF A MISDEMEANOR, AND UPON CONVICTION THEREOF BE PUNISHED BY A FINE NOT EXCEEDING $500 OR BY IMPRISONMENT NOT EXCEEDING SIX MONTHS, OR BOTH."

THUS THE ACT OF REFUSING TO RENT OR SELL TO SOMEONE FOR REASONS SET OUT IN THE ORDINANCE WAS NOT ITSELF PUNISHABLE, BUT THE FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH AN ORDER of the Board was punishable. It follows that, under these terms, the only matter a Court would have to decide was whether the landlord had complied with the Board's order, regardless of what the order was. Under this arrangement the Board would have the power to investigate and hold hearings not in accordance with any fixed and recognized legal procedure, but under rules promulgated by themselves. The Board could only act against landlords and would be exclusively empowered to decide whether a landlord has violated the ordinance.

THERE ARE A GREAT MANY INSTANCES IN HISTORY WHICH SHOW THAT PEOPLE HAVE VOTED AWAY THEIR OWN LIBERTY. THE INCENTIVE MAY BE FOR GREATER BENEFITS FROM A GOVERNMENT OR IT MAY BE INSPIRED BY A SYMPATHETIC EMOTIONAL EASY TO RECAPTURE ONCE RELINQUISHED. WHATEVER THE CAUSE, LIBERTY AND FREEDOM ARE NOT QUIESCED.

It's the Law in Texas

ATTRACTIVE NUISANCES

Owning a swimming pool is becoming rather common in Texas and it places some legal duties on the owner. Your main duty hinges on the "doctrine of attractive nuisance" under which you become legally responsible to young children who trespass on your land.

As a rule you own no duty to trespassers. They must take your property as they find it; if dangerous, that is their tough luck. Not so for children who wander on your land. The attractive nuisance doctrine says that if you have some man-made things on your land which entice youngsters you have a legal duty to make your land safe for them.

A high tension line, an old mineshaft, a railroad turntable, a pool of clear acid may be irresistible to children. If they are likely to be attracted and unable to grasp the dangers, you have an "attractive nuisance" and you must make your premises safe.

Recently a court held that a swimming pool may be an attractive nuisance. In this case a toddler drowned in Jones' pool. Jones and the boy's parents lived across the street from each other. About 30 feet from the street, the pool was fenced but with openings through which children could enter. On weekends the Jones were not at home only the Jones children. Animals often played near the pool.

The pool and the animals could attract a youngster; he could not grasp the water's danger. The Joneses could have a locked gate. A jury properly held Jones responsible for the drowning.

How young is the child? Can he appreciate the dangers? How easy is it for the owner to make the place safe for child-

As you know, sugar prices have made a sudden advance and the price may remain high for some time. Here is some information on substituting other sweets for sugar in baking, canning and freezing.

For 1 cup of sugar in baking use:

Honey—1 cup honey and reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup of honey used. To insure a quality product, about half the sugar should be retained in a recipe and honey substituted for the other half.

In baking, use ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of honey used, this is in addition to baking powder in recipe when honey is substituted for sugar.

Better results in baking are obtained to use recipes which were developed to use honey as the sweetening agent.

Recipes using honey may be obtained from: The American Honey Institute, Madison 3, Piscataway, N. J.

Molasses or sorghum—One and one-half cups molasses or sorghum reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup of molasses and sorghum used.

Corn syrup—2 cups corn syrup reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup of corn syrup used.

Cane syrup—One and one-half cups of cane syrup is equal in sweetness to one cup of cane sugar.

In cakes and cookies: Replace sugar with syrup, measure for measure and reduce liquid one-third. Cakes and cookies made with corn and cane syrups are not as sweet as when sugar is used.

Canning fruits with corn syrup or honey—Fruits will have a better flavor, texture and color when canned syrup, but they keep as well without sugar as with it. The final product will be slightly stickier. Corn syrup is especially good for canning pineapple and peaches.

Syrups made with honey and sugar—Thin syrup use ½ cup sugar and ½ cup honey to 2½ cups water. Medium syrup use 1 cup sugar and 1 cup honey to 4 cups water. Method: Bring water and sugar to boiling; add honey, stir and return to boiling.

Syrups made with corn syrup—Use 1 cup sugar, 2 cups corn syrup and 6 cups water. If corn syrup is to replace all the sugar, use three-fourths cup syrup to 1 cup water.

Preserves, jams, jellies—Jelly one-fourth of the sugar required for making jelly may be replaced by corn syrup.

Preserves—One-half of the sugar required for making preserves may be replaced by corn syrup.

Jams—One-fourth of the sugar required for making jams may be replaced with corn syrup.

Honey may replace up to one-half the sugar in jams and preserves.

Freezing fruits with corn syrup—Use 1 and one-third cups corn syrup to 3½ pounds of fruit. Treat for discoloration.

Canning fruit with non-caloric sweetener (not saccharin)—In home canning procedures, you use the non-caloric sweetener in much the same way you would use sugar—adding it during the preparation for processing. Either the liquid or tablet form may be used for this purpose.

Fruit put up with non-caloric sweeteners will taste sweet, but since it provides only the sweetness and not the bulk or other properties of sugar, the fruit will not have the heavy syrup characteristic of fruit put up with sugar.

Allow from three-fourths to 1 cup liquid for every 2 pints (or 1 quart) of fruit. Sweeten according to the table below, depending on personal taste preference and the natural sweetness of the fruit.

For each cup of liquid use: For moderate sweetening: 12 to 16 tablets, or 1½ to 2 teaspoons solution; For tart fruit or greater sweetening: 20 to 24 tablets, 2½ to 3 teaspoons solution.

If tablets are used, always be sure they are completely dissolved.

Girls Scout Camp To Run 6 Weeks At Brownwood

Camp Wood Lake, the heart of Texas Girl Scout resident camp located in the 36th division State Park, Lake Brownwood is swarming with girls and parents from the 19-county area this week in the first of the four scheduled camp sessions.

This makes the 8th year the camp has operated and will be running at capacity the full six weeks of operation. The first session will be for Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts and will run for 12 days. The session will be followed with two 6-day sessions for Brownie Scouts. The closing session will be another 12-day session for Intermediate and Senior Scouts.

Special training for camp staff has been going on all week. There is a unit staff who work directly with the girls; there is a waterfront staff who are responsible for all swimming and waterfront activities; there is maintenance staff who are responsible for cooking and serving meals in the camp dining camp in general; there is administrative staff who plan and coordinate the overall camp program.

Unit leaders this year are: Judinell Benningfield of Goldthwaite, Thressa Killion of Weatherford; and Mrs. Frank Savage of Mineral Wells. Unit assistants are: Mary Miller and Sandra Goss, Weatherford; Julie Witherers, Charleston, South Carolina; Sharon Rawson, Cisco; Ruth Ann Martin, Hico; Earlene Horne, Rocksprings; and Mrs. Elmo Ebarb, Mineral Wells.

Waterfront Staff members this year are: Miss Sherry Stephens and Rosemary Herrley of Stephenville. They both hold Red Cross Waterfront Instructors certificates. They will be assisted by Pat Woods of Brownwood, who holds a Red Cross Senior Life Saving certificate.

Working with the administrative staff are members of the council's camp committee, headed by Elmo Letbetter of Brownwood. New facilities have added again this year. The newest addition is the activities center which will be used for craft sessions, for camp councils and staff meetings. Also, in rainy weather, it will be used for indoor activities.

Mrs. Roscoe Langford, Lampasas, is serving as council president and works directly the camp committee and staff in making camp plans.

June Honors Nature's Most Perfect Food

College Station—June is the month which honors nature's most nearly perfect food, milk. And it is a time when there is an abundance of the health-giving food, says Shannon Carpenter, area dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The story of dairying in this country is closely tied to our progress. The settlers at Jamestown and later pioneers depended on the dairy cow for much nourishment just as we do in all fifty of our states.

The dairy cow is a marvelous machine that takes grain and grass and makes it into milk we enjoy. Milk not only gives energy but is an excellent way to curb the appetite of weight watchers, says the specialist.

Housewives get a bargain in dairy products. The food nutrients that they furnish for about 20 cents would cost 43 cents if supplied by other sources. The dairy products consumed by the average family contains about 23-26 percent of the calories, 40-45 percent of the protein, 75-84 percent of the calcium, and 35-39 percent of the vitamin A they need.

Dairying is well adapted to Texas because of its many rolling hills, shade trees, good water supply, and ideal soil and climate for the production of dairy feed. Its many good pastures are one of the essentials of dairy production, says Carpenter.

The dairy industry is the only agricultural endeavor that is carried on in every state and thus forms one of the mainstays of the nation's agriculture. Dairying brings a regular pay check to the community and dairy dollars flow into all channels of trade, says Carpenter.

The specialist urges you to use more dairy products, especially during June Dairy Month. He reminds that you never outgrow your need for milk, nature's most nearly perfect food.

Wool, Mohair Use Promotion Tops At Odessa Meet

SAN ANGELO—Wool and mohair promotion will get considerable attention of directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association at their summer quarterly meeting in Odessa Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22, according to Tom Wallace, executive secretary. Headquarters will be at the Lincoln Hotel.

Much of the discussion on mohair will be the promotion program which is being handled by a New York fashion agency, James L. Powell of Fort McKavett, Association president, and Wallace are scheduled to make reports on legislative activities. The two spent several days in Washington last month and also considerable time in Austin while the Legislature was in session.

"This should be an important meeting from a business standpoint," Powell says, "as it pertains to our livestock industry. Reports will be given on screw-worm eradication, predatory animal problems, including the golden eagle problem, marketing problems and tax matters."

This is the first time directors have ever met in Odessa, an oil production and cattle raising center, but arrangements have been made for a most interesting entertainment program by the Odessa civic leaders.

Registration gets under way Friday at 10 a.m.; committee meetings are scheduled for 2:00 p.m. (chairman and vice chairman of the various committees met in San Angelo this week to draft agendas for the various meetings); a reception is to be held at the Lincoln Hotel, beginning at 6 p.m., and barbecue by the Chuck Wagon Gang by hotel poolside at 7 p.m. Dancing is scheduled in the ballroom from 9 to 1 p.m.

The general session is to be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with adjournment set for 12 noon.

TWICE AS MUCH COOLING
With the patented features of Paramount Coolers
Yes! This famous Paramount 5000 c.f.m. evaporative cooler gives you up to twice as much cooling because of these patented features:
— Many coolers lose as much as 70% of cooling efficiency because dust, dirt and salts clog the filters. Patented No-Clog Sta-Fresh Filters are guaranteed clog-proof, assuring 100% cooling efficiency all summer long.
— Filters saturated with water become heavy and often sag and settle from the top, drawing hot, unfiltered, uncooled air into the cooler which may create as much as a 70% cooling loss. Patented Grip-Lock Filter Holders are guaranteed to prevent sagging and settling of filters assuring 100% cool, clean, filtered air.
— Without correct water trough adjustment, sections of the filters remain dry, resulting in substantial cooling loss and costly service expense. Patented Free-Flo Visible Water Troughs with external adjustment assure 100% saturation, and 100% cooling for the entire life of the cooler.
— Added feature — Patented Window Closing Attachment lets you close and lock your window. Eliminates entry of dust, rain and drafts into your home.
