"Thanks to a thoughtful early morning caller, we got up about 5:30 a. m. Thursday, in time to see the shooting stars," writes J. W. Sitton in his column, "The Editor's Report" in the Cisco Press. "It was a shower of Leonid meteors at the rate of about 250 per hour during the maximum period. The meteor shower began Wednesday night and reached its peak early Thursday."

"According to the scientists, this thing occurs once every 33 years . . . so it will be a long while before another takes place. It was pretty weird."

Thanks to Jerry for enlightening us on a phenomenon witnessed by a number of Rising Star citizens. I missed it. And thirty-three years from now I'll probably miss it again.

Mrs. Ed Kizer, one of whose hobbies is sky-watching, called Vada Arnold of the Star staff out of bed to view the sight.

"If you're so interested in astronomy and a telescope maker, why didn't you know about the meteor shower?" demanded Mrs. W. E. Ellis of me. It was a good question.

I told her it had been almost ten years since I had even looked at the sky with the six-inch reflector now lying on a top shelf in our well-house. If you are an astronomer bug it incurs lots of midnight and early morning shivering, and that's a mighty good time for an old man to be in bed. The stars will always be here, but I won't.

But I can remember many awe-inspiring and impossibly beautiful sights from those nights in my younger days spent, all bundled up, at the eyepiece of that old scope.

Jupiter and his circlet of diamond moons; Saturn and his alabaster white disks; the brilliant Venus brightest of stars, with its shimmering clouds and moon-like phases, and, of course, the moon itself, with its sugar-peaked mountains, its craters and plains, a source of absorbing interest and continuing discovery.

Pointing the scope at the middle, and hazy, star in the sword of the constellation of Orion, now riding the night sky, one sees, not a star, but a vast, swirling field of celestial gas, like filmy hair aflame, such a field, perhaps, as that out of which our own sun and universe were created long ago. One seems to be looking into the thoughts of God, a new world in making.

Once, idly sweeping the Milky Way, the entire field of the eyepiece was suddenly filled with a swarm of brilliant stars of equal magnitude, so closely packed that there seemed no room between them. I was never able to locate that phenomenon again, and to this day I do (Continued on Page Six)

Thanksgiving Day To Be Local Holiday

Thanksgiving Day—Thursday of this week — will be generally observed as a business holiday in Rising Star. The post office, bank, and most of the business houses will be closed. There will be no rural delivery and no window service at the post office. Rising Star schools were dismissed Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week. Classes will resume Monday.

Mrs. Edna Mauldin Rites Set For 2:30 Wednesday P. M.

Funeral services for Edna Mae Mauldin, 83, who died in Graham Hospital at Cisco at 4:30 a. m. Tuesday after an illness of five months, were held in First Baptist Church here at 2 p. m. Wednesday. The Rev. L. R. Pendley, pastor, officiated. Burial was to be in Baird cemetery. Higginbotham Funeral Home was in charge. Mrs. Mauldin, a sister of the late Dr. E. H. Ramsey, Rising Star dentist, had been a resident of Rising Star for 25 years. She was a native of Cisco where she was born Feb. 13, 1883. Her husband, Manche Mauldin, preceded her in death. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Meanwhile there will be a community Thanksgiving service at the First Methodist Church Wednesday night at 7:30 with the Rev. L. R. Pendley of the First Baptist Church preaching. The Youth Choir of the First Baptist will furnish the music. The general public is invited.

U.S. Firm Head In Brazil And Wife Visit Aunt Here

Mr. and Mrs. Howard I. Mason of Sao Paula, Brazil, have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. H. S. Switzer, here this week. Mr. Mason is superintendent of the Anderson Clayton Company in Brazil, having been transferred from the Houston, Texas office to Brazil in 1935. The company deals in coffee, peanuts, rice, cotton, etc. The Masons are parents of three children, Mrs. C. J. Scott of Houston, Howard I. Mason, Jr., of Highland Park, Ill., and Miss Pamela Mason, a student in Texas Wesleyan University at Ft. Worth. They also have five grandchildren. Although the Masons have been in Brazil almost 32 years, they still claim the United States as their fatherland and are happy to be called citizens of our country.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Henry of Forsan visited his mother, Mrs. Jennie Henry, and other relatives recently.

F. B. Roberts, who has been ill at his home, is much improved, and is able to be out occasionally.

Vets Give Cats Cage Title Hopes; Play Opens This Week

Five members of last year's starting team have returned to form the nucleus of a current Wildcat basketball squad which looms as one of the leading contenders for the district title. They are Dalton Hughes, center; Danny White guard; Carl Clark, guard; Floy McKinrney, forward, and Ronnie Green, forward. The Wildcats will play sixteen games at home and eight games

Jesse W. Morris Buried Here In Service Sunday

Funeral services for Jesse Wilson Morris, 77, who died in Gorman Hospital Friday, November 18, at 9 a. m. were held in First Baptist Church here at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. The Rev. L. R. Pendley, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Rising Star cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home. Mr. Morris was a retired Humble Pipe Line Company employee, who had lived in Rising Star since 1954. He was born August 16, 1889, in Portersville, Alabama. He was married to Ida Kent on March 21, 1927, in Eastland county. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, a Mason, and a member of the American Legion and the WOW. Survivors are his wife, three sisters, Miss Josie Morris and Miss Alam Morris, both of Rising Star, and Mrs. Emma Kent of Cisco; and a brother, John Morris of Coleman. He had been in ill health since 1963.

Charges Filed in Liquor Raids in Rising Star Area

Liquor raids by local and area law enforcement officers last week netted four dry runs in Cisco but resulted in charges being filed against three persons near Rising Star. Participating in the raids were Texas Liquor Control Board officials, Eastland and Callahan Counties sheriffs' deputies and other local officers. Four places were raided in Cisco but no evidence was turned up, officers said. However, a raid on the Marshall Kelly rural residence, some two miles northwest of Pioneer, and just in Eastland county, turned up 197 bottles of beer, eight four-fifths bottles of Irish wine and three half-pint bottles of vodka. Charges of "possession" have been filed. LBC officers made five "buys" six feet in height, tested its strength Tuesday night against the Gorman team at Gorman, but the result of the contest was not available at press time. Other members of the Wildcat "A" squad, coached by Frank Gray, are Robert Clark, James Gerhardt, Tony Geye, Robert Wilson and Danny Hughes.

The Wildcats will play sixteen games at home and eight games away, not including games to be played in three tournaments in which they are entered. The first tournament will be in Rising Star, hosted by both the Rising Star boys and girls teams, December 1, 2 and 3. Other tournaments in which the Cats will play will be at Santa Anna on December 8-10, and at Early January 5-7.

Following the Gorman game, the Cats will meet Carbon here in a non-conference game before the beginning of the tournament.

District play will begin Jan. 13, with Cross Plains coming here to open a round robin schedule in which each team will play each of the other district members twice to determine the district titlist.

The Rising Star tournament will get under way at the Rising Star gym at 2 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 1, with a game between Cisco and Cross Plains girls B teams.

Other first round games in the tournament schedule are: Eastland B and Cisco B boys at 3:10 p. m. Thursday; Sidney and Santa Anna girls at 4:20 Thursday; Sidney and Santa Anna boys, 5:30, Thursday; Putnam and Rising Star girls, 6:40, Thursday; Putnam and Rising Star boys, at 7:50 Thursday; May and Early girls at 4:20 p. m. Friday, and May and Early boys at 5:30 Friday.

There will be second round games at 2 p. m. and 3:10 p. m. Friday. Championship and consolation finals will be played Saturday evening.

Rising Star girls are coached by L. C. Hounfel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ab Harris of Cross Plains visited his brother, Leonard Harris, and Mrs. Harris, over the week-end.

Kent Brown Completes Army Signal Course

FT. GORDON, GA. — Private First Class Kent H. Brown, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hurshel Brown, Route 1, May, Texas, completed a radio relay and carrier repair course at the Army Southeastern Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., Nov. 10. During his 14 weeks of training, he learned to service and repair different types of field telephone, telegraph and radio relay equipment.

MOVES OFFICE

Fred Roberds has moved his office from downtown to his home at 506 W. College, it was announced this week. Customers and friends are invited to see him in the new location.

RECOVERS FROM SURGERY

C. W. (Charlie) Walker, who underwent surgery recently in the Veterans Hospital at Temple, is recovering slowly. Mr. Walker would like to hear from his friends. His address is Ward 14-A, V. A. Hospital, Temple, Tex. 76501. Mr. Walker is visiting her husband at the hospital.

CofC Checks Plans For Pecan Show

The Rising Star Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting at the Elite Cafe Tuesday noon, ordered installation of Christmas street lighting in time for the lights to be turned on December 1. The installation will be done by West Texas Utilities Company personnel. The CofC also discussed plans for the Eastland County Pecan Show to be held here December 9 and 10. The show, for which Manager A. D. Jenkins of the CofC said about 100 entries have already been received, will be held in the Youth Center building on South Main. Preceding it there will be a Pecan Queen contest at the High School gym on Thursday night, December 8, with the Saturday Club of Rising Star as sponsors. A bake show, sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council, will be held in connection with the Pecan Show Friday and Saturday. Entries in the Pecan Show will be judged by Texas A&M University experts. Grandson of Rising Star Man Promoted U. S. Army, Europe (AHTNC) - David Wayne Weise, son of Mr. and Mrs. David T. Weise, of 410 So. Elm, Carlsbad, New Mexico, was promoted to private first class in Germany, October 24, where he is assigned to the 35th Artillery. Weise, a cannoneer in Battery C, 3rd Battalion of the 35th Artillery, was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., before arriving overseas last August. The 18-year-old soldier attended grade school in Breckenridge, Texas before moving to Carlsbad, New Mexico. Weise is the grandson of George Varner, Rising Star, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Weise of the Cook community.

Farmers Union Meeting At Legion Hall Monday

The regular meeting of the Eastland County Farmers Union will be held in the American Legion Hall in Rising Star at 7:30 p. m., Monday, November 28, it was announced by Oral Davis, president. All members were urged to attend and visitors will be welcome, said Mr. Davis.

CATS WIN!

Rising Star High School boys and girls basketball teams swept a three-game series with Gorman teams at Gorman Tuesday night. Rising Star boys won 35 to 26. Both A and B Rising Star girls also won their games. Rising Star boys and girls will play Carbon teams here Tuesday night.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Competitor Next Door

How much will it hurt a candy store to have a drug store move in next door? How seriously is a fabrics merchant threatened by a nearby ready-to-wear shop?

Such questions are receiving fresh attention as a result of the rise of the modern shopping center. It happens this way:

A prospective tenant, knowing that the landlord owns all the adjacent stores, wants to be protected against competition. Therefore, he insists on a protection clause in his lease. By its terms the landlord agrees not to lease another store, later on, to someone in a similar line of business.

Under this arrangement, how much protection does the tenant really have? A great deal depends on the exact wording of the lease.

A baker was held unable to prevent his landlord from leasing space to a supermarket. In this case, the baker's lease protected him only against competitors whose "principal business" was baked goods. The supermarket handled baked goods merely as a sideline, not as its principal business.

But a paint dealer succeeded in keeping out a hardware store, because his lease protected him — in so many words — against any other tenant who sold paint.

Besides the language of the lease, a court will also consider the nature of the competitive threat.

Thus, a luncheonette was denied protection against a gourmet shop even though they both sold food. The court pointed out that the gourmet shop, whose products were not eaten on the premises, was catering to a different kind of consumer need.

What about the legality of these protection clauses? Aren't they a form of restraint of trade? Such an objection has been raised, but with little success.

For restraint of trade is illegal only when it goes beyond reasonable limits. Protective arrangements within a shopping center are usually held reasonable, because they apply only to a relatively small area, for a relatively short time.

And courts have recognized that some degree of harmony, among merchants who are so closely associated, is a plain economic necessity.

FILING SUPPLIES AT THE STAR

It Has Been

By VADA ARNOLD

Three hundred and forty-six years ago the Pilgrim Fathers paused to give thanks. The Pilgrims had had a terrific struggle for a foothold on new soil. That soil was the wild coast of America.

Many hardships and trials had befallen these brave forefathers of ours, since they had set foot on new found land. But after their first harvest, they realized that at last success was theirs, no matter if it was small.

A day was set aside for thanksgiving and praise for the blessings they enjoyed.

Today, 348 years since the first Thanksgiving, we pause to forget the confusion of our modern world for a time and with our families and friends give thanks for the riches that we enjoy, including homes, schools and churches, the abundant harvest of crops and freedom to worship according to the dictates of our own conscience.

Speaking of schools, our own schools have produced numbers of talented students who have gone out into the world of business, as lawyers, doctors, teachers, preachers and missionaries and what have you?

Speaking of our schools, in the Thanksgiving issue of the Rising Star Record, November 24, 1938, an editorial appeared, written by Bessie Rogers, editor of Wildcat Tales, and a senior student in the Rising Star high school. The editorial is well worth sharing at this time of Thanksgiving.

"It is not by force of habit that high school students everywhere face the humble expression of Thanksgiving Day, and the world in general is reverent upon it's approach, realizing that it stimulates the spirit of peace, and steady growth in civilized society.

"Imagine if you can the object of it's meaning. Forever abolish the custom of feast — and close your eyes upon 1938. What then do you see? To be exact a scene of long ago, a group of people with odd dress and strange appearance who give us the name of Pilgrims. It is sad to say, but that name is abused in more ways than one, and because some have shoved it off into the corner and every day address it in an different way.

"Let us get the facts together. It was the fall of 1621, and the harvest of crops was completed. A group of men (our forefathers) were discussing the success of their harvest and the good deeds of a friendly tribe of Indians.

They reached the conclusion that God had smiled down upon them and blessed them materially and spiritually.

"From the goodness of their hearts they and their families set aside a certain day to meet together and give thanks to God.

"The women planned and cooked for several days, men hunted wild game for meat, and brought in big bags of nuts from the forest.

"When the day arrived they rejoiced together in an humble way.

"In conclusion it can be said that our present day of living has the opportunity of just as graphic a setting as the day "they" chose for giving thanks, but bear in mind that as we give thanks, we have an even greater responsibility in so much as we observe the day; they had only a little and were thankful in a little."

We have so much, and how much more are we thankful than they?

Production Of Peaches Improved By Irrigation

MONTAGUE — Add peaches to the growing list of Texas crops being improved by irrigation.

More and better peaches are being grown at Texas A&M University's Fruit Research-Demonstration Station here with the help of a relatively simple irrigation set-up.

U. A. Randolph, horticulturist at the Montague Station, reports peach trees irrigated once this year yielded from 1.6 to 2 bushels over those not irrigated. Important to peach growers where water is limited, says Randolph, is one 2-inch irrigation upped yields and quality as much as two irrigations. Timing seems to be the key, he says.

Over 87 percent of the fruit was above 2 1/4 inches in diameter from irrigated trees, compared to only 44 percent from non-irrigated trees.

Irrigated trees produced nearly 32 percent peaches that were over 2 1/2 inches in diameter compared to about 4 percent from trees not irrigated.

Randolph said the source of water is a small well producing about 60 gallons a minute. The water is pumped into an earthen reservoir; then to the orchard through a 4-inch sprinkler system.

The A&M researcher substituted some average prices and yields from irrigated and non-irrigated trees. He said considering prices and yields in 1963, 1964 and 1965, average gross income from irrigated trees was $642 an acre. Average gross income from non-irrigated trees was $274 an acre, or a difference of $358 per acre. He figures it costs about $100 an acre for one or two irrigations.

John Higginbotham Rites at Dallas Monday

Funeral services for John T. Higginbotham, 66, president of Higginbotham Bros. & Co., who died Sunday at Dallas, were held Monday at 4 p. m. in High and Park Presbyterian Church at Dallas with interment in Hillcrest Mausoleum at Dallas.

Mr. Higginbotham was the son of Rufus T. Higginbotham, founder of the Higginbotham stores, of which the Rising Star store is a unit, and of a widespread wholesale and retail empire devoted principally to dry goods merchandising.

John Higginbotham was well known here.

He was a native of Dublin, in Erath county. He is survived by his wife, a son, John T., Jr., and three daughters.

For many years he came each fall to Rising Star for a quail hunt, but in later seasons he abandoned the sport for reasons of health.

The Rising Star stores closed during the hour of the funeral Monday.

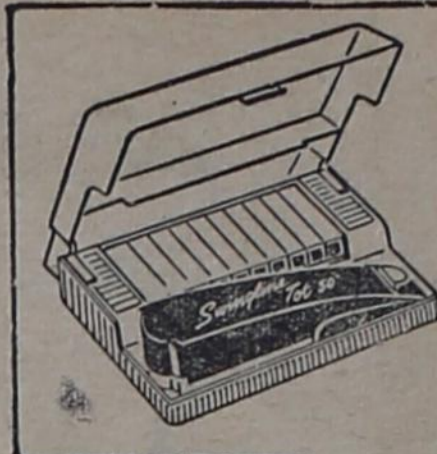

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eddy Henry and boys of Andrews spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Henry, and other relatives.

Mrs. Rada King, Tommy Elliott, Mrs. B. G. Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson of Dallas spent several days in Corpus Christi and Taft last week.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

Members of the late J. W. and Sue Clark family met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Laswell at Brownwood over the week-end for a Thanksgiving dinner. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. King of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark and Dr. and Mrs. Bob Mahoney of Rising Star.

UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

25 YEARS OF

Star-Spangled Security FOR AMERICANS 1941-1966

- ★ Twenty-five years ago on May 1, 1941, the U.S. Treasury issued the first Series E Savings Bond to Franklin D. Roosevelt.
- ★ That purchase, in the words of Lyndon Johnson, "set into motion the greatest thrift program the world has ever known."
- ★ Since 1941 Americans have bought more than $150,000,000,000 worth of Series E and H Savings Bonds.
- ★ From these savings have come new homes, college
- ★ educations, dream vacations, paid-up hospital bills, more satisfying retirements.
- ★ Americans still own almost $50 billion in Savings Bonds—$50 billion worth of personal security. Security from want. From fear. From loss of independence.
- ★ And security from loss of freedom in a troubled world.
- ★ Join the greatest thrift program in the world. For your future and your family's future. And your country's future.

"BE YE THANKFUL"

More than three centuries ago a group of Americans held their first feast to celebrate a good harvest and give thanks for their good fortune; they called it Thanksgiving Day.

The custom of Thanksgiving Day spread from its origin in Plymouth colony until it was proclaimed a national holiday.

In the days of old, much attention was given to the approaching festival. Women spent several days preparing for the affair, and the children helped to turn roasts on spits in front of open fires. The men of the colony brought geese, ducks, and fish; Indians contributed wild turkey and venison. Everyone joined together in a spirit of good will and thankfulness for the many blessings bestowed upon them.

Today, our functions are more limited, but we still prepare festive diners to celebrate the occasion. More important, however, is that we retain the old spirit of thanksgiving, that we do not merely use the holiday as a trick for visiting acquaintances; but we share with our friends and family an opportunity to be truly thankful for our rich and bountiful blessings.

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

The week of thanks is here. For many it is just thanks for a vacation from school. How many of us seniors think of the true meaning of Thanksgiving?

Six week tests are over; term projects are in or almost finished; we breathe easy and get in bed early after a hectic week. Six week tests are not all that bad now, are they? Just think how you enjoy the week following!

Football season is once again over and we see basketball season coming into full swing. This is "double pleasure," for we not only have the boys to watch but can enjoy watching the girls show their skill in it, too. We have only two Senior girls playing basketball this season, Terry Chambers and Karen Harris. Already our teams have seen many victories and look as if this will be a good year for them. Good luck!

Until next week,
Kathy

"NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN"

The long awaited holidays have finally arrived! Junior students are enjoying their leisure time but not to the extent of forgetting their responsibilities, we hope.

Our class has carried out all of its money making projects except for the Junior play which will be coming up soon. We are very proud of what we have accomplished this year. We would like to take this time to thank the room mothers and our sponsors for all their help.

Another six weeks period has slipped by, and we can see little wrinkles on many of the students' faces. We are going to have to dig deeper in our memory banks for those cherished answers.

The weather has really been hard on our health this week. Classes are always interrupted

It's Corn Meal Treat Time

Old Southern cooks who spent their days in the kitchen used to be the only ones who held the secret of corn bread. Now the busiest homemaker can bake homemade corn meal muffins, corn bread and even corn fritters in the time it takes to set the table and call the family to dinner.

Prepare corn meal batter from self-rising corn meal, refrigerate it and then bake it... up to three days later. The leavening action is held in check until the instant the batter meets the heat of the oven or skillet.

The new leavening agent, a product of Monsanto Company, is the modern baking secret. Hush puppies for dinner? Pancakes or hoe cakes? With prepared batter in the refrigerator, they are quick, easy and just as delectable as the old Southern cooks used to make.

Corn Sticks or Corn Muffins
 1/2 cups self-rising corn meal mix or self-rising corn meal
 1 1/4 cups milk
 1 egg
 2 tablespoons melted butter, shortening, or cooking oil
 Sugar may be added to taste

Generously grease 12 corn stick molds or muffin tins and place in oven while preheating to 450°. Mix milk, egg and butter in a two-quart bowl. Add self-rising corn meal mix and blend until smooth. Pour batter into a closable pitcher or other container for use and storage. The batter can be kept in this type of container and stored in the refrigerator for up to three days. This simplifies the preparation of delicious corn sticks over busy weekends and during last minute dinner planning. Fill the preheated molds or tins approximately 3/4 full with fresh or stored batter. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 450° or until a golden crust forms. Serve hot with plenty of butter and stand back!

with coughs and sneezes.

The student body is looking forward to a good basketball season, so let's all keep up the good spirit.

Happy Thanksgiving
 Pegs
 P. S. Oh, yes, S. C., did you run out of gas purposely or acci-dently?

WITH THE SOPHS

We are all out of school for Thanksgiving the last of this week. Next week we start in the second week of the final six weeks of this semester. We received our report cards this week. Part of us have started our term themes on "Silas Marner"; we are well into the plot of this novel.

In Algebra I class we are working with negative numbers in equations, while in Algebra II factoring, monomials, and polynomials are being studied.

In Biology we are studying organic variations and in Home Economics II the girls are learning about child care.

In World History we are finding Europe in the Middle Ages very interesting.

It is rather hard to believe that the school year is speeding by so fast. Here we are at the end of football season and only memories of a lovely football banquet. We are looking forward to a great basketball season.

Count your blessings this Thanksgiving holiday.

K. V. H.

WILLING TO LEARN

We roller skated all through the Cross Plains' Buffalo herd and did not fall once. We in the Freshman class are very proud of the way everybody played.

Since this was our last game, we are now starting basketball practice. The girls have already started, but we boys think that surely we can catch up with them.

We hope that everyone is having a very joyful Thanksgiving. The turkey surely was good, agree?

Let us be thankful that it was a turkey they brought home for the feast instead of a pretty cat?

Remember that the Freshman class is for hire for any group activity.

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Since the grades are out, Mrs. Nowlin knows who told the truth when they raised their hands about studying.

The Homemaking III girls are still sewing. The Homemaking II girls are studying children and how to train them.

In Homemaking I the girls have finished pastries and have been doing meals.

By the way, did anyone see the new mattress covers in the gym? The Homemaking II girls and Mrs. Nowlin made them. It was quite a task, but everyone was happy to help with this.

Bye and have a happy holiday.
 Mary

ALL THE WAY, CATS!

The Football Banquet was held last Saturday night in the gym. The cheerleaders hope everyone who attended enjoyed it as much as we enjoyed giving it. It was the perfect way to end the season.

We would like to thank everyone for helping us this year. The student body really yelled and showed spirit and enthusiasm at the pep rallies. We would like to thank our sponsor, Mrs. Nowlin, for helping us. She was always around to help solve our problems and lend a helping hand. Last but not least, we say, "Thanks" to be the Wildcat team of 1966 for being such a great group of guys to back.
 Sally

SPORTS NEWS

Football season ended when the Wildcats defeated Cross Plains 26-0. It gave the Wildcats a respectable 5-4 season despite the many injuries along the way. We would like to thank the fans and students for sticking with us through the lean weeks; also, the services of the cheerleaders helped make the season a success. Thanks.

Basketball season opened Monday the fourteenth and eighteen or nineteen boys reported for action. The first game was scheduled with Gorman for last Tuesday.

Eastland County 4-Hers were busy during November. Although there were no major contest or livestock shows at this time, they were busy reorganizing their clubs, selecting projects for the coming year, as well as continuing work on their projects already begun.

Foods and nutrition subject matter leaders are beginning training. 4-H Club members who are taking foods and nutrition as a project will begin their subject matter meetings soon. A training meeting was held Friday, November 18, in the Reddy Room, Texas Electric Service Company, in Eastland for all 4-H adult foods leaders.

The 1966 Annual Pecan Show will be held in the Youth Center building in Rising Star, December 9 and 10. There will be a youth division as in the past years. All 4-H and FHA members and youth of school age are invited to submit entries in this division. Ribbons will be given for first, second and third places in the following classes: cakes, pies, cookies, candy, and nut

U. E. Westmoreland vs. Ileen Keith, abstract of judgment.
 Hall Walker to Erby E. Burnett, et ux, release vendor's lien.
 Fred A. Walker to Herbert Ekru, deed of trust.
 Mrs. J. W. Webb to James W. Little, Jr., warranty deed.
 John H. Yocham et ux to First State Bank of Rising Star, deed of trust.

The Comanche County Pecan Show will be held December 3. There will be a youth division also. All youth, including 4-H and FHA of surrounding counties, including Eastland, are invited to enter. For more information contact the County Home Demonstration Agents' Office, phone MA 9-1729.

The Eastland County 4-H Council will meet Monday night, November 28, in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company in Eastland. All 1966 Council members are urged to be there as this meeting will be the election of officers for 1967.

During the past week several 4-H club members have selected projects. Bobby and Barbara Williams of the Gorman 4-H Club have been looking for some calves. Swine projects have been selected for the county show. Those obtaining pigs were Brit and Tim Ferguson, Bobby Lee, all of Cisco, and Jeanette Jackson and Christi Fuller of Gorman.

Mrs. Mary Bailey Named HD Club Woman of Year

The 1966 Annual Home Demonstration Achievement Day was held on Wednesday, November 2, at the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall, Eastland.

The regular Home Demonstration Council met during the morning with Mrs. C. T. Brockman presiding. At this time, arrangements were made by the Council for sponsoring the pecan bake show, centerpiece division, and concession stand at the 1966 Pecan Show to be held in Rising Star on December 9 and 10.

Highlight of the day's activities included the presentation of Outstanding Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year Award at the noon luncheon. The award was presented to Mrs. Mary Bailey, of Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club, by Miss Janet Meyers and Judge Scott Bailey. Mrs. Bailey was recognized for her Home Demonstration Club contributions and services.

Mrs. W. V. Fenter and Mrs. Ellen Horn told the group of their trip to the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting in Corpus Christi this fall. The information on the meetings and workshops was most informative.

The Word Home Demonstration Club lead the women in recreation during the afternoon program.

Individual and club exhibits were displayed.

Rules for Pecan Bake Show Here Are Announced

The bake contest to be held in conjunction with the Eastland County Pecan Show Dec. 9-10, in Rising Star, will consist of three divisions — the adult division for baked goods, the youth division for baked items and the pecan arrangements division.

County Home Demonstration Agent Janet Meyers has released the rules of the show.

All entries for both bake contest and arrangement contest must be in place by 11 a. m. Friday, Dec. 9. Items that may be entered in the adult and youth baked goods divisions and the minimum amounts are these: pies, one whole; cakes, one whole; candy, at least eight pieces; nut bread, one whole loaf; cookies, at least eight. All entries must contain pecans.

Any man or woman may enter baked items. In the Youth division, any member of the 4-H Club, the Future Homemakers of America, the Future Farmers of America, or any school age youth may enter.

In the arrangement division, any man or woman from Eastland County or adjoining counties may enter.

A Grand Champion and a Reserve Champion will be chosen in each bake division as well as a first, second and third place winner in each category — pies, cakes, and so forth.

Entries winning Grand Champion, Reserve Champion or first, second or third places will be retained and sold with proceeds going to the County Home Demonstration Council. Entries by home demonstration club members will also be sold. Other items, if not removed by 5 p. m. Friday, will also be sold. Entries that become the property of the show will remain on display until 1 p. m. Saturday.

Entrants were requested to put baked items on disposable plates.

In the pecan arrangements division, centerpieces or arrangements must include pecans or parts of the pecan plant, such as leaves. A prize will be awarded to the first, second and third place winner. Arrangements must remain in place until noon Saturday.

Mrs. Beuna Gracey is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. "Sut" Sutherland and Lisa at Arlington this week.
