I cannot find it in good conscience to censure very strongly the attitude of those National Guardsmen and Reservists who are demanding to be released from active duty in peacetime. It seems rather silly and even futile to demand that these boys surrender their normal lives and ambitions toward defense of a country when the wife of the president of that country makes a Riviera holiday out of a visit to an improvised and communist-oriented land in effect telling the world's underprivileged billions that our enemies are right when they say that the United States is a plutocratic country where wealth and privilege rules and plays at the expense of the masses.

How Khrushchev must laugh in his Kremlin secrecy at this windfall of most effective propaganda furnished by the very people he wishes to destroy! How dumb can we get?

The picture which the vast majority of world peoples see of the United States isn't flattering. Sheltered within the realities of our very good and democratic life we have lost all concept of the meaning which these unlettered billions, just now awakening resentfully to dreams of freedom, give to the shibboleths and accusals shouted by those who would destroy us. Such words as capitalism, free enterprise and individual initiative, so revered by us, have much different and sinister suggestions when spoken by the peon of Mexico, the fellah of Egypt and the starvling of India.

These swarming billions, whose minds are the target of the communists, tend to equate the wealth and power of the United States with the ruling classes who have oppressed them from time immemorial. Colonial oppression is very real to them, and in their minds the United States is an ogre of world power holding in fief great sections of a suffering globe. It does not matter that we know this is a lie, that America is a land where freedom and capitalism have produced a high standard of living for the greatest number. It is what they believe that matters!

Certain of our journalists and public thinkers have professed to see in the "revolt" of some of our citizen soldiers a decay of those virtues which made our democratic armies in the past wellnigh invincible. Perhaps they are right. But the decay is not a focal disease. It is not restricted to them.

Before we condemn our service men for lapses of patriotic zeal, perhaps we should insist that the wanted virtues are consistently reflected in quarters which have a most direct influence upon world opinion. Perhaps we should remind the administration that the office of President is not a social adventure, but a grave responsibility calling for the utmost dignity, self-restraint and personal sacrifice.

In all this debate over military censorship there is one point which seems to have been overlooked. If there can be a censorship of what is said or written by a soldier, there can also be a censorship of what he reads or hears. Rank or military relationships are not material to the point. If a general is prevented from expressing an opinion to a subordinate on the score that he is using his military status to influence a civilian political result — to the detriment of our firm principle that the military must always be subject to civilian control — then it is but a step to a control of what the soldier hears or reads and ultimately to thought control in order that the soldier in his military status shall not dominate the soldier in his status as a citizen.

There is certainly no argument against the principle that the

The 1962 Eastland County Livestock Show, March 30-31, is expected to be the largest ever held, according to Ross Wilson, Gorman, president of the County Livestock Association, sponsor of the annual affair.

Ben McKinnis, Eastland, general superintendent, informed Wilson recently that 701 animals had been entered. The largest division will be fat lambs with 270 entered. McKinnis said that a total of 105 sheep will be entered in the breeding classes. Sixty goats, 140 fat pigs, as well as 53 sows and gilts will be exhibited. Twenty-seven dairy animals, 19 head of beef animals and 27 fat steers are also entered.

All animals must be entered and in their places by 11:00 A. M. on the opening day.

Breeding classes are open to both adults and F.F.A. and 4-H Club members. The junior exhibitors must be enrolled in a public school to be eligible to show. Adults will compete for ribbons only. The F.F.A. and 4-H Club Boys and Girls will compete for the $2,000.00 in cash premiums to be awarded the winners.

Entries are limited to two animals per class in both breeding and fat divisions, except for F.F.A. Chapters or 4-H Clubs. These can show a total of 5 animals.

Brandy Humphreys, Eastland rancher, is assistant superintendent. Park Plambeck, Pleasant Hill, and Charles Veale, Ranger, are superintendents of the swine division of the show. Billy Bacon, Cisco, Don Bradford, Ranger, and C. E. Bridge, Olden, will have charge of the sheep and goat division. Lee J. Williamson, Olden, is superintendent of the dairy cattle. Joe Criswell, Angus breeder, Rising Star, and Jerry Chaney, Eastland, will superintend the beef cattle and fat steers.

Other officers of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association include Waverly Massengale, vice-president, Glyn Gilliam, secretary, and C. M. McCain, treasurer. All are from Eastland.

A special auction of fat animals will be held at 7:30 P.M. on March 31, at the Eastland auction barn.

An opening date parade is scheduled at 2:00 P.M. The County Sheriff's Posse, sponsors, are developing plans to make this an outstanding event. Several area high school bands and riding clubs will participate.

Man Who Built Rising Star Gas Line Succumbs

I. J. (Satch) Henson, well known Cisco pipe line contractor, 61, died at 6:10 p.m. Sunday in Graham Hospital, Cisco where he had been hospitalized for 7 days after suffering a heart attack.

Born September 11, 1900, in Lufkin, he moved to Cisco in 1919 and joined the Humble Pipe Line Company. He left that connection about 12 years ago to form the Henson Construction Company which did contract work for the Humble and others. One of his last jobs was the construction of the 3-inch pipe line which supplies natural gas from the Ben H Moore well near May to the Rising Star City Utilities system.

Mr. Henson is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Benton of Cisco and Mrs. John McMahan of Austin; his mother, three brothers, Arch and J. C. of Mrs. Jim Henson of Lufkin; Lufkin, and Joe Bailey of Crane; four sisters, Mrs. B. D. Dixon Mrs. Catherine Dixon, and Mrs. Bess Harris, all of Lufkin and Edna Burhart of Oklahoma; and four grandchildren.

Coastal Bermuda Sodding Makes Waterway Profitable

The above "before and after" photos show, top, a gully on the Fred Brizendine farm four miles south of Rising Star caused by terraces discharging water, and bottom, the same gully shaped and ready for sodding to coastal bermuda grass. John Lee, Jr., Rising Star conservationist, is shown in the top and below, Olin Lee, May, Texas, contractor.

Many More Landowners Finding Sodded Waterways Are Paying Soil Investment

By Raymon A. Wade

Farmers in the Rising Star area are building an increasing number of grassed waterways. The Rising Star Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service assisted local farmers to establish only two waterways in 1960. In 1961, eighteen were established on local farms.

This is an encouraging trend in land use adjustment. Wide, flat-bottomed waterways designed to spread run-off water over as much grassed area as possible are proving to be profitable from the standpoint of per acre returns.

J. R. Morrow grazed 17 cows on a 10-acre coastal bermuda grass waterway for five months on his farm southwest of Rising Star. Morrow sloped and shaped the waterway in February, 1960 and in April, he sodded the bermuda grass. He fertilized the waterway in 1961 using 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Contrasted to the intensive row-crop economy of a few years ago, today's agricultural economy is based principally on livestock production in the Rising Star area. This economy popularizes conservation practices specifically designed to hold rainfall on the land for as long as possible in order to produce more grass. Wide grassed waterways spread water over large areas and by decreasing its velocity allow more of the water to soak into the soil without danger of soil erosion.

Grassed waterways can serve as terrace outlets and in addition increase the value of land by improving its appearance. The many gullies which scar land can be reclaimed for use as Farmers establishing grassed waterways on their farms in 1962 are; Fred Brizendine, Ray Nunnally, Grace Glenn, Ray Agnew, Oral Davis, Crit Evatt, Jack Stout, A. H. Ringhoffer, Troy Lamb, James Allen, R. C. Ames, L. L. Lewis, Burrus Wright, Cecil and Bob Shults, and Kenneth Murdock. These waterways will be planted to grasses such as coastal bermuda grass, K. R. bluestem and Johnson grass.

Attend Corsicana WSCS Conference

Wildcats Prepare For District Meet March 31

The Rising Star track team, fresh from winning the Class B division of the Tarleton State Relays last Saturday, will attempt to extend their list of pre-conference victories when they go to Bangs Saturday of this week. At Tarleton they competed in the B division against 15 schools from Class AA to Class B, all rated Class B in the relays. Class A was composed of AAAA and AAA schools.

The Bangs invitation meet will be the last major appearance of the Wildcat tracksters before they go to Stephenville again Saturday, March 31, to run and jump for keeps in district competition.

The Rising Star team has consistently won the district title during the past four or five years and it is rated a walk-in to take the title again this season.

The real competition is expected to come in the regional meet, which the local boys won last year. Following that event will be the State meet at Austin where Rising Star placed third in the B division last year.

TAKE B CROWN AT TARLETON RELAYS

Rising Star's tracksters took the Class B crown at the Tarleton State College relays at Stephenville Saturday of last week, nosing out Baird and Masonic Home at Fort Worth. Johnny Jones was the leading scorer of the B division, racking up 15 points for his team.

Rising Star captured firsts in the Broad jump and the 440-yard relay; took seconds in the 440-yard dash, the 180-yard hurdles the Mile relay and the high jump; and third places in discuss and the 120-yard hurdles.

Jones placed first in the broad jump with a leap of 22-31/4. (Continued on page six)

James Rutherford Heads CofC Officers for 1962

James Rutherford, Rising Star banker, will head the local Chamber of Commerce for the fiscal year beginning this month.

Mr. Rutherford headed a slate of officers and directors elected by acclamation at the luncheon of the chamber of commerce at the Elite Cafe Tuesday noon.

Other officers are Bill Dennard, retiring president named as vice-president; A. D. Jenkins reelected secretary-treasurer, and Elgie Crisp, Robert Butler, George Steel, John Pruet and Cecil Shults as directors.

A committee consisting of Cecil Shults, A. D. Jenkins, George Steel, Art Fisher and Bob Shults was named to represent the chamber of commerce in buying at the auction of club boys and girls stock at the Eastland County Livestock Show March 30-31 at Eastland. The committee was given leeway in the purchase of the stock and instructed to use its own judgment in the amount to be spent in such purchases. The Rising Star CofC has always supported its area boys and girls in a very fine way in their exhibits at the stock show, especially in the purchase of club animals placed for auction. Mr. Steel pointed out. He said that the County Livestock Ass'n was particularly pleased with the support given by Rising Star.

One of the first steps taken by the new CofC administration was a move to reactivate the Boy Scout organization. Mr. Rutherford called for prompt measures on the part of the CofC, the sponsoring organization, to put the local troop back on a sound and active basis, and, as the first step, to have the Scout hut moved from its present location on South Anderson Street to the City park.

Mayor Walter Smith agreed to serve as a committee of one to select a site and secure a permit for removal of the hut, and the president named Bob Shults, John Pruet and Bill Dennard as a committee to have the hut moved.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

INCOME TAX ON PROFIT FROM SALE OF HOME

In completing your income tax return, you are required to include in your gross income the profit on the sale of your personal residence. This profit is normally the difference between sales price less agent's commission and the purchase price of the house when you bought it.

This additional income can, however, be postponed in the situation where you buy a new residence within a one-year period before or after the date on which you sell your old home. However, you postpone the payment of tax on the sale only if your new home costs as much or more than the price you received for your old house after deducting the agent's commission, selling expenses and the amount you spent to fix the house up for sale during the 90-day period before which the house was sold.

For example, if you paid $10,000 for your old house and sold it for $15,000, you made a profit of $5,000 on the sale. If you buy a new home within a year for $16,000, you report no profit on the sale of the old house. You must, however, reduce the cost of the new home for later sale purposes by the amount of the untaxed profit you received on the old home. Thus, your new house cost would be reduced $5,000 and would be valued at $11,000 for later sale purposes.

Assume the same facts except that you spend $500 fixing up your old house for sale within 90 days before selling it, and bought your new house for $13,000 rather than the $16,000 figure used in the example above. You would deduct the $500 from the $15,000 sales price to obtain the adjusted sales price. Inasmuch as the purchase price of the new house was less than the adjusted sales price of the old home, you would have to include the net difference of $1,500 as capital gain in your gross income.

The value of your new house for subsequent sale purposes would then be reduced by $3,500 which is the difference between the total profit made on the sale of your old residence, ($5,000) and the amount you showed as income when you bought the new residence ($1,500).

Often you sell your old house in one year and don't buy a new one until the subsequent year. Where this occurs, you should show the fact of sale in your tax return for the year of sale and indicate that you intend to buy a new house within the one-year period.

When you later purchase a new house and have gain to report because it cost you less than the adjusted sales price of the old house, you should amend your return for the year in which the old house was sold and report the proper amount of gain includible in income as a capital gain.

Where you desire to build a new house to replace the old house sold, you are entitled to these tax benefits as long as construction begins within one

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Sooner or later, everyone needs a family health record. Dr. J. E. Peavy, state health commissioner, suggests you start yours now if you aren't already keeping one. Kept accurate and current, it can be of permanent value for the children's school records, for insurance data, and for your family doctor's use, the health official says.

A school note pad makes a good record book, but don't use it for anything else. And remember it has to be carefully kept if it is to be of full value. You can start by jotting down the basic information you already have at hand concerning the injury and illness history of each member of your family.

Start it off with a brief listing of family history. Enter the date and place of birth of each person, and the place and date and cause of any deceased. Also enter pertinent information and the medical facts about each family member, such as the presence of chronic illness or physical handicap.

Next, start a section for dates of immunization, being sure to provide space for each member of the family. Allow room for entering dates of immunization against whooping cough, polio, smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, and typhoid fever. Don't forget to include the dates of booster shots.

In a section of general information, list such things as the type of blood each member of the family has, and the drug sensitivities or special allergies of each. If RH blood factor is known to be present in anyone, be sure to record it prominently.

The health record ought to include a check list of who in the family has had the more common diseases of childhood — chicken pox, measles, mumps, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria. Most of these are diseases of childhood, but sometimes an adult is exposed. German measles is a serious threat to expectant mothers, and mumps is a dangerous disease in any adult.

Dates of physical examinations, with a line or two for notes of special advice or instructions that followed the check-up should be noted in the health record. So also should illnesses requiring hospitalization, listing the nature of illness or injury, name of physician and hospital, dates of entry and discharge, length of illness, and type of surgery, if any.

military organization of the nation should always be subordinate to civilian authority. But the seeds of dictatorship are sown in some of the most worthy causes. It seems inconsistent, to say the least, to give service men the vote and then deny them full and equal freedom to hear and debate what is offered or argued with respect to the issue involved.

And yet that is certainly the predictable result of a policy which finds a good excuse at one end and a good reason at the other. It is a tendency of which we should be very wary in these days when military spending and activities become the dominant theme in our economic life.

March 31 Final Date For Feed Grain Signing

College Station, — Corn and grain sorghum producers must decide soon whether or not they will participate in the 1962 Feed Grain program, reminds C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. March 31 is the deadline date for declaring intent to comply and notice must be given in writing to the County ASCS before that date.

Bates points out that non-cooperators may plant all the corn or grain sorghum acreage they wish and the grain produced may be either fed or marketed. If it is sold it will bring only the market price since no government support price can be obtained. They can get support prices for oats, however, if this grain is placed under loan.

Growers who do comply must divert at least 20 per cent of their feed grain base into conservation use. For this land they will receive payment equal to 50 per cent of normal production. In addition, as cooperators they will be eligible for price supports on the normal production from reduced acreage.

Producers who need assistance in figuring the possible effects of the program on their net farm income should see their county agent, says Bates. County agents have copies of budget forms which can be used to figure alternatives and how the decisions may affect net profit from grain.

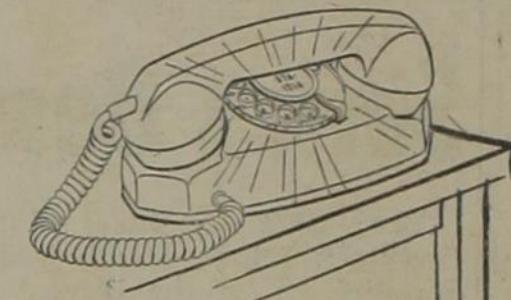

Other factors may also influence decisions in some areas of the state. These include soil moisture conditions at planting time, availability of acreage of other cash crops, amount of production capital available, need for home produced grain in conducting the livestock portion of the business and the outlook for grain prices in the months ahead.

If further information is needed, contact the office manager of your County ASCS, and notify the office of your decision before the deadline, advises Bates.

382 Sent to Prison From Eastland County Over 40-Year Period, Researcher Shows

Huntsville — During the 40 year period from 1920 through 1959 a total of 109,949 individuals were committed to the Texas Prison System, according to a study of crime in Texas, recently completed by Dr. R. C. Koeninger, director of the Department of Sociology, Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville.

The study was made by Dr. Koeninger, a sociologist and criminologist to show the trends in prison commitments for the State and for each county in Texas.

Eastland county committed 382 persons to the prison during the period studied, and ranks 62nd in the state for the number of persons committed during the 40 year period.

"One third, or a total of 35,989 of those committed come from five counties in Texas," Koeninger said. "The five most populous counties, Harris, with 12,943; Dallas, with 9,350; Bexar, with 5,322; Tarrant, with 4,328; and El Paso, with 4,046, send more persons to prison, but this does not indicate that the populations of these five counties are more criminal than other areas."

Koeninger bases his statement on the ratio of commitments to prison for each 1,000 persons over the 40 year period. "For example," Koeninger said, "El Paso county has committed a total of 21 persons for each 1,000 of its population over the 40 year period, while Harris county committed a total of 17 persons for each 1,000 of its population over the same period."

The rating of 4.15 for Eastland county indicates that 123 counties of the state send more persons for each 1,000 of its population, over the 40 year period.

Highest Ratio
The five counties in Texas where the commitment ratio is the highest are all found in the West and Northwest Texas. Dallam county has the state's highest ratio with 46 persons for each 1,000 in the population during the 40 year period. The other four counties are Culbertson with a ratio of 36. These five counties committed a total of 1,009 persons to prison during the period studied.

In comparison, the ratio of the five counties sending the most persons to prison is as follows: Harris with a ratio of 17; El Paso 21; Tarrant 13; Dallas 16; and Bexar with a ratio of 11 persons for the 40 year period. "In our study of commitment rates for each county, more significance was attached to the ratio than to the total number of persons committed to the prison," Koeninger said.

Koeninger suggests that one of the most revealing aspects of the study is that of the 50 counties where the rate of commitments to prison has increased forty-three are in the Western half of the state. "It would appear that as the population moves west, commitment ratios from the west tend to increase."

Another factor which Koeninger finds significant and one which he believes is cause for concern is the increase in the rate of commitments throughout the state. During the period studied the state population has increased 65 per cent over 1920, while the state's ratio of commitment has increased 105 per cent.

Many Factors
Koeninger attributes this commitment increase to many factors. "Attitudes toward certain types of crime, increase in law enforcement facilities, and an increase in the prison system's efforts at rehabilitation are important reasons, particularly the latter," Koeninger said. "With a modern penal system judges are not as reluctant to commit men to prison." He also noted that Texas did not have a state-wide parole system in operation until September 1957 and that the absence of a state system of supervised probation further contributes to sending larger numbers to prison.

Koeninger points out that the most significant change in commitment rates took place during depression and war years. "The population increase for 1940 was 10 per cent over the previous decade, but the rate of commitment increased 61 per cent. And for 1950 population had gained 32 per cent but the commitment to prison was up only 17 per cent."

Current prison population figures show the inmate population is increasing at the rate of about 600 each year. Since there are nearly 12,000 persons in prison now, the current annual increase will result in a prison population of 18,000 by 1970.

"The fact that Kennedy county has never committed anyone to prison does not necessarily make the county a mecca for criminals," Koeninger said. "Kennedy county just does not have a criminal court, and law violators are tried in the adjoining counties."

Takes Top Honors At Ochiltree Stock Show

Don Clark Savage walked off with both top honors in the 1962 Ochiltree County Junior Livestock Show, steer division Friday by exhibiting the grand champion animal and reserve grand champion.

His Angus took top placing, followed by the Hereford. Don, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Savage, is a 4-H Club member of Perryton High School.

He is the grandson of Ernest Clark who is a brother of Mrs. Fred Roberts and of Mark and Lee Clark of Rising Star. Don's steers netted $600 each. His little sister, Sue Ann Savage entered her steer which placed fourth in the contest and brought $336. The family lives on a ranch near Perryton, Texas.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

As a young person enters high school, he should begin to consider his plans for the future; and the earlier he starts, the better. Beginning with the freshman year, he should take courses that will help him in college; he should plan his curriculum so that he will receive the broadest education possible. Choosing a broad program will enable one to make a change in his vocational plans without difficulty or loss of time. While in high school a person should learn to assume responsibility on his own; when he goes to college, he will see that responsibility goes hand in hand with more freedom.

When a teenager is considering his future life, he may ask, "Why should I go to college?" If you choose a professional career, college is a must; also, non-high school graduates often experience difficulty in securing jobs. Remember, however, that although learning to make a living through a college education is important, the most important result is learning to live.

Last of all, a student should try to make the most of college by developing inborn talents. It is only right, however, for each person — not only college students — to do this. Jesus commanded us to multiply our talents in telling the parable of the talents. "For unto everyone that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

 Matthew 25:29

JUNIOR CHATTER

Hi there,
 I am sorry to say that Kay is sick this week, so I am filling in for her; we hope you are feeling better, Katy.

How did everyone enjoy the snow? There were a few girls who looked like snowmen, but we all lived through it.

We H.C. III girls are learning how to cook everything in the book; the cookbook, that is. We have had pizzas, Mexican dinners, and plain ole' American steak, very good.

In English we have been writing themes. Richard are you sure you have been writing all those themes?

Now, let's try something a little bit different — associating names and songs.

Deana Jones dedicates "Irresistible You" to Dwayne or is it the other way round?

Donnie Chambers — "Queen of Fools to His Royal Majesty"

Richard Creech — "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" — you never sleep!

Tommy Alford — "Smoky Places" — it is more like you to say dark places.

Kenneth Pittman — your "Boomerang Won't Come Back", no wonder you have to throw it.

Phyllis Ford — "I'll do My Crying in the Rain", but Phil it never rains.

Covie Weaver — "That's Her Pa"
 And for all of the high school girls and last week's snow the "Peppermint Twist". Everyone was moving very fast; I guess it was the twist.
 Closing with hopes that Kay will be with you next week.
 Donnie

UPWARD AND ONWARD

This week is a very exciting one for two reasons. First the date of March 22nd is the Band Banquet. Most of the band members are looking forward to this, and the band parents are working very hard to make it an event — long to be remembered. The second thing on schedule is that Saturday at Brownwood we will be entered in the Blue-Bonnet Relays. Our track boys done very well so far, and we want to wish them even more luck in the future.

Thank you also to the parents who came to our P.T.A. Fun Night; we at school appreciate our P.T.A. and the projects it promotes.

R.G. — Saturday night at the movies???

C.M. — Why did you get down in the floorboard coming home from Cisco? It was just an 'ole pink house.

L.P. — Don't scare me like that; at least, let me get in a more substantial position!!

And in closing — have any of you heard that Jimmy, who was recently awarded seven pounds of soggy onion rings for sleeping through Col. Glenn's flight, is now recovering from a brief, brief illness???

Soph. Reporter

FISH BAIT

We Freshmen all enjoyed the snow last week, but we decided that we would have enjoyed it even if we had been upperclassmen.

In English we have been working on our auto-biographies for our term themes. Fish, you've had some interesting things happen to you, so make those life stories interesting.

The Ag boys are getting practice piling grubs and are working with poultry. The Homemaking girls are still sewing. When our garments are completed, we are planning to have a style show and tea for our mothers.

The band parents are preparing a banquet for the band students. We Freshmen band members want to thank you; we really appreciate what you are doing for us. The band has been working hard toward our spring concert, which will probably be given on April 27.

That seems to be about all the news for this week, so until next week —
 Charlene

WITH THE FFA

All the boys in the chapter are getting their projects ready for the Eastland County Livestock Show, which will start March 30th and go through the 31st. Our Livestock and Poultry Judging teams are getting ready to go to Abilene on March 26 to the ACC contest. We have been piling grubs for Mr. Dunn to raise money for our chapter. We want to thank him for his cooperation in allowing the boys to work.

I want to mention that the chapter is going to sell rat bait; also, we are collecting old papers. If anyone has any kind of paper they would like to get rid of, we would appreciate it very much if you would call us, and we will pick it up. Richard Creech is working on his Lone Star Farmer Degree.

"THE CREAM OF THE CROP"
 Snowing in March? I still can't believe it, but that was what was taking place Wednesday at RSHS.

The Seniors were beginning to think that snow was not coming this year, and I imagine it was the Freshmen's delight that it hadn't; however, I think almost everyone got a little taste of the snow. That right, Mr. Davidson?

Plans are well under way for our trip to Prade, and I know every Senior is anxiously awaiting the tenth of May.

The annual is complete. Yes the final pages were sent off Thursday afternoon. Kay's still going around in a daze. All we can get out of her is, "I know there's a special package somewhere."

Volleyball is still going on with the girls having their first game with May Monday afternoon.

The track boys are being kept busy with track meets every Saturday.

I met this little bird this week and he told me that:
 Johnny Jones has a secret crush on — (I'll never tell).

Larry Harding loves tropical places like Florida.

Wanda Walker loves those Friar Tucks; I mean Fire Trucks! Shirley Hageman wants a new hair do! (Like the one she saw in the annual room.)

Maria Geye always wears skirts when it snows.

Miss Childress just loves to pull those faints.

Maybe so I'd better close with that. Take care everyone.
 Sherry

WITH THE F.H.A.

There are very busy groups working at our little cottage these days.

The III year girls are enjoying cooking as are the II year girls. They have prepared such foods as pizza, meat loaves, salads, and new preparations of potatoes. By the way, Donnie, next time Loretta and I would prefer the pizza without mushrooms!

The II year girls are having a wonderful time with the labs. They have prepared steaks, both oven and pan broiled, potatoes and cheese sauce, broccoli au Gratin, Jello salad, and chocolate sauce.

The Freshmen are coming along just fine with their garments. You better get them done before school is out; we all want to see them!

Patsy — We knew that ivy needed to be watered but not that bad!!!
 Chery

SKIPPER EZZELL

On September 29, 1943, an important event took place at Gorman, Texas. A bouncing baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Ezzell, who was named Richmond Thomas Ezzell, Jr.

Skipper began school at Rising Star, where he has remained and will graduate in May of 1962.

Skipper has been a very popular student around Rising Star High School. He was an active member of the F.F.A. for four years and was on several judging teams. He went with the National Land Judging team to Oklahoma City. He was Ag. Sec. for two years. He received his Lone Star Farmer Degree in Agriculture. Skipper served as Student Council Representative for two years. He was elected Senior class favorite this year.

Some of the pastimes Skip enjoys are hunting, fishing, driving or working on his car, and collecting arrow heads. His favorite TV Program is "Thriller". Skip's favorite actor and actress are Tuesday Weld and John Wayne. The best movie he has seen was "To Hell and Back". His favorite color is blue. When it comes to eating, he likes fried chicken, gravy, lettuce and tomato salad, and pecan pie.

As for the future, Skipper plans to attend a college and would like to play football.

Skipper has been well liked by all students of Rising Star High School and also by the faculty — We want to wish him luck in his future endeavors!!

DO RE ME

Hello, everyone! I am finally back with some news. Three of our members — Don, Patsy and Mike — attended the second meeting of the All-District Band at Tarleton. Everyone is looking forward to our band banquet the parents who have made it tonight; thanks go out to all possible. Our band concert will be held the last week in April. We are working hard every morning on some music to present to you.

The band goes to the Six Flags Over Texas on May 3; we are going to go to New Braunfels after school is out.
 Sharon

BOY'S SPORTS

Hi! All of the boys who are running track are surely having a ball. We are taking a week and trip almost every week. We have won nearly every meet we have attended, but one, the one at Winters. We came in third in this particular meet, but we hope this is the lowest place we take this year, which includes the State meet. I want to give our boys and their entries before I close.

Tyler Man In Texas Congress At-Large Race

WARREN G. MOORE

Tyler attorney Warren G. Moore, former United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Texas, is one of seven Democrats seeking the congressman-at-large post in the May and June primaries.

Moore, a man of sound thinking, mature judgment and dignity, is referred to by those who know him best as "durable, dependable and stable." He describes himself as a Warren G. Moore common sense Democrat.

Volunteering for military service the next day after Pearl Harbor, Moore was assigned to Naval Intelligence in the Navy. He was later commissioned, served ships and stations in Atlantic and Pacific Fleets, and went on inactive duty Oct. 25, 1945, as Lt. Commander.

Moore is a member of the Official Board of Marvin Methodist Church, veteran of Foreign Wars, and was State Commander of the American Legion in 1957-58.

The Tyler congressional candidate has been active in Boy Scout work for years, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the East Texas Area Council.

Union Center Club To Meet March 27th

The Union Center Club met on its regular date, which was Tuesday, March 13. Two quilts were quilted, one for Linney Knox, the other a pay quilt.

At noon Mildred Maples and Earline Burkhalter stopped long enough to fix lunch for everyone, which consisted of chili, chili dogs and coffee. Everyone had a lot of fun, though they all worked hard.

We would also like to invite anyone who would like to come out and be with us. We meet on every second and fourth Tuesday. The next meeting day will be Tuesday March 27.

The club donated $5.00 to the March of Dimes.

There were fifteen members present, as follows: Miss Vera McBeth, Mmes. Tommy Heairren, Mildred Maples, Nell Gage, Loree Crowell, Lela Ham, Ada Wright, Ellie Scott, Lois Parkerson, Daisy Perkins, Henry Reed, Linney Knox, Josie Trantham, Tressie Vandivere and Earline Burkhalter. No Premises To Be Quarantined In Screwworm Plan

Austin — Individual premises on which screwworms are found will not be quarantined, advises Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission in Austin.

State and federal animal health authorities must have reports on all suspected screwworm infections to conduct the eradication program properly. Livestock owners who make such reports will get the earliest and most thorough relief, Dr. Garrett said.

A screwworm transport patrol line has been established by the Commission across Texas from Del Rio generally east to Columbus and south through El Campo and Bay City to the Gulf of Mexico. This action was taken to contain known infestations in the southern part of the State, where their presence has been confirmed, and to prevent their transportation by truck or rail to the free area north and east of the patrol line.

Dr. Garrett requests that all animal handlers be especially watchful for animal wounds. He suggests that, where possible, such wounds be treated immediately with screwworm remedies and fly repellents so they will not become infested.

If worms are found in animal wounds, their identity should be established as quickly as possible, Dr. Garrett said. Free mailing kits may be obtained from county agricultural agents, livestock inspectors and other. Samples of the worms found will go to Screwworm Identification, ADE-USDA, Box 969, Mission, Texas. Identity of the worms will be made known to the owner immediately.

Mrs. Beuna Gracey returned to her home Friday from an extended visit with her daughter at Arlington.
