RISING STAR, EASTLAND COUNTY TEXAS THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1963

VOLUME 73, NO. 21

Through The Editor's Specs

By BAB

This is Livestock Show week at Eastland and reports from the county capital say that the show will be bigger this year than ever. Emphasis is on the exhibits of 4-H and FFA stock—and some fine animals these kids do indeed produce—and the climax of the event will come on Saturday when the club boys and girls and the FFA members auction their show animals in the Eastland ring.

Rising Star through its Chamber of Commerce, has established an acknowledged reputation of supporting our young stock raisers in a better fashion than any other community in the county, and this year will be no exception, to judge from the preparations being made by a Chamber of Commerce committee.

Each year Rising Star business men have been liberal with their contributions which make it possible to pay the kids premium prices for their steers, sheep, and pigs, and you may be sure they will be given the opportunity to do so again this week when the committee goes calling.

"After all is said and done there is really only one" chief asset of our agricultural resources and it is livestock. Encouraging future citizens and livestock raisers to produce premium quality stock is a contribution to the stability and economic growth of our section.

You can have a part by helping with a few dollars.

Our apologies to Art Fisher. In case you don't know it, which is highly unlikely, Art is a candidate for the City Council in the forthcoming municipal election. The Record neglected to say so last week, a fact over which the editorial face is really red.

So just add Art's name to the list of those already published and you'll have the real story of the candidates.

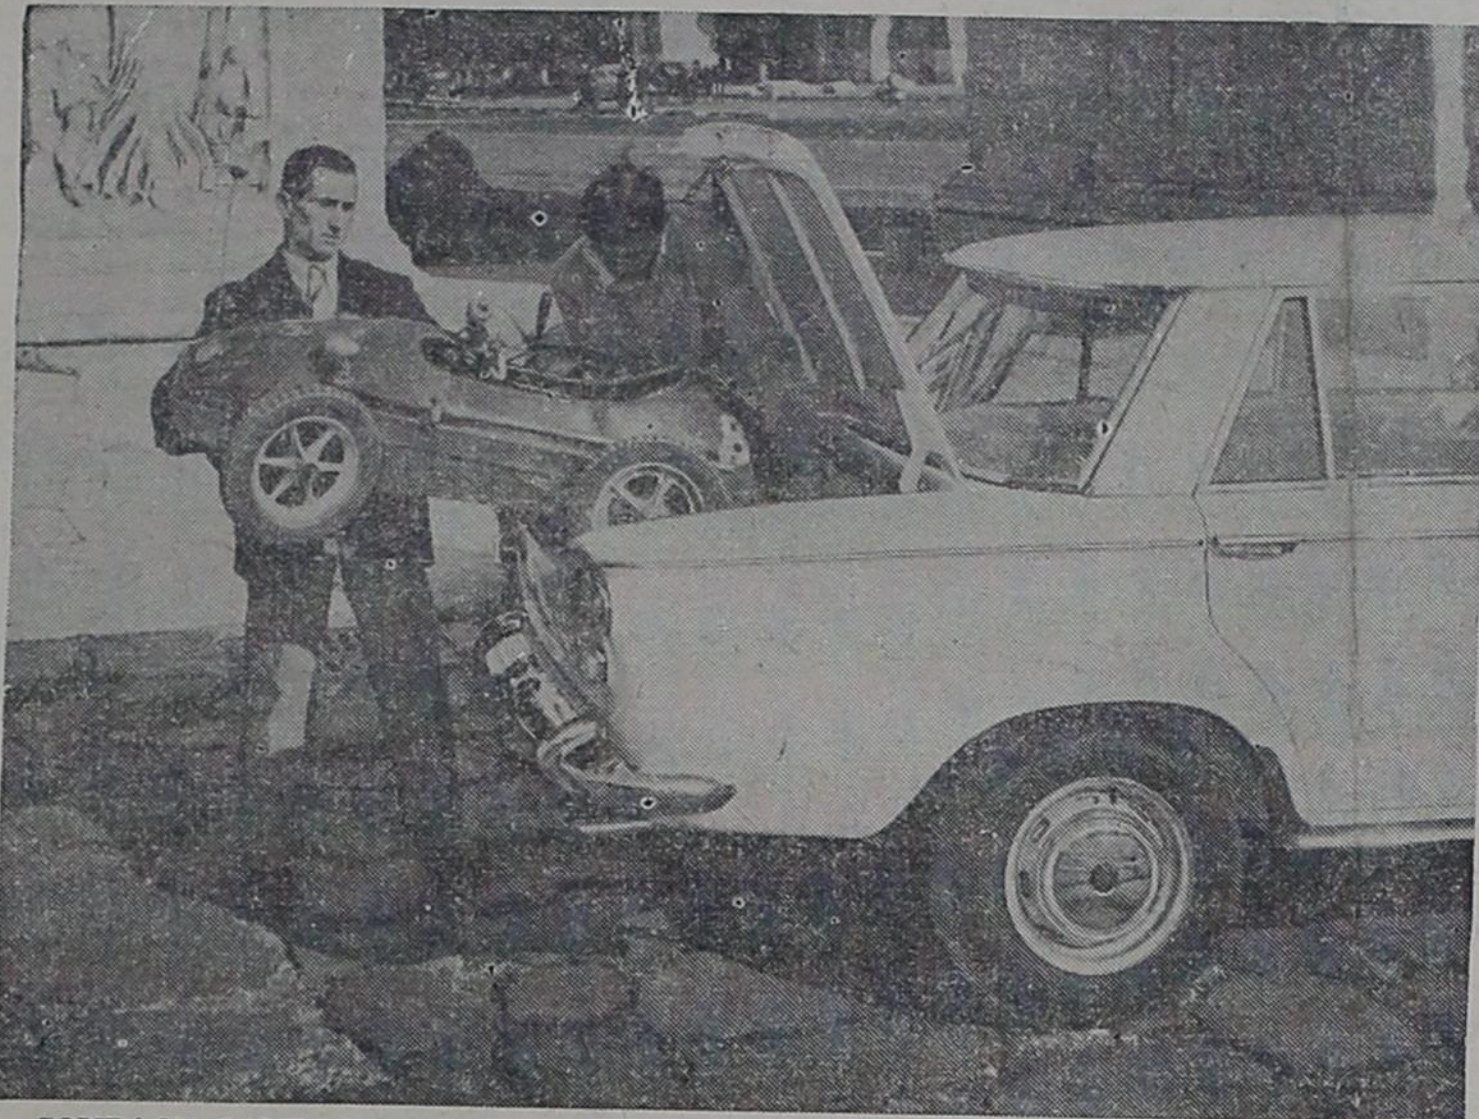

Now and then it does a person an organization or a community a lot of good to get honest and outspoken with itself. Something of that sort happened at the Lions Club meeting Monday night. For some time the club has been dragging along, meeting to eat, apologizing to itself for failure to adopt a project or develop any program interest. Certain of the members got a tankful of the inaction and Monday night the group, in a manner of speaking, locked itself in a room, threw the key away and got downright honest with its membership.

"Are we or are we not" demanded some of the members. "If not, let's quit." John Lee, secretary, was one of the most outspoken on the issue and he put it up to the club with a motion to surrender its charter. It was a move that provoked a lot of discussion and soul searching. The upshot of the matter was that the club got humble with itself, agreed to do better and left the room determined to undertake a really challenging role in the community life.

If you start reading about a swimming pool for the kids of the community in the Record, you can put it down to the inspiration of that frank moment of self-confession and penitence.

The City of Abilene and the City of Rising Star have signed a Mutual Assistance Contract. It is one of those documents inspired by the Civil Defense program and, I do not doubt, by the fact that Abilene—in the bull's eye of an enemy nuclear target—sees the necessity of providing for the eventuality of a rocket attack. Under the terms of the contract, which is more or less a gentlemen's agreement, each of the communities will give such assistance to the other as may be needed and possible in event of an emergency or even a municipal difficulty of sorts beyond the capacity of one com-

Historical Survey Committee Studies Financial Plans

The Eastland County Historical Survey Committee met at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon, February 22, in the Commissioner's Court room, in Eastland, for the purpose of discussing further organizational needs and planning future activities toward getting a permanent Society set up in the county.

Mrs. Bernice McCrea, Cisco, chairman of the committee, had letters from George Hill, executive director; and Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, president of the Texas State Historical Committee, and Jeff Hancock, research assistant from Austin, containing suggested methods of getting the county program of work set up.

Various ways and means were discussed that would help raise operational funds. Suggested were Founder's Memberships, charter memberships, an Essay Contest or Poster Contest or both, to focus public interest on the projects determined at a previous meeting.

Mrs. Lee White, committee secretary, displayed a booklet from the Loan Library in Austin on "Organizing a Local Historical Society" which was given some consideration of the committee members present.

Robert Bell, Cisco, and Mrs. George Blackwell, Gorman, were the other appointed members present. Several visitors from out of town attended.

Committee Will Study Auditorium Facilities

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Elite Cafe Tuesday noon, President James Rutherford named a group of CoC members to accompany members of the school board on visits of inspection to various school plants in the area where auditoriums suitable for various school and municipal gatherings exist.

Purpose of the inspections is to gather information from which it may be possible to plan suitable facilities for Rising Star which now lacks any adequate general public meeting place.

President James Wolf, S. C. Cotton, Mutt Carroll and Robert Butler of the school board were present at the meeting at the Elite Cafe.

It was brought out in the discussion that the city could legally join the schools in jointly providing such a facility. Named on the committee were John Pruet, H. McDonald, and George Steel to serve with Mr. Rutherford.

The group also heard an interesting report from Mr. Pruet, Sec'y. A. D. Jenkins and Elgin Crisp on the WTCC industrial conference held at Brownwood recently.

There was also a discussion of the Eastland County Stock Show and then a committee, consisting of Cecil Shults, Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Steel named at a previous meeting to solicit advertising in the Show catalogue was continued as a committee to solicit merchant contributions toward helping purchase local FFA and 4-H club livestock.

DOING WELL

Regards to all their friends in Rising Star were sent by Rev. and Mrs. D. L. Barnes in a letter this week to Mrs. Mabel Ellis. The former Rising Star Methodist minister, now retired, will return to Houston for a physical check-up March 25, he said. He is doing well. A granddaughter of the Barnes, Miss Marilyn Kay Vandiveer, was chosen as Miss Abilene for 1963.

Livestock Show Entries Set Record This Week

The 1963 version of Eastland County Livestock Show will get underway next Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16, with the largest number of animals ever entered, Ross Wilson, Gorman, President of the Livestock Association, sponsors of the affair, said today.

All animals must be in their places by 10:00 p.m. Thursday, March 14. This is a change for arrival time from previous shows and occasioned by the 650 or more animals expected at the two day affair. Climax of the show will come

James Rutherford, CoC president and chairman; A. D. Jenkins, Jay Koonce, H. McDonald and B. A. Butler. Butler is chairman of the Rising Star Housing Authority.

At the same time the Council named a code and citizens advisory group to deal with utility and zoning problems, and consisting of U. Z. Aaron, Carl Smith, John Pruet and Harry Frye. An inspector of utility installations, required under codes adopted by the Council, will be drawn from the latter group.

Dixon Boggs Home After Heart Surgery

Dixon Boggs has returned to his home in Rising Star after very successful heart surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston. Mr. Boggs is allowed only a very limited amount of company at present. He continues to be very nervous from his ordeal, but is improving gradually and hopes to return to his business management in time.

He underwent one of the miracles of modern surgery by which a faulty heart valve was removed and replaced with a mechanical valve which operates perfectly. During the operation his heart action was taken over by a mechanical heart. When circulation responsibility was restored to the repaired organ it functioned immediately and perfectly, Mrs. Boggs told the Record.

Such operations, while marvelous, are being done every day at the hospital, she said.

Drivers Must Meet Provisions Of State Safety Law

AUSTIN.—Drivers of publicly-owned vehicles were cautioned today by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, that they must comply with the provisions of the state safety responsibility law.

Garrison said this was confirmed when a ruling by the Waco Court of Civil Appeals became final early this month. The ruling, in a case involving a municipal employee, held that failure to comply with the responsibility law subjected the driver to having his driver's license suspended and denied his claim that he should be permitted to continue driving a publicly-owned vehicle.

"Under this court decision," said Garrison, "the Department of Public Safety will be required to act against all drivers who have accidents if they cannot comply with the provisions of the safety responsibility law, regardless of the ownership of the vehicle."

The Public Safety Director explained that the law requires everyone involved in an accident to show his ability to pay for damages caused to others. This can be done, he said, by depositing with the department cash in the amount of the damages; by holding a liability insurance policy; or by obtaining written releases from all persons damaged in the accident.

Garrison noted that the penalty for failure to comply with the safety responsibility law in such cases is suspension of the driver's license.

visory group to deal with utility and zoning problems, and consisting of U. Z. Aaron, Carl Smith, John Pruet and Harry Frye. An inspector of utility installations, required under codes adopted by the Council, will be drawn from the latter group.

The Council also adopted a Workable Program for Community Development—a program within which the planning group named above, will function—and heard a review of the progress made under a previous such program adopted in connection with the low-rent housing development allocated the community by the Federal FHA administration.

The 12 units constructed under that program, are located on North Main street and are fully occupied, with a qualified waiting list.

The Housing Authority, which owns and operates the units, has applied for additional units to be devoted to occupancy by elderly citizens, and Butler announced that eight new units had tentatively been approved but were being withheld pending approval by the City of a new workable program, which has been done.

Band Banquet Date Changed To March 29

Date for the Band banquet honoring members of the High School Wildcat Band was changed from Friday, March 22, to Friday, March 29, at the meeting of the Band Parents Ass'n at the band hall Monday night. The change was made to avoid conflict with a track meet.

The banquet will be held at the school cafeteria and local talent will be presented in entertainment. B. A. Butler will be the speaker.

The dinner begins at 7 o'clock and members of the Band Parents Ass'n will serve the meal.

S. C. Cotton presided at Monday night's meeting in the absence of the president. The treasurer reported a balance of $259.05 in the association fund. During the past month the association purchased a heater for the band hall, repaired windows and did other improvements.

Roping Club To Meet For Election March 25

Members of the Rising Star Roping Club were urged to attend a meeting of the club called for Monday, March 25, at the American Legion Hall, to elect officers and directors for a new year.

President A. D. Jenkins stressed the urgency of the meeting. "I hope all members attend," he said.

Sipe Springs Slates Community Night

Sipe Springs community will have its Community Night program at the community house on March 21, the regular date for the event. There will be music for entertainment and refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

It's the Law in Texas

NO WILL? WHO INHERITS

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Who will inherit your wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it — but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

Canning, Freezing Workshop Planned For March 29th

The North Star Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting on March 5 with 17 members and two visitors present. The roll call was answered with "A Costume Accessory Worn Wrongly."

The program was presented by the program leaders on "Selecting a Street Dress."

A canning and freezing workshop will be held on March 29 and each of those attending was asked to bring a covered dish for a luncheon to be served at noon.

Useful articles of all kinds are being collected for the Travis State School at Austin, and these will be sent the first week in April.

The quarterly gift exchange was held. Mrs. Coursey won the door prize. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tom Childers and Mrs. J. W. Morris.

Missions Topic Is YWA Group Study

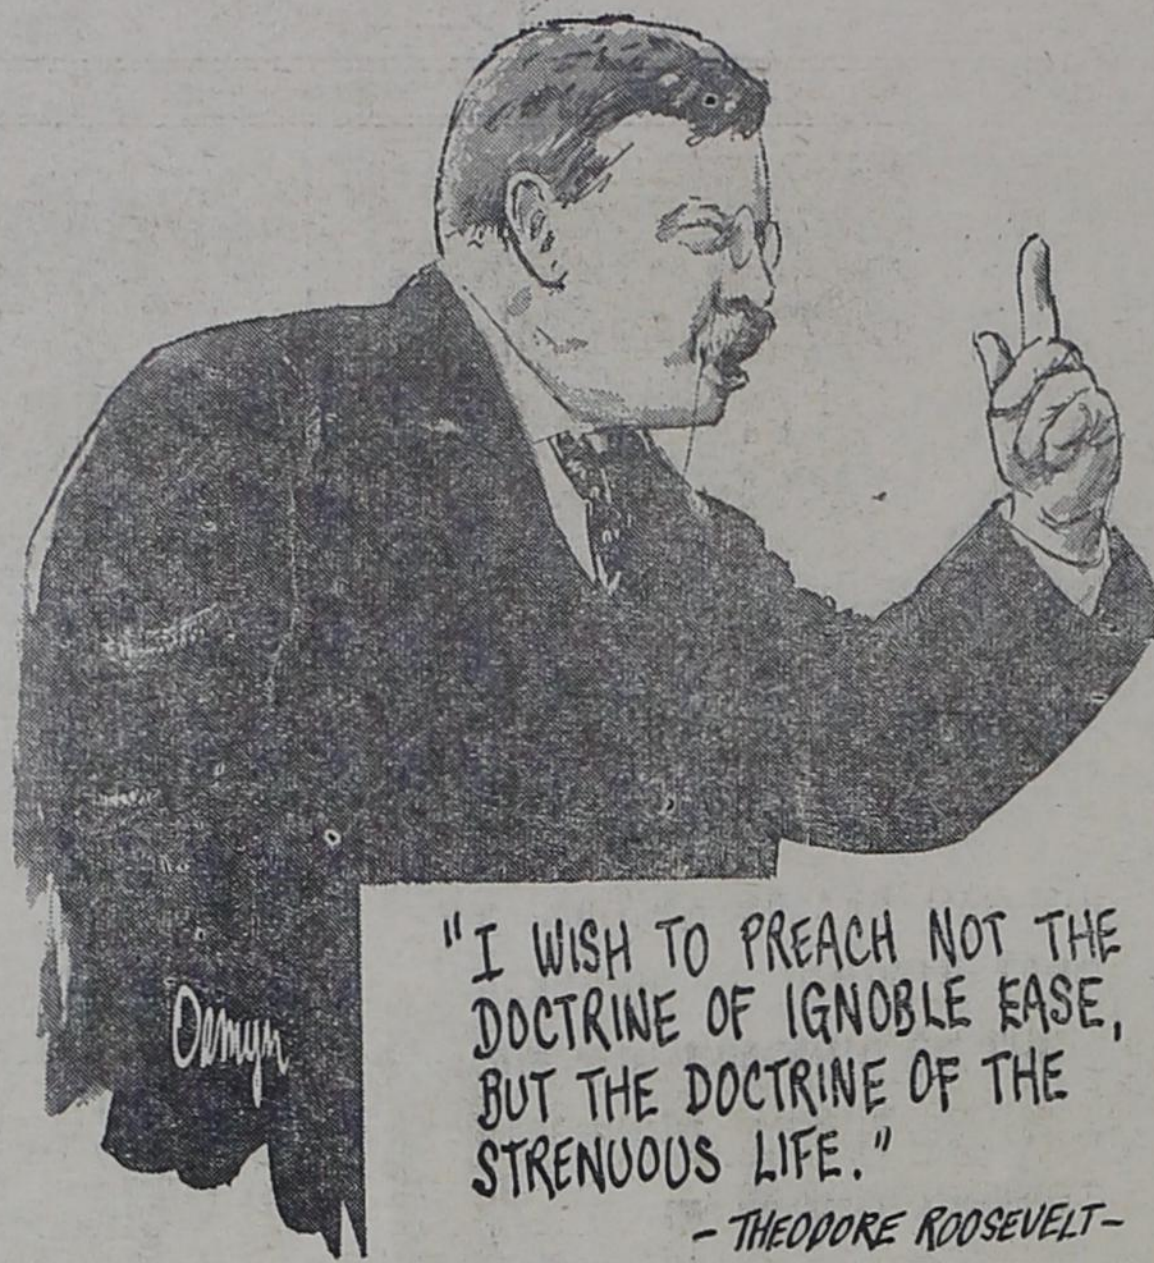

The YWA of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Ira Hudler, sponsor, March 9. Maria Geyer read the prayer calendar and Louise Fraley led in prayer. Maria opened the program by playing softly on the piano, "Speak to My Heart," after which Cynthia and Maria read the material for meditation on home missions, "If My People Pray." Carol read Chron. II: 7:14, and Mrs. Hudler continued the program with a discussion of "Strangers in Our Land," concerning exchange students in the United States. Mrs. Hudler led a prayer and after the program served refreshments. The group expressed regret and best wishes to Ollie Winfrey who has married and will leave Rising Star.

HIGGINBOTHAM'S

Last Saturday I spent the day in Gorman attending the Gorman 4-H Fair—and what a day it was. The fair was most successful—thanks to the Adult Leaders. The boys spent the morning grooming their animals for the show to be held during the afternoon. At 2:00 they each showed their animals and were interviewed by the Ass't. County Agent.

There was also a candy contest for the 4-Hers to enter, and the judging was held during the morning, and the awards were given during the afternoon.

Each 4-H member prepared a poster with his or her picture and projects on the poster, and these posters were arranged around the walls of the Fire Hall where the fair was held. The girls had their sewing projects displayed with their posters, along with other achievements in 4-H.

This fair in Gorman served as a "kickoff" for National 4-H

Week which is March 2 through March 9.

Other clubs throughout the county have done other projects for National 4-H Club Week. Several of the clubs prepared window displays showing their projects in 4-H. If you haven't already seen these window displays, take time and go down town and find the display prepared by your local 4-H club and see what the 4-Hers in your locality are doing.

The District THDA Meeting will be held this month—the 12-13—in Waco. Three delegates from each county in District 8 will journey to Waco to attend this meeting. Mrs. Clint McCain of Flatwood, Mrs. C. E. Altom of Cisco, THDA County Chairman, and Mrs. Herman Schaefer of Nimrod, County H.D. Council Chairman will attend the meeting as the delegates from Eastland County. Mrs. Lee White of Rising Star will also attend the meeting with us and will serve as Messenger Chairman for the district. We are all looking forward to a wonderful meeting and to our stay in the Raleigh Hotel, where the meeting will be held.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th

WASHINGTON, D.C. — My Fellow Texan and Colleague in the Congress, Walter Rogers, representing the Panhandle District, recently came up with some interesting statistics.

He says that the United States could liquidate its more than $300 billion debt by selling the real and personal property which it owns. He points out that some real bargains could be had if sold at the value now carried on the books. For instance, the 8 acres of land surrounding the White House is valued at $1,000. The actual value, of course, is multiplied millions. No one is advocating a sale.

The Government's Total Real Estate Holdings of 772 million acres of land is an area four and one-half times the size of the State of Texas. The whole kit and caboodle is valued at $86 billion, an amount many times below its actual value. The value of all the Government buildings in Washington alone would come to an astronomical figure. Of course, no one can imagine any other use for them than that to which they are now dedicated. The Capital itself would hold a lot of hay, but would have a poor market for its product. Some think it has a rather poor market for some of its present production.)

It is often said that if Private Enterprise ran its business as does the Government, it would not be in business long and, of course, it is true. Another side of this question was presented a few days ago by the Director of the Bureau. He pointed out that if the Federal Government kept its books like business and like most other nations, the new Budget proposed by the President would be in balance, even allowing for the large tax cuts the Administration has proposed. Unlike business firms, he pointed out, the Federal Government counts all funds expended as "operating expenses." This includes loans and investments in such things as land and buildings. Business firms count such outlays as "capital investment" and not as operating expenses.

There is Still Another Side to the question and, in fact, there may be several more sides. For the present, however, consider the fact that the Federal Government has obligations not included in the Public Debt and not carried as an asset, but rather as a liability. This comes about by reason of the so-called practice during the war years and not yet discontinued, known as "backdoor spending." Back door spending simply means that Congress has permitted obligations to be incurred by the Federal Government without a direct appropriation to pay for them. In other words, certain loaning institutions particularly, simply draw on the Treasury for their operations. If all these obligations for future years were added, even though repayment is expected, the present $300 billion Public Debt would be considerably more.

So, It Depends Somewhat on Who is using the pencil and who is applying the theory as to what our over-all fiscal situation actually is. Regardless of how we may view the situation, it would seem well for all of us to keep in mind what Thomas Jefferson had to say about Government expenses. Jefferson preached a pretty good fiscal sermon in this one sentence: "I am for a government that is rigorously frugal and simple, and not for one that multiplies offices to make partisans, that is, to get votes and by every device increases the public debt under the guise of being a public benefit."

Protestants Will Seek $16,846,140 For Overseas Aid

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Protestant denominations have set a goal of $16,846,140 this year in their annual One Great Hour of Sharing appeal for relief and rehabilitation work, it was announced today.

This sum is an increase of $1,595,229 over 1962. One great Hour of Sharing is sponsored by the participating Protestant and Orthodox denominations and is conducted on their behalf by Church World Service, a department of the National Council of Churches.

The total fund sought through the One Great Hour of Sharing appeal will go toward support of individual denomination programs of assistance, joint projects of aid carried out overseas through Church World Service and the World Council of Churches, and programs of related interdenominational organizations.

More than 94,000 church congregations throughout the nation will participate during special services to be held on Sunday, March 24, in most instances. The 1963 appeal will be the fifteenth annual drive to raise funds for overseas relief.

Forms of assistance made possible through the Protestant united appeal cover a broad range of emergency help during disasters as well as long-term projects of aid to millions of peoples. Through the work of the denominations, a highly geared apparatus is ready to swing into action on short notice. Recent examples were the shipments by Church World Service on giant cargo planes of 46,000 blankets to victims of the Algerian civil strife as a bitter winter swept down into the Bata and Constantine areas from the mountain regions.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ray Wolf spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. Otis Wolf. Thomas Ray lives in Midland.

Mrs. Otis Bowers of Abilene accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Rising Star visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhymes and daughter, Beth, in Gorman Sunday, March 10.

"ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY"

Though many courses students take in high school and college are elective, there are some which are required, among these are American History and Civics. To many students, these are dull and uninteresting. They can not see why we must learn why our government functions the way it does; they do not see any need in learning about how our forefathers fought for and won all the many liberties which we enjoy today. When these were placed in our Constitution; however, they were not meant to be left unobserved. They are to be studied so that they may be protected. We can not sit and expect the enemies of our basic rights to leave them alone. We must guard them against aggression and fight to keep them for future generations, just as they were kept for us. It is our duty and obligation not to tamper with their security by ignorance of their true meanings, purposes, and even the liberties themselves. We must be eternally watchful in order to keep them; thus, our civics and history courses are important. If you now realize the importance of these classes, but still they seem uninteresting, there is but one answer. That is to put more into the lesson; you are sure to get more out.—It may be your true understanding of the quote: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

"NOT FINISHED—JUST BEGUN"

Hi!
 Again Kay can't be with you so this is Cynthia filling in. I think Kay is one of the busiest girls on the campus, and this was especially true last week when she was helping Mrs. C. make Career Day the great success it was.

Monday of this week the American History themes became due to the distress of a great many Seniors; in class we are studying about reform movements in the history of the United States.

The Civics class is getting well under way in a new unit, "Political Rights and Practice." Many of us are also thinking in more serious terms about our term themes, rue later this month.

The Typing group is pecking out weekly units; while Book-keeping students are starting on their third project. In English we are continuing the study of complex sentences and clauses. Chemistry students are grouping elements into families about this time.

Sports-wise — our boys have a track meet coming up at Stephenville, and the volleyball and tennis teams are having match games with other schools.

Carol, don't you think we might be interested in what that string of letters means at the end of each letter you get from J.?

That's all for this week. Don't miss our latest edition of "With the Seniors." Maybe next week Miss Lewis, alias Kay Baby, will be able to be with you.

UPWARD AND ONWARD

Most of us have track on our minds right now, since we are going to Stephenville this weekend. Surely do wish the boys good luck, and well be there backing you!
 I must also remind everyone that even though St. Patrick is celebrating his birthday on Sunday, you will have to wear green or suffer the consequences.

The junior play is coming along just great except for the fact that we don't know our lines very well.

Civics and American History term themes are now in and we aren't faced with them any more. Thank Goodness! Now we chemistry students can look up and see our term theme in there staring us in the face.

We have two famous men celebrating birthdays this week, Grover Cleveland and Andrew Jackson. I'm sure that little bit of information brightened your day considerably.

J. R. you'd better donate your body to science if you are in need of what J. L. offered you at play practice. L. B. and D. C. why are you two so interested in the activities of Cross Plains and Albany?

W. V. we're starting a fund in your name to buy you a lifetime supply of No-doze pills!
 Harriet

"KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

All of us are working harder this week after the great amount of inspiration we received from Career Day. This day seems to be the highlight of every year; it is certainly worth the time and effort exerted on it. We Sophomores want to again thank everyone who had a part in this inspiring and educational day.

We are busy working on term research papers for our science and biology class and on book reports. Of course, there is also daily work to keep up with; we somehow manage to keep busy.

The track boys are participating in track meets in surrounding towns preparing for the more important competition later on. The tennis boys and girls had a match with Olden last week; they showed good playing and serving throughout the games. The volleyball girls are in full swing now having played a few matched games last week.

The ag boys are learning to stock according to their teeth. They seem to want to do some practice on the rest of us "poor souls." They are preparing for the area judging contests. The homemaking girls are still preparing meals, which we thoroughly enjoyed. Our F.H.A. club wishes to congratulate Sharon Donham on her high achievements at the Area IV F.H.A. meeting last week; we need more workers like Sharon in our club.

It must be tiresome for you to read the same statement again this week, but maybe it will stick with you. Don't forget our plays to be given next Thursday; please plan to attend.
 Charlene

LIVE AND LEARN

Hi! All the freshmen class has been hearing and getting are themes and more themes. This week we have been working like crazy to finish the material issued to us by the Extension Loan Library in Austin for our Biology themes; now, in a few weeks our English term themes will be due.

This week we are studying a number of things. In biology we are receiving plant phylums from Mr. Gray; algebra students are working with fractions containing unknowns. In English I we are working on our themes and with verbs; driver's ed. students are driving. The Ag I boys are getting ready to show their livestock; while the Homemaking I girls are still working on their dresses, and you can now see some progress.

Linda, I heard last week that you had goofed at the red light!

Sharrie, why haven't I heard any more about you and your pink lipstick or have you decided to behave yourself?

Mike, we surely do like your car; blue, isn't it?

I want to wish all of the track boys the best of luck Saturday at the meet, especially to one, in particular!

Until next week—
 Marcia

WITH THE SENIORS

Sandra Mae Clark was born at Brownwood, Texas, on November 14, 1944, to Mr. and Mrs. Elick H. Clark.

Sandra is uncertain as to how long she has attended school at Rising Star; but while in high school, she has participated in many activities. Sandra has been a member of F.H.A. and served as Sgt.-at-Arms for the club; she has been both librarian and assistant-librarian.

Sandra's favorite color is lilac; fried chicken and cherry cream pie top the list as favorite foods. Nick Adams and Brenda Lee are favorite actor and actress; while "The Virginian" and "Bonanza" provide her with her favorite viewing. "Ruby Ann" and "Rhythm of the Rain" are her favorite songs.

Sandra's favorite hobbies include listening to the radio, playing Brian Hyland's and Elvis Presley's records, attending basketball games, reading, and cooking.

After graduation this spring, Sandra plans to attend a business school in either Ft. Worth or Abilene.

"Toward New Horizons"

Tarleton State College was the sight for the F.H.A. Area IV meeting this year. Approximately 1,000 students, sponsors, and teachers representing 100 chapters from 23 Texas counties attended the meeting.

The theme of the meeting was "Launching a Successful Life." The girls from our chapter especially enjoyed a talk "The World of Today" by Miss Helen Poe of Dallas, lecturer and world traveler.

About 40 girls submitted their state degrees to be judged by the State Committee. One of chapter vice-president, who was these was Sharon Donham, our also elected Area IV Third Vice-President for the on-coming year; this means Kansac-Bound in July.

Julie Watkins was also selected with ten others, who will sing in the F.H.A. State Chair at the State Meeting in Dallas, April 19-20. We are very proud of both Sharon and Julie for the excellent work they have done in F.H.A.

Our Chapter would especially like to thank Mrs. Helen Donham and Mrs. John Lee for taking us to the meeting.

Three girls from our chapter — Charlene Vermillion, Judy Lewis, and Sandra Teague—served as ushers for the Friday night business conference. Harriet Schmitt was voting delegate from our chapter.

Signing off,
 Becky

GIRLS SPORTS

The volleyball girls had their first practice game at Olden, Texas, Wednesday afternoon of last week. There were four games with Olden winning two and Rising Star winning two. Although this was the girls first game of any sort for the season, very fine game; and we are we think that they all played a looking forward to the real challenging games which are ahead. The girls who attended the game at Olden were as follows —Cherry Maples, Loretta Pittman, Virginia Caak, Ginger Bishop, Anna Ezzell, Sharon Stewart, Sandra Teague, Sandra White, Vondell Atwaad, Mary Alford, and Charlene Vermillion. All of these girls played in the game, and I am sure that they put all they had into it.

Olden will play their return game here at the Rising Star game tonight at 5:00 o'clock. Everybody be sure to come.

I think we should mention that this group of girls have worked very hard to start the season off right and the least we could do to show them that we are behind them all the way is to try to see their games and see for yourself how hard these girls are working.

By the way, it seems as if Anna, Sharon, Sandra, Cherry, and Loretta like to ride with certain people in order to get cokes; right, girls?

We also wonder why that cook was looking at Cherry the way that she was? You weren't making any faces were you, Cherry?

Until next week,
 Linda B.

They went to Singapore, from there to Bangkok, capital of Thailand, spending a few days in several cities, and then to Hong Kong, and from there to Adelaide, Australia, arriving there the day before Queen Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Phillip of England, arrived.

They were in the huge crowd which met and welcomed the Queen and attended, on invitation, a big garden reception for her.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Winfrey have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ollie, to Coy Edmiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edmiston. Both families have lived in the Rising Star area for many years.

The marriage was solemnized March 9, at 7 p.m. at the home of the bride, which was decorated in yellow and white, in keeping with the bride's chosen colors.

The bride chose a white wool sheath dress and carried a white Bible. Her corsage was yellow iris.
