COMMENT HEARD ON THE STREETS OF RISING STAR ONE DAY LAST WEEK

A man drove up in front of a store in Rising Star one afternoon last week and said he came on business and did not have long to stay. He completed his shopping in a few minutes and went to his car to drive back home. Lo and behold said he, when I tried to back out from the sidewalk there was a car parked behind me. So all I could do was to get out of my car and go and look for the fellow that had parked his car the wrong way. Sure did make me hot-I wanted to get back to my work. Parked my car according to common sense and custom. Yet, the other fellow had no regard for his neighbor, his city ordinance, and I might say himself.

It made me think I was in De Leon, he said, as you can drive over there anytime and a lot of the people would rather park in the middle of the street than to park in an orderly manner and some of them will get mad at you when asked to move the car as you cannot get out.

Now of course this man will get mad at me, he said and in all probability, park his car wherever he takes a notion to. Okay by me. Just thought it might help if all of us would be a bit more considerate of the other fellow during this particular time of the year. Amen and

The Thanksgiving season has come and gone again and we are made to wonder just how many of us were really and truly thankful for this great and grand heritage of ours. "America" made possible by our forefathers who made it possible that we have the home of the brave and the land of the free. We are indeed thankful to Him who our thanks is due. The true and living God. Mrs. Claud Clardy is quite ill in Medical Arts Hospital in Brownwood. Reports from her bedside are that she is resting better and we do hope she can soo be well.

Little Helen McBride, daughter of Frank McBride, was able to be in Sunday School after a week's illness with the flu. Helen rendered a special song for the worship service Sunday night in Calvary Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chamber attended, services at Calvary church Sunday morning. Visitors are always welcome there. Mrs. Will Nichols, mother, Mrs. Montague, is resting in Memorial Hospital, Brownwood after an attack of intestinal flu. She hopes to be home soon. "The coffee's terrible but it's the only restaurant in town"

Muddy coffee. Soggy toast. Indigestible food. Bad luck for the hungry salesman who stops in that town for a bite to eat. The missing ingredient is "competition."

Funny how that word has a way of stirring up activity.

People who manufacture things, for example, prickle all over when they think about competition. They sit up evenings fretting about it, and spend millions to improve their products. The result, of course, is high quality at lowest possible cost. And the winner of a contest like that has to be the public.

People are tempted sometimes to wonder what life would be like without competition. For a clue, they might note the shabby fall in living standards in countries where clumsy fingers of state monopoly have strangled competition

Over 3,000 manufacturing firms in America share in the electrical business. We can name offhand 20 sizable firms that compete at giving the public better refrigerators. There are more than 200 rivals in the making of electric motors. At least 37 in electric irons; 53 in home freezers; 25 turn out vacuum cleaners. And so on down the list.

Some companies competing with General Electric today actually sprang up from the seeds of General Electric research. New products have invited new companies. In certain cases, whole new industries. And more will come.

by Let us think about 1. THE CO HRISTIAN AND HIS GOV. ERNMENT (Rom. 13:1-7) The words "HIGHER POWERS" do the disobedient. It should never not refer to spiritual or supernatural government. It is quite certain that Paul had the Roman wrote these words, and that was TRY. Our first great obligation far from ideal, especially from the Christian standpoint. We believe the teaching given here applies to any government at any time during the PRESENT AGE. The form does not matter. may be a monarchy, republic, or democracy, or any other form. Our duty remains the same.

But first of all, we are reminded that all human governments God. It is sometimes hard for have their origin by the will of us to see this when we notice, that established governments are often unjust and work many hardships on the people under their control. There have been tyrants and despots who ruled over others entirely for their selfish interests, but in the mind of God rulers were intended to be terror only to evildoers. If it were not for the power of human government evil would be far more prominent than it is in the world. At the same time government is appointed of God for the maintenance of that which is good.
