Water Spreading System New Soil Practice Here

BY CALVIN FREEMAN
A&M Student Ag Teacher

Adrian Jenkins, local insurance and real estate agent, and cooperater with the Soil Conservation District, is working with the local Soil Conservation Service unit in establishing a water spreading system on his farm one mile east of Rising Star. The water spreading system will be a new practice in this area, and one which the local SCS personnel believes will lead to establishment on many other farms in the community.

Mr. Jenkins plans to establish Coastal Bermuda grass on his 25-acre water spreading system. Raymond Wade, Soil Conservationist, estimates that this Coastal Bermuda field will support as many as four animal units per acre after the first year's growth.

When asked why he decided on a water spreading system, Mr. Jenkins said: "I believe we should take advantage of our assets; the water was running off my field and I wanted to keep it on, so I called on the Soil Conservation Service for advice."

Field requirements for the water spreading are similar to regular irrigation requirements. The only special equipment needed is a 2-way plow for border construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hughes have moved into the Harley Noy home in order to be nearer their care which they own and operate. They have two boys, ages 8 and 9, who are in school.

A squad of 24 boys, some of them veterans from last year's team, reported to Coach Weldon Hill last week as the Wildcats began practice for defense of the district track and field title which they have won for the past four years.

The team will be especially strong in track events again this season. Its performance in these events have been responsible for their district wins.

His junior track and field team will include Jodie Edmiston, if he does not compete in the senior division; Kenneth Nunnally, Mack Harris, Kenneth Pittman, and Ted Cawley.

Williams Meet to Consider Flood Prevention Plan

Farmers and ranchers in the Hog Creek and Red River watersheds of Brown County will meet at Williams on March 31 to decide on developing a Flood Prevention Work Plan for their streams.

H. L. Jones, president of the Williams Rural Neighborhood Progress Club will call the meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Williams school gym.

"We feel that these streams can justify some construction under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Upstream Program for Flood Prevention in the Middle Colorado River Watershed. The purpose of the meeting will be to determine whether the people owning property in these watersheds are interested in the program," Jones announced.

The administration of the USDA Flood Prevention Program has been delegated to the Soil Conservation Service. The Brown Mills Soil Conservation District directs the work of the service within the district and must sponsor requests for flood prevention work plans coming from the district's watersheds.

Both Hog Creek and Red River watersheds drain water into Pecan Bayou above Lake Brownwood.

May Exchange Now Cut Into RS for Direct Dialing

One hundred and thirty or more subscribers were being added to the direct dialing area of the Kizer Telephone Company's Rising Star exchange with the May area this week.

The May exchange, purchased from the Southwestern States Telephone Company late in 1958, was completely rebuilt with new automatic equipment and an exchange building.

Some adjustments were being made to the extended area service equipment — through which May and Rising Star customers may inter-dial — and some further adjustments may be necessary before the system is working as smoothly as necessary, company officials said. "While there may be some temporary interruptions of extended area service we anticipate no major difficulties and expected to have all minor difficulties ironed out as rapidly as adjustments can be made and new equipment received."

Dialing between telephones of the May exchange was proceeding without difficulty.

In order to dial between Rising Star and May the subscriber must dial the entire directory number, as is the case with inter-dialing between Rising Star and Cross Plains.

Additional applicants for telephones were coming into the Kizer office more rapidly than they could be serviced, the company said, "but we expect to catch up with all new installations as rapidly as possible."

The new building housing the automatic equipment at May was built by Rutherford and Sreel Co. of Rising Star under sub-contract with the Mid-States Construction Co., of Dallas, general contractor.

Rising Star subscribers will receive their copies of the May directory with their bills at the end of the present month, E. O. Kizer, company president, said. The directory will be printed on gummed sheets to be moistened and pasted into the old directory.

Addition of the May Exchange to the Kizer system places more than 1,500 telephones with direct dialing access of Rising Star subscribers.

There were 298 telephones in the Cross Plains and Rising Star systems when Kizer purchased the company in 1950.

Burleson Cites Record in Bid For Re-Election

On January 11, 1960 application was formally filed by Congressman Omar Burleson for his name to appear on the ballot for the Democratic Primary Election on May 7.

"My bid for re-election to the Congress of the United States is, of course, based on my record of service," Burleson states. "I make no claim of perfection. Doubtless, mistakes have been made, as is the case in all human endeavors, but two guiding principles have been constantly followed: First, to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in my actions in Congress. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect my constituency and our Nation."

Burleson was born and raised on a farm between Anson and Stamford in Jones County. He attended rural school, graduated from Anson High School, attended Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, and graduated from Cumberland Law School, following which he had postgraduate law at the University of Texas. He married Ruth DeWeese, daughter of Reverend R. D. DeWeese, who pastored Baptist churches in West and South Texas.

He served as County Attorney and County Judge of his home County of Jones. Later he became a Special Agent for the FBI. He served three years in the United States Navy in World War II, mostly in the Pacific Ocean Area. After the war he was elected to the 80th (Continued on Page 3.)

Apply Early for Social Security, Workers Advised

Retiring workers were advised to call on the Social Security Administration two or three months before the date of retirement by R. R. Turley, Jr., District Manager of the Abilene office. "Early application will enable us to attend to the necessary details and get that first monthly benefit check out on time," he said. "Claims for the retirement and family insurance payments require some action before they can be certified to the Treasury Department for payment," according to Turley. "By filing early, payment can usually be made when first due." An applicant should bring some evidence of age (not necessarily a birth certificate) and an earnings statement showing the amount of his wages in the last year. The self-employed person should furnish a copy of his latest income tax return.

No appointment is necessary to file a claim. The Abilene office of the Social Security Administration is located at 203 Fannin at N. 2nd. The office is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Residents of area towns who find it too inconvenient to come to the office in Abilene should consult the schedule at their local post office for date and place a representative will be in their vicinity.

Frank Gray New Consignee for Texaco In Rising Star, Cross Plains, May Area

Effective Tuesday of this week, Texaco, Inc., announced that Frank Gray, Rising Star, was its new consignee for the Rising Star, Cross Plains, May and Sipe Springs area.

Mr. Gray, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gray of this city and a graduate of Rising Star High School in 1951 — where he was a star athlete — resigned from the faculty of Cross Plains High School, where he had been teaching for two years, in order to assume his new duties.

He announced that Kenneth Murdock would drive the consignee trucks and that Mrs. Betsy Burns would be his bookwhere he received his degree in agriculture. He said that he would pay special attention to the needs of the farmers and ranchers of his consignee area, with whose problems he is well acquainted both by education and through experience as a farmer and teacher of agriculture.

"I invite the people of the area to call on us for any vice which we may be able to render in our line," said Mr. Gray. "We have the best nationally advertised petroleum products and we will be prompt officials."

Through the Editor's Specs

By BAB

It will soon be census taking time. Every ten years the federal government takes count of its citizens, at the same time gathering a great deal of other information of value to business, governmental districting, and in determining the number of representatives to which a state is entitled in congress, etc.

The census will give us an accurate picture of population trends along with a lot of other information. For the past 30 years, coincident with the high development of automobile transportation and the expansion and improvement of our highway system, there has been a steady drain of population from the rural areas to the cities. A lot of little towns have "withered on the vine," passing into the limbo of ghost towns.

Not all little towns have fared so, however. There seems to have been a more or less selective process of growth and decay. Some of the smaller towns, for various reasons, have strengthened their economies and have grown. The Texas League of Municipalities recently issued a statement in which it listed a great many small towns that have grown during the past decade, and said there was evidence of strengthening trend.

Generally speaking the smaller towns that have held their own or gained, have done so at the expense of nearby communities or they have benefited from the exploitation of a natural resource. A ed themselves by their own bootstraps, so to speak. They have made investments in local stores and services for which there was a real need in their localities — have related their services to the demands of their trade territories — and they have arrested the downward trend and prospered.

A town does not exist by some prior right of its own, but fundamentally because it offers a service to the area in which it lives. It may express its service in various ways, by the provision of good schools, churches, mercantile stores, warehousing, medical services, points of distribution, banking and so forth. But it must meet a real need and be truly competitive with other communities in providing for it.

Once a community adopts the idea that there is only so much to serve and share, and that it cannot attract any further response of volume from its trade area it is on the slide.

Highways lead into towns as well as out.

The county cannot pay a bounty on foxes killed, Comm'r Bob Carter told the Record Monday. The attorney-general has ruled that the fox is held to be a fur-bearing animal under present Texas laws and until it is declared a predatory animal no bounty can be paid.

New Law Will Affect Allotment Of Eastland Farms

The County Committee of the ASC office in Eastland announced this week that there is a new law governing the cotton and peanut history on allotment farms.

This new law is a complicated procedure and producers who do not plan to plant at least 75 per cent of the cotton or peanut allotment should contact the county office at once so that plans can be made to maintain the allotment history for the farm.

This is an entirely new procedure and demands the attention of every producer.

The committee also announced that it will again offer cotton pre-measurement service to cotton growers. Producers may make application for this service from Feb. 15 to March 15.

There is no pre-measurement service offered to peanut growers. However, as in the past, both cotton and peanut producers may come to the county office and get aid in making an estimate from the aerial photographs of the acreage to be planted.

The County office is now accepting released acreage on cotton and peanuts. If farmers do not intend to plant the allotment, they should go to the county office and discuss releasing the acreage. The allotment could be seriously affected in 1961 by not releasing the allotment in 1960. April 4 is the final date for releasing peanuts and April 8 is the final date for releasing cotton.

If a producer wishes additional acreage from the released acreage, applications may be made in the County office. This additional acreage is for one year only and does not count toward history acreage for the farm.

Peanut producers must file an application for additional acreage by April 4, and cotton producers must file by April 8.

Strip cropping is the same for 1960 that it was in 1959.

Normal speed meets every need.

of several insurance reform laws that brought about strict regulation that put many insolvent companies out of business. He was author of two bills that repealed several hundred old outdated laws that hampered the freedom and operation of local county government. Bradshaw has vigorously opposed restrictive regulatory laws promoted by special interest groups.

Some of the laws sponsored by Bradshaw are listed here for your consideration. Rebuilt fire-trap Deaf Mute school; relocated and rebuilt old Blind, Deaf and Orphan School for colored children; New training school at Gatesville to segregate young offenders from hardened juvenile repeaters; flood control and water improvement districts in Eastland, Denton, Jack, Palo Pinto, Wise and Parker Counties; resolution creating agency to handle surplus property for schools and school lunch program. Bradshaw has been active in supporting measures to enact animal health legislation that would benefit the farmer, dairyman, and rancher.

Floyd Bradshaw is opposed to Federal as well as State Centralization and interference in the operation of our schools, business and local affairs, and will continue to fight to maintain our freedom in such matters. He is well known as a quiet and effective leader in helping solve the major problems that come before the Legislature.

Your vote and support of Floyd Bradshaw, for State Senator, will be sincerely appreciated.

Visitors at the quilting were Mrs. Pearl Criswell, Mrs. Jo Ann Linney and Miss Joanna Allen. Next meeting date is March 22. All members are urged to be present.

Members present were Mmes. Walter Hill, Henry Scott, Arthur Wright, Roy Allen, Tom Perkins, Buck Maples, Aaron Gage, Ernest Vandivere, G. G. Crowell and B. H. Hearren. — Mrs. B. H. Hearren.

Vital Issues.

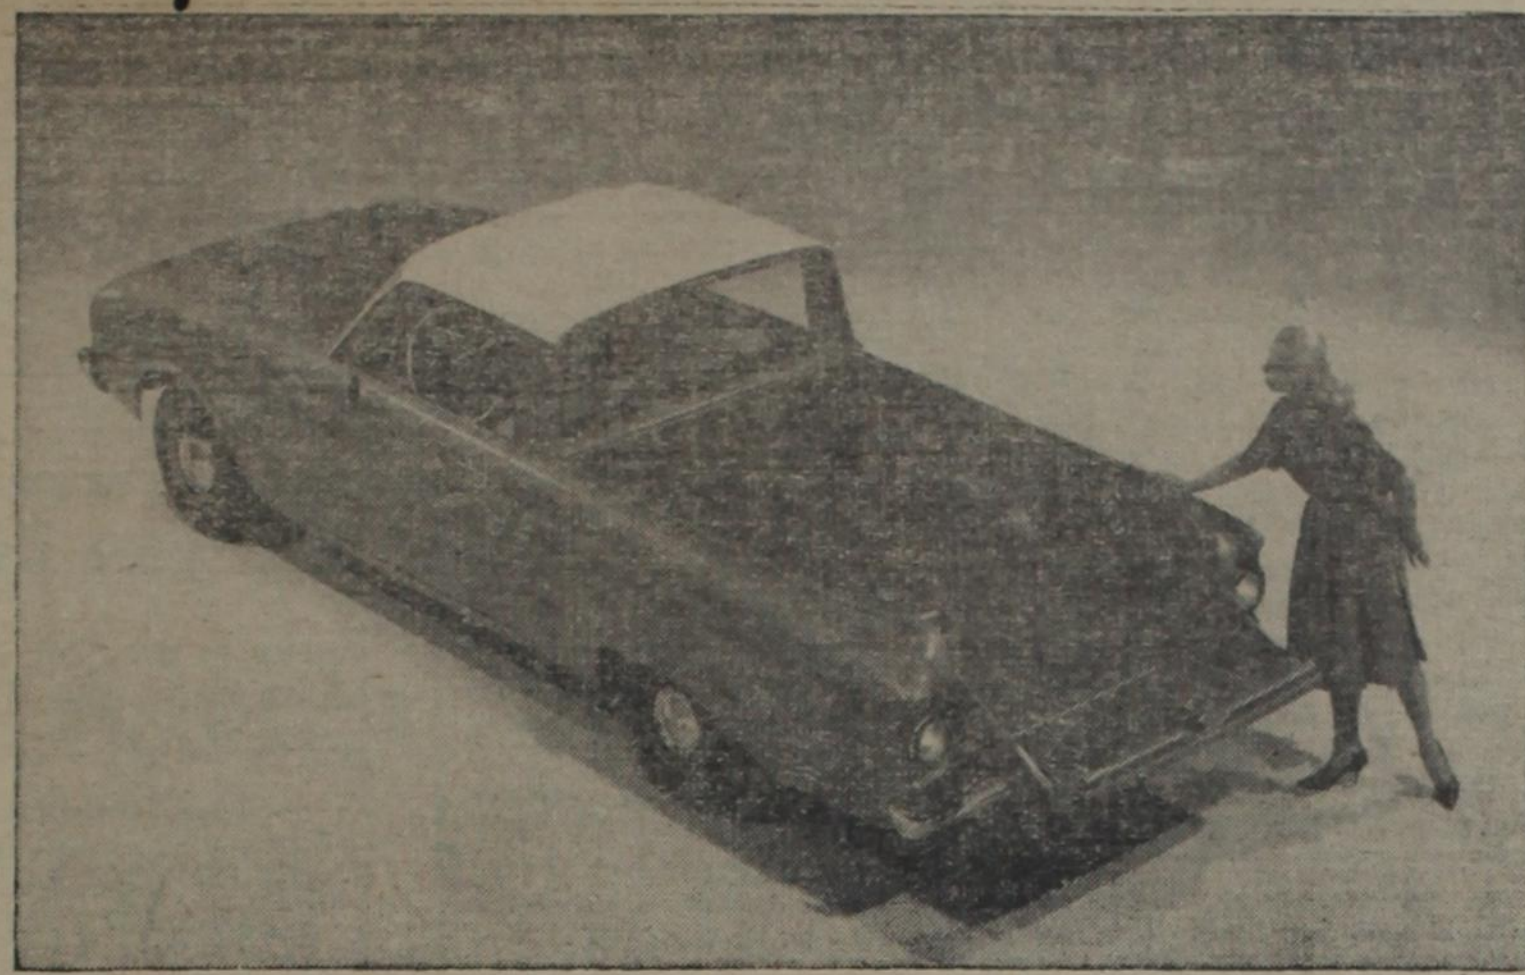

Burleson points out that many vital issues have had to be faced in the years he has represented the 17th District in the Congress. "Many more loom before us. With constancy, I have striven to face these problems with the courage and good sense required," he says.

"As the record will definitely show, on many occasions I have found myself in the minority, but have never failed to exercise the right vote and to do as I thought best. This has especially been true in connection with the needless spending of Federal money. The record will show that at every single session of the Congress I have voted for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department, and far below that actually appropriated by the Congress. This has been the case in all matters except National Defense. In this instance, I have always voted for those things calculated to make and to keep our Nation stronger than any other in the world.

"At all times I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the economy in our 17th Congressional District. Many times we do not accomplish all we think should be accomplished, but I believe those who have familiarized themselves with my record will know that I have done the best possible under all the circumstances which must be met.

Opposes Federal Encroachment.

"In domestic matters, the record will prove my opposition to the encroachment of the Federal Government on State and local affairs. As the Federal Government has grown to its colossal proportions, the threat of centralized power in Washington has increased. To this I am opposed, as my actions prove. Big government and high taxes are the result of many activities of the Federal Government which should be reserved to the States. Big government with its far-flung operations has created needless waste and extravagance.

Ford Motor Company's new Falcon Ranchero, the first economy size truck to be produced by a major U. S. automobile manufacturer, features a 6-foot box, up to 50 per cent greater fuel economy and the high styling and smoothness of ride normally found only in a regular passenger vehicle.

The Falcon Ranchero is America's lowest priced pickup truck with turn indicators and oil filter as standard equipment.

"It has been my purpose to official business. He has returned to Washington after spending several days in the District, with the expectation of being back in April to further conduct his campaign and see as many people as possible between now and the Primary Election on the first Saturday in May.

He retains his permanent Congressional Office in Abilene which is open at all times for conduct myself at all times in a manner worthy of the trust

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

LEGAL CHECKUP IS SAFETY MEASURE

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure.

Most wage earning, childbearing, home buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will.

But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble?

Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or refigure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration", something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold facts" (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer

Lamb Grading to Be Continued, TS&GRA Informed

SAN ANGELO. — Lamb grading, with revised standards becoming effective, is to be continued, officials of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association have been informed. Revision of the standards is a compromise on which most segments of the sheep industry agreed.

The National Wool Growers' Assn., in Salt Lake City, further informs that the new standards will become effective March 1, 1960.

The TS&GRA joined with the NWGA, the National Lamb Feeders' Assn. and other groups in seeking suspension of grading, but protests from other organizations prevailed in the United States Department of Agriculture's decision to revise and continue grading.

Penrose Metcalfe, of San Angelo, a vice president of the NWGA and a past president of the TS&GRA, represented the TS&GRA at lamb grading hearings before the House Agriculture Committee in Washington earlier in the year. He urged suspension, asserting that both the producer and consumer would benefit if grading was suspended.

Metcalfe says that Secretary of Agriculture Benson has requested that Federal meat grading personnel be thoroughly instructed in the new revised lamb and mutton grading standards, emphasizing that new grades will be checked closely to assure adherence to the revised standards.

TS&GRA officials believe that had Secretary Benson suspended grading, it soon would have been resumed as, in all probability, the House Agriculture Committee would have introduced a bill in Congress

Federal Stamp Now Required for Boats of Over Ten Horsepower

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Effective April 1, 1960 boats of more than ten horsepower operated on the navigable waters of the United States MUST be numbered under the Federal Boating Act of 1958, the Coast Guard announced today. Vessels documented by the Bureau of Customs are exempted from this Act.

On that date the Coast Guard will start receiving applications for numbers in those states which have not yet adopted their own numbering systems. These states are: Alaska, Connecticut, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Massachusetts, Iowa, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Wyoming, Washington and the District of Columbia.

Applicants for Federal Certificates of Number may obtain application forms at local Post Offices. The completed application form and a temporary certificate will be returned to the applicant. This certificate will serve as proof of compliance with the law until such time as the application has been processed by the Coast Guard.

The permanent Certificate of Number to be issued the boat owner will be an embossed plastic card similar to a gasoline credit card. The certificate will show the Coast Guard number to be affixed to each side of the bow of the boat by the owner and must be on board whenever the vessel is in use.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell him in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

A number awarded by the Coast Guard will be valid from the date of issuance and for 3 years from the date of the owner's birthday next occurring after the certificate is issued. Documentary proof of title and ownership is not required by the Coast Guard with application for number. Application blanks may also be obtained from any Coast Guard Marine Inspection Office, but the fees must be paid at the Post Office.

Even though boats have been previously numbered by the Coast Guard prior to March 31, 1960, application MUST be made for a new number on April 1st under the Federal Boating Act; however, the previous number and certificate may be retained for temporary identification until the new number is issued. Boat owners may continue to operate their craft legally if they have applied for renumbering, paid the required fee and retained proof of payment.

For further background information, as of 10 March 1960 the U. S. Coast Guard has approved the numbering systems adopted in 26 states. These states are: Florida, Utah, Montana, Minnesota, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Texas, Michigan, Oregon, Arizona, Kansas, Rhode Island, California, Vermont, Arkansas, Alabama, Nebraska, Delaware, Indiana, South Dakota, Illinois, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Ohio and Oklahoma.

The following states have already enacted numbering laws and Coast Guard approval of their numbering systems is expected soon: New York, Missouri, Colorado, and New Mexico.

In addition, it is possible that numbering laws may be enacted to 1 April 1960 in the following states: Maryland, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Virginia.

For further highlights on the Federal Boating Act of 1958, reference is made to Coast Guard publication CG-290 "Pleasure Craft" which is attached.

Mrs. A. T. Shults is planning a visit soon to Albuquerque, N. M., to be with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil McCannies and two girls.

Farm Prices to Show Further Decline

COLLEGE STATION. — Average prices received by farmers during 1960 will show a further slight drop while costs of farm production and marketing will continue to rise. As a result, realized net farm income in 1960 is expected to be a little lower than in 1959.

During the first nine months of 1959, realized net farm income in the U. S. averaged 15 percent below the same period in 1958. John G. McHaney, extension economist, said since World War II the general trend of agricultural prices has been downward. During much of this time, he noted, supplies have been so large that prices have not responded to the very favorable developments in demand. Supplies of agricultural commodities are expected to be large again in 1960.

HOME MAKERS NEWS AND VIEWS

By Sandra Shelton, Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent

Wet weather, or even continued dampness, is very hard on shoes. Here's first aid treatment. Take off those wet shoes as soon as possible. Leather is weak when wet. Wearing wet shoes will cause breaks in the leather or other damage. Once removed, stuff the shoes with soft paper or absorbent cloth to take up the moisture. Never use tension shoe trees. They may stretch the leather out of shape. Dry the outside by patting with a soft cloth. Never rub. When inside moisture is absorbed, remove the stuffing and let the shoes dry slowly away from heat. Fast drying with heat makes leather shrink, harden or crack.

As the shoes dry, clean with saddle soap. Then rub in a little sulfonated castor oil with your hands. The oil, available at drug stores, keeps leather soft and pliable. Use only as much oil as the leather will absorb. Otherwise the shoes will be too greasy to take a polish. When shoes are soft and dry, polish with any good paste or cream. Two coats of polish may be needed to bring back the fresh new look to the leather.

Suede shoes should be thoroughly dry before they are brushed or rubbed. Use a rubber sponge or stiff brush; never a wire brush. It may damage the soft suede. After brushing, spread on liquid suede dressing in one direction. When dry, brush in the opposite direction to lift the nap. If further treatment is needed to restore the appearance, have them rebuffered or "vaporized" at a shoe repair shop.

Metallic yarns are used in many kinds of fabrics. They do give unusual or interesting effects to fabrics. However, they are a luxury fabric and call for special care and treatment when it comes to cleaning and handling.

Check before you buy. Find out if the garment or fabric can be washed, or if it must be dry cleaned. The majority of these fabrics do dry clean satisfactorily. All metallic yarns are subject to abrasion; so avoid excessive rubbing. Use the acetate setting on the iron if you need to press. Imported metallic yarns of copper filament coated with gold or silver have a tendency to tarnish in dry cleaning. They may discolor from wear and perspiration. American-made metallic yarns usually dry clean satisfactorily and wear well. However, here are some exceptions.

Sunlight may affect the color. If the fabric has not been stabilized for shrinkage control, puckering of the fabric results after cleaning or washing because the textile yarn shrinks—the metallic yarn does not shrink. Spots or stains may, in some cases, leave a color change. If there is no label on the fabric or garment, check with your dry cleaner on suggested care.

SPORTS HAVE BEEN MY LOVES

I have always loved sports and guess I always will. Even though my dad and mother are not very athletic, my brothers and I have always loved sports very much. One reason why I love sports so much is because I had two brothers older than me and they were always playing and talking about sports. From the time I was small, I always had my head of most toys. I have never loved just one of them, but all of them. I have always loved basketball and football, but track really came into my life last year. Even though I have never run much track, it is my favorite sport. I have never run in many races or won many, but for some reason I will never know, I love these sounds funny coming from a boy who has played on many loving teams. Winning the game or race is not all of winning. The times when it hurts to lose are when you do not try your best and when somebody beats you that was not capable of beating you. I once had a coach tell me, "If you put all your heart into it, then never regret your head."

There are a lot of things that go along with sports. It's not just a dream that comes true; it is a lot of hard work and determination. The harder you work, the better you will be and more confidence you will have in yourself.

These things and many more are the reasons why I love sports.

SENIOR LIFE

One of 11 children, Jettie Sue Duggan was born January 23, 1942, to Robert and Myrtle Duggan.

We who are seniors now have known and loved "Susie" since she entered the Rising Star school system in the first grade. In RSHS Jettie has accumulated many honors, among them: head cheerleader, Jr. and Sr. years; junior and senior favorite; junior and senior plays;

Queen of RSHS; and Best All-Around Girl, Jr. and Senior years. So you see, Jettie is very popular with everyone, especially Gary Maynard (she wears his diamond, you know.) Jettie loves all foods, but favors fried chicken and coconut cream pie. As for movie stars, Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds are her choice, and she watches "Wagon Train" on TV. Jettie confesses that Mr. Jack White gets her vote as a favorite teacher and 2nd period study hall is her favorite "subject." Jettie makes a fascinating subject which I could elaborate on for pages, but I will close by saying for us all, "Good luck, Jettie; may your life be filled with happiness — I know it will, Sister."

WITH THE JUNIORS

Dear Diary:

Monday:
 A new week begun and we find Johnnie and Charles both out — just wondering! Barbara is off again — on again.
 Carolyn is very busy in English III with her many admirers. Every time Mrs. C. catches Dag looking out the window he gets the next English question; one good way to keep his attention — oh! I think Mrs. C. is being a little rushed while taking grades; anyway, she can't keep up Rucker, how was it when the dear ol' English teacher put you in low gear?
 Tuesday:
 On, to see Old Man Sun one again! Believe me; the groundhog is on the job. We are having a test in English tomorrow on adjectives and adverbs. Coy is still busy "across the way." Hopin' we win the room count at PTA today. J. M. you had better be more careful. I think Mrs. Claborn is catching on to your tricks in English.
 Wednesday:
 What do you know, the sun is shining? Boy, it's great to see spring time coming. Before you know it, everyone will be having spring fever. Diary, the track and tennis seasons have started and everyone is getting interested in them. Mr. Patman is bossing the grass digging on the tennis court. Maybe we can make it playable. Oh, yes, the English test was not too hard.
 Well, tomorrow the teachers will be gone to a teachers' meeting and we will get out of school. I guess we are going to have to go to school until the middle of June.

Teachers' meeting; school's out. So long for now, dear Diary.
 Reporter

SOPH HIGHLIGHTS

Due to the teachers' meeting, we had another holiday Friday. It surely was nice not having to get up early and to forget school life for one day; although, I imagine the Seniors are still hard at work on their up and coming play to be given this week. Seems like plays are going to be given one right after April.

The H. E. girls are beginning to enjoy their labs more every day; last week they had a Mexican dinner, which turned out very nicely, huh? Kay?

Now that it is getting warmer, the boys have started track; that's something else we're looking forward to.

Speaking of boys, how did you Ag boys enjoy the special treat Tuesday? Pretty nice, huh, after all that hard work?

As it gets warmer, Sophs, don't be surprised if we get together and have a party of some kind and very soon, I hope.

See ya next week.

FISH TALES

Hi there,
 Back again. By the time this is printed, we will be back from our "vacation" Friday. As you probably know, the teachers are going to a teachers' meeting. In case, you ever wonder what the Freshmen do at school besides gossiping, I'm going to tell you. In English I we are really getting down to business. We took a break from our regular routine — don't get me wrong, it isn't boring — and had a panel discussion Monday. At first the chairman was worried for fear they wouldn't speak up, but we had a very good discussion.

In World History we are seeing a film strip on the Latin American countries. It is very interesting as it tells about their struggle for independence and their fight against poverty.

In H. E. I the girls are really busy with their sewing; some have already finished their skirts and started on their blouses.

In General Science we are studying "germs" and we're finally finding out what happens when the "flu bug" bites.

So there you have the studies of the "Fish". Maybe so you have a general idea of what we do at school. As you noticed, I forgot to mention a of the Math classes, but the General Math students are at the first of a long old road to Algebra. The Algebra I students? They are already on it!

Bye for now,
Katy

"I GIVE YOU TEXAS"

By Boyce House

On the subject of memory: You can know a man — and know him fairly well — and still have difficulty in immediately calling his name.

It may be that you haven't seen him in a good while; or it is on the street in Fort Worth and he lives 200 miles away. If you saw him in his home town, "association" would help you. (We speak of not being able to "place" someone.)

Sometimes you might know a man very well and still your memory refuses to come up with the name.

Fred Korth is one man who realizes this and so he supplies his name when he greets you. He is impressive in size and appearance, has an excellent voice, formerly was Assistant Secretary of the Army and recently became president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth — all in all, a man who because of achievement and appearance certainly can have every right to expect to be remembered yet he considerately supplies his name.

Pat Neff was introduced to someone as "ex-governor of Texas." Neff quickly said, "No — former governor! A former governor is one who retired; an ex-governor is one who got beat."

Neff was the finest speaker in Texas in his era. I heard him speak at the State Democratic Convention in Austin (in 1942, if my memory serves me a-right). He spoke for half an hour, perhaps a little longer; his language was elevated; his thoughts were stirring. Afterward, newspapermen asked for a copy of his speech. He produced a single piece of paper on which a few notes were written.

When he was president of Baylor University, Governor Neff invited me to address the student body and he introduced me. My scholarly contribution was "How I Took Hollywood by Storm," an account of my adventures in connection with "Boom Town." At the close, he asked the audience that filled the big auditorium to rise, "And now, for our friend," he said, "let's sing 'That Good Old Baylor Line.'"

To any individual, that is something to remember; to one who never attended college, it was something to treasure.

Born After His Daddy Died—
... did little Tommy cloud the title to his mother's home? Or suppose little Tommy was born out of wedlock would this affect the title to the properties owned, if any, by his father, or mother, or both? These and many other heirship problems may arise in any title which the lawyers or the courts must finally decide. The abstract, which presents the facts and conditions surrounding such circumstances, is and always has been, the most important part of any real estate transaction.
