Rising Star welcomes a new business this week, one installed by a Rising Star boy and one that will fill a great need. It is Buddy's Plumbing, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cook, Jr. Read their advertisement on Page Four of this issue of The Rising Star.

According to a story out of Austin this week Rising Star has lost five of the 15 per cent credit it has hitherto enjoyed on its fire insurance key rate because of what the State Board of Insurance examiners considered deficiencies in the city's system of protection against fires. The city, so I am informed by insurance people, was given a 15 per cent credit on its key rate—which is 29c per $100—because of its low fire loss record over the past several years.

The loss of five per cent of this credit will mean that fire insurance purchasers will have to pay, over all, about $800 more next year for the same amount of insurance now carried. This applies only to property within the city limits.

The Board accompanied its announcement of the reduced credit with quite a list of what it claims is wrong with the local fire protection picture. While quite a number of them can and should be corrected, such as the strengthening of our volunteer fire department and improvement of its equipment, the greater part of the conditions cited have existed for many years, and during times when Rising Star enjoyed a more favorable rate, and they are the same conditions, in the main, to be found in most other towns of our history and size.

For instance, the criticisms cite that 40 per cent of the streets in the business district are less than 70 feet in width; that there are overhead utility wires in the mercantile district; that there are no alleys; that the principal streets in the residential district are not paved, and that more than 40 per cent of the roofs in the residential areas are combustible—that is, they will burn.

Well, that has been the case for a long time, and I am not sure how we could go about widening the narrow streets in our business district without excessive costs. A lot of the older cities notably Dallas and Brownwood, have that problem in much greater degree.

The report also states that we have no fire alarm system. If so, what is this bane howl that breaks out whenever an alarm is turned in?

Other criticisms point to inadequate pumping equipment, water mains too small, no reserve hose truck, an all volunteer fire department, fire department not maintained, etc., which may be pertinent criticism, and which, I am sure the City Council will address itself to when the list is officially presented.

The list of what is wrong doesn't read too good for our small community, but when it is analyzed, most of the criticisms are such as can be made of all small communities and many of the larger.

The point is that we need to get busy and fix them.

One of the biggest problems which confronts our town is taking care of the new fam-

DPS Warns Of Week-End Toll

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Sney, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the DPS estimates 46 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Labor Day weekend.

"This is the last holiday weekend of the summer, and thousands of motorists traditionally take to the highways for an outing," Sney said. "It is indeed tragic that so many men, women and children will become victims of motor vehicle accidents during an otherwise happy period," he added.

Sney said the Department of Public Safety will use all facilities and personnel at its disposal in an effort to reduce the predicted death toll. A special "Operation Motorcade" will be activated at 6 p. m. Friday, August 30, and continue through midnight Monday, September 2. During this period, all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

"Many other groups such as local police and sheriff's department, the trucking industry, and the Jaycees will be cooperating in this effort to promote safe driving during the holiday," Sney noted.

For example, the Texas Motor Transportation Association and its Texas Council of Safety Supervisors will sponsor a holiday road patrol during the Labor Day weekend to assist stranded motorists.

Jack Bryan, TMTA safety director, said some 40 cars marked "Holiday Road Patrol" will be used in the program. These will be manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council. Personnel participating in the road patrol will work as volunteers.

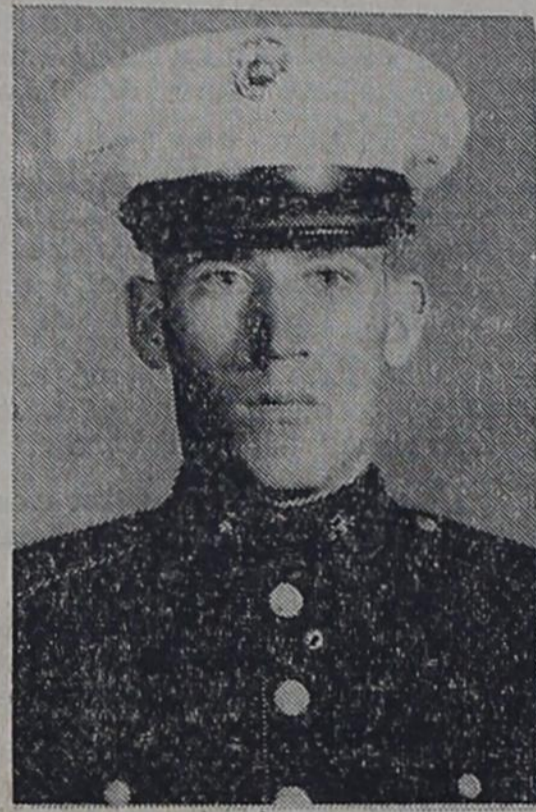

The Jaycees will provide rest stops for motorists in many areas of the state. Texas Safety Association said W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate efforts of over 12,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members in operating some 200 "rest stops" for serving free coffee to fatigued drivers.

The Texas Highway Department has provided the news media with a bulletin listing all road construction areas in the state.

Mrs. Jack N. White has returned from a visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Greer and children at Houston.

Pecan Tour Centered In Rising Star Area

Four pecan orchards in the Rising Star area will be visited on the fall tour of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association, Friday, September 13. Anton White, president of the association, says that visitors as well as members of the association are welcome to go on the tour.

De Gordon, county agent, reports that two Extension Service specialists will be on the tour to discuss pecan insect and disease control. The specialists, Dr. J. W. Worthington and Jerral D. Johnson, will be ready to answer questions concerning pecan management.

The group will meet at Fred Perkins' orchard eight miles north of Rising Star on Highway 183. Perkins' orchard is located about 12 miles south of Cisco.

Perkins has propagated many of his trees to new hybrid varieties. Gordon says great improvements have been made in this orchard under Perkins' management.

The second stop will be the C. T. Barton orchard. This is one of the well managed orchards in the Pioneer community.

Third stop will be at Leroy Livingston orchard. The orchard is now being managed by Carl Smith and was formerly owned by W. V. Fenter.

Following lunch at the Elite Cafe in Rising Star a business meeting will be held. The members of the growers association will discuss plans and the site of the annual county pecan show to be held in December. Those desiring to invite the organization to hold the show in their town are invited to do so at this time.

The C. E. Smith orchard on the south edge of Rising Star will be the fourth and final stop. This is one of the best managed orchards in the West Cross Timbers—according to Gordon.

C. E. Smith, C. T. Barton, and Fred Perkins served as a committee to plan the tour.

It Has Been

By Vada Arnold

With almost five months before Christmas, and temperatures ranging from 90 to 100 degrees, it seems absurd to print a letter to Santa Claus. But after reading and rereading one that was printed in the Rising Star X-Ray on December 17, 1916, the temptation to share it could not be resisted.

Very few people who lived in Rising Star at that time could ever blot out the memory of Kathy Ben Snearly, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Snearly. And the dear little letter to good old Saint Nick will introduce this generation to the type child, chubby, blue eyed, curly haired Katy Ben was.

Here is the letter exactly as it appeared in the X-Ray: "The Honorable Mr. Santa Claus: Dear Old Pal: I just want a few things this year. Please bring me a doll. A doll's bed. A set of doll's dishes, fireworks, unts and two live billy goats and a wagon to hitch them to. Oranges, a X-mas tree with oodles of trimming, an aeroplane, a real, real live donkey, a "Baby Bunt", a sure enough Plymouth Rock Rooster, a table and chairs, some apples and oh! yes, I forgot some candy too. And sav don't forget my billy goats and wagon, PLEASE. Katy Ben Snearly."

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist Church advertised a pillow case sale to be held at The Star Trading Company, on Saturday, December 11, and Monday, December 13, for the purpose of raising money to be applied on the church piano. Pillow cases were sold at 30c and 75c per pair.

"Mr. and Mrs. J. G. (John) Robinson narrowly escaped serious injuries or could have lost their lives on Wednesday, March 7, 1916, at the Main Street crossing of the railroad, leading north. The Robinsons were in their car and failed to see the approaching east bound train until they were too close to stop.

Mr. Robinson used good judgment at the steering wheel and turned the car in the same direction the train was moving and made their escape, with little damage to the car. No personal injuries were suffered, except from fright."

The Climbers Class of the Methodist Sunday School announced a new teacher in November, 1915. The announcement ran, "Attention Boys: We are alive now with a brand new teacher, Mr. Joseph I. Patterson. He believes in doing things. He is a live wire. We mean to get busy Come on out and help us. That means Y O U."

The class roll was revised and new officers elected. Dewey Anderson, president; Olin Dodson, Vice President; Otha Venable, Secretary, and Treasurer; Charlie Gibson, Assistant teacher.

The May Messenger, weekly newspaper at May, Texas came up with this on October 15, 1915: "A bunch of Rising Star autoists came through here Tuesday afternoon at the - Well just as fast as a Ford can run. But their speeding didn't last long; when they got about a mile from town they broke down and had to come back to town for help and a car to carry them back home.

"We have seen several speeders who recognized the law, but we have never seen one of these smart alecks get by without having some sort of a mishap. Men have no right to open a car up through a town where school children are crossing the street. The number of the Rising Star car was taken, but it may not be pushed against them."

In August, 1915, the largest melon seen in Rising Star during the season was shipped to James S. Campbell of the First National Bank, from Weatherford.

It seems that the late Fred W. Roberts of the Star Trading Co., and C. F. (Chas) Falls, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, had bragged that they could eat the largest melon that was brought to town that summer. Without letting the "Brag" know, Mr. Campbell ordered the largest melon to be found at Weatherford, shipped to Rising Star. In it's arrival Falls and Roberts were challenged to eat

Angora Goat Sale at Goldthwaite Saturday

Members of the Central Texas Registered Angora Goat Breeders' Association will have their twelfth annual show and sale at the show barns in Goldthwaite Friday and Saturday, August 30 and 31.

Goats will be in their pens by 7:30 a. m. on Friday and sifting will get underway at 8:00 a. m. when 100 bucks and 25 does will be selected for the sale, from about 175 bucks and 50 does.

The top 25 bucks and 10 does will be placed starting at 1:00 p. m. Friday, from which the champion buck and doe will be selected.

The sale will begin promptly at 1:00 p. m. on Saturday. There will be a barbecue dinner served on the grounds.

The goats offered for sale have been consigned by 20 Angora breeders. The association has 50 members in Mills, Comanche, Hamilton, Coryell, Lampasas, Brown, and San Saba Counties.

The Central Texas Angora Goats Breeders' Association organized for the purpose of improving the commercial and Registered Angora flocks in the area and for the convenience of those in need of better stud and range bucks and top quality does, according to Dr. T. C. Graves, Goldthwaite, president of the association.

Mrs. Retta Richardson is a patient in Eastland Memorial Hospital this week.

one half of the big melon and if they failed, they were to pay for it. The challenge was accepted and the feast took place on Monday, in the bank after four o'clock.

"The men put forth a strenuous effort to devour the melon, after eating only the heart, they threw up the sponge and unhesitatingly dug up the price of the melon which cost them $130 each. Well, that wasn't so bad for enough melon to satisfy two such men. No doubt if the large rind had been filled with hot air, the two mentioned men could have soon compressed it and stored away the contents."

Glass Is Vacation Material

Modern Vacation Home Design Brings Nature & Light Indoors

The "great escape" is on.

As America's cities become more crowded, many people are getting away from it all by building and enjoying vacation homes.

A recent survey showed three million families in the United States now own these second homes; and by 1975 two million more will be built.

For years vacation homes were like caves, but this is changing. Today's architects, builders and imaginative owners are using glass in walls and large windows to brighten interiors, and bring in the outdoors. And, says American Saint Gobain Corporation, a leading domestic manufacturer of building glass, many kinds of glass are ideally suited for vacation home use.

Bring in the Best View

Distortion-free plate glass is usually glazed into broad, dramatic window walls that focus on a vacation home's best vista. When budget is all-important, high quality heavy sheet glass can be employed. Patterned glass, available in a wide variety of surface designs can be used in wall panels, entrances, or dividers to maintain privacy without shutting out light.

Safe Vacations

In busy, active vacation homes where safety is a must — safety glass is the answer. Three basic types provide safety in patio doors, play rooms, and partitions.

Laminated glass has an inner layer of plastic that holds the glass together if broken. Wired glass is embedded with steel mesh. Tempered glass is heat-treated for strength and safety. It crumbles into harmless, pebble-like particles when punctured.

SKIRT SCOOPS

THE TURN-OF-THE-CENTURY MORNING GLORY OR SERPENTINE SKIRT FLEW INTO GREAT FLUTE-LIKE RIPPLES 10 OR 12 YARDS AROUND.

ENGLISH WOMEN OF THE 1700S OFTEN STUFFED THEIR BUNCHED OVER-SKIRTS WITH PAPER TO ADD WIDTH AND CAUSE A PLEASING RUSTLE IN MOVEMENT.

THE LATE 1800'S SKIRT LOOKED MORE LIKE A CHILD'S SCRAPPY-BOOK THAN ANYTHING ELSE.

"TIED-BACKS", SKIRTS WITH ALL THE FULLNESS GATHERED IN THE REAR WERE POPULAR IN THIS COUNTRY IN THE 1870'S. THE SKIRT WAS SO TIGHT ACROSS THE KNEES IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR MILADY TO BEND OVER.

The Gordon Spot

By DeWitt Gordon
Eastland County Ag. Agent

Several homeowners have reported having problems with their fruitless mulberry trees. The leaves have spots, turn yellow and eventually fall off the trees. This is very common to fruitless mulberry throughout the county. It is caused by Septoria leaf spot. This is a fungal disease of mulberry trees which is very damaging to the leaves in certain years.

I have mailed some of these leaves to the Extension Plant Pathologists. They suggest spraying with a Maneb type fungicide to control the leaf spot disease. Some of the trade names of Maneb are Manzate, Dithane M-22, MEB and MnEBD. The trees should be sprayed several times at two week intervals. Avoid wetting leaves on the trees when watering the lawn.

Peanut harvest has already begun in Eastland County. I saw peanuts being harvested last week in the Kokomo area. The peanuts were being harvested because a disease called southern blight was ruining them. It seems that southern blight is causing much damage to peanuts this year. Some farmers are having to harvest early because the southern blight is causing peanuts to come off the vines.

All four Extension agents are attending the biennial state Extension conference at Texas A&M University, August 26-30. The theme for the conference is "Working Toward Perfection in Extension Education Programs."

In addition to outstanding speakers for each of the morning sessions, each Extension worker will have an opportunity to participate in three different special training programs during each afternoon session.

The week spent at A&M is a part of our continuing professional improvement program which is aimed at making the work of every Extension employee more efficient and productive.

Due to the competitive price, wheat could become a suitable substitute for feed grain in the livestock ration.

Up to 50 percent of the grain portion of the ration may be wheat. More than this is not advisable since wheat is a heavy feed and forms a paste in the mouth and stomach of the animal.

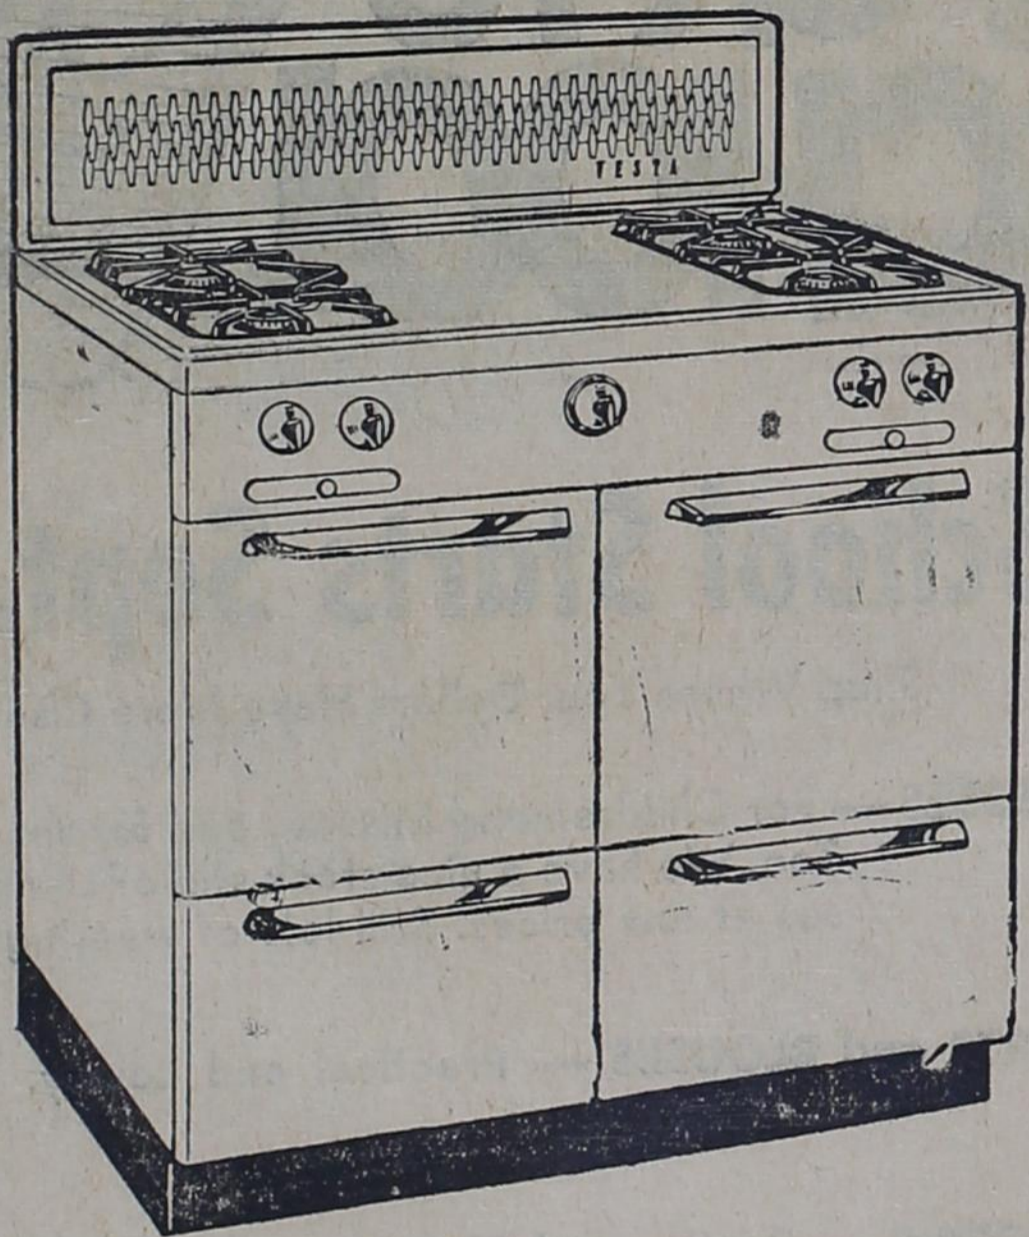

Protein from wheat can be used as satisfactorily as protein from other sources in balancing a ration. Wheat has about 105 percent the feeding value of corn. The outer covering of wheat is hard, therefore, it should be coarsely ground or rolled before feeding.

The pecan crop looks good in most Eastland County orchards. You will have an opportunity to see some of these orchards on the annual fall pecan tour September 13. The tour is being planned in the Rising Star area. There are some real good orchards in the area and I am sure anyone interested in pecan production will want to go on this tour. The details of the tour will be released soon.

put on a pretty face

BY
Aubrey McDonald

Dear Aubrey: I'm a busy secretary who sits behind a desk most of the day. The only opportunity I have to repair my make-up is during my lunch hour. The rest of the day, all I have time to do is powder my nose, and repeated applications of powder make my face look pasty. What do you suggest for on-the-go touch-ups? D. H. Manheim, Pa.

Dear D. H.: If your powder builds up and makes you look pasty, you're not using translucent powder, the only type I recommend.

Remember that powder should add no color of its own. It should be used to set and highlight your liquid make-up, rouge, eyeshadow and other cosmetics.

For an extra-quick touch-up at your desk and to make your whole face sparkle with fresh, delicate color, try Fashion Two Twenty's new Mystic Blush. Mystic Blush is a sheer, pearlized brush-on that adds a becoming flush to your complexion — without detracting from or covering up your other make-up.

For the teenager, who doesn't want to hide her natural, youthful beauty with heavy, artificial make-up, winsome Mystic Blush is the ideal cosmetic.

This new cosmetic and a silky sable brush come in a sleek, mirrored case that's perfect for your purse or vanity. Use it whenever your spirits and your looks need a very special lift.

To apply Mystic Blush, simply fluff it on with the sable brush over your other make-up, or just frame your face with its delicate color. Now wait a few minutes. Notice how Mystic Blush discreetly adds a warm, subtle glow to your complexion.

Any woman, be she blonde or brunette, will find that Mystic Blush harmonizes perfectly with her complexion and actually complements and accentuates her other cosmetics.

If you have any beauty questions, send them to me % Fashion Two Twenty, P. O. Box 195, Aurora, Ohio 44202. I'll be happy to help you "put on a pretty face."

It has been announced that the Saturday Club will begin the year's work on Wednesday, September 4th, with a covered dish luncheon at the Library at 12:30. Response will be "Chuckles."

Muhle Family Enjoys Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muhle and grandson, Lonnie Goins of May have returned from a two-week vacation in Hawthorne, Nev., where they visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roy Muhle and a daughter, Mrs. Betty Chennault and family.

The Muhles visited many points of interest, including Yosemite National Park in California and the ghost town of Bodie, Calif. In 1880 the town had a population of 10 thousand and its mines yielded $100 million in gold following the gold rush of 1878. Virginia City, site of the Comstock Lode, Carson City, where they saw the largest car collection in the world, Las Vegas and the Toiyabe National Forest were also visited.

Mrs. Muhle caught her first Rainbow trout while fishing in a mountain stream.

On their return trip they made an interesting tour of Boulder (Hoover) Dam and enjoyed the awesome beauty of the Grand Canyon. A few hours were spent at the Barringer Meteor Crater in Arizona.

HOW TO PACK FOR A WRINKLE-FREE WEEKEND

When it comes to packing, a weekend trip requires almost as much planning as a trip around the world. The traveler's goal is to include everything without arriving pack-horse style.

Mrs. Beth Frantz, Travel-Fashion Advisor for the Samsonite Company, logs over 100,000 miles a year. She can pack a weekend wardrobe in a 15 1/4" x 8 1/2" beauty case. Unbelievable? Not if you practice packing pointers like these:

Pack travel-size cosmetics in the molded plastic tray on top. This is the spot, too, for small items that might be needed en route and immediately upon arrival. Something you'll want to keep, literally, on hand is your camera. It's possible to take excellent pictures from airplane, bus, car or train with a simple model like a Kodak Instamatic S-10 camera. These snapshots, taken en route, will help create a full pictorial record of your holiday. Because the S-10 camera is compact and retracts when not in picture-taking position, it can be slipped easily into pocket or purse. If it's necessary to pack it temporarily, it fits neatly into the plastic tray of the beauty case.

When it comes to selecting clothes, make a list of weekend activities. Then pack one, and only one, outfit for each occasion. There's a trick to fitting everything in and getting it all out wrinkle-free. Roll lingerie and soft items in sets and put them aside. Place slacks and skirts in the case with waistband at the rear and the rest of the garment extending over the front of the case. Fold dresses lengthwise in thirds and pack at right angle to slacks with dress skirts extended over the short end of the case. Now place the lingerie rolls in the case using the little spaces between rolls for extra film cartridges, batteries and flashcubes.

Next fold slacks and skirts over the lingerie. Leave the remainder hanging over the top of the case. Dresses are folded over the slacks. Continue this rotation—folding back and forth—until everything is neatly packed. One garment cushions the other to prevent wrinkling.

Besides offering tips on packing clothes efficiently, Mrs. Frantz suggests ways to make travel more enjoyable. Don't forget your sunglasses and if you wear prescription lenses bring a spare pair. Check your camera's batteries and take along extras so you don't miss any photo opportunities. Flashcubes are a must for those indoor shots. As efficient as bus, train and air travel is, luggage has a way of getting lost occasionally. To expedite a speedy return put identification inside as well as outside of your case.
