L. C. Hambrick Is In Holdup

Two holdup men relieved L. C. Hambrick of $28 cash about 10:45 o'clock Saturday night, after which they gave him orders to "beat it—and don't look back."

Hambrick a Howard county farmer, living on a place four miles east of Big Spring, had spent Saturday in Midland, where he was selling watermelons.

He had returned to this city on the evening passenger train, and had started home, walking along East Third street near the Slims Filling Station, two men came up behind him, Hambrick stated. One man walked in front of him, the other approaching his side, he said.

The latter had a gun, which he held on him, while the other man searched him. After they got the money, the man with the gun, told him to "beat it—and not turn around."

Hambrick stated that he walked about a half of block and then turned around, but they had fled. He reported the holdup to the officers.

Hambrick stated that one of the men seemed to be not older than 19 or 20 years of age. He was small, weighed about 135 pounds and was in every-day clothes.

The other man, was larger and older, he said.

1,200,000 Bbl. Steel Storage For Cosden Co

Two 20,000 Bbl. Plants Will Locate On Site Three Miles East of City

Four Refineries Here

Most Important Industrial Event In the Business Growth of Big Spring

BY S. F. BALENTINE

The fourth refinery having a skimming capacity of 20,000 barrels of crude oil daily and a cracking unit with a daily capacity of 8,000 to 10,000 barrels will be built at Big Spring, by W. B. Richardson and associates, according to information received from A. G. Reid, vice-president of Cosden & Company last evening. This plant will be located east of here on the 680 acres purchased this week by Cosden & Company and will join the Cosden refinery.

"The people of Big Spring do not seem to realize the magnitude of the refining industry that will be built here," Mr. Reid said. "Cosden & Company's plant will have a skimming capacity of 20,000 barrels daily and it also will have a cracking unit of 8,000 to 10,000 barrels daily. The cracking unit will undoubtedly be the Jenkins process built by the Graver Corporation of East Chicago," he said. "This is a low pressure process but very efficient."

This means, according to Mr. Reid, that on the site purchased this week that there will be two refining plants of 20,000 barrels daily capacity each. Mr. Richardson though associated with Mr. Cosden, will not be financially interested in the Cosden refinery but Mr. Cosden or Cosden & Company will be interested in the plant constructed by Richardson, is the interpretation given the writer by Mr. Reid.

"One pipe line to the field will serve both plants, and while not definitely decided on," he said, "it will be of capacity sufficient to carry out this program, which will undoubtedly require an eight inch line. The construction of the pipe line and storage will begin immediately and it is expected that both refineries will be ready for operation by the end of this year."

The surveying of the line is already under way and is being done by R. E. Morris, who is the county surveyor for Howard county.

"Cosden & Company has already placed orders for more than 1,200,000 barrels of steel storage. The order calls for 12 tanks of the 80,000 barrel size and five tanks of 85,000 barrel capacity, with more scheduled on the program," he said.

The locating of Cosden & Company here is probably the most important industrial event in the history of Big Spring outside of the locating of the T. & P. railroad shops here. The construction of this refinery program during the next few months will give employment to a large number of well paid men and their operation should give employment to more than 100 men.

The other two refineries to locate here will have a capacity of 8,000 barrels daily. The Big Spring Refining Company has their plant west of town under construction and the Big Spring Pipe Line Company, which will serve this plant will run a four inch line to the field. The other plant is of 5,000 barrel capacity, it is announced, and will be operated by Reese Allen. The Moody Oil Corporation and the F. H. E. Oil Company will have a half interest in the Reese Allen project. This organization, it is reported, will run a six inch pipe line to the south Howard county field.

This refinery program, if carried out, which it undoubtedly will be unless the Howard-Glasecock field should fail to extend the proven area, will make Big Spring the refining center of West Texas, and within 12 months it will surpass Wichita Falls as a refinery center.

It was J. S. Cosden, who, some 20 years ago started Tulsa, Okla., on its way to become the refining center of the Mid-Continent area when he built a 25,000 barrel plant, the most modern of its day, at that place.

Refineries, Oil Wells, Paving, and Building Program Keeps Big Spring Busy West Tex. Spot

Optimism In Saddle

All Believe Big Spring Is On The Way To Make A City of 25,000 Within Two Years

By Alice Phillips Special Correspondent

Big Spring in the midst of the biggest era of development ever known in its history, and in discussing the progress of any community, we must take into consideration not only education and finance, but every phase of life that is present in the community. The schools which are one of the greatest assets to any community have made vast improvements during the past few years. Work is going forward on the $100,000.00 addition to the high school. When completed the building will be 290 feet long, be modern and well equipped and have a seating capacity of 950 students, an increase of 350 over that of the present building.

Big Spring who claims to be the home of the R. and R. Theatres, will soon have one of the most modern theaters in the State when the building now under construction is completed. This building is being erected at the corner of Main and 4th streets, at an approximate cost of $100,000.00. An organ twice the size of the one being used in the R. and R. Lyric theatre here, will be installed in connection with vitaphone. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 1200. The R. and R. Theatres own and operate two other theatres in the city under the management of Yule Robb. Other buildings of note are the Ray Wilcox and Otis Chalk brick business houses which will extend the business district one block west on West Third St. These structures are also one block west of the seven story Crawford Hotel opened for the public Nov. 25, 1927.

The paving program under way in Big Spring is further indication of the progress taking place as this is the second paving program during the last two years. The first program calling for 20 blocks of the paving in the business district, while the second program calls for 40 blocks of residence paving connecting with the down town paving. This paving will be laid by the Carl Pleasant Construction Company at a cost of $110,000.00; the city has also secured gas for both residential and commercial purposes, sewerage and 10 new water wells; this progress has been made under a Commission form of government with four commissioners and a City Manager, W. V. Montin, City Manager, has personally supervised the engineering for the city thus saving the city approximately $10,000 in engineering fees. The city will also participate with the county and railroad in building a concrete and steel viaduct across the T. and P. tracks at the Gregg Street crossing over which Highway No. 9 passes. The construction of the viaduct will cost approximately $150,000.00.

The oil industry is one of the greatest assets to the Big Spring section, located within 16 miles of the city with more than 180 producing wells, ranging in production from 160 to 4,000 barrels per day, producing from five different sands which according to geological reports will make the field good for at least ten years. Clarence B. Gilmore, Railroad Commissioner, and under whose jurisdiction comes the proration of the West Texas fields, personally inspected the fields in Howard and Glasscock County on Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14, before the proration meeting in Austin on July 16. According to R. T. Piner, chairman of the Howard County Proration Committee, this field will be opened up August 1. An outlet for the oil will be taken care of by three refineries, good for 18,000 barrels. These refineries will be operated by Groff and Peterson, Cosden and Company and Reese Allen. Construction has already begun on the Groff and Peterson, one mile west southeast of Big Spring has been built and a pipe line being laid to the field, since the oil field 16 miles southeast of Big Spring has been discovered, three townsites have been laid out, namely, Ross City, Forsan and New Drumright. Lots are being sold in these townsites almost daily and new structures are being built for business locations. Some of the major oil companies have established plants, camps, etc. on and near the townsites as an added convenience for their employees. The agricultural possibilities for Howard County are being watched and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce with O. T. Watson as manager, is working in close co-operation with the farmers.

A terracing demonstration was held during July under the supervision of M. R. Bentley of the Extension Service of A. and M. College, A. K. Short and Clyde E. Thomas, representatives of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, a county and home demonstration agent is also being asked for and a petition carrying the names of 135 farmers and 95 business men has been presented the Commissioners Court, however no action has yet been taken. A county fair will be held during the fall and County Exhibits will be shown at the West Texas Fair at Abilene and the State Fair at Dallas, according to Fred Keating, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Our Plans For Future Should Lower Rents

We Must Erect Residences Which Can Be Rented At Reasonable Prices

Rents Too High

Coming of Refineries and Other Industries Calls for Erection of Workmen's Homes

While we are planning on office buildings, modern apartment buildings more hotels, etc., we must not forget to prepare for the army of workmen who will be here to operate the refineries, the enlarged railroad shops, the factories and the men who will be needed to build, and operate the other industries, which will be attracted to our city as a result of the big oil development in the Big Spring section.

Most of us are free to admit that just at this time we are not prepared to furnish accommodations for an influx of workers. The rents that are being charged for houses, rooms and apartments in our city at this time are much too high for the average workman.

It is absolutely necessary to provide for these workmen as no city can grow and prosper without the working man. He can't afford to pay fancy prices for a home. Some plan must be worked out whereby less costly buildings may be provided for use of workmen. If individuals cannot be persuaded to do this—and it is going to be difficult to do this as long as such big prices are being offered—a local company should be organized for the sole purpose of providing reasonably priced homes for workmen.

This is a most important proposition and we cannot afford to ignore it if we want to promote the continued growth of Big Spring.

The providing of homes for workmen is just as vital, if not more so, than the erection of office buildings and other big projects.

The need of handling this proposition is too great to be ignored and with the starting of work on the refineries—the time to start on this proposition is right now.

New Oil Test Two Miles S. of City

H. H. Gracy came up from San Angelo last Tuesday to arrange the details for drilling of a new oil test on section 20, block 12, S. P. Ry. Co. in W. L. Foster's pasture, two miles south of town.

Mr. Gracy intimated that a number of big companies will be interested in this test.—Sterling City News Record.

City Building Is Topic Of Address

Chas. E. Watkins Addressed Rotary and Luncheon Club Members Today

Urges a Civic Spirit

His Message Should Aid Big Spring In Making Greater Progress

Big Spring had a big man with a big message as her guest today and it is to be regretted that every citizen could not have heard his address on Community Welfare.

Chas. E. Watkins was the visitor and he delivered this address at a joint meeting of the Rotary club and Wednesday Luncheon Club in the basement of the Methodist Church to a most appreciative audience, and our city will derive a wonderful benefit if those who heard his talk will profit from the advice he gave.

We can only give a brief outline of Mr. Watkins' interesting address which treated of the development of cities, and why cities grow.

He cited the case of Detroit, away off the beaten path, 75 miles northwest from the New York lines, but it became a great city because of the great spirit of its citizenship. He stated that no one group of men can build a city, it takes the united cooperation of the entire citizenship. Thus, the bankers led the way when they made Detroit the automobile capital of the world, because they were willing to finance an infant industry, when bankers in other cities were too conservative.

St. Louis, Cleveland, Buffalo, Toledo could have been the automobile manufacturing center of the world Detroit was the prize when they welcomed Alexander Winton, a pioneer automobile manufacturer to establish his plant in their city. The changing conditions in business are due to the rapidly with which we are moving in this fast day and age.

The output of American industry has been increased fifty per cent during the past ten years. This presents greater selling problems. How to sell this flood of products brought about a gigantic advertising increase. Go into the smaller stores today and you find the shelves teeming with nationally advertised goods, and advertising is insuring their sale. All this has brought about a rising standard of living, creating a greater demand for the good things of life and making life more worth living.

In commenting on the reasons why some cities do not grow he cited selfishness, littleness and lack of leadership. These three have retarded the growth of more cities than any three causes you can name.

There is to be found in every city the man who can lead that city but refusal to trust him and follow his leadership prevents advancement.

Industries are making a great growth, business is making great progress, cities grow because they have leadership and trust their leaders. St. Louis and Atlanta are outstanding examples of cities which have found the right leadership and are backing their leaders to the limit with all their resources. Wm. Candler is responsible for the wonderful development of Atlanta Ga. is making while Harland M. Stacy is helping to make St. Louis one of the greatest cities in our nation.

In commenting on the greatest needs in Texas he urged the continuation of a big road program. He stated that a paved road brings a market to the farmers' very door and saves every tax payer money.

Next in importance as he sees it, is the cultivation of that spirit that will follow through and push these cities to the front. When asked to name the leading city in Texas 25 to 50 years from now he saw it could not be done as the case was in the hands of the jury. The greatest city will be the one which builds up the greatest community spirit, secures the cooperation of its citizenship and moves forward with a united front.

It is that spirit which is going to keep our boys and girls at home and if this spirit isn't present they will seek other places and we will lose the leaders of the future.

With industries moving as never before to the smaller cities, because of labor supply and more favorable conditions is added reason for little cities to be alert. The cities which neglect parks, play grounds, streets, water, public utilities, housing conditions, is making a serious mistake. Keep moving forward first last and all the time.

The prosperity of every group in every city is dependent upon every other group and a working together all along the line spell success.

(Continued on Page Six) for the home town. Our boys and girls are, after all, the greatest asset of any city. And a great Civic Spirit will build any town into a city.

We are indebted to J. M. Penland, President of the Waco Drug Co. for Mr. Watkins' visit to Big Spring. Mr. Penland heard Mr. Watkins speak on "Community Welfare" at Dallas last year and his talk made such a powerful impression that he asked to be introduced to the speaker. He then invited him to make the good will tour of the Waco trade territory as Penland was big enough to prosper of this territory meant prosperity for Penland. But then Mr. Penland is noted for his public spirit. It was due to his efforts, mainly, that Baylor University was prevented from being moved from Waco; he is a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and president of the Wholesale Drug Jobbers Association of Texas and gives much of his time and talent to promoting the welfare of those associations.

The citizens of Big Spring indeed appreciate the visit of Mr. Watkins and enjoyed his wonderful message and also desire to thank Mr. Penland for inducing him to visit our city.

United Effort Means Success

If the speaker at the Luncheon Club yesterday could have a heart to heart talk with about one-half of our citizens, and picture Big Spring opportunities to each age as he did to his audience, we would have a reawakening, and a revival to join forces to make Big Spring a real city. He said he never saw a place with such a wonderful future and all that is needed is a civic spirit which will unite the people in an effort to put over those things which means a steady and continued growth.

A greater water supply, an office building, parks and playgrounds, paved roads and the encouragement of factories and industries to locate in the city.

Blankenship's Picture In The Star-Telegram

W. C. Blankenship, newly elected superintendent of the Big Spring Public Schools, was given a complimentary write up in Monday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and his picture also appeared in the paper. Following is the article: "This introduces W. C. Blankenship who will be superintendent of the Big Spring schools during the session 1923-1924. Blankenship moved from Denton, Texas, early in the summer and he is personally supervising the building of the new high school building, now under construction."

SOME MAN WROTE THIS—

A man will run as fast as he can to cross a railroad track ahead of a train. Then he will watch it until it goes out of sight. Then he will walk leisurely away. He seems to be all right and probably is. This is a man. A woman in a street car will open a satchel and take out a purse, close the satchel and open the purse, take out a dime and close the purse, open the satchel and put in the purse, close the satchel and lock both ends. This is a man. A woman in a street car will give the dime to the conductor who will give her a nickel back. Then she will open the satchel and take out purse, put in the nickel and close the purse, open the satchel and put in the purse, close the satchel and lock both ends. Then she will feel to see if her hair is all right. That is a woman.—Ex.

G. O. P. Polled Big Vote In Tex.

298,046 In 1924 for Rutte and 162,506 for McKinley

Twice during comparatively recent years has Texas cast a large Republican vote. The most recent year was 1924, when George C. Rutte, Republican nominee for Governor, polled 298,046 votes, against 422,069 for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who was the Democratic nominee. The next preceding election year in which the Republicans made a notable showing was 1896, when McKinley, Republican nominee for President, received 162,506 votes against 368,269 votes cast for Bryan, running on the Democratic and Populist tickets. In 1924 there were 252 organized counties, of which all but two reported. There were 193 in the Democratic column and 57 in the Republican. In 1896 there were 216 reporting counties, of which 187 were Democratic and 29 Republican. Only eight counties went Republican in each of these two years. They were Brazoria, Brazos, Crockett, Hansford, Jeff Davis, Kinney, Matagorda and Sherman—Dallas News.

Find Arrowheads in Cornfield Near Here

What seemed to be at one time a battlefield for the Redskins is now a corn patch, owned by H. Searzenbach, six miles north of Big Spring. About fifty arrowheads were unearthed in this field yesterday afternoon, and other instruments made of flint that some say the Indians used to scrape hides with were also found with the arrowheads.

Made of flint the arrowheads are perfectly shaped and measure about 3 inches in width and seven inches in length.

Ever so often our citizens find evidences of the fact that Indians once roamed this country.

Viaduct Plans To Be Ready In Few Days

Engineering Department of Texas & Pacific Railway Company Completing Necessary Plans

Differences Adjusted

A Twenty-Four Foot Roadway Will Be Adopted for the Viaduct

Some action relative to the construction of the viaduct across the railway tracks on Gregg street will soon be in order.

Robert T. Piner and W. W. Inkman, members of the city commission of Big Spring were in conference with J. E. Mitchell, chief of the engineering department of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company at Dallas and practically all the points of difference between city, county and railway officials were ironed out.

The increasing of the driveway of the viaduct to a width of twenty four feet made it necessary to completely revise the specifications and a little delay in completion of the plans, etc., will result. The form of the contract entered into the manner of calling for bids etc., were also arranged to the satisfaction of all parties.

An appropriation of the cost of the structure had already been agreed upon.

With all differences out of the way, it is now up to the engineering department to complete their work in preparing plans and specifications just as rapidly as possible so bids can be called for and the work started on this important project at an early date.

The citizens will feel like giving a big jubilee to celebrate the completion of this viaduct. It is going to eliminate one of the most dangerous places in our city and prove a big benefit to the residents of the northern part of our city, the northern portion of our county and for the railroad company.

Our entire citizenship will rejoice to know that work is to start on this work in the very near future.

Sinclair Stewart In Oil Combine

A working combination of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company involving hundreds of millions of dollars is now predicted.

Signs pointing to such a combination are seen in the contemplated doubling of the capacity of the Sinclair pipe line, which is controlled by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation.

It is contemplated doubling of capacity presages a combination between Colonel Robert W. Stewart chairman of the board of the Standard of Indiana and Harry F. # Portions Of Howard County Not Some Rain

Crops are right now in a critical stage and a big soaking rain would insure big crops for our county. The Ackerly sections are said to have received a big rain Sunday. The rain started falling in Big Spring Sunday night, and continued on and off practically all night long.

What has all the ear-marks of being the big rain we have been praying for, made its appearance from the southeast about one o'clock today. The rain came down in torrents for a brief period and then eased off into a good old slow and steady rain, which we hope continues all evening.

Owing to inability to secure telephone service we have been unable to secure information as to the extent of the territory covered, or the amount of the rainfall.

Texas & Pacific Improvement Program Is On

This Busy Railroad Has Program For Big Improvements All Along The Line

Oil Making it Great

Big Program For Big Spring Is Included in the Improvement Plans

The oil fields of West Texas are making the Texas and Pacific railway the busiest and most prosperous railroad in the United States. The officials of the road are kept on the jump to carry out a gigantic improvement campaign to enable the railroad to meet the demands being made upon it, and it may be necessary to double track the line between Pecos and Fort Worth in order to meet the demand. Every siding on the system had to be extended to take care of the mile long trains the monster freight engines handle. The extension of railroad telephone conversation lines and the installation of the electric block system are other big improvements.

"With the eyes single to the greatest measure of safety in the operation of the train service, the Texas and Pacific is now installing the automatic electric block signal system at all sidings along the road. The concrete signal bases are now being set and the system will be installed just as speedily as possible. This system is automatic in its operation by the passing of the trains, and indicates to trainmen the approach of another train anywhere within the vicinity of these signal blocks. It also eliminates the present manual block system. This installation is for the purpose of affording every possible measure of safety and efficiency in train operation.

The increased traffic of the road compels the Texas and Pacific to operate its trains with the least possible chance of accidents. The company expects to have the electric block system completed to Pecos by the end of this year.

A big improvement program is going forward right here in Big Spring in the re-arrangement of the local freight terminal. The capacity of the freight yards were doubled last year and they have purchased additional land to enable the present yards to be doubled. A viaduct across the railroad tracks and an enlargement of the railway shops here are on the improvement program.

FOOT BADLY MASHED WHILE RIDING FREIGHT

D. J. Smith is in the Big Spring sanitarium with a badly mashed foot, as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon. Smith, who gives his home address at Springfield, Ohio, was riding a freight train. The train was nearing Midland, when it started to rain, and Smith decided to get under the car to keep from getting wet. When he was descending from the car he got his foot caught and badly mashed. He was rushed to this city for medical attention.

It was necessary to amputate a portion of his right foot.

THAT AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

Now that the rain has arrived we ought to be able to secure a mighty fine exhibit for a Fall exhibit and to send to the Abilene and Dallas Fairs.

It might be a good idea for folks to plant some special crops, especially for our agricultural exhibit, to help boost Howard county.

Before we give up the ship we ought to have a water engineer make an investigation of the head of the Colorado river to determine whether or not we could secure a constant supply of water to serve a city

Committees at Work to Make This Year's Celebration The Biggest And Best In Its History

Much interest is centering around the Old Settlers' reunion and picnic that is to be staged in Big Spring on Friday July 27th in the Parrish Park one mile east of Big Spring.

This is an annual celebration and all persons living in Howard county for twenty-three years or longer are considered old settlers, and will be royally entertained this year.

The committees at work on the picnic, plan to make this year's the biggest and best in the history of Howard County's Old Settlers' Association.

The same general program will be followed, but new delights from old timers will be added, to put spice and pep into the meeting for all.

Old Settlers will register at Parrish Park, early Friday morning and under the shade of the big cottonwood trees the old timers will enjoy friendly conversation and a real old time get-together. At the noon hour a big barbecue dinner will be served to all old settlers. (Because of limited funds the committee in charge find that they cannot serve barbecue to everyone but to the Old Settlers and their families, only) Everyone who would like to come to the picnic, may bring their basket lunches and spread them in the shade of the big trees and enjoy this outing with the Old Settlers.

In the afternoon a splendid program has been arranged. Speech making by the old timers will be in order. At this time, some of the pioneers of the section will relate their experiences of the long ago, when Big Spring was a mere watering place. An old fiddlers' contest will also be held, and all old fiddlers are invited to bring their fiddles and take part in this contest.

Friday evening an old time dance will be held. To the tune of a fiddle and guitar the dance steps of the long ago will come back in vogue. All old timers who enjoy dancing are invited to take part. Those not dancing will be provided with seating space, near the platform where they can watch the dancing.

Everyone is looking forward with much interest and enthusiasm to this celebration, which is always an outstanding one in the calendar of Howard County. The committees who are working hard to assure this year's celebration great success, are as follows:

- General arrangements—T. H. Johnson, Mrs. G. L. Brown.
- Program—James T. Brooks, L. S. Patterson and Fox Stripling.
- Dance and Old Fiddlers' Contest—Ray Wilcox, J. S. Winslow.

Gains in High Gravity Area Shown in Weekly West Texas Oil Survey

While Winkler county, which is still under production restrictions imposed by the state railroad commission, was gaining 2,785 barrels daily production during the period of two weeks ending last Saturday Cranes county was losing 2,610 barrels daily, practically offsetting the gain in Winkler, according to the weekly survey of The Oil Weekly, Houston.

In the meantime, Jones and Fisher counties, which are now attracting numerous operators who seek profitable production of high gravity crude was gaining a total of 470 barrels daily and Pecos county was picking up 2,949 barrels daily to bring the total daily average production for West Texas fields to 342,170 barrels, or 4,830 barrels above that for the week ending July 7.

Jones county's daily average last week was 2,160 barrels, a gain of 350 barrels over the week ending July 7, while Fisher county produced 546 barrels each day last week, a rise of 120 barrels daily in two weeks.

Bake a pastry shell. Spread one cup of whipped cream in the bottom of the pastry shell. Pare and halve four ripe peaches. Steam and stone nine prunes, and arrange one prune in each peach half. Arrange the peach halves on the pastry shell, alternating with half slices of canned sliced pineapple. Place a prune in the center of the center of the pie and garnish with whipped cream. A cream filling may be used instead of the whipped cream, both for the garnish and for lining the pastry shell.

S. N. Laws Succumbs to Injuries

Young Man, Run Over By Switch Engine, Tuesday Fatally Injured. Funeral Services Tomorrow

S. N. Laws, 24, who was fatally injured when he was run over by a switch-engine in the Texas & Pacific yards, about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, passed away at 5:25 yesterday afternoon. Laws, received a crushed chest, and other serious injuries, and little hopes were held for his recovery from the first.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Eberley Undertaking Parlor, in the morning at 11 o'clock and the remains will be laid to rest in the Mt. Olive cemetery.

Laws, who was a member of the signal department of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company was at work on the tracks, about 200 yards west of the Gregg street crossing, when the accident happened. It is said that he had started across the tracks for some material, stepping from behind a moving train in front of an approaching engine. He was knocked down by the engine and run over.

Laws was underneath the engine when it was stopped, and it was necessary to remove a portion of the railroad ties to release him without injuring him more seriously.

Surviving Mr. Laws is his mother, Mrs. Catherine Laws, who lives at 609 East Fourth street; four brothers, Elmer Laws of Marshall, Texas; Harvey Laws of Big Spring; Opal Laws of Big Spring; Luther Laws of New Mexico, and Miss Norma Laws of this city, all of whom will be here for the funeral services, except the brother from New Mexico.

Deceased had made his home in Howard county the past five years, moving to Big Spring from Mt. Vernon, Texas. He was held in high esteem, by all who knew him. He was a fine young man, and many hearts are grieved at his untimely death.

Mexico's Gov't To Pay Railroads

EL PASO, July 25. (AP)—Dispatches to El Continental from Mexico City say the Federal government has resolved to pay the National and Southern Pacific railways three million pesos. It owes these lines on conditions that this sum be invested in warehouses and bettering the services over these lines.

The railways will most likely agree to the condition imposed in order to secure payment of amount due.

THE GREATEST SHIPPING STATION

According to officials of Standard Oil, the world's greatest shipping station for crude oil is being built at Port Aransas, Texas. A huge port development is now under way there, and the town, which has figured in many dramatic incidents of Texas history, is assuming a new importance. Oil from the West Texas fields is responsible. It is already being piped across the State to the port. Because of developments of which its founders could not dream, Port Aransas is to have the deepest harbor and to become one of the busiest places in all the Southwest.

IT HAPPENED TO LINDY—

At North Platte, Nebraska, Col. Charles Lindbergh had a new experience. He offered his check in payment for coffee and rolls and had it turned down. "We don't know you." But now its happens-attempts to explain.

This incident will make the whole country smile. It should, also, be a potent factor in preserving the public peace.

Few things make an ordinarily well known man "madder" than having his attempt to cash a small check met with a cool "we don't know you." But now it's happened to Lindy, his less famous fellow mortals should be able to hold their tempers when it happens to them.

ROUND WORLD IN 23 DAYS

John Henry Marse and B. D. Collyer landed in New York City Sunday evening at 8:21 o'clock, thereby establishing a record of 23 days, 15 hours and 21 minutes and 3 seconds for a trip around the world. The previous record held by Linton Wells and Edward Evans, New York newspaper men was 28 days, 14 hours, 35 minutes and 5 seconds.

Tax assessors of the District of Columbia estimate that the White House and the grounds surrounding it are worth about $22,000,000. Only two Federal properties, the Capitol and the Treasury Department building are valued at higher figures.

Mrs. J. L. McDowell who has been attending a Presbyterian meeting in Montreal, North Carolina, has gone to Waynesboro, Virginia, for a visit with relatives and friends.

To Drill Deep Tests For Water Experts made hold to the theory that it is an absolute impossibility to secure a large supply of fresh water from a depth of 600 to 700 feet in this area, but we understand three of our land owners are planning to make deep tests on their holdings west of Big Spring. West Texas has a habit of causing geological theories to look silly and here's hoping the bits will prove that the experts have made another wrong guess as to our water resources.

Big Spring city officials are making war on loose livestock, getting them off the streets in the interest of flower gardens and public safety. It is a campaign that should be extended into the country. Livestock running at large on the public highways are a menace to life and property. In some counties of the state the motorist encounters them at every turn. Night driving is made hideous by their presence. A husky helper or a heavy horse that steps from the shadow of a bush right smack into the path of a fast-driven motor car is a dangerous obstruction to traffic. Laws against the running at large of livestock should be enforced in all counties of the state.—Abilene News.
