Loan Undesirable On Account Of Financial Reasons, Says Director

TO CONTINUE EFFORTS FOR FEASIBLE PROJECT

Commission To Take Up Matter Again At Next Week's Meeting

On the heels of word that approval had been given application for a $25,944 grant to be used for airport improvements, news of rejection of an application for a $30,000 self-liquidating natatorium and bath house loan was received here Friday.

The application for the loan to be used in construction of a modern bathing pool on city park properties was submitted last autumn by City Manager E. V. Spence. The airport application was made during January.

Carey H. Brown, acting chairman of the board of review for Administrator Harold Ickes of the Public Works, said in a letter to Spence Friday that "the loan cannot be recommended for financial reasons."

He pointed out that "revenue bonds are offered as security, but we are of the opinion that the revenue reasonably to be expected from the project would not be sufficient to pay operating expenses and interest and amortize the loan within the fifteen year period suggested."

Brown said that if the city were able to offer some other type of security and will submit data in support of such security, the application will be recommended by the board of review.

A request for reopening and the data supporting the application should be submitted in writing prior to February 28, he said.

It was not known Friday whether the city would offer any other security other than revenue bonds. He did not know what the attitude of the commission would be. He said the commission would take it up in the next regular meeting on February 13.

The natatorium project was one of the best prepared applications made from this section. It was sent to Washington with favorable recommendation by the regional (CONTINUED ON PAGE 7)

Real Estate Sales Put Off Till March 6

Passage Of Foreclosure Bill In Legislature Postpones Advertisements

AUSTIN, (AP)—Two Texas House Friday adopted a conference committee report on the bill suspending the forced sale of foreclosed real property for thirty days. The senate had not started consideration of the report, but the bill received enough votes in the House to become effective immediately if given a two-thirds majority in the senate, and signed by the governor.

Sales now advertised for next Tuesday would be postponed until March 6.

The conference committee bill would postpone all sales except in cases where record of owner of property and debt holder agreed to the sale. The agreement must be in writing. (Continued On Page 7)

Watson Wires Information To Local Chamber Of Commerce

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR IMMEDIATE USE

Improvement Include Two New 3,000-Foot Runways

The Department of Commerce Friday approved an application for a grant of $25,944.67 to be used in effecting improvements on the Big Spring airport.

Announcement of the action which will bring two 3,000 feet hard surfaced runways and other needed improvements to the local port was made from Washington by C. T. Watson, chamber of Commerce, manager.

"This means $25,944 are available for immediate use," said Watson in a message to the chamber.

Granting of the sum assures local officials that there will be no curtailment in proposed improvements. Plans for the port project were drawn by City Manager E. V. Spence, who estimated that $26,000 would be needed to make the improvements of permanent value.

Pat Landman, department of commerce aeronautics engineer, had at first told local officials that little more than $14,000 would be recommended for the Big Spring port.

Improvements include construction of two runways built on calciche base, 3,000 feet long and 100 feet wide, made of asphalt topping with rock aggregate; fencing of the port properties; repainting of border lights; repainting of the down town sign directing flyers to the port.

Application for the grant was dependent upon action of the city commission in agreeing to lease the port for a period of five years. The city agreed to do this for a consideration of $1 per year plus net operating revenues.

However, realization of the grant can be largely attributed to the generosity of the American Airways, which maintains a refueling stop here on its transcontinental route.

American Airways, through C. R. Smith, vice-president, agreed to increase the annual lease price from $900 to $1,300 provided the improvement. (Continued On Page 7)

COLEMAN (AP)—Three men robbed the First Coleman National Bank of about $24,000 Friday, kidnaped six employes and officers, releasing all but one two blocks away.

Charles Woodruff, assistant cashier, was knocked unconscious and loaded into the robbers' car as they fled.

S. H. Gray, vice-president; Jake Levy, bookkeeper; C. W. Hemphill, Jr., vice-president; E. C. Ebens, cashier and one other employe jumped off the car as it went past a service station.

The men entered the bank half an hour before opening time, made the porter lie down on the floor and waylaid other employes as they entered the bank.

The robbers waited for the time lock to open vault, scooped up the money, herded employes into a car and then fled.

The car was headed toward Brownwood and Cisco when last seen. Woodruff was released an hour later at Santa Anna.

450 Million More For CWA Work Is Asked

Hopkins Says Present Funds Will Be Exhausted February 9

WASHINGTON (AP)—Immediate appropriation of $450,000,000 to carry on the Civil Works program for its four million employes and $500,000,000 for direct relief, was recommended to the house Friday by the appropriations committee.

Simultaneously the committee released an account by Harry Hopkins, CWA relief administrator, that even with Civil Works request $100,000,000 higher than originally intended it was improbable the CWA program would last through May.

Hopkins told the committee that unless immediate action was taken the $400,000,000 originally allotted for CWA would be exhausted February 9th and there will be no funds to meet the huge payroll.

Hopkins said 9 percent of Texas families were on relief payrolls and 11 percent of families of the entire nation were receiving relief.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Friday passed the Johnson bill, this time with the administration's support, to deny new credits in this country to all nations behind in debts to the American government.

The retaliatory measure, putting debt-defaulters on notice anew that the United States expects payment of war and post-war overdue, was sent to the house.

The bill provides for a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment to any person or corporation which buy or sell securities or loan money to defaulting countries.

Three Crews Put To Work On No. 1 East Of Coahoma

Three crews have been put on Highway No. 1 east from Coahoma and started work Friday on grading the new roadway to the county line.

County Administrator R. H. McNew said that three crews of fifteen men each working fifteen hours per week would be used.

If and when money is received here for the airport improvements, which C. T. Watson said Friday from Washington would be made, men will be put to work on that project, McNew said.

There have been only minor changes in the routine for C. W. A. workers here since last week, he added.

What's New In Hats Told By Mrs. Milner After Visit To Recent Style Show In Dallas

Mrs. J. L. Milner returned Thursday morning from a two-day buying trip in Dallas, in which she attended the Style Show at the Fair Park Coliseum, and bought hats for Albert M. Fisher Co.

Mrs. Milner says that, in spite of "Vogue," the hats are pretty this season and more than ordinarily becoming, and that the freak styles are uncommon. Most of the hats have brims wide enough to be flattering and are more wearable than they have been in several seasons.

The few freakish ones look all right on the right head, but only the right one, and these should be carefully chosen.

Among the newest styles is the all round rolled-up brim, which has already been widely advertised. The hat was patented, said Mrs. Milner, by a man who called it simply the round up. It is one of the trying new styles but the right person wears it exceptionally well.

Another style has been named "The Dogie," she said. This is a close-fitting black hat with a tiny veil; its appearance has no relation to its name, so apparently the man who named it was merely eager to cash in on the popularity of little doggies this season.

Piads in straws are good for sports wear. The predominating shades are navy and black, although costume combinations of brown and green are smart.

Crowns are still shallow but there is a medium crown made for those who can not wear the shallow hat.

In place of ribbon and cloth hats, a small soft crushable style are being made this season in what is called "fabric straw." These hats are shown in the new off-the-face styles.

Mrs. Milner said too, it was to be an early white season. She agrees with the shoemakers that by March first the country will be clothed in all white ensembles from hat to feet—at least the well-dressed, up-to-the-latest women will.

Just at present however, women are wearing the darker colors, such as black and navy.

Rev. O. P. Clark Marries Young Couple In Abilene At Home Of Groom's Brother

Miss Vera Debenport and John Ross Williamson were united in marriage Thursday afternoon in Abilene at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson.

Miss Debenport, who has been in Austin attending the University of Texas, completed her semester's work and finished her examinations, then came up to Abilene Thursday.

Although parents and friends had been expecting the marriage, the date had not been officially announced, and it came as a surprise to Big Spring when Mr. and Mrs. Williamson returned from Abilene.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. P. Clark, formerly presiding elder and now pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist Church of Abilene. Mrs. Marion Edwards, sister of the groom, accompanied him to Abilene.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mrs. Kate Williamson. He, too, was born and reared in Big Spring. He joined the Navy in the midst of his school years and spent two years on the high seas, returning to Eastland to finish his work in the high school there. He also did work in a junior college at San Antonio. He is now connected with the Cosden Refinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson are making their home in an apartment on East 12th street.

LONGER LIFE HELD ATTAINABLE SOON, MODERATION CALLED THE GUIDEPST

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
 NEW YORK — Ten thousand Japanese more than 80 years old recently told how they live, and their stories agree with the general direction surveyed for the several, still dimly understood, scientific roads to longevity.

These roads are diet, heredity, rest and mental poise. All seem to be converging toward the common goal of moderation.

New Theory Of Feeding
 On the diet road there are two recent significant surveys indicating how man may soon learn to prolong his life. The latest, by Dr. C. M. McCay, of the Cornell university animal nutrition laboratory, challenged the present practice of feeding both animals and children enough to produce maximum size in the shortest time.

In his colony of rats Dr. McCay has some already twice normal rat ages, and still going, with the oldest equal to 110 years of human life. The lives of these animals were doubted by just one thing—feeding them less than enough to let them grow as fast as nature would permit.

Ten Years Longer
 The other survey shows diet applied in a manner more nearly fitting human desires. This was made by Dr. Henry C. Sherman, of Columbia university, whose experiments led him to predict that the average life span can be prolonged 10 years in the near future by choice of diet.

No nation yet has ventured to apply the known laws of heredity that result in longer life. But the Japanese study suggests this type of heredity is somehow mingled with moderation; that those who inherit their longevity come from families neither very small nor extra large.

Cities Shorten Life
 This study was made by Dr. Nakayama, a school hygienist. To him the 10,000 reported on climate, circumstances and manner of living, hygiene, tastes and family records.

Living In Cities, a tabulation of the 10,000 reports shows, decreases the life span. Aged women are more numerous than aged men. Seaside villages were the most numerous among the habitats of these long-lived Japanese. All villages exceeded all towns for long-lived inhabitants and the towns were ahead of the cities.

The majority of those who reported were agricultural workers. Most were of medium build but some were corpulent and a few slender.

To keep people marching a longer time on the path of life is one of the tasks to which science has set itself, exploring the still vague territories of diet, heredity, rest and mental poise. A survey of 10,000 long-lived Japanese tends to confirm the belief that moderation is an important factor in attaining longevity.

Hints On Taking Care Of Waffle Iron

They now go to bed early and rise late. They generally have led quiet lives.

They are not particular about what they eat or drink. Half of them are drinkers, but the women are all non-drinkers.

Middle Class Leads

The majority of these aged Japanese had long-lived grandparents, parents, brothers and sisters. They all had from three to five brothers and sisters. They were found mostly in the middle classes.

In this group it appeared that unmarried persons seldom live to great age. Tall men lived longer than short ones.

The majority were eldest sons and daughters and were born of parents still in their twenties.

Raskob's Tip Leads Couple To Reuniting

Mr. And Mrs. Gaines, After Five-Year Marital Rift, Go Together

SONORA, (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gaines were reunited Thursday after a five-year marital rift, thanks to a generous tip John J. Raskob gave to a Sonora waitress.

Raskob, New York financial and one-time "angel" of the National Democratic party, created something of a sensation here on Jan. 22 when, after eating a meal in a local cafe, he tipped Miss Eleanor Hanson $20.

Like the shot that was heard around the world, the tip news resounded over a wide area. Gaines, the waitress' stepfather, read about it in Louisiana. He had not heard from Eleanor's mother since the couple separated. Immediately, he came here, where he learned from his stepdaughter that Mrs. Gaines was in San Angelo, 65 miles away.

In San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Gaines effected a reconciliation and returned to Louisiana together.

Stuffing Mail Boxes With Non-Revenue Matter Prohibited

The recent order of the postmaster general restricting the use of mail boxes to mail matter only, should meet with the hearty approval of both patrons and postal employees.

The practice of some Big Spring advertisers and some business concerns stuffing these boxes with statements, circulars, handbills and other matter has grown to the point where the loss of rightful revenue plus the additional time required to make delivery of mail, called for action.

The enforcement of this order will speed up the delivery of mail and result in increased postal receipts.

-- to a Lady

THIS evening when your husband comes home, what would he think if you greeted him in the wedding dress you wore a good many years ago? One thing sure—he'd silently wonder how you could have seemed so lovely then in an outfit that looks so old-fashioned now.

We wonder if your husband realizes there has been as much change in furniture as in wedding dresses? (Remember what you told him the other day, "Most of the furniture in this house was bought right after we were married.")

There is no better time than now to greet him in that wedding dress—and then show him the furniture advertisements in the newspaper! Today you can read about and see pre-views of the furniture shows that will be held next month, so close at hand. And it will probably surprise you to learn he is as interested as you are. Men don't like to go through the stores to shop. But it's quite easy to get them to read over the advertisements in the quiet of your home.

Wouldn't today be a good time to get him to say "yes" about that new furniture you've been wanting?

It will be headed by the Big Spring High School band. In the parade will be seen the new models of Plymouth, Ford, Chevrolet and Pontiac automobiles entered by the local dealers. There will also be delivery cars of various grocers who handle Gold Medal Flour.

The Overton Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Jake Patterson Thursday afternoon.

The club is to study famous pictures during the year, a few minutes of each meeting being devoted to this work. The picture this week was "By the River," by Henri LaRolle. Mrs. James told the life story of LaRolle, along with the many interesting things portrayed in the picture.

There was a demonstration on woven baskets by Mrs. Tate, Reed and flat reed being used with a wooden foundation and made into a small tray.

Mrs. Patterson showed the members her accomplished problem in decoration, which was a beautiful kitchen done in blue and white color scheme with touches of pink, orchid and green in the designs on the cabinets, table, and chairs. All the painting and hand decoration was done by Mrs. Patterson.

Those present were: Misses, Earl Lucas, G. W. Overton, F. C. Tate, Jewel White, W. B. Dunn, G. L. James, Jake Patterson and Jessa Overton.

DEMOCRACY'S FOE

A democracy is its worst enemy. Democracy, enlightened and intelligent, can bring down upon nations, states, and cities the ideal government. Democracy, uninformed and different, can precipitate a rotten condition in government almost as despicable as despotism.

The fact that Howard county will probably have a potential voting strength of approximately 4,600 this year indicates that the local electorate is interested.

Under our form of government it is the patriotic duty of every eligible citizen to cast a ballot in elections. However, no amount of pleading or speaking will alter the fact that about one-tenth of those able to vote this year will for some reason stay away from the polls.

For the same reason, what ever it is, a majority of the people who go to the polls, rearrange their prejudices, and feel that they have discharged a sacred duty to the best of their ability.

Every voter should closely scrutinize issues involved in various races, study without prejudice the relative merits and records of candidates, close his ears to petty, malicious political propaganda, and vote with the deliberation of a man called to sit upon a jury.

People of Howard county have taken one great step toward making the most of democracy. The next step, that of wisely exercising the franchise, is far greater, more difficult, and important.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR MERCHANTS

Hundreds of merchants from all parts of the United States had a splendid opportunity to visualize the protection offered them by stock company fire insurance when they viewed the exhibit of the National Board of Fire Underwriters at the recent National Retail Dry Goods association's twenty-third annual convention.

The exhibit, occupying two large booths, pointed out that engineering and inspection service for holders of stock policies is available everywhere, for all classes of property. Accompanying this was a list of the many types of insurance written to fit every conceivable commercial need. Fire, lightning, tornado and damage by other elements, consequential loss insurance covering rentals, use and occupancy, and so on; inland marine insurance covering loss in transit and innumerable risks—these and many other types of essential coverage are offered. To make the exhibit more vivid, moving pictures of the Underwriters' Laboratories were shown, giving convention attendants a complete visual knowledge of the many services the stock companies render.

Merchants are but one class of business men who are saved millions of dollars every year through the work of the stock fire insurance industry, in waging an unremitting fight for better building codes, more efficient municipal fire equipment and water alarm systems, and in promoting many activities designed to lessen fire hazards.

Industrialists, farmers, homeowners—all are greatly benefited by such fire prevention and service work.

SILVER—THE NEXT STEP

The Presidential proclamation fixing the price of silver at 44 1/2 cents per ounce is, in the view of a number of monetary experts, simply the first important step in bringing the silver problem to a logical conclusion.

The 54 1/2 cent price marks a definite advance over recent silver quotations. But during the last few months there has been a jump in the value of gold of more than fifty per cent, as part of the government's dollar devaluation policy. The result is that silver, in relation to gold, is actually cheaper than usual.

It is the belief of many that the essential thing is the establishment of a definite relation in the values of gold and silver—so that when gold goes up or down, the value of silver will automatically follow. They believe that only in this way can foreign trade be really stimulated, and our lost commerce regained.

This theory, of course, has its expert opponents, precisely as it has its expert advocates. That is an excellent thing—the debate will bring it before the public and widen our general knowledge of the whole question of money. It is something for every citizen to watch.

Better After Taking First Bottle of Cardui

"I was in need of something to build me up, as I was in a run-down condition and suffering with my back and sides," writes Mrs. M. M. Cook, of Fort Payne, Ala. "The pain in my side seemed to cause a soreness all through my body. I was reading the newspaper and saw Cardui advertised. I thought it might help me. After my first bottle, I felt better and I took another, after which I was greatly improved, so much so that I have recommended Cardui since."

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Cliff Bolton, reserve back stop of the Washington Senators, had the best pinch-hitting mark in the American League last year—prior to the occasion when he hit into a double play with the bases full in the most crucial moment of the 1933 world series—but his teammate, Sheriff Dave Harris, has a record for great consistency in the "clutches" over a period of years.

As Henry P. Edwards, the dean of A. L. information diggers, points out, Harris is just as poisonous to left-handers in the pinches as a name-sake, battle-scarred Joe Harris, used to be to curve-ball flingers.

During the four seasons that Dave Harris has been in the big leagues, he has been at bat 99 times as a pinch hitter, with 15 runs, 29 runs-batted-in, 16 passes and 39 hits, including eight doubles, one triple and three home runs, to show for his emergency operations. His pinch-hitting average, has been: 1930—.526; 1931—.385; 1932—.333; 1933—.400.

NOTES ON SOUTHPAWS—

Discussing his pinch hitting ability with Edwards, Harris remarked:

"When I was in the minors and was sent up to hit in a pinch, I used to be nervous but when I came to the American League, I overcame that fault. In fact, I possibly went to the opposite extreme, particularly when a left hander was on the mound. I always felt I could hit about .500 or better off the southpaws and I acquired confidence that I was better than the pitcher when I was called upon to hit for some player who was weak against left hand pitching. The tables became reversed. It was the pitcher who became nervous, not yours truly."

"Now, to talk a minute about that no-hit game I spoiled for Tommy Bridges of Detroit in 1932. I have heard it reported that I made the remark along in the seventh inning that if the situation came up and I was the only batter between Bridges and a no-hit game, I would purposely strike out. That's all wrong. I always have believed in playing the string out and when Tommy's first pitch was just where I wanted it, I swung hard and slammed a single to left field."

"MONEY PITCHER"

The headlines were not so boastful in proclaiming it, but the Red Sox may have been just as smart in signing Herb Pennock as usual.

It is the belief of many that the essential thing is the establishment of a definite relation in the values of gold and silver—so that when gold goes up or down, the value of silver will automatically follow. They believe that only in this way can foreign trade be really stimulated, and our lost commerce regained.

This theory, of course, has its expert opponents, precisely as it has its expert advocates. That is an excellent thing—the debate will bring it before the public and widen our general knowledge of the whole question of money. It is something for every citizen to watch.

Newly Appointed Telephone Head

J. B. PATTERSON

J. B. Patterson has been appointed Division Commercial Superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for West Texas, effective March 1, according to word received here today by W. G. Riddle, district manager. Patterson will succeed M. P. Caldwell who retires after forty-one years of service.

Patterson was born and educated at Sweetwater. A printer during vacations and after class hours while going to high school, he followed the printing trade for some months after graduation, and then leased the Roby Banner, which he published for about a year. In August 1918, the telephone company needed a manager at Roby and Patterson left the newspaper business to join the ranks of those who have for a creed "The message must go through."

Promotions came frequently to young Patterson, as he received assignments in Anson, Sweetwater, Fort Worth, Dallas, Amarillo, and again at Dallas. For the past five years he has been connecting company agent, a job which required him to handle business matters with more than 300 independent telephone companies throughout Texas.

As Division Commercial Superintendent he will have charge of all Bell business offices throughout West Texas, offices serving 83,000 telephones.

Cotton growers of the south realized about $56,776,000 for the 1933 crop, including lint and seed.

a free agent as they were in paying Connie Mack a fancy price for Robert Moses Grove.

Naturally Grove, still a real work-horse, will appear in at least twice as many games as Pennock and be the No. 1 starting pitcher, whereas the former Yankee southpaw will appear chiefly as a relief artist. That's the big difference, but there is still plenty of deception and smartness in Pennock's report.

Pennock not only is able to step in and do a masterful job with what's left of his stuff, when he feels fit, but his experience and coaching talents are an asset to any manager pitching staff. No doubt Bucky Harris had that in mind when he asked the Red Sox to give Herb a contract. No less an authority than Babe Ruth, once a pretty fair left-handed pitcher himself, insists that Pennock is the greatest "money pitcher" he has ever known.

On Monday night a football banquet will be held for the Steers in the Crystal ballroom of the Settles Hotel. The event was originally scheduled for tonight, but circumstances forced postponement. Obie Bristow, who has been traversing the country for nearly two weeks, called in from San Antonio Wednesday afternoon to say he could not be here by today. Hence the cancellation.

Ducats will go for fifty cents. If at all possible, purchase two, one for yourself and one for a member of the squad. A very unique and entertaining program is being worked out, according to Principal George H. Gentry.

Tickets for the feed are going on sale today at the following places: Smith Bros. Drug, Settles Drug and the desk in the Settles Hotel.

We regret very much that Big Spring women golfers are unable to keep account of their scores. A story was printed in last Sunday's issue of the Herald, turned in by one of the golfers, containing several mistakes. This department absorbed all of the blame.

We suggest that the Big Spring team check over their scores again. Maybe they won and didn't know it. To correct the mistakes, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Hicks did not lose the afternoon round, but won nearly everything, losing only one hole.

Jim Cantrill, who with his Colorado Wolves will make a mighty strong bid for district five basketball honors, has had the greater part of his squad on the sick list. The Wolves haven't been at full strength since their tournament. Cantrill said he hoped to have all of his players lined-up by time for the southern half tourney.

We haven't received word yet as to whether San Angelo and Colorado have reached an agreement on the date for their football game. The trouble with this district is that each school wants to make all the money possible with a "losing" team. When everybody has the same idea, it's bound to cause a little friction.

The Steers will not see any more action until the Lamasa Golden Tornadoes visit here Tuesday night. The A.C.C. Fresh team is booked here for Thursday.

MANY FILM AND STAGE STARS LINKED IN POST-DIVORCE ROMANCES Half-And-Half Hoses! HOW ARIZONA HANDLES DILLINGER DESPERADOES

If their divorce decrees were final now, wedding bells probably would ring for several movie stars. Even so, there's romance aplenty in the Hollywood air. Here are four couples who have announced plans to wed when divorce decrees become final, or whose names are linked in marriage rumors. AVIATION REACHES 30TH BIRTHDAY

Aviation has progressed a long way since December 17, 1903, when Orville Wright made his memorable flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C. Since then, flying has become not only a major means of transportation, it has influenced profoundly every other method of transportation, by competition and example. Improvements in airplanes, however, are traceable in almost every case to improvements in the materials from which they are made, particularly in the case of metals. Because the flight of a plane depends upon its power to lift its weight from the ground, the first necessity has always been to provide maximum power at minimum weight. This has required metallurgical advances.

The famous Liberty Motor, for example, was a triumph of metallurgy. Through the use of molybdenum, an alloy that imparts great toughness to steel, it was possible to make the Liberty Motor light enough to develop one horsepower for every two pounds of weight. Today the most advanced airplane engine is probably the Wright Cyclone. This is the engine used by Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh in their recent 30,000-mile flight. Developing 715 horsepower, this engine through the use of improved metals—molybdenum, chrome molybdenum, and chrome-nickel-molybdenum steels and duraluminum—weighs only 1.22 pounds per horsepower. However, while the engine is the heart of the airplane and metallurgical development is most important to it, other parts of a plane also benefit from metallurgical advances. The fuselage of a modern plane, for strength and lightness, is therefore made of chrome molybdenum tubes, welded and riveted together. Landing gear, which must withstand terrific strains, is also constructed of chrome molybdenum steel. Fortunately, for war purposes, the United States has approximately 85 per cent of the world's known supply of molybdenum. For this reason, during the World War there was no lack of this necessary alloy for the Liberty Motor, although other countries found great difficulty in getting supplies for their own fighting planes.

New spring hats are away off the face in style, and tricky in design, as shown by these models designed by Lilly Dache. At left is a dusty pink "Madame Bovary" bonnet. Chapter 11 THE BLOCKADE

Grahame, bending over the prostrate flyer high up on the little shelving beach, saw Winslow's eyes open. For an instant the eyes were blank; whereupon consciousness flooded them. He smiled uncertainly. "Spin Winslow," he murmured, "once Consolidated's stunt man; now does bathing beauty bits. Thanks, Frank."

Partners

As a result of threatened litigation quite a few members of Wall Street firms are quietly looking around for prospective new partners. Certain men with a reputation for having preserved their resources through the depression are getting discreet partnership offers in brokerage and banking houses at the rate of one a week.

War

You'd be surprised how confident New York big-timers are talking about Russo-Japanese hostilities as a sure thing. You can get "event" money in some quarters that the dam will break this spring.

There is evidence that both sides are making extensive secret preparations. The Chilean nitrate business has had an unexpected windfall from Russian orders. Dozens of ancient tubs have shown up in Chilean ports to load up for Soviet destinations.

The Japanese for their part have been extremely busy building their air force. Submarine hostilities in this country for parts and materials have been kept quiet by payment in cash and shipment to Panama—where they are transferred to Japanese steamers.

Japan

Japanese foreign trade is expanding by leaps and bounds. They are now exporting motor cars to retail for $300, motorcycles for $60 and bicycles for $50. Copies of American radio tubes sell for three dollars a dozen. South African representatives of American firms say they will have to shut down if something isn't done to restrict Japanese imports.

Japanese dumping worries Europe too. Mussolini fears not only for his African markets but for domestic trading as well. Japanese "Scotch Tweeds" are being sold in England at unbeatable prices. In their recent conference, the Duce and Sir John Simon discussed plans against the American "Yellow Peril". The Austrian and Yugoslav governments have issued appeals against buying Japanese goods.

Cuba

About $5,000,000 worth of foodstuffs and cotton are to be shipped to Cuba to relieve suffering. This is by President Roosevelt's order. Financing will be arranged later through the RFC in connection with credits to the Cuban government.

Insiders learn that the Stock Exchange's respite from drastic regulation was not due to an unsuspected Washington love for bulls and bears. The hard-headed question of thawing frozen assets taken over by the government was the decisive factor.

If speculation were virtually abolished and markets cut down to investments size they'd be mighty thin and prices would undoubtedly suffer. That would leave the RFC and other federal agencies stocked up with chilly collateral behind the eight-ball. It's easy to see how rigid restriction at present could cost the government a lot of money. Wall Street is sure the administration gets the point.

Also there's the angle that thousands of people still watch the stock market as a barometer of recovery. There's no sense in pouring ice water on this sentiment if the changes behave—and they'll do their darnedest.

Peoria

The revival of the Peoria inquisition with the stock market on the spot causes a few fluttering pulses but no general alarm. Plenty of dirt can be dished if the Senate Committee desires but it will vary in detail—not in principle—from earlier exposures. The move is locally rated an effort to appease Congressional thirst for Wall Street gobs rather than to establish a basis for legislative action.

But nobody realizes any better than the Exchanges that this Peoria material can be used to smack them down a year from now if they aren't awfully good boys in the meantime.

Youth

The fact that the Stock Exchange has temporarily escaped a federal straitjacket has added to President Whitney's prestige in some quarters but the hidden revolt of the younger generation in Wall Street is far from quenched. The line of cleavage between age and youth in Wall Street becomes more distinct all the time.

This applies to the banking world as well as to security dealers. The oldsters accept the New Deal because they now realize resistance is futile but they still hope to rebuild on the old foundations. The youngsters are becoming more articulate in a demand for complete reconstruction in keeping with changes in the social and economic patterns. They have no recognized leaders as yet and are still too well disciplined to revolt openly.

But they are gathering strength and will be heard from—perhaps sooner than most people expect.

Re-Write

Insiders get the dope that the Dickinson Committee report on Exchange regulation was a re-write job. The story runs that the White House requested the first draft and

Olvera Puppeteers Give Interesting Variety Of Performances At Hi School Auditorium; Imitate Players

The marionettes from California that appeared at the high school auditorium Thursday evening played to an appreciative audience of children for the matinee performance and a small but fairly enthusiastic crowd in the evening.

Possibly the Roosevelt ball got most of the town's amusement money. At any rate, the adults did not put in the appearance that Mr. Gentry expected. Neither did they contend in the Olympic bridge contest; possibly nothing in the way of admission prices could have drawn them out Thursday night.

The marionettes played on a small stage, manipulated by strings. The operators said they used from ten to 23 strings for each figure and in all they manipulated about 6000 feet of string.

They do not use the term marionettes, except as a classification. They call their figures puppeteers. They play in Los Angeles in the Olvera street theater and for this reason are advertised as the Olvera "Puppeteers."

An interesting feature of the evening's performance was the talk made beforehand by one of the operators. He told of the origin of the puppets, explained the working of Oriental puppets, especially those of Bali and Siam, and also stated that his group planned to end up next summer at Chicago and play in the Century of Progress.

The evening show offered as high lights exaggerations of such famous movie stars as Greta Garbo, Marie Dressler, Mae West, Clark Gable, Joan Crawford. The two most interesting numbers were a trio of puppeteers playing the harp, the violin and the cello; and an Oriental dancing girl performing before a huge Buddha. The figures revealed an unusual degree of charm and humor and furnished a novel form of entertainment.

It is possible that those who attended last night's performance may remember it in years to come not only because of its entertainment value, but also because they were among the first to view a group of nationally famous marionettes on their climb to national fame—this is a privilege seldom accorded small-towners, and seldom taken advantage of by them when it does occur.

Pioneer Ranch, Business Woman Dies In Colorado, Funeral Services Held

COLORADO—Another of the pioneers who through many years held a place of leadership in the lives of Mitchell county citizens passed Wednesday morning in death Mrs. F. F. McKenzie, well known ranch and business woman. The widow of the late F. F. McKenzie, among the early ranchmen of this county, she was widely known in this section of the State. She died at the family residence, 642 East Eleventh street, at 12:45 a. m. from an attack of pneumonia. Rites held Thursday afternoon at 3 at the family residence were attended by one of the largest gatherings of West Texans ever to attend such a service in this city, attesting respect entertained for her among the people among whom she lived for many years. Mingling among those who came to pay respect to her life were rugged cattlemen who had known Mrs. McKenzie ever since she established residence in this county.

The Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of First Presbyterian church, the officiating minister, offered high tribute to her life in his sermon address. That deceased had contributed much to development of a finer citizenship was declared. The more offering was large and most beautiful, silently imparting again that this pioneer woman in death had left a strong heritage of love and respect in her home city and county.

Mrs. McKenzie had lived a widow since October 17, 1931, when her husband died at the family home here.

A grandson, Ross D. Dixon, Jr., and her son-in-law, Ross D. Dixon, are the immediate survivors here.

During the past few years Mrs. McKenzie had devoted her attention to active management of the Palace Theatre in Colorado. The McKenzie ranch has been leased for grazing purposes to other interests during the past several years. The theatre has been closed since her death but will open again Friday night.

Active pall bearers were Joe H. Smoot, W. W. Whipple, A. L. Maddin, Cecil Lanier, R. F. Fee, J. Jackson, Farris Lipps and Sherman Hart.

Burial was in the family plot in Odd Fellows cemetery with the Jones Russell Company in charge of funeral plans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Inkman of this city attended the funeral services in Colorado Thursday afternoon. Mr. Inkman is a first cousin of Mrs. McKenzie.

Body Of Houser To Lie In State Here

Body of Edward C. Houser, 60, father of Ed F. Houser of this city, who died Wednesday evening will lie in state at the Eberly Funeral Home until 2 p. m. Sunday when last rites will be said.

Burial is pending arrival of relatives.

Mr. Houser is survived by his widow, a son Howard, another son and three brothers and a sister. He lived near Forsan on the Owens-Sloan lease.

The 1933 Russian wheat crop is officially estimated at 1,600,000,000 bushels, an increase of 27 per cent over the 1932 crop.

JIM BOOZ THROWS PARTY

LINCOLN, Kan. (UP).—For anyone to throw a booze party in Kansas is illegal, but Jim Booz can throw one anytime he pleases. Jim Booz is the sheriff here and the liquor he "threw" was into an old well after he had confiscated the beverage. The well has no pump.

Revision Made In Class A By R. Henderson

Action Taken To Relieve Congestion In East Texas Area

AUSTIN (UP)—Roy Henderson, director of the Texas Intercollegiate League, Thursday announced a revision of Class A football districts to relieve congestion in the East Texas area.

A new district was created, although the number of football districts remains 16 due to the consolidation of Districts 15 and 16 in South Texas. The additional district is new only in geographical lines, containing old member-schools of the league.

No changes were made in districts one to eight inclusive. District nine now includes Bonham, Greenville, Paris, Sulphur Springs, and Texarkana.

District 10—Gladewater, Kilgore, Longview, Marshall, Tyler.

District 11—Athens, Henderson, Jacksonville, Lufkin, Nacogoches, and Palestine.

Under the revisions, effective in 1934, the district formerly numbered 11 becomes 12, 12 becomes 13, and so on until the combination of South Texas districts leaves the schoolboy football area still arranged in 16 districts.

Kiwanis Hears Varied Program

A variety program featured the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the ballroom of the Crawford Hotel Thursday. Houston Cowden, in charge of the program for the day, presented Merle Smith and Margaret Wade, high school students and members of the High School Choral Club, in a group of vocal duets.

"Modern Medicine in the Last Three-quarters Century" was the subject of the calculation talk of the day which was given by Dr. Charles K. Hivings.

A Kiwanis quartet composed of George Gentry Jack Ellis, Carl Blomsheld, and Rev. Bickley offered a selection.

Gentry, who is chairman of the local scout council, made an announcement concerning Scout Week activities. At eleven o'clock on February 10, President Roosevelt will speak over the radio to all scouts and scouters in America. The subject for the president's talk will be "The Scout's Part in the New Deal." All scouts and scouters in Big Spring will meet at the City Auditorium at 10:45 to hear the talk. Sunday evening, Rev. Bickley is to preach a special sermon at the First Methodist church.

Center of interest at the meeting was the roulette wheel on the wall. Dr. Lee Rogers explained its working. A lady member of one who has been absent determines the amount of his fine by spinning the wheel. The money from fines goes to the club fund for underprivileged children. First tardies were fined according to their luck. Bun and Joe Fisher and Jim Little, nothing; Temp Currie, four cents; Jack Davis, twenty-three cents. Davis continued to spin the wheel until he had determined the extent of his fine for the next month to be little less than a dollar.

Victors at the meeting were: J. W. Rice, J. L. Plinty, Julie Klapproth, L. P. Boone, Merle Smith, and Margaret Wade.

Members absent were: Vic Melinger, Gordon Graham, L. A. Eubanks, Wendell Bedichek and Jig Webb.

Arkansas Razorbacks To Invade Bear Lair

WACO—Two of three Southwest Conference basketball games scheduled to be played this week will be fought out in the Old Chapel Gym at Baylor Friday and Saturday nights when the Arkansas Razorbacks invade the lair of the Golden Bears.

With this Arkansas games the Bruins will finish the first half of their 1934 conference schedule. In their first four games the Green and Gold five did not win a single contest, while the Hogs won the first of a two-game series with TCU the only league tilt they have played.

In every conference tilt his team has played Coach Ralph R. Wolf has changed the Bruin lineup. After Theo Alford, center, was taken from the game by an attack of typhoid fever, Frank James was shifted to the pivot circle. When the Rice Owls came to Waco Jim Weatherly was assigned to the center position to guard Floyd Kelly, and in the Texas Aggie contest last week James went back to the middle circle, but Hugh Wilfong, sophomore forward, covered Joe Merka, A. and M. center and star goal chucker.

When Coach Glen Rose lines his Razorbacks up against the Bears, Coach Wolf will probably send the same team against them that started the clash at College Station last Saturday night. The forwards on this quintet are Wilfong, and Bennie Clark. James is the center and the guards are Capt. Jimmie Parks and Abe Barnett.

This team lost to the Aggies by a 30 to 1 score, but the Bruin mentor will probably use them as they hold the Farmers to 12 points for the first half, leading them most of the way. With the advantage of playing on the home court Coach Wolf expects his men to win over the Hogs in at least one of the games this week-end.

Personally Speaking

Mrs. P. M. Ashley of Sweetwater, aunt of Miss Ora Barker of this city, passed away Thursday night, following pneumonia.

Deputy Sheriff Boh Wolf returned Thursday evening from Fort Worth with his prisoner, Ralph Adams, wanted here in connection with a car theft in 1933.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson Of Chalk, Dies

Mrs. Jennie Fay Johnson, wife of T. E. Johnson, residing on the Chalk lease, died Thursday night at 8:30 p. m. at a local hospital following an illness of about two weeks.

Deceased is survived by her husband, three brothers, Noy Walker, Gouldsbush, Texas; R. W. Walker, Wimberly, Texas; and Hubert Walker, Gouldsbush, Texas; three sisters, Mrs. F. D. Holt, Ross City; Mrs. J. E. Holt, Waco; Mrs. Chas. Laidley, San Marcos; and her father, R. W. Walker of Waco.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Wimberly, Texas, January 1, 1914, and was 20 years of age at the time of her death. She was a useful and influential worker in the Baptist church at Chalk.

Funeral services will be held at Eberly Funeral Home Chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., with burial to follow in Mount Olive cemetery.

Pulitzer Quits Newspaper NRA Code Assignment

NEW YORK—Ralph Pulitzer, a member of the noted publishing family, Thursday announced his resignation as NRA division administrator in charge of the newspaper and allied codes.

"I have resigned as division administrator of the NRA," he said in a statement, "because I feel that the opposition to my appointment by the American newspaper guild would cast doubt on my impartiality in any question concerning its members which might come before me."

"Another compelling reason by my resignation is that the St. Louis Post Dispatch, of which I am a trustee and director, feels itself seriously embarrassed in either support of or opposition to the NRA and myself while I hold this appointment."

Watch for fireworks when this problem gets to the upper house. Already the Legionnaires are accusing the President of fast politics in connection with his $21,000,000 liberalization of the Veterans' Act. Their spokesmen tell you it restores only $9,250,000 in payments, while the hospital provisions are so restricted as to affect no one who can't prove destitution and serious illness.

The Legion says it should take $5,000,000 to handle the main points of their program.

Word has been passed straight from the White House that the door boys in the House trenches must take the ultimate rap.

President Roosevelt wants his Economy Act, embracing cuts for veterans and federal employees, kept strictly in his hands. It looks like a hard summer for some of the rds who have tried to duck commitments. Whatever the Senate may do will bounce right back on the House for ratification.

Malechek he really is a good fellow. Well, I had better start answering all of these questions. The first one I picked up read: "Who was that funny looking girl that was flirting with Rayford Thursday night at the ball game?" asked by Nova Hollaway. "Was a girl from the 'big city'." Ask Louise Madison for her name and telephone number. "Is Mr. Watkins a really big fellow?" asked by Lottie Belle Thorne. Answer—No, he is a very nice sort of a guy. He tries to look and act bad, but deep down inside he is a real fellow. "Did the Forsan Buffs really beat Big Spring?" asked by Cynthia. Answer—Boy, I'll say they did. They gave the Steers a good licking. "Will the senior girls win the county tournament?" asked by Mr. Martin. Answer—Yes, I sincerely believe they will, but it is going to be a tough job. The initial of the team to beat for the championship appears to be L or K. "Will I ever catch up with my civics notebook?" asked by Walter Schultz. Answer—Yes, if you will at least come to school once a month. Well, well, I picked up one and it read like this—"Have you ever been lonely, have you ever loved someone just as I love Doc?" "I have no name attached to it, but it sure does look like John C. Adams' writing. He must have 'it' pretty bad. "Will I ever get fat?" asked by Gilie Ruth Reed. Answer—No, you will not. "Who is the prettiest girl in school? Who is the best looking boy in school?" asked by Anon. Answer—I can not answer that because if I did someone would "string" me up. Ask Mr. Malechek, Mr. Watkins or Miss Wingo. "Why do the boys throw that little Hoard boy out of the window every day at noon?" asked Mildred Mangel. Answer—They throw him out so he will come in again and then they can throw him out again. It's all in fun though. Boys will be boys. This winds up all of my questions. Please do not send me any as I have been offered a copy of a job. I hate to leave dear old Forsan, but I have received a copy to go on the "air" or radio. Some of my answer have been right and some have been wrong, but no one is perfect they say. Wishing Forsan much happiness and success I leave you. Adios Compadres The Crystal Gazer rod trying to think up dirt. By four o'clock in the afternoon every floor in the building is knee deep in waste paper where kids have been trying to make a rhyme or think up a bright crack about somebody. Even the teachers jabber far into the night trying to think of more names like Virgil, Vinny. And would you believe it, Miss Moore, the serious thinker of the faculty, has been heard to say two funny things in the past week. Edna Mangel came up to the loan desk Wednesday and said she wanted something on wood. She got sore as heck when the librarian suggested that she use her hat. Some guy said that John Camp Adams and the other junior basketball boys looked like an old hen and a bunch of little chickens. Now, we think the guy who said that ought to be choked. If anybody ever showed real school spirit it is John Camp. He forgets his personal likes and dislikes and does everything he can for his school. He takes part in everything from the brass band to tiny toy story telling. Doris has a pointer dog that her "feller" gave her. She wanted to bring it to school, the Superintendent wouldn't let her. We heard that Rayford Liles wanted to throw a big week-end party some time soon and we were rather disturbed and pretty much disappointed in Rayford till he explained it was only a fishing party he wanted to throw. Here are some famous last words of some famous students which I have picked up from time to time: "Mr. Malechek, are you any kin to Mr. Watkins?"—Johnnie Branton. "Mr. Watkins, I've forgotten the algebra assignment!"—Kathryn Cowley. "Doris, did you ever have a date with Tommie Holloway?"—Anita McDonald. "Mr. White, you're driving the bus with the brake on!"—Lottie Belle Thorne. "Mut, where did you get that gash over your left eye?" James Madding. Johnnie Branton's green eyes are always yellow on Tuesday and Thursday. Yours Cynical Sid.

BUFFS SPLIT GAMES WITH BIG SPRING
Last Thursday night the Buffs lost a hard fought overtime battle to the Steers, by a score of 38 to 3. Both teams played excellent basketball and the tilt was one of the most interesting that the Buffs have taken part in. At the end of the first quarter the Buffs were trailing the Steers by 12 points. At the half the Forsanites had cut the Steer's margin in half and at the end of the game the score was tied, 32-32. During the next five minutes the Steers got loose and the game ended 38 to 3 in their favor.

Tuesday night of this week the Steers visited the Buffs and were defeated by a score of 23 to 15. Liles of Forsan was high point scorer with 9 points. Dan Yarbrow was next with 6. Cordill, of Big Spring came in high point honors with 5 points. Following is the box score:

TCU Student Saves Woman From Death

Hearing Screams, Youth Climbs To Second Story Apartment To Rescue

FORT WORTH, (UP)—The heroic efforts of Weldon Allen, 18-year-old Texas Christian University student from Coleman, Tex., was credited Thursday with saving Mrs. E. P. Williams, 60-year-old widow, from burning to death in a gas explosion at a neighbor's home Thursday night.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. C. H. Booth, 50, also a widow, were critically burned. Both were in a serious condition at a hospital.

Hearing a woman's screams, Allen, who was saving in an adjacent house, climbed a scantling to the second story window of Mrs. Booth's apartment and rescued Mrs. Williams from the blazing source. Mrs. Booth, in a hysterical condition, had escaped from the house herself.
