

This is the last edition of Wildcat Tales for this 1973 - 74 school year. We offer this little verbal pat on the back in appreciation to each one who c contributed to this bit of school news, and especially to Mrs. C.A. Claborn who has so faithfully sponsored the Wildcat Tales for so many years.

frey, and co - editor, Lorri Kelley Linney and reporters we say a special "thank you" for meeting the deadline so. promptly each week. It is hoped that each one of you gained something from this activity, and we shall look forward to working with some of you again next year. We extend hearty congratulations to the senior staff members, Lorri Kelley, Linney and Vicky Harvey.

Opinions will probably vary as to the monetary value of our recent rains which, according to the official quager John Lee, measured two inches. But to most of the farmers and stockmen it would fall in the category of that $1,000,000 bracket.

Terraclor gives your peanuts a fighting chance to produce their full yield potential ... protected from seed rot, seedling diseases and Southern Blight or stem rot. A full season application program is recommended. Apply Terraclor when you plant for protection from early fungi-caused diseases. Then apply again at pegging time for effective control of Southern Blight.

When the disease is visibleit's too late. Start your Terraclor protection program early. Protected peanuts can stay in the ground longer to develop heavier yields with sound, mature kernels. Year-after-year experience proves that all season control of fungi with Terraclor is a sound investment. See your chemical supplier or write for more information.

Jimmy Hughes Thanks Voters

Thanks to the voters of Eastland County for your support at the polls last Saturday. You have indicated by your vote that you would like to give the office of County Superintendent an opportunity to be of benefit to the schools of this county. I want to take advantage of that opportunity by offering the following services:

1. As the administrative duties of the office are I limited. I plan to serve as a supervisor. This will provide a supervisor for each school each day on a regular basis.

2. The assistant superintendent will be a person trained in Bulletin No. 679 bookkeeping. Bookkeeping service will be offered to those schools which are now using out of town computer bookkeeping; the services will be free except for the cost of supplies and additional help if the work load becomes too great.

3. A complete standardized testing program will be offered during the spring of each year with no cost to the schools except testing supplies.

4. An employment services will be offered in the summer for the youth of this county.

5. The office will aid the schools in adult education, health services, vocational education, special education, our conviction that here, and summer school, interscholastic here alone, lies any possibility league events, or any other activity that is county - wide in SCODE

Eastland County In Top Ten In Pecan Production

Eastland County ranked in the top ten in pecan production in Texas for the 1973 season, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced. Total pecan production for Eastland County was 680,000 lbs., compared with 1,625,000 lbs in 1972.

Production statewide was estimated at 23 million lbs., mostly from the Trans - Pecos, South Central, Cross Timbers and Blackland areas.

Texas dropped from first to fifth place in pecan production nationally.

"Pecans were expected to be down in 1973 from a year earlier since they are an alternating year crop, but production was also reduced by insect and weather problems" Commissioner White stated. South Central Texas was hard hit by the walnut caterpillar, which stripped many trees of their foliage two or three times.

A late freeze in April caught Central Texas trees in bloom, destroying much of the pecan

Thank you Note,

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who voted for me Saturday and those who helped me in any way. I feel very honored having so many fine friends.

Eastland County is great friendly place and Illove the land and I love the people.

I congratulate Judge Scott Bailey and wish him the very best for another term.
