Serving the Most Prosperous Sections of Eastland, Brown and Comanche Counties

ESTABLISHED IN 1890

RISING STAR, EASTLAND COUNTY, TEXAS, APRIL 28, 1960

VOLUME 70, NUMBER 28

Rains Welcomed Here on Monday

They did not come a moment too soon — those rains which Monday broke a winter-long drought and gave a saving boost to thousands of acres of small grain which needed it two weeks earlier.

Just the same there was a big smile on the face of the Rising Star country this week, a prospect of yields which, although severely reduced, will still be good.

From a survey of the showers which fell generally over the land, it appears that the immediate vicinity of Rising Star received about the least amount of rainfall. The city gauge measured .7 of an inch Monday at noon. But at May and northwest of Rising Star and in other sections of the area reported getting much heavier precipitation, some places as much as two inches.

The showers will help put crop land in condition for cultivation and benefit pastures greatly.

Mrs. Lewis Heads Local Women for Johnson Club

Mrs. Rosene Hopper of Ranger, Eastland County chairman of women in the Lyndon Johnson for President Club, and Mrs. Sam Wills, county chairman, were here Saturday of last week in the interest of organizing democratic women for the Johnson campaign.

Mrs. Hopper announced that Mrs. Tom Lewis has been named women chairman for Rising Star.

She announced that an intensive program of activity on behalf of the campaign to send Senator Johnson to the White House would be carried out in this area and over the county at large.

She urged that all women who are interested in electing a Texan and a democrat as the next President of the United States give their active support to the club and its program.

FFA Land Judging Team to National Contest This Week

The Rising Star FFA Chapter Land Judging team, composed of Skipper Ezzell, Dick Morrow, Bobby Guynes and Richard Creech, left Wednesday at 2 p.m. for Oklahoma City and the National FFA Land Judging Contest. They were accompanied by their advisor, H. L. Geyer, vocational agriculture teacher in Rising Star High School. It will be the second time a Rising Star FFA team has competed in the national contest.

The team, which took second place in the state contest at Stephenville last Saturday, will compete in the national contest Friday. Thursday they and all other contestants will be schooled in the peculiarities of soil conditions about Oklahoma City on which the contest there will be based.

At Stephenville last week the team competed against 41 other teams from all over the state, scoring 593 points out of a possible 740. Stephenville team won with a score of 621.

The dairy judging team of the chapter which won first place in the area contest, will go to College Station Saturday morning to compete in the state contest at A&M College. Mr. Geyer will return to Rising Star in time to take this team to the college.

Drowned Girl Niece Of Rising Star People

Miss Velma Louise Thornton, 18-year-old Pomona, Mo., girl, who died April 4 when her car plunged from the highway into a pond, was a niece of two Rising Star people — Mrs. Grover Groce and Jim Pittman.

A crinoline petticoat caught in the door of the car was blamed for her inability to escape when the car left the road on a curve, skidded through a fence and went into the water.

It was believed that the girl came suddenly upon a herd of deer after topping a small curve and in her efforts to avoid hitting the animals lost control of the car. A number of similar accidents had been narrowly avoided at that point, according to a West Plains daily newspaper.

The girl had left home about 1 o'clock to attend a show at Willow Springs, Mo., with friends, and her absence was not discovered until the friends notified her parents that she had not come after them.

She apparently had almost freed herself from the car after it plunged into a pond when her skirt caught on the rear door and trapped her.

Methodists Help to Welcome New Pastor

Rev. Robert Cook dismissed the congregation at the Methodist church on Sunday night and they all attended a joint service at the First Baptist Church to extend a hearty welcome to the new pastor, Rev. H. K. Neely, who has recently moved here from Fort Worth, where he is soon to take a doctorate degree from the Baptist Theological Seminary.

Rev. Neely pastored Necessity church while a student at the seminary. It was a wonderful gesture and showed a fine spirit of cooperation and Christian fellowship that prompted Rev. Cook and his church to worship with the church at First Baptist Church.

Cemetery Working at Romney on Saturday

There will be a cemetery working at Romney Saturday morning, it was announced. All who have friends or relatives buried there or who are interested in the community are invited to come with hoes and rakes. Lawn mowers have been purchased and will be used to mow part of the grounds.

RADIOLOGICAL MONITORS of the San Diego City-County Civil Defense organization go through their paces by checking on "fallout radiation" at a training site designed specifically for civil defense use. After taking their readings, the men in background would radio their reports to a central plotting and coordinating crew such as the two manning the radiological trailer in foreground. The nation's radiological monitoring capability is being expanded rapidly by civil defense at all levels, including more than 15,000 monitoring stations now operating. (OCDM Photo)

Four Teams Are Organized in Little League

Four teams were organized in the Rising Star Little League at a meeting of the league committee at the High School gym building Tuesday night. The teams are composed of boys from May and Rising Star.

Managers of the teams and officials of the league form the committee of which J. D. (Skeet) Clark is chairman.

More than 60 boys between the ages of 8 and 12 are registered in the league and these were assigned to the four teams at the meeting Tuesday night. Schedule of play at the city park diamond will begin on a date after the close of school yet to be determined.

The four teams are the Dodgers, coached by Derrell White and Arley Bibby; the Braves, coached by Art Fisher and Fred Fisher; the Indians, coached by Horace Geyer and Durwood Fussell, and the Yankees, coached by S. C. Cotton and Buddy Cook.

Names of the boys on each squad will be published in next week's issue of the Record.

The teams have their uniforms purchased last year and the ball park has been improved with better lighting facilities and more bleachers. No charge is made for admission to the games, but contributions are asked each night. The funds obtained are used to finance the league. Each team is sponsored by a local business man.

The well is located 930 feet southeast of the same operators No. 3. Plans have been made to drill the plug Thursday.

The field now has three producers, all wells so far completed by the Joyce brothers having been successful.

The new producing area is about one and a half miles from the city limits of Rising Star and in Brown county.

Wednesday Date for Housing Unit Bids

Bids on the construction of a 12-unit low rent housing project in Rising Star were due to be opened at 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 27, at the City Hall here.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Lee White were in Brady Sunday for the annual Heart O' Texas Singers Reunion.

Voters Ballot In First Primary On That Date

The time of uncertainty for most of the candidates for public office in the democratic primary was nearing an end this week with the balloting hardly more than another week away.

Only in the county races for judge of the 91st district, county attorney, and county tax assessor-collector was there any certainty of nominations, these being uncontested.

In the contests for state representative, county sheriff, and for commissioner of Precinct No. 3, there was the possibility of run-off campaigns. In each of the others in this county there were only two candidates.

The local election will be held in one box, contrary to the situation in the past when Rising Star voters were divided into two voting precincts — a West Rising Star and an East Rising Star.

The voting will be at the City Hall where Raymond Gray, precinct chairman, will preside as election judge. The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

The first primary vote on May 7 also represents a radical change from the old days when the campaign dragged its weary way into the hot summer days of late July before there was any decision upon the offerings of the candidates.

Absentee Voting Regulations Cited By County Clerk

Absentee voting for the first Democratic primary in Eastland County began Monday, April 18, and persons wishing to vote absentee must apply at the County Clerk's office in Eastland, either in person or by mail.

Eastland County Clerk Johnson Smith stated that voters who planned to be out of the county during the election may use absentee but they are required to show their poll tax receipts. After the proper application is completed, the applicant will receive his ballot.

Absentee voting by mail was altered slightly with the changes in the election code. Mail applications must be postmarked from outside the county and the ballot can only be mailed to points outside the county, Mr. Smith said.

When the ballot is returned to the county clerk's office, it must have been mailed from outside the county and be accompanied by an affidavit certified by an officer of another county.

Ballots may be mailed to persons within the county only if they are ill or disabled. When applying for a ballot by mail the person must give his address and the ballot may be returned to that address only.

County applicants for the absentee ballot must give the reason that they are entitled to vote absentee in their application, Mr. Smith stated. Applications because of illness or disability must include a doctor's certificate, Mr. Smith brought out.

Absentee voting will end shortly before the election takes place on Saturday, May 7, Mr. Smith revealed.

What was her creed? I do not know, I only know that here below she walked the common road and lifted many a load and lightened the task and brightened the road for others toiling on their weary way. This was her only need; I did not know her creed.

What was her creed? I never heard her speak of visions rapturous, of Alpine peaks, of dogma, old or new. But this I know, she was forever bold to stand alone, to face new challenges of each day new, and to live the truth, so far as she could see.

Her creed? I care not enough that she never yielded to greed, but served her fellow man in his daily need, plucked down the thorns and planted many a flower; glorified his service to our land, had faith in God and man, and a fine sense of

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Cong. 17th Texas District

BILLS ARE pending in both the House of Representatives and the United States Senate to again drastically liberalize our immigration quotas.

THE PRESIDENT recently transmitted his message to Congress which proposes to double the annual admission of 154,000 people from foreign countries.

UNDER THE present law, immigration numbers from most foreign countries are based on an percentage of people of the same race and ethnic group making up the United States population as of 1920.

THE PRESIDENT recommends that the number of foreigners admitted be related to the total number of people in the United States as determined by the 1960 Census. If this change is not drastic enough, the President would also extend the eligibility of admission by transferring quotas assigned to Northern and Western Europe to other countries. Heretofore, the greatest number have come from Western and Northern Europe, whose people are more nearly like our own, and who have some appreciation of the American system and American ideals. These to whom eligibility would be extended can have little such appreciation, as has been proved.

IN ADDITION, the President also proposes to create a permanent refugee program starting with the admission of 10,000 persons per year. However, the President wants a provision added which would permit him by a simple proclamation to increase this number without limit. There is nothing to indicate that so-called refugees might at some future time be admitted by the tens and hundreds of thousands. Besides, who is going to decide who is a refugee? Under special laws now on the books, in addition to our regular immigration quotas, more than two million immigrants have come to this country in the past 10 years.

SHOULD THE President's request for doubling the quota be granted, it is entirely possible that we will be faced with an influx of people into this country approaching the half-million mark a year.

THERE ARE special laws applying to so-called escapees from Iron Curtain countries, which are distinguished from refugees. The difference between the two is hard to define, but it admits more people.

IN THE first place we know little about who these people are, why they are out of their native country or what they are going to do after they are here. In the case of many already admitted our authorities still do not know why they are here or what they are doing.

THE VAST majority have ended up in the city ghettos where their own race and kind are concentrated.

THE AMERICAN taxpayer then seemingly becomes obligated to take care of them through public housing, unemployment compensation, and numerous other welfare benefits.

EVEN MORE serious is the fact that many of these people have little concept of our American system. We need only to take a look at the vast foreign minority groups in our great cities to understand one of the principal taproots of trouble in our nation. But it is something which is taboo to talk about in Washington.

THE PRESIDENT will probably get his request, and the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act will be seriously weakened.

New Publication For Sheep and Goats Released

COLLEGE STATION. — All sheep and goats are infected with intestinal parasites to some extent. Animals that are thrifty and in good physical condition are more resistant to internal parasites than animals in poor condition. Young animals are more susceptible to internal parasites than older animals and may require more care at critical times, such as weaning.

It is difficult to measure the amount of damage internal parasites do because progressive weakness, loss of weight, impaired growth rate and general unthriftiness are difficult to measure, points out James Gray, extension animal husbandman. Also the loss in weight and reduced quality of wool and mohair fleeces in heavily parasitized sheep and goats are difficult to estimate.

Actual death loss from internal parasites can be minimized by good management, Gray says. Since internal parasites cannot be eliminated, management practices are necessary for their control.

Several factors contribute to internal parasitism in sheep and goats. Gray says they are: continuous stocking with sheep and/or goats; overstocking; lack of feed; poor watering facilities; failure to recognize the symptoms; and failure to follow adequate control programs.

Gray and Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, have written a publication which gives many suggestions for internal parasite control. The publication, "Common Internal Parasites of Sheep and Goats," lists the major internal parasites found in Texas and tells how to recognize them. Also included are sections on diagnosis, control measures, treatment and drenching technique. Local county agents have copies or you can write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, for a copy. Ask for MP-396.

FARM PROFIT

How Can Crops Get A Better Start?

Researchers put this question to state university and U.S.D.A. scientists. Their answers, summarized below from a Massey-Ferguson report, may contain some pointers that could mean the difference between a high profit harvest and just an average return:

- Select best variety seed for you. The best yielding seed for your farm may not be one of the most popular varieties, agricultural authorities said. For example, when Iowa scientists tested 90 corn hybrids, not one of the most popular varieties ranked in the first 10 on the basis of yield. A good rule: check official state yield tests and don't buy seed that originated more than 150 miles from home, unless it is a certified variety recommended for the area.
- Prepare seed bed properly. Authorities also report that the general trend is toward less tillage for all crops. Good results followed when corn and soybean ground is worked only enough to put seed in contact with moist soil. The test of a good seed bed is whether it will allow accurate planting. Combining operations will cut costs; one example of this is to pull a harrow behind the plow.
- Take the soil's temperature. A good way to know when to plant is to check soil temperature at planting depth with a thermometer. Take a reading between 7 and 8 a.m. for three consecutive mornings. Ideal soil temperatures for corn is about 60° F.; soybeans, 65° F.; cotton, 68° F.; and grain sorghum, 70° F.
- Place fertilizer for best pay. Tests show that today's high-analysis fertilizers and rapid planting seeds do best when fertilizer is 2 inches below and 2 inches to the side for corn, cotton, and most other seeds. Side roots from young seedlings then reach the fertilizer shortly after germination, just when they need it most. Careful placement can be more important than proper amounts.
- Plant thick stands. Scientists say that many farmers miss a bet when the planting rate is too thin for top yields. This is especially true of corn. Recommendations for 100 bu. of corn are about 18,000 kernels of late maturing, and 24,000 kernels for 80 or 90 day seed, except in dry areas where these rates can be trimmed slightly. For soybeans, use 30 to 45 lbs. of seed per acre for high germination. If soil crusts easily, then put up to 60 lbs. in the row. The cotton planter should be set to deliver about 18 lbs. of seed per acre.

Researchers added that weather, of course, has much to do with final yield but size of harvest for many crops is set the day the seed goes into the ground.

Mrs. Clyde Martin has been visiting her son, Howard Livingston and family, in Arlington.

TO OKINAWA
CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (FHTNC)—Marine Sgt. Maj. J. M. Westerman, son of Mrs. Flara Westerman of Rising Star, Tex., left Camp Pendleton, Calif., April 1, aboard the transport USS Mitchell with the First Battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, bound for a 14-month tour of duty on Okinawa. The Marines, known as the Sixth Transplacement Unit, will relieve the First Transplacement Unit, as directed by the Corps' new unit rotation system, adopted in 1959. The established system provides for a rotation of battalions between the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, and the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Poisonings, while not a top killer in Texas, claim over 80 lives each year in Texas.

In addition, the dozen poison control centers scattered around the State answer hundreds of urgent pleas for information each month.

Generally, pre-schoolers are the victims. Records indicate that 65 to 70 percent of all poisoning cases reported to poison control centers involve children who are one or two years of age.

The improper usage (not following directions) of medicines cause the greatest percentage of accidental ingestion of poisons, with aspirin overdose heading the list. Sedatives and tranquilizers are close behind.

Petroleum products also claim a high percentage of victims. A common cause is children drinking kerosene or gasoline from a soda water bottle.

Mrs. Aikens Gives Book Review at Saturday Club

"Door to Good Reading" was the topic for discussion at the Saturday Club on April 20.

After the regular routine of business the speaker, Mrs. R. L. Aikens, was introduced. She reviewed the book, "Call Me Mother," by Virginia Blöse, which was very comical as well as informative. Mrs. Aikens, of Brady, is a gifted speaker, and her story was well received by the 20 women who heard her.

Members present were Mesdames Barney Cargile, Lee Clark, Bill Dennard, Mabel Ellis, Charley Tyler, M. G. Joyce, Olice Jones, Fred Roberds, Helen Switzer, Fred Tunnell, Louise Weber, and Floyd Joyce, who served as hostess.

Honorary members present were Mesdames Robert Cook, D. C. Hazelwood, and H. K. Neely. Guests who attended were Mesdames M. S. Sellers, Douglas Eakin, Tom Bryant of Cross Plains and Mrs. Ira Hudler.

The hostess served decorated cake square nuts and coffee from a white linen table cloth centered with a beautiful arrangement of Dutch iris.

Deathwise the poisoning picture takes on a slightly different look. According to State Health Department statistics, there were 87 deaths from solid and liquid poisons during 1959. Aspirins and salicylates led the causes, followed by noxious foodstuffs (toadstools and other poisonous plants.)

Barbituates and petroleum product deaths are not as high as some other causes because prompt medical action is usually successful in saving the victim.

A breakdown of ages in poison deaths shows 17 deaths for children in one-to-four year olds, the age of inquisitive toddlers.

Thirty-one persons between the age of 45 and 64 died from poisoning, most resulting from an overdose of medicines. Least number deaths was in the five to 14 age group, with only one death during 1959.

Additional poisonings during 1959 were attributed to deadly gases. Forty-two deaths were reported during the year.

Death from carbon monoxide gas was the leading cause, claiming 35 lives.

In nearly all cases of accidental poisoning, negligence or error is the cause. Care should be exercised in the handling of all potential poisonings.

The best rule is to read and follow instructions on the label. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Carole Ann Jacobs Wed at Lubbock Saturday, April 23 to John Lawson

The marriage of Miss Carole Ann Jacobs and John Paul Lawson, both of Lubbock, was solemnized in Bowman Chapel of First Methodist Church in that city, in a mid-afternoon ceremony Saturday, April 23. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs, formerly of Odessa. They now reside in Wichita Falls, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thomas of Grassland. Dr. J. Chess Lovren, pastor of the church, officiated for double ring wedding vows. Music was by Miss Peggy O'Neil of El Paso, organist, and Miss Loretta Ward of Lubbock, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore silk organza over taffeta. A Juliet cap held her illusion veil and she carried a white orchid. Mrs. Jacobs wore a blue lace costume suit with matched accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose royal blue raw silk with white accessories. The couple left on a South Texas honeymoon and will be at home in Lubbock. Carole Ann Jacobs received the BBA degree from Texas Tech last June and is a graduate of Brownfield High School. She is employed as secretary with a Lubbock construction firm. The bridegroom was graduated from Tahoka High School and attended Tech. He served with the U. S. Army in Germany and is now co-owner of Lawson-Morgan Texaco in Lubbock.

JURIES, OLD AND NEW
Speaking before juries — the beginning of jury trials — goes way back to Greek colonies about 600 B. C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants. Soon afterwards Athens itself took over such oratory, but seems never to have worked out rules of evidence or control of the trial by a judge. Jurors often boomed or cheered the parties, talked together, and shouted at speakers. What one knew or thought he knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: Personal knowledge, hearsay, prejudice, and a juror's opinion. The Athenian juror had power: Each "dicast" (a juror chosen by lot) was both juror and judge. Jurors sat in many courts; the smallest had 201 dicasts; the largest one such as tried Socrates had 601. (The odd man broke tie.) The jurors heard and decided their cases out in public, often amid swarms of citizens and foreigners. One day to each case; and the accused — like Socrates — had to prove his innocence. Each juror earned one obol a day — about three cents. Each juror swore: "I shall vote according to the laws of the Athenian people and the Council of the Five Hundred; but as to things about which there are no laws, I shall judge as best I can without favor or enmity. I shall judge as to things at issue and shall listen fairly to both the accuser and the defendant. These things I swear by Zeus, by Apollo, by Demeter. May there be blessing on me if I keep my oath; but if not, let there be ruin for me and my family."

Today as yesterday our juries are under fire: Some say juries waste time, people won't serve; jurors make stupid mistakes. Let experts do justice, critics say.

Such things hold true only if citizens forsake their right to serve. Only a free people can enjoy the privilege of jury duty. A Greek thinker once said that the mark of a citizen, as opposed to an alien, was his right to share in administering justice. When jury duty calls, think of yourself as seeking truth, hearing all the evidence, heeding the court's instructions, following the lawyers' arguments, and laying aside prejudice. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Economist Finds Farm Outlook Is Bright in Spots

COLLEGE STATION. — The 1960 outlook is brighter for some agricultural products, reports John McHaney, extension economist.

Hog slaughter this summer and fall will come largely from a reduced 1960 spring pig crop. Therefore, McHaney continues, prices should be a little higher than during the same period in 1959.

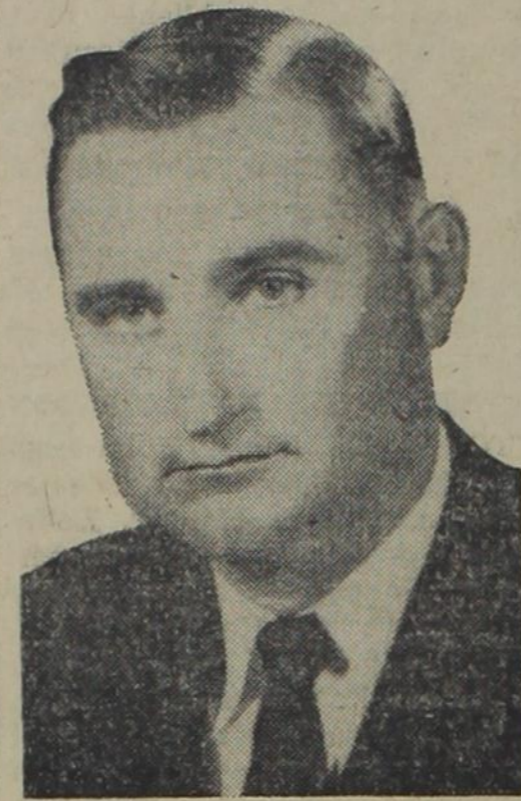

During the next several months, prices of fed cattle are expected to fluctuate a little below current levels. Weaker fed cattle prices will probably slow the usual spring rise in the price of feeder cattle. Moisture conditions are favorable over most of the country and this will likely bring good pastures and a strong demand for stocker cattle. Cattle prices in the fall of 1960, however, will probably be lower than during the same period last year.

With consumer incomes at a new high in 1960, prices received by farmers for milk will average a little higher than in 1959. The outlook after 1960 is not favorable as that for this year, because of the expected drop in beef cattle prices which could result in more emphasis being placed on dairying and milk cow numbers could begin to increase in 1961. The stage for such a reaction probably will be set in 1960 with just enough price increase among dairy products to give dairy farmers renewed confidence, thus causing dairy farmers to increase production in 1961, the economist points out.
