Through The Editor's Specs

By BAB

Now and then, in the publication of a newspaper, one of those situations occur which make an editor believe that the devil is after him and won't be denied his prey. Such a one occurred in the Record office last week, and as a result I am chewing on a tough log of crow. We had been asked to run a story on the installation of the officers of the Eastern Star Chapter Tuesday evening. The story had been written, brought to the Record office and placed on my desk. It didn't get in the paper. Why? It didn't seem to be a question for which one explanation is about as reasonable as another.

Our apologies, for all that they may do little good so far as publicity for the meeting is concerned, are as sincerely offered as it is our intention to publish the news and serve our readers as fairly and impartially as it is humanly possible to do.

The embarrassed calls to mind a paragraph in one of those leftist journals which come to the editor's desk out of Austin. The story, well written for what it may be worth, concerns the "accidental" roles played by two Pecos "smalltown" newspapers in the eruption of the Estes case.

"At bottom," I quote, "it is this basic insignificance that furnishes the drama of the Independent and the News to many newspaper people around the country. These two papers offer the promise to smalltown newsmen everywhere that if they will just stomach the humdrum and the monotony of smalltown gossip and trivial news long enough, someday someone important in their community may turn out to be notorious and then they too can have a strong intoxicating draught of journalistic kudos."

I feel a great sympathy for the person who wrote that paragraph. What he considers of "basic insignificance" in the journalistic profession argues very emphatically indeed that he has a very insecure grasp of the real mission and responsibilities of the press.

Why do so many people, and in particular so many journalists of the so-called "liberal" stripe look upon success in the newspaper profession as a matter of exploiting sensationalism? If we must have a Billy Sol Estes ever so often to relieve us of monotony and triviality, to rescue us from the humdrum of smalltown life and give us that strong "intoxicating draught", I would say that the country is in one heck of a shape. I would suggest with plenty of reason, that the newspaper profession, small and large, is failing in its primary responsibility, which is to "prevent" as well as to "expose."

Speaking of "trivialities" one has only to read through the welter of editorial matter in a large newspaper to discover as much of it, percentage-wise, in the big city as in the small community. And as for monotony — why do so many newsmen, tied to the grind and impersonalities of the city desk, dream of small newspapers, little kingdoms of the soul, where they can discover creative individualities of their own and apply them to the problems and challenges of small communities unhampered by the restraints of corporate policy.

A newsmen who cannot find satisfaction and a creative expression of himself in the challenge of a small newspaper cannot do a good job on a large paper. Similarly, a man who cannot do a good job on a large paper is ill equipped to meet the challenge of a small. They differ only in degree. The big barrel may be packed with sardines, but it is the one sardine which counts in the eating. Success in ones chosen profession is not a matter of gaining fame — you see what happened to Billy Sol — it is a matter of finding satisfaction with oneself, for, as the greatest teacher of all time said 2,000 years ago, "The King-"

Corporation for Community Development Is Shaped

A group of Rising Star business men and interested citizens, meeting at the American Legion Hall Tuesday evening, voted to organize a corporation to be known as Rising Star Development Corp., to form the financial nucleus of a program of community economic improvement and industrialization.

Under the proposed charter, as adopted, the corporation will have a total capitalization of 1,000 shares of a par value of $100, of which 100 shares will initially be sold.

Approximately half of that amount was subscribed at the meeting Tuesday night.

A slate of temporary directors was elected as follows:

Cecil Shults, E. O. Kizer,

George Steel, C. R. Tyler, Charles Rutherford, J. D. (Skeet) Clark and James Rutherford.

This board will function during the organizing process and the charter application. The charter provides that the corporation will not be in business until the 100 initial shares are sold and the money in hand.

Permanent Board

When the charter has been approved by the State and the corporation is functional a group of seven permanent directors will be elected by the stockholders of record.

Into the hands of this group will be placed the responsibility for operating the corporation, selecting projects for promotion with the help of loans available from various agencies, and the sale or operation of the completed projects.

Among the projects considered for promotion were mentioned: A motel, a peanut drying and shelling plant, various industries based upon the resources and agricultural crops of the area.

Suggestions for worthwhile projects are being invited from citizens of the community and the area, and cards for the purpose have been printed and will be placed in available locations.

The corporation was undertaken with the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce and President James Rutherford and Secy A. D. Jenkins presided at the opening of the meeting and explained the program and its opportunities for community development. A suggested charter, prepared by the legal department of the Kizer Telephone Company, was laid before the group and read in detail.

The group then chose Charles Rutherford as chairman and proceeded with the organization.

A Community Effort

The directors were to meet this week and work out details for a stock subscription campaign and the organization and charter, and shape final details application.

The corporation is not limited to citizens and business men of Rising Star proper, but is a wide in its scope and invites the participation, financially and in spirit, of every person — business and professional people and private citizens.

The objective is to enlist through a direct financial investment, the interest and active help of every person concerned in promoting the welfare and growth of this community and through it, the greater prosperity, security and value of personal property and income.

"This is a community effort," said James Rutherford. "It is a business proposition. We are not going into this thing on a charity basis. We don't expect to lose money; we expect to make a profit, both directly and through greater prosperity and improved values of our various business and professions.

"We want the cooperation of everybody."

Peanut Planting Spurred By Rain

Rain, beautiful rain! But it was not without its price.

More than an inch and a half of moisture last Friday evening broke a long, almost unprecedented Spring drought for most of the Rising Star country and started peanut growers planting in good earnest as the ground dried sufficiently to be worked this week.

But the price for many of the residents in a strip of country south of Rising Star and reaching through the May area was high.

A violent hailstorm swept through that district, damaging roofs, breaking out windows, beating down gardens and in one instance, at least, causing terrific mortality among turkey flocks.

Dee Hardy, turkey grower living five miles south of Rising Star, reported loss of 1,600 turkeys in the fall.

Other residents of the area sustaining losses to roofs, windows, crops and outbuildings were Aubrey Goss, Ed Witt, Glen Winfrey, J. W. Gifford, Andrew Jackson, Raymond Mays.

Hailstones up to the size of a hen egg were reported.

Meanwhile the rest of the Rising Star area received a drought-breaking rain measuring up to two inches and putting the ground in excellent condition for peanut planting. Farmers' hick weevils were busy in the fields getting the crop into the ground.

The rain gave some relief from the shortage of stockwater, but more rain is needed to restore ample supplies. Pastures and gardens received great benefit.

Grain growers were happy that the showers did not continue into the present week, giving them opportunity to harvest wheat, oats and other small grains crops which, to say the least, are spotty of yield and mostly very short due to the dry spring weather.

The city's official gauge recorded 12-100ths of an inch Thursday and 1.32 inch on Thursday.

City Hires Engineers For Utility Improvement

The Rising Star City Council Monday night entered into a contract with the National Engineering Company of Austin for a survey of the city's utility systems and plans for their improvement with grants and loans from an agency of the federal government.

The No. 1 project in the program contemplated by the city is the removal and/or modernization of the city's sewage disposal system.

Included in the proposed program also is improvement of the city's water system, particularly the replacement of small pipe in certain areas of poor service with pipe of larger calibre.

It has long been realized that the Rising Star sewage disposal plant is in need of drastic overhaul in order to get rid of a nuisance affecting property values and prospective real estate development in the area and to meet State Health Department standards.

A considerable area of very attractive sites for commercial and residential development east of the city is blighted by the presence of the present plant and odors from it. Under the program which the City Council has now set on foot, the plant will be moved farther from the city or it will be modernized by an approved system which will eliminate its nuisances entirely, Mayor Walter Smith said.

The engineers will make a survey of the project, develop an estimate of cost and make application on behalf of the City to the Community Facilities and Administration Department of the Housing and Home Finance Agency for a long-term, low interest loan and a grant of 30 per cent of the cost.

Cost of putting the sewage disposal system in modern condition, eliminating all odor and meeting the requirements of the State Health department, would be in the neighborhood of $10,000 it was estimated.

The program, if carried out, would completely free the area east of the city to commercial and residential development.

Studies of the water system and cost developments for a similar program of improvement in this utility will likewise be made, the Mayor said.

The city will be able to carry the costs of the program without increase in taxation or valuation rates, it was pointed out. The last of the City's current bonds will be paid off next year.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

WATER ATTRACTS CHILDREN

A new and fresh cause, launch their efforts, there are always the joiners and the contributors. Some new organization emerges every day. The most recent is "The Emergency Committee for Chinese Refugees." Many of us have been invited to join. In a letter just received is the sentence, "we are writing to you and other distinguished Americans to join with us in this effort." The letter advises that a full page advertisement including the names of all who join will be run in the New York Times and the Washington Post. The letter says that they hope other groups will be organized over all the world and that "public pressure" will be sufficient to achieve a realistic solution of the terrible situation which now faces the Chinese refugees.

Of course, everyone wants to relieve suffering humanity wherever, to whomever and whenever it happens. Our Government has spent hundreds of millions of dollars in the care and replacement of refugees and escapees over the last several years. It should be repeated that we could hardly be called a Christian people if we did not respond to the plight of any human being, but it is something else to run the risk of bringing people into this Country, about whom we know nothing, or ever assisting people in their own country, whose government is our enemy.

There are always those to remind us that our own ancestors fled to America to escape oppression, and particularly to seek religious freedom. That day and that time and those conditions seem hardly comparable to the present. Many of the people who are now being permitted to enter this Country, coming from behind the Iron Curtain, including Cuba, have little concept of the meaning of freedom and liberty. Liberty is not a license to violate and disrespect our laws, our customs and our traditions. Some of these so-called refugees and escapees have already staged demonstrations against actions of our Government, have violated our laws, but most serious of all, the actions of many are not even known. Mostly they congregate in the large cities in the foreign element, to compound problems already serious. The foreign minority groups in this country already wield political influence far out of proportion to their number. The quickest and most direct way to become unpopular in any official position in Washington is to say anything about minority groups or to call attention to obvious conditions caused by them. Who points up in public the figures on those responsible for the high crime rate in this nation. It is, of course, unjustified to say categorically that all foreigners are criminally inclined or that anyone with a peculiar name is a part of it. Facts and figure, however, will substantiate that a great percentage of organized crime in the United States is controlled by those who do not have a long heritage of American citizenship.

And now, supposedly, it is proposed by this new organization that we either admit Chinese refugees to this country or that we contribute somehow to their support. There are approximately 186 million people in the United States. There are 700 million people in Red China and probably close to another billion people who may not be getting enough to eat and who would prefer to be in the United States than where they are. But look at the teeming slums in some of our big cities — or even some of the Navajo Indians in New Mexico and Arizona, and maybe even some people who live pretty near us as neighbors — do we here at home not have opportunity to do good — to exercise our wish to help people in need. We know their need, and those we know, we know are our own citizens. In addition, we do not have to have some organizer and a bunch of promoters to pay for administering their help.

Owning a swimming pool is becoming rather common in Texas and it places some legal duties on the owner. Your main duty hinges on the "doctrine of attractive nuisance" under which you become legally responsible to young children who trespass on your land. As a rule you owe no duty to trespassers. They must take your property as they find it: if dangerous, that is their tough luck. Not so for children who wander on your land. The attractive nuisance doctrine says that if you have some man-made things on your land which entice youngsters you have legal duty to make your land safe for them.

A high tension line, an old mineshaft, a railroad turntable, a pool of clear acid may be irresistible to children. If they are likely to be attracted and unable to grasp the dangers, you have an "attractive nuisance," and you must make your premises safe.

Recently a court held that a swimming pool may be an attractive nuisance. In this case a toddler drowned in Jones' pool. Jones and the boy's parents lived across the street from each other. About 30 feet from the street, the pool was fenced but with openings through which children could enter. On week ends the Jones were not home, only the Jones' children. Animals often played near the pool. The pool and the animals could attract a youngster; he could not grasp the water's danger. The Joneses could have had a locked gate. A jury properly held Jones responsible for the drowning.

How young is the child? Can he appreciate the dangers? How easy is it for the owner to make the place safe for children?

There are times when an older child should appreciate dangers. An older child playing on a scaffold should appreciate the dangers of height. In another case a twelve year old boy tried to jump on a train which was moving along a public street. When he fell he could not get damages for his injury. He should have seen his danger. Besides how could one put up a barrier along a public street which could keep out twelve year old boys.

A land owner may have other duties to trespassers. He cannot set a trap on his land, create hazards on his land on purpose; he cannot put a pit on his land where people frequently trespass, put in spring guns, or other traps to harm trespassers.

Sometimes a condition on your land may be a trap to children but not one or adults. The adult may grasp the danger of slippery algae growing in a partially drained pool, but not a child. But even with a trap on your land the attractive nuisance doctrine will not apply without some allurements or enticement to bring children to trespass on your land. Such attractions are, in effect an implied invitation to enter. Check your place for such attractions, and in any event consider measures, such as insurance, to cover harm that may come from things on your land. And above all, keep your place safe. For all the money may not undo the harm.

Mrs. A. F. Stark and son, Aubrey, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stark. They brought Mrs. R. H. Stark, Mrs. Duke's mother, home.

Facility For Screwworm Will Be Dedicated

COLLEGE STATION — Formal dedication of the new sterile fly production plant at Mission, headquarters of the Southwestern-Screwworm Eradication Program, is scheduled for Saturday, June 16.

The new plant, located at Moore Air Force Base, is designed to provide 50 to 75 million sterile flies per week. With production beginning in mid-June, the first flies from the new plant will be released in early July.

"We are very pleased with construction progress at the Mission plant," Marvin J. Bridges, executive director, Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, said. "We will have fly production underway ahead of the date we originally hoped construction would be completed."

"Early completion of the plant will be a tremendous boost to the program since we will have the sterile flies required to cover the wide area necessary for eradication in the Southwest."

"Completing a 'crash' construction program of this type would not have been possible except through the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, using funds contributed by individual livestock producers and sportsmen from all over the Southwest."

Release of flies produced at the temporary plant at Kerrville has been increased to over 20 million per week. This, along with last winter's cold weather, has significantly retarded normal build-up of native screwworm populations. The increased production at the Mission plant will provide sufficient sterile flies to give added impetus to the eradication program.

The program is a joint effort of the Texas Animal Health Commission, the Southwestern Animal Health Research Foundation, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. K. E. House visited in Eastland over the weekend.

dom of God is within you." There were never truer words.

The smalltown newspaper face a greater responsibility than ever before. We are being increasingly threatened by the propagandizing influences of national media combines. Thought control, so assiduously sought by political and social and even religious organizations, is nearer a dangerous reality in this country than ever before. Originality and individual opinion are being repressed whenever and wherever they take departure from the established rules and norms.

It falls upon the smalltown newspapers, I believe, to present the most effective counter-irritant to this socializing trend. They function at the very grass roots of public opinion, and by and large they are more independent of organization control and more resourceful and self-creative than any other medium of news and editorial opinion.

I feel that a small newspaper editor who is not editorially honest and stimulative, who does not make it a groundswell of his policy to encourage development of his community's resources in good, clear-minded citizenship, as well as its resources in good living, is not discharging his proper responsibilities to that community.

There is a field of wonderful challenge and a lot of real satisfaction in the weekly and small daily newspaper field. It can match in all particulars anything that the big city field can offer. Good journalism is not a matter of size; it is a matter of meeting a challenge wherever it may be offered; it is not a matter of quantity, it is a matter of quality.

There is a good deal of monotony about it, and one must wade through a great deal of the trivial. But the rewards of an honest effort are worth it.

Need For Area Unity and Realism Is Stressed by New WTCC President

ABILENE — The needs for regional unity and realistic attitudes among the business men of West Texas were emphasized by E. H. Danner, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in a statement issued today.

Danner, of San Angelo, was elected as WTCC President at the 44th annual meeting of the last week. Re-elected as Executive Vice President was Fred H. Husbands of Abilene and Ray Grisham of Abilene was re-elected as Treasurer.

The 59 year old Danner is president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest — which serves more than 340,000 stations in the five state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

A native of Mt. Pulaski, Illinois, he attended public schools there, Bradley University and finally Illinois College in Jacksonville where he took the bachelor of arts degree in 1927.

After a brief whirl at teaching mathematics and coaching, he joined the staff of Illinois Telephone Company — launching a career which has lasted 35 years covering practically every operating phase of the telephone industry.

Danner came to Sherman, Texas, in 1946, as president of the Texas Telephone Company. And, in 1956 after Texas Telephone Company became General property, he was named operating vice president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. A year later he was named president.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of General Telephone Association, a director of the Texas Research League in Austin, a member of the Advisory Board of Texas Industrial Commission, Austin and a member of the board of Trustees of Austin College in Sherman, a member of the Admissions and Budget Committee, Texas United Fund and has served as district vice president and director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

In San Angelo, he's a member of the Suez Temple, and elder in the Presbyterian Church and a Rotarian. Also he is a past president of the Tom Green Community Council, San Angelo Industries, Inc., and the Board of City Development.

Accepting the presidency, Danner said:

WTCC Goal

"The goal of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to assist in the development of the area it serves, and in such manner contribute to the overall development of the state and of the nation. Oversimplification is always dangerous, but none the less, I would like to make a brief comment concerning a couple of my basic philosophies.

"I believe that if you have lemons you make lemonade and don't try to make orange juice.

In other words, use what you have at hand to the maximum before you go across the road to look for something else. We have grain, oil, cattle, sheep, wool, cotton, space, climate, recreational areas and so forth — let's use them locally from the raw material to the finished product. We must realize the population growth in Texas and some of our neighboring states is rapidly moving us up the scale as a market oriented economy, not just the producer of the raw materials.

"I believe the most important requirement for successful growth of a community business, or an area, is the attitude of the people involved. We are in an era of rapid change, and I wonder if we are adjusting our thinking to such changes. The various segments of the economy in our state will become more interdependent, that is, having a much greater dependence on each other.

"This requires understanding, not misunderstanding, but it certainly does not preclude good honest disagreement. In other words, we'd better know a little bit about the problems, policies, and goals of businesses other than just our own.

"We need to work together to develop a fair, firm and equitable social, business, educational and political climate in our area. It should be such that our young people, desirous of self development, would be given that opportunity to the extent of their talents and to the degree that their energies would permit. In other words within the area we serve there should be opportunities for young people to pursue the career of their choice and not find it necessary to go elsewhere.

Not a Nasty Word

"To me the word profit is not a nasty word. If it is considered only as an end unto itself, it does lose much of its flavor. If an operation is profitable, it pays wages, pays taxes, buys supplies, material and equipment, contributes to the support of social service agencies, pays its shareowners, and on and on. Basically, the dollars of a profitable operation, as well as its manpower, support the social, educational, cultural, spiritual, economic and governmental life of the area in which it operates. Personally, I want to have the opportunity to make a profit and I hope they do, for if they do, then I have the opportunity to work to get my share of their dollar, and to also make a profit. Of course, the opportunity to make a profit also carries "another side of the coin," the opportunity to fail. We must remember you cannot have one without the other.

"We, living in this West Texas area, have the ingredients. We have the opportunity, and now I wonder what kind of cake we bake. This is not a ready-mix package with just the precise amount of each ingredient to which you only add water, mix and bake. We will have a lot of cooks and each will think their recipe is the best; but, through the use of good judgment and self discipline, we can determine the proper amount of each ingredient to use and just how long it should be baked," Danner concluded.

Girl Scout Camp Program In Full Swing In Area

Camping is in full swing throughout the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council.

The council's established camp, Camp Wood Lake, will begin its 1962 season of resident camping on Sunday, June 17. Camp Wood Lake is located in the 36th Division State Park at Lake Brownwood. This will be the seventh year the camp has operated. The camp has been built from proceeds of the annual council cookie sale and from donations from friends of Girl Scouting.

This year, the council is in the process of building a swimming pool that will meet its needs for many years to come. The pool is 75 by 35 feet, will have four swimming lanes, and will be staffed with certified Red Cross Waterfront Instructors.

The summer sessions at Camp Wood Lake are: Session I, June 17-23; Session II, June 24-30; Session III, July 1-7; Session IV,

July 8-20. The first three sessions are limited to Brownie Scouts while Session IV will be for Intermediate and Senior Scouts. Included in Session IV will be a Tent Unit made up of older Intermediate and Senior Scouts who have had at least two summers at established camp or the equivalent in camping experience.

All sessions are filled at this time with the exception of Session III, July 1-7. Registrations are invited at this time from out-of-council or non-Scouts who are third or fourth graders and would like to register for camp.

The fee for the 6-day session is $19.50 for girls currently registered with the council; $22.50 for out-of-council or non-registered girls. Applications may be mailed to the Girl Scout Office, 500 East Depot, Brownwood, Texas.

Day camps are also going on throughout the council. These are one-week sessions and are being operated in Brady, Breckenridge, Brownwood, Coleman, Cisco, Clyde, Goldthwaite, Graham, Jacksboro, Lampasas, Mineral Wells and Stephenville.

Build a stronger, richer life.

WORSHIP TOGETHER EVERY WEEK!

You know the hymn—"How firm a Foundation?" Of course you do. But it's more than a hymn. To many it is a way of life.

The foundation is faith. Faith that gives every day a shining new quality, Faith that provides a strong shelter in time of need. Faith that sustains you in sickness and trouble. Faith that makes life a great adventure, truly worth living.

You find faith as a member of a family, as a member of a community: Worshiping together every week, with those you love, with others who believe as you do—gives you strength to carry through with hope and courage.

You can build a stronger, richer life—on a firm foundation of faith: Worship together this week : : : every week!

Grandchildren Of Local Couple Win Abernathy Honors

ABERNATHY—Carolyn Forbes, Abernathy High School junior, has been named winner of the first place in an essay contest sponsored by the Universidad Internacional de Saltillo, Mexico. Her essay was a study in the contrasts between North American and South American social customs. The essay, written in Spanish, was submitted in the intermediate class.

Bob Thomas, whose exercise in description was entered in the beginners class, tied for second place in that division. Danny West tied for third place in the same division.

Teachers of Spanish who are members of the Saltillo Modern Language Association were invited to submit essays. Over three hundred schools were represented. Students from New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and New Mexico won all the other honors awarded in the contest. Only those students who knew no Spanish previous to high school classes in the language were eligible.

TWICE AS MUCH COOLING

with the patented advantages of

PARAMOUNT COOLERS

Yes! This famous Paramount 1000 c.f.m. evaporative cooler gives you up to twice as much cooling because of these patented features:

- Many coolers lose as much as 70% of cooling efficiency because dust, dirt and salts clog the filters. Patented No-Clog Sta-Fresh Filters are guaranteed clog-proof, assuring 100% cooling efficiency all summer long.
- Filters saturated with water become heavy and often sag and settle from the top, drawing hot, unfiltered, uncooled air into the cooler which may create as much as a 70% cooling loss. Patented Grip-Lock Filter Holders are guaranteed to prevent sagging and settling of filters assuring 100% cool, clean, filtered air.
- Without correct water trough adjustment, sections of the filters remain dry, resulting in substantial cooling loss and costly service expense. Patented Free-Flo Visible Water Troughs with external adjustment assure 100% saturation, and 100% cooling for the entire life of the cooler.
- Added feature—Patented Window Closing Attachment lets you close and lock your window. Eliminates entry of dust, rain and drafts into your home.

RODEO

steer riding contest for teenagers in which four youngsters—two boys and two girls, participated. The youngsters, with their parents' permission, rode 400-pound calves specially selected for the event.

Two of them—Jackie Bibby and Jerry Lindley—stayed aboard their mounts, but the two girls were unseated.

Results of other events were: Girls Barrel Races—Miss Dean Fenniken, first, with 19.2 seconds time, and Miss Janice Page, second with 19.7 time. There were six entries.

In the other class barrel races, drawing 18 entries, Mike Fister took first with 21.4 seconds, and Donnie Norris drew second place with a time of 21.9 seconds.

The calf roping event, always a popular contest, there were 33 entries, making it necessary to run the contest in two heats. LeRoy Hodges of Abilene took first place with a time of 11.8 seconds; Stanley Ivy was second with a time of 12.7 seconds, and Terry Mauldin was third with 12.8 seconds time.

Bill Wilkerson took first place in the bronc riding and Kent Sloan was second. There were eight riders.

In the bull riding event Dicky Burgess was first and Ronnie Pack and Bill Hargrove tied for second place.

The jackpot roping, a night cap event, likewise drew a record entry list of 31 ropers, and produced the unprecedented result of a three-way tie for first place between Ervin Owens, Tommy Wilson and J. B. Richardson, each with a time of 11.9 seconds.

Other good times were made by LeRoy Rodgers with 12 seconds flat and Tommy Bacon with 12.1 seconds.

The next rodeo will be held at 8 o'clock FRIDAY night, June 8, at the arena. All subsequent performances will likewise be held on Friday nights during the summer.

June 30 Date Vital For Some Disabled

June 30, 1962, is an important date for the disabled. Protection against severe disability is a relatively new feature of the social security program. Fifty million working people under social security now have this protection against complete loss of earnings.

Anyone who has been disabled for more than a year may lose all of his rights to cash disability benefits if he does not apply for benefits before June 30. One out of every three disability applicants risks the loss of some disability insurance benefits because he waits more than 18 months before applying.

Please advise those people you know who have been disabled more than six months to check with their social security office right away.

The local social security office will provide all the necessary assistance to help disabled people obtain their rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnel Lutgens of Lubbock were week-end guests of Mrs. Lutgen's mother, Mrs. Lucy Boase.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man said that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach, due to undigested food he always had inside of him. Recently he started taking V.I.H. and says the "brick-feeling" disappeared. Now he is like a new man, eats anything.

V.I.H. is a new, scientific formula. It is taken before meals and works with your food. It not only relieves gas; it also gives the bowels a great cleansing; it brings out impurities that cause head-ache, foul breath, coated tongue and worn out feeling. Miserable people soon feel better all over. So don't go on suffering! Get V.I.H. at all leading Drug Stores.
