

Santa's Visit Dec. 6 To Mark Opening Of The Holiday Season

Santa Claus will make his first 1938 visit to Big Spring on the evening of Tuesday, December 6.

The jolly old gentleman from the North Pole, whose annual good-cheer tours are as regular as the seasons, was extended an invitation, Tuesday evening, to greet youngsters and elders of the Big Spring area here on that date, and there was no reason to believe he would decline the invitation. Plans were immediately set in motion for a gala celebration marking the opening of the Yuletide season here on December 6.

Special committees were appointed to arrange for a series of holiday programs; to publicize Santa's coming, and to prepare for colorful observance of the Christmas season.

On the evening of the 6th, when Santa arrives at 7 o'clock for a special parade, all merchants will join in a holiday window-unveiling, the city's Christmas lights will be turned on, and the holiday season will be declared open. A big fire will be erected on the courthouse square, and there Santa will appear to pass out candy to the thousands of young folk expected to be on hand to greet him.

There will be a Christmas Gift treasure hunt staged in connection with the program, with merchants offering special awards. Details of this Gift program will be announced later. Other special programs—with the Gift feature—are planned for ensuing Tuesday evenings before Christmas. Merchants will cooperate to demonstrate that gift stocks in Big Spring stores will be more attractive than ever before.

Arrangements also were made by the chamber of commerce committee Tuesday evening to have Santa remain here throughout the shopping season. After his public appearance on the 6th, he will be in the downtown section each afternoon and evening throughout the shopping season, greeting the children and visiting the stores.

Merchants represented at the C-C meeting expressed the opinion that this year's Yuletide celebration will be more colorful than any the city has staged. The group also indicated that, since Christmas falls on Sunday this year, Monday, December 26th, will be observed generally as a holiday.

FIVE IN FAMILY ARE FOUND DEAD OF GAS

Murder-Suicide Verdict Returned In Tragedy At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9 (AP)—Oliver Harper and four members of his family were found dead today in a gas-filled residence and Justice of the Peace Hal Hughes returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

The dead were:

Oliver W. Harper, bakery operator and former chemist; Mrs. Harper; Wendell Harper, 13, a son; Charlotte Harper, 9, daughter; Tom Harper, 7, son.

Firemen wearing gas masks broke into the locked house, where they found Harper, his wife and daughter and in another bedroom the two boys. Mrs. Harper, police deduced, evidently had attempted to open a window and had collapsed at the foot of the bed. They said the little girl evidently had struggled before death came.

E. W. Henry, an employee of Harper, discovered the deaths. He found a note warning of "deadly gas, dangerous," and instructing him to notify Chris Hamilton, Glendale, Calif., and Henderson Harper, Kansas City, Kan.

The death apparently occurred last night, physicians said.

Four months ago Harper left a position as head chemist for the Fort Worth grain and cotton exchange.

Below the warning, written in long-hand, was this note to Henry:

"Mr. Henry—Here's my pay for week and money for wires for brother and brother-in-law. They will look after things."

The two letters and the money were in envelopes behind the board.

Henry said he ran to a grocery store and called police. Radio car Patrolmen Carter and Bigbee, the first policemen to arrive, called firemen.

The firemen went into the gas-filled residence with gas masks to discover the five bodies.

Friends and neighbors of the Harpers quickly gathered at the home.

GERMAN ENVOY DIES OF GUN WOUNDS

PARIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Ernst Vom Rath, secretary of the German embassy, died today from gunshot wounds inflicted in the embassy Monday by a 17-year-old Polish Jew.

In spite of four blood transfusions made under direction of Adolf Hitler's personal physician, sent from Germany by the Fuehrer, the 32-year-old Vom Rath succumbed in the Paris hospital to which he was taken after the shooting.

Baptists Rap Govt. Policy

Problems Of Endowment Investments Are Aired

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—"Government interference" in the investment business was assailed at the Baptist General Convention of Texas today in the annual report of the Baptist Foundation, an agency for investing denominational funds.

George J. Mason of Dallas, executive secretary of the foundation, told messengers "it becomes more and more difficult to produce an income with interest rates declining. In 1932 we could make mortgage loans at seven per cent. Now, due to government competition in FHC and HOLC, mortgage loans can rarely be found, and the yield is only four and one-half or five per cent."

The foundation, said Mason, holds $1,000,000 in real estate which produced a gross income of $48,000 the past fiscal year. He added: "But with taxes and government interference it is very difficult to break even. As one farmer said: 'If the government would let me alone, I could make a living.'"

"Endowment or death" faces Texas Baptist institutions, Mason told the convention. Baylor university at Waco, he said, needs a $10,000,000 endowment and the school's branches at Dallas need a like sum. Other colleges, he declared, need proportionate endowment.

REPUBLICANS HAND NEW DEAL FIRST SETBACK, GAINING CONTROL IN A DOZEN KEY STATES

Texans Favor Abolition Of Duel Clause

Democrats Roll Up Big Margin With- out A Contest

By The Associated Press

W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth flour salesman who campaigned with a hillbilly band in the primaries, yesterday along with the remainder of the Texas democratic slate, won office in the general election without having so much as distributed a card or attended a pie supper.

The democrats, who did all their hard work last summer in eliminating each other, piled up the usual lopsided majorities as an estimated quarter of a million voters made it official for those seeking state office and places in congress.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at noon showed O'Daniel received 17,481 votes from 203 counties of 254, including 33 complete. Alexander Boynton, republican, had 6,251; Homer Brooks, communist candidate, showed 169, and Earl Miller, socialist, 190.

The only issue that developed into anything resembling a contest was an amendment to repeal the dueling provision of the state constitution, drafted in 1876. This clause was in the o.a.s. of office, the one elected solemnly swearing he never had fought a duel. The amendment carried 51,924 to 33,390.

Election bureau officials said there would probably be no more than 250,000 votes cast when all returns were in. O'Daniel had asked the electorate to cast 1,000,000.

Others getting the formal sign of approval were:

Incumbent democratic representatives: Martin Dies, Orange; Wright Patman, Texasiana; Sam Rayburn, Bonham; Hutton W. Sumners, Dallas; Luther A. Johnson, Corsicana; Nat Patton, Crockett; Albert Thomas, Houston; James J. Mansfield, Columbus; Lyndon Johnson, Johnson City; W. S. Poage, Waco; Fritz G. Lanham, Fort Worth; Richard M. Kleberg, Corpus Christi; Milton H. West, Brownsville; R. E. Thomason, El Paso; Clyde L. Garrett, Eastland; Marvin Jones, Amarillo; George L. Mahon, Colorado, and Charles L. Smith, Coleman.

Newcomers to congress: Lindley Beckworth, Gilmer; Paul Kilgory, San Antonio, and Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls.

Democratic nominees for state office:

Coke Stevenson, lieutenant governor; Gerald Mann, attorney general; Richard Crutz, supreme court justice; F. L. Hawkins and Larry N. Graves, court of criminal appeals; G. A. JERRY Sadler, railroad commissioner; George H. Sheppard, comptroller; Bascom Giles, land commissioner; Charles Lockhart, treasurer; L. A. Woods, school superintendent; J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture.

NO COMMENT FROM FD ON ELECTIONS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt went to bed at 1 o'clock this morning without commenting on the election results, and presidential attaches said he probably would not make any statement during the day.

Despite important republican victories outside of New York, he was reported by Secretary McIntyre to have retired in a cheerful mood, especially over the reelection in his native state of New York of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and others on the democratic state ticket.

With members of his family and a few close friends he sat in the library of his home last night receiving returns by direct wire to democratic headquarters in New York City and by radio.

He kept the long-distance telephone wires humming, too, talking with candidates and leaders throughout the country and congratulating democrats where their election appeared certain.

Britain Alters Policy Toward Palestine

Partition Of Holy Land Will Be Abandoned

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The British government announced today abandonment of its proposal to partition Palestine.

Instead a conference of Jews and Arabs will be summoned in London and an attempt made to work out an amicable settlement.

If the conference fails, the government will "take their own decision in the light of their examination of the problem and of the discussions in London and announce the policy which they propose to pursue."

In a statement issued simultaneously with the report of the royal commission headed by Sir John Woodhead, the government announced its conclusion "political, administrative and financial difficulties in the proposal to create independent Arab and Jewish states inside Palestine are so great that this solution of the problem is impractical."

The statement said members of the commission were "unable to recommend boundaries for the proposed areas which will afford reasonable prospect of the eventual establishment of self-supporting Arab and Jewish states."

The commission's report came as 20,000 British soldiers sought to restore peace in the Holy Land where an Arab rebellion against British rule and Jewish immigration to their "homeland" has resulted in 2,458 casualties in the last four months and 2,947 in the previous two years.

Restoration of peace among the Arabs, growing increasingly nationalistic, appeared vital to Britain who received from the league of nations a mandate in 1922 to govern Palestine. Palestine guards the north flank of the Suez Canal, and is on the path along which German influence is spreading since the partition of Czechoslovakia.

City To Close For Holiday

No Formal Observance Of Armistice Planned

With the exception of a football clash between Big Spring's Steers and the Sweetwater Mustangs, the Armistice Day calendar in Big Spring will be devoid of formal observances, it appeared Tuesday.

The city, however, will follow custom in suspending practically all business activities so that working folk may have a holiday.

Virtually all retail stores—including grocery establishments which are advising housewives to buy food supplies accordingly—offices, public institutions and banks will be closed for the day.

The postoffice will close, observing the Armistice holiday for the first time.

The Big Spring-Sweetwater grid game is the last scheduled home game for the Steers and is expected to draw a large crowd. Followers of the Mustangs are hoping to run a special train here for the game.

A pre-Armistice festivity will be a dance at the Selties hotel Thursday evening, under sponsorship of the American Legion post and the Bachelors club.

Estimate On Texas Cotton Is Lower

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—A Texas cotton crop of 3,125,000 bales based on conditions of Nov. 1 is 75,000 bales less than on the forecast of Oct. 1, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today, the estimated compared with 5,154,000 bales produced in 1937 and a 10-year average of 3,997,000.

The department said the estimate of lint yield was 154 pounds per acre on the 8,711,000 acres left for harvest. The yield last year was 197 pounds, and for the 10-year average 140 pounds.

County's Vote Barely Over A Thousand

Democratic Ticket Affirmed; Dueling Amendment OK'd

With only one of six potential voters bothering to go to the polls in Tuesday's general election, Howard county barely polled more than 1,000 votes, returns from 13 of 14 boxes showed.

There was no more than four votes difference in the totals received by the county candidates and precinct candidates and in with very few protests.

W. Lee O'Daniel, democratic gubernatorial candidate, gained a majority in Howard county for the first time, but even so he trailed the ticket. Whereas George Mahon polled 1,067 votes for congressman from the 19th district, O'Daniel could poll only 970. His republican adversary, Alexander Beynton, mustered 39 ballots in the 13 boxes.

For legislator, Dorsey B. Hardman polled 1,013 votes, Cecil C. Collins got 1,016 for district judge; Martelle McDonald 1,018 for district attorney, Charlie Sullivan 1,014 for county judge, Joe Faucett 1,018 for county attorney, Hugh Dubberly 1,017 for district clerk, Lee Porter 1,018 for county clerk, Jess Staughton 1,015 for sheriff, Mrs. J. L. Collins 1,018 for county treasurer, V. V. Strahan (who led the ticket) 1,019 for county surveyor, and Anne Martin 1,014 for county superintendent.

The constitutional amendment to eliminate the anti-dueling clause from the oath of office got approval in the county by a vote of 278 to 156. The majority was piled up in the town while rural boxes generally swatted the proposal.

Services Set Today For W. J. Inkman

Funeral services for W. J. Inkman, 78, retired Texas & Pacific railway conductor, were to be held Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 from the Eberley Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. Father W. J. Fritz of San Benito, in charge. Mr. Inkman's body arrived in Big Spring Wednesday morning, accompanied by his son, W. W. Inkman of this city, who was called to Marshall Monday morning on account of the seriousness of his father's condition. Mr. Inkman fell in his room at a hotel in Fort Worth several weeks ago, sustaining a fracture of the left hip. He succumbed Monday night in a Marshall hospital.

Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: Ernest Puffer, Charles Koberg, Walter Bird, Charles Vines and D. Bailey.

Administration To Face More Opposition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Republican gains in senate and house furnished a strong indication today of stiffer opposition to administration proposals during the next congress.

Although insufficient to overturn the democratic majorities in both chambers, the additional republican seats will give new strength to the coalition of republicans and anti-Roosevelt democrats which fought many of the White House recommendations in the last two years.

The 1938 congress will include several men whom Mr. Roosevelt sought to defeat in democratic primaries. The opinion was general among capital politicians that this group will intensify its battle against new deal legislation.

Administration supporters were cheered, however, by the victory of James H. Fay, New York democrat, over Chairman John J. O'Connor of the house rules committee.

O'Connor, whom the president called "one of the most effective obstructionists in the lower house," ran on the republican ticket after Fay defeated him in the democratic primary.

Eight Killed In Kentucky

Election Day Marked By Violence In Blue Grass State

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—Kentucky counted eight dead today in election day gun play.

Back in 1933 the toll reached 18 in the November general election. Until yesterday voting days had been far less marred by shootings.

Despite the apparent lack of interest during the campaign, democrats of the state turned out to give Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley a lead of more than 91,000 votes over John P. Haswell, his republican opponent on returns from 2,725 of Kentucky's 4,324 precincts. The latest tabulation gave Barkley 212,175 to Haswell's 129,394.

Along with Senator Barkley eight of nine congressmen appeared certain of reelection on incomplete unofficial returns. Only Congressman A. J. May of the seventh district was in danger.

Harlan county, long known for labor and election disorders, reported four of the dead. National guardsmen watched over the ballot boxes through the night.

Harlan's dead: B. P. Hansbell, 34, deputy sheriff; Odell Sherman, 35; Willie Wynn, 32, and Sherman Howard, 38, former deputy sheriff.

Albert McIntosh, 42, and Sidney Gabbard, 55, were slain in Owsley county.

Clarence Cooper, 30, was killed in Bell county.

Robert Parrish, 37, was slain in Todd county.

Honors Divided In N. York And Pennsylvania

(By The Associated Press)

The republican party hit the comeback trail of political power today by upsetting democratic gains in a dozen strategic states among them Pennsylvania.

It delivered the new deal the first major election reverse since Franklin Roosevelt was chosen six years ago. The democrats, nevertheless, retained control of congress and more than half the governorships.

Along the Atlantic seaboard, in the midwest and on the Pacific coast one democratic administration after another toppled before the tide of votes.

About a dozen republicans contested successfully for governorships now held by democrats. Eight republican aspirants won democratic seats in the senate.

As returns continued to come in, more than 70 house seats switched from the democrat to the republican side.

In the two biggest state elections New York and Pennsylvania—the major parties split even.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman, New York democrat, won reelection over Thomas E. Dewey after exciting hours of vote-counting in

Ham-And-Egg Plan Defeated

California's $30- Every-Week Scheme Trails 4 To 3

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9 (AP)—California democrats today retained their only seat in the senate, in a campaign revolving around a unique scrip pension plan, and for the first time in 44 years elected a governor.

The double triumph was slightly dimmed by the loss of two congressional seats to republicans, and by a nip and tuck race for lieutenant governor.

Sheridan Downey, democratic supporter of the "$30-every-Thursday" pension plan, polled 530,332 votes for senator in 9,174 of the 12,472 precincts, to 457,197 for Philip Bancroft, critic of the pension plan and of President Roosevelt.

In 7,978 precincts state Senator Culbert Olson, former Utah legislator, was given 583,510 votes to 501,833 for republican Governor Frank Merriam.

The "ham and egg" pension plan which Downey supported, and a stringent anti-pitching initiative, were headed for defeat. Both were running behind by a four to three count.

Merriam condemned the pension proposal, on which Olson kept silent. In a closing campaign speech he said: "Of course, those supporting the $30-every-Thursday plan

THE SPORTS PARADE

by HANK HART

Sometime within the very near future, we're going to step over quite a few objections and lead a campaign to change the nickname of the athletic teams that represent the local high school. And objections in many quarters will be made to overcome. That moniker—Steers—may please many fans in this sector rich in tradition and loyalty but to your observer there are many, many more appropriate handles that could be applied and this department is not thinking of "Doormats" or "Philanthropists" just because their fortunes aren't shaping so well at the present time.

It has always been quite silly to name a team of young men after a four legged animal whether that animal be a cat, dog, horse or lion or, maybe, worse, a cow. That is one reason why the Trojans of Southern California, the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, the Irish of Notre Dame, the Gentlemen of Centenary, the Commodores of Vanderbilt, the Vandals of Idaho, the Ichabods of Washburn or even the Violets of New York university have seemed far more appealing than the varied assortment of Tigers, Panthers, Mustangs, Frogs, Cougars, Wolverines or the Steers thundering across our various gridirons today.

And what would we label the local representatives? That's easy. We've got one all picked out and whether or not action is taken we're very likely to break the ties and string along with our side at any time. That name is the Spartans, a moniker unused in Texas high school football, which would be unique for that very reason. Do we hear a second to the motion?

And come to think of it, those scarlet jerseys with white numerals and the local crew worn on both the Abilene games looked quite the thing. The Murphysmen deserted their conventional black and gold colors in those battles due to similarity of the two schools' colors.

Should San Angelo defeat Abilene Armistice Day, as they are not expected to do, and Sweetwater rumble over Big Spring, as predicted, the Bobcats and the Mustangs, who would then be tied for the league No. 1 spot, would probably meet for the sector's championship November 18. Fortunately each team matched but nine games this fall, one under the limit as set by state interscholastic league headquarters, and both have November 18 open. The winner could still have six days rest before the champion eastern half of the district must be met.

Should Abilene and San Angelo fight to a deadlock and Sweetwater kick in with a victory over Big Spring, the Eagles and the Mustangs would be the team to fight it out for the championship.

Big Timers Are Overlooked In Pilot Signing

Blades, Prothro Or Haney Were Not Great Stars

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Possibly overlooked in the midst of football excitement is the revolution going on in baseball managerial circles. Club owners have decided all at once they do not need "big-name" pilots with the attendant big-figure salaries.

Gaze upon the appointments made recently: Ray Blades, St. Louis Cardinals; Fred Haney, St. Louis Browns; Del Barber, Detroit; Doc Prothro, Philadelphia Nationals; Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodgers. There's not a glamor boy in the bunch, and only Durocher ever was a real star in the big leagues.

Headliners discarded included Frankie Frisch, Mickey Cochrane, Gabby Street, Burleigh Grimes, Jimmy Wilson, Charley Grimm and Babe Ruth. Fortunately all of the last named group, with the possible exception of Grimes, are so well fixed from many years at top pay that they have nothing to worry about. All of the new managers, on the other hand, will begin pulling down really good money for the first time. It is safe to estimate that the various shifts in management will save club owners a total of at least $25,000 in salaries.

STATE IS WINNER IN TAX LITIGATION

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—The state again won in the Austin court of civil appeals today in a suit against it seeking to recover $12,903 in inheritance taxes.

The suit was brought by the San Jacinto National bank of Houston, executor and trustee of the estate of A. D. Milroy, who died in 1931. The main question was constitutionality of the law giving inheritance tax exemption to bequests to Texas religious corporations but denying that exemption to out-of-state organizations.

LAST MINUTE LOSING JINX DOGS RAZORBACKS' TRACKS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 9 (AP)—In 136 telescoped seconds—less than three minutes—Coach Fred Thomsen and his Arkansas Razorbacks have lived a lifetime of football tragedy.

For in fleeting segments of time, clipped off the end of five Arkansas games in the last two seasons, the Ozark foothills boys have seen that many games go aglimmering.

Five out of Arkansas' last 13 games have been lost in the last minute of play and Coach Thomsen's red thicket is turning grey. His own explanation of this amazing jinx reveals: It started back in November, 1937, in the Baylor game. A Baylor punt struck Arkansas' safety man, bounded away and was recovered by Baylor with only 43 seconds to play. Bullet Bill Patterson chucked a 25-yard touchdown pass. Final score: Baylor 20, Arkansas 14.

Forsan Girls In 26-22 Win Over Wolves

Gregory Girls, Mary And Virginia, Pace Way To Win

WESTBROOK, Nov. 9—Gwynett Lyles' Forsan high school girls basketball team made a brilliant third quarter rally to stand off a final period threat to defeat the Westbrook girls, 26-22, in a whirlwind cage encounter here Tuesday evening.

The Gregory girls, Mary and Virginia, paced the Forsanites to their victory. Virginia had 12 points to take high point honors while Mary was runnerup along with Westbrook's White with ten.

The Wolves were leading at the end of the first quarter, 8-6, with Costin and White leading the way, but the combined efforts of the Gregory sisters and Pike enabled the Forsan girls to tie the score at 16 all at half time.

Best In November

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9 (AP)—"Just 'fore Christmas, I'm good as I can be," runs the poem that might be the motto of Dutch Meyer, Texas Christian coach. In his four full seasons as T.C.U. mentor, his teams have lost 11 games and tied four out of 48 played. Only four losses and one tie have been in games played after November first.

Sanford Wants Definite Assurance That Game Will Be Played

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—A hitch in the new plan for promoting the Cotton Bowl football game here Jan. 4 appeared likely today with the announcement that J. Curtis Sanford, who previously had agreed the attraction, was unwilling to turn the game over to the new organization until he is definitely assured the Southwest conference will participate.

While Sanford, the Dallas News said, acceded to wishes of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association, to turn his charter and six-year lease on the Cotton Bowl stadium over to the directorate, he made his promise contingent upon complete co-operation of the conference.

So far, Sanford declared, he has no guarantee of this co-operation, pointing out that the conference itself is not empowered to guarantee delivery of its champion, but the individual schools could go on record for the game, with each entering into an agreement with the Cotton Bowl Athletic association whereby it would promise to send its team to the New Year's game if fortunate enough to win the conference championship. The News quoted Sanford as saying the only progress made so far in this direction is a promise by each school representative (excepting Texas A. and M.) that he would try to prevail upon his institution to accept the invitation if it won the championship, but Sanford said this was too intangible.

Nix Warns Of Strength Of Westbrook

Buff Gridders Work For First Of Two Game Series

FORNSAN, Nov. 9—Escaping the Union game without serious injuries, the Forsan Buffs were in high spirits as they prepared for the invasion of Westbrook's six-man grid team here Thursday afternoon.

It will be the first meeting of the year for the two teams although the Buffs were originally members of the FSAA conference, the association of which the Wolves are associated.

Coach R. G. Crouch's outfit, although beaten decisively by Garner, a team that Forsan decided earlier in the season, are rated as dangerous and Mentor Brady Nix cautioned his men not to take the game lightly.

BEARKATS MEET STERLING CITY NOVEMBER 18

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 9—Hershel Wheeler's Garden City Bearkats will repay a visit to the Sterling City footballers to Garden City last week when they drop in for a Nov. 18 encounter with George Sullivan's team.

The Bearkats won the first game, 25-18, after a hard struggle.

Reserve Seats For Steer-Pony Game Now On Sale

Choice reserve seat tickets for the Sweetwater-Big Spring football game, scheduled to be played here Friday afternoon beginning at 2:30 p. m., are on sale at the school tax office in the courthouse and reservations may be made by calling telephone No. 1206.

MAKE PLANS FOR CAGE TOURNEY

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Southwestern A. U. today announced plans to hold an invitation high school basketball tournament here Dec. 27 to 29.

Varied Attack Is Planned For Enemy

Johnny Daniel quickened the training pace of his Yearling gridders Tuesday evening as the youngsters went through a long drill on the Birdwell grounds working for the invasion of the strong Lubbock junior high school club. The two teams will get together in a 3:30 p. m. battle in Steer stadium Thursday afternoon.

Confident that the freshmen will hit the same stride that they did the night they met and well-loped Coahoma for their only victory of the season, Daniel prepared to have his charges use a varied attack against the strong Lubbock team.

With Bobby Mann and Tabor Rowe tossing passes and Rowe, Ed Knapp and "Sborly" Ely operating as the ball huggers, the Yearlings will be able to toss up a lot of offensive against the invaders.

The Lubbock lads are rated as a high powered, high scoring organization with a fine combination of weight and speed. The Yearlings have the weight, are woefully lacking in speed. Knapp has taken over the line plunging duties of Pete Pressley. That young man went out of action three weeks ago when he cracked his arm.

Marshall Is Not Interested In Brooklyn Club

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Don't let anybody kid you about the report (not carried here) that George Marshall, the pro football boss, is thinking of buying the Brooklyn baseball Dodgers. The big Washington wires that he's not only not interested, but thinks it's about time folks stopped getting cheap publicity at the expense of the "daffiness" boys.

And now there's the whisper that Minnesota Bernie Bierman is getting offers from a couple of coast colleges. Sounds screwy to this corner. Best story out of the wild and woolly western Syracuse enjoyed after the Orange knocked off Colgate for the first time since '24 concerned the three long-time rooters who were stopped by the law as they tried to walk out of the stadium carrying a piece of the planking they'd been sitting on. "Whad'ya mean ripping up the seats?" asked Mr. Policeman. "Lissen, buddy," they told him, "we've sat on this piece of board for 13 years to see Syracuse win, and now nobody is going to stop us from taking it home for a souvenir." P.S. — They got the board.

S'west Squads Are Plagued By Injuries

Olie Cordill May Be In Shape; Lain Is Inactive

Injuries plagued Southwest conference football camps today but as each squad was about as hard hit as the others there was little change in predictions on how Saturday's games will come out.

The Texas Aggies lost Jo-Jo White, Amarillo letterman end, for the remainder of the season when he underwent an emergency operation for a ruptured intestine. Marland Jeffrey, who suffered a twisted knee in practice yesterday, may not be able to play against Rice.

The Owls had Ernie Lain, Earl Glassie, Bert Selman and Cotton Halstrom definitely out of the A. S. game, but held high hopes Olie Cordill, ball-carrying ace, would be able to go.

Mike Sweeney, end, will not start for the University of Texas against Texas Christian university, but Perk Myers, who had been bothered by an ankle injury, will open at tackle. It will be his first game since the Arkansas tilt.

Hale, Others Idle There was little change in the Horned Frog "hospital list" which carried Tackle I. B. Hale, Guard Forrest Kline and Backfielder Johnny Hall, regulars. Bob Cook, slated to replace Hale, was in bed with a cold yesterday but was ready to report for practice today.

Johnny Clement, sophomore backfield dependable for the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, suffered an injured knee in practice yesterday and may not get into the game against Arkansas. Willie Curik, first-string tackle, was still in a hospital with a bruised kidney.

BROWN SMILES

Apparently happy about the whole thing, Fred Haney (above) signed a one year contract in St. Louis to manage the Browns, St. Louis member of the American league.

Bulldogs Rate Favorite In Eagle Game

Devanmen Gain Not If All Regulars Are Ready

COAHOMA, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Coahoma-Ackerly Armistice Day football game, a feature of Coahoma's homecoming day program when all the graduates of that high school will be honored, was rated as a tossup by Coach Lloyd Devan of the Bulldogs as he sent his charges through a long drill Tuesday afternoon.

Comparing records, the two teams appear to be evenly matched with Coahoma given a slight edge if the injured parties are ready to play. Coahoma defeated Big Spring's Yearlings, 26-0, in the first of a two-game series with that school but lost out in a later battle, 13-18, with several regulars hampered by bruises. The Eagles, in their only game with Big Spring, won out, 6-0, with a fourth quarter touchdown.

The game will test the bullish rushes of Coahoma's S. P. Echols, 188 senior, against the elusive Eagle star, Allen White, who raced some 25 yards to score the only touchdown against Big Spring.

Ackerly will have an advantage in both weight and experience in the line.

There was little change in the Horned Frog "hospital list" which carried Tackle I. B. Hale, Guard Forrest Kline and Backfielder Johnny Hall, regulars. Bob Cook, slated to replace Hale, was in bed with a cold yesterday but was ready to report for practice today.

Johnny Clement, sophomore backfield dependable for the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, suffered an injured knee in practice yesterday and may not get into the game against Arkansas. Willie Curik, first-string tackle, was still in a hospital with a bruised kidney.

Coach Fred Thomsen at Arkansas tried to forget the loss of Kay Eakin, who is out for the season, as he drove his Razorbacks on offensive which he claimed was rugged against Rice last week.

Baylor university was out of the state to keep a date at Los Angeles with Loyola Friday.

Winsett Nance And B. Savage Moved Up

Locals Have Everything To Gain And Nothing To Lose

Aware that the Sweetwater football stock has suffered a terrific setback since it made its unsuccessful invasion of the Mustang center last month, the local high school football machine drove long and hard in practice Tuesday afternoon in Steer stadium, preparing to throw its all into the encounter in an effort to put a pleasant ending to an otherwise disastrous season.

The team apparently will be able to operate at full strength. Clyde Smith and Henry Bugg were kicking their heels along with the rest of the boys. Clyde was injured three weeks ago and, although he managed to hobble a third last week, was not in the best of running order. Bugg was out down two weeks ago and did not suit out for last Friday's battle with Abilene.

Both were running with the second string. James Wheat and Durwood Dearing apparently will open at the tackle slots against the Cayuses while Bobby Savage will probably draw the starting assignment at right end.

Nance Elevated Running, too, with the regulars was Winsett Nance, the sophomore guard, who has been showing to advantage. Nance may start the weekend battle.

The crew took no heavy work Tuesday, instead went through a series of fast plays with Coach Pat Murphy looking on from the sidelines. Indications are that the team will be in better mental condition than at any time this season was brought out by the fact that more enthusiasm was in evidence among the boys in general than ever before. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose in the Sweetwater fracas and will go out shooting for the moon.

Alton Bostick, ace passer and kicker, did not take part in the drill. In his place was Bobby Martin, junior. Skeets Davidson was alternating with B. G. Garmann as a running back.

Meanwhile news comes from the Sweetwater camp that all is not well. Cecil Voss, all-district end, is said to be out for the season with injuries suffered recently. He is in bed at the present time and Coach Larry Priddy said that the star wing would certainly not be allowed to play against Big Spring. Others ailing were Jake Webster, star back, who injured an ankle in the encounter with San Angelo last week, and Tom Headrick, back, who was reported ill.

Brownsville Forfeits Game But Remains In Race For Dist. Title

HARLINGEN, Nov. 9 (AP)—Brownsville high school, a football power of District 16 of the Texas interscholastic league was unfortunate in losing a game it had won 32-0 via the forfeit route—but was fortunate in discovering the ineffectiveness of a player soon enough to stay in the race for the championship.

The district committee, meeting yesterday, ordered forfeited the game won Oct. 14 over San Benito, but it was the only loss on the Brownsville record, the Eagles having lost no more than San Benito and McAllen, now tied for the lead with two victories and one defeat each.

San Benito game was the only one in which the ineligible player was used.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile does not flow freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, and you feel so good in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

You'll Get A Cold Shoulder If You Don't Watch Winter Manners

By JOAN DURHAM AP Feature Service Writer

You're likely to get a very cold shoulder if you don't watch your cold-weather manners. The easiest way to nominate yourself for most-dissliked member of a group is to go in for fresh air in a great big way when nobody else in the house—or office—backs you up in your idiosyncrasy. And the quickest means of putting yourself in the worst graces of your favorite hostess is to tramp over her best rug in your galoshes or throw a snow-laden coat over her favorite chair.

Lest you forget, when the mercury takes a sudden drop, here are a few cold-weather reminders:

Be careful to close doors behind you. One door left ajar carelessly can send room temperature to a low level in a few minutes. That goes for outside doors, storm doors and doors between rooms.

Don't insist on maintaining unusual temperatures in rooms you share with others. Remember that 68 to 72 degrees is considered a comfortable temperature for most living quarters.

Keep sneezes to yourself. If you develop a bad cold stay away from others as much as possible. When you feel a sneeze coming on, prepare to catch it in your handkerchief.

Don't count on borrowing galoshes, raincoats or other wet-weather accessories. Lay in your own supply—and distribute it between your office and your home so you won't be caught in an emergency.

Leave a broom outside the front door—so visitors can brush the snow off their feet.

Try serving hot tea, coffee, chocolate—or even bouillon—to your refugees from the storm.

Chorus Meets For Rehearsal Of Two Songs

P.T.A. Singers Directed By Mrs. G. C. Schurman

Rehearsal began on two songs to be presented at the spring P.T.A. conference in Midland at a meeting of the P.T.A. chorus Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Hayes Stripling.

North Ward PTA Names Delegates To Congress

Dinner Will Be Served At School Tuesday, Nov. 22

Mrs. J. I. White and Mrs. O. C. Hart were selected at a meeting of the North Ward P.T.A. Tuesday afternoon to represent the unit at the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in Lubbock Nov. 15-17.

Mrs. M. L. Boatman said in a report of the last council meeting that the North Ward group won the Summer Round-up prize and also reported the largest number of radio listeners to the P.T.A. broadcast of any unit.

Members decided to serve a Thanksgiving dinner at the school Tuesday, Nov. 22, with the children paying 15 cents a plate and the adults 35 cents.

School Discussed

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, discussed the main topic of the day, "The American School," emphasizing the responsibility of the school in teaching the child to develop a definite and worthwhile purpose in life, to accept his responsibility of friendship, citizenship and every phase of human relationship now, to develop economic efficiency through development of pride in being able to do his task well and to understand his civic responsibility. The speaker said the child must be taught to recognize needs of others which he is able to fill and tolerance for the points of view of others.

EYES ON 1940

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The republicans counted their winnings today with a watchful eye toward 1940.

For the first time since 1928 they had found pay dirt in the election booths of the nation. It was not enough to give them control of national affairs. Still, it was more than the democrats had figured they would gain.

They piled the new winnings against the thin electoral backlog of Maine and Vermont and kindled them into a new glow of hope.

This came from the governorships they had captured and the spirited voting their candidates had inspired from their congressional gains. Their winnings in house and senate were not strong enough to give them more than a stage whisper of opposition to the Roosevelt program, except when coupled with dissident democrats.

Yet, whatever the election may beoken for the republicans in 1940, it easily may be set down as the date for the opening of a new era in the annals of the Roosevelt administration. Heretofore, the democrats have moved steadily ahead with the Roosevelt program. Whichever majorities in house and senate have enacted statute after statute, and each new election has given the party added strength and vigor.

The new election and the scope of the republican showing makes it clear that every new step the president takes toward expanding and mastering his program will be well surveyed for pitfalls.

ARMORY BOARD WINS IN BUILDING SUIT

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Texas national guard armory board won on an important preliminary victory in state supreme court today in efforts to build some 70 armories in more than 50 cities.

The court granted the board permission to file suit seeking to compel the attorney general to approve $4,500,000 of revenue bonds. If the tribunal grants the mandamus, the securities can be sold and a grant of $3,125,000 perhaps can be obtained from the federal PWA.

The national guard now rents armories from private parties. If the new buildings are constructed, the state will have to continue paying rent only until the bonds are insured.

A stamp tax on the scrip, his proponents said, would provide real money necessary to keep the plan working.

MILWAUKEE LOSER—MILWAUKEE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The name La Follette has lost its magic—a republican defeated Gov. Philip P. La Follette for reelection yesterday, the first time in 48 years Wisconsin has turned down the family in a general election.

Crashing with his hopes of being the state's first four-term chief executive went his 1940 presidential stock. Even his associates agreed that with its leader repudiated by the homefolks, far-flung expansion of the national progressive party in America would be a slow and difficult task.

Julius P. Heil, wealthy, 62-year-old Milwaukee manufacturer, won the gubernatorial race, piling up a vote which incomplete returns indicated would top La Follette's by approximately 175,000.

Subsidy Payments Over $211,000

Virtually all the outstanding subsidy payments to Howard county cotton producers were received here Wednesday, the county agent's office announced.

There were 75 checks in the latest group, accounting for $7,476.61. This brought the total subsidy payments to date to $211,502.19 in some 1,567 checks.

It was estimated that perhaps checks totaling subsidies to around 10 producers are due to the county, perhaps running the total benefits near $215,000.

Meanwhile, first of conservation payment applications are being drafted at the agent's office. The amount under this phase of the farm program is conjectural, but some figured it might run the total benefits to the county to about $460,000 for the year.

which first one and then the other pulled ahead.

Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-NY), a staunch Roosevelt supporter, also outdistanced his republican rival and Rep. James M. Mead (D) was chosen to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland.

In nearby Pennsylvania, just about the reverse occurred. Gov. George H. Earle, who gave the state a "little new deal," failed in his effort to unseat Republican Senator James J. ("Puddler Jim") Davis.

Arthur H. James, who campaigned on a promise to undo most of what Earle has done, was elected governor. His democratic opponent was Charles Alvin Jones.

Only in the "Solid South" did democratic lines remain intact. Across the middle and northern sections of the country the republicans counted governorships in these states which, at least for the last two years, the democrats had ruled:

Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Kansas, Massachusetts, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Michigan, Ohio, and Wyoming.

They also captured the Wisconsin administration from Gov. Philip P. La Follette, head of the progressive party, and appeared favored to win in Minnesota, where the farm-laborites have been in power since 1930.

Senate upheavals were not so large, but they far exceeded democratic predictions of what the republicans would win. In addition to Pennsylvania, republicans captured democratic senate seats in Connecticut, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The republicans, on the other hand, lost the Maryland governorship. In California there was a democratic governor for the first time in 40 years. Culbert L. Olson, whom President Roosevelt endorsed as a "liberal" pitted up an impressive lead over the republican incumbent, Frank F. Merriam.

Sheridan Downey, who also bore a presidential blessing, had a substantial lead over his republican opponent, Phillip Bancroft in the California senatorial race.

Many persons considered that the Pennsylvania successes gave the republicans their most important single state victory. With its large share of electoral votes the state always is an important factor in presidential races.

Among the democratic senators defeated were McGill of Kansas, co-author of the crop control act, Bulkley of Ohio, Harvard classmate of the president; Brown of New Hampshire, and Duffy of Wisconsin, who had the president's endorsement.

Both of the country's foremost minor parties—the progressive and the farmer-laborite—suffered severely under the impact of the republican drive.

In Wisconsin, home of the progressives, Julius P. Heil (R), Milwaukee manufacturer, defeated

D. D. Anderson Death Victim

Funeral Rites Said Wednesday For Pioneer Of County

A pioneer resident of Howard county, David Dean Anderson, succumbed at 4 p. m. Tuesday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Wright, 400 Nolan street, after a brief illness. He was 83 years old.

Owner and operator of a farm in the Center Point community, Mr. Anderson had resided in this section since 1905. He became ill only ten days ago, and moved to town to be with his daughter then. Mr. Anderson was born in Arkansas.

The funeral service was held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the East Fourth Street Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. W. S. Garnett, officiating. Burial was made in the Masonic cemetery under the direction of the Eberley Funeral home.

Besides Mrs. Wright, Mr. Anderson is survived by a son, J. W. Anderson of Cicero; two other daughters, Mrs. J. A. Kinard of Big Spring and Mrs. Ora Todd of El Paso; 22 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

Active pallbearers were Charles Ray, Dennis Lykins, Floyd Beckwell, Frank Martin, Cecil Floyd and Henry Davidson. Named as honorary pallbearers were T. J. McKinney, N. B. Davidson, W. M. Fletcher, J. W. Davis, R. W. Blow, R. M. Laudamy, T. S. Currie, W. S. Satterwhite, R. E. Satterwhite, B. O. Jones, F. W. Hill, J. L. Nix, J. M. Cross, C. E. Prather, E. D. Stephens, C. G. Hull, Albert McKinney, Rufus Davidson, Frank Pool and J. M. Barley.

SCOUTMASTERS MEET

Scoutmasters of troops in the Big Spring district were to convene at 5 p. m. today in the Episcopal parish house for their regular monthly round table and program planning session. Jack Penrose, field executive, was to be in charge of the session.

IN HOSPITAL

Luejeff, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Eddins of Monahans, was admitted to the Big Spring hospital Tuesday afternoon for treatment.

Red Cross Drive Off To Good Start

Fellowship reports from more than 100 women workers who launched the annual Red Cross roll call in the residential section Wednesday morning indicated an encouraging response, the roll call headquarters reported.

Best showing was made in the western part of town, the area west of San Antonio street where three workers exhausted their supplies. In other territories, it was reported, workers were encountering some difficulty in convincing housewives that Red Cross membership is an individual affair, that wife as well as husband should join.

In actual cash received at the headquarters desk, some $30 was reported, according to Mrs. Mary Delbridge, assisting Roll Call Chairman Ben Cole and Chapter Chairman Shine Phillips. However only one group of workers turned in any money.

Acquittal Verdict Denied In Spy Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Federal Judge John C. Knox today refused to direct a verdict of acquittal two men and a woman charged with spying in this country for the German government.

Defense counsel moved for the directed verdict during the trial of Johanna Hofmann, addresser on the liner Europa; Otto Hermann Voas, former airplane mechanic; and Erich Ganser, former U. S. army private in the air service.

Judge Knox answered sharply the defense counsel's contention that Miss Hofmann could not be held accountable for actions in Germany or on German boats where she is subject to German law and that the government could not act against conspiracies by German agents in Germany.

downments. Mason urged the ministers of the denomination to secure this money. "We have several Hardins yet if they can catch the spirit and vision of this ever-living servant of God," he said, referring to the late John G. Hardin of Burk Burnett whose philanthropies principally benefited Baptist institutions.

The Rev. J. Howard Williams of Amarillo, newly-elected president of the convention, rapped the "gun-at-the-head" policy of Nazism, in making a plea for world spiritual leadership.

"The world today has no international moral leader," he said. "The most conspicuous figure of our day is one who is gaining his ends with a gun-at-the-head policy. If the German leadership is right, it indicates a low state of affairs. At heart, Nazism has little respect for Christianity. Christianity is in its way. Nazism will fall, as its plan has repeatedly failed before in the history of the world."

The Baptists went into the second day of their convention under stern admonition to guard their schools against encroachments of big business, whims, andisms, turning toward consideration of their numerous educational institutions.

RETURN FROM HUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hall returned Tuesday night from Red River, N. M., where they have been on a deer hunt with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gilmore of Dallas. Hunting in sub-zero weather, Hall dropped a five-point buck. The temperature dipped to 16 degrees below zero during their stay and with exception of one brief period, a heavy snow was on the ground.

COUNTY'S RURAL SCHOOLS REOPENING

With school picking resolving into a home-stretch proposition, most of the rural schools are or have resumed their terms.

R-Bar will reopen Monday and Vealmoor is seeing students get back to books. After being held back due to remodeling of a building into a modern school plant, Richland is in full swing.

By Monday there likely will not be more than one rural school closed, it was predicted at the county superintendent's office.

Engineers Busy On Survey Report

Rapidly assembling data on prospective dam sites within a radius of 10 to 12 miles of Big Spring, engineers appeared to be nearing a report on their findings.

This report, however, may not be completed for some two weeks yet.

At the present time survey of a location to the east is being completed, and next a more thorough examination of a site west of town will be made.

THREE CASES ARE SETTLED IN COURT

Three cases were settled Wednesday morning in 70th district court, two of them compensation suits.

Divorce was granted to Willie Cleveland from Herman Cleveland, as well as custody of a minor child.

In the suit of Southern Underwriters versus Herman Fouch, suit to set aside award, judgment was given to the defendant when the plaintiff did not make appearance. While a jury was being selected to hear the case of Southern Underwriters versus M. C. Floyd, a settlement was reached by attorneys out of court.

HUNTERS RETURN

A hunting party composed of J. Y. Robb, M. H. Bennett and George Oldham of Big Spring, and H. B. Robb, Ed Rowley and Buddy Harris of Dallas returned Tuesday evening from a week's expedition in the mountains of New Mexico. They were joined on the hunt by Dr. T. B. Hoover of Tucumcari, former resident here, and Robb, student at Rowell. They reported heavy snow in New Mexico a handicap to hunting.

SENTENCE AFFIRMED

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a life sentence assessed Ben Chapman in Carson county on conviction of slaying Lee Hutson, Dec. 14, 1937.

Chapman, accused of shooting Hutson while the pair and a third person were on an automobile drive, attached the trial proceeding on grounds the court had not granted him a separate trial on plea of insanity.

The appellate court said the request for separate trial on insanity was not made before the defendant announced ready for trial of the murder charge and the lower court properly disallowed separate trial on the insanity question.

EYE to EYE in your own living room, Your Mileage Merchant would unblinkingly talk this same good sense about saving your car's battery and oil by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

NO BRASH "sounding off" by Your Mileage Merchant, because he can easily be specific about his patented Conoco Germ Processed oil. It specifically OIL-PLATES your engine for winter...no other oil does. And winter OIL-PLATING specifically cuts down on draggy "starts," battery exhaustion and oil extravagance, for these specific reasons:

The Germ Process adds in to this oil a patented man-made substance that sets up a strong force of attraction between Germ Processed oil and every engine surface it touches. Even the upright surfaces instantly attract and hold Conoco Germ Processed oil in the form of lasting OIL-PLATING. OIL-PLATING can never drain down—any more than chrome plating—during the longest, coldest parking. No question then, about winter OIL-PLATING speeding your starter from the first, because before you've even got out your key, your engine is ready-lubricated by slippery OIL-PLATING. Never letting loose, OIL-PLATING can't shoot out of the engine, but remains a constant help to your oil level—one of the smartest reasons for changing to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco Germ Processed oil. Patented. The only way to change to WINTER OIL-PLATING. Switch in Time!

Large Crowd Expected At Coahoma

Schools' Homecoming Celebration Friday

More than 2,000 persons are expected to converge on Coahoma Friday morning when the first homecoming event for the Coahoma schools is staged.

George Boswell, superintendent for the Coahoma school system, said that interest in the affair was at a high peak and that it appeared there would be some 20 to 30 entries in the parade which will start in the celebration at 9:30 a. m. Friday.

All graduating classes since the first group to receive diplomas at Coahoma in 1915 are being urged to enter floats in the parade. Every ex-student and former teacher of the Coahoma schools especially are invited to participate in the celebration, said Boswell.

The Coahoma school band and pep squad will play prominent parts in the parade and subsequent events of the day. Dr. D. D. Jackson, Texas Tech faculty member, will deliver the dedicatory address for new school buildings. Other talks will be made by Miss Johnnie Bayce and Norman H. Reid. There will be music by the band and the elementary chorist club. At noon picnic baskets will be opened and an old-fashioned picnic held. In the afternoon inspection of the buildings and a football game between Coahoma and Ackery will be feature attractions.

Return From Trip

Mrs. C. W. Norman and daughter, Mary Frances, have just returned from a visit to Canyon with Mrs. Norman's mother, Mrs. T. W. Langston. While there they attended the W.S.T.C. homecoming and heard the U. S. navy band in Amarillo. They were accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Courson of Big Spring who visited two daughters in Amarillo.

'Womanless Wedding' To Feature Program At Knott Thursday

A variety program, including an observance of the Armistice anniversary and, as a comedy feature, a "womanless wedding" will be presented at Knott on Thursday evening under auspices of the Friendship club, it has been announced.

Following the "wedding" ceremony, members of the club will present a floor drill to demonstrate work of the Rebekah lodge. A string band will furnish music, and another part of the program will be an old-fashioned "jig" dance.

Special decorations will be displayed, and the program will be concluded with an Armistice observance, for which Clyde E. Thomas of Big Spring will be the principal speaker. Refreshments will be served, and there will be a nominal admission fee. The public is invited to attend.

The cast of the "womanless wedding" will include the following: Bride, T. M. Robinson; groom, George Bayce; flower girls, Joe Myers and Joe Kemper; bridesmaids, W. G. Thomas, J. L. Cross, Walter Nichols and Curtis McCauley; mother of bride, Willie Woods; father of bride, Elgin Jones; best man, Porter Austley; twins, O. R. Smith and Austin Grider; grandfather, Rufus Stallings; minister, Ed Brown; grandmother, J. J. Jones; ringbearer, Elbert Rosman.

WAITRESS CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

LIBERTY, Nov. 9 (AP)—Nellie Scoville, red-haired former Houston waitress, was cleared of a murder charge today in connection with the "ride-along" of an unidentified Italian seaman.

She was released from jail and left to go to the home of friends in Beaumont, Sheriff Pat C. Towe said. She was arrested in Oklahoma last year. The slaying occurred in 1935.

Last week John Wesley Fawcett, former Louisiana convict, was freed by a jury of a murder charge. Richard Palmer is serving a life sentence in the seaman's death.

KBST Sports Program Gains Following

Bill Fields Heard Each Evening At 10:30 o'Clock

The inside news on the nation's sports is brought KBST listeners each weekday evening at 10:30 o'clock by Bill Fields, well known sports commentator of the Texas State Network. The feature, known as "Sports Spotlights," has become a popular program on the KBST log, and, recently, has brought to light many interesting angles of the Southwest Conference football race, as well as glimpses of well known Texas football stars.

Bill Fields, well known in the sports world, and a former athlete of merit, presents his program in a friendly, conversational manner, and holds his many listeners with his sharp insights on sports problems and events. If you enjoy sports—if you want the "inside lane" on "sports-personalities"—tune in "Sports Spotlights" this evening at 10:30 o'clock.

TRIAL REENACTED

"Famous Jury Trials," the program that brings to radio listeners reenactments of world famous actual courtroom cases, will broadcast a case that parallels one currently occupying the front pages of newspapers throughout the country, during the program of this evening from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

Walter Harrison, a well-to-do, middle-aged man, is charged by the state with killing by poison his ailing wife, Emily Harrison. The defense claimed that Harrison loved his wife deeply, that she was suffering from an incurable sickness and that he gave her the death-dealing dose because she begged him to end her pain.

The Trial of Walter Harrison raises again a question that has never ceased to be a topic of popular interest and argument—namely—has any human being the right to take the life of a loved one suffering from a seemingly incurable sickness?

Was Harrison justified? Listeners will hear the details of the case, the testimony, and the jury's verdict in this exciting courtroom reenactment. The broadcast will originate in the New York studios of Mutual's Newark affiliate, WOR.

READING AND WRITING

'TO REMEMBER AT MIDNIGHT' by Michael Foster (Morrow: $2.50).

It's a good day that brings a Michael Foster novel, and this one does. It is called "To Remember at Midnight," and except for reminiscences of styles used formerly, it is unlike either Foster's first book, "Forgive Adam," and his second and more ambitious flight, "American Dream."

The new one is the story of an actress who began being an actress as a mere child, and is never, really, anything else until the book leaves her to her own devices at the age of 40. Ann Parnett is the girl's name.

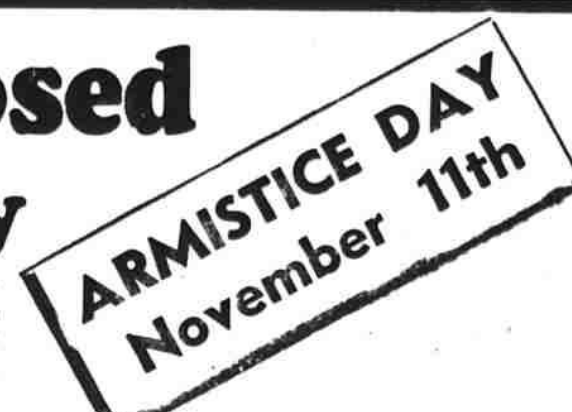

The reader never knows her mother because she is dead before the story begins. He does, however, know her father—very well. He is a ham—a vaudeville barker with a soupy voice and a too hearty manner. William Henry always speaks of himself as an artist, and when he is not drooling over a bar in pretended good-fellowship, he is a pretty decent sort. The perennial, incorrigible ham with a gold plated heart underneath.

Ann is one of the girls whose credit is a theatrical trick. But before adolescence comes to her there is an interim spent on a Montana ranch; William Henry has made a second marriage which he never acknowledges as a failure, but which finally he runs from. He calls that by courtesy of his obsession, Ann goes too, and has her novitate in absurd "vogue" in the west coast mountain towns. It is because William Henry falls that Ann meets the man she marries—Jonathan Fraser. And it is on this last curious tour of William Henry's that she meets the man who makes her career, whose name is Jake Banion.

The little girl whose steady gaze disconcerted many of her elders goes on to a career. Things happen to her, to Jonathan, more particularly to Jake. The book ends on a quite unusual note, one of those half-cadenances which in music partly satisfies the listener, and partly leads him to expect more. It is an excellent job.

It also is an experiment. Foster is apparently trying to take a stand between the lean and crisp prose of his first book, and the sweeping manner of his second. There are reflections of both styles in "To Remember at Midnight," and there is also a great deal of beauty.

We'll Be Closed All Day Friday

In observance of 20 years of PEACE for America. May we have many more such periods of peace! There is no tribute that can recompense our lost ones for what they have contributed. But we can manifest to them that they are not forgotten. They died for Peace—not War! We must keep the faith... we must dedicate to the mour everlasting thought and energy to insure for their posterity the goal they sought and the sacrifice they made TWENTY years ago.

IS CONVICTED IN SLAYING OF GUARD

GALVESTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Edward F. Sutton, 39-year-old convict, was found guilty of murder with malice aforethought in the killing of jail guard Ernest E. Good by a 56th district court jury today and given life imprisonment. The jury had been out since 10 o'clock last night. Sutton's companions in the break, Roland C. Tyler and Peter J. Calandra also were found guilty of murder in their part in the killing which occurred on June 12.

FICTIONAL MURDER SETTING BECOMES A REAL ONE

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 9 (AP)—Fictional murder on bleak Duck Island as portrayed by Ellery Queen in his mystery novel "Half-Way House" was overshadowed today by the real-life slaying of a youth and the attack-shooting of his 16-year-old girl companion.

The youth, tentatively identified as Vincenzo (Jim) Tonello, 20, Trenton, was shot through the neck last night when he resisted hold-up demands of an assailant who approached Tonello's coupe parked on the island which Author Queen used as a setting for his murder thriller.

Miss Mary Mytovich, also of Trenton, lay near death in a hospital today. She told police a negro "hot her escort when he refused demands for money, and that the negro then criminally attacked her, shot her and fled.

All Frontiers are Fickle

Frontiers have always blustered and fought back—and then given lavish treasures to those who would not be bullied... by the threatened danger of today or the fear of tomorrow.

No condition of life is constant and each new change is a frontier—baffling to some... a welcome challenge to others. Today's frontiers say to the timid, "It can't be done"—then they give splendid rewards in fields of science, business, agriculture and transportation to those with the pioneer's grit.

The opportunities and prizes that America offers us all today—as yesterday—fill people of other nations with envy. Small wonder they fire Americans with ambition!

Bridge School is Postponed

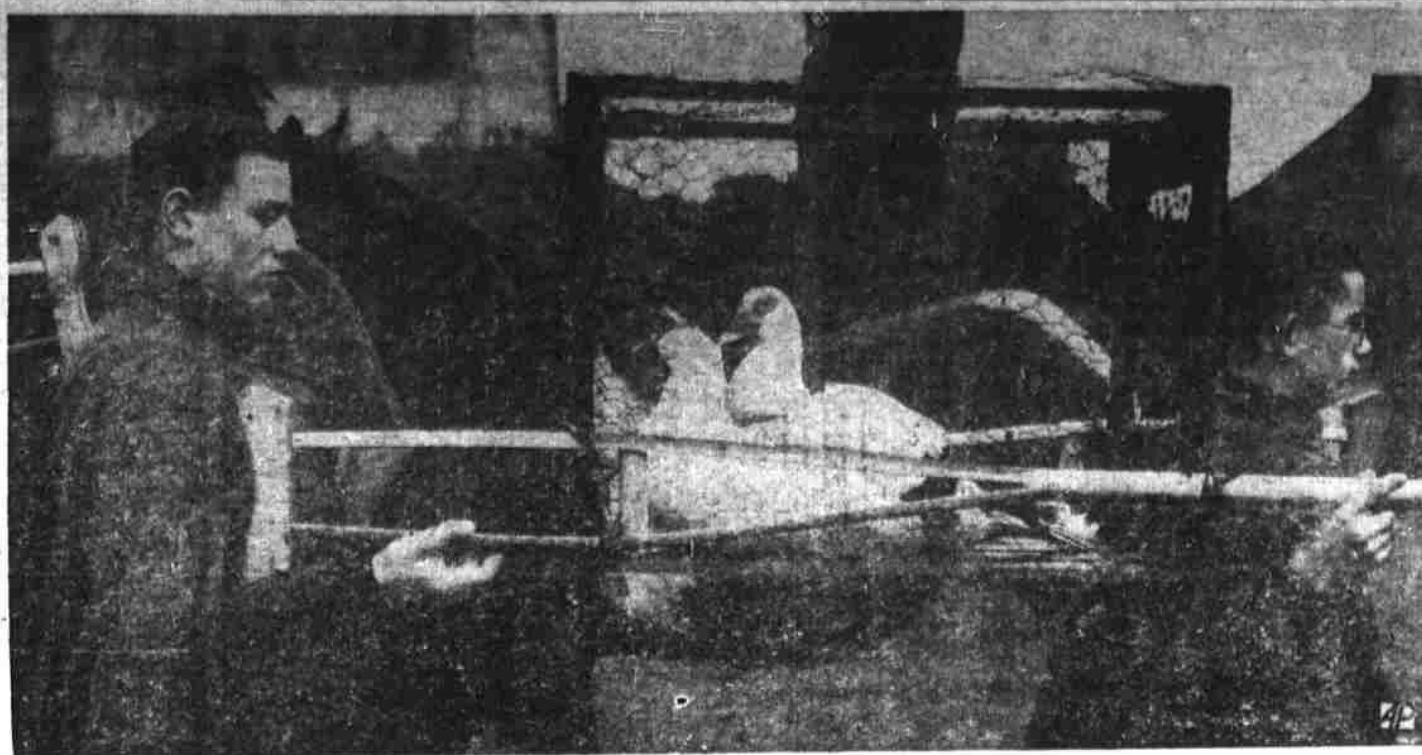

Congress To Sponsor Classes After The First Of The Year

A course of bridge instruction which originally had been scheduled here this week under direction of the American Bridge Congress has been deferred until a later date. It was announced Wednesday by W. E. Rufus Steele, nationally known bridge authority who came here to conduct the school.

Steele announced that there had been a misunderstanding as to dates, and that local arrangements had not been completed. The American Bridge Congress, he said, is desirous of sponsoring a school in Big Spring, and plans will be made definitely for his return here after the first of the year, when other engagements are booked in this section of the state.

The Elks club was to have sponsored the sessions here, but that lodge is in process of formation, and details could not be completed in time to go forward with the school, Steele said. The Congress requires that proceeds from its schools go to a charitable undertaking, and the local unit had not been sufficiently well organized to carry on such a program.

"It is to be regretted that circumstances have necessitated this postponement," Steele said. "We know many people in Big Spring are anxious to take advantage of this instruction, and the American Bridge Congress wants them to have it. A definite date, after the first of the year, will be made; and a first-rate school will be staged so that everyone who wishes to may benefit by it.

"Steele had other dates to be filled, and will conduct classes next week in Lamesa.

Open House To Be Held At Presbyterian Manse

Honoring the pastor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. D. F. McConnell, the woman's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church is holding open house at the new manse, 401 East Park, Thursday evening from 7:30 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock. All adult members and regular attendance of the church are invited to attend. Members of the Pastors' association, Kiwanians and their wives and Senior Hy-perion club members and their husbands are to be special invited guests.

Public's Idea On Insurance Discussed

Survey Analyzed By Angelo Man In Address Here

"Take the veil off your fiscal operations and spend more time selling us on the idea of an interview rather than dogging us into buying a policy we don't understand."

This is the crux of what the public said of life insurance companies and their underwriters in a survey made this summer, A. F. Ashford, president of the Western Reserve Life Insurance Co., San Angelo, told the Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters Tuesday evening at the Crawford hotel.

Ashford, in his address, "The Public Speaks," said the survey revealed what goes on in the mind of a prospect when approached by an insurance agent. Chief among the "pet peeves," he said, were those qualities: Lack of sufficient knowledge of the business by the agent; taking too much time or calling at inopportune times on prospects; trying to rush a decision; selling for premiums rather than needs; being too persistent; browbeating prospects into buying; or overloading the insured.

Raising Standards
But, Ashford revealed, the "peeves" were far less caustic than four years ago when a survey on the same question was made. This, he believed, showed that life insurance companies were raising the standards for underwriters and were making a more sensible approach to the customer. It was a continued, meeting an objection raised by many—the issuance of an agent's contract to men who have failed in everything else.

Companies came in for their verbal dressing down at the hands of more than 200 Texans in 14 different occupations or professions. Some thought rates were too high, that they ought to be revised downward on the basis of new mortality tables, while one predicted that rates were now at their lowest ebb and that they would have to go up within the next year due to the prevailing low rate of interest at which insurance companies are loaning their money.

Rates Going Up
"And that," predicted Ashford, "is exactly what is going to happen. Rates are going to be forced up."

One person wanted to stabilize the policy value on some other basis than a fluctuating dollar. Others thought high salaries executives got too much of the insured's money, that too much money was being concentrated in such companies, and that beneficiaries ought to be sold on insurance as well as the insured.

Another phase of the survey showed that policy holders generally understood very little about their companies, about its fiscal policies, but wanted to know much more in easily understandable terms. More clear, concise and less mysterious, technical information was what they wanted. A majority wanted their insurance to be paid to beneficiaries in monthly installments rather than lump sums.

Lloyd Grove, San Angelo, invited the underwriters to attend the state meeting in San Angelo June 22-23-24. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Virginia Parrott at the piano. Ray Ogden, president of the local association, presided over the meeting which was attended by some 30 persons, underwriters and their wives, and several out-of-town guests.

SHE RETURNED THE MONEY

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 9 (AP)—What would you do if you found $9,500 in currency in the street?

An unidentified woman, according to police records, found that amount in $50 and $100 bills here. What did she do with it?

She returned it to the owner, Mrs. Charles J. Stewart, who earlier had reported to police she lost that amount while carrying it in "a dirty pink rag purse."

PRIVATE CAPITAL GOES TO WORK

One may doubt Hitler and Mussolini, Chamberlain and Daladier had any idea that their peace of Munich would affect conditions in United States, yet it appears to have done so when nothing else seemed able to start the good work.

President Roosevelt, being convinced that peace for the country will be assured only by having armament and men and material available to cope with the actions of other nations, has initiated the aid of agencies that have the means, if allowed to use them, to bring back to this country at least a measure of its stability, of its ability to supply employment and to render needed service.

Conference between the president and the heads of electric corporations resulted in the agreement to the latter to make expenditures of some billions of dollars in improving and increasing their plants and distribution systems, which is considered necessary to the completion of an armament program that will make United States safe from attack by any other nation or group of nations.

The president evidently decided, and very wisely, that the production of electrical energy would best be done by the people who have made it their business, have invested money in it and who know how to do the work with the least delay. This investment will supply employment to thousands now idle and will enrich the bloodstream of manufacture and trade to a degree that no amount of government spending could do. Let us hope that it is but the first of similar agreements to let private capital have a chance to do what the government has been vainly promising to do for several years.

THE PLACE OF THE EMPLOYEE

Why is it that so often when a man is given a place to work, whether with brains or brawn, he or his family or friends speak of him as having "accepted" a position?

Is there any discredit attached to a man seeking work and being successful?

The use of the term "accepted" in connection with obtaining employment should be stopped, because it tends to put in the minds of too many people that the employment should seek the man rather than the man endeavor to get employment. It leads a college graduate, in some cases at least, to believe that he is entitled to employment and weakens the belief that he ought and should have that he must show himself worthy of employment and be able to give reasons why he would be an asset to his employer.

For every employed person should be an asset to the business or profession which employs him. Being a hired man is no mean thing. One retained in employment has the knowledge that he is useful to his employer, that he is serving the community and filling a necessary place in the world, no matter whether he be a ditch digger or the head of a corporation. And the corporation head is just as much a hired man as is the ditch digger.

The man who is unwilling to work as hard as an employee as if he were an employer will never advance into the latter class unless he changes his mental attitude and makes his job a principal interest in his life. Sincerely working for the interest of his employer he will be at the same time working for himself, for employers are not blind and the most of them at least are able to recognize the difference in service rendered, and reward it accordingly.

THE OPPOSITION

In this interval when the election speeches have all been delivered and the votes have not yet been counted, I have been remembering some remarks made many years ago by George Santayana. The practice of liberty as we understand it in America presupposes two things, said he. "That all concerned are fundamentally unanimous, and that each has a plastic nature, which he is willing to modify." Translated into the words that we now use, this would mean that a democracy is not a democracy when all concerned are agreed on ultimate objectives, when no sizeable number of voters are revolutionary and un-reconcilable, and when men are willing to change their minds and modify their actions as a result of debate with their opponents.

Thinking about Mr. Santayana's remark, I read an article by my colleague, Mr. Ernest K. Lindley, in which he printed a list of New Deal measures "that have come through this campaign in face of major criticism." It is an impressive list, extending from the Civilian Conservation Corps through the banking laws and the laws administered by the Securities and Exchange Commission to the TVA. Mr. Lindley says that these measures came into being in the face of "an hysterical struggle" but that there is no revolutionary or important opposition. And then, though he does not say so in so many words, Mr. Lindley leaves the reader with the impression that the opposition has been as ineffective as it has been stupid and reactionary, and that in the working out of the New Deal opposition and criticism have been a nuisance rather than a benefit.

Mr. Lindley is, I think, very much mistaken about the historical facts and in his reasoning from the facts. It is, in the main, true that at the end of six years of elected controversy a great measure of the major measures of the New Deal are generally accepted. I think as he does, that this is a good thing. But it is not true that the measures are now accepted as the same measures we should have had if there had been no opposition. It has been opposition, both from the outside, which has modified the initial proposals and their subsequent administration. It has been in this process of give and take that the measures which are now acceptable have been made acceptable to the great majority. The result which Mr. Lindley approves could not have been achieved without the opposition which he scorns.

Had opposition been ineffective in the past six years, there would be no such general agreement on so many principles and measures as there is today. For the measures would have been in many ways different and their administration would have been very different. In this respect, which Mr. Lindley dismisses as "hysterical," the New Dealers and their opponents have learned from each other, and if they now are able to agree on so many things, it is precisely because they have had to modify their principles and their practice.

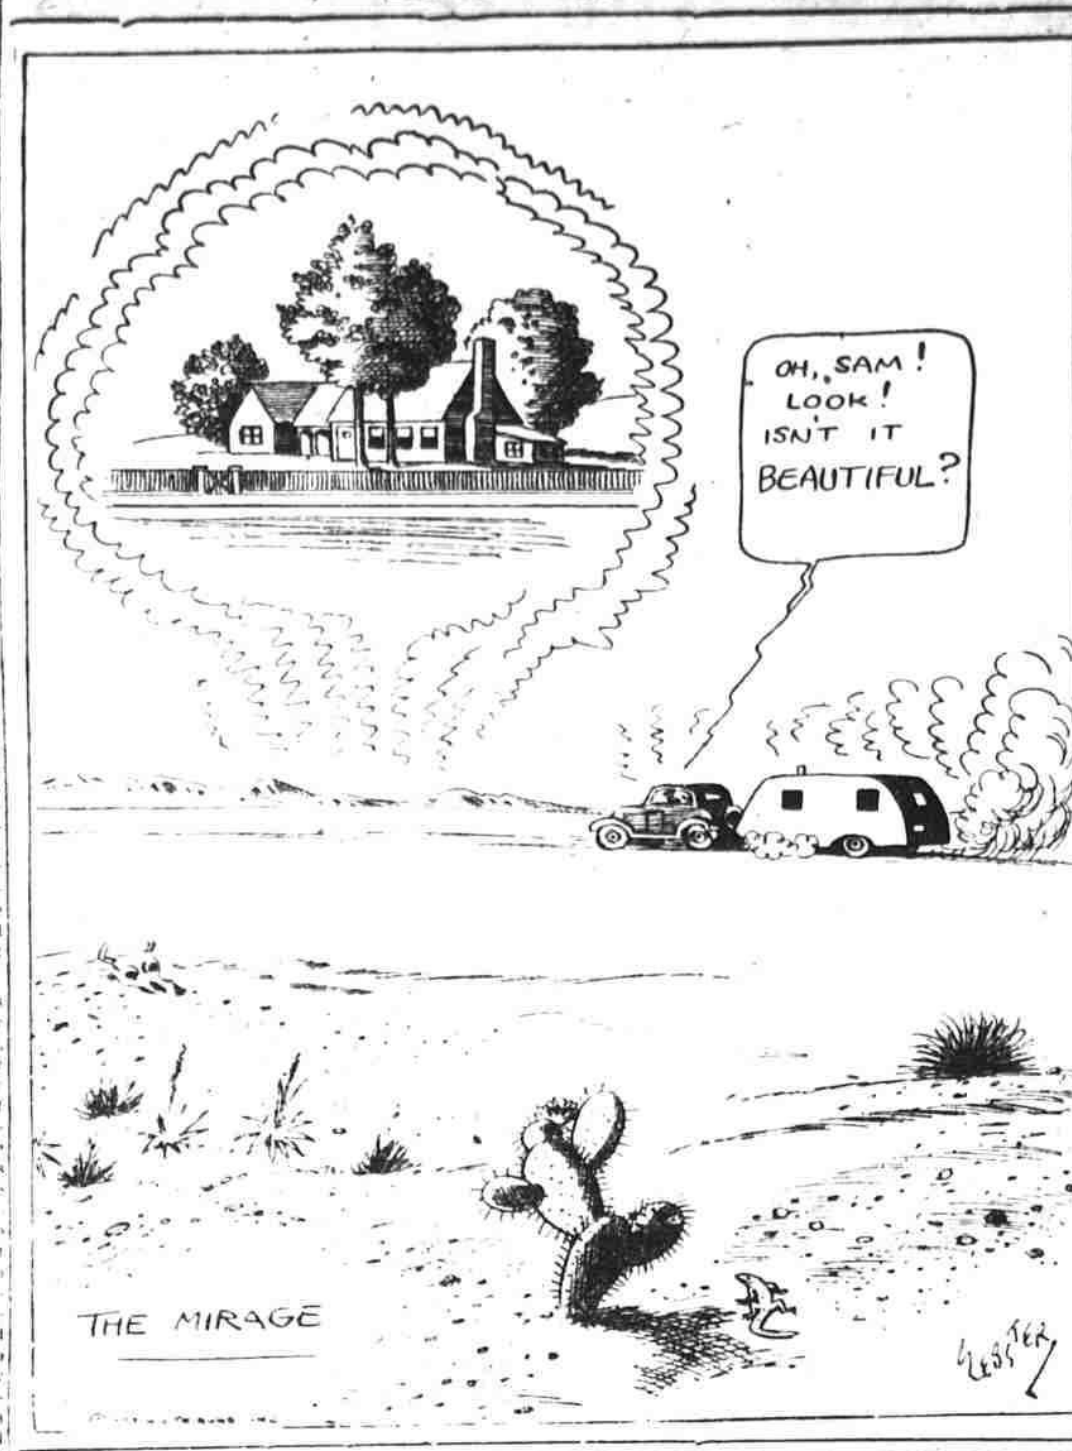

For a specific example, Mr. Lindley cites the supreme court bill, saying, "After all, the president won. The supreme court now has a liberal majority and the issue of 1937 is dead." No doubt the issue is dead. But suppose there had been no opposition, and suppose the bill had passed. Would the issue be dead? Would the American people feel the same way about a "liberalization" of the court, achieved by destroying its independence and packing it, as they do about a change arrived at without such a subversive procedure? They would not. Had the bill passed because there was no opposition to prevent it, we should almost certainly find ourselves today in the midst of a bitter constitutional struggle.

"What is left unsaid in a campaign," writes Mr. Lindley, "may be as revealing as what is said." That is quite true, and among the significant things left unsaid have been all the things that were said in 1937 when the supreme court bill was introduced.

The only reason for dwelling on all this is that if we are to preserve democracy, we must understand its principles. And the principle which distinguishes it from all other forms of government is that in a democracy the opposition is not only tolerated as constitutional but must be maintained because it is in fact indispensable.

The democratic system cannot be operated without effective opposition. For in making the great experiment of governing people by consent rather than by coercion, the party in power should have a majority. It is just as necessary that it should never outrage the minority. That means that it must listen to the minority and be moved by the criticism of the minority. That means that its measures must take account of the minority's objections and that in administering it it must remember that the minority may become the majority. But political human nature being what it is, men dislike opposition and will not listen to it unless the opposition is too strong to be ignored. That is why democracy does not pay a salary to the leader of the opposition instead of putting him in jail.

Trailer Tintypes

The opposition is indispensable. A good statesman always learns more from his opponents than from his fervent supporters. For his supporters will push him to disaster unless his opponents show him where the dangers are. So if he is wise, he will often pray to be delivered from his friends because they will run him. But, though it hurts, he ought also to play never to be left without opponents. For they keep him on the path of reason and good sense.

The national unity of a free people depends upon a sufficiently even balance of political power to make it impracticable for the administration to be arbitrary and for the opposition to be revolutionary and irresponsible. While that balance no longer exists, democracy perishes. But unless all the citizens of a state are forced by circumstances to compromise, unless they feel that they can affect policy but that no one can wholly dominate it, unless by habit and necessity they have to give and take, freedom cannot be maintained.

Freedom is a way of life for most men, and not for wild and fanatic men. For the conflicts of irreconcilables lead to a fanatic ideal that only a tyrant can deal with.

More hotel chatter: One of the midtown hostesses is justly proud of its Green room. And a rival inn is just as proud of its 13th room. However, the orchestra in the Green room is Blue Barron's. What's the matter with giving Johnny Green a shot at the Blue room? Still another hotel, and a big one, provides such excellent chaperonage for young women traveling alone that girls' schools frequently make mass reservations for their students when major football games or other events call them to the city. Their rooms are assigned and a matron checks up each night at curfew. Another big midtown inn, in decorating its vast dine-and-dance salon, gave the decorator one instruction: The lighting, color, furnishings must be the most flattering to feminine complexions that can be found. I was just about to say that's carrying the bow to feminine vanity a bit too far but it isn't really. What would a dance-and-dine spot be without ladies—and what would the ladies be without beauty and charm?

HOLCOMBE AGAIN IS HOUSTON'S MAYOR

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Oscar F. Holcombe, six times mayor of Houston, was named democratic nominee for mayor of Houston in a primary election yesterday. Nomination is tantamount to election. He will succeed Mayor R. H. Fonville, who did not stand for reelection. Holcombe had a majority over three opponents.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It has happened at last. The stage has taken a trick from the screen. And a very clever trick it is.

Nothing like "Soliloquy" has ever happened before in the theater. This is strange, because the facilities for such a play have been at hand for some years now. A chap named Victor Victor (or Victor twice, if you prefer) saw those facilities lying around and he wrote a play. So a lot of people are thinking, "Now, why didn't I think of that?"

"Soliloquy" represents a wedding of stage and talking screen. It's all acted, there before your very eyes, by a cast of 40 people, headed by John Beal (also of the movies) and John Beal's wife, Helen Craig (who since opening night here has had plenty of movie offers). But it's acted also by a regular movie sound track, which supplies the hero's unspoken thoughts.

You'll think, at once, of Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude," in which all the characters thought and thought and thought so much about — that the show lasted night on to five hours. "Soliloquy" is different. Only one character (thinks aloud) (courtesy of the sound track). He keeps right on doing what he's doing while he's thinking, too. He does not pause and stare off into space, disconcerting, as they did in "Strange Interlude," while thinking out loud.

The result is highly interesting. When "Soliloquy" opens on Broadway, about two months hence, you'll learn from the Broadway critics whether it's a good play by Broadway standards. We in Hollywood may be swayed a little in judgment by our interest in its method of presentation. We all liked it — but then we see so many movies...

John Beal spent two days recording the character's "thoughts" on film, accurately timed to be audible only at the proper cues.

You'd think the possibilities of error, during a performance, would be appalling. If any player missed a cue, or blew a line, or made too much haste through a scene, the whole production might be thrown out of order. But they've guarded against that, first with letter-perfect rehearsals, more importantly with technical precautions.

The sound projector is above the rear of the stage, and below, constantly in attendance, sits a sound technician, script in hand. It's up to him to make the thoughts "wait" or "hurry" as the actual playing requires.

Beal's understudy has a voice like Beal's. Gwyneth Ford stands by the technician with more opportunities than the usual understudy. When "Soliloquy" opened in San Francisco, one of those terrifying first-night catastrophes struck. The sound track went "dead." But the audience didn't know it. The sound technician keeps a microphone handy, and Ford spoke Beal's "thoughts" directly into the mike through three scenes until the film was working again.

Czech Parties Are Dissolved Under Nazi Pressure

By The Associated Press
Two Czechoslovak political parties which before the peace of Munich had withstood Nazi pressure disappeared today in the face of increased German influence in the dismembered republic.

Former President Eduard Benes' national socialist party announced their dissolution and the formation of a "movement for national collaboration and reorganization" with a foreign policy based on friendship with Germany.

The world's two war showed increased activity. Spanish government forces reported new successes on the Catalan front in an attack designed to divert insurgent pressure from the Ebro river area, dividing Catalonia from the rest of Government Spain.

In China Japanese troops advanced further into the interior from their base at Hankow, and a tightening of their pinners movement against Yochow, railway center 122 miles up the Yangtze river from Hankow.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

Chapter Six
UNDER HER SPELL
Inside the club the musicians did their best to get hot. Anne's tiny feet flew, her short dark curls tumbled forward and she tossed them back. She was pale, her big iris eyes a little glassy. Suddenly she faltered, swayed and reached a groping hand toward Barney.

"Smatter, honey?" he asked quickly, steadying her with an arm around her waist.

"Don't ever do that—on champagne. I'm a little tight, you know?"

"Just a little, pet," he said soothingly. "We'll take a nice ride in the nice air, shall we?" She drew away from him, looked back into the clubroom and shivered in the hot, oppressive night. "Get my wrap, darling. I'm going to be cold."

"You're not tight, you're crazy," Barney said scornfully, then scooped her into his arms and bore her down the steps into the darkness. A car door slammed, gravel hailed; the sound of a motor diminished and faded.

"They had not seen us. I murmured, 'Tarzan on the loose again.' Adam did not answer. He was staring into the darkness where they had disappeared. In the half-light his bland, round face looked troubled.

"I don't like it," he said at last, as if he were thinking aloud. "That girl's headed for trouble." "With Barney?" I asked in surprise. "I thought he seemed rather steady."

"Don't know anything against him," Adam conceded. "Little too handsome, maybe. But I didn't mean Barney. Maybe he can handle her if she sticks to him. If..." I waited. There was more to come. I could feel Adam making up his mind.

"How old would you say she is?" he asked suddenly. "I don't know. Twenty, twenty-one?" "She's eighteen — and she's a drunkard."

"But, Adam! Lots of girls drink." "Not like Anne Carewe. I know. I'm telling you this because the kid is so completely alone. Her mother is an invalid; her father is a dotting old fool. And she hasn't got a money friend."

"What about Mrs. Shaw? And Elizabeth?" "Listen. Anne could have had nearly any man on this post. Under that chummy girl-to-girl manner Mrs. Shaw has her claws out. So has Mrs. Orplington."

"But Elizabeth —" "Adam knew what I meant. Elizabeth would never descend to woman fighting."

"You're right. She'd simply crawl into a shell. I think that's what she has done where Anne is concerned."

"Destroying herself!" He was silent for a while. Finally he went on. "I may as well tell you what everyone else knows. Barney Nelson and Anne split up early in June — nobody knows why — and Barney started taking Elizabeth around. Some said it was a bid for the Old Man's favor. Some said he was punishing Anne for flirting with Charlie Spencer. Some said she only took up with Charlie to lure Barney back..."

A couple strolled out of the clubroom and down the steps. We waited in silence until they were gone. I was thinking furiously. Why was Adam telling me this? Was it to let me know about Caroline? Or was he really concerned about Anne?

The footsteps on the walk grew fainter. Adam's low voice resumed. "A couple of weeks ago they patched it up. Nobody knows anything about that, either, though there's plenty have tried to find out. Some say things got too serious around the colonel's quarters."

"Barney was asked his intentions, or some such tripe. Some say Elizabeth turned him down —" "But why worry about Anne?" I asked patiently. "Seems to me Elizabeth is the one who needs the sympathy — that is, if anyone does. Suppose they both wanted him. Anne got him, didn't she? At least the engagement is announced and that's something. If he's what she wanted and apparently he is, she'll settle down now and all the old cats will stop scratching."

Adam said doubtfully. "Sounds logical, doesn't it? But I can't get over the idea that something is driving that kid to destroy herself."

I remembered, then, the conversation about her with Elizabeth that afternoon. I told him about it, and he seemed touched. But I could not let me know about Caroline. The strutting couple returned and we fell silent again. I was rather glad to drop the subject. Anne Carewe was a pirate; it was asking a good bit of women to expect them to feel sorry for her. What did she need with women friends? Even Adam was under her spell — Adam the untouchable, the imper-

I was swept by a wave of annoyance. What was I doing here anyway? What were they to me, these group-minded individuals?

BREAKING A 33-YEAR-OLD RECORD, this free-legged pacer, Billy Direct, is the new king of the American harness turf since he did the mile in 1:55. This figure is a quarter second faster than the record made by Dan Patch, a trotting immortal, back in 1905. Dan Patch's time was 1:55 1/4. Above, Vic Fleming is training Billy Direct on the track at Syracuse, N. Y.

International Problems To Come Before Next Congress Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—International problems of prime importance will confront the 1939 congress.

Soon after the newly-elected lawmakers take their seats, President Roosevelt probably will ask them to vote for unprecedented peace-time arms appropriations designed to modernize America's defenses in the light of troubled world conditions.

Reliable estimates fix the probable 1939 defense bill at $1,300,000,000.

The 1939 congress also will be called on to decide what to do with the neutrality act, which expires May 1 of next year.

The provision says the president may require supplies purchased in this country for a belligerent to be paid for before they leave these shores, and be carried in non-American ships.

This action does not govern munitions, on which an embargo is automatically placed when the president finds that a state of war exists between two countries.

The new congress will also be asked to pass upon another proposal to put a popular referendum before congress could declare a war.

The council will depart from its usual routine and first hear the problems of business in the Southwest before tackling those of the nation as a whole.

Bright, compared with the balance of the nation's business chart, the Southwest has its problems, nevertheless, and Dr. A. B. Cox, head of the business research department of the University of Texas, has been chosen to outline them to the industrial and financial leaders composing the council.

Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Gov. James V. Allred of Texas and F. M. Law, Houston banker and former president of the American Bankers' association, which hosts its annual meeting here Monday, have been scheduled to address the council.

Business Advisory Council To Meet At Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's business advisory council will come to one of the nation's bright business spots tomorrow for a momentous meeting that may shape some of the administration's business legislation in the forthcoming session of congress.

The council will depart from its usual routine and first hear the problems of business in the Southwest before tackling those of the nation as a whole.

Bright, compared with the balance of the nation's business chart, the Southwest has its problems, nevertheless, and Dr. A. B. Cox, head of the business research department of the University of Texas, has been chosen to outline them to the industrial and financial leaders composing the council.

Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Gov. James V. Allred of Texas and F. M. Law, Houston banker and former president of the American Bankers' association, which hosts its annual meeting here Monday, have been scheduled to address the council.

Election Echoes

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt's native New York—which will be of the greatest strategic importance in the 1940 presidential year—remained democratic in major contests in yesterday's spectacular state election.

Substantially complete returns showed Gov. Herbert H. Lehman reelected over his republican opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, but with a plurality so small that during much of the night nobody could predict the outcome.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, author of the labor act, appeared safe, as was Sen. James M. Mead for the other senatorial seat made vacant by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland.

Wagner was endorsed by John Ford O'Brien, who severely criticized some phases of the Roosevelt administration, and Mead by Edward E. Costello, generally regarded as in the liberal republican camp.

The republicans took control of the state senate. They already controlled the state assembly.

GOP VICTORY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Republicans rode a landslide back to power today in Pennsylvania.

Leads of 270,000 to 350,000—greater than their most optimistic party leaders had predicted—elected republicans as United States senators, governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs.

Democrats lost their majority in the state legislature and were left with only a narrow margin of control in Pennsylvania's 34-man congressional delegation.

Governor George H. E. Ries, who brought in a "little New Deal" four years ago, after 40 years of republican state control, lost by 250,000 votes his fight to win the senate seat held by the silver-haired republican veteran, James J. Davis.

From out of the hard coal fields, Superior-Court Judge Arthur H. James drove his way to the governorship over the democratic candidate, Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, who is pledged to carry on the Earle program.

FRANK PLEASED

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 9 (AP)—Glenn Frank, chairman of the republican national program committee, today hailed as a "return to political and economic sanity" the G.O.P. victories in Tuesday's balloting.

Frank said in concluding a lengthy statement which contained a sharp criticism of Governor Philip F. LaFollette—defeated in his bid for a fourth term as Wisconsin's governor—and his brother, U. S. Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr.:

"I am gratified beyond words by the substantial gains the republican party has made throughout the nation. The drift towards a virtually one-party nation, with the vindictive intolerance that goes with it, has been stopped, and the return to political and economic sanity has begun."

COLORADO KEEPS PENSIONS

DENVER, Nov. 9 (AP)—Colorado voters paradoxically voted down a proposal to repeal the state's 34-month old age pension amendment and ousted democratic Governor Teller Ammons, a warm supporter of the pension program, in yesterday's election.

Ammons conceded the victory last night to Ralph L. Carr, who will be the first republican governor of the state in 14 years. Carr had announced his pension policy would be that dictated by the electorate.

Senator Alva B. Adams, democrat who differed with the administration on the supreme court and governmental reorganization proposals, was reelected over republican Archibald A. Lee.

Three of Colorado's four democratic congressmen appeared assured of reelection. They included Representative Edward T. Taylor, 80-year-old chairman of the house appropriations committee.

Adding interest to the Colorado

LICENSE LAW

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Baltimore voters apparently ended Elkton's lucrative marriage trade today, supporting by 60,795 to 15,891 a law requiring a 48-hour lapse in Maryland between license and wedding.

The measure admittedly was directed at the "marrying ministers" of the famous Gretna Green where more than 2,000 couples are married monthly.

There appeared no likelihood the outstate vote would upset the Baltimore margin.

BETTING OUTLAWED

BOSTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Legalized betting on horse racing at Agawam Park and dog racing at the Crescent Kennel club today stood outlawed by vote of Hampden county residents in yesterday's Massachusetts election.

Suffolk county voters, however, favored retention of the parimutuel system, insuring continued horse racing at Suffolk Downs and dog meets at Wonderland Park, Revere.

The decisions were made on a statewide referendum by counties.

WON'T SEE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two of the senators elected yesterday are not likely to see congress in session except as sightseers.

They are Miss Gladys Pyle of South Dakota and Alex G. Barry of Oregon. Both were elected as republicans to fill terms that will expire when the new session of congress convenes in January.

Each replaces a democrat.

J. Chandler Guiney of South Dakota and Rufus C. Holman of Oregon, both republicans, will be sworn in for the six-year terms at the opening of the new congress, picking up where Miss Pyle and Barry leave off.

YOUNGSTER DEFEATED

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 9 (AP)—Representative Jerry J. O'Connell, youngest member of the 75th congress and a staunch supporter of the new deal, apparently lost his house seat to a republican physician, Dr. J. Thorpe Olson of Butte, in yesterday's election.

O'Connell's fellow democrat, Representative James F. O'Connor, held a slim lead over Republican William C. Husband.

"Your STATION is the cleanest in AMERICA"

I have found in AMERICA

Humble Service Stations do their part to welcome the highway traveler to Texas. In our files are thousands of service check cards from out-of-state visitors who appreciate the cleanliness, the service, the courtesy and the old-time hospitality they get at Humble Service Stations. The card above came from a foreign tourist—from a visitor from Ireland. Here are others:

From New Jersey: . . . The Humble stations I stopped in were the finest en route [on a 3,000 mile trip]. . . .

From California: . . . A boon to the tourist. . . .

From Canada: . . . We were strangers in a strange land, and [your manager] did all he could to make our trip pleasant. . . .

From Missouri: . . . The restroom as nice as my home. . . .

From Michigan: . . . The most sanitary restroom from Michigan to Mexico. . . .

From Illinois: . . . A pleasure to stop there. . . .

From Alabama: . . . Best I have found on a 7,000 mile trip. . . .

From Virginia: . . . This is the cleanest station in the five states I travel. . . .

From Virginia: . . . The cleanest and the best furnished restrooms . . . from Virginia to Texas. . . .

Humble Service Station salesmen are happy that they are able to contribute something to the pleasure of our visitors from other states. But they point out that the service about which tourists are so enthusiastic is the same service Texans can get every day of the year—a service based on cleanliness, friendliness, courtesy, and an expert knowledge of what your car needs to keep it running right and looking good. Next time—stop for service where you see the Humble sign!

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY
A Texas institution manned by Texans

Do you know—that currently oil constitutes 26 per cent of the mineral wealth created annually in the United States? Thus, Texas, with about 40% of total oil production, accounts for over 10% of the nation's total raw mineral wealth with oil alone.
