Aged Citizen Stricken With Paralysis.

Jas. Burns suffered a stroke of paralysis last Saturday afternoon and has been hovering on the brink of death ever since. The children who live away were notified and Mrs. J. R. McAtee of Richland Springs, Mrs. Wayne Bohanan, Miss Grace Burns and Mrs. J. A. Davis of San Antonio, and Dennie Burns of Lordsburg, N. M., have all arrived. As we go to press Wednesday at noon Mr. Burns is very low and not expected to live.

David Riley of this city and Miss Belle McCoy of Richland Springs surprised their friends last Sunday by getting married at the home of the bride's brother in Lampasas. ### The Case of L. L. Cantelou

The case of L. L. Cantelou, Clarendon, Texas, is similar to that of many others who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says, "After trying a doctor for several months, and using different kinds of medicine for my wife who had been troubled with severe bowel complaints for several months, I bought a 25c bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using the second bottle she was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers.

Children, I will buy peach seeds again. W. R. Harris.

"The two cocks you shipped us arrived all O. K. yesterday." That's the kind of letters R. J. Edwards is receiving almost daily from the sales from his fine poultry on the O. K. Poultry Farm. Mr. Edwards is an expert poultry grower, he grows blooded stuff and always gets fancy prices. He never fails to advertise when he has something for market. Last year a neighbor said to him: "When I raise good stuff I cannot sell it." The secret is that Edwards lets the people know what he has and he always has a market ready and at a good price.

Sun-of-a-Gun

The big war in Europe continues, by thunder.

The big fair and encampment is over. Now all together for 1917.

That farm display and community exhibit at the fair was a dandy. There should be ten farms and four communities represented in 1917.

The third inning will be played Saturday, Aug. 26. We're no piker and therefore will play it thru. Get your poll tax receipt.

Even the Temple Telegram, which did more to elect banker Jim as governor, than any other force outside the special interests, cannot defend the governor's convention which kicked out the Bell county delegates and denied the people representation.

Chas. A. Culbertson is a democrat, he believes in Woodrow Wilson and the democratic administration and is in hearty accord with the national democracy; he is an anti but not a tool for the organized breweries and dives of Texas.

The Hamilton Herald is respectfully given a black mark on spelling. If your dictionary is not handy, then just look at the head of this column. There's not an O in it.

Colquitt paid for entirely too much "punch and chicken salad" out of the state treasury and with the peoples money for us to vote for him. We believe that even politicians should pay their own grocery bills.

The Temple Telegram announces the following candidates for governor in the primary for 1918: Louis J. Wortham, W. P. Hobby, H. B. Terrell, Jim Edwards, W. A. Hanger, C. C. McDonald, Claud Hudspeth, Y. B. Cummings, B. F. Looney, Earl B. Mayfield, S. P. Brooks, Chas. Morris.

Sun-of-a-Gun has some suggestions to offer the fair directors. We'll give them one at a time. The first one is to sue the Dallas booking agency for actual and exemplary damages for its failure to make good with the flying machine at the fair. The fair was damaged no less than $5,000 in actual cash this year to say nothing of the loss of confidence from the people. If the News won't give the directors space Sun-of-a-Gun will give you this column next week to name the party who perpetrated this fake upon the association and the people.

The Standard desires to extend congratulations to our neighbor, The San Saba News, upon the recent installation of a splendid new press, newspaper folder and other equipment. Editor Smith not so very long ago, gave the News a handsome dress of new body type, and became so enamored of the improvement that he decided nothing would harmonize better with the new type than new machinery. Editor Smith is getting out a good, live publication and is doing a world of good for San Saba and the San Saba country. Here's hoping that the citizens will show proper appreciation of his efforts and accord him support that will assure his future welfare and prosperity.—Brady Standard.

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED
San Saba people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This simple mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-i-ka has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. The Corner Drug Store.

Texas Fever Raging Yearwood Heavy Loser

The following from the Georgetown Commercial of last week explains why J. F. Yearwood, president of the national Hereford Breeders' Association, was not at the San Saba fair as he had planned and was announced in the News some time back.

"The Texas fever or tick fever appeared in the Hereford cattle herd of Mr. J. F. Yearwood, an extensive Hereford cattle breeder, last week and of his herd of about 100 Mr. Yearwood has lost more than a dozen head of registered cattle razing in price from $500 to $1500. We understand Mr. Yearwood's losses amount to about $6,000 or $7,000. A few days ago the fever appeared and the Herefords came into the barns with fever ranging from 106 to 107 and several died in a short time, including a registered bull valued at $1,500. All the veterinary surgeons in this section have been called by Mr. Yearwood, including an A. & M. College veterinarian and every effort is being made to save the stricken cattle and protect the well ones. It is hoped the fever will soon abate.

Mrs. W. A. Smith and son, Billie, Jr., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. W. Hudson and son, were visitors to the reunion here Friday, being members of the crowd of San Saba visitors. Mrs. Smith is assistant editor of the San Saba News and consequently made her visit complete by paying The Standard a fraternal call and extended invitations to visit San Saba and the San Saba fair this week.—Brady Standard.

Mrs. R. L. Taylor and children are visiting the family of E. A. Rush at Lampasas and will be away some ten days.

J. C. Campbell left Monday morning for market to buy something pretty for his fall and winter customers.

Brady Gets First Bale.
The first bale of the 1916 cotton crop was received in Brady yesterday morning about 10:00 o'clock, J. M. Pate of Doole having the honor of marketing the first bale of the season. On account of none of the local ginners having their plants ready for operation the bale will not be ginned until next week, but was stored at the N. B. Embury gin.
The first bale this year was received just one day earlier than the first bale of the 1915 crop.—Brady Standard.
Another veteran who was mightily pleased with the reunion was J. W. Blakeney, a former citizen of San Saba, but at present making his home in San Antonio. Mr. Blakeney says there never was a reunion more thoroughly enjoyed, not only by himself, but by every old soldier in attendance. He says the citizens of Brady ought to be proud of the Y. M. B. L. for the excellent manner in which the reunion was planned and carried out. Everything was carried out smoothly; the entertainment was all that could be desired: the feeding and caring for the visitors was excellent and the many courtesies extended were appreciated and enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Blakeney were guests of their daughter, Mrs. A. F. Rose, while here, and have gone to San Saba to enjoy the San Saba fair before returning to their home in San Antonio.—Brady Standard

Llano Attended Our Fair

The following from the Llano News last week describes "Llano Day" at the fair and expresses the hearty good fellowship of Llano and San Saba people. The Llano people are boosters and a jolly, genial set and they always find the glad hand extended at San Saba:

"The fair management has designated Wednesday as Mason, Pontotoc and Llano day, and following the suggestion of the Llano Business League it was decided that all who could possibly get away for the day join in and help to make Llano known at the fair on that day.

"Neat little ribbons bearing the words 'We're Here—Llano' were pinned on each Llano visitor and it was said everywhere you would turn among the throngs that were present at the fair you would find a Llanoite proudly displaying his badge.

"On account of the heat and dust and the torn-up condition of a small portion of the road, the plan to go over in a body was somewhat flustered, and starting about 5 a. m. the Llano folks began to leave yesterday morning and by 8 o'clock fully seventy-five cars had gone.

"It was a gala day in San Saba and all those returning say that the day was one of pleasure and delight and that the people of San Saba are still the same royal entertainers they have ever been.

"They also state that the crowds yesterday were greater than they have ever known in the history of the fair with the probable exception of the time when the railroad first came to San Saba."

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more salivating, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bowels. Calomel, when it comes into contact with our bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful to-night and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

RAILROAD CRISIS IS UP TO CONGRESS

Strike Seems Certain Unless Federal Commission Acts.

IT REPRESENTS THE PUBLIC.

Brotherhood Leaders Reject Proposal, One of Which Provides For Interstate Commerce Commission as Arbitrator—Also Oppose Arbitration Provided by Law They Helped to Enact.

Washington.—Whether the wage controversy between the railways and their engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen is to be settled peaceably or by a strike now seems to depend largely on what action congress will take on the proposal to refer the question to the interstate commerce commission.

The national conference committee of the railways at the recent conference in New York with the train service brotherhoods proposed settlement either by submission to the interstate commerce commission or by arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands law.

The brotherhood leaders promptly rejected both proposals, not only objecting to the interstate commerce commission as an arbitrator, but expressing their determined opposition to the plan of arbitration provided by the law which they had helped to get enacted.

To meet the objection that the interstate commerce commission now has no jurisdiction over railway wages the committee representing the railways proposed "that we jointly request congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved."

Upon the failure of the companies and the labor organizations to reach an agreement the question was put up to congress in another form, in a resolution which was introduced by Senator Newlands on June 22 providing for an investigation by the commission of the whole subject of railway wages and their relation to railway earnings.

This resolution was proposed by the chamber of commerce of the United States after having been approved by a practically unanimous referendum vote of nearly 1,000 commercial organizations throughout the country. The Newlands resolution differs from the proposal of the railways. The latter refers only to the questions presented by the demands of the 18 per cent of railway employees engaged in train service and asks the commission to settle the controversy by a decision. The Newlands resolution provides for a settlement by the commission of the minimum, maximum and average wage paid, with hours of service, to each class of railroad employees in the United States, not merely the "big four" brotherhoods of train employees. The commission would also be directed to report on the hours and wages in other industries, the relation of wages to railroad revenues, the question of whether railroad revenues based on existing rates for transportation will admit of equally favorable terms to all classes of railway employees and "any other matter in this connection that the commission may deem relevant."

The brotherhoods object strenuously to any idea of a federal tribunal fixing wages and declare that an investigation by the commission would only serve to delay matters. The only proposal they have made is that their demands be granted in full, with the alternative of a nation wide strike. They insist that the railroads will be more inclined to yield to their demands when confronted with a strike vote.

In their reply to the brotherhoods the railways advanced as their reasons for proposing to refer the question to the interstate commerce commission that it is "the only tribunal which by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected and to provide additional revenues necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the commission to be just and reasonable."

Whereas a board of arbitration constituted under the Newlands act could pass only on the questions presented to it in an arbitration agreement signed by both parties and would in no way represent the interests of the public in the controversy, the interstate commerce commission would not be so restricted and could consider the relation of the wages of the train and engine men to those of the other employees, as well as the necessary effect of an increase in wages on the rates to be paid by the public.

Without the support of public opinion the railway brotherhoods could not win a strike.—Milwaukee Free Press.

If higher wages are due to the men higher rates are coincidentally due to the railroads.—New York Tribune.

A general strike, tying up the railroads of the country, is inconceivable.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

No Sore Spots on Uncle Bill

Well, now, that it is over and we have once more settled down to view the many different phases of a hot political campaign, I can see a great many pleasant things to be thankful for. That big vote I got and the way my neighbors and friends stood by me. If there is a virtue to be cherished above silver, gold or any other kind of wealth, it is a noble and generous neighbor who is so liberal, so kind and so broad as to be generous enough in his make-up to place himself in his neighbor's place, who is broad enough to cover up his short-comings with charity, by placing his faults in the background and seeing only the best part of him. I believe I can boast of such a set of neighbors, with possibly the exception of one cross-viewed man and one great Gospel propounder, without any religion. I also want to thank the great saint who told the good Bowser people what he did not know about my being a disbeliever in a God. I never did boast of my great goodness to anybody and never expect to and have very little respect and confidence in anyone who does. I feel thankful for the support I received from the ministers of the different churches, who showed that they were endowed with charity and fairness. God bless them. Barring the financial setback I have received, I have no room to complain. First, I know I have neighbors and friends who are tried and true, and have proven it by their votes. It is just a chance gone, that is all. We live by chance, anyway. We thought when we planted a crop last spring that we had a chance for a fine crop, but chance vanished. Sore did you say? Why, certainly not. Have no sores that cannot be healed up. In fact, they will heal themselves. I want to thank my opponents, Messrs. Petty, Baxter, Ducey and even Bill Jones. Bill's politics don't hurt anyone but Bill. But for true worth and gentlemanly conduct, Baxter, Petty and Ducey are hard to beat.

Had Latham and Cold Creek held the election the results would have been different, but such things will happen, and take it all in all I feel a little happier and have enjoyed the kind and hospitable manner that strangers bestowed so generously on me. I never paid out a cent for night's lodging nor missed but one dinner for myself or my horse, for all of which I want to sincerely thank them.

Will say to those boys that the latch string hangs on the outside to them if they happen up this way. Just unsaddle and, although you find me "awful poor," wife and I will treat you so nice you will never know the difference.

In conclusion, I want to take off my hat to thank that kid who rode thirty miles to vote for me. God bless him. To the little girl who looked out at the first star that appeared and made the wish that I would be elected, God bless her. I would be an ingrate if I failed to thank the old men who showed me the honor to be hauled out to the polls to vote for me. May their remaining days be peace and happiness and may God bless them to the end.

With kindest wishes to all,
I am truly yours,
W. E. Yarborough.

Big Fair And Encampment Now History.

R. J. Edwards, in charge of the poultry show, is "delighted" with his department. More than 300 birds were showed and every available pen was taken. In fact the poultry show is about to get away with itself. It is now as big as the biggest exclusive poultry shows of the state. In this department he had secured the service of H. B. Savage of Belton to judge the fowls. Mr. Savage is the recognized authority in the southwest and has been called to judge for big northern shows. More than $1,000 worth of fowls was in the poultry hall during the fair last week.

The races this year were pronounced by the visitors as the best ever witnessed at this track. The best horses and the cleanest racing. A result of the races by days is given in another column. This is one of the most popular features of the fair and it is now evident that the grand stand must be enlarged to accommodate the crowds.

The report of the winners in the street parade, the baby show, the races and in all the exhibits will be found in another column of this issue.

MEN HIGHEST PAID DEMAND MORE WAGES

Earnings of Train Employees Average $1,253 a Year.

PUBLIC MUST PAY THE BILL.

Proposed Increase In Wages Will Necessarily Result In Advance In Rates to Be Borne Not by Rich Capitalists, but by 100,000,000 People of United States.

The employees in railway train service, now taking a strike vote, are not only the highest paid workmen in America, but they have profited disproportionately by recent advances in wages, declares Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age Gazette, in the July issue of the North American Review.

As a reply to the question whether the railways should grant the $100,000,000 increase demanded, Mr. Dunn gives the following table showing the average yearly wages of engineers, firemen, conductors and other trainmen and the average of all these classes combined:

	1909-1914	1898-1914
	Per cent increase	Per cent increase
Engineers	42.2	53.5
Firemen	45.8	59.2
Conductors	42.1	56.8
Other trainmen	43.8	73.9
All train service employees	44.2	57.5

In another table he gives the average yearly wages of the remaining 82 per cent of railway employees and also separately those of train dispatchers and telegraph operators, station agents and section foremen, showing the marked contrast between their earnings and those of the 18 per cent now seeking a further advance.

	1909-1914	1898-1914
	Per cent increase	Per cent increase
All other employees	31.6	40.3
Operators and dispatchers	31.9	42.3
Station agents	27.2	45.8
Section foremen	27.36	37.1

"The increase in the average wage of all train service employees," Mr. Dunn says, "in the eight years 1906-14 was 44 per cent, and in sixteen years 58 per cent. The increase in the average wage of the other 82 per cent of employees in the same periods were 35 per cent and 40 per cent. The average wage of the 309,000 train service employees in 1914 was $1,253; of the other 1,381,000 employees $637. The contrast between the wages of the train service employees and those of train dispatchers and telegraph operators, station agents and section foremen is especially striking. The working day of dispatchers and operators is limited to nine hours by federal law, but that of station agents and section foremen is ten hours, and they must hold themselves in readiness for duty at any time.

"The demands of the train service employees cannot be fairly granted unless proportionate concessions are also made to other railway employees, but the railways cannot grant the demands of the train service employees, much less a 25 per cent advance in wages to all their employees, which would amount to $320,000,000 a year with their present freight and passenger rates.

"Most people are disposed to regard sympathetically all movements of workmen to improve their condition on the assumption that any advantage labor may gain will be secured at the expense of capital. No such assumption can be made in this instance. The proposed increase in wages would necessarily result in advances in rates, and most or all of it would, therefore be borne, not by rich capitalists, but by the 100,000,000 people of the United States. Probably 80 per cent of all the people of this country have smaller incomes than the men in railway train service, and it is impossible to find, under present conditions, any justification for a large advance in the income of this relatively well paid class mainly at the expense of that much larger part of the public which is nowhere near as well off."

The public cannot afford a railroad strike. It will be more disastrous to America than ten wars with Mexico. — Chicago Tribune.

Members of the railroad brotherhood should hesitate before going to strike. — New York World.

I have always had a very fine trade; have bought and sold goods in the regular way for the past two years, while a great many merchants have cut down their purchases. I have been able to do this because I sell the best goods and the trade is fast learning that the BEST Is The CHEAPEST.

Not So Strange After All

You may think it strange that so many people are cured of stomach trouble by Chamberlain's Tablets. You would not, however, if you should give them a trial. They strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Mrs. Rosie Rish, Wabash, Ind., writes, "Nothing did me the least good until I began using Chamberlain's Tablets. It is decidedly the best medicine for stomach trouble I have ever used." For sale by all dealers.

The Twenty Year Test

"Some twenty years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Geo. W. Brock, publisher of the Enterprise, Aberdeen, Md. "I discovered that it was a quick and safe cure for diarrhoea. Since then no one can sell me anything said to be 'just as good.' During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times and it has never disappointed anyone." For Sale by all dealers.

Thanks to the People

I want to thank the voters and friends who supported me in the recent primaries for the office of tax collector. The votes and the kind words will be cherished in memory and I will still be a citizen of this good county and a neighbor and friend to these good people. In the meantime when old Beck or Jude or that fine cow gets sick just call "Wiley" and he will do his dead level best to help save them.

The Annual Fair Ball

The annual fair ball of the San Saba Club this year was one of the prettiest and swellest affairs in the social life of the city for many years.

This ball is looked forward to by the members of the club and their friends with much fond anticipation and no one was disappointed this year. The evening of the first day of the annual fair is the appointed date for this function. The number of visitors this year from other cities was far ahead of anything in former years. Brownwood, Llano, Brady, Lampasas, Waco, San Angelo, Houston and other cities were represented by beau and belle. In fact the holiday spirit was so wide awake that the ball was continued for all four evenings of the fair.

Special music had been arranged by a select orchestra and all pronounced it par excellence.

Steam Roller Politics

The votes of the people, the ballots cast at the primary election, have no more effect on politicians grasping for power or hoping for office than do little drops of water falling on the back of the proverbial river duck.

The whole trouble with these expert manipulators, twistors and side-steppers is that they manipulate too much and too long. They never know when to quit.

They manipulated at San Antonio and as a result a great and formerly popular governor had a vote cast against him by the people that was at least embarrassing.

A man who had served well and honorably in the halls of congress for many years was thrust forward as their choice for United States senator and he ran fifth in the race.

They scorned and defeated the prohibition delegates who were in the majority at San Antonio, and as a result submission won in the fight where ballots were counted.

They manipulated and schemed to defeat the Robertson insurance act and the counting of primary votes showed that great law approved by an overwhelming majority.

And yet they were not satisfied and had not learned their lesson. What cared they for the votes of the people? Why should they worry regarding primary ballots, when they were soon to be in their element in the glorious work of convention controlling?

The boys from the "forks of the creek" may be able to vote right and often, but when they get to the big city, where there is the glare of the bright lights, the blare of music and the call of convention constructors, they are like a ship at sea without a rudder. They cannot control themselves, but the other fellow can nearly always control them. They are butterflies flitting here and there, with wings easily clipped.

But that is not the tragedy of it. The real tragedy is yet to be seen, and will be seen later. Convention manipulators are successful only temporarily. They scheme and work and plot, but when the final vote is taken they are nearly always 'left at the post.'—M. E. Foster in Houston Chronicle.

The Iron Spur Camp Meeting To Be Held August 18 to 27, 1918

THE PLACE. Iron Spur (or switch) is eight miles east of Llano on the H. & T. C. Railroad, and three miles from Lone Grove. The camp grounds and arbor are some two hundred yards from the switch. There are plenty of good shades and spring water. This makes a most excellent place for a camp meeting. There will also be plenty of free grass for your horses.

DR. J. M. CARROLL has been prominently connected with the Baptist denomination of Texas for more than twenty-five years. He is a man of wide experience and a strong personality; he is a forceful speaker, a man with a message, and preaches the simple gospel of Christ with convincing logic and persuasive power. You will want to hear him. He will have a singer with him of state-wide reputation and real merit as a gospel singer.

OTHER CONVENIENCES. There will be a restaurant on the grounds which will also handle meats, bread and cold drinks, so that those who do not care to be burdened with preparing their meals can get them without any trouble and at a small expense.

There will be arrangements made for securing tents on the grounds at reasonable prices.

There will be two trains daily going to Llano, Marble Falls, and Burnet. There will also be excellent auto service to all points near by.

TAKE A WEEK OFF and come, have your spiritual life refreshed, enjoy the fellowship and comradeship of Christian people in the spirit of Texas cattlemen in an "old fashioned" camp meeting. Come and hear some fine singing and some good gospel preaching.

Mr. Herbert Reynolds and wife will have charge of the music.

Dry Farming Congress Great Plans Progress

The approaching session of the Texas Dry Farming Congress, which will be held at Uvalde Aug. 28, 29, 30, 31, will be the best session in several respects ever held. In the first place greater plans have been taken in the preparation of the program, to have the addresses and subjects apply more particularly to conditions in this section of the state.

Great emphasis will be made on stock raising in connection with farming operations. This will be stressed in a short course in agriculture which will be given by strong members of the faculty of the Texas A. & M. College. Among their contributions to the program will be given the following subjects, and numbers of others:

Judging beef and dairy cattle. Feeding cattle, silos and silage. Buying and selling cattle and dairy products.

Poultry raising. Small grains as crops for Southwest Texas.

Demonstration, judging poultry.

Maintenance of soil fertility under dry farming.

Judging hogs, sheep and goats. Sheep and goat raising. Feeding hogs.

A specialist from the United States Department of Agriculture will give methods of control of the screw-worm fly and helpful methods in avoiding serious losses from that pest. A man of life-long experience will demonstrate pecan budding and discuss all matters connected with that science.

Specialists from the State Department of Agriculture will be on the program, one of whom will lecture and demonstrate in home economics, canning and preserving.

Of course the other phases of farming in this section, such as crop and seed selection, soil preparation and tillage, etc., will be thoroughly discussed.

Taylor Says Fair at San Saba Great

M. B. Taylor passed through Brownwood this morning enroute to his home in San Angelo after spending several days at the San Saba fair. Mr. Taylor is a San Angelo booster, and had a big sign on his hat, "San Angelo Fair." He says it is remarkable how a town the size of San Saba can get up such wonderful exhibits and racing program as was held at the fair this year. The races were unusually good, some fast time being made.

Mr. Taylor made the trip to San Saba with E. E. Kirkpatrick of this city, both of them working in the interest of fall fairs in the different towns through which they passed. He says that the owners of the racing horses in San Saba were pleased when the big San Angelo purses were announced, and many entries for the fair were secured.—Brownwood Daily Bulletin.

R. A. Pearce was here Monday from San Saba county enroute to his home in the Midway community. Meantime while here he sold out a load of peaches he had purchased in the sand down in Old San Saba.—Rochelle Record.

The following is a partial list of former residents who were among the homecoming visitors for fair week: Milton Duvall and F. E. Smith of Fort Worth, C. A. Russell and family of Iberis, A. M. Paver of Eden, Rush Allison of Georgetown, R. Jennings of Burnet county, R. A. Doran and family and Andy Weston and family from Tom Green county, Jack Lochaby of Llano, W. T. Moore of Lometa, Joe Ray of Alice, T. B. Duggan of Temple, Will Thornton and wife of Miles, Jim Brown of Brown county.

Child Bitten By Skunk.

The little daughter of Will Nesbit was bitten on the forearm by a skunk last Friday night, at the home of Mr. John Nesbit in the Pleasant Grove community. Mr. Nesbit and family, who live in Young county, were visiting at his father's home and he and his little daughter were sleeping on a bed in the yard when the skunk attacked the child. Her screams awakened the family in time for them to see the animal, but it escaped before it could be killed. The child was carried to the Pasteur institute at Austin Saturday and is being treated there in order that there be no danger from the bite.—Goldthwaite Eagle.

T. B. Thaxton of Mesilla Park, New Mexico, didn't miss the home coming fair week. He was also on hand at the Veterans' headquarters at the fair and just had a good time shaking hands and talking with old time friends.
