REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

No. 1 problem of the week is still water and a proposed program of development of the water system. Of course, this is not a situation which has sprung up overnight, but the impending bond vote on September 27, has focused it for public attention.

What Do You Think?

Regarding the proposed issuance of $275,000 in bonds to finance the city's share of a projected water supply development as one of the most important matters to come before local voters in years, The Herald is opening its columns to readers with the invitation for letters discussing the water problem.

What Do You Think?

It is the paper's thought that a representative cross-section of thought on the matter might be of great assistance to all who want information. Any one writer may offer a question or present a thought that would open the way for any adjustments in the program that might be needed.

New Skating Ballets Decorate Sonja Henie 'Yellow Jack' Picture Opening Today At The Ritz Theatre

British Player With Her In 'My Lucky Star'

The twinkling Sonja Henie, whose charming smile and little-girl ways have become about as potent camera assets as her skill on skates, comes to the Ritz this weekend in her latest comedy romance, "My Lucky Star." This picture, one of the Movie Quiz $250,000 contest films, plays today and Monday.

In the new production, Sonja becomes an American as an ice cream cone. She's a dazzling, modern girl, having a good time on a co-ed campus, wearing swank clothes and having swell dates.

Playing opposite her for the first time is Richard Greene, a young British player who is getting recognition in Hollywood. Comic Joan Davis and Buddy Ebsen provide the laughs of the play, and Cesar Romero and Louise Hovick also are in the cast. Other players are Arthur Treacher, George Barbier, Billy Gilbert, Patricia Wilder and Paul Hurst.

There are the enchanting ice sequences, of course—four of them—done to melodies by Gordon and Revel. Miss Henie stars again in ice ballets more spectacular than those of earlier pictures.

The story is a gay one throughout. Miss Henie is seen first as a department store worker—she brightens the sporting goods department—until there is some mixup with Romero, son of the establishment owner. It seems he has a wife—the menacing Louise Hovick—who threatens suit. Meantime, Sonja has been sent to college where, as you'd suppose, she knocks all the boys for a loop. This college life is a glorious thing, until that lawsuit comes up and means that Sonja has to quit the campus. But, with her friends Joan and Buddy helping her, money is raised—she guessed it, by an ice carnival—to overcome all difficulties, and everybody can thank his own "lucky star."

REMANDED TO PRISON

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Burl Wagon, 36-year-old Wheeler county prisoner, was remanded to the state penitentiary today when District Judge Max M. Rogers refused his application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The petition for the writ alleged Wagon was convicted in a capital case—robbery with firearms—without a jury trial. District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich of Shamrock, who prosecuted Wagon when he was given a ten-year sentence, testified Wagon and another defendant pleaded guilty to robbery by assault charges and accepted ten year terms after an oral agreement between the judge, attorneys for both sides and the defendants. He said the charge in the indictment had been reduced from a capital charge to one of felony robbery by assault.

A NEW BOY FRIEND FOR SONJA

Dazzling Sonja Henie has a new boy friend to dazzle, in her latest romance, "My Lucky Star," a gay love story embroidered with ice skating sequences. He is Richard Greene, a young British actor. "My Lucky Star" is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday, with Joan Davis, Cesar Romero and Buddy Ebsen as supporting players.

CHICAGOANS

Most people will probably remember these three—Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche—as members of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," but earlier they were Chicagoans, the leading players in a spectacular drama called "In Old Chicago." The picture returns to the Lyric theatre for Sunday-Monday showings.

COW IS HEROINE

BLUFFTON, Ind., Sept. 10 (AP)—Victor Dettmer, farmer living near Ossian, owes his life to a cow. A young bull knocked Dettmer to the ground. The bull's mother answered Dettmer's call and butted the animal away until Dettmer could scramble to safety.

Old Chicago Days Brought To Screen

Power, Faye, Ameche Starred In Spectacular Drama

Termed one of the more spectacular productions of the season, "In Old Chicago," that dramatic opus which reaches its climax in the sweeping scenes of the great fire which destroyed a city, returns locally for showings at the Lyric theatre Sunday and Monday. Stellar players are Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche—the three who scored more recently in "Alexander's Ragtime Band."—plus Alice Brady, Tom Brown, Brian Donley and Andy Devine.

Great scope of the camera is exhibited in the powerful scenes of the great conflagration. Chicago is wiped out before the spectator's eyes, with sights and sounds combined to make one of the outstanding sequences of the films.

The O'Learys Before all that, there is a rugged story dealing with lusty old Chicago itself—and the courageous people who helped build a midwestern city. The story of Chicago is told through the eyes of the O'Learys, a famed family of fiction—it was Mrs. O'Leary's cow, you know, that was supposed to have kicked over the lantern that started the fire—which plays a very prominent part in Chicago's early history.

Alice Brady is Mrs. O'Leary, widowed when her pioneering husband is killed just before he reaches his dream city. Power and Ameche are her sons, the one ambitious along political lines who doesn't let moral values interrupt his upward climb; the other a more unassuming chap who realizes that people, like Chicago, can't be built overnight. Miss Faye appears as a saloon entertainer, a girl loved by Power, but used by him for political purposes—and later, to help him out of trouble.

Dion O'Leary (Power) swings into his stride when he weds Belle Fawcett (Miss Faye) so that he can control the choice site for a saloon which will drive his political boss (Brian Donley) out of business. The violent love scenes end with a slightly subdued Belle Fawcett becoming Dion's aide in a series of machinations which are culminated by a political plot electing Brother Jack O'Leary (Ameche) as reform mayor of Chicago.

The strange O'Leary tribe fights tooth and nail at times, and the climax comes when Dion has his brother perform the marriage ceremony which makes Belle Fawcett the bride of Dion O'Leary. Mayor Jack O'Leary learns that the marriage was engineered by Dion so that Belle could not testify to Dion's political chicanery.

A fight starts here, but in another part of Chicago a fire also starts, and the picture blazes forth into the great conflagration. The final moment shows the indomitable O'Learys reunited in a spirit of a regenerated Chicago to come.

READING AND WRITING

Where to go, how to get there, what to do after you arrive—Possibly by this time, you may be weary of hearing this writer about the praises of what is to him the WPA's most satisfactory cultural contribution to the people who pay for it—namely, the American Guide Series. But some other guides are ready now, and these must be mentioned. They are among the best so far issued. To a traveler nurtured on Baedeker they must seem almost ideal, for in addition to the essential fact, these guides are human and often good reading.

The Delaware guide (Viking; $2.50) is an excellent example. There are few places to go in the land of the DuPonts, but these have been made so attractive by the simple (but difficult) expedient of telling everything about them that this reader lost himself completely in the book and had to run for his train.

The Iowa guide (Viking; $2.50) is quite as good. We were much interested to see whether the midwestern writers' projects would do as well as the eastern units with an entirely different sort of material, and we find that, at least, they have. The introductory essays seem especially worthy—after all, the east has a lot to learn about the middle west, and such a product as the essay on Iowa literature is a good place to start. There is another on "Racial Elements and Folkways" that should not be missed—and of course there is that incredible mass of detailed information on the towns, the highways, the rivers and so forth which (when all the guides are published) will constitute the best source material on the United States up to this time available.

Finally, there is "The Ocean Highway" (Modern Age; $3.95), a sort of companion volume to the guide for Route One, in which the highway from New Brunswick, N. J., to Jacksonville is covered mile by mile. Route One runs farther inland than the Ocean highway, which just keeps within smell of the sea, most of the way. For all its low cost, the new guide is a substantial book. It contains the usual information, the usual introductory essay, and like its predecessor, it also tells you what

Robt. Montgomery Stars In Drama Of War On Disease

An addition to the list of photoplays dealing with science and man's scientific wars in behalf of humanity is "Yellow Jack," a drama which plays at the Queen theatre today and Monday. It is the story of the commission sent to Cuba following the Spanish-American war to locate the cause and effect of the cur of yellow fever.

In the cast are Robert Montgomery, Virginia Bruce, Lewis Stone, Andy Devine, Henry Hull, Charles Coburn, Buddy Ebsen and Henry O'Neill.

The picture, based on Sidney Howard's play which was written in collaboration with Paul de Kruif, author of the best-seller, "Microbe Hunters," provided employment to nearly 1,000 world war veterans who appear in the unfamiliar uniforms of the Spanish-American conflict.

Paul de Kruif's chapter on the work of Major Walter Reed, that gentle and very moral man who led his small retinue of scientists and soldiers into a Cuba laid waste by yellow fever, was subjected to microscopic scrutiny by M-G-M. That chapter, with its tale of despair, hardship, disappointment, is a drama within itself. From that drama the motion picture was made.

The story revolves around Major Reed's commission to Cuba after the Spanish-American war when soldiers and natives were dying from the ravages of a disease which science could not combat because the source was a mystery. The scene is the now famous Army encampment at Quemados where five men pitted themselves against death and lived to receive the Congressional medal for valor when they volunteered to submit to experiments calculated to isolate the cause of yellow fever.

As Sergeant O'Hara, in charge of the small group of soldiers sent with the medical commission, Montgomery portrays the man in the first pest house who is not stung by the mosquito. He volunteers, with full knowledge of the risk involved, to be stung after his companion has come down with yellow fever. In this way, he affords the scientists the last proof they needed. His sickness is proof positive that the insect is the carrier of the disease.

Utility Firm Given Chance To Sell Out

Texasarkana Makes An Offer For Company's Properties

TEXARKANA, Ark., Sept. 10 (AP)—The city of Texasarkana, Texas, through its mayor, William V. Brown, today offered the Southwestern Gas and Electric company $250,000 for its physical properties on the Texas side of the city, requesting a reply within 30 days.

Mayor Brown, announcing that the offer had been made, said engineers had estimated that the power lines and circuits, transformers and other physical property in Texasarkana, Texas, could be duplicated new for $250,000, but that the Southwestern company had assessed its property on the Texas side at a higher rate and for that reason the $250,000 offer was made.

Recently the Public Works Administration authorized a grant of $245,000 and a loan of $300,000 to the city of Texasarkana, for the construction of a municipal light plant.

Prior to authorization of the loan and grant, the Southwestern Gas and Electric company obtained a federal court injunction against the city, enjoining it from entering into a contract for the construction of such a plant. A hearing on the injunction is now pending before Judge Randolph Bryant.

W. E. Brown, vice president and general manager of the electric company, said he had no comment to make on the offer.

Easier Credit Is Advocated

Sen. Logan Urges Action To Combat 'Easy Money' Schemes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Senator Logan (D-Ky.) urged today that the administration relax credit restrictions to prevent a "dangerous" sentiment for easy-money schemes from sweeping the country.

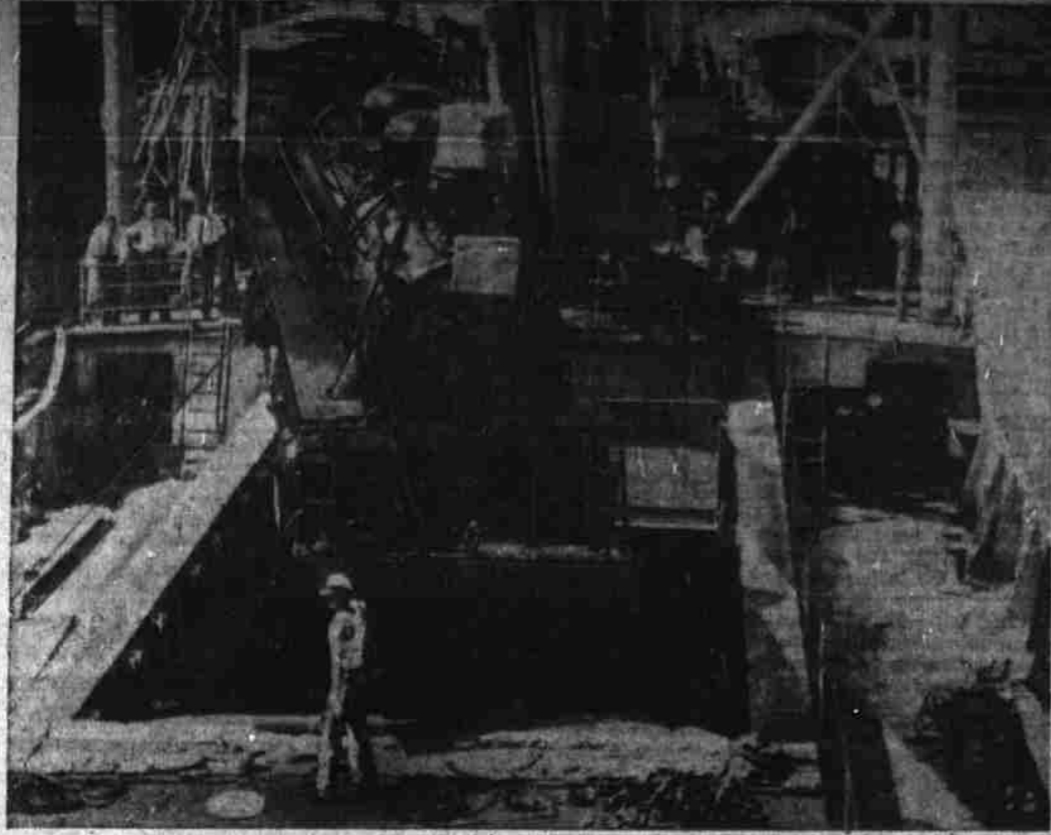

The Kentuckian predicted in an interview that proposals for greatly liberalizing old-age pensions through new revenue-raising devices would not win serious consideration in the next congress, but he added:

"If we do not have monetary reform that will enable people to get money to do business, we will see this effort by the people to create their own money spread all over the country."

"It could be avoided if we had a federal reserve board that would take hold of the situation."

Logan, who usually is an administration supporter, expressed the opinion that the current business slump was caused by the federal reserve board a year ago. He said the board ordered banks to increase their reserves in an effort to curb rising prices, with the result that prices were started on a downward swing that could not be checked.

Citing the "$30 every Thursday" pension plan in California, and the Townsend plan in other localities, Logan said sentiment for such programs in the west was "one of the most dangerous symptoms" of a desire for freer credits.

HIGHWAYS TO THE GRID STADIA WILL HAVE SPECIAL PATROLS

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—State police are ready to tackle football season motorists who adopt line smashing and broken field driving tactics in the big game traffic jams.

The approaching gridiron season with prospective heavy travel and a threat of a higher accident rate will be met by a larger highway patrol than last year.

Drinking drivers and those who weave in and out of traffic lanes will be the principal objectives of the police who, besides aiding local officers control stadium traffic flow, will patrol all highways leading to stadia on game days.

Working in pairs, patrolmen will police roads up to 50 miles from stadia before and after games. Some will stay on duty until morning hours—eyes pealed for the late homeward-bound cars whose drivers might not have celebrated wisely.

Meanwhile the state police today wore wide grins when a survey of street and highway fatalities for the first eight months of the year showed 18.5 per cent fewer deaths than for the same period last year.

Completion of August reports listing 106 traffic deaths reflected 1,013 fatalities for the year, 238 fewer than for a corresponding period last year.

August brought the sharpest monthly reduction on record, 43.3 per cent under August of last year, and lightened the hold on a declining death rate. The seven-month advantage over last year was 14 per cent. The August record was made in face of a 10 per cent increase in gasoline consumption and a 5 per cent increase in automobile registrations.

Capt. Homer Garrison, Jr., assistant state police director, attributed the improvement to two main factors—selective enforcement and a rekindled public interest.

Thomas Edison developed the basic dictating machine in 1887, but its use was not widespread in business offices until 20 or 30 years later.

CORN CROP helped give Tomas Rosario the first award of the Order of the Good Farmer, meaning "good farmer," in Puerto Rico. He got full title to land as reward.

The job of delivering marketing quotas and cards to Howard county cotton producers was only about two-thirds done Saturday.

Late Saturday there remained 300 cards to be delivered. County Agent O. P. Griffin reported. These must be in the possession of producers before they can market cotton this season.

Since the county committee cannot remain in session indefinitely, it was announced Saturday that after Tuesday, the committee will deliver the cards only on Thursday or Saturday.

There are 978 cotton producers in the county this year, records at the agent's office show.

4-H Club Boys Feeding Out 16 Calves

Animals Taken From Different Herds This Year

Determined to make a more serious bid for honors in the second annual club boy livestock show here in the spring, Howard county 4-H club boys are feeding out 16 head of calves.

Six other boys are yet to be supplied with animals for the feeding test.

In contrast to last year when 40 head of calves were topped from a Martin county herd, the animals this year are being taken from many herds. In this manner the boys are getting a generally higher quality calf and at the same time not cutting into a herd to the extent that a premium price is required.

Since no organization is sponsoring the project, ranchers are taking notes of the boys in many instances. Thirteen of the 16 calves now on feed have been insured. Most of the boys are feeding a ration of ground heads hoggard or cane, and cotton seed meal. Four boys are feeding out two calves but no boy has more than that number this year.

Diplomacy For Big Business Assailed By Pres. Cardenas

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas told an anti-war conference today one nation should not intervene in the affairs of another to protect its citizens and corporations abroad.

A crowd of 5,000 in the palace of fine arts applauded the president's denouncement of diplomacy that supports large business corporations.

"Diplomatic war leads to economic war then even to armed conflict," he said.

Without mentioning the United States directly, Cardenas reiterated the Mexican position taken in the recent note to the United States dealing with settlement of claims of Americans for farm lands expropriated in Mexico.

Foreigners must accept the conditions they find in the land to which they go, he said, and cannot expect better treatment than Mexico accords her own nationals.

The anti-war conference was arranged at the suggestion of President Cardenas by the Confederation of Workers of Mexico while the Latin American labor conference was still meeting here.

NO METEOR CAUSED THAT MENARD HOLE, SCIENTIST SAYS

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mother Nature and not a celestial visitor caused a gaping hole in the earth near Menard, a cavity thought by some to be a meteor crater, Dr. E. H. Sellards said today.

The director of the University of Texas' bureau of economic geology reported after an inspection at the site the hole was a natural sink formed by solution of underlying rock.

He reported there was no rim around the cavity and no material thrown out of it, common indications of a meteor's dive into the earth's surface.

Buffalo Bones Uncovered In Pipe Line Excavation S'west Of City

Mute testimony of a day when the buffalo roamed this country was uncovered Saturday by city workers excavating for a pipe line in the Park Hill addition of southwest Big Spring.

For a strip of about 40 yards, the workers ran into a mass of decaying bones, unmistakably those of buffaloes. Among bones recovered were two teeth that appeared to be those of a human. Those examining the bones theorized that the bones were those of a mass of bison slaughtered by hunters and dumped into a trench of some sort to prevent a stench. However, buffalo hunters usually were not so particular, choosing rather to leave the remains of the animal and main stalks strewn about so that early pioneers recalled of having walked a distance of miles without ever having been out of reach of bones.

The location where the bones were found is near a spring in a small arroyo. The spring fills and dries intermittently, usually without regard to rainy or dry seasons.

Govt. Cotton Sale Delayed

Farmers Protest Action Would Mean A Heavy Loss

SPUR, Sept. 10 (AP)—Joe M. Rose, Dickens county farm leader, said today he had been promised by federal officials that sale of 33,000 bales of cotton called in under notes issued to farmers had been postponed until Sept. 26.

The sale originally was set for this week and the next.

The government claims the cotton, now stored in a Jayton warehouse, is below government standard, and all notes issued against it are being called for payment.

Approximately 500 farmers, who said they represented a total of more than 3,000 growers, held a protest meeting on the courthouse square this week and asked the government to postpone the sale until something to alleviate their situation could be planned.

The farmers said sale of the cotton and calling of the notes would mean a loss to West Texas farmers of from $100,000 to $300,000, and Rose was named head of a group to contact Washington officials.

Rose reported John D. Goodloe of the Commodity Credit Corporation said the sale would be postponed, and that he would be glad to confer with a committee of farmers if they could go to Washington.

The cotton was placed in the warehouse last fall and winter under provisions of the 1937 loan program.

LEITH MORRIS HURT IN MOTOR MISHAP

Leith Morris, district director for the state liquor control board, was injured Saturday when the car in which he and Merritt F. Hines, Midland county attorney, was wrecked near Fairfield, Texas.

Morris sustained a shoulder injury and it was feared the member might be broken. He and Hines planned to continue to Beaumont for the state democratic convention, however.

FLOODS RECEDING IN MEXICO AREA

EL PASO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Residents of Guadalupe, Mexico, 25 miles east of Juarez, who fled to nearby mountains last week to escape the raging flood waters, were reported returning to their homes today.

The flood resulted from torrential rains which struck the entire Juarez valley and farm lands in a 100-mile stretch.

A large portion of Guadalupe was reported free of water. In other places, however, the water still stood two feet deep, officials said.

A survey to determine the damage done by the flood in the 100-mile stretch, was to be made Monday by federal and state authorities. It was reported the loss of crops will run high.

Additional food and other supplies were sent to the stricken area Saturday morning.

Physical Ed Work To Meet State Rules

More Complete Program Announced By School Officials

Physical education courses in the high school are to be carried on strictly in compliance with requirements of the state department of education this year, school officials announced Saturday.

Due to the crowded condition of the school plant and the condemning of the old gymnasium, the system carried on a program of physical education not entirely in conformance with state regulations during the past few years.

Now with completion of a new gymnasium building and addition of a full time instructor for girls, the program is to be well rounded in every respect.

The state department requires that every high school student, unless suffering from physical abnormalities, be given 120 minutes of physical activity each week in addition to 40 minutes of health instruction.

Another requirement in the program to be met this year is that of gym suits. Students will be furnished locker space for keeping gym clothes and must not exercise in their regular garments. Girls are to wear navy blue shorts and royal blue blouses, white tennis shoes and white socks. The shorts are unpleated and open on sides while the shirt is to be sport style with open back collar. Slip-over or front opening types are permissible. Girls who wish to make their suits are urged to use Indianhead for the shorts and broadcloth for the blouses.

Large Well Is Completed In Avoca Field

Possibility Of New Deep Pool Near Albany Indicated

ABILENE, Sept. 10.—Northwestern Jones county's Avoca field held attention this week as activity lagged in other parts of the district. Drilling of 19 feet of saturated Caddo lime in an eastern Shackelford county wildcat indicated possible opening of a new deep pool nine miles east of Albany.

Second largest well for the Avoca area, Iron Mountain Oil company and Humble No. 4 Carl Olander, giving a one-location southwest advance to production, was given a potential rating of 6,000 barrels daily based on a natural flow of 767 barrels in three hours through one-inch choke from pay at 3,180-3,210 feet. Rig was skidded 600 feet south for the No. 5 Olander, both in the southwest quarter of section 186-BB&C survey.

Test To Be Acidized
Acidization was planned for Humble No. 14 Hollums, section 190-BB&C survey, after it had drilled saturated Palo Pinto lime from 3,214 to 3,218 feet. A natural flow producer, it was given only 600 gallons. Humble No. 13 Hollums, treated with the same amount, had increased in production from 60 barrels in 34 hours to a flow of 75 barrels hourly from the same flow.

Half mile northeast extension try for the southern Haskell county Purdue pool, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 1 R. L. Livingston, failed to find as a producer, developing salt water at 2,818 feet after acid treatment with 1,000 and 2,000 gallons and was deepening again below 2,550 feet. The test is located in the south of section 8-1-H&T&C survey, six miles northeast of Stamford.

In southwestern Haskell, Indian States No. 1 T. P. Jones, Coryell county school lands survey, was abandoned at a total depth of 4,208 feet.
In western Fisher county, Forest Development corporation No. 1 Preston Morrow, 1,320-foot east offset to the new Noodle Creek lime pool discovery well, southwest of Rotan, was waiting on spudder for drilling plugs in casing cemented at 4,195 feet. The test was drilled to 4,324 feet, total depth, and plugged back to test an upper showing. It is in section 48-3-H&T&C survey. Its north offset, Daube No. 1 Hardy, remained shut down for orders at 5,730 feet.

MORE DRIVERS' LICENSES ISSUED

Business picked up for the driver's license division of the highway patrol in this district during the past week. Examiners issued 88 chauffeur licenses and 61 to operators. There were no refusals to chauffeurs but three operator applicants were denied. Two were due to faulty vision and one due to lack of driving experience.

PICKETS STILL SIT IN WEST COAST STANDSTILL of traffic along waterfront in San Francisco, where some 2,500 men have been put out of work and more than 150 warehouses closed because of above "hot car." Union men claim strikebreakers loaded cars they refuse to unload. Each refusal closed another warehouse, and car is removed to new location.

4 COMPLETIONS ADDED DURING PAST WEEK

Noble No. 6 Chalk Finished For A Potential Of 1,639 Barrels Daily; Others Are Put On Test

Four completions in two pools added 3,700 barrels to the southwestern Howard county potential during the past week.
Largest producer of the group was the Noble No. 6 Chalk, in the Chalk extension area, for 1,639 barrels daily on a two hour test. Location is in section 94-29, W&N.W.

Other wells to go on test were Moore Bros. No. 6-A Snyder, in the southwest quarter of section 28-30-1a, for 583 barrels daily flowing; Moore Bros. No. 2-O'Daniels, in the northeast quarter of section 34-30-1a, T&P, for 568 barrels pumping; and Magnolia No. 9 O'Daniels, in the southwest quarter of the same section, for 466 barrels daily flowing.

Sun No. 5 Snyder, 2,310 feet from the south and east lines of section 28-30-1a, T&P, was cleaning out at 2,785 feet, following a 500 quart shot from 2,820-2,844 feet.

Underreaming Operations
In western Howard county there was no change in status of the W. B. Powell No. 1 Guitart estate, section 17-A, B&C, which continued to underream 8 1/4 inch casing at 3,010 feet. The T. G. Shaw No. 1 E. H. Wilkinson, just over the Martin county line in section 35-B&C, also was reported under-reaming 10 inch below 600 feet.

Drilling activity slackened in the Snyder pool, most active spot in the county, but there were half a dozen rigs still going. Moore Bros. No. 7-A Snyder, section 28 and north offset to the completed No. 6-A Snyder, drilled to 435 feet. Moore Bros. No. 4-A O'Daniel, in the southwest quarter of section 34-30-1a, T&P, was below 2,120 feet while Moore Bros. No. 3-B O'Daniel, in the northeast quarter of the section, drilled to 598 feet. Casing and pits were being drilled for the Moore Bros. No. 4-B O'Daniels, on the same 60-acre lease.

New Test
At Cosden No. 2 O'Daniel, 2,310 feet from the north and east lines of section 34, made 240 feet of hole after spudding. It is the second well on a small 20-acre tract on which the eastern extension well of the Snyder pool is located.

Eastland No. 3 T&P, in the southeast quarter of section 38, drilled past 600 feet while the Green Production Co. No. 1 Snyder, in the northeast quarter of section 27-30-1a, T&P, cemented eight inch string and continued cleaning out at 1,700 feet on a rehabilitation test.

As the week closed Magnolia planned several more tests on its lease which covered the northwest quarter of section 34-30-1a, T&P, and arrangements were being made for an extension test southeast of the Snyder pool. This test may be in section 39.

6,174-Barrel Producer For Andrews Co.

Slaughter Pool Extension Flows 165 Barrels

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 10.—Andrews county held the spotlight in West Texas oil operations this week with Humble No. 49 J. B. Means flowing 6,174 barrels in 24 hours to become the largest well in the north part of the Permian Basin, the Fuhrman pool extended one mile west by Fuhrman No. 1 Ashton and Montecito and others. No. 3 Emma Cowden drilled in as the third producer in the pool seven miles south of the Fuhrman field opened by Rhodes, Tompkins & Donnelly.

Gulf No. 2 Mallett, 1 1/4 mile northeast extension to the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county, flowed 165 barrels of oil in 24 hours while cleaning out following a shot. Drilling by the Alcoa Oil Co., of Dallas, of a Youkum county test about midway between the east side of the Denver pool and the southwest edge of the Bennett field was in prospect. Chas. D. Hagerty and Lee Petroleum Corp. No. 1 James Callan, Menard county wildcat, showed an estimated quarter million cubic feet of oil, sweet gas with a trace of dry, bottomed a 1,267 feet.

Three Cases Before Court

Petit Jury Called For Second Week Of Term

With one week of activity behind, the 70th district court will move into the second week of the September term at 10 a. m. Monday when the petit jury has been called. The week, from a civil case load, appears to be less busy than the opening week. Only three cases are on the docket although there may be some pleas of guilty to be heard by the court.

Scheduled to be tried are the cases of Tensie M. Tucker versus All American Bus Line, damages; Byron Hefley, driving while intoxicated; and N. F. Freeman, felony theft.

During the last two days of the first week of court, Judge Charles Klapproth granted Otis Johnson a divorce from Catherine Johnson and restored her maiden name of Catherine Keys. Vivian Price was given a divorce from Uel Price and had her maiden name of Vivian O'Brien restored.

COUPLE MARRIED

36 Completions

Both first and final reports showed a decline this week. Twenty-five oil producers and a gas and distillate well were completed and two dry holes abandoned in 11 counties compared to 46 wells and one duster in 10 counties the week before. Locations were staked for only 33 field tests and three wildcats in 10 counties compared with locations for 44 field tests and seven wildcats in seven counties during the preceding week.

Humble No. 49 Means in Andrews county, new prize gusher in the North Basin, flowed 6,203.58 barrels of oil in 24 hours through two 2-1/2 inch casing outlets and open 2-inch tubing, bottomed at 4,510 feet, after treatment with 10,000 gallons of acid in three stages. It is 1,984 from the south, 688 feet from the east line of section 10-A&B-pal, diagonal southeast offset to Humble No. 47 Means, the former record holder, which early in August flowed 5,430 barrels of oil in 24 hours at 4,510 feet after being treated with 4,000 gallons of acid in two stages.

Defense Bids For Mistrial In Hines Case

Improper Question By Dewey Alleged By His Opponent

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The immediate outcome of the trial of James J. Hines, veteran Tammany district leader, on policy racket charges hung in doubt tonight as Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora weighed a defense motion for a mistrial, based on a question asked by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

Lyon Boston, lawyer and former assistant district attorney under William C. Dodge, testified Dewey assigned him in 1928 to investigate the policy racket with special emphasis on any possible connection Hines might have with it.

Dewey sought to show that Dodge's assignment of Boston was mere "window-dressing," since Boston, a young man, manifestly lacked the experience needed to get at the roots of the policy racket.

Dewey was proceeding calmly, and then suddenly asked: "Don't you know that William Fellows Morgan, Jr., commissioner of markets, testified before the grand jury about James J. Hines' connection with the poultry racket?"

Before Boston could reply, Lloyd Paul Stryker, defense counsel, his face red, his eyes flashing, was on his feet, asking for the declaration of a mistrial.

Dewey's question, he said, was "intentionally prejudicial to the defendant."

Justice Pecora looked nettled. "I shall reserve decision," he said. "The court will now take a recess until Monday morning at 10 o'clock."

Candidate Wounded, Claims Politics Behind Affair

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Congressional candidate James H. Morrison charged today he was shot through the arm from ambush over politics but Governor Richard W. Leche, supporter of the incumbent Representative J. K. Griffith, asserted the incident was a "cheap publicity stunt."

Morrison said an unidentified man jumped on his car in the darkness at his camp near Hammond, La., fired three shots and fled. Physicians said the wound was not serious.

"It is apparent," Morrison said at a hospital, "that an attempt was made to kill me to get me out of the way in this campaign."

"This affair," countered the governor from Shreveport, "is simply a cheap publicity stunt of a desperate, unscrupulous and repudiated politician."

Morrison said the governor's charge was "typical of Leche." The sixth district, in which Morrison is running is one of three in the state which will pick democratic congressional nominees Tuesday. Incumbents in the other five districts are unopposed.

Mumford suffered a severe leg injury and was taken to a Tyler hospital. King, who received a back injury and cuts, was rushed to a Dallas hospital.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

It seems that our good high school professor, Gorgeous George Gentry, has laid himself open to broadsides of criticism from various centers of the mighty Oil Belt football conference for allegedly starting what has commonly come to be known as a "purge" against several institutions of the family, a move that ended the high school playing careers of a quartet of promising gridgers.

It so happened that said young men were enrolled in the schools of Abilene and Cisco. . . . Those critics, particularly those in Abilene and Cisco, are easily influenced, apparently did not attend any of the meetings of the rules committee. . . . It is happens that Mr. Dewey Mayhew, the noted Abilene tutor, was one of the parties who got his fingers burned in the formality and he in turn sobbed his way in the spotlight accusing our hero of hitting below the belt and vowing vengeance. . . . The fact of the matter is that Mayhew's hand was finally called and he was caught with one too many aces in his hand. . . . All of which is very mystifying. . . . When the "non bonafide transfer" rule was written into the Oil Belt books several months ago Mr. Gentry, along with Pat Murphy and others, went out of their respective ways to explain that the rule was being written for the explicit purpose of making the Abilene school to mark. . . . If Mr. Mayhew saw immediately the error of his ways he failed to renege. . . . The city limits of Abilene don't extend much farther than they did last year of the year before and it was developing, among several members of the rules committee that the beef and brawn of a terminal or two were being attracted to Abilene (and Cisco) for no apparent reason. . . . Our men threatened earlier in the year and they acted. . . . If so happened that our Mr. Gentry introduced the question to the committee that beef and brawn. . . . In no shape, form or fashion did he openly make any accusations of ineffectuality. . . . Mr. Mayhew readily agreed to have the young men in question submit to the examinations but, low and behold, something went wrong. . . . They had been supplied with the wrong answers. . . . Result: the widely heralded penalty. . . . Result of that result: charges and counter charges, threats and counter threats. . . . Now the tale comes from the hotbed, Abilene, suggesting a strict rule allowing no transfers, permitting no exceptions. . . . The writer would search into the records of every team in the district, starting with Big Spring, of course. . . . He laments that the committee parties agreed wholeheartedly with the facts of the case and backed up the threat of their earlier meeting. . . .

Miller Harris, who dropped in on Big Spring Saturday, has been having the time of his life down at Crane this year where the Cranes and the Texans have been fighting it out for the Permian Basin baseball league championship. . . . The former Big Spring Cowhand collected a double and two singles in the Friday night encounter with Texon, a game which Crane took, 13-4. . . . Miller, who hit .347 during the season while playing right field, drove in four of the victors' runs. . . . The town also has a representative in Tommy Hutto playing for Texon. . . . Hutto, who finished the year with a fine .358 batting average, managed to manufacture one hit in the playoff opener. . . . The two teams meet in the second game of their series in Texon Sunday. . . . Doug Rayburn and Charles Ray Settles, Steer gridgers of 1937, write friends from Kerrville where they are enrolled in Schreiner Institute that they are progressing favorably. . . . Doug is still at center while Settles is trying for a halfback slot. . . . George Sturdivant, the ex-Lamesa high school basketball and baseball star who is shining at first base for Henderson in the East Texas league playoff, merits a chance in better baseball next year. . . . He paced the hitters of the loop with the stick last year and has been the featured performer in Henderson's drive toward the Shaughnessy playoff this season. . . . Thursday he clouted a home run that beat Tyler. . . . Charles Barnabe, Big Spring's baseball leader, is taking a well earned vacation on the Texas Gulf.

Aggies Have Developed Something Very Fancy In The Way Of A Shift

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 10 (AP)—Inside information for opponents of Texas A. and M.:
Settle down for an old-fashioned, friskome game of "button, button, who's got the button" on your Saturday afternoon date with the Aggies this fall.
Coach Homer Norton, equipped with a very respectable football team, has concocted a bit of offensive magic which he labels "a sort of double shift formation" that he hopes will go a long way towards upsetting elaborate defensive plans the opposition develops after scouting expeditions.
Not the customary one shift after the huddle, but two—two very confusing but rhythmic shifts which leave the gate open for a single or double wingback formation, or anything else, comprises the little puzzle "Merlin" Norton has developed.
It's all so clever Coach Norton stands on the sidelines and vows he doesn't know himself what his Farmers are up to until the ball is snapped.
"If it works, and it looks like it will, we've got something," he beamed. "But that's just about the answer to everything about us this year. We have more manpower, more reserves and better backs—but I couldn't say what we'll do. . . . Our kicking and punting will unquestionably be better. Our blocking should be the best since I've been at A. and M., but on the other hand, we certainly couldn't expect the same guard play we had last year and we have sophomores at key positions."

In the opener Scotty Williams, a newcomer, will joust with Joe Bauer, the Hamburg "lazy bones." Guisplai can't make up his mind whether he wants to wrestle or earn his money with his dukes which accounts for the fact that he is seen most of the time as a "social" eventer.
"That bout starts the show rolling at 8:30.

Now that Andy Tremaine has departed from the scene, the workers at the Big Spring Athletic club can get back to normalcy. The management takes a big step in that direction this week, showing George Hartay in the main event with Gust Johnson who has finally arrived at the top of the ladder after slipping and sliding around and about for several weeks.
The real fun takes place in the semi-go where Jack Hagen, will argue that he deserves a better chance. He opposes John Nemanic who is a better wrestler than he is a wrestler.
Hagen will play around as a semi-finalist because there isn't anybody around that can really interest him in the longer bout. A victory over Nemanic would clinch his argument for better consideration.

HERD'S PROGRAM GROWS; LAMESANS RUGGED

PSAA 6-Man Grid Card Is Lined Up

Garden City To Oppose Forsan Friday

The Pioneer School Activities association's fall six-man football program will get underway Friday afternoon or three fronts with Garden City's gridgers meeting Forsan at Forsan, Courtney opposing Westbrook on the latter's home grounds and Garner meeting the sixth member of the league—yet unchosen.

The officials of the organization, with Secretary J. Crouch, Westbrook, presiding in place of President Riggs Sheppard, met Aug. 29 in the county superintendent's office at Big Spring, drew up a fall schedule that will extend into November.
Most of the teams either have their equipment on hand or have ordered the necessary togetery. Coach Brady Nix, Forsan, called the prospects at his school out Monday and has been drilling them steadily all week.
Herchel Wheeler, Garden City, has been drilling his crew lightly awaiting the arrival of equipment.
The Forsan playing field, to be located directly north of the school building, will be laid out this week. Bleachers will probably be erected.
The complete PSAA schedule will be announced in a later edition of The Daily Herald.

Fall Tourney Gets Underway Sept. 18

Players To Be Given Week To Post Qualifying Scores

Qualifying for the Muni Fall golf tournament will get underway Sept. 15 and continue through Sept. 25. Pro Harold Akey of the Municipal course announced this morning.
Match play will begin Sept. 28. Play will be conducted on the order of the course's spring meeting with players being given a week to complete each match.
Prizes will be awarded to winners and runnersup in all flights, Akey said.
Frank Morgan, who gained the honors in the spring tourney, is expected to compete for the title.

Kelly Simon-Pure Threat At Oakmont

OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, OAKMONT, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP)—Over a path to glory studded with yawning traps and treacherous greens, some 160 of the country's finest shot-makers will start trudging Monday in pursuit of the national amateur golf championship held by Omaha's famed Johnny Goodman.
The field is faced with a terrific task against par for the battlefield is tough, old Oakmont which never has been consistently conquered.
Though the title seemed sewed up by a coterie of 20 leading stars, including such Walker cup players as Goodman, Charley Yates, Johnny Fischer, Bud Ward, Reginald Smith, Fred Haas and Ray Billows, the race looked all over like a mad scramble for the two 18-hole qualifying tests Monday and Tuesday to the finish Saturday afternoon. Goodman, twice a finalist before he defeated Billows 2-up to take the championship at Portland, Ore., last year, naturally was the closest thing to a favorite.
The "dark horse" with the largest number of supporters here is Roger Kelly, 22-year-old law student from Loyola university, Los Angeles. He hits the ball a mile, is sure around the greens, and likes the lightning fast greens of Oakmont. Kelly has been right around par during four days drill. Billows, suddenly back on his game, beat him a shot in a friendly foursome today with a par-wrecking 70.

To be in the final with Don Budge.
Bromwich took the third set, 10-8, on a service break in the final game, where Shields committed three errors. After the intermission Bromwich breezed through the final sets for the match.
Shields' showing was more surprising than any other development of a day in which eight players came through to the fourth round in the lower half of the men's draw, and eight to the third round of the upper half in the women's.
With Bromwich advanced, Frankie Parker, 1937 Davis cupper, who next takes the Australian; Joe Hunt of Los Angeles; long-legged Yvon Petra of France; Franjo Puncec of Yugoslavia and Gene Mako, Budge's doubles partner, to hit a sound singles streak to upset sixth-seeded Frank Kovacs; Gil Hunt of Washington, D. C., and Bobby Riggs of Chicago. They are paired in the order named.

Helen Jacobs, first-seeded and seeking her fifth title, led the feminine survivors, who also included Marge Lamb of England, Helen Pedersen of Stamford, Conn., Nancy Wynne of Australia, Dorothy May Bundy, Mrs. Harry C. Hopman of Australia, Gracyn Wheeler and Rene Bone Mathis of France.

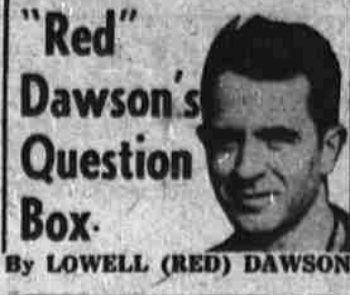

Bromwich Comes From Behind To Defeat Shields; Favorites Win

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—For two sets and the better part of two hours today Big Frank Shields led the way, but Gene Bromwich, suddenly back on his game, beat him a shot in a friendly foursome today with a par-wrecking 70.

Tahoka Is No Test For Big Tornados

McCullom Men Show Weaknesses But To Be Tough

By HANK HART
Far from a noble experiment was the Lamesa football team's opening encounter with the Tahoka Bulldogs, a team that fell before the charges of F. T. McCullom Friday night in Lamesa, 51-0, but it did give Big Spring's mentor, Pat Murphy, who was in the stands, an idea of what his Longhorns are going to run into when the two teams open the season for Big Spring next Friday night on the Lamesa field.
Not the Tornados of old are McCullom's 1938 hopefuls. He had but three lettermen returning to the fold this year and has had to rebuild with younger and smaller material—material that may or may not figure largely in the destinies of District One later in the season but material that showed more than the usual first game weaknesses in the riot with Tahoka.
If the Tornados are going to stop the Big Springers that duty is going to fall to the line which is rugged and steady but not alert. But where they literally ran the Bulldogs' into the ground Friday they stumble into something different come Sept. 16. Murphy's line is larger and more experienced than the Tornado forward wall.
Functioned Smoothly
McCullom is seeking, as in years past, to build up a general offensive attack that depends on no individual, apparently has his secondary working in grand style in the opener. Jack Vaughn, rated as a second stringer, showed to advantage. J. Anderson and Skat Noret flashed at intervals.
The team's offense is built around the short punt with Anderson and Vaughn ripping off tackle for most of the crew's gains. They displayed no aerial strength, completed no passes in five attempts and the secondary, if it hopes to win in District One, must be tutored in pass defense. McCullom does not have speed, must depend more upon power to put him over.
The Tornados piled up 16 first downs against the Tahokans, rolled over the invaders for a total of 410 yards in running plays.
Too Late
The Bulldogs' one bright point was their ability to complete short passes but even that attack started too late in the game. With J. H. Dyer pitching and Bob Minor, brother to Howard Payne's popular Jack Minor, and Curly Reed receiving, the Tahokans succeeded in completing six of twelve passes for a total gain of 73 yards. They added 33 on running plays, lost as much as many in attempts through the line.
The Tornados falled within five minutes after the opening gun, succeeded in scoring in every period thereafter. The closest the Bulldogs came to crossing the last white line came in the closing minutes of the game when their aerial attack functioned briefly and carried them down to the Lamesans' five yard stripe. The Tornado defense tightened to hold. A bad pass-back from center cost the Bulldogs ten yards and an interception by Vaughn finally dissolved the threat.
Anderson rammed over for Lamesa's first touchdown from the five, then loped 43 yards on an off tackle smash for the second. Crawley sliced off tackle for the third and a fumble had been recovered deep in Tahoka territory. He churned 15 yards to the payoff stripe and Anderson made his third extra point try his first successful one and the Lamesans led, 19-0.
Interception
Vaughn intercepted a Tahoka pass and raced 30 yards for the fourth counter. A moment before the quarter ended and Harman Reeves and Vaughn collaborated on line smashes to give the Tornados a fifth touchdown and a 31-0 lead before the second quarter ended.
Noret went over on power plays soon after the third quarter began and Anderson kicked goal for the 38th point. McCullom filled the game with substitutes but Crawley and Mitchell added no-pointers before the curtain went down.

"Red" Dawson's Question Box. By LOWELL (RED) DAWSON

QUESTION: What constitutes a "quick kick"?
ANSWER: A punt is considered a "quick kick" when the ball is kicked from a close up position, usually about five yards behind the line of scrimmage. The element of surprise is its greatest advantage, hence it usually is executed on an early down, the idea being to kick over the safety man's head.

Shirley Robbins Is Round-Up Captain

Annual Affair Takes Place At Midland

Big Spring country club was expected to be well represented at the annual Sand Belt Round-Up, which takes place at the Midland country club today.

Approximately 50 golfers from the six cities composing the Sand Belt league are expected to compete in the all day play.
Shirley Robbins, Big Spring, was nominated as the captain of one of the teams while Morgan Neill, Odessa, will serve as the leader of the other group. They will choose sides for team play. Prizes will be awarded to individual winners.
Following the matches a barbecue and a business session will be held at the club house. President Frank Johnson will preside.
The Odessa team gained honors in league play this season, taking the title for the second straight year. The league's trophy will be turned over to their captain again.
Big Spring's Jake Morgan, who won every league match but one during the regular season's play, will be awarded a gold medal as high scorer in loop play.
The affair was held in Big Spring last year.

Pirates Lick Cards, 14-7

Increase Loop Lead; Giants Win; Reds And Bees Cop

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, with an eighth inning rally producing eight runs, walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 14 to 7, today to increase their lead in the National League pennant race to 4 1/2 games. Johnny Mize hit his 25th home run of the season, and Al Todd also hit for the circuit.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Giants took revenge on their old rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, today by clubbing out a 20 to 2 victory for a new major league scoring record for the season.
While Cliff Melton pitched a four-hitter to chalk up his 12th win of the year, the New Yorkers landed on three pitchers for 20 hits, including Jijo Moore's 11th homer, to climb within a game of second place in the National League race.
Every man in the lineup, except Third Baseman George Myatt, who played only a part of the game, hit safely at least once.
End Victory Streak
CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)—With Frank McCormick hitting a double and four singles for a perfect day, Cincinnati combined 15 hits with four Chicago errors to end the Chicago Cubs' six game winning streak, 9 to 1, today, and tie Chicago for second place. Wally Berger and Rip Collins each hit their 12th homers.
Phillies Trounced
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10 (AP)—Debs Garms' two-bagger with the bases full in the fifth inning today drove in three runs to give the Boston Bees a 6 to 5 victory over the Phillies.

Snead "Cellarite" At Glens Falls

Snead's scintillating round, coupled with his opening 72, put him three strokes in front of Frank Moore of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who added a 69 to his first round 71. Bracketed in third place at 141 were Jack Patrol of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., with rounds of 71 and 70, and Eddie Schults of Troy, N. Y., who put together a 73 and a 68.
Five blows behind Snead were Tony Manero of Peabody, Mass., Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I., and Gene Sarazan.

O'DANIEL IMPRESSED BY WORK OF STATE PLANNING BOARD

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10 (AP)—W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-nominee, impressed in a conference with members of the Texas planning board today, told them "I hope you won't feel backward" in asking for any necessary help. After hearing a report on activities of the group, O'Daniel said "I can see where your board and its program fits into the plan I have for the industrialization of Texas." Board members felt O'Daniel's words were an indication he would support proponents of the plan to extend the life of the organization when the matter comes up next year before the legislature.

LAUNDRY MARKING BECOMES EVIDENCE IN SLAYING TRIAL

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 10 (AP)—A laundry mark that fitted into the waistband of bloodstained army slacks was added today to the chain of circumstantial evidence by which the government seeks to link Major John R. Brooke, Jr., with the brutal killing of his wife. Captain Thomas D. Drake, assistant provost marshal, testified the marking was found near the same isolated fig tree where a bloody army shirt, introduced as evidence yesterday, was discovered. One of the fragments bore the marking "0-8" and the other "B." Sidney G. Redding, chief clerk in the Fort Benning laundry testified the mark B-708 was assigned Major Brooke and that no other mark was assigned with "B" as a beginning and "0-8" as an ending.

In today's negotiations, Ernst Kuntz, Sudeten German deputy, conferred more than an hour with Premier Milan Hodza. The premier was believed to be more optimistic, although no definite information of the course of the conference was given out. Negotiations had been broken off last Wednesday after disorders at Mahrtsch-Ostrau.

At the close, Hodza pleaded: "Let us be ready to make sacrifices but let us be optimistic even in a time of great difficulties; above all, let us not forget faith and good will move mountains and that they will bring us happily out of all present European troubles."

Hitler Himself Gets Britain's Warning

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Great Britain has warned Adolf Hitler himself that British neutrality cannot be counted on if Germany should start a major war over Czechoslovakia, it was reported in authoritative quarters tonight. A British semi-official statement issued tonight declared that as a result of contacts made by Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador, at the last party congress at Nurnberg, Germany, this week, "there is every reason to feel assured the views of the British government have been fully conveyed in the proper quarter."

French Army Grows To Estimated 2,000,000

PARIS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Trains loaded with additional reservists called to the colors poured out of Paris today, swelling the ranks of the French army to an estimated total of 2,000,000 men. With the Maginot line, facing Germany, manned by 300,000 troops and interior garrisons being reinforced, the war ministry worked feverishly to close the gap near Basel, Switzerland, where the Maginot fortifications do not extend.

thoughtfully. People should be well aware that the $275,000 issue is the stepping stone to another and larger one for a pipeline and pump station. Aware of this, some believe it is wise to undertake the program in two parts, such as now proposed, while others argue for the entire proposition at once. One other thing the public should realize, so that there will be no misunderstanding after it is all over, is that the amount ultimately repaid on a long term bond is about twice the amount of the bonds. About a month ago, with a prolonged wet spell behind them, farmers were praying it wouldn't rain. Now with a month passed since last moisture fell in the county, they are praying for rain. But that's the way it goes. A month ago farmers were feverishly fighting worms and a rain would have turned the tide in favor of the invaders. Now, cotton and feed, grown sappy due to an abundance of moisture during the summer season, are hurting for lack of moisture. Douglas Corrigan took the town by storm when he stopped here Thursday and those who heard him speak went away convinced that he is a great little Irishman

Maybe a few sideliights on Corrigan would interest you: The young woman (envy of all the others) who virtually forced her way into the car which brought Corrigan to town was Jean Connor of San Angelo. S. G. Merritt believes he got the only "genuine" Corrigan autograph—it was signed the wrong way on an old post card dated March 18, 1935. The woman who figured she was luckiest of all was the one of Irish lineage who got Doug to autograph an Irish sweepstakes ticket. At the banquet in his honor, Doug didn't squeeze the lemon in his tea; he put it in his water.

The Sales Crusade, in process of organization for three weeks, will open formally Tuesday morning following a "kick off" meeting Monday evening at the football stadium. Everyone is urged to attend the open meeting and learn more about the sales drive. It is not a "buy now" campaign, but a move to emphasize salesmanship.

Aside from any profit the campaign might bring to any person or firm, the Sales Crusade is expected to reap greatest benefits upon the community as a whole through practical experience in cooperation and community activity. If it does, then it will be vastly worth while.

There probably never was a growing city but what faced a problem in caring for its increasing scholastic load. It seems that Big Spring has had its share of worry on that score, for with a new ward school to relieve the pressure, the crowded condition seems to be about as bad as ever. The thing that makes it very bothersome is that there seems to be no end to the growth of scholastic rolls while there is a definite limit in Big Spring to which the district can go in the construction of buildings and hiring of teachers.

You don't have to be a hunter to be interested in a meeting scheduled for 2 p. m. Tuesday when organization of the county into a game preserve demonstration is scheduled. The aim of the meeting is to preserve and propagate wildlife resources. Whether you fire a gun or not, this should be of concern to you from the angle of conserving something that will not continue unless planned sensibly.

Entertainment features will be furnished by Walter Deats and his saxophone and Edith Gay, vocalist. Ray Maddox and his orchestra will play for a dance starting at 9 p. m. in the Settles ballroom. Following invocation by Rev. Will C. House, pastor of the First Methodist church, a final business session will get underway at 9 a. m. Saturday. Mann's Name To Be Put On Delegate List

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Dallas democratic leaders said harmony prevailed here today on the eve of the state convention in Beaumont Monday. The omission of the name of Gerald C. Mann, democratic nominee for attorney general, from the certified list of Dallas county delegates was unintentional, said Henry Yeager, chairman of the committee on delegates. He said he was not aware of the omission "and it will be restored as soon as the delegation holds its caucus at Beaumont."

HEARING CONDUCTED ON SPACING RULES IN WINKLER CO.

MIDLAND, Sept. 10 (AP)—Testimony that 21 sections of the public school land of Winkler county, now embraced in the Keyatum, Kermitt and Haskins pools, should be subjected to spacing rules and field regulations now applied to Kermitt pool was offered here today at a state railroad commission hearing.

Hitler

fore 25,000 members of the labor front at once became the topic of conversation on tramways, at street corners and in restaurants, shops and factories. He hammered the possibility of war into the consciousness of all who heard him—with references to German might in the air, the strength of fortifications and the nation's ability to withstand blockade "even if war should last 30 years."

Goering, like no one else among Hitler's lieutenants, was the man to put the idea across—he with his homely language and sense of humor.

His exposition of the Nazi position in the Czechoslovak situation was regarded as so clear, precise and unmistakable that in the next opinion further parleys by the British, who have been seeking a settlement here and in Prague, seemed superfluous.

Sir Neville Henderson, the British ambassador, did not see Hitler and intended to leave Nurnberg tomorrow.

(In London, a semi-official statement was issued stating "there is every reason for British minister to feel assured that the views of his majesty's government have been fully conveyed in the proper quarter." It was reported reliably this meant Britain was convinced Hitler himself was fully aware that Britain's neutrality could not be counted upon in event of war over Czechoslovakia.)

Goering in his speech expressed contempt for democracies, especially Britain.

"It would not be a bad idea for the English, before chattering about peace, to establish peace in their Jew state (Palestine) down there," he exclaimed.

Goebbels' theme was that bolshevism flourishes only on democratic soil. "Pious Anglo-Saxon democrats ignore religious persecutions in Russia and Spain," he said, "and don't remember that early Sudeten attempts to secure autonomy, for which President Wilson held a brief, were smothered in blood under Masaryk (late President Thomas Masaryk)."

(In Berlin tonight the official gazette published a decree forbidding all commercial air traffic over certain western border areas facing France and Belgium "until further notice." The decree will be effective Sept. 30.

The decree, signed by Goering, said the areas would be patrolled by German military planes which would use rocket signals to order any trespassing plane to land at the nearest point outside the forbidden zone. The decree said trespassing craft would be fired on if they disobeyed.)

Roast Ox At Republican Rally Too Much For Hungry Thousands; They Rush The Place, Grabbing Food

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10 (AP)—Lured by the tempting aroma of three roast ox, a screaming crowd railed a dining hall at a republican rally in a suburban park today, clawed over, flung and trampled tons of food for an hour before a reserve supply restored quiet. Park police, 24 strong, stood helplessly by while the crowd, which they estimated at 85,000, tore chunks of meat from the divided ox, grabbed up buns and hundreds of tomatoes and cucumbers.

Impatient but genial, the crowd roared when Charles F. Brannan, rally director, mounted a table in the hall, beseeching the crowd to wait.

"If you fight an hard for James as you do for this food, we'll win," he cried.

Caught in the melee were party's candidate for governor, and Senator James J. Davis, republican senatorial candidate.

Disorder reigned for almost an hour before the crowd started trickling away as the food disappeared. Later park police were able to clear the dining hall, harried the entrances and admit a single file of persons to be served food which appeared scantily.

Brannan said he was prepared for just such an emergency and had plenty of reserve ox, buns and other picnic supplies. Tables laden with almost 30,000 buns were upset, 60,000 cans of corn piled high were grabbed up or trampled into the ground. Olives and pickles were added to the grocery mess along with six quarts of gravy from the oven.

Tax Study

some experts say, are similar in a sense to the federal excises on manufacturers of automobiles, radios and certain other items. Twenty-one states and the federal government have volume taxes on tobacco, not counting licenses. In the liquor field, especially, all the states and the federal government compete.

One concern of students of the problem is that the competition of different taxing agencies for the same types of taxes will dry up those sources to the disadvantage of either the state or federal government, or both.

But the real burden is on the persons who pay the taxes. The only sure way of solving the problem, the experts say, is the one least likely of adoption—a constitutional amendment arbitrarily limiting the tax fields of the states and federal government.

Sharing of the same taxes on a fixed basis, unified collection systems and standardization of state taxes through federal action are some of the other solutions frequently urged.

HAMBURG, Germany (By Mail)—The dictators appear to be busy folks. They must be "doing something"—else the people would remember the joy they had in cussing the government. Here in this part of Germany, Hitler has been active as a road builder. While there are few motor cars to run on the highways—the roads themselves are a work of art and something which we need to cure the motor accidents in America.

Hamburg is a city of 800,000 people, with a million and a half in what we would call the metropolitan area. It is about 120 miles to Bremen, a city of 400,000 to a half million. There are scores of smaller cities in between. Connecting these two cities, Hitler has built a road straight across the country, touching directly no city or village.

The road is about 300 feet from fence line to fence line. There are two 20-foot concrete slabs with about 30 feet of grass, young trees and shrubs in between the roadways. On each side of this, near the fence line, are 8 to 10-foot bicycle paths of brick laid on concrete. There are no grade crossings of highways, railroads or canals. Soon trees will shade the bicycle paths on each side and part of the highway. The whole thing has the appearance of a park a block wide and a hundred miles long. There is no excuse for an accident. It seems unreasonable to see how one could occur.

A Lesson For Us

This is the type of road we need and which we are going to have if we expect to do anything about the loss of life on our highways. Of course it will come gradually, from Corpus Christi and Galveston through Houston and San Antonio, to Dallas and Fort Worth. The Germans think of these as military roads—and of course they are—but they are the last word in road building and something that our nation could be proud of. Naturally Holland does not connect up at the border with a similar road; but Holland and Belgium have fine highways, though not of the two-way type, but with planting in between to break the glare of approaching headlights.

Germany Sets A Pattern In Highway Building; Economy Is The Keynote In All Passenger Cars And Trucks

By HOUSTON HARTE

HAMBURG, Germany (By Mail)—The dictators appear to be busy folks. They must be "doing something"—else the people would remember the joy they had in cussing the government. Here in this part of Germany, Hitler has been active as a road builder. While there are few motor cars to run on the highways—the roads themselves are a work of art and something which we need to cure the motor accidents in America.

It seems unreasonable to see how one could occur.

A Lesson For Us

This is the type of road we need and which we are going to have if we expect to do anything about the loss of life on our highways. Of course it will come gradually, from Corpus Christi and Galveston through Houston and San Antonio, to Dallas and Fort Worth. The Germans think of these as military roads—and of course they are—but they are the last word in road building and something that our nation could be proud of. Naturally Holland does not connect up at the border with a similar road; but Holland and Belgium have fine highways, though not of the two-way type, but with planting in between to break the glare of approaching headlights.

In Hamburg you are impressed with two things about the German motor industry. The most startling is the prevalence of three-wheel light delivery trucks with the drive on the single wheel end of the car, no matter whether the single wheel is in front or behind. They build them both ways. The drive is direct, like the old Brush car of about 1912. It is claimed for them that they use very little gasoline and that is a big factor here. There is a 25-cent-a-gallon tax.

Using All The Power

The other unusual transportation feature is that in both passenger buses and in trucks, there is a marked tendency to pull a trailer of equal size. This section of Germany is flat and with an additional low gear these big loads can be started. Once moving there seems to be no strain on the motor of the cars to keep the load going.

Americans and Englishmen are undecided as to whether Hitler really expects to build a light car, such as was heralded in the German press as the Volkswagen—or whether he was just giving the people something to talk about. Others are cynical enough to think that the government was in such a tight financial pinch that the $1.25 to $2.50 a week which the purchasers are to pay on the car, is a vital matter to the nation at this time. Certainly the government is getting a lot of money out of these advance orders and installment payments that begin before the car has been produced or a design decided upon.

No Challenge To U. S.

No one here has any idea that the new car will be what would be called an automobile in our country. There is nothing going on over here that will be a factor in the world export motor market, which is universally American. Some nations make cars, as in Germany, France and England, but the only way these people are able to keep out American cars is by quota systems and extreme tariff legislation. If you could get a permit to buy a Ford in Germany it would cost anywhere from $1,200 to $1,800.

There is plenty of talk about the money situation in Germany. With marks set by decree at 40 cents or 2 1/2 to the dollar, there is a bootleg trade going on at all the way from 5 to 7 to the dollar. If you take any out of the country they pay you a dollar for 10.

Most people believe that there is not a thing back of the German paper money except the guarantee of the government. All the gold and silver that did form the base for this paper money has long since been used in providing trade balances. At least this is what everyone thinks.

Not Much Assurance

The only assurance that the holders of paper money and bank balances have that the thing they call money is actually anything at all is the ability of the government to collect enough revenue to meet operating expenditures and provide a surplus that is available to redeem paper money. So far, the Nazi regime has operated in the red. It has forced the banks and the insurance companies to take government bonds. These institutions do not have much money left that can be put into government bonds without frightening everybody.

Wages are low and taxes are high. An expert secretary to an influential man that receives 250 marks a month salary, actually receives 180 marks after her income and security taxes are deducted. This is almost 30 per cent for a person earning about $115 a month, but actually receiving about $80. With people of higher incomes the tax is, of course, higher. It is collected monthly and the employer is the tax collector. The firm has to make the deductions and the remittances on a monthly basis.

Regulations About Everything

Where there are so many regulations about everything, there are untold dozens of boards and commissions in every city of the land. Everything is regulated as to price, materials and output. It is through this phase of the government that the Nazis have complete control over industry. If a certain company or individual is not quite as enthusiastic about the National Socialist party as he might be, the firm finds that the source of raw material is curtailed or even cut off entirely. A little of this and

It is not hard for industry to wave the flag and yell for joy.

It is a great commentary on the German people that they have been able to go along through all the hardships they have been forced to endure since war was declared in August, 1914. Through all this trouble they have conducted themselves with wonderful deportment in their internal dealings among themselves. As you walk or drive around Hamburg or Bremen, or out through the country you will tell little difference between the outward appearance of Germany today than, say in 1911, when the nation and the whole world, for that matter, was in its heyday.

P-T A. Council And Units Are Ready To Begin The Year's Work

Council Meets And Decides Not To Have Reception For Teachers; Unit Meeting Schedule Is Announced

The P-T-A. council and units of Big Spring are ready to begin the year's work and a few have already held their first meetings. Mrs. Hayes Stripling, acting president of the council, announced this weekend.

The council met for the first time last week but did not elect a new president to replace Mrs. Charles Koberg who has moved to Norman, Okla., for the winter. Members of the council decided to not have a reception for all the teachers as has been the custom but will let each unit sponsor its own affair.

New Unit
College Heights, a new ward school, is to have a P-T-A. unit which will be organized Wednesday at 4 o'clock at the building. All parents who have children attending that ward are cordially invited to be present for the organization.

The West ward, of which Mrs. R. E. Lee is president, held its first meeting last Thursday. This unit is to meet the second Thursday of each month during the year.

The first Thursday of each month is the date set for the South Ward group which is headed by Mrs. W. B. Younger and the East Ward meets the third Thursday. Mrs. J. L. Terry is president of the latter unit.

Central ward, headed by Mrs. Harry Adams, will convene the fourth Thursday of this month and all months to follow and the Senior high meets on the first Tuesday. Mrs. Bernard Lamun is president of this unit.

Second Tuesday is the day set aside for the North Ward and the third Tuesday for the Seventh Grade. Mrs. R. C. Williams is to direct the activities of the North Ward and Mrs. Sam McCombs will head the other group.

Council Date
The P-T-A. council, composed of representatives from all of the units, is to meet the first Wednesday of each month.

Mrs. Stripling said objectives of the year have not yet been worked out but after all of the units hold their first meetings she is sure the council can do something toward making out a constructive program.

Committees are continuing to work on the annual summer round-up campaign but are not ready to report.

WHERE WE STAND
In view of the situation in Europe, it might be well to review our own position in the event of a major European conflict. Perhaps the simplest way to do so is to compare it with 1914.

OUR CHANCE TO HELP BUSINESS

Wherever tried the sales crusade method of business revival has proved a success. Big Spring is now organizing to give it a try.

Some of these polls also show, however, that a very considerable percentage of those who vote against war think that if there is a major conflict, we shall not avoid being drawn into it.

Certainly nobody in the United States today thinks of sending an expeditionary force to Europe, and nobody in a responsible position in any European country either desires or expects us to.

But it is equally certain that the American position toward Europe is much clearer and more uniform than it was between 1914 and 1918. There is, first of all, our changed position with regard to neutrality.

Howard County Agent Completes Second Year's Work With Clubs

Howard county home demonstration agent, Lora Farnsworth, has been around the past year, according to the speedometer on her car which registers 8,458 miles traveled in the county on official duty. Since Sept. 10 a year ago, she has called at 232 farm homes, spent 238 days in the field and 55 in the office and approximately 614 persons have called at her office during the year for information pertaining to home demonstration work.

MISS LORA FARNSWORTH

Saturday, Miss Farnsworth completed her second year as home agent of Howard county. On the anniversary of her arrival in the county, she gave a resume of the work being done by the 4-H girls and home demonstration clubs this year.

Major demonstrations being established by the club women are bedroom improvement and poultry demonstrations which will not be completed until Jan. 1, 1933. Miss Farnsworth explained that each club has a bedroom demonstrator who makes all of the needed improvements on a model room which is displayed in the fall at an achievement program. Other club members have certain bedroom goals to achieve which are set up by a yearbook committee working with the home agent.

Other Demonstrators
Every club also has a poultry demonstrator whose goal it is to work toward more efficient methods in the production of poultry and poultry products through the use of well bred stock.

Miss Farnsworth says the demonstrators are given individual help by the agent and they in turn give out information to other club members at special programs and demonstrations.

Some of the club programs this year in bedroom improvement included selection and arrangement of furniture, dresser scarf finishes, repair and refinish of furniture, quilt block chair cushions, dressing center, and bedroom accessories.

Poultry programs were planning the home poultry flock, growing baby chicks, care of growing pullets, handling and storage of eggs, making wire egg baskets and egg cooler, poultry disease clinic, culling poultry and selection of breeding stock, killing and dressing poultry and egg cookery.

Attend Other Meetings
The home agent reports that three women attended the Texas Home Demonstration association last fall in San Antonio, one 4-H girl attended a district rally in Midland, two 4-H girls were given trips to A. & M. Short Course this summer, five women were present for a recreation institute at Sweetwater and eight attended the A. & M. Short Course at College Station this summer.

The club women and girls are looking forward to achievement programs in all of the clubs in November, and a county-wide show of bedroom linens, comforts and bedspreads to be held the same month. One or two girls will be permitted to attend an educational encampment at Dallas during the state fair and five girls will go to a district club show in El Paso in October.

As extra activity, since last September, the women have sponsored a county-wide bedspread and comfort show, a district club show for girls, county-wide Christmas programs for women and girls, two county-wide parties this summer and an all-day meeting was held in July at the city park. Howard county club women also entertained delegates to the district meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration association in May, serving a fee luncheon to 250 guests.

A two-day encampment was held at the city park for 4-H club girls in August and a two-day encampment was conducted at Christoval for the women.

Miss Farnsworth has active clubs at Center Point, Chalk, Coahoma, Cramer, Fairview, Moore, Hilway, Knott, Luther, R-Bar, Vincent and Morgan.

Chattergrams

By Jeane Suits

The girls tell me that wrong-way filer has a captivating smile and that they'd go a long way to see him again. They kinda liked Charles Starrett's pearly-white teeth, too.

Whoopie—a breath of the Old West at last. Anyway, that's what I thought the other night when a tall, lanky figure boarded a bus wearing boots, 10-gallon, Is a 4, kerchiefs and all. At first the passengers thought he must be riding the bus because his horse had broken a leg. He settled down in a seat and reached for his shirt pocket (Now was our chance to see a real old timer deftly roll a cigarette with one hand). But when he lighted up a tailor-made rag, we knew his horse hadn't broken a leg and that he didn't know how to roll a cigarette. He had been home crossing this country.

Wherever he conceived of the idea of dressing as a cowboy, he failed to note one of the most outstanding characteristics of the old cowpuncher who probably would think "ready rolls" meant sour dough biscuits.

Department store windows are filled with tags for the college-going-gal—sweaters, skirts, sport hats and shoes, football gadgets and kerchiefs are all the rage for the campus. But the girls who are going to stay home would like to know what they are gonna wear.

How simple life would be if it weren't for your associates. If it weren't for your associates, you could spend after-office hours at home reading informative literature instead of going to dinner parties. And in case you did go, when the last course was served, you could stalk out and return home to listen to the radio and retire in peace.

If you had no pals or companions, you could keep all of the money you earn tabulated on the right side of a bank statement in place of loaning $20 to the business partner or ex-roommate. If you were void of friends, you could be happy when everybody else is sad. Without friends, you would never be asked to misrepresent facts or be enticed to take a drink or smoke.

Then on the other hand, without friends there would be no life—simple or otherwise.
