The first section of the regulations in question reads as follows: "Section 121A. Duty to Report Facts Concerning Registrants

—Pledge the President—
—W. S. S.—

Who are Idlers or Engaged in Certain Nonproductive Occupations or Employments. It shall hereafter be the duty of all persons connected with the administration of the Selective Service Law and Regulations, and of all citizens, to report to the nearest Local Board all facts which may come to their knowledge concerning registrants who are idle or who are engaged in any occupation or employment defined and described in these Regulations or any amendments thereof as nonproductive occupations or employments."

In the bulletin for next week, further excerpts from the Regulations will be given.

es. We reached back on our ability as a financier and conservator of raw material until the inventory was thoroughly dissected, and then we got balled up. An inquiry into the dishwashing was gone into very thoroughly and we discovered for the first time "soap" and "hot water" was used in this process. We always thought those things were only used in the bath room. We were asked How did you get the grease off the dishes? Grease The idea. An alibi was immediately established, as there was no such article in our "cook book"—just war crackers, boiled eggs and coffee—there was not an eye of grease anywhere.

—Pledge the President—

Bread is a sacred thing! The breaking of it from the most remote times spelled friendship and marriage and loyalty!

A day came when to a vast number of humankind BREAD came to have the dignity of a SACRAMENT.

It was a sacrament of PEACE. Now, in the din of thundering guns; in the flush of night with star-shells; in the crimsoning of soil with precious blood of young men who had scarcely stepped forth through the portals of life—it has again attained the dignity of a SACRAMENT, no alone amid glowing tapers, aromatic clouds of incense, environment where flowers, marble, music are upraised; but a SACRAMENT of Liberty and Freedom and Humanity in its finest, noblest sense.

As it crosses the lips of the little children of Belgium; as it adds strength to the fatigued women of France; as it arouses the war-weary bodies of the brave English, and the eager, high-strung Italians; it does function as a Sacred thing—a Sacrament.

And as a SACRAMENT the Food Administrator for Texas says:

"We are asked to go with less. We will do it.

"We must empty our granaries—and we will do it.

"We are asked to limit ourselves, even using less than six pounds a month—and we will do it.

"If we are asked to go without it altogether in order that the brave people of Europe, who are with us—BODY, MIND and SOUL—may pass through their AGONY, their Gethsemane—we will do it.

"AND WE WILL DO IT WITH A SMILE."

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stobaugh and little daughter motored to Brownwood Sunday. They were accompanied home by their daughters Misses Monita and Erin who had been visiting their uncle W. C. Stobaugh and family.

Presidential Proclamation calls for War Savings Pledges

By proclamation the President of the United States has authoritatively summoned all adult males and females to solemnly pledge to the Government the greatest amount they can save and invest in United States Government War Savings Stamps. They have been summoned to make their pledges between now and June 28, National War Savings Day.

at appointed places in their school districts June 28, National War Savings Day, and even though they have already made their pledges as they should have done, they are at these meetings to re-affirm their War Savings Stamp pledges to the President on the official Government pledge card which will be furnished them for that purpose.

to the County Chairman of the National War Savings Committee or to one of the local representatives of the National War Savings Committee, according to the instructions of the Treasury Department. In addition to notification by publication, every adult male and female will be authoritatively summoned through the mails to attend the June 28 meetings. Responsibility for attendance upon these meetings rests wholly upon the individual.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES—GREETING:

This war is one of nations—not of armies, and all of our one hundred million people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions if this nation is to play its full part in the conflict. The problem before us is not primarily a financial problem, but rather a problem of increased production of war essentials and the saving of the materials and the labor necessary for the support and equipment of our army and navy. Thoughtless expenditure of money for nonessentials uses up the labor of men, the products of farms, mines and factories and overburdens transportation, all of which must be used to the utmost and at their best for war purposes.

The great results which we seek can be obtained only by the participation of every member of the Nation, young and old, in a National concerted thrift movement. I therefore urge that our people everywhere pledge themselves as suggested by the Secretary of the Treasury to the practice of thrift; to serve the Government to their utmost in increasing production in all fields necessary to the winning of the war; to conserve food and fuel and useful materials of every kind; to devote their labor only to the most necessary tasks, and to buy only those things which are essential to individual health and efficiency, and that the people, as an evidence of their loyalty, invest all they can in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps.

The securities issued by the Treasury Department are so many of them within the reach of everyone that the door of opportunity in this matter is wide open to all of us. To practice thrift in peace times is a virtue and brings great benefit to the individual at all times; with the desperate need of the civilized world today for materials and labor with which to end the war, the practice of individual thrift is a patriotic duty and a necessity.

I appeal to all who now own either Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps to continue to practice economy and thrift and to appeal to all who do not own Government securities to do likewise and purchase them to the extent of their means. The man who buys Government securities transfers the purchasing power of his money to the United States Government until after this war, and to that same degree does not buy in competition with the Government.

I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before the 28th of June to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the Government, and to do this as far as possible through membership in War Savings Societies. The 28th of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day.

—Pledge the President—

The rigid examination that a "summer widower" has to undergo on the return of his better-half would make a Jiggs-Maggie Conversation look like it had been to Dinty Moore's. The first question was, "How have you been getting along?" Our answer was, but should not have been, just fine, for if there is anything in the world a woman knows is that a man cannot engineer a household—then she wants to know if she has been missed. The next question or exclamation, was asked and answered in the same breath. "Why didn't you make up the bed this morning? (she got in a day early) I'll bet you didn't 'make up' the bed nor sweep the floor while I was gone—just like a man." We are a dead game sport, but have always made it a rule in life never to bet on a three-shell game nor any other kind of a cinch game. All bets were declared off. As for "making up the bed" we didn't think anybody but the ladies "made up" and the actors on the stage. As happy Hooligan would say we thanked her for those familiar "woids"—just like a man. They were so homelike. The next interrogatory in the testimony was where we thought we were going to shine and make a home-run "How much has your expenses been? We had each article itemized and memorized viz: Four bits worth of sugar, with good healthy balance, "only one and a half teaspoonfulls to the cup" three boxes war crackers, 30 cents stock exhausted, and seventy cents worth of match-

 Russell—Bryant

A Wedding not altogether a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties, took place in San Antonio, Texas, Saturday June 1st, when Miss Ruth Russell of our city became the bride of Mr. Homer Bryant. The bride was reared in San Saba and is a most estimable young lady and is beloved by all who know her. The groom at one time made his home here and has many friends here, he is now in the Engineering Corps which started for somewhere in France about the 5th of June. We join their many friends in wishing for them all good things in life.

Telegraphy For Young Women
 As Well As Men

Knowledge of Telegraphy and skill in its use makes a man valuable in many lines today. The large numbers of experienced operators drafted and volunteering for service in the army ranks as well as in the signal corps have drawn heavily from the telegraph operators and have left many vacancies in the railroad and telegraph offices. Likewise, many have been diverted from entering these offices as operators, thus cutting the normal supply of operators, which have always been available to fill the usual vacancies. This sudden and steady increase in vacant positions and the alarming shortage in operators to fill them has drawn from the commercial schools every advanced student. The Tyler Commercial College is placing their operators in responsible positions beginning at $75.00 and more, with a general increase in salary now in prospect all over the United States, this increase to be largest for beginners. The Tyler Commercial College is visited personally by officials of different railroads and is asked to supply many more operators than is possible. Mr. Loutz, Supt. Middle Division, Santa Fe Railroad, in a visit to the school, recently asked for six of our graduates in telegraphy and requested that we send more later if possible. We could not refer him to even six who did not have other positions already in view, and may not be able to send any more later. In fact, M. P. F. Frenger, Supt. Tel., Union Pacific R. R., came in person to visit our school and wrote us, "We can use all you can send of such high class students as you have sent us heretofore."

The St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co., whose general offices and shops are located at Tyler, Texas, give us, their strong endorsement and hearty support. We have a main line train, wire over which our students can get the operators messages just as they come to the offices of this great railroad. We are allowed to use every blank, form, report book, etc., used in railroad telegraphy and station work just as this great railroad uses them, as well as all the blanks, record books, rate books and sheets of the Western Union Co. Mr. R. D. Cobb, Aud. St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co., says: "There is a shortage of clerical help, particularly at large freight and ticket stations, and any young man or woman proficient in railroad clerical work will, no doubt, find it easy to obtain employment on the railroads both in Texas and elsewhere, as similar conditions prevail through the entire country." Mr. W. J. Williams, Supt. Telegraph of the same road gave us a good recommendation. With the support of this great railroad, we have built up an excellent school of telegraphy and station work, teaching under their direction everything their operators need to know and use: Fill in and mail for free catalogue. A good position is awaiting you.

Red Cross Announcements

When the war is over and your son, (or it may be your neighbor son, for that matter) with an empty sleeve and sits down to tell you all about it, the conversation may run something like this: Son tell me how you were wounded? It was during one of those fierce battles on the western front which you read about in the papers. I was in the very thick of the fight. The command came to go over the top, and along with the whole company I went. While we were on No Mans Land, many of our company fell, some dead, some wounded. A machine gun fire struck my arm and shattered the bones. I dropped in a shell hole and stayed there two days. It was early morning when I was hit. The blood flowed until I was weakened down. I tried to bind it up with my good hand the best I could. The first night they failed to find me. The fighting continued most all night. The next day the rifle shots and bombs whizzed over me but I was too near exhausted to be very sensible of the carnage about me. I was so weak and hungry. My arm was sore and the sun was hot. Toward night the fighting ceased and as soon as darkness came they made a diligent search for the wounded and located me about ten o'clock. They took me to the hospital and gave me something to eat. I do not know much about what went on for the first few days. But when I come to myself they had removed my arm and had dressed the wound, and were doing all that tender nurses and skillful doctors could do. I was very low for weeks. Then I began to get better. I might be here even now. I do not regret being wounded. I cheerfully bore it all even when I did not think I would ever get out of that hole. I did not resent it for our cause was a just one and I was not ashamed to die for it. "But mother, there was one thing that I did not really enjoy. There was no necessity for it in the first place. And that was that there were not sufficient bed-shirts and bandages for me to have a change as often as I needed it. The nurses were not to blame, I knew that. They would have given me a change every day if they could. The trouble was there were not enough supplied. It was what prolonged my sickness and brought me so near death's door. As I lay there I could not keep from wondering if the people were doing their whole duty at home. You see there were thousands of wounded at the same time. It did seem that when we had bared our breasts to the enemy's gun for the sake of home and country that the people at home could have provided the necessities for our wounded and sick. "Mother did you do your full duty in the Red Cross work?" "No son, I er—er—I was not very well a good deal of the time. Well I was not to say sick, but it was so hot—and I did not think about it being so bad as that. There was a good deal of work done here. Some of the ladies worked hard. If I had had thought about it being so bad as you tell it, I guess I could have done more. "Well mother I certainly did suffer on account of somebody's neglect." Who is that embarrassed woman? Does she really live at San Saba? My dear woman, if you are not doing your full duty in the Red Cross work. Your neighbors are reading this and thinking of you and applying it to you.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.—The Corner Drug Store.

Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the mean time use most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.—For sale by the Corner Drug Store.

TO OWNERS OF FORD CARS

In keeping with the policy and to comply with the requirements of the Ford Motor Co's Contract, beginning from date I will Operate a Strictly Ford Service Station.

As soon as practical I will publish the prices of all repair operations, in other words when you come here, you will be told what the price of your job will cost before the job is begun and you will know exactly what to expect.

The prices used are prepared by the Ford Motor Co. and are in use in every Ford Service Station throughout the United States.

Nothing but Genuine Ford Parts will be used.

You will receive credit for all connecting rods, main bearings, hub flanges, magnetos, axle housings, coils motor locks when replacements are necessary (provided the parts taken from your car are genuine Ford parts, no imitation parts accepted for credit.) In this connection I will add that there is quite a large quantity of imitation parts being sold in the country, they are of poor quality and cars are damaged in repair shop. Many repair men use Ford parts without think of using a spurious part on any other make of cars because they think a Ford will work any way. It will pay you to keep your car repaired with the parts that the Ford Motor Co. make, and many of these parts when worn are good for half their cost after serving you.

I expect to give my personal attention to the shop. If I have ever worked on your car, you know whether I can fix them or not.

Yours truly,
 Elton Noble

Candidate for Congress
 17th Congressional District

In announcing as a candidate for Congress in this 17th District, I promise the people, if elected to stand by the President in his work to win the war, and support all measures that will strengthen our forces abroad and increase our productivity at home.

When this war is over and victory is ours, and the world has been made safe for democracy, I believe that our boys who return, should be given assurance of our appreciation for their valor; therefore I will work and vote for such laws as will reclaim our arid lands, and will favor giving to our returning soldiers, lands reclaimed by our government upon which to build homes.

All labor is honorable and those who toil in the shops, factories, railroads and farms are justly entitled to have their rights and grievances adjusted, without depriving them of any of their rights. Therefore, I will favor and support a measure for a National Board of Arbitration to the end that differences between labor and capital may be justly arbitrated and settled.

I am in favor of such legislation as will restrict and limit foreign emigration and the alien ownership of property.

WEALTH THAT WORKS

Money saved and deposited in a bank is wealth that works. Wealth that works is capital. Unlike brain and muscle, it does not wear out or deteriorate. It grows and improves. The only gain from labor is what is saved. Labor, therefore, makes wealth and when wealth works it is capital. Savings bring independence. Capital at work pays wages, which when saved, creates more capital. Labor is the producer when labor saves. Take care of your money while you are young and it will take care of you when you are old.
