The little city of Rochester, Minn., exemplifies the mousetrap theory of success—that is, if you make a better mousetrap than your neighbor, the world will make a beaten path to your door though your factory be located in a wilderness.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—It's like this. She just put out her hand and a silver dollar dropped into it. It was most mystifying to Mrs. Florence Lennon, of Boulder, Colorado, who is a guest in New York.

The man, whose name was Rene Levy, exhaled in relief, "It's mine," he said. "To you it is only a dollar, but to me it is everything. It's the first dollar I ever earned. I was up on the eighteenth floor, tapping with it on the mail box, and it slipped down the chute."

An old favorite in New York is that outrageously disproportionate map of the United States which is titled "A New Yorker's Conception of America." The state of Texas on this map has shrunk to the size of a pea.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—A few hours after Senate big sticks had persuaded the President that he could not have the arms embargo act repealed this session, Ambassador Joe Davies spread out a map of Europe before several senators and gave them the jitters.

In his way the ambassador is something of a dramatist. From his listening post in Belgium he had gathered much information in recent troop concentrations. He placed it impressively on the map.

ON THE CALENDAR: The administration was badly upset by the failure to get the Senate to act on the repeal of the arms embargo. Such figures as Borah of Idaho and Johnson of Idaho, who had a hand in stymieing the repeal, think there is more administration yammering about the danger of war and American involvement than the situation deserves.

WHAT IS NEUTRALITY? For the Government to make such a change of front as to repeal an embargo during the actual progress of war might be considered a frightfully unneutral act justifying a protest from Germany or Italy, the countries most likely to be hurt in such circumstances.

HOLLYWOOD—The United States Senate chamber has been invaded only once by a motion picture camera. Some years ago a writer of educational books decided to make some education films showing government at work. He received permission to "set up" in the sacred precincts.

Pioneers Open Three-Game Stand

L'I'L YANX ARE ROUTED IN TWO GAMES SUNDAY

By HANK HART

Determined to get back into the win column if it takes all summer, Tony Rego's Big Spring Barons returned home tonight to open a week's stay in their own plant against the Clovis Pioneers. Ladies night is to be featured.

Despite an improvement in play, the L'I' Yanx played through their tenth game without having found out how to drop a double feature with the Lamesa Lobos. Using three fingers in the opener, they were edged, 6-5, as Lefty Lucas throttled a ninth inning uprising, then failed to give Jodie Marek any willow support in fading in the afterpiece, 2-0.

Jodie Tate, Lamesa skipper, had plenty of southpaws to chuck against the Big Springers. Lefty Millspaugh received credit for the initial victory despite the fact that he could not finish. Paul Reeves, a reformed gardener, limited the Barons gunners to three scattered hits in blanking them in the nightcap.

Two homers
Emmett Fullenwider of the Lobos and Big Spring's Pat Stacey founded out homers in the initial clash. Fullenwider's blow started the Lamesans on their way to a four-run outbreak in the second round, an uprising that saw Dick Conover chased from the hill, while Stacey's two-run wallop came in the fifth. It was his 22nd round tripper of the semester.

Conover, who showed to advantage in the first heat, chucked the job to Clarence Trantham who was definitely "hot" the five odd rounds he labored. "Levi" was jerked for a pinch hitter in the eighth and "Killer" Gigli closed shop.

Ossie Bates provided the game winning runs in the fifth round when he tripled with Sammy Malvia and Fullenwider up front. Stacey, patrolling the left garden a shooting star of the drive but the apple peeled under him.

Tex Walton, who had doubled home Trantham for the Big Springers' first run in the third, started the move against Millspaugh in the final inning by gaining a gratis ticket to first. Stacey's long fly was taken by Fullenwider near the center field fence, but Billy Capps singled the ball to Walton to third and Baron skipper never surrenders a point if a question arises.

His courageous stand should prove an impetus for a new consideration and a new understanding between the boys in blue and the skippers.

Rego returned home with the promise that new help was on the way here from El Paso. Two righthanded flingers, along with an outfielder, are coming here from El Paso.

The Barons' string of reversals (nine), set up a new mark in league play.

And still Tate won't throw Red Hay, the righthander, in there against the Barons.

Rego Chased
The Barons had to work without Rego in the seven inning job. The little skipper was chased as early as the first round by Arbitr Buster Capps after the two had exchanged heated words. Capps accused Rego was stalling. The pilot was strong-armed outside the park and watched the remainder of the game from the outside.

Marek pitched good ball for the Barons but his mates couldn't find the range on Reeves.

The Lobos tallied their runs in the fifth when Reeves doubled Archibald across, then romped home on Happy Spangler's three-bagger.

Rebels Regain Lost Ground

The Dallas Rebels turned with renewed hope today to their struggle with the Houston Buffs for position behind those current pacemakers of the Texas league, the San Antonio Missions.

Two sterling 1-0 victories in a doubleheader opened a four game series yesterday pushed the Rebels within two and one-half games of the Buffs' second place.

The Oklahoma City Indians, despite four home runs, were able to do no better than split a doubleheader with San Antonio, winning the first 8-4 and dropping the second 5-3.

Shreveport's power was too much for Fort Worth and the Sports won 4-3.

The Tulsa Oilers bagged a twin bill from Beaumont 5-2 and 6-0.

Shreveport's win sent the Sports into a tie for fourth and fifth places with Fort Worth.

McNEILL IS TOSSED BY PARKER

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Headed by the defending champion, Bobby Riggs, and the newly-crowned Seabright titleholder, Frankie Parker, America's major league tennis players moved today to the annual Southampton invitation tournament.

Neither Parker nor McNeill planned to compete in the singles here, but said they would pair in doubles play. They won the Seabright doubles yesterday by beating Gene Malo and Wayne Sablin, 6-1, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

The women stars will play this week in the Maldstone club invitation tourney at nearby East Hampton. Alice Marble, competing in singles for the first time since her return from her Wimbledon triumphs, heads the list which includes Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Sarah Pauline Fabryan and other top-flight stars.

Parker played machine-like tennis yesterday at Seabright, outlasting seven years of competition there with his first victory at Wimbledon was no fluke; for Parker, although he was not expected to play in the singles, it was a chance for him to continue the brand of tennis that may place him on the Davis Cup team again.

Bronson New Matchmaker In Gotham

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Local boxing circles were astounded over the weekend by the abrupt announcement Jimmie Bronson, a product of Joplin, Mo., had been appointed matchmaker for the Bronx coliseum, the second largest fight arena in this city.

For years Bronson has been a sort of show-people of the boxing industry. Men have pointed him out as he stood quietly in the lobby of Madison Square Garden, perhaps, and told wide-eyed visitors they were looking at an honest prize-fight manager.

For 35 years he's been in a business that is pretty soiled around the edges, and yet, somehow, has managed to keep himself clean and fresh.

Always when a vacancy cropped up on the state athletic commission in past years there would be much talk about rewarding Bronson for his service to boxing, yet nothing ever came of it. His friends were beginning to wonder if, after all, Bronson hadn't been too doggone honest for his own good.

So this came as a pleasant surprise to practically everybody, including Jimmie, when a new outfit took over the big shed in the Bronx and chose the dapper little man to run the works. It means that Bronson can go on being honest to his heart's content, and get paid for it, too.

Rival managers told some amazing tales about him—how he would advise a boy to give up boxing and make him go back home to Georgia or Arizona, even though the kid was fighting regularly and helping to provide side meat for the Bronson table. Jimmie would do it just because he decided in his own mind the kid would never be a champion and that if he continued to fight he would only wind up punch-drunk and broke.

A thing like that is, of course, against all ethics of the fight managers' guild. But there probably are some fellows around the country, making good in legitimate business these days, who are glad Jimmie sent them home.

DICK METZ WINS AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31 (AP)—Looking at Dick Metz's score in the $7,500 St. Paul Open gold tournament today, you get the idea the game is a very simple pastime after all.

Just hit them down the middle, on the green in two on the par 4's, in one on the par 5's, in three, and occasionally two, on the par 3's and never more than two putts and what do you have? Well Metz had 270 strokes, which was 18 under par and won first place, as well as $1,600, in the three-day tournament ending Sunday.

But before you relax, satisfied that golf is a push-over, it might be best to contemplate that the Chicago professional's four rounds of 68-66-68-68 broke Harry Cooper's four-year-old record for the open here by a stroke and established the lowest score carded this year in a professional golfer's tournament.

Also it was five strokes ahead of second-place Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., the PGA champion, who collected $1,050. This kept Picard at the top of the year's money winners with $9,227 but Metz rushed into second place with $5,223, displacing Bryon Nelson, Reading, Pa., the National and Western Open champion, who ended up in a tie for 10th and 11th places with Ernie Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., at $21. They each won $205.

Mexican Official Is Shot To Death

TUMA, Ariz., July 31 (AP)—James Lioja, 50, chief of police and acting mayor of San Luis, Sonora, Mex., south of here was shot to death and his slayer and two bystanders were wounded shortly before midnight Saturday on the eve of a city election, it was learned today.

Alfredo Herrera, a policeman, said Navarre's assassin was Elgo Matos Navarro, his opponent in the election, who was defeated by Lioja two years ago.

Herrera shot Navarro in the back as he fled from the scene.

The officer said Navarro shot Matos four times through the chest as Matos tried to reason with him. Two of the bullets passed through the body one striking Alejandro Barrozo, 27, in the back and the other hitting Pedro Jimenez, 38, a farmer, in the foot.

The wounded were removed to Yuma county general hospital. The shootings were witnessed by many Americans, the International club in San Luis being a favorite amusement center for tourists.

TEXAS MINISTER DIES IN TENN.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 31 (AP)—The Rev. M. T. Andrews, 70, retired Baptist minister associated with Baylor university in Texas to raise funds for a Bible building, died today of a heart ailment.

Dr. Andrews suffered an attack last Friday while returning to Texas from the Baptist World Alliance Congress at Atlanta. He died at the home of a sister-in-law.

Dr. Andrews resigned the pastorate of First Baptist church in Hillsboro and Temple, Tex., and in Louisiana. He was a trustee of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville.

CHARGED AFTER MARRIAGE TO 12-YEAR-OLD

HILLSBORO, July 31 (AP)—E. R. Kerley, 23, of Hickory Flat community, who married 12-year-old Wanda Gilmore Friday night, was charged with abduction in a complaint filed by her father, Jess Gilmore.

Kerley was released on $1,000 bond. Gilmore said he would seek annulment of the marriage.

SENSE OF HUMOR

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 31 (AP)—The crowd gathered at the scene of a bad automobile wreck here and hampered the police in their rescue work.

A voice from the bottom of the ditch kept saying, "Hey up there, lemme out of here. I'm smothering."

The crowd got out of the way and tried to find out where that voice was coming from.

By the time the injured had been put in ambulances, the light finally dawned. It was a ventriloquist.

The ventriloquist was not identified, either. Slick, that fellow.

Grand Prize Loses

WACO, July 31 (AP)—Wortham and Waco Textile clash tonight in the state semi-pro baseball tournament here with the winner to go against Grand Prize of Houston tomorrow.

Mount Pleasant remained in the running yesterday with a 9-6 win over Broken-Up of Austin; the undefeated Waco Dons beat Grand Prize 7-0, and Baytown Oilers crushed Temple's Deikers 11-4.

The Dons and South Texas Investors, only undefeated teams in the meet, clash Wednesday night.

Layden Far In Lead

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—Football fans of the nation continued to pile up a big margin today for Notre Dame's Elmer Layden in the poll to select a coach to lead the college all-stars against the New York pro Glants in Soldier Field August 30.

The coach receiving the largest number of votes will head the staff of five coaches.

Sectional leaders in the poll included:

South—Robert Neyland, Tennessee, 203,132; Leo Meyer, Texas Christian, 47,321.

Congress

000 of public works advances. Speaker Bankhead told his press conference meanwhile the date when congress quills for this session is "still conjectural."

The speaker said he favored "consideration and passage of both the housing and leading bills but I don't know what's going to happen in the house."

Both the senate and the house banking committees punched big holes in the lending bill last week, but Senator Barkley (D-Ky), the majority leader, and Speaker Bankhead told reporters they saw no reason to drop the battle for its enactment in some form.

After Mr. Roosevelt's return to the White House today from a weekend fishing trip, the senate and house leaders were expected to report they would stand behind him for a showdown on the lending plan.

Lowrimore

that they were available to the defense and to the public at the city hall.

Thomas countered that until the state was produced that "you haven't proved the records."

"We'll try to do it to suit your entire satisfaction," said the district attorney.

"You will have to prove that those entries were false," replied Thomas. When Justice Heffey overruled Thomas' motion, he said that "I'm sorry they don't want to show them. I hate to proceed under the ruling."

He said that he wanted to have them (the state) in court under oath and sworn to.

In further cross-examination, Whitely said that a daily check was made on receipts against returns, that there had never been a variance from true balance of but a few cents. He added that the ledger showed that he did not know all customers had been given credit for payment of water accounts.

Stewart testified that the total on his adding machine tape taken from state and from the ledger did not fit with those run by Lowrimore.

After Thomas asked where the falsification occurred, Stewart replied that "credits were in excess of cash. I x x Credits in excess (in the ledger) are not on the daily receipts (cash book)."

"How do you know that the customer paid Lowrimore that money," queried Thomas. Stewart said that the record kept by Lowrimore showed the money in question was posted.

The auditor said he had made a complete check of all water ledgers and at the request of the committee had made a complete audit of all receipts and disbursements in all departments since the end of the fiscal year, March 31.

Both Whitely and Stewart testified that revenues from water accounts went into a central cash drawer along with tax money, and other receipts.

The defense raised the question if the water run bills or state in question were issued by the defendant. Stewart said it was impossible to tell, but that this was reflected in the ledger. Again Thomas questioned the ledger as "secondary evidence."

Heffey recessed the hearing shortly before noon and said it should be resumed at 1:30 p. m. The defense attorney requested he please do check the state during the noon hour. According to the defense was George Thomas, Thomas J. Collins, city attorney, called Mr. Donald for the state.

GUARD ARRESTED
LONDON, July 31 (AP)—The warden here through a heavy infantry guard arrested Wednesday afternoon Britain's biggest industrial spy-master, a specialist in atomic espionage, by members of the notorious Irish Republican Army.

Throng

that dispute were deadlocked anew.

(Informed quarters in London expressed fear the talks, in which Britain already had acknowledged "special requirements" for Japanese forces in territory under Japanese control in China, were headed for a breakdown.)

The conference reached a deadlock Saturday on Japanese insistence Britain agree to surrender of $5,000,000 Chinese dollars (about $3,883,000) deposited in banks in the British and French concessions at Tientsin—money of the Central Chinese government for its war against Japan.

Japan's demand the money be turned over to the Japanese-sponsored Peiping government which has outlawed the Chinese currency in North China and is trying to replace it with its own banknotes.

A subcommittee was to have met today to discuss this question but the session was canceled for some undisclosed reason and a general meeting of the conference set for this afternoon.

Another factor in the reported deadlock was Japanese insistence on British support for the new North China currency and on withdrawal of British support for the Central Chinese currency.

After the two stormy mass meetings where speakers shouted new charges against the British, parades formed and the demonstrators poured toward the embassy grounds but were kept at a distance from the gates and wall by a ring of policemen.

There were no untoward incidents and the crowd made no serious effort to break through the police line.

PRICE PLACED ON FUGITIVE'S HEAD

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—In a sweeping drive to dry up the hide-away finances of Louis ("Gepha") Buchalter, described by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey as "the most dangerous industrial racketeer in the United States," the July grand jury today subpoenaed more than 50 officials in the garment and bakery industries only dominated by the fugitive gangster.

The subpoenas directed the officials to bring their books and records for scrutiny by Dewey's aides in an effort to find out if any payments have been made to Lepus, now the object of a concerted manhunt.

Assistant District Attorney Murray I. Gurkin, head of the racketeer squad, said an intensive investigation was underway to trace the whereabouts of Lepus' finances.

Meanwhile, an Federal, state and city authorities intensified the hunt as the result of the "bookie" industry reporter last week of Lepus' whereabouts.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—There were scattered strong spots in today's stock market but the list, as a whole, displayed considerable reluctance toward putting a rallying foot forward.

Price shifts in either direction were frequent throughout the generally dreary proceedings.

Part of the hesitancy was attributed to possibility the leading battle in congress would postpone adjournment of the legislative body, Wall Street, it seems, is always a bit touchy until the lawmakers close up shop and go home and thus preclude passage of the bills which might not be to the liking of the financial district.

Business news continued encouraging, but some thought was given to the idea stocks may have filled the so-called gap between prices and the industrial upswing. Traders had no particular liking for affairs in the Far East, although it was doubtful if foreign developments had any marked effect on speculative sentiment.

Beaten Couple Identified

HOUSTON, July 31 (AP)—Beaten about the head, the body of a woman and her unconscious husband, identified by police as Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Treadway of Houston, were found in a trailer car on the outskirts of town today.

Police said the woman apparently had been beaten with a blunt instrument. The body was in bed. Treadway was lying on the trailer car floor.

Physicians said he had but a slight chance to recover.

Identification of the woman was established through a letter from a sister in San Antonio. The man was identified by a social security card. He had been employed as a gas meter setter along a railroad right-of-way.

Police identified Captain George Peyton said apparently the attack occurred about midnight.

Darlene, Mr. Callen, I'll have William get your things."

It was Philip Callen! Philip Callen, with a twinkle in his eye and a challenging strength in his arm was saying, "If my girl wants me to, I should like to see you." All permission seemed to be well in the hands of Philip Callen. Cecily found herself being gently whisked out of the drawing-room onto the porch. Out of doors she hastily led the way to the tea-house in the garden, anxious to be out of hearing.

She didn't sit down. She hadn't come for an exchange of pleasantries. "Well!" she said. Philip Callen lounged easily against the framework of the door when she refused the chair he indicated. He offered her his cigarette case and regarded her with a steady gaze.

"When she didn't answer at once he continued. "The situation in trigonometry. It plagues my interest and as an ... er ... as a writer, I like to see it through. Neither we has anything to lose if you don't act like a good sport."

TROOPS TO STOP HERE NEXT WEEK

Two thousand troops, en route to the "streamline" maneuvers at Camp Bullis, near San Antonio, will make an overnight stop here next week, army officials advised Monday.

Capt. G. W. Marvin of the Second Engineers at Fort Logan, Colorado, E. V. Spence, city manager, said his contingent of three companies—300 men—would arrive here the afternoon of Aug. 1. They will camp at the community center in the park and leave early the next morning.

Jess Slaughter was notified Monday that the 30th Infantry, numbering 1,700 men and officers, would be here Aug. 5 for an overnight stop. Capt. S. E. Fuina, captain in the 30th Infantry stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, near Cheyenne, told Slaughter that he would be here with an advance party on Aug. 7 to round out arrangements for using the rodeo grounds.

Both the engineers and infantry are due to arrive in Big Spring considerably earlier than was originally planned. They will use Big Spring as a stopping point on their return to their posts about a month later.

GABLE FOILS ROBBERY IN OWN HOME

VAN NUYS, Calif., July 31 (AP)—Clark Gable displayed some of the masculinity for which he is famed when he rescued his own life today when he overpowered and disarmed an 18-year-old youth who entered his home.

Detective L. C. Chamberlain reported the youth, William J. Rusk, a Polish immigrant, slipped into the Gable residence, obtained an antique gun from among Gable's trophies and surprised the actor when he went into the bathroom.

When reported the youth was brandishing a handgun.

The report of police stated simply that Gable "overpowered" the suspect and held him until he was captured.

Reds Sure Of Flag, Opine Cincy Fans

By BILL WHITE Associated Press Sports Writer Business not! There's liable to be a whopping building boom in Cincinnati late next month.

The way baseball hysteria is mounting as their favorite Reds skyrocket towards their first title since 1919, those enthusiastic Ohioans are a cinch to tear down the town when the championship's finally clinched.

For years National league fans have boasted of the tight races in their circuit but the Reds are making hash out of that story this year. Latest evidence is found in today's standings which show the Reds 12 games in front. Even the Yanks aren't that far ahead.

Yesterday the Reds won their third consecutive doubleheader. Bucky Walters took his 18th victory by 9-8 and Billy Myers clouted a four-run ninth inning homer for a 5-1 decision in the second of two games with the Phillies.

The three-cornered second place race kept up its dizzy whirl. The St. Louis Cardinals managed to sneak into second place by winning from the Brooklyn Dodgers twice by identical 5-2 scores.

The Pittsburgh Pirates lost the first game of a twin bill by 7-5 to the Boston Bees and were trailing 5-3 when the Sunday 6 o'clock law stopped the afterpiece.

And the Chicago Cubs didn't fare much better than the Pirates, largely because "Old Square Pants"—Carl Hubbell of the Giants—was busy holding them to a handful of hits and winning his fourth of the year, 3-1.

In the American league, the Yankees split a double bill with the Chicago White Sox as George Selkirk pounded out two homers to win the opener, 4-3 and Thornton Lee beat the New Yorkers 5-1 with a seven-hitter in the nightcap.

MISS LANEIOUS NOTES

The nicest part of starting on a new month, outside of the fact that it's another 30 or 31 days in which anything might happen and something usually does, is the fact that you get to tear off the month from the calendar and look at a new picture or advertisement.

Depending on the calendar you have, of course, there are pictures of the product advertised or reading matter explaining its good qualities. The one that I stare at for the allotted number of days tells in bold type of the miracles of a certain kind of type used in newspaper printing.

Ex-Strikebreak King Now Broke NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—A police report sheet today recorded decline and fall of Peter De Vito, schoolboy pal of Al Capone and once rated by U. S. Attorneys as "the biggest racketeer in the strike-breaking business."

De Vito made $50,000 in five weeks that year breaking strikes, federal investigators said. But in 1931 the government seized him on income tax charges. He was acquitted, but was rearrested in court on a charge of carrying an unlicensed gun. He got off again, only to be arrested on another income tax charge. This time he was convicted.

He got a suspended sentence, but the notoriety finished him as a strikebreaker king. He dropped out of sight until yesterday. Picked up on a charge of knifing his brother-in-law in a family row, he had two nickels in his pocket, wore shabby clothes and a three-day beard.

For the last two years, police found, he had been washing dishes in a restaurant for a bed and meals. In the lockup he collapsed—of malnutrition. "When I had it," he mumbled, "I took care of everyone. Now that I'm broke, no one will help me."
