

Neutrality Issue Dropped Until A 'Crisis' Develops

Special Session Would Be Necessary; Roosevelt, Persuaded To Quit Fight, May Put Question Before People

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—A White House aide said today President Roosevelt would have to call a special session of congress to act on neutrality legislation should a crisis develop in Europe after adjournment.

The statement came from Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary.

When asked whether the president was going to take the neutrality issue to the country, Early replied:

"I'm certain of one thing, that from the time congress adjourns until it reconvenes in January, the president will pray as never before in all his life that there will be no new crisis in Europe."

The president reluctantly accepted last night the advice of senate leaders that he should abandon hope of obtaining neutrality revision—principally repeal of the arms embargo—this session but there were strong indications that from now until the issue arises at the start of the next session he will take his fight for repeal directly to the people.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee, who attended the conference last night, said he did not think any fight Mr. Roosevelt might make would take the form of President Wilson's famous campaign for the league of nations.

Mr. Wilson stumped the nation for support of the league.

"On the other hand," Pittman said, "it would be quite natural for him in any speeches he might make in regard to the general welfare to express his position with regard to neutrality legislation."

Some senators said that should the president carry his side of the controversy to the people they would be prompt to accept the challenge.

Early said he was in doubt whether the president would tell the nation his neutrality views on his forthcoming trip to the Pacific Coast.

The reason for his doubt, Early said, was that Senate Democratic Leader Barkley and Republican Leader McNary, "have told the country responsibility for not enacting any neutrality legislation is the senate's as a body."

Early said information provided by the foreign service indicated possibility there would be some crisis before the regular time for congress to reconvene next January.

Mr. Roosevelt was represented as prepared to take his fight for repeal of the arms embargo to the country.

The president left this definite impression with a group which gathered around him last night at the White House, discussed the international situation, and finally persuaded him and Secretary Hull congress has no disposition to spend a month or more debating neutrality legislation.

After arguing the senate's failure to act would weaken the United States' influence in preserving world peace, the president broke up the extraordinary three-hour conference just before midnight.

The democratic and republican chiefs who attended said there was a definite understanding there would be no senate move on neutrality until the next session. An adjournment of congress is expected in two or three weeks.

The final decision to abandon efforts to revise the law at this session was said to have been brought about by an informal poll of those present, taken by Vice President Garner.

Besides the president, Garner, Hull, and Borah, those who attended the conference were Democratic Leader Barkley, Republican Leader McNary, Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Austin (R-Vt.), assistant minority leader.

TEXAS TWINS APPEAR AGAINST PITTSBURGH HOTEL ROBBER

PITTSBURGH, July 19 (AP)—Jeannette and Annette Tucker, pretty 16-year-old twins from Winters, Texas, came to police court today wearing boots, shorts and sombreroes to appear against a Pittsburgh man charged with ransacking hotel rooms of Lions club convention delegates.

The twins identified a necklace stolen from their room and found later, police charged, in the possession of William Dehaas. He was held for court on a burglary charge.

Most of the Texas delegates wear sombreroes.

Federal Jury Told To Probe WPA Strike

Atty. General Murphy Orders In Action In Minneapolis

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Attorney General Murphy today ordered a federal grand jury investigation of the Minneapolis WPA strike situation.

F. B. I. Probe
He ordered it following an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Victor E. Anderson, United States district attorney at St. Paul, Minn., was directed to convene the grand jury.

"The FBI will continue its investigation and its findings will be presented to the grand jury," Murphy's announcement said.

"The grand jury will return indictments if, in its opinion, the facts warrant. The FBI information will be disclosed only to the grand jury."

Justice department officials have persistently refused to disclose what the FBI investigation of the past several days has uncovered in the Minneapolis WPA strike which last week resulted in two fatalities.

The new relief law forbids any person from keeping a man from work on the WPA if he is eligible and wants to work.

A justice department official said later the grand jury would look into charges non-strikers had been intimidated.

Minneapolis WPA workers made the most strenuous protest against abandonment of the prevailing wage scale. Skilled workers were angered at the new requirement that all on WPA put in 130 hours a month for a "security wage."

NEW TROUBLES

MINNEAPOLIS, July 19 (AP)—A strike of union workers here against the WPA appeared headed for new difficulties today despite an agreement last night between union leaders and government Harold Stassen for settlement of the dispute which led to two fatal riots last week.

The governor, at a conference with representatives of the workers' alliance, WPA unions, the CIO, AFL and affiliated unions, agreed to ask Washington to waive dismissal of some 5,000 workers here for walking off their projects, providing that: There be no picketing or other interference at projects.

Members of the Minneapolis building trades council give up all jobs on WPA projects and that vacated quotas be assigned to non-conflicting work.

The point of probable stalemate, however, appeared in a declaration by subordinates of Col. F. C. Harrington, national WPA administrator, that they would be "very much surprised" if he waived the dismissals. Under WPA rules, workers off projects for five days are discharged.

REFUSE TO REOPEN LOAN FIRM CASE

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—The supreme court today refused to reopen a case in which County Attorney Paul Holt of Travis county joined by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann had sought to put a number of loan companies in Austin out of business.

The tribunal overruled motions for rehearing and oral argument. Several weeks ago it, in effect, threw the case out of court on grounds there were no statutes upon which to prosecute.

In the original petition, Holt and Mann contended the companies charged excessive interest on small loans and used harsh tactics to collect.

JUAREZ ANGERED AS LIQUOR TAKEN AWAY

JUAREZ, Chih., Mex., July 19 (AP)—Governor Talamantes of Chihuahua was hooded today as Juarez staged an angry protest against taking away its hard liquor.

By order of the governor, all Juarez bars were closed last night in conformity with a decree of President Cardenas to curb the sale of liquor in industrial centers.

This Rio Grande city, border gay spot for years and prohibition oasis for thirsty Americans, was in a turmoil. Thousands lined up for a mass protest parade.

Calls Parley On Refugees

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt today invited officers of the 30 nation intergovernmental committee on refugees to meet at the White House in Washington to discuss the problem of finding homes for refugees from central Europe.

Announcement of the invitation was made after a meeting of the committee at the foreign office.

The committee, which has devoted its major efforts to assisting Jewish refugee emigration from Germany, was formed at a conference which met July 7, 1938, at Evian-les-Bains, France, at the instance of President Roosevelt.

MARRIAGE BRINGS RIOTING

Carmelo Locupria, 60, and his 16-year-old bride, the former Toralia Minichelli, smiled despite many troubles that followed their May-December marriage in New York. Police and firemen checked a crowd that tried to break up the wedding and later someone threw a stone through their apartment window, interrupting the wedding breakfast. Neighbors objected to the wedding because of the difference in age of the two.

CLUES SOUGHT IN TEXAN'S DEATH

HOLBROOK, Ariz., July 19 (AP)—Discovery that someone wearing high heel boots participated in the struggle in which Walter J. Dickson, 64, former Texas merchant, was fatally beaten complicated efforts of officers today to solve the mystery.

Dickson, who recently sold a small store near Spur, Texas, was en route to California in a 1933 Chevrolet sedan, towing a trailer, when he was attacked, with robbery apparently the motive.

Sheriff Dan Dibelbuss said the attack occurred about midnight Saturday. Dickson, unconscious and badly battered, was found yesterday, off U. S. Highway 66, near the Painted Desert country, and five miles from his automobile. He died in a Winslow, Ariz., hospital last night.

The mystery was heightened when Dibelbuss recalled that a on-legged cowboy, Labe Hitson, was clammed to death recently on the Jamieson ranch, in the vicinity of where Dickson was beaten, and then an automobile parts salesman disappeared several weeks ago after leaving Holbrook for Gallup, N. M.

Both cases still are unsolved. Dibelbuss reported evidence of a terrific struggle in a field about

Would Limit Spending Bill

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) informed the senate banking committee today he would offer an amendment eliminating the permanent revolving fund feature of President Roosevelt's $2,300,000,000 lending program.

This change, Barkley said, would confine the program to the total authorized in the bill and prevent its continued use year after year.

At the same time Barkley said among a number of amendments which would be offered when the committee considered the measure in executive session would be one to eliminate authority of various lending agencies to create corporations in the states.

With Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, on the witness stand, Barkley also submitted an amendment which would modify a proposal for government leasing of equipment to railroads.

Under this amendment the government would not have power to buy equipment built to its own design, but would be restricted to contracting with the carriers for leasing equipment built to

COUNTY SCHOLASTICS FEWER, STATE AID DOWN BY $3,000

School revenues from the state, per capita scholastic apportionment will be off by nearly $3,000 during the 1939-40, corrected census totals revealed Wednesday.

Anne Marita, county superintendent, announced the revised total as approved by the state department of education showed a total of 5,396 scholastics in Howard county. This was 132 less than the 5,528 for the 1938-39 school year.

At the currently approved $22.50 apportionment rate per scholastic, this means that the county will lose $2,970 by virtue of the census decline.

Bearing out a general state trend,

Leche Again Is Called Before Grand Jury

Inquiries, Meanwhile, Turn To Louisiana Oil Industry

BATON ROUGE, La., July 19 (AP)—Former Governor Richard W. Leche was recalled by the East Baton Rouge grand jury as a witness today for further questioning in connection with the investigation of Louisiana State university and other matters.

Documents Secret
Leche, nattily dressed and leaning heavily on a cane, appeared at the courthouse at 10 a. m., but did not go before the jury at once.

He carried a folder under his left arm. District Attorney Dewey J. Sanchez was asked by reporters if this contained cancelled checks and receipts, but Sanchez said he could not divulge what documents the grand jury had asked Leche to produce.

It will be Leche's second appearance before the jury. He was questioned for nearly three hours Monday then returned to his home in Covington, La.

Meanwhile, Louisiana's $100,000,000-a-year oil business, fourth largest of any state, was spotlighted in broadening federal and state inquiries.

A special investigator sent from Washington continued his "hot oil" study as State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell released a statement saying most drillers had to purchase machinery and supplies through a Houston, Texas, firm which got a 10 per cent commission.

The investigator was Clifford Howland, sent to New Orleans by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes. He left New Orleans, reportedly to begin his inquiry in Shreveport.

Tugwell, a candidate for governor in 1940, said "certain Louisiana firms dealing in oil well supplies, tanks and other equipment x x x are compelled to bill their sales" to operators through the company at Houston.

"No doing," he said, "the Louisiana dealers have to allow the company a discount of 10 per cent on all such sales and deliveries even though the company does nothing more than bill the equipment."

He said the registered agent of the company was State Rep. C. A. Morvant of Thibodaux, and session for the Louisiana department of conservation.

Morvant said the Tugwell statement was "untrue."

DEFEAT FOR FD IS SEEN BY AXIS ON NEUTRALITY ISSUE

By the Associated Press
President Roosevelt's decision to abandon his fight for neutrality law revision in the present session of congress caused disappointment in London and was labeled a defeat for him in the press of the Rome-Berlin axis.

British officials professed to be little surprised, and at the London foreign office it was said "we had been advised to expect that the president would not force the issue at present."

Fascist newspapers said the president had had to surrender to "the isolationists" and saw in Washington developments evidence that "American parties are against the president."

Berlin afternoon newspapers attacked President Roosevelt in headlines and one drew the conclusion he had suffered "a new political failure."

The cabinet foreign affairs committee also was reported to have put before the cabinet instructions sent yesterday to the ambassador to Japan, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, about the negotiations for settlement of the affair at Tientsin.

Harlan Union Row Settled

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 19 (AP)—The Harlan county, Ky., soft coal labor dispute was settled today in an agreement reached by the county coal operators' association and United Mine Workers officials.

Dr. John R. Steelman, director of conciliation for the U. S. Department of Labor, announced the settlement.

The contract, drafting of which was begun immediately for signing later in the afternoon, will provide:

1. Recognition of the United Mine Workers as the exclusive bargaining agent for all employees of the members of the association, except exempt classes, until March 31, 1941.

2. Waiving of the "union shop" and "strike penalty" clauses of the "Appalachian agreement."

3. Immediate dismissal of all eviction cases against union miners in the county.

4. Submission to an arbitration board of disputes arising over the collection of union dues.

5. Agreement by the association to cooperate with the union in securing convenient and adequate meeting places for the local unions.

H. L. BUNN IS NEW T&P ENGINEER

H. L. Bunn, who has been stationed in the Louisiana division of the Texas and Pacific railroad, has been transferred here to succeed the late C. F. Duval as division engineer. Mr. Bunn will be joined here this weekend by his family.

PARKING CHANGE STARTS THURS.

Big Spring is due for a new traffic experience Thursday when an ordinance requiring parallel parking along Third street goes into effect.

Lines for the new type of parking for motorists in this city have been painted in by city crews and police will start enforcing the parallel parking edict after midnight Wednesday.

Evidence of parallel parking were numerous Wednesday as many drivers put their cars in along side the curb on sighting the new parking marks. The spectacle of a mixture of angle and parallel parking was common.

The order affects only Third street, but it applies from city limit to city limit on that thoroughfare. On other downtown streets, angle parking is still permissible. Parking limits heretofore set up are unaffected.

City commissioners last week ordered the parallel parking along Third street in an attempt to reduce congestion on the main traffic artery of the city so that tourists and other through motorists on highway No. 1 could either get through town easily or stop to shop briefly, according to their wishes.

For those who have had little or no experience with parallel parking, police advised this general procedure in "getting into a hole": Roll into a vacant spot, then pull out sharply until the rear of the driver's car is about even with the parked machine in front, then cut wheels sharply and back into the hole, straightening out in time to avoid hitting the curb with rear wheels.

Chamberlain Still Hopeful Of Pact

Says British-French-Russian Deal May Be Closed Before Aug. 4th

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today he hoped to be able to announce conclusion of a British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact before parliament recesses Aug. 4, but said "we certainly have not got an agreement yet."

Chamberlain made his statement in reply to questions in the house of commons on the Moscow negotiations for such a pact.

British leaders were officially silent but obviously disappointed by President Roosevelt's decision to abandon his fight for revision of the neutrality law during the present session of congress.

The decision, however, was not a great surprise to the foreign office, where it was admitted "we had been advised to expect the president would not try to force the issue at present."

One British official said, "we have always taken the view this is none of our business, but there is no sense in professing that we have no interest in United States neutrality legislation."

The cabinet met but it was considered unlikely it discussed the American neutrality situation.

The lengthy session was reliably reported devoted to study of reports on negotiations with Soviet Russia, Poland and Japan.

The report of Sir William Seeds, ambassador to Moscow, told of lagging progress in negotiations for Russian adherence to the British-French mutual aid pact, now nearly four months old.

Reliable sources said the ministers also discussed negotiations over a British arms loan to Poland. The British thus far have insisted Poland must use any loan to buy arms and other war supplies in this country; the Poles were said to fear that in an emergency Britain could not supply all their needs as quickly as might be desirable.

The cabinet foreign affairs committee also was reported to have put before the cabinet instructions sent yesterday to the ambassador to Japan, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, about the negotiations for settlement of the affair at Tientsin.

It was believed generally here Craigie was instructed to listen patiently to Japan's complaints about British support of the Chinese, but not to allow Japan to question the right of Britain to control her concession areas in China.

TORSO KILLER'S CHARGE REDUCED

CLEVELAND, July 19 (AP)—A first degree murder charge against Frank Dolezal, accused "torso murder" killer, today was reduced to a charge of manslaughter, and he was held for the grand jury under $15,000 bond.

Dolezal, 52-year-old bricklayer, previously had pleaded innocent.

Conviction on the first degree murder charge would have made Dolezal liable to death. A manslaughter conviction carries only a sentence of one to 10 years.

ECONOMIST DIES

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—Edwin R. A. Silliman, 78, noted economist and fiscal expert, died yesterday at his summer home following a heart seizure.

RUNNELS PAVEMENT BEING REPLACED

A block on Runnels between Third and Fourth streets was barricaded against parking Wednesday as city crews made ready to replace sections of new pavement which "rolled" when opened to traffic too soon.

The section was one of the first repaired after extensive flood damage in May and areas of traffic forced officials to open the street before the emulsion topping had had an opportunity to dry. Other sections, put down in two thin layers for speedy drying, are holding up perfectly.

INJURIES FATAL

CHEICKARSA, Okla., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Robert Orin Samplings, 53, Amarillo, Texas, died today of injuries suffered last night in an automobile accident east of here.

Jack Russell Returned To Oklahoma

OZARK, Ark., July 19 (AP)—Oklahoma authorities obtained custody of Jack Russell, escaped McAlester convict, today over the claim of other states.

The 39-year-old fugitive, whose crime-strewn flight of a week was ended near here yesterday by a rural sheriff, was turned over to Warden Jess Dunn and Deputy Warden H. B. Cribber of McAlester.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas authorities also had sought the kidnap-murder suspect.

The Oklahoma officers announced plans for taking Russell to Muskogee for arraignment on federal charges of kidnaping E. C. Brown, McAlester commercial photographer, following his flight from prison on July 11.

A rural sheriff, Champ Crawford, captured the former barroom singer without a struggle at a fishing camp 15 miles north of here yesterday.

Russell was charged in a federal warrant at Chicago with the kidnap-killing of William S. Hamilton—an offense denied by the convict. Hamilton, Arkansas City, Kansas flour salesman, was killed and apparently dumped from an automobile last Friday near Ringwood, Ill.

From the time he fled from McAlester until Crawford—disguised as a fisherman—took him by surprise, Russell's trail led through six states.

DICKINSON CARRIES ON WITH CAMPAIGN AGAINST LIQUOR

LANSING, Mich., July 19 (AP)—Unperturbed by scoffers and the threat of an attempt at recall, Michigan's 60-year-old governor, Luren D. Dickinson, prepared today to make a radio temperance speech and "strike another blow" against liquor.

His speech was scheduled for delivery tonight over a Michigan network.

The governor was indignant recently upon his return from the national conference of governors in New York state where he said he observed much "high life" and was shocked by seeing many women and girls drinking.

Michigan has invited the governors to hold the annual conference here next year, but Dickinson said "I've probably scared them out, now."

MISS LANEIOUS NOTES

By Mary Whaley

How to get invited out to dinner in an art that can't be learned in ten easy lessons but after years of practice I can offer a few hints on how it should be done.

First call the victim on the telephone. It is so much more subtle than going in person and being subtle is the thing. Time your call around five o'clock in the evening before the hostess has peeled the potatoes as it won't be hard for her to add another one to the pot at this time.

Chatter about this and that and ask her what she is doing. If she says she is preparing dinner then your first difficulty is over. However, if she is non-committal, then it is up to you to direct the conversation around to the subject of food.

Something about how you saw her husband the other day and how fat and healthy he looked. Bring in the fact that it is no wonder he is looking so good, eating that good food that she prepares. Follow up with a sigh about how you envy him getting all that good cooking and if she is a lady she ought to modestly insist that she's not such a wonderful cook. This will give you a chance to pour on lots of flattery.

Then with a tone that must be half doleful and half "I'll be brave in spite of it all," you mention that you haven't been feeling so well lately and you are so tired of eating out. (This hint is calculated to arouse her sympathy.)

If she still hasn't gotten the idea and remains cold to the suggestions offered her, there is nothing to do but invite yourself or call somebody else with a more tender heart.

Group Meets At Park For Swimming Party Tuesday

For a swimming party and breakfast a group of friends met Tuesday morning at the park.

Attending were Mrs. H. V. Crocker and children, Serann, and H. V. Jr., Mrs. A. D. Meadow and daughter, Dorothy Ann, Mrs. Dee Foster and children, Annie Sue and Mary Louise, Mrs. John Davis and daughter, Marvin Louise, Mrs. A. M. Reynolds and children, Russell and Nancy Jo, Dorothy Satterwhite, Mary Pearl Mittel, Freida Mae Evans, Mrs. Alvis Wood and son, Johnny Lee, Mrs. Bernie Freeman.

Meeting in the lawn of the Jimmy Beale home, members of the Garden Club held regular session Tuesday, Mrs. W. D. Wilbanks spoke on "Rock Garden on the Level."

Mrs. D. W. Webber led a questionnaire on "How Much Do You Know," and Mrs. W. P. Edwards discussed garden short cuts.

Attending were Mrs. Beale, Mrs. George Garrette, Mrs. B. T. Cardwell, Mrs. Robert Stripling, Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Miss Helen Walcott, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. Harry Stalcup.

Mrs. Seth Parsons, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Webber, Mrs. W. W. McCormick, Mrs. Wilbanks, Mrs. Preston Sanders, and Mrs. Edmund Burke of Chicago.

Heavy Penalties Assessed Against Halliburton Yacht

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—A high commerce department official verified today reports that penalties aggregating approximately $13,000 had been imposed as a result of navigation law violations of Eris F. Halliburton's palatial yacht Vida along the Gulf of Mexico.

He said so far as he knew the fines had not been paid, and added that even should they be paid, a petition showing there were no international violations probably would result in a remittance of the amount.

He asserted several penalties had been imposed for "violation of laws pertaining to entry and clearance" of foreign vessels from American ports. The exact charges were technical and contained in inter-departmental reports not usually made public, he added.

The Vida flies the Honduran flag. The department official said she was granted "temporary registry" by the Honduran government in New York shortly before her arrival in Galveston, Texas.

An application for a cruising permit to allow legal stops of the vessel in other American ports was sought before the yacht left New York, he added, but rejected because Honduras does not grant reciprocal cruising permits.

Fines were imposed against the master of the Vida, he continued, adding the department here was not aware whether the master was Halliburton or someone else. The department directed Fred C. Fabst, collector of customs at Galveston, to impose the fines.

Govt. Testimony In Bridges Trial Near An End

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10 (AP)—An early end to the labor department's testimony in the deportation trial of Longshoremen's leader Harry Bridges appeared possible today.

Raphael P. Bonham, naturalization official, said the government had not decided whether to call six or eight witnesses under subpoena, and if these should not be called the government testimony would be concluded "early next week."

Defense attorneys have indicated their presentation probably would take a month.

The government put one witness on the stand yesterday, and when he stepped down at noon it had no others and Trial Examiner James L. Landis adjourned the trial.

An application for a cruising permit to allow legal stops of the vessel in other American ports was sought before the yacht left New York, he added, but rejected because Honduras does not grant reciprocal cruising permits.

Fines were imposed against the master of the Vida, he continued, adding the department here was not aware whether the master was Halliburton or someone else. The department directed Fred C. Fabst, collector of customs at Galveston, to impose the fines.

hearing until today.

The witness, John Layton Lepold of San Francisco, former member of the Marine Cooks' Union (CIO), said he was forced from his job because of his anti-communist activities. He said he did not know whether Bridges was a Communist.

Bridges, Australia-born West Coast CIO director, is on trial on a charge he should be deported as an undesirable alien.

Loan Program Extended As Building Aid

The home modernization program, sponsored under the FHA-insured modernization loan plan, has been continued for two years and Big Spring should benefit along with other Texas cities through this easy financing method, R. E. Sikes, mortgage conference representative, said Tuesday. He conferred with members of the local home loan committees, met with building trades representatives and otherwise exploited the possibilities of getting more construction under way. He said the program is being accentuated particularly through July and August.

New legislation effective July 1 extended the modernization plan, known as Title I, with some amendments. But modernization loans made by qualified lending institutions will continue to be insured. The top loan now will be $2,500. If the loan is to be used for alterations or repairs, the longest term is three years. Both limits are in line with present lending practices, according to Mr. Sikes. If the loan is to be used for construction of a new residential or farm building, the term may be as long as 10 years. The longer term, however does not apply to loans for other new construction such as garages, wayside stands, etc., which come under the three-year limit.

Another point of interest in the new amendments is the insurance-premium charge (3-4 per cent on modernization loans and 1-2 per cent if the loan is used for new residential construction). This charge is to be borne by the lending institution and does not increase the cost of the loan to the borrower. The maximum finance charge remains $5 per $100 for modernization loans and $3.50 per $100 for new residential construction under Title I.

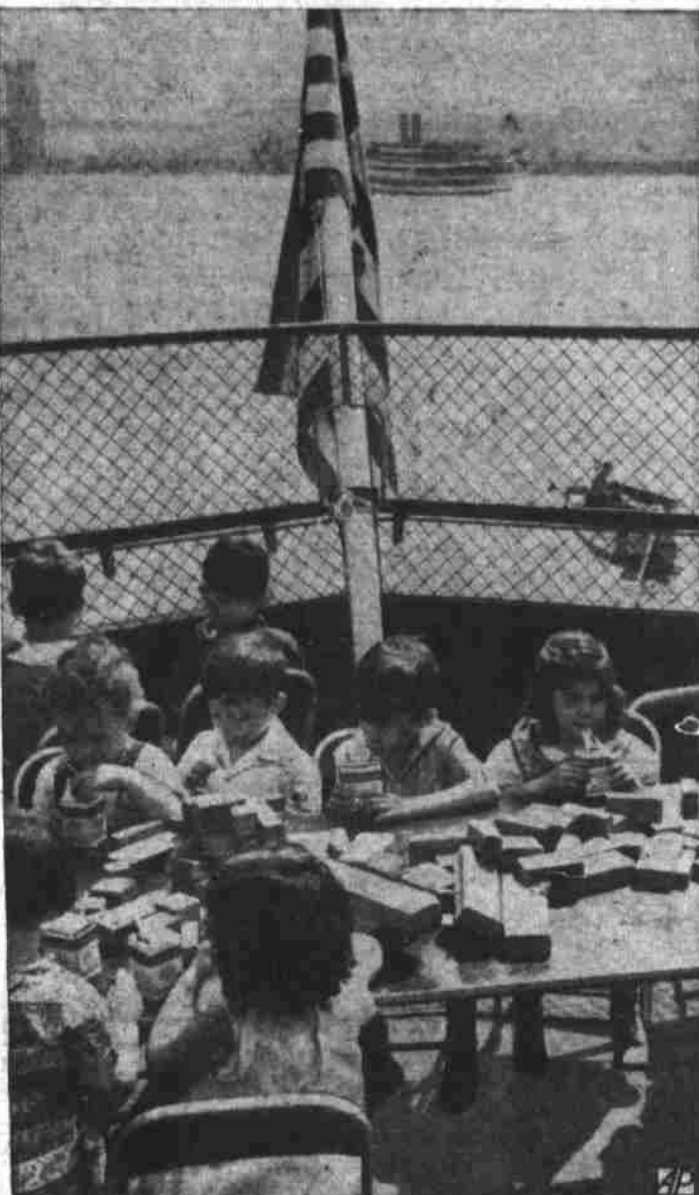

As in the past, modernization loans will be available to responsible prospects with good credit standing who wish to fix up their homes by making repairs or certain "permanent" improvements. Renters, as well as owners, may modernize on this plan only if they hold sufficiently long leases.

The borrower, of course, must have a regular income in addition to good credit standing, for these loans are "income payment" loans. However, the dealer or workman who contracts for the job is not paid in installments. On the contrary, material and labor are paid for in cash with proceeds of the loan. The customer repays the lending institution in installments which are figured according to his means. In this way the modernization-loan plan can turn many a prospect into a "cash customer."

FHA representatives have joined with the building trades and certain material men here and throughout Texas in exploiting the possibility of budgeting repair and modernization costs and are pointing out that many persons are living in homes in need of improvements. Repairs, redecorating, remodeling, landscaping and various types of permanent installations and built-ins may be paid for with FHA-insured modernization loans. In addition, new structures may be built. If a specific ruling is desired about the eligibility of any equipment, the request, preferably accompanied by description, illustrated literature, should be forwarded to the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C.

Old West Revived As Utah Celebrates

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 19 (AP)—The Old West lived again in Utah today.

The ultra modern was pushed into the background as urbanites turned grizzled frontiersmen for a week.

The celebrations, centered at Ogden and Salt Lake City, were in honor of the pioneers who battled Indians, wild animals and desert on a 1,000-mile trek from the Middle West to bleak Salt Lake valley in 1847.

Indians in full regalia, roamed the streets. Cowboys tethered saddle horses to downtown parking meters. Stunt experts performed in the streets.

Everybody knew everybody else at street dances. Bewhiskered office workers took time out frequently to view the sights.

Graceful cowgirls were cynosure of all eyes. Daring cowboys risked life and limb riding wild steers and snorting horses for rich stakes.

Women wore billowing early day dresses on the streets. Covered wagons were brought out of storage for a cross-city race.

Tourists, eyes bulging, watched the proceedings and went away wondering whether Utah actually would return to normalcy once the pioneer anniversary, July 24, passed. Don't worry, it will, just as sure as shootin'!

EIGHT CLEARED OF KIDNAP CHARGES

STOCKTON, Calif., July 19 (AP)—Hubbard Middlecoff, 36, and seven other persons were cleared today of kidnaping charges filed after Mrs. Eliza Middlecoff Emery, mother of Middlecoff, was taken to San Francisco from here last July 8.

The charges were dismissed by Justice of the Peace George Fritoux yesterday on motion of Assistant District Attorney Chester Watson, who stated there was insufficient evidence to prosecute.

The San Joaquin county jury declined to indict the eight persons last week, after a complaint against them was signed by Mrs. Olga Chadd, nurse-companion of Mrs. Emery.

A hearing will be held July 26 in Superior court to determine Mrs. Emery's competency, outgrowth of a guardianship petition signed by her son.

FD Turns Aside Question About M'Nutt's Place

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt touched on a variety of subjects at his press conference yesterday, as follows:

Turned aside a question as to whether he ever had told anyone he would run for a third term and wanted Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, for the vice presidential nominee; asked whether it would be fair to label that story (by Walter Winchell) a newspaper story.

Said federal agencies were being asked to put some of their new funds in a reserve in the hope of saving money; the same plan was used in the last fiscal year.

Expressed the offhand opinion WPA Commissioner Harrington has no authority to change the new 130-hour month for skilled relief workers.

Said he would be afraid to comment on business conditions, such as the stock market's rise of the last few days.

Criticized proposed wage-hour amendments by Representative Barden (D-NC), claiming they would in effect exempt the 2,000,000 poorest paid industrial employees.

MRS. JNO. GARNER'S BROTHER SUCCEEDS

SABINAL, July 19 (AP)—The body of William H. Rheiner, 73-year-old brother of Mrs. John Nance Garner, will be returned here from San Diego, Calif., where he died yesterday, for burial.

Rheiner was born and reared in Sabinal, and was in the cattle business during most of his residence here.

Rheiner's home was in Phoenix, Ariz., at the time of his death. He was in San Diego on a visit.

Survivors included, besides the wife of the vice-president, two brothers, F. J. Rheiner of Sabinal and August Rheiner of Uvalde.

Thousands Due To Be In Atlanta For Baptist Alliance

ATLANTA, July 19 (AP)—An organization without authority its members nevertheless had enough force today to draw thousands of persons from many nations toward Atlanta for a world-wide religious gathering.

It is the Baptist World Alliance which opens its sixth congress Saturday. Upwards of 50,000 persons from 60 nations are expected but they will come simply as "messengers" or, as implied by their certificates from home church organizations, as "Baptists in good standing."

To call them "delegates," explained Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke of London, general secretary of the alliance, would signify delegation of authority to speak for others in religious matters and transgress traditional Baptist doctrine.

Dr. Rushbrooke pointed out that each of the thousands of Baptist churches is a self-governing unit built entirely on voluntary membership and voluntary association with other churches.

RACE WITH DEATH LOST; CHILD DIES

SAN ANTONIO, July 19 (AP)—Six-month-old William Potter died from an intestinal obstruction heretofore today after a 235-mile race against death from his home in Raymondville.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Potter of Raymondville came here with the baby in their automobile, arriving several hours before the infant died.

The mother and child rode the last lap, from Pleasanton to San Antonio, in a county highway patrol car driven by N. C. McRae. The parents and child completed the entire drive in three hours and 30 minutes.

Outmoded theories on birds: That swallows hibernate in mud; small birds travel on big birds' backs; birds migrate to the moon.

TEXAS SWEETHEART TO BE SELECTED NEXT MONDAY

FORT WORTH, July 19 (AP)—The Texas Sweetheart No. 1 will be selected on the stage of Casa Manana on Monday night, July 24. It was announced today by Lou Wolfson, executive producer of the big musical spectacle. The final contest will be held as a special feature of the show that night and some 50 cities will be represented by beauties.

Judges will be Wolfson; Carlton Winckler, co-producer, and Miss Lauretta Jefferson, dance director. The Texas Sweetheart No. 1 will be given a featured part in Casa Manana throughout the summer as were Fay Cotton of Borger, Texas Sweetheart No. 1 in 1938 and Grey Downs of Temple, winner in '37.

Contestants have been notified to report at the stage door at 7:30 o'clock that night. Bob Nicks, executive assistant, will have charge of arrangements for the contest. The girls will wear bathing suits.

Cities represented thus far include Cleburne, Ranger, Weatherford, Eastland, Breckenridge, Waco, Temple, Mineral Wells, Graham, Galveston, Gainesville, San Antonio, Abilene, Lubbock, Paris, Kilgore, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Arlington and Fort Worth, in contests judged in those respective cities by Wolfson and Miss Jefferson. In addition, local chambers of commerce have selected entries from Marlin, Crawford, Vernon, Cisco, San Angelo, Brownwood, Corpus Christi, Austin and other cities are expected to notify Casa Manana officials of their entries.

RULING IS MADE ON ELECTION CONTEST

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—State employees can maintain legal residence in counties in which they reside at the time of employment regardless of whether they are later transferred in line of duty to other counties, the third court of civil appeals said in an opinion today.

It ruled further there is a statute prohibiting casting of absentee ballots on Sunday.

The rulings were given in an election contest appealed from Blanco county.

The appellate court affirmed judgment of a Blanco county trial court which declared Ben Jack Stubbs the legally elected county judge.

SAN ANTONIO TAXI DRIVERS ON STRIKE

SAN ANTONIO, July 19 (AP)—Taxicabs were at a standstill here today as 208 drivers, members of the Taxicab Drivers Union, local No. 72, an A. F. of L. affiliate, went on strike.

The strike began last midnight after the drivers unanimously rejected a compromise offer worked out at conferences sponsored by Mayor Maury Maverick.

The only cabs operating are 1 negro-operated cars. The drivers who had been receiving a 35 per cent commission on receipts, demanded 40 per cent. Taxi operators in their compromise had offered 37 1-2 per cent.

Hogg Foundation To Sponsor Mental Hygiene Program

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—For the benefit of "human welfare," the major objective of the newly-established $2,500,000 Hogg foundation at the University of Texas will be a state-wide mental hygiene program, Dr. Homer P. Rainey, university president, disclosed today.

The health program was decided upon in conferences between executives of the Will C. Hogg estate, Miss Ina Hogg and Mike Hogg of Houston, and university officials, Rainey said.

The university president declared a "distinguished lecture foundation," stipulated in the Hogg will, would overlap and include the health program with both to start "as soon as funds are available."

Rainey listed as activities to be conducted under university supervision with income from the foundation as (1) establishment of mental hygiene clinics over the state; (2) mental health lectures at the university and throughout the state; (3) mental hygiene instruction in Texas teacher-training courses; (4) provision for mental health research at the university's school of medicine in Galveston.

"Of course," Rainey said, "a fifth feature—a survey of mental hygiene conditions over the state—will actually have to precede the others."

Mother Of Slain Child May Carry Case To President

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 19 (AP)—The mother of Joan Stevens, 14-year-old Nesquehoning girl killed by a Pennsylvania state trooper, said today she would carry a campaign to win "justice and vindication for my daughter" to the White House, if necessary.

Mrs. John Stevens saw Gov. Arthur H. James yesterday. "If I don't get justice here," she declared, "I'll go to Washington to get satisfaction. I'll see Mrs. Roosevelt."

Her daughter was shot a month ago by Corporal Benjamin Franklin of the Pennsylvania motor police, now under bond on a homicide charge while the case awaits grand jury action. He said he fired when the girl drew what looked like an automatic pistol.

District Attorney Albert Heimbach said the girl held a harmless toy.

Mrs. Stevens sobbed as she waited for the governor that she "wasn't even told my daughter was shot until the next day" and declared he believed the girl "never even had as much as a toy pistol, let alone a real pistol."

Texas last year furnished more than 36 per cent of all natural gas produced and marketed in the U. S.

WOOL PRICE GOES TO SEASON'S HIGH

SAN ANGELO, July 19 (AP)—The price of 12-months crossbred wool advanced to 28 cents a pound—a cent above the season's previous high—in the sale here late yesterday of a small clip from the Duwain E. Hughes yearling flock of Corriedale-Delane and Corriedale-Rambouillet yearlings.

The clip was purchased by J. M. Lea, buyer for Draper and Co. Earlier yesterday Lea, a warehouseman, offered 450,000 pounds of wool at an auction, first ever held in Texas. The auction sales moved more than 200,000 pounds of wool at a price range from 18 cents to a top of 25 1-4 cents.

Slow flight record for birds is held by the woodcock at five miles per hour.

Last year Charley Barnabe's Barons finished the semester with a record of 58 wins and 71 losses for a percentage of .450, a record that proved good enough for fifth place in the six club league.

This semester Tony Rego has paced the rejuvenated Barons to 50 wins in 86 games for a season's record of .581. The club's record of 38 wins and 31 reversals in first half play proved good enough to land them a game out of second place. Now they're pacing the family in games won and lost.

The new success of the club can be attributed to a large degree to their ability to win extra inning ball games. In 1938 they could but twice claim extra inning victories. At this writing they have lost but one extended clash this year, are, according to all established standards the best ball club of the lot when the chips are down.

IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE

Hack Miller, the Lubbock catcher with communistic principles, has abandoned his designs toward advancement as a player, says he aspires to be a manager. Yet he refused an offer to pilot the Rayne (Evangeline league) club earlier in the year.

Probably the coolest worker in the WT-NM circuit is Lubbock's Sully Parker whose patience has been tested at times but who never loses that admirable calm.

Bill Altenburg, the Hubbers' new performer who got his break at the expense of Bob Millon, temporarily suspended, balls from the Chicago vicinity, Bill's ambitions are hopeless as it looks from this corner. The only one he has to beat out is Parker, himself.

The youngster evicted from the park by Umpire Buster Capps during the ninth inning of last night's Big Spring-Lubbock tussle was Joe Brown, connected with the Hubber business office, a son of Joe E. Brown, the movie comic. Capps failed to see the humor in Joe's constant heckling after Lane Mickey had been chased into the darkness. Brown's actions almost brought about the removal of Capps. Capps didn't relish remarks made by the Lubbock catcher but let him remain because the invaders had no one else to use behind the plate.

A disappointed onlooker of last night's skirmish was Colby Farris, the Lubbock scribe, who spent Tuesday here taking pictures for the all-star game. Among others he photoed Bill Capps, Bobby Decker, Jodie Marek and Pat Stacey which should be assurance that that quartet of Barons will be sitting out for the classic next Tuesday.

Tony Rego is quietly laying plans for a giant new baseball plant for next season, has been parleying with civic leaders toward plans for a municipally owned stadium. If the deal now being discussed goes through the Barons will be equipped with the classiest home in the family in 1940.

WHAT KIND OF UNDERHAND-ED TRICKERY IS THIS?

A Lamesa baseball fan brings news that a responsible Lubbock man has been campaigning in Lamesa, handing out propaganda against the selection of Tony Rego as manager of the South's team for the July 25th all-star game. He has allegedly gone so far as to even have some unofficial ballots printed, is affixing illegal signatures to them.

L. E. Morris, business manager of the local club, has filed a protest with Milton E. Price, league president, for a recheck of all votes.

Your Mid-Year Sports Exam

By DILLON GRAHAM

AP Feature Service Sports Writer

Each question counts 20. A score of 60 is fair; 80, good.

1. The American pictured above starred in the British amateur golf championship, won the French amateur title. Who is he?
2. Identify the following major-league baseball stars: (a) Boston Red Sox outfielder, (b) Philadelphia Phillies third baseman, (c) Detroit Tigers outfielder, (d) St. Louis Browns second baseman.
3. Lou Gehrig's consecutive game string was snapped this year. In how many games had he competed?
4. What Kansas athlete bettered the American collegiate record for the shot put?
5. To what was attributed Johnston's defeat in the Freakness?

East Texans Square Off For Classic

LONGVIEW, July 19 (AP)—East Texas league players forgot individual team rivalries today and divided into North and South squads for the loop's all-star baseball battle here tonight. Five men from each team were selected for the game. The North team, composed of Kilgore, Longview, Marshall and Texarkana players, will be skippered by manager Jimmy Dalrymple of Kilgore. Veteran Jake Atz of the Henderson Oilers is manager of the South team of men from Henderson, Tyler, Jacksonville and Palestine. Atz announced either big Steve Rachunok, Henderson ace who has won 18 games, or Bill Robertson of Tyler would be his choice for starting hurler. Dalrymple indicated Tom Pullig of Texarkana would be his initial pitcher.

The starting lineups, except pitchers:

SOUTH Black, Jacksonville, cf. Tatum, Henderson, rf. Phillips, Henderson, ss. Costello, Palestine, 3b. Bradley, Palestine, lf. Sapor, Henderson, 2b. Sidlo, Tyler, 1b. Kahn, Palestine, c.

NORTH Knoblauch, Kilgore, cf. Ratke, Longview, 2b. Simntachi, Marshall, rf. Turner, Marshall, lf. Sakers, Kilgore, 1b. Frierson, Texarkana, 3b. Lobough, Texarkana, ss. Klutz, Kilgore, c.

Rachunok annexed his 18th win last night when he shut out Jacksonville, 1 to 0, allowing only one hit in the nightcap of a twin bill. Henderson lost the first, 3 to 1.

Albert Winters pitched two games for Marshall last night, winning the first, 4 to 1, and losing the second, 2 to 1. He allowed Tyler batsmen only four hits in each game.

Palestine blanked Kilgore, 3 to 0 behind Grover Miller's seven-hit pitching. Longview jumped on Pullig for three runs in the eighth and a 7 to 4 win over Texarkana.

FATHER OF NINE IS 'HOBO' OFFICIAL

PITTSBURGH, July 19 (AP)—A Pittsburgh man so domesticated he has nine children is the new international secretary of the League of Hoboes of the World and the Hoboes of America. He's George Siebert, 47-year-old union business agent and formerly one of 17 vice presidents of hobo league. Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, named him to replace John Weiler, one-time Altoona, Pa., police sergeant who died last week. Siebert met Davis in Chicago while he was on the road in 1912. He rode the freights for six years before marriage and children began to tie him down in a home.

Capps Scores On Single By Joe Saporito

Edson Bahr Slated To Take Hill For Regomen Tonight

By HANK HART

A disillusioned young man in Tuesday evening's taffy-pull at Baron park was Lubbock's Al Carr. Carr undoubtedly had heard of, been told about, even been a material witness to the hitting prowess of Tony Rego's young Irishman, Pat Stacey, but he led with his chin when in the tenth inning he faced the Baron cleanup hitter and suffered the consequences.

Pat delivered, not in his usual style, but in a manner that in the end gave the Big Springers a 5-4 victory over the champions and increased the locals' league lead over the second place club to a game and a half.

Al, who does plenty of left fielding for the Hubbers what time he isn't fooling around the box, has no alternative in throwing at Stacey as he faced him in the tenth heat. He could have walked him, true enough, but he gambled—and lost. Patrick singled briskly through the box to start the rebellion that won the game. A moment later he was forced at second by Billy Capps but his antics had only started. Bob Hillis followed with a nice sacrifice that dispatched Capps to the keyhole and Joe Saporito, unassuming little Joe who was so well known to Big Spring fans last year, appeared to produce the lick that won the game, dropping a single into short right field that neither Matt Zorko nor Mal Stevens, the Hubbers' keystone and right gardener, respectively, could reach.

Hurlers' Duel

The fracas had been a hurlers' duel all the way between Carr and the Barons' Louis Janicek with Carr holding the edge throughout the early rounds. Janicek had trouble in the initial heat when the foe took advantage of Stacey's fumbling in right field to score twice. The other brace of runs came in the fifth when Stevens homered and Hack Miller rolled on Boyd Watkins' infield counter.

The Barons broke the ice in the fourth when they scored thrice without the assistance of a base blow. Tex Walton, Stacey, and Hillis strolled and all three scored when Zorko twice muffed up scorable play balls at second base.

After the invaders had gone back into the lead with their fifth inning outburst, Bobby Decker took occasion to deadlock the count in the seventh when he singled, went to second on Bill Altenburg's wild leave at first, to third on Curdele Loyd's sacrifice and on to the dish on Walton's long fly ball to deep center.

Billy Capps snapped out of his hitting doldrums to account for a third of the Big Spring blows, getting singles in the second and eighth rounds.

For Janicek it was win No. ten. He accomplished a very fine job in scattering the ten enemy blows. Decker returned a brilliant game at short stop. His eighth inning tag of Watkins at the keyhole after taking Stacey's throw-in from right field was particularly noteworthy. The mercury footed Watkins had driven out a blow into right that Stacey took off the barrier and wheeled in time to see Watty hot-footing it for an extra station. The boss was a strike and Decker taking it, pivoted smartly and relaxed to wait for the runner whose hook slide was futile.

Edson Bahr was slated to handle the pitching chores for the series final game tonight. Wally Gorski was to be Parker's choice.

GARBINER IS NEW SOX LEADER

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Death of J. Louis Comiskey, 54, president and owner of the Chicago White Sox, removed from baseball one of the most colorful "second generation" leaders in the history of the sport.

Victim of a heart ailment and pneumonia, Comiskey died yesterday in the same summer home at Eagle River, Wis., where his famous father, Charles A. Comiskey, died eight years ago at the age of 72.

Comiskey, only son of the noted "Old Roman" founder of the club, was survived by the widow, Grace; two daughters, Dorothy, 22, and Grace Lou, 18, and a son, Charles II, 11. Funeral services will be held here Saturday.

Harry Garbiner, who started in the White Sox organization 36 years ago as an office boy, and served as vice-president of the club under both Comiskies, will continue in charge of the club. Comiskey spent all of his life in the service of the club; his father organized 36 years ago. As a boy he had an ambition as a player, but signs of the heart ailment appeared early and he had to be content with a career in the business office. He served the White Sox in various capacities and for many years was in charge of concessions. He had no great part in the affairs of the club until after his father's death in 1931.

Donald Sets New Hurling Record

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer

A young man going up passed an old man coming down today. Richard Atley Donald is 26 years old and a right-hander. This is his first full season in the major leagues. Yet already the New York Yankee recruit has pitched seven straight victories, one more than the best previous performance of a big league "freshman."

Carl Owen Hubbell is 36 years old and a southpaw. This is his twelfth season in the major leagues, he has put many a record into the books, perhaps more than Donald ever will set. Yet this year "King Carl" has been able to pitch only one complete game, has won but two, and has received only two starting assignments since June 4.

Donald began the season as the "odd man" on the mound staff of the world champions, a rookie figured to do little more than mop up in games already lost. Hubbell, after an operation on his salary arm, was counted to come back and be the "meat ticket" of old for a pennant-contending Giant club.

Today the Yankees, with Donald a vital part of their pitching corps, beat the Browns, 4-3, to give the Boston Red Sox, and Donald has supplanted Harry Krause, who won 10 straight for the Athletics 31 years ago, as the most sensational first-year man in the big show. Meanwhile the crippled Giants, slipping steadily, are tied for third place in the National League and Hubbell, the hop gone from his fast one and the break from his curve, has lost five games.

Donald handcuffed the St. Louis Browns with 3 hits yesterday and shut them out, 9-0.

Taking Licking While Donald was delivering his fine performance (followed up by a 3-hit combination job by Oral Hildebrand and Johnny Murphy that beat the Browns, 4-3, to give the Yankees a sweep), Hubbell was having trouble. The Cardinals got to him, 5-3, and Hubbell was charged with his fifth defeat.

The Cards and Giants thus fell into a third-place tie, the Chicago Cubs moving into second on Claude Passeau's fine pitching that topped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-2.

There was further good pitching right along the line. The league-leading Reds hit hard to bring Paul Derringer his twelfth victory, by 12-3 over the Boston Bees, and veteran Syd Johnson clamped down on the Pittsburgh Pirates to give the Phillies an 8-3 decision.

In the American league Joe Krauskas of the Senators scattered Detroit Johnny Murphy's hits to take them 10-2; rookie Joe Dobson pulled off the Cleveland Indians out of a hole with a neat relief trick to turn back the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-3, and Clint Brown, making his 34th appearance in a relief role, saved the second game for the White Sox, 8-5, after the Red Sox had clubbed hard to win the opener 13-10.

White Throws No Hitter At Ft. Worthians

By the Associated Press

Ernest (Whitey) White, 22-year-old southpaw, has gained that spot in baseball's hall of fame that all pitchers covet. The cotton-topped Houston Buff player hurled a no-hit, no-run game last night, beating Fort Worth 2 to 0 and allowing only three men to reach base, all on walks. Stan Corbett limited the Buffs to five hits but three were bunched in the third for Houston's tallies. The Shreveport Sports bunched hits in the fifth and seventh and defeated the Dallas Bees, 6 to 3. The win placed Shreveport in third place.

The leading San Antonio Missions defeated the Oklahoma City Indians, 2 to 1, when Dynamite Dunn's line drive scored the winning run. Vern Olsen limited Beaumont to six hits and Tulsa's Oilers won, 5 to 3.

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—It's hard to figure any way except that Byron Nelson and Henry Picard are the men to beat in this weekend's Western Open golf tournament, a calculation of which Defending Champion Ralph Guldahl no doubt is keenly aware. Guldahl won the Western title when he couldn't win anything else in 1938 and maybe a victory in the 40th annual renewal of the fixture will set him off on another winning streak in major competition, but first he must dispose of the red-hot Nelson-Picard twosome, as well as a lot of other topflight golfers. Nelson, National Open champion; Picard, the new F.G.A. champion; Guldahl and about 250 other pros and amateurs will tee off Friday over the Medinah Country Club course in the first round of the 72-hole medal play event. Another 18 holes follow Saturday and the final 36 Sunday. In addition to the title, improved rating in the Vardon trophy contest and the money derby are at stake in the Western. Victory in the Western counts 60 points in the Vardon race. Picard leads now with 393 points. Nelson is second. Picard also tops the money winners, having earned $8,177 this year. Speed is second with $6,777 and Nelson third with $6,673.

Retailers Rally To Defeat Big Spring Motor At Park, 9 To 8

Montgomery Ward's seventh inning rally provided them with four runs, just enough to enable the Retailers to nose out the Big Spring Motor team, 9-8, in Muny softball league competition at the city park Tuesday evening.

The Retailers collected ten assorted blows off the offerings of W. Cunningham, the Motorists' flinger, but trailed until they put together four hits with three Big Spring Motor errors to count the winning runs in the seventh.

Tonight's double header will send the Forum Bulls against Montgomery Ward and Anderson's Devils against Lone Star Chevrolet.

That Summer 'Slump'

It is now getting along toward the time of year when people would rather lie under an apple tree than call on that last customer whose place is way over at the end of town.

Because, at this time of year, millions of people feel a little bit that way, there usually ensues a noticeable falling-off of business (and all other) activity. This has been christened "the summer slump."

But this summer there isn't any, which is a very heartening thing indeed. The Wall Street Journal, whose business it is to keep in touch with these matters, surveyed all the prominent fields of trade and industry recently, and came to the conclusion that most of the trades and industries which usually drift into the doldrums at about this time are stubbornly fighting their way upward.

Here are some of the conclusions reached: department store sales were bettering the seasonal average, well above 1938; automobile sales holding up unusually well; gasoline consumption at a new high; replacement auto tire trade at a six-year high in June; sales of building material at the best level of recent years, with construction contracts up; expanding orders in the machine tool, electrical equipment and utility field.

Not all industries showed so bright a tendency, with steel production still at a low level and railroad equipment lagging. But new seasonal traffic records are being set on the airlines, the machine tool and airplane industries are buzzing (with war orders, it is true).

All this activity, flying in the face of traditional seasonal dullness, is further proof of the tremendous backed-up demand which lies beneath the surface of today's conditions.

It is not almost certain that 1939 is going to be a far better year than 1938 as regards business progress, and the first sign of sanity to return to the international situation should make the green light burn immediately brighter.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—It was the first sweet cool of the evening, and though my eyes were still glassy and my temples throbbing with each jarring step, I made it past the Temple of Beauty, past the Headless Woman, past the Lady Frozen in Ice, on past the snowman guarding the Rheingold Inn gate, and sank into a chair on the rim of the ice rink. A waiter came up quietly and asked if I wanted anything. Under my breath, I cursed him savagely, even though he was a kindly fellow. He backed away and left me sitting there in the shadow of the papier-mache mountains.

Time passed, and after a while, which is to say in half an hour or so, my breathing became less labored. The glasses went away from my stare, my temples ceased throbbing, and I was left merely exhausted. My recuperative powers are quite strong. Walking through several miles of fair on a hot day takes it out of you, but I had come back fast.

Then I became aware that life had taken a turn for the better. Sweet music, in delicate Viennese accents, hung like romantic reminiscences in the half-twilight, and suddenly eight young girls came out on the ice. They weren't going anywhere in particular but they were traveling fast. They took the turns in eager graceful strides, evolved into pin-wheels, swirled, danced away in pairs, came together in star formations, and finally amid ringing applause, retired to a secret cave in the mountains.

Rheingold Inn is lost in a valley of the towering Swiss Alps. The Alps are papier-mache, it is true, but the impression of snow-capped peaks and wild, shaggy crags is there. Off to one side is the ski jump—a high, narrow perilous lane, plunging down at a terrifying angle. At intervals two men and a girl climb to the summit, and at given signals, and on skis, come swooping down. They jump in the neighborhood of 70 feet—but not on snow. When they come down they land on waxed carpet, which is mercury itself.

After the show was over the girl ski-jumper, who was brisqueted and little more than an infant, was invited down by the orchestra leader to meet some friends. She climbed over the tuba player and accepted a seat at a table where four or five visitors sat gazing appropriately. And when the music started again, one of the young men wanted her to dance. But she declined. She thought she would look funny dancing in big square-toed shoes and the paraphernalia of a ski-jumper.

As I was by now in a more agreeable mood I glanced about for the waiter, and he was nice enough to bring me a tall glass of iced coffee. We struck up a conversation, and then, being observant, he inquired into my general state, and asked me if I didn't have a headache.

"It doesn't ache much now," I told him, "but when I came in here it did."

"I thought so," he said, "I haven't any aspirin, but if you will come back into the kitchen I will loosen up the joints of your neck. I used to be an osteopath."

I looked at his great strong hands. I remembered how unwell I had been, and it seemed to me that he was just a little on the eager side.

"No, thanks," I said, "I think I will stay right here."

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Ruft

Chapter 38
The Chiseler's Chance

The Chiseler had an inspiration. It was a fascinating possibility and one which might, by not too great a stretch of the imagination lead to peace and security for his declining years. And though his stay at Salsair Acres had been both brief and fraught with tribulation, he had formed an attachment for the place. Therefore he decided to gamble splendidly. He got to his feet and moved majestically to an obscure corner of the room. He was just in time. A knock sounded on the door.

"Dipsang!" cracked an imperious voice from without. "Are you here?" The next instant the door was swung open.

The Chiseler, standing grave and silent in his out-of-the-way corner, perceived four individuals in backfield formation blocking the doorway. In the quarterback position stood a slight, testy-looking man whose lips were torturing an unlighted cigar. At left halfback was a tall, rangy young gentleman who seemed amused by something or other. The position of right half was filled by one of the prettiest girls that the Chiseler had ever seen. And in the fullback's place rested a bulbous individual. The quarterback spoke first, as is customary.

By now Mrs. Dipsang had hoisted the Dipsang bulk to the Dipsang feet.

"M-M-Mr. Adams!" she exclaimed, unnerved. "I thought you were in Europe."

Richard Craftonbury advanced into the room. The rest of the backfield, getting the signal correctly, moved with him.

"Europe be hanged!" said Richard Craftonbury. "I came home looking for peace and quiet. I walk into my house to find it all lit up like a gambling hall and some kind of infernal sorcerer going round. And I haven't been home ten minutes—not ten minutes, mark you—before some confounded blackguard sneaks up behind me, hits me over the head and ties me up in my own smokehouse. And what I want to know is who did it? WHO DID IT?"

"I—I really couldn't say," said Mrs. Dipsang, in great distress. The Chiseler, in his corner, noted. So this was what had happened. He wondered how on earth Coletti or Dorothy, or both, had come to get their signals crossed.

"What's that?" exploded Richard Craftonbury. "You can't say? What in heaven's name is wrong with people around here tonight? Doesn't anybody know anything about anything? I'm going to . . . who in the dickens is that?"

He had suddenly perceived the Chiseler, standing nobly aloof in his corner. He stared at him, eyes bulging, cigar bobbing up and down. Then he thrust out a terrible forefinger. "Who's that, I say?"

It was then that the Chiseler comported himself in such manner as to indicate that when he turned crook the stage had lost a great Thespian. He strode forward with dignity, arms folded, head bowed on his breast, mustaches flowing sulkily in the breeze from the window. For a moment he confronted them. And even the red-and-white underpants failed signally to detract from the solemnity of his aspect. Then the Chiseler spoke.

"My name," he said, slowly and impressively, "is Dipsang. Austin Sebastian Dipsang, able-bodied seaman. I am at your service."

Astounded, Mrs. Dipsang gasped and jumped, but no one noticed her. The Chiseler had commanded the undivided attention of every one. A silence greeted his pronouncement. Then Richard Craftonbury, eyes bulging even more, gave tongue.

"Huh?" he said.

"Dipsang," repeated the Chiseler sonorously. "My name is Dipsang."

Saga of The Sea
 Richard Craftonbury regained his poise.

"But I thought you were lost off—off . . ."

"Hatteras," supplied Mrs. Dipsang mechanically.

The Chiseler turned to her.

"I see that your memory is as faulty as ever, my dear," he said easily. "I was not lost off Cape Hatteras. On the contrary, our ship floundered off the Florida keys. Never, if I live to be a thousand shall I forget that bitter night. The seas were mountainous, gentlemen, mountainous. The wind had teeth. We were, however, able to launch our boats. I and a few companions were alone on the waste of the ocean." He paused, to permit the minds of the audience to take in that graphic picture.

"Well, go on, go on," urged Richard Craftonbury, who liked tales of adventure. "What happened next?"

"The storm," proceeded the Chiseler smoothly, "tossed our little boat about as though it were an eggshell."

"To make a long story short, my companions and myself were washed ashore on a lonely island in the West Indian group. On this island were natives, practically barbarians, who informed us in the sign language that the place was out of the course of ships and seldom visited by them. This proved to be the case. When I tell you that we existed there for nearly nine years—virtual Robinson Crusoes—without sighting a single vessel, you will have some idea of the isolation of the spot to which Providence—ahem—relegated us."

"Doesn't sound reasonable in this day and age," objected Richard Craftonbury.

"The sea," said the Chiseler, "is vast and mysterious. We were off the beaten track, stranded, without means of communication. To conclude, we were rescued three months ago by a fishing smack which had been blown off her course. This vessel brought us to Jacksonville, Florida. Eventually I made my way to New York where, through relatives who had believed me dead, I was able to trace my wife. And tonight we are reunited, after these long and arduous years. Gentlemen, I am a man of sentiment. This—this occasion is too much for me." He produced an handkerchief and blew his nose violently. After which, ostentatiously, he wiped the corners of his eyes.

Richard Craftonbury, having nothing better to do, lighted his cigar.

"It's a saga," he said.

"So it is," agreed the Chiseler, mastering his emotions.

"Funny I didn't read about it in the papers," said Richard Craftonbury.

The Chiseler smiled tolerantly.

"I presume that the press was not interested," he said. "You must remember that we were forgotten men from a forgotten ship."

"Well, since you're here, man, put your pants on."

"I had been on the point of retiring," said the Chiseler, with extreme delicacy.

"Retiring? Ha! Anybody who thinks he can sleep in this house is crazy." And then, all at once, Richard Craftonbury paused, assailed by a terrible thought which drove all others out of his head.

"Coming Home"

Now that he considered Dipsang's fantastic tale, he told himself that he didn't believe a word of it. It was far more likely that the fellow had merely deserted his wife for a few years. Mr. Adams knew his sailors. They had girls in every port. Doubtless Dipsang had been amusing himself around the world and had only come back to his wife because he was down on his luck at present. But that didn't alter the fact that he was back. And in all probability, he would want to remove his wife from Salsair Acres. And that, Richard Craftonbury vowed silently, must not be. He paced at the very thought of it. Mrs. Dipsang was the best housekeeper Mr. Adams had ever had. He must handle this matter with care, however. He must conciliate Dipsang, treat with him.

"Well—er—Dipsang," he said, "now you're back in civilization, what are you going to do?"

"My plans for the future," said the Chiseler, adhering rigidly to the truth for the first time since entering the preserves of Salsair Acres, "are vague and indefinite."

"You speak as if you'd had some education," said Richard Craftonbury.

"I assure you," the Chiseler said, "that I had an excellent education. I was being groomed for the clergy. But, a headstrong boy, I went counter to the wishes of my parents and ran away to sea. I regret it."

HED' NOT SUBSIDIZE

The railroads are now subject to vigorous competition from motor vehicles and water carriers. Congress has appropriated millions of dollars for fine highways. I have always supported such measures. Likewise congress has aided water carriers with huge appropriations for the purpose of dredging harbors, canalizing rivers and otherwise encouraging water transportation.

Though it has been suggested and urged by many that the railroads be subsidized with funds from the federal treasury, the congress has, and wisely in my judgment, withheld further subsidies from the railroads. The railroads are entitled to no special privileges; likewise they should not be made to suffer any discrimination. And when the railroads are subjected to strict regulation and their competitors are not, there is a discrimination.

At the request of President Roosevelt, I introduced legislation based on the recommendations of the president's Committee of Six and his Committee of Three. After months of committee consideration and nearly a week of debate, the senate by the vote of 70-6 passed the legislation. It is presently being considered by the house committee.

HED' REDUCE DEBT

The railroads have endorsed the legislation, the motor carriers have agreed to it, and the common carriers by water who are not the beneficiaries of maritime commission loans or are industrially owned have urged its enactment.

This legislation would not destroy any carrier. It would protect all forms of transportation.

The railroads are a mass-production industry. To succeed they must have mass consumption. The way to get mass consumption of railroad service is to reduce rates to a point where people can afford to travel and afford to send products of the farm to the cities.

Another bill, of which Senator Truman of Missouri and I are authors and which provides for expedited railroad financial reorganizations, has passed the senate. More debt is no solution for the problem of debt-ridden railroads. They should reorganize their financial structures upon a sound basis.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—It's nice, after meeting so many movie stars, to meet one like Big Boy, a rugged individualist who will never be a rug.

"Gotta cigarette—or a chew?" growled Big Boy in greeting. At least, so his interpreter told me. Big Boy was reclining in his studio boudoir. It is equipped, as many a movie star's boudoir should be, with iron bars.

I dined with a cigarette, which Big Boy calmly ate. "Good for worms," he explained again through his interpreter, one Charley Oro.

Charley, like many another star's stooge and bodyguard, is a character in his own right. He is tall and raw-boned and lean, with the benign face of a Boris Karloff in that actor's unmonstrous moments. Charley occupies quarters next to Big Boy. Charley is not behind bars, however. He has a bunk in a lean-to near Big Boy's cage, along the studio's French street.

Charley and Big Boy have been together for years. Charley has been "in bars" for 30 hibernations. But Big Boy belongs to Gus and Stan Stevens, brothers who have lived bearishly all their lives.

The story of the Stevenses goes back to 1830 when one Gustavo Stevanovich found a deserted bear cub somewhere in the Pyrennes and brought it back to Madrid where he reared it to happy young bearhood. The family went bearish from that time on, establishing a dynasty of bear-fanciers. Gustavo's son, Francisco, and Francisco's son, Franco, kept on breeding and rearing bears. Franco came to the American Middle West about 1880, and began exhibiting his bears in a sort of wagon show. Stan and Gus are Franco's sons, and Gus, at least, can't remember when they didn't have a bear to play with as long children. Big Boy is the 27th trained bear in the long line of household pets.

"I have seen Big Boy cry like a baby at the sight of something being hurt," avers Gus with feeling.

"There is no harm in him," says Charley Oro, who leads him about by halter attached to a nose ring, wrestles with him, allows Big Boy to use him for a pillow on occasion. The nose ring comes off when Big Boy, a Russian brown bear of seven years and 640 pounds, smokes with Akim Tamiroff, Ray Milland and Patricia Morrison in an epic called "Untamed." As an actor Big Boy's role is "wild."

Since Big Boy came to the lot, the still photos naturally have plumed all the girls over to pose with him. Mary Martin, whose heart belonged to daddy until "Victor Herbert" came along, got her introduction to movie stills and to Big Boy simultaneously. He gave her an affectionate tap that knocked her off her feet. Patricia Morrison also was the recipient of an endearing shove from here to Sunday.

The bear's private life is colossal. Four baths daily, in water and disinfectant. A strictly vegetarian diet. He has been touched neither by romance nor scandal. "My career comes first," I think he said.

Washington Daybook

By SENATOR BURTON K. WHEELER
 Democrat, Montana
 (Pinch-hitting for Preston Grover, on vacation.)
WASHINGTON—No congressional act will solve the railroad problem. The railroads need what every industry needs—more business. Nothing will create a greater volume of traffic for the railroads except greater economic activity.

Better prices for the farmer, jobs for the 10,000,000 unemployed and a restoration of purchasing power for the masses will do more for industry and the railroads than all the legislation in the world.

The whole economy of the U. S. is sensitive to the financial stability of the railroads. The American public has invested billions of dollars in railroad securities. Hundreds of thousands of persons are directly dependent upon the railroads for employment. When railroad purchases of supplies drop from an annual average of nearly 14 hundred million to six hundred million dollars, great industries are paralyzed.

As a factor in national defense, railroads are irreplaceable. They are vital as a means of transportation for the farmer, the producer and the public.

When the Interstate Commerce Commission was created in 1887, it regulated the railroads which then and for years later had a virtual monopoly in the transportation field. But today other forms of transportation flourish—they have been fostered as a means of reducing freight rates.

HED' NOT SUBSIDIZE

The railroads are now subject to vigorous competition from motor vehicles and water carriers. Congress has appropriated millions of dollars for fine highways. I have always supported such measures. Likewise congress has aided water carriers with huge appropriations for the purpose of dredging harbors, canalizing rivers and otherwise encouraging water transportation.

After months of committee consideration and nearly a week of debate, the senate by the vote of 70-6 passed the legislation. It is presently being considered by the house committee.

This bill would place all forms of transportation on a basis of equality in regulation. It would create a single agency with the duty to regulate all carriers, and proper administration of the bill would insure the public with a sound system of coordinated transportation.

HED' REDUCE DEBT

The railroads have endorsed the legislation, the motor carriers have agreed to it, and the common carriers by water who are not the beneficiaries of maritime commission loans or are industrially owned have urged its enactment.

KBST NOTES

'Horror Show' Is Scheduled Thursday Eve

TSN's popular horror show, "Mid-world," offers another spine-tingling drama over Station KBST Thursday. Entitled "Pollidor's Candles," the play follows the strange and eerie experiences of a young American lost in the underground catacombs of ancient Italy. What happens when he stumbles upon "Pollidor's Candles" in the skeleton-strewn gloom will provide many a chill for listeners. The show is broadcast at 9:15 p. m.

PERSONALITIES

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kieran, sports writer for the New York Times and one of the most amazing personalities on radio today, will be saluted on "Personalities in the Headlines," a TSN production to be heard at 10:15 a. m. Thursday on Station KBST.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be saluted for her unprecedented policy of giving newspaper women "fireside standing" at the White House.

Kieran, says program commentator Roger Campbell, is a man whose appearance proves that "an educated brain need not wear a stuffy shirt." Kieran is known in this part of the country principally for his erudite work on the staff of "Information Please" answer experts.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Good 1. e. Giants; so nice to have seen Bobby Curtis and Jack Rogers, the Rice tennis stars, flattered here for the Eastern championship. Somewhere along the way a hick cop pinched 'em for having a cap pistol in their jolopy. What really hurt Oscar Vilt's heart was to look up and see five of his ex-hired hands (Russo, Rosar, Dahlgreen, Gordon and Henrich) helping the Yanks knock the daylight out of the Indians.

Hey There, Mister

A couple of cents named Bunnard Gardner have opened a joint in Poplar Bluff, Mo., called the "Me and Paul Cafe." We thought Paul and Dixie Dean had a copy-right on that one.

Get Joe Engel to tell you how they almost tossed him into the clink for ticket scalping when he tried to get rid of an extra ticket to the all-star game in front of the Yankee stadium. The New York Boxing commission said "no" when Mrs. Lew Jenkins, wife of the Texas lightweight champ, asked for permission to second her husband in last night's fight with Baby Fress.

Today's Guest Star

John F. Carmichael, Chicago Daily News: "By the way, has anybody introduced Arnovich to Gabby Hartnett yet?"

The Boston Globe front pages Joe Cronin as "the man of the week" and says: "He saved baseball from dictatorship." The New York Herald-Tribune hopes the Cubs, who have only 15 able-bodied employees left, have invested in the new group hospitalization plan. The New York Post hints Frankie Frisch will manage the Cubs if and when Gabby Hartnett gets what the Sands Perot set would call the old heave-ho.

Wrong Address

Jimmy Powers, sports editor of The News, added an open letter to President Ford Frick today asking the suspension of Billy Jurges be lifted for the duration of the Giant emergency.

Recreation News

The tennis courts at the city park have been filled to capacity throughout the week both early morning and late afternoon. Many have been unable to play because of the lack of courts. To relieve this congestion every morning is urged to make one hour reservations.

Attendance on the city playgrounds has also increased this week. Such large numbers participate in the musical programs at the municipal auditorium that a change in program plans has been made. Beginning Monday July 24, Mondays and Wednesdays will be children's days in the auditorium, and Tuesdays and Thursdays will be adult days. Everyone will come Friday for a general musical social at which time special programs and entertainments will be featured.

All of these musical instruction programs are free to the public and everyone is invited to take part. A girl's sunrise breakfast is being planned at South Side for the latter part of the week. All girls in their early teens are invited to enjoy the outing.

There will be a Doll Show at the city park Friday afternoon. All little girls are urged to bring their dolls and compete for the awards to be presented. The time is 4:30 p. m., the place is near the wading pool at the city park, and the date is Friday, July 21.

Repairs to the drainage system of the Mexican Plaza wading pool are expected to be completed today. The pool which has been closed several days will then be opened to the children of that area.

A musical party is being arranged for the children at Mexican Plaza Friday afternoon. The program will start at 7 o'clock.

Western Open Medal To King

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 19 (AP)—Maybe it's the altitude, but more likely it's just that this Broadmoor course offers tough golf as well as eye-taking scenery.

Anyway, 243 players—believed to be a record for this tournament—entered the 39th annual Transmississippi drive and only three fought Broadmoor's par 70 to a standstill in yesterday's qualifying round. Yet this is rated the fastest Transmississippi field in history.

The all-day struggle left the 63 best scorers and lean-chinned Ven Savage, defending champion from Salt Lake City who didn't have to qualify, to go back to the peak-picketed battleground today for the first round of match play.

Only one campaigner, Rufus King of Wichita Falls, Texas, a veteran golfer and trapshoot artist at 23, cracked par. He won the medal with a 32-57-69, against a bothersome southeast wind.

Two others matched card figures, with good-looking John Barnum of Edinburg, Texas, and Bob Babbish, University of Detroit student, both shooting 70.

Savage drew Jark Kerns of Denver in the initial fray. Kerns notched a creditable 75 in the qualifying. Medalist King also faced a Denver sharpshooter, Fred Newton, who qualified with 75.

Three former Transmississippi champions shot well, Don Schumacher of Dallas taking a 73, John Dawson of Hollywood a 74, and Eddie Held of Denver a 72.

Today it was Schumacher against J. C. Hamilton, Oklahoma City; Dawson against Steve Shaub, Colorado Springs, and Held against Ray Lowell, Jr., Colorado Springs.

Big Harry Todd, 22-year-old Dallas sharpshooter, opened against Ed Moore of Denver in his quest for this mountain tournament title to go with the Western Amateur crown he won at Oklahoma City Sunday. Todd bagged a 78.

E. E. Hooker of Paris, Texas, shot a neat 33-39-74 to qualify. Today he met Bill Kincaid of Denver, who had a 78.

Recently he's had lots of trouble, he explained to city council. People have put too many razor blades in the garbage and when a hog eats a blade "you can just kiss him goodbye."

Giant Mishaps A Death Blow

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—At the rate they are going to pot, the once proud Giants will be lucky to finish as high as fourth in the National league race.

Only a few days ago they were a scrappy, confident club, certain their hitting would enable them to catch Cincinnati in the stretch. Now they look all through, and the Reds can stop worrying about them.

Fines and suspension plastered on them over the weekend by President Ford Frick appeared to take all the fight out of Colonel Will Terry's men, and the injuries to Lon Chiozza and Harry Danning knocked them in a heap.

Almost overnight they have found themselves forced to fall back on perhaps the most inept infield this side of the minor leagues. No replacements are in sight—not until Billy Jurges' suspension ends a week from now.

Terry sits glumly on the bench, seldom sticking his nose on the field during the game.

Terry wandered out once yesterday when Burgess Whitehead, playing an unaccustomed shortstop, let a throw from Joe Moore crack him on the shin. For a time as Whitehead thrashed around on the ground, it looked like they might have to bring in pitcher Slim Melton to play the shortstop, but Whitehead finally recovered sufficiently to limp through the remaining innings against the Cardinals.

The Giants wouldn't argue over a decision, even when Hippie hit what looked like a legitimate double down the left line and the umpire said foul. A week ago the same decision would have provoked at least a small riot.

FAST BURGLAR

HOUSTON, July 19 (AP)—Joe Z. Butera, grocer, today shot twice at a negro burglar he caught in his yard.

Explaining to police his poor marksmanship, Butera said: "The burglar outran the bullets."

The house in which Andrew Johnson was born in Raleigh, N. C., has been moved to three locations.

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

now, of course. But too late, SUIL, he offered turned down.

"I will pick up the broken threads I will find work of some kind."

"I'll tell you what you ought to do, Dipsang," said Richard Craftonbury enthusiastically. "You ought to ally yourself with some good, sound company. With a going concern."

"Precisely," agreed the Chilean. "I had something of the sort in mind."

"I have it," said Richard Craftonbury. "I'll find you a berth on one of our tankers. Second mate or boat's mate or something."

Behind his magnificent mustaches, the Chilean smiled. He was distinctly not a lover of the sea, except in fancy. As a matter of fact he had once been violently ill on the Staten Island ferry. However he declined the offer of the job on the oil tanker in nautical manner.

"Avaunt there!" he said now to Richard Craftonbury. "I'm done with the sea. You will appreciate I am sure, that after my harrowing experiences the sight and sound of the ocean sickens me."

Richard Craftonbury snorted. He was not accustomed to having jobs concluded tomorrow.

"Well," he said grudgingly, "what suggestions have you to make? Some provision for your future has to be made."

The Chilean smiled inwardly. It was extremely good of this irritated gentleman to be concerned for his future. Now, if the gentleman were prepared to lend a sympathetic ear to a little proposal that he would put forward presently all would be beer and skittles.

"It is strange," he said, "how every so often, a place or a location seems to twist itself around one's heart. Tonight as I approached your estate and gazed at your broad acres and stately trees, I experienced an unaccountable feeling of belonging to them. My limited vocabulary does not permit an accurate description of the sensation. But I stood for a moment by those magnificent iron gates at the head of your driveway and I said to myself: 'Dipsang, I said, 'you're coming home.'"

He stopped, remembering that he was a seafaring man "Douse my to-gal-lants, if I didn't."

Concluded tomorrow.

Band Leader's Wife Suicides

HOLLYWOOD, July 19 (AP)—19-year-old wife of a dance band leader is dead of a bullet police say she fired herself as the climax of an argument with her husband over a four-hour absence from a new colony where they spent the weekend.

Police Capt. Dalton H. Patti said an investigation had convinced him Dawn Blood Noel, daughter of the once-noted Broadway actress Adele Blood, was a suicide. Details of the shooting were sobbed at by 36-year-old Herbert (Jimmy) Noel, her husband of 18 months.

Noel told officers he was braiding an acquaintance over the telephone for accompanying a wife away from the camp when he heard a shot. Rushing into the room of their north Hollywood home he found her lying on the floor, blood streaming from a wound in her temple.

"We had gone last Saturday afternoon to the nudist camp, Tunas canyon," Patton quoted Noel as saying. "The party continued that night, all day Sunday and Monday. We came home about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning."

"We had been doing some driving at the camp and made several trips back to the (Noel) house during the party. Monday night, about 8 p. m., Dawn said she was going home to feed the dogs and care them, and that she would be right back. She didn't come back for hours."

"I found that two men and a girl I know only as Jeanette joined Dawn at my home."

Noel said his wife had seemed despondent and melancholy most of the time since her mother killed herself on the grounds of the Westchester country club, Port Chester, N. Y., in September, 1938.

RESCUED PASSENGERS TRANSFERRED AT SEA

TOKYO, July 19 (AP)—The rescued passengers and crew of the ill-fated Japanese freighter Boku Maru were transferred at sea today from the rescue ship, the American tanker Associated, to the Florida Maru to permit them continue on to Japan.

The Boku Maru was en route from San Pedro, Calif., with a cargo of Chilean nitrates yesterday when an explosion and fire occurred about 3,750 miles west of San Francisco. The Tide Water Associated Oil company tanker was first to reach the freighter after her SOS.

(The tanker, captained by L. Hawkins, en route from Manila, San Francisco, reported that she picked up all but three of the freighter's 212 passengers and crew the others being lost.)

"I saved a dollar today"

It's a great satisfaction to look over the day's accounts and find you've been able to save money by careful buying.

Knowing where to buy is part of the trick. But knowing how to buy is a bigger part. The wise "business manager" of the home plans her shopping as skilfully as a business man plans to spend a thousand dollars.

Advertisements help greatly, of course. On daily necessities like meats, fruits, vegetables, they show you how to save 2c here, 3c there, adding up to much. But advertisements are just as helpful on larger purchases—furniture, draperies, motor cars, clothing. Followed carefully, advertising saves you money all down the line . . . helps you run the household more economically . . . gives the budget a chance to breathe!

OTHER FISH IN THE SEA—Fish names seem appropriate for these underwater craft, submarines of Uncle Sam's navy, shown alongside their mother ship, the U.S.S. Holland, at San Diego. From right to left are the Sturgeon, the Permit and the Pickerel. The submarines have since gone to Hawaiian waters to engage in maneuvers with other surface and undersea craft.

Park Project Moves Along

The city's expansive WPA park project is moving along at a satisfactory rate, B. J. McDaniel, city superintendent of operations, said Wednesday.

The amphitheatre, one of the central jobs on the project, is being pushed and workmen have in little better than two rows of seats in the structure that is designed for a capacity of 6,000. Other shaping up work is being done on parts of the out-door auditorium.

Other men were busy setting up the crusher and in laying in a store of rock for turning out crushed rock to be used in topping work in the park.

McDaniel anticipated an early start on the building of several new picnic units with stone tables and benches.

Work on the women's rest room in the park was completed and the building opened.

Excavations have been made for base material on two double tennis courts to be located immediately east of the museum. They will be topped when base settles and the WPA furnishes asphalt.

60 feet and across a wire fence from the Dickson car. Dickson, who had on no shoes when found, was barefoot at the time of the struggle, Divelbess said.

There were tracks of two other men, believed to be hitchhikers and who previously had been seen with Dickson, besides those of a man wearing cowboy boots.

The man wearing boots, Divelbess said, ran from the scene and 150 feet away tossed a heavy revolver into a clump of bushes. Handles of the revolver were found on the car floor, and it was believed Dickson had been clubbed with the gun's butt.

The weapon had been snapped wide and Divelbess expressed belief the owner tried to shoot Dickson before using the gun as a club.

J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, told Barkley this met the objections he had raised to the section yesterday.

Eccles had urged approval of the railroad section, contending there was a need for the equipment, but asked amendment along the lines proposed by Barkley.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Aircraft shares led a final hour recovery in the stock market today but many leaders failed to get out of the narrow rut in which they had fluctuated all day and there were more minus than plus signs at the close.

The opening was modestly fast on the downside, with traders anxious to annex the gains made in the rallies of Monday and Tuesday. Activity later slowed.

Until near the end no special group appeared to be favored, although the motors gained the edge for a time.

Brokers assigned the reaction to profit realization prompted by the bulge earlier in the week. President Roosevelt's view a possibility of war still existed in Europe, as expressed after a conference of congressional leaders last night, brought the Danzig question to the fore again and was said to have caused a few traders to pull out for the time being.

Socialists

Free City but on the whole illegal activities of the Socialists was not an active problem.

The police also announced details of "emergency measures" taken since Danzig-Polish relations became acute.

They said the Free City police force had been increased to about 4,000 men on active duty. In addition Free City authorities were authorized by special decree to conscript more men for "police duty" but they said up to now service has been on a voluntary basis.

Would Codify Oil Proration Procedure

SANTA FE, N. M., July 19 (AP)—Delegates to the Interstate Oil Compact commission meeting which opened here today heard a recommendation for appointment of committees to study and codify proration practices.

The suggestion, by the commission's committee on economics, dealt directly with minimum standards of oil conservation, described by Vice Chairman Hiram Dow of Roswell, N. M., as the commission's chief concern at the meeting.

The work of the two advisory committees would form a basis on which to establish standards for crude oil production, insuring "effective and practical conservation," the economics group reported.

The committee listed these principles as "embodying the fundamental of the conservation movement:

1. Each oil pool shall be limited in output to its optimum rate; that is, shall produce in such a manner that the ultimate oil recovery will be the maximum consistent with economic limitations.
2. Equity amongst competing interests be done by operating wells so cross drainage is minimized.

The application of these two principles, the committee reported, would "leave each operator free to produce his oil with a minimum of capital expenditure, thus the problem of well spacing will be automatically solved."

The report added that if the same standards are adopted by each state for optimum production rates and preservation of "correlative rights of property, then price and other economic influences will be free to guide investment and development policies while the objectives of conservation in the broadest sense will be fulfilled."

CHINESE REPORT SUCCESS AGAINST JAPS IN BATTLE

SHANGHAI, July 19 (AP)—Chinese military reports from the deep interior told today of major successes against Japanese forces long stalemated in Hupeh and Shansi provinces, the present main theaters of combat in the two-year-old Japanese-Chinese war.

These advices said a big scale battle was in progress in southeastern Shansi province, scenes of intermittent hostilities since the first weeks of the war. The Chinese reported their foe had lost 7,000 men there in the past fortnight.

On the other front, about 100 miles west of Hankow, the Chinese reported they were pushing the invaders back from the Han river which they had been trying to cross since a few weeks after the Oct. 26 fall of Hankow.

The Japanese drive westward through Hupeh province had been directed at Shasi and Ichang, important mid-Yangtze ports upriver from Hankow.

It was impossible to confirm the latest Chinese reports but it had long been apparent the Japanese were stalled in Shansi and Hupeh.

LEGAL BATTLE LOOMS ON GOLD 'STRIKES'

BRONSON, Mich., July 19 (AP)—A second "strike" of gold within a week on a farm near here threatened today to precipitate a legal battle for possession.

Frank Belot, whose three young sons unearthed $1,300 in gold coins from a buried tin Sunday, pulled $1,120 more from an old metal cylinder beneath his front porch yesterday.

Belot turned the money over to Sheriff Homer Burns, who deposited it in a bank.

Laddie Kregger, owner of the farm which Belot rents, refused to confirm or deny reports he had made a find of his own. Both Kregger and Belot retained attorneys to defend their respective claims to the money.

CORRIGAN AND BRIDE LEAVE CORPUS

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 19 (AP)—Douglas Corrigan and his bride of two days left here shortly before noon for an unannounced destination but flew in the direction of Houston.

"He'll probably wind up at San Antonio," H. C. Hay, manager of a local hotel where the Corrigan's had been staying said.

Employees of the local airport could get nothing out of the wrong-way flier other than "going to California."

Hospital Notes

Miss Mae Mize of Colorado underwent major surgery Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Loretta Stockton, 1200 Main street, is in the hospital for medical treatment.

Miss Dorothy Dublin, 600 Scurry street, was admitted to the hospital Tuesday evening for medical treatment. She was improved Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Q. L. Hall of Wink underwent minor surgery Wednesday morning.

LIONS CONTINUE NEW DUES PLAN

In a business meeting Wednesday, Lions voted to continue their new policy of monthly payment of dues and meal costs following a trial period of three months.

A letter from Dr. J. E. Hogan, club president who is attending the international convention in Pittsburgh as club delegate, was read to the members.

Lester Short, member from the Midland club, attended the meeting.

TO CELEBRATE THE CLEARING OF DEBT AGAINST CHURCH

A banquet to celebrate the clearing of the negro Methodist church debt has been set for July 30, it was announced Wednesday.

By special contributions from business men, individuals and members of the congregation, obligations totaling $177.48 were cleared, said B. C. Brock, pastor, who thanked all who made gifts to the cause.

IN WASHINGTON

B. Reagan is in Washington, D. C., this week on business affecting the compress and other local interests. He is looking into measures which replace port warehouses with inland cotton when lint is moved from coast points under barter agreements.

The earliest American roads followed Indian or buffalo trails.

TONSILS REMOVED

Mrs. Joe Dorsey of Kermit underwent a tonsillectomy at the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital Wednesday morning.

NO AGREEMENT IN TIENSIN DISPUTE

TOKYO, July 19 (AP)—After a heated five-hour discussion of the Tientsin dispute, British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craiffe and Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita parted angrily this evening, according to an authoritative source, and postponed their next meeting until Friday.

They were still deadlocked over scope of the discussions aimed at settlement of British-Japanese friction at Tientsin, although authoritative Japanese had expressed belief Britain had agreed to permit the conference to embrace more than local issues.

WOMEN ARRESTED

In a drive against vice in certain quarters of the city, county officials have arrested five women during the past three days. Three have entered pleas of guilty to vagrancy and two others are being held in the county jail.

JAP POLICE ARREST PASSENGERS UNDER CURRENCY LAW

KOBE, Japan, July 19 (AP)—Police boarded the American liner President Pierce today and arrested several passengers on charges of violating the amount of Japanese currency brought into Japan.

It was the first case of a foreign ship being boarded for this purpose.

The names and nationalities of those arrested were not made known but the officer who conducted the examination said the charges were not serious.

The law forbids bringing in more than 200 yen ($54). The yen can be bought in the open Shanghai market much cheaper than in Japan, where the rate of about 27 cents per yen is maintained.
