Tom Burges Writes

The Hansford Headlight:—I have been intending for some time to write a letter to the headlight and in that way to express my sincere thanks to our Hansford and Hutchinson county friends who have so kindly remembered us soldier boys. The Headlight is sure a welcome visitor. It is just like getting a letter from home.

Well, I have begun to realize that I am in the army, but can hardly realize that we are at war, for the simple reason, I am treated so well. Of course it is hard on us boys, who were accustomed to doing about as we pleased in civil life, but it will prove the making of many young men. We are up at 5 o'clock, fall in line at 6 o'clock and take 15 or 20 minutes "setting up" exercise. Then we are dismissed to wash our faces and fall in for breakfast. At 8 o'clock we again fall in and go out to the drill ground, where we get "squads east" and "squads west" until we are all in and at 11:30 we come in and get ready for beans. Believe me, that bean dish does do some "squads right-and-left." But the worst of all those beans don't get settled good before they again call us to "fall in." It is a continual fall in and keeps us busy all day long. But most of us would rather fall in and fall out here until we have a thorough knowledge of the war game, so that the chances of falling out for good are not so great when our time comes to "go over the top." We may go at any time, but I rather think we will stay here at Camp Bowie until the first of the year.

Here is a little "home" you may print:

Now since we've joined the army, Do you think you're doing right, When you treat the slacker better,

Than you treat the men who fight? If he won't defend his country

He is hardly worth a damn, And nothing but a nuisance,

In the eyes of Uncle Sam.

From eighteen years to forty, He's supposed to volunteer

And buckle on the armor, With not a sign of fear.

But you'll find him chasing dollars, Playing games and at the dance—

For he would rather go to hades Than to take a trip to France.

We're not disposed to grumble But we think it mighty queer,

That the soldier drinks the water While the slacker gets the beer.

We must always be in quarters Rather early in the night,

And show up in the morning With our faces clean and bright.

But the slacker is a piker, And with no one else to please,

Save the one and forty pounder, That he arms around at ease—

He is all for gain and pleasure, For his country takes no chance,

But he ought to be in hades, If he's afraid to go to France.

I don't know whether you can read this or not, but do your best—that is what I am doing.

I thank you for the paper and for the many kindnesses shown the soldier boys.

Very truly,
TOM BURGES,
Camp Bowie, Company G, 142nd Inf.,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Christmas for Soldier Boys

There is no time to be lost now if Christmas boxes for the soldiers in France are to have a chance to arrive on time. You should send a box—even if you have no son, brother or sweetheart in the army. Send one for some lad who has no home folks to send him gifts. Read Julia Rotmeyer's article "What Can We Do," in this issue of the Headlight.

FINANCING THE WAR

So stupendous has been the cost of the war that people are becoming accustomed to talking as glibly about billions as they once did about millions. The total expenditures entailed by hostilities are now estimated at approximately $100,000,000,000. Up to the present time the financial burden has been felt most by Great Britain. Of the total amount of more than $10,000,000,000 which the stronger of the belligerent nations have lent to their allies and to the neutral countries, Great Britain has provided more than half, Germany $2,500,000,000, and France about $800,000,000. The United States' loans to the Allies are rapidly approaching a total of $2,000,000,000, and that amount will certainly exceed that lent by any other nation in the world, unless the war should end sooner than is now expected. The United States is lending to other countries at the rate of about $500,000,000 a month, and the rate is likely to exceed this greatly with the progress of the war.

The United States is amply able to bear the financial burden. Its resources are so enormous that the cost of the war can be met without any such heavy hardships and sacrifices experienced by European countries. The people of the United States, however, should not deceive themselves into believing that this war is going to be won without their making great sacrifices. Some think that they have already done so in subscribing to the Liberty Loan, but in buying these bonds they have performed a far greater service for themselves than for their government. For the investment is likely to reap them a good profit after the war is over, when the bonds are almost certain to enhance in value. The greater pinch is, of course, felt in the higher cost of living and the increased taxation. But a true patriot will rejoice in paying more taxes when he knows that, by so doing, he is furnishing a direct contribution toward the successful prosecution of the war, and he will regard the higher cost of living as being largely a natural corollary of the war.

The financial burden should be shared largely by the United States, because it is able to bear that burden. The total wealth of the country is estimated at $250,000,000,000, although these figures are more of a guess than an estimate. The per capita wealth is about $2,392. The Civil War cost the nation about $3,000,000,000. In 1870 the per capita debt was about 7 per cent of the per capita wealth of the country. Although the interest-bearing government today is about $5,000,000,000, the per capita debt is only about 1.6 per cent of the per capita wealth. So the United States still has billions to spend, and a long distance to go, before the financial condition of the country begins to be as unfavorable as it was after the Civil War.

There is another thing that has not been given much consideration by those who are fretting about the enormous debt that the United States is piling up. The billions of dollars advanced to the Allies, because going for a splendid cause, must be reckoned as a pure and simple investment of the highest class. The money so lent is bearing interest, and when the loans are liquidated, it will be seen that the great amount of money which it has been necessary to raise in the United States has not all been consumed, never to be returned.

The daily outlay of the United States to meet the cost of the war,

Prominent Citizen Weds

A. E. Townsend went to Kansas City last week and on Thursday, October 25 was married to Carrie R. Miles. The wedding occurred at the home of Milton Roberts, a friend of the contracting parties, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. R. Fuller Jaudon, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church. This wedding was the culmination of a little romance extending over a period of several years. The bride's home was at Waterloo, Iowa, and becoming interested some years ago in Hansford county real estate, she decided to come out to the southwest and take a look at her newly acquired possessions. Here she met Mr. Townsend, a friend of long standing, and then as he now is, one of Hansford county's prominent real estate dealers. "Old fires soon kindle," and the quiet little wedding in Kansas City only bears out the Headlight's contention that an investment in Hansford county land brings to the investor peace, happiness and prosperity. Mrs. Townsend is by no means a stranger to Hansford folks and she will make a valuable addition to Hansford church and social life. Mr. Townsend has been a resident of Hansford for a dozen years or more and, as they say of a candidate for a county office, needs no introduction to the people of this section. He is a capable, industrious business man and never fails to help out with all moves for the good of the community.

HARRY LAUDER'S WAR SPEECH

To a party of business men in New York City the other day, Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, told of the Germans turning naked English prisoners long to go back to their own lines and then moving them down with machine guns. "I know that's true," said Lauder, "because my only son told me. When I say my son I know you will believe me, for he fought and died and died for France. I love France," he continued, "I own a little piece of France. It is where my son is buried on a beautiful green hillside. And when I went to his grave I wanted to reach down under the grass and put my arms about his neck and kiss him and thank him for all he had done for his mother and me." When the little Scotchman went on with his speech there were few dry eyes in the room.

Buy Section in Ochiltree County

A. M. Mills of the firm of Fash & Mills, returned Sunday from a trip to Ochiltree county, Texas. He was accompanied on the trip by Fred Ashley. Mr. Ashley was so favorably impressed with the country that he purchased a section of land there. Through the efforts of Messrs. Fash and Mills, quite a good sized colony of Wood county people are locating in Ochiltree county along the new railroad that is now building through that county.—Alva Pioneer.

Mr. Lee Cator was shopping in the city Wednesday.

Frank Dreesen and wife were among the visitors to the county seat Wednesday, trading and looking after business.

Immediately after the wedding the happy couple came to Hansford and have begun housekeeping in the home prepared by Mr. Townsend for his bride.

The Headlight wishes the newly-weds much happiness and prosperity.

The telephone line building out along the line of the new railroad, the North Texas & Santa Fe, and rushed with all rapidity possible, and the Shattuck will be in touch long before the new railroad is ready for business. Poles and the wire were laid down and has been "strung" as far as Longwood, 29 miles out.—Shattuck Monitor.

THE PLEDGE CARD CAMPAIGN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held at the Church Sunday Afternoon

The meeting held at the church in Hansford on last Sunday afternoon was the most intensely patriotic of any yet held in Hansford county. A. E. Townsend, who has been appointed Federal Food Administrator for the county, called this meeting for last Sunday afternoon for the special purpose of having the food conservation movement fully explained, preparatory to the launching of the great Pledge Card Campaign. Porter A. Whaley, Federal Food Administrator of the eighth Texas district, with headquarters in Amarillo, was present and at the request of Mr. Townsend, set forth the administrator's plans for food conservation. Mr. Whaley is an enthusiastic worker, a splendid speaker and good organizer. His address rang with true patriotic spirit and did much to awaken our citizens to a realization of the magnitude of the war proposition and the necessity of each doing his "bit."

Hon. E. N. Waits, representing the National War Council of the Army and Navy and now located at Camp Bowie, in Young Men's Christian Association work, made a splendid address in which he outlined the work the Association is doing for our boys in the training camps. His familiarity with army conditions made his address both interesting and instructive.

Hon. W. H. Cradler, of Amarillo, our representative in the legislature from this district, delivered the real patriotic speech of the afternoon, which set our people on fire and put them in the proper mood for taking up the work of the conservation of food.

Messrs. Russell and Fuller, two other speakers from Amarillo were also present, but the afternoon being already far spent, and the Amarillo crowd having to make the drive home, it was thought best that the remainder of the time of the meeting be utilized in perfecting the organization of workers for the great Pledge Card Campaign. Mr. Townsend, in a brief talk, stated that when he received the appointment as county chairman, he felt the need of particular instruction along the line of the work expected of him, and also that we being somewhat isolated from the great centers where much speaking and agitation was going on, should have a meeting and some good speakers to address us.

He asked Mr. Whaley to send us a speaker for Sunday afternoon, and Amarillo had responded with five, for which we felt grateful. This is only in keeping with the war movement in all lines. We were called on to subscribe for Liberty Bonds and in each instance the amount was doubled or tripled. Hansford county is called on for at least 200 pledges in this conservation plan and we are hoping we shall even exceed that number. So far, the canvassers tell us, they have not approached a single person or family who have refused to sign the pledge card. The entire county is being canvassed this week by agents representing the Federal Government. These agents are home folks—our neighbors, but nevertheless members of the Federal Government plan. We expect to see Hansford county roll up her full quota by the end of the campaign week, and have good reason to believe she will exceed the number called for. We want to see every family represented in this great conservation army, and let us not forget that we have promised to furnish the "Grub-Stake" for the allies and that in this conservation plan each can do his bit in the great work.

Dr. Gullier was called to Ochiltree last Friday to see Dr. May, who was quite sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Woodring are happy over the arrival on Monday, October 29, of a fine little daughter at their home.

A. E. Powers was in from the ranch twelve miles down the Palo Duro Tuesday, trading and looking after business.

T. G. Logue, general agent for the National Equitable Society of Austin spent a day or so in Hansford the first of the week and was a pleasant caller at the Headlight office.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spivey and Miss Mildred Riley were in Hansford Saturday trading and looking after business matters. Miss Riley is teaching the school out in district No. 11 and Mr. Spivey is the trustee.

I. S. Miller from Platt county, Missouri, is a guest at the McComas ranch, in the north part of the county. Mr. Miller, L. R. I. H. and Ra. McComas were in Hansford Saturday and were pleasant callers at the Headlight office.

J. P. McNabb of Ranger and Jess McNabb and wife of Chillicothe, Texas, arrived the first of the week and are guests of their brother W. S. McNabb and family. These are exceptionally busy times out on the McNabb ranch and if the brothers get little visits out without having to do a bit with the feed and what crop they will be exceptionally lucky.

The following little gem that fairly glitters with common sense, says the Dodge City Globe, is picked up from the Jetsam and fotsam of anonymous letters which appear from time to time in our exchanges. It is good enough to pass along because it describes a condition that exists in almost every rural community:

The country boy grew up in an atmosphere of discontent. Every day he went to the mail box, and, almost every day he brought back to the farm house more or less advertising matter that had been sent out by city concerns to interest country folks in city institutions. He heard his father complain that conditions in the country were not what they ought to be; that the stores did not carry the stocks of goods they should carry; that the merchants were too selfish; that he could not get the prices he should get for the things he grew on the farm; that he had to pay too much for what he bought in town; that taxes were too high; that the country preacher got too big a salary and that he couldn't preach much, and that the schools in the country were not educating the boys as they should be educated; that good neighbors were getting scarce; that times had changed in the last few years and that he made a mistake when as a young man he worked so hard to get a farm and settle down in the country. And the boy, as he heard his father talk, thought much on these things. As he came from the mail box he stopped now and then to read the advertising matter the city concerns sent out. In the city paper which his father took, he read want ads, wherein great opportunities were offered to bright young men. In his heart there grew a prejudice against the country. If the country was no good, why should he stay there. The germ of unrest; the germ of discontent had been planted by the father in the heart of the boy. And now the father in his declining years, when he needs the boy most, is wondering why Jack left home.

THIS MAN DID LICK THE KAISER

Probably the only man in the United States who ever licked the kaiser is Henry Drager, a blacksmith at Downs, Kans.

Drager was born in Prussia, and he spent his childhood days under the very eyes of Potsdam palace. William I was then the kaiser and the present occupant of the throne, who is the former's grandson, was a small boy about Drager's age.

The old kaiser was very fond of children, and in spite of the aristocratic rules of the royal house, he always had about all the boys in the neighborhood playing around the palace yard. The old kaiser himself would go out and arrange races among the boys, giving silver money to the winners.

The present kaiser was kept in school every day except Sunday; so the neighbor boys never saw him on week days. But on Sundays he was allowed to go out and play with the little boys of humbler birth, who lived in the vicinity. The main game was marbles. The boys in the neighborhood were well supplied with cheap "commies", as the boys of today still call them, but the future kaiser always had a big sackful of very expensive marbles, and the boys liked to get him into the game in the hope of winning some of his finest agates.

One day during a game, the present kaiser had a number of his best marbles in the ring when, by a lucky shot, young Drager won the pot. He made a grab for the bunch of marbles, but young William was quicker; and before young Drager could prevent it he heir to the German throne had scooped up all of the expensive marbles he had lost, and was preparing to run with them.

In the excitement of the moment young Drager forgot all about the royal blood in the veins of his playmate--forgot that some day the little lad opposite him might be ruler of the fatherland. He forgot so completely, in fact, that he grabbed the future ruler of Germany by the nape of the neck and sat him down on the pavement in an emphatic manner, at the same time grabbing the highly prized marbles. The future kaiser, in much the same manner as any other boy would have done, began to cry; and ran to the palace with his tale of woe.

Little Henry Drager ran home, too to horrify his father with the story of his "treason". They feared that the old kaiser would be terribly angry, and that he would mete out some awful punishment upon the young offender. Contrary to their expectations, the old ruler passed the incident without a word, and little Henry kept the fancy marbles.

TO ERECT THEATER AT CAMP

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—Following the recent visit of a delegation of Boston members of the Masonic fraternity to Camp Devans, Ayer, Mass., where they conferred with Maj.-Gen. Harry F. Hodges, camp commander, it was learned yesterday that permission had been granted for the Masons to erect a theater at the cantonment for the soldiers.

Authority for the Masons to erect the playhouse was procured through the Commission on Training Camp Activities at Washington, one of the organizations created as a result of the war, and which is headed by Raymond B. Fosdick. This committee has charge of the welfare work at the various military camps throughout the United States.

It is the understanding in official quarters that the Masons are to erect the theater, and then turn it over to the camp as a gift from their fraternity, and that it will thereafter be in charge of the camp administration. The building will not be used as a secret fraternal headquarters or as a lodge room, it is understood, since the War Department has restricted the erection of such buildings. The Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus, the latter being the Roman Catholic secret order, of course, have buildings, but other secret orders as such have been denied the privilege of establishing fraternal quarters at the military cantonments. It is believed that the action of the Fosdick Commission, in permitting the Masons to erect a theater at Ayer, will set a precedent that may be followed by Masons at other of the cantonments.

General Hodges is to receive the new theater on behalf of the officers and men at the camp and he has expressed his appreciation of the interest the Masonic fraternity is taking in the welfare of the soldiers, and stated that the proposed amusement building will be heartily welcomed by the men.

A Bad Accident

John Kreiley, who has been employed at the Skiatook garage since the first of October, met with a serious accident Monday afternoon while doing some repairing on a car at the garage. He was using a blow-torch and for some reason the thing exploded, the exact cause for the explosion not being known. Mr. Kreiley's face was badly cut and his nose was nearly severed from his face by parcels of the can, which flew in all directions when the explosion occurred. Not only was he badly cut and bruised but gasoline flew all over his clothing and immediately caught on fire and he was badly burned, although the fire was extinguished in a very short time by fellow employees with the aid of a fire extinguisher. He was immediately given medical attention and it is difficult at this time to tell how his injuries will terminate, but it is thought he will recover.—Skiatook News.

E. A. Riner Taken to Canon City
Deputy Sheriff Grant left Monday morning with E. A. Riner from Canon City where Riner will commence a term of from 30 to 40 years in the state prison.

Riner was charged with the murder of Joe Hargis in August, 1915, tried in January, 1916, when the jury was hung. In June of the same year he was tried again and a verdict of second degree murder was returned against him. The case was appealed to the supreme court, but up to this time it has not been passed on and on a motion of a withdrawal of the appeal he was taken to Canon to commence his long term in prison.—Bacca County Democrat.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS FACULTY REINSTITATED

BOARD OF REGENTS TAKES ACTION UNDOING ALL THAT FORMER BOARD HAD DONE.

WINSON'S BUDGET ADOPTED

Resolution Inviting Dr. W. J. Battle Former Dean, to Return to the Institution is Also Adopted.

Austin.—At Friday's called session of the board of regents of the university of Texas the dismissed members of the faculty were reinstated with one exception. Other action taken to undo that which the former board had done, and an address issued to the people of Texas giving assurance that the university has a complete faculty, that the regents have every confidence in the faculty, and that the institution has adequate financial support for the next two years. The address promises a constructive program to attain a university of the first class, and terminates with a plea for parents to send their children to the school to get its many advantages.

Members of Board Present. Those present were Wilbur P. Allen of Austin, chairman; George W. Brackner and Fred W. Cook of San Antonio, W. R. Brents of Sherman, George W. Littlefield of Austin, John Selye of Galveston and W. H. Dougherty of Galveston. Those absent were S. J. Jones of Salado and C. E. Kelly of El Paso.

A resolution signed by Messrs. Brents and Cook effected the reinstatement of the six professors discharged at the meeting of the regents in Galveston on July 12. They are W. T. Mather, head of the physics department; A. Caswell Ellis, professor of education; John A. Lomax, secretary of the faculty; Will H. Mayes, dean of the school of journalism; George C. Butte and R. E. Coffey, professors in the law department. Professors L. M. Kenney, professor of institutional history, who was dismissed at the Galveston meeting by unanimous vote of the regents because of alleged activities in the peace league, was not reinstated.

Dr. Battle Asked to Return.

The resolution also invited former Dean Dr. W. J. Battle to return to the university and restored the salary in the school of home economics, which had been reduced 20 per cent at the July meeting.

The entire budget recommended at the Galveston meeting in July was adopted, including student assistants and the increases in a number of salaries. This was the budget prepared by Dr. Vinson. With Friday's action, every act performed by Governor Ferguson and the board as formerly constituted has been annulled.

The legislature re-enacted the appropriations that had been voted by Governor Ferguson and they were approved by Acting Governor Hobby. Mr. Hobby also appointed regents acceptable to university friends, displacing those who were held objectionable.

W. N. U. Purchases Plate Business.

New York.—Announcement has been made here that the Western Newspaper Union had purchased the entire plate business and plants of the American Press association in New York and 16 other cities. The Western Newspaper Union will take over the branches of the American Press association in Philadelphia, Buffalo, Columbus, San Francisco and Portland, Ore. The sale takes effect Sept. 15. The American Press association operated one plant in Texas, located at Dallas, which has been merged with the office there of the purchasing company.

$80,000 Road Bonds Voted.

Corsicana.—A road bond issue for $80,000 was carried in the Richland road district, the vote being 196 to 60 against. This will enable Richland to connect with the colorado-to-the-gulf highway.

El Paso Plumbers Strike for $8 Day.

El Paso.—Every plumbing establishment here was affected by a walkout of union plumbers, who demanded $8 a day. They now receive $7. They also are striking for overtime up to midnight, and double time after midnight.

$6,000 to Buy More Land for Normal

Denison.—Announcement is made that $6,000 of the fund for purchasing additional campus room for the Normal college has been raised and the general solicitation will begin next week. It is proposed to donate the block south of the college to the state.

Legislature Orders Full Investigation

Austin.—Sweeping investigations of all state departments and state institutions were provided for Monday by both branches of the legislature, acting independently and without plans for joint inquiry. The house adopted its original proposition, which calls for 30 committees, and the senate accepted the Westbrook resolution calling for 11 investigators, a total of 41 committees. Neither resolution is concurrent.

DROUTH RELIEF BILL PASSED

House Measure Provides for County Bond Issue to Purchase Seed and Feed.

Austin.—The Bell-Metcalf local option draft relief bill, written to meet the emergency which has arisen in west Texas, was finally passed by the house Tuesday.

There were 90 votes for its passage, 5 votes were recorded against it. The vote came without debate. The measure now goes to the senate for that body's consideration and thence, if favorably passed on there, to the governor's office.

As passed, the Bell-Metcalf bill carries no appropriation by the state for a monetary distribution in the drouth-stricken districts. It permits county commissioners' courts to call elections for a bond issue for the relief of needy farmers in the drouth stricken districts and for the purchase of seed and feed.

Ferguson Concludes Direct Testimony

Austin.—Gov. James E. Ferguson completed his direct testimony Tuesday, in answer to the impeachment articles presented to the senate by the house, and his cross-examination by M. M. Crane, counsel for the house, began. In a large measure the governor's testimony did not differ materially from his testimony before the house. W. A. Hanger, the governor's chief counsel, did not refer to article 11, which relates to the $150,000 loan to the governor from unknown sources, and so far during his senate testimony the respondent has made no reference whatever to this matter. Mr. Hanger omitted this article, when he reached it in regular order, and did not return to it when he had finished his questioning upon article 21, the last one.

No Pro Election at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth.—By a vote of 3 to 2 the commissioners' court of Tarrant county refused the petition of more than 3,000 qualified voters in seven of the eight justice precincts asking for a vote to determine whether or not intoxicating liquors should be sold in the area named. Arguments before the court in the matter had been exhaustive. Attorneys for petitioners claimed that the court had the legal authority to call the election and that it was purely a matter of discretion with the court as to whether or not the order should be made.

Officers Inspect Army Camp Sites.

Dallas.—A permanent army post and training camp, for which the government desires 250,000 acres of land, will be located within 50 miles of Dallas if a suitable site can be found. An army locating board arrived here from San Antonio, and after a conference with Mayor Lawler and officials of the chamber of commerce, the board left Dallas to inspect five possible sites. It is believed that the camp will be located in east Texas, if a suitable tract is found. It is the intention of the government to construct a war camp similar to that in which the British government is training its men for service. No less than 30,000 men will be trained at a time, and at this camp they will be expected to prepare themselves for immediate service in France.

Tells Plan for Capturing Washington

Atlanta.—It was part of the anti-concentration revolt plan of the farmers and laborers' protective association leaders to "march on Washington" by trains and automobiles. It was testified in federal district court here in the trial of 50 alleged members of the order on charges of seditious conspiracy against the government. O. L. Kirk of Benjamin, Knox county, testified that A. M. Collins, in reporting to the Benjamin lodge on the second state meeting at Cisco in May, told of the plan to seize the national capital.

Fight Begun on Pink Bollworm.

Austin.—Prompt and drastic steps are to be taken to exterminate the pink bollworm, which has appeared near Hearne, in Robertson county. Immediately after receipt of a telegram from C. L. Marlatt, chairman of the federal board of horticulture at Washington, urging cooperation of the state forces with federal representatives in the destruction of cotton in the infected fields, E. E. Schell, chief entomologist of the Texas department of agriculture, issued orders for the concentration of state forces at Hearne.

Fireman Killed in Katy Wreck.

Hughes Springs.—A Katy fast freight was wrecked at Newline, about 20 miles east of this place. The engine turned over, killing Fireman A. J. Ballard instantly and seriously wounding Engineer Bob Coffee, both of Greenville.

Following an all-day debate, the house, by vote of 70 to 21, endorsed the Bell-Metcalf bill providing for the issuance of bonds by counties for relief of farmers in time of public necessity. The immediate effect the bill is aimed at is to furnish relief for the west Texas drouth sufferers.

The defense began the introduction of evidence Thursday of last week in the trial of Gov. James E. Ferguson before the senate upon articles of impeachment, returned by the house. The defense testimony dealt almost entirely with the personal and official accounts of the governor at the Temple State bank and with the secretary of state's account there.

Some construction work in Dallas has been suspended temporarily on account of the scarcity of skilled and unskilled labor. Men in touch with the situation say that the heavy demand for labor by the army cantonnements and from other sources has taken so many men away from Dallas that workmen are not available and the demand far exceeds the supply.

At Friday's called session of the board of regents of the university of Texas the dismissed members of the faculty were reinstated, with one exception. Are You Eating To Win the War?

This Newspaper recommends Today's Housewife to every patriotic woman who wishes to help win the great war

Today's Housewife is especially needed by every homemaker in the present war-crisis, because the seven Courses in Domestic Science now running in the magazine help housewives to better select, prepare and conserve food supplies, to cut down waste, and at the same time to add to the health and welfare of the entire family.

Today's Housewife is the only magazine that maintains a model home where cookery recipes, new household devices, cleaning methods, etc., are put to practical tests before their appearance in the pages of the magazine.

The monthly lesson on "Cookery, Foods and Nutrition" under the direction of Caroline Hunt of the Department of Agriculture is alone worth the price of a ten-year subscription not only to the woman who follows each lesson but to the government of the United States in helping to win the terrific war with the Central Empires of Europe.

Favorite Magazine of Home-loving Women

REMEMBER, better home-making is the ideal back of TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE, its reason for existence, its earnestly planned-for goal. Better home-making in its largest sense, with the spiritual and mental no less than the material needs of the family in view; home-making as the biggest of woman's opportunities rather than house-keeping as the most dreary of woman's duties.

While Today's Housewife stands in a class by itself in its practical value to housewives, it is also noteworthy for its wonderfully inspiring editorial and special articles, for its clean, delightful stories, and its beautiful illustrations and covers by leading artists. Over one million women agree that TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is worth several times the price of 10 cents per copy.

You can save 45 cents by subscribing by the year through us instead of buying single copies. Call at our office and examine the current issue or mail your (new or renewal) subscription to us at once. Remember, a year's subscription for only 75 cents for the magazine that would be cheap at $1.50.
