Ike Sees No Benefit To Peace Cause

WASHINGTON (B-President Eienhower spoke out today against too much speculation and talk about war. He said it doesn't serve the cause of peace.

Eisenhower also said at a news conference that he has no information indicating the Chinese Reds plan to launch an attack soon on the Nationalist islands of Quemoy

The President's remarks carried an implied rebuke to Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval opera-tions. Carney has been identified as the source of a prediction, given to newsmen last week, that the Communists would start striking at Quemoy and the Matsus around April 15.

Asked specifically if Carney would be reprimanded, Eisenhower said not by him.

not ruling out the possibility of an attack in mid-April. But, he said, if anyone has information pointing clearly to such an attack, that person must have more information than the President of the United States.

At the outset of the conference, a reporter told Eisenhower that arney had been quoted as saying the Communists might attack Quemoy and Matsu next month. The newsman went on to say he under-stood the President felt otherwise and didn't like Carney's expressing the view which he did.

Eisenhower replied that no one possesses a crystal ball to determine the chances for war. He said that for anyone to prophesy when war might break out is to assume an accuracy of information which never yet has been attained. Eisenhower said that if he were going to make any comment on the situation it would be to say he does not believe the peace of the world would be served by talking too much in terms of war.

Under other questioning, Eisen-hower again declined to shed any light on whether the United States might go to the defense of the two ationalist offshore islands if the Reds do attack them.

The statement was brought forth by a storm of criticism in Britain, France and the United States following publication of an interview which Gromyko, then chief Soviet delegate at the arms talks, gave in London to a correspondent of Tass, the Soviet news agency.

BIGGEST CAR of the low-price 3 is Plymouth

MORE LUXURY OUTSIDE

You'll be understandably proud of the long, low, flowing lines of your new Plymouth. Its 17 feet of shining steel make it the biggest car of the lowprice 3 (8.4 inches longer than one car, 5.3 inches ahead of the other). And its glamorous new Full-View windshield, with swept-back corner posts, gives you wider, safer visibility than either of the "other 2" low-price cars.

MORE COMFORT INSIDE

Plymouth's greater over-all dimensions also mean more interior roominess. You get the widest front seat (by up to 2 inches), the greatest front and rear leg room (by up to 3.7 inches). Plymouth's door openings are higher and wider, too, permitting the easiest possible entry and exit. What's more, Plymouth's new trunk is mammoth-with far greater capacity than the "other 2."

SMOOTHER BIG-CAR RIDE

Only a truly big car like Plymouth can give you the luxury of a big-car ride. Plymouth's longer and stronger frame, wider rear springs and Oriflow shock absorbers provide the smoothest ride in the lowest-price field. And Plymouth's great new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 gives you the smoothest, thriftiest performance. Another top engine: Plymouth's new 167-hp Hy-Fire V-8.

Debt Of Gratitude To Robert Smith

Although we will be renewing an association as a community with Continental Air Lines, a vigorous and progressive carer which served Big Spring faithfully or five years, it is not without a degree of regret that we acknowledge the passing of Ploneer Air Lines.

Pioneer got into trouble with the CAB when it added faster and larger planes to its fleet last year. The CAB frowned on the move to the extent of denying increased subsidy to support the carrier during a period of adjustment, Moreover, when Pioneer was obliged to return to the dower and smaller craft, its subsidy was cut below the previous level. It seemed to lay observers at the time like punishment

In the end, Pioneer and Continental were merged, a move vigorously protested by couple of opposing carriers. Continental, of course, can be depended upon to main-tain the type of service which Texans and New Mexico residents came to expect from Pioneer.

We pay our respects to Robert J. Smith, who has served as Pioneer's president and guiding hand. He perceived the role of a feeder air line in our national transportation system, and he backed his perception with action. He developed not only the nation's first such service, but by far its largest and most important.

In stepping out boldly with a fleet of larger and faster planes, which he felt would in time carry an increasingly larger pay load to the extent subsidy could be reduced or erased, Smith said frankly that it was in part a firm wager on the progress of the Southwest. Although the regulatory rug was jerked from under him, Smith has been proven already by events to have been a man of practical vision. The Southwest and commercial aviation owe a debt of gratitude to him.

Some Things Improper For Attack

Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-WVa) got off base in his attack on President Eisenhower when he blasted publicity surnding the chief executive's church-going habits.

Of course, the senator is entitled to voice his criticism of the man or of his administration, and there could have been no more than the usual partisan banter cerning his attack on the President's affinity for golfing and fishing. Even his appraisal of the President's capabilities are a matter on which he or any other person is entitled to speak.

When he impugns the President's religious motives, the senator is sitting in judgment where man is ill advised to Certainly, neither the time of affiliation nor the constancy of a man's attendance upon the services of his church are proper matter for partisan debate. It is in extremely poor taste to suggest that either membership or attendance were assumed as a "religious tail for a political kite.

If some segments of the press have played this part of the President's life seemingly out of proportion, then the quarrel might be with failure to report with dignity and restraint. On the whole, however, we have not noticed any straining for effect on this point, and it seems to us that the example of the nation's first citizen being faithful to religious obligations is worthy of emmulation and not criticism. The sort of gallery play to which Sen. Neely resorted can end only in

J. A. Livingston Wall Street's More Than A Thermometer

WASHINGTON - Follow-ups on the tock market inquiry . . .

Bernard M. Baruch's statement that Wall Street is a thermometer, not the fever, needs examination. It's true that the stock market measures men's hopes and fears. But men aren't indifferent to this measure. That's what differentiates the stock market from carloadings, electric power output, the steel rate, and other business indicators.

A rising market makes men richer. Investors and speculators often spend some of their profits - on trips to Bermuda or Europe; a new car, a mink cape or diamond bracelet. That helps business.

The business executive seeing stocks rise - he often owns some - feels better off. His outlook improves. He's more daring in his operations. Thus, the stock market has a wondrous power all its own. Over short periods of time, it can make its own readings come true.

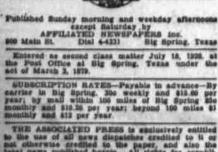

Thus, the market is a thermometer in the sense that it measures the attitudes of people toward stocks and business. But it also influences their attitudes. It's a thermometer which reacts on what it measures. That's its special power, Mr.

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey's observations on confidence also deserves a second look. "Confidence," said Secretary Humphrey, "is built slowly and can be easily shaken. A crowd leaving a theatre will walk out in orderly fashion in short order. But if someone calls 'fire,' terror can reign and great injury result."

The metaphor isn't entirely apt. A business man's confidence is affected by his order book, not by assertions, A worker's confidence is affected by his job status. If the firm is taking on additional help, he knows his job and his income are eafe. If the firm's laying off, he worries. Those are realities that underlie confi-

In Wall Street nobody need feel trapped. The stock market's exits are open every weekday from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Only when a decline is supported by pessimistic facts, by deteriorating business, does it gain momentum. The behavior of the market

Far from being a tender plant, like a hothouse orchid, confidence, one developed, is a rank weed, like Canadian thistle. In its advanced stages, it isn't easily disturbed by either statements or warnings. That's why nations have booms. Conversely, fear, once well-developed, gathers a force all its own, as during the Great Depression. Mere words won't make or break confidence, Facts - conditions - are what Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) would do well to check up on quotations which sully men's names.

David McCord Wright, of the University of Virginia, in December, 1953, was one of several discussants of "American Capitalism: the Concept of Countervailing Power," a book by John Kenneth Gal braith, professor of economics at Harvard University. (Gailbraith was a witness at the stock market inquiry.)

Wright disagreed with Galbraith's countervailing power economics: Big corporations, big unions, big farm organizations, and big government tend to restrain one another's power. He said: "Albeit quite possibly unconsciously, I should judge Dr. Galbraith one of the most effective enemies of capitalism and democracy."

I cabled him at Oxford University, England, where he is on leave under a Fulbright grant, as follows:

"Sen. Capehart has used your com ment on Galbraith as 'one of the most effective enemies of capitalism and democracy' to mean that you consider Gal-braith a Red. I gather you meant Gal-braith's Countervailing Power thesis is contrary to the classical economic theory of many buyers and sellers. Am I correct in assuming you didn't imply that Galbraith has Communistic leanings?"

Wright answered: "My comments in American Economic Review on Galbraith's book imply neither unqualified acceptance of classical economics on my part nor yet any charge of Communistic leanings on Galbraith's part. I felt Galbraith did not understand or appreciate some of the essential elements of capitalism but this does not imply a charge of Communist sympathies, Please quote this wire in full if at all."

A single sentence, lifted by Hall and Capehart out of a scholarly setting - a meeting of economists belaying one another's ideas and theories — gives a misleading impression. Wright's cable makes that clear,

U. S. Weather More Springlike

By The Associated Press The nation's weather was a little more springlike today, with some warming and clear skies in most areas east of the Rockies. The warming trend continued over the eastern two-thirds of the country. Below freezing temperatures early today were confined to the Great Lakes region, upper Ohio Valley and northern New England. Showers fell along coastal areas of Oregon and Washington while rain or snow was reported in the northern Rockies. There was some local cloudiness along the Gulf and Middle Atlantic Coast but elsewhere fair weather prevailed

Around The Rim Birdwell 'Loop' Again Suggested

I see by the papers where the county commissioners court is exploring the possibility of extending Birdwell Lane from its present terminus at Third Street so that it would go directly north across the T&P

tracks. This seems like a logical thing to do. First off, it will give utility to Second Street, which before long should be surfaced and thus become a good alternate route into and out of town. Moreover, it would provide a direct approach to the tracks and set up a rail crossing which would not be blinded by proximity of stock

If we keep tinkering with Birdwell Lane - and I think we ought to - it will become an increasingly important artery. And this brings me to my soap box theme of the day, namely linking the south end of Birdwell Lane to U. S. 87 about where Marcy Drive now intersects. We once proposed the idea dnd several members of the court had a look at a possible route. So far as I could guess at reaction, about the only other person who got excited over the thing was George White, highway committee chairman of the Chamber of Commerce. But I still think such a route is needed. I do not believe that the terrain presents any serious engineering problems for moving dirt is about the most economical type of construction these days. I know full well that such a loop is not the final answer for a south route around town, for Birdwell Lane already had considerable development along it and in time will be solidly settled. Yet it will suffice until such a time as the loop might be extended still further to the east beyond present and indicated building and then brought in to U. S. 80 a mile or two east of Birdwell Lane,

As was pointed out in the beginning, a loop off Birdwell Lane to Marcy Drive would shorten the driving time from Monticello Addition to Webb AFB considerably, and at the same time it would take a lot of traffic out of the downtown areas. While on the subject, let's look at the other end of Birdwell Lane, if and when it is carried across the tracks. Hardly two miles straight on the section lines would bring it to the Snyder highway.

Traffic from that direction bound for Cosden or for the south part of town would be effectively diverted. There would be a saving of several miles round trip for those who had business at Cosden, not to speak of relieving Benton, Second, Third or Fourth of this traffic. As for those in the southeast or south part of town, coming in or going out on the Snyder highway, there would be a corresponding saving in distance and time. If the south loop were opened, then it would be possible to swing around the east edge of Big Spring and come in on U. S. 87 just south of town without any increase in distance and certainly at a saving in

The steady and virtually inexorable increase in the number of motor vehicles makes it expedient to look ahead to ways of reducing congestion and stimulating the flow of traffic. I've just been thinking a bit - about six months or so from now I'll bring up the matter again. I venture I won't have to revise much of my thinking because of anything done between now and then.

Best Stories In Unlikely Places

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD UP-Sometimes you never thing you need if you want to act." can tell where the best story is lurking on a movie set.

For instance, I went a-visiting on the stage where "The Second Greatest Sex" was being made, It's "Lysistrata" brought to frontier Kansas, with the women of a settlement staging a love strike until their men end their long forays against other counties. The set was filled with women of all ages, but the one whose story intrigued me most was a girl named Edna Skinnerk

She was tall and good looking, but a Mother Hubbard and an upswept hairdo gave her a comic look. That might be discouraging to a girl who was once a New York model, but she doesn't mind. She likes to play comedy.

Not only was Edna a model. She has been a Broadway star, night club entertainer, farm hand and operator of a successful ranch in Bitter Root Valley, Mont. But here is her story:

The daughter of a paper manufacturer of upstate New York, she was given up to

"I had been an invalid during most of my childhood," she recalled. "I had chronic asthma, and in those days a case as bad as mine was considered fatal, I was sent to a hospital near Lake Placid, and I wasn't expected to come back. But I got under the care of a wonderful doctor, who was trying some new methods. There were five of us children under his care. Three pulled through; two didn't."

During her long illness, Edna nursed the ambition to be an actress. When she got well, she went to New York to attend the Academy of Dramatic Arts When she graduated, she auditioned for the role of Ado Annie in "Oklahoma!" She was to replace Shelley Winters in the New York company, but Celeste Holm suddenly got a call for a Hollywood test. Edna took her spot in the New York company, Later she did well as a night club star, but she didn't feel satisfied. She explained: "I knew I didn't know enough about life During most of my early life, I was sick in bed. When I was well, I often went with my father on business trips. I never really got to know people, and that's some-

So she pulled up stakes and headed West. In Montana, she fell in love with a broken-down ranch. She bought the 300 acres and some cattle and started working the place.

By the end of 412 years, the ranch was in fine shape. When an airline heiress offered to buy it, Edna put a price three times what she paid for it. To her amazement, it was accepted.

After a long European vacation, Edna figured she had learned enough about people and returned to her acting career, She played Esther Williams' sidekick in "Easy to Love" and has appeared in 20 "Topper" TV films.

Guild Has Indian Dinner

Mrs. Wayne Parmenter served a typical Indian dinner for members of the Wesley Methodist Service Guild meeting in her home Monday to begin a study of India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

The main course was meat curry over rice. Dessert was cream of wheat boiled in water with brown sugar, and green pepper, cottage cheese and tomatoes were combined for the salad.

Mrs. Parmenter spoke on public health and food in India. Joy Appleton told a short story with an Indian theme. Mrs. J. E. Peters of Southland gave a devotion, Mrs. Raymond Hamby and Mrs.

Dominican Republic to cook up a merengue. But that's what you'd do if you got there.

And in case you didn't know, the merengue is the newest dance craze to hit these shores. If the momentum increases, you can kiss goodby to the Puerto Rican bolero, the Brazilian samba, the Argentine tango, the Cuban rumba and the Paso Double, the Spanish buildight dance. bullfight dance.

The merengue is easy to do with bit of rhythm even if you've got two left feet. As a matter of fact it's a dance that will appeal to all the lazy men in your group be-cause you "just go rolling along." The movement of the dancers is like the monotonous rhythm of Dominican Republic workers cutting sugar cane with a dip of the foot, completing another basic body and a drag of the leg. Some say that the merengue was inspired by them. City folk do a more restrained version of the country merengue, but in any case it is sort of a lazy limp. On popular young man says ft
