POETRY.

The Voice of the Spring.

There's a voice on the river.

In the leaflets that quiver.

In the rush of the gale,

In forests, on mountains

And feathery singers are out on the wing ;

A voice in the vale.

Its music is heard,

Awake at its word,

Leaf, river and tree ;

Again ye are free ;

With musical streams,

And flowers be blushing

Your chains I have shaken,

Soon founts shall be gushing

With the bright hues of dreams.

Spring's flower crowned daughters

And jewels of beauty on earth I will fling, For nature shall bloom at the coming of Spring."

There's life in the waters,

There's light in the skies,

O'er earth they are flinging

From the tears of the night;

From royal Solomon's stupendous fane,

Is the fit temple of creation's Lord,

Its altar-earth ; its roof, the sky untainted ;

And clouds, by the celestial artists painted,

In one united hymn is heavenward sped,

Which all mankind may study and explore,

Hence learn we that our Maker, whose affection

That every race should love alike all others.

Christian, Jew, Pagan-children of one father,

Conscience, heaven's silent oracle, the assessor

Of right and wrong in every human breast,

Sternly condemns th' impenitent transgressor

The face of nature, its God written bible,

While none can wrest, interpolate, or libel

Knows no distinction-suffers no recall,

Sheds his impartial favor and protaction

Thus by divine example do we gather,

Sun, moon, and stars, the lamps that gave it light,

There's a charm and a glory on earth's meanest thing,

For Nature blooms bright at the voice of the Spring.

Musings in the Temple of Nature.

All, all are vain ?

And praises poured.

Its pictures bright

Its organ dread.

Its loving lore

Alike on all.

All, all are brothers.

To live unblest.

Unfailing peace

To man and God.

Their spells of delight,

And roses are springing

In beauty arise;

And silvery fountains

FAMILY ECONOMY.-There is nothing which | law, (which we do not expect, although it has | goes so far towards placing young people beyond the reach of poverty, as economy in the man-great trouble hereafter about surplus revenue. taverner from being a justice or judge, read sec-ond time. agement of their affairs. It is as much impos-sible to get a ship across the Atlantic with half a dozen bolts started, or as many bolt holes in her hull, as to conduct the concerns of a family without economy. It matters not whether a man furnish little or much for a family, if there is a continual leaking in the kitchen or in the parlor, it runs away, he knows not how; and that demon, WASTE, cries more, like the horse leech's daughter, until he that provides has no leech's daughter, until he that provides has no more to give. It is the husband's duty to bring northern power, and it would not be at all surinto the house, and it is the duty of the wife to see that nothing goes wrongfully out of it—not the least article, however unimportant in itself, for it establishes a precedent; nor under any pretence, for it opens a door for ruin to stalk in, and he seldom leaves an opportunity unimprov-ed. A man gets a wife to look after his affairs, the entire control of the Black Sen—a project to assist him in his journey through life, to educate and prepare his children for a proper station in life, and not to dissipate his property.-The husband's interest should be the wife's care, and her ambition should carry her no farther than his welfare and happiness together with that of her children. This should be her sole aim, the theatre of her exploits in the bosom of mouth of the Danube. It is to be in two parts her family, where she may do as much in making a fortune as he possibly can do in the coun-ting house or workshop. It is not the money earned that makes a man wealthy, it is what is saved from his earnings. A good and prudent husband makes deposites of the fruits of his la-bor with his best friend; and if that friend be not true to him what has he to hope? A wife not true to him what has he to hope ' A whe acts not for herself only, but she is the agent of many she loves. And she is bound to act for their good and not for her own gratification.— Her husband's good is the end at which she should aim, his approbation is her reward.— Self gratification in dress or indulgence in ap-netic express competent then his process or or petite, or more company than his purse can en. tertain, are equally pernicious. The first adds ands.' vanity to extravagance; the second fastens a doctor's bill to a long butcher's account, and the latter brings intemperance, the worst of all evils, in its train.

SILK.—The silk growers of this and of every other country, for the coming year at least will realize immense profits. An article from a recent London paper, the Sun, notices the extraordinary rise in the price of silks in Italy and elsewhere on the continant-the advance having there reached nearly 50 per cent : & states that the manufactures of Lyons, Zurich, and Germany, unable to obtain a sufficiency to execute the orders received from New York alone, are aprehensive of a still greater augumentation. Our calculations heretofore, on the comparative value of outlays and products in this interesting and important branch of industry were based on the assumption of $4.50 as the maximum price per pound of the raw material ; whereas within a few weeks, an advance of more than one hun-dred per cent upon this article has taken place in the American markets-a natural consequence of the rise throught Europe, and of the increase demand anticipated here, for the sup-ply of numerous manufactories just strated into being. It is evident, therefore, that the most sanguine expetations of those who have inves-ted capital in the silk growing business, will be more than doubly fulfilled.—Nantucket Inq.

Boston Common.—The City Council of Boston have appropriated $30,000, and the owners of estates in the vicinity $15,000, for the erection of an iron fence around their celebrated common. The work is to be completed brated common. The work is to be completed the present year. There is not, probably, a more lovely spot in any city in the world than the south westerly part of the city, and contains the south westerly part of the city, and contains the south westerly part of the city, and contains little rising forty two acres of ground. Its sur-face is undulating, and in the centre is a beau-tiful lake of fresh water, welling from a spring the south westerly part of the honourable David Sears; the same spot upon which once stood hence every possible impediment is to be the residence of John Singleton Copley, the thrown in the way of foreign merchant ships aspainter, father of the present lord Lyndhurst. cending or descending the river. There are When we were a boy, this lake enjoyed the vulgar appellation of the Frog pond, but the march the island of Leti, the other in that of Georof taste and refinement has since caused it to giewsk; but in neither of these places are goods rejoice in the cognomination of the Quincy lake, llowed to be purified-they are to be sent to in honour, we believe, of the late efficient and Odessa or to Ismael for that purpose. It would worthy mayor of Boston, now president of Harbe much better, therefore, for a British ship, vard college. The extent of the fence will be about forty seven hundred feet. Hereafter, for instance, whose cargo is consigned to a port in Wallachia, to go to Odessa in the first there will be no more "sittin on the rail." for place, and sail direct from Odessa to the Danthe urchins, as we were wont to, when a boy .-ube, than to go to the Danube, then to Odessa, then back to the Danube again. The ships sent for purification to Ismael, a port in Bessa-Sunday Morning News.

The large reduction of duties on wines, will in connexion with said bill, diminish the revenue below the actual necessities of the government. EUROPEAN POLITICS .- The difficulties that have for some time been brewing between Eng-land and Russia seem by all accounts to be ra-pidly approaching a crisis. The English have good cause to be jealous of the ambitious designs prising if, upon the approach of spring and the breaking up of winter, which will enable the Russian armies to move with facility, some de-monstration should be made by the autocrat which will result in a general continental war. which must inevitably meet with the most determined opposition both from France and Eng-jand. A late Frankfort paper has the following announcement : "ST. PETERSBURGH, March 2.

"By the Emperor's orders, a quarantine es-tablishment is to be formed at the Sulinsky -one for pratiques, and the other for suspicious vessels and goods; the first in the island of Le-ti, and the second in the island of Georgiewsk. No goods are to be purified in the establishment. but they are to be forwarded to the guarantine establishment at Odessa, or that at Ismael. It will serve as a place of refuge for ships which are c. mpelled by storms in the strong current of the Danube to touch at Sulinsky, to take in provisions, or to undergo repairs. Merchants, the clerks, and other travellers, will be received into it who, after the expiration of their quarantine, wish to go by land to Ismael—a permis-sion granted likewise to the crews of ships that may be wrecked in the vicinity of these isl-

of English, and other vessels carrying on a di-rect trade with Wallachia and Moldavia. For some time a question has been in discussion between Russia, Austria, and Great Britain, as to the right claimed by the former power to levy tolls upon merchant vessels passing into the Black Sea from the Danube, or vice Into the Black Sea from the Danube, or vice versa. This alledged right is founded upon the treaty of Adrianople, by which the whole delta of the river was ceded by the ports to Russia. Treaties previously existing between Austria and Turkey provided that Austrian vessels should freely navigate the Danube, and under these treaties, which that of Adrianople could not repeal, as Austria was no particle if an not repeal, as Austria was no party to it, ex-emption was claimed from the tolls demanded by the Russian authorities. The general trea-ty of Vienna, to which Russia was a party, expressly stipulates that the navigation of all the principal European rivers should be free, and that no customs or other imposts higher than those then established should be levied at the P embouchures, or any other part of these great canals. No tolls of any kind were at that period exacted at any of the mouths of the Danube; consequently the British government has claimed the right for his majesty's subjects to pass up and down the Danube without paying have been moved on claimed the right for his majesty's subjects to pass up and down the Danube without paying any impost whatever to the Russian authorities. It would appear that the Russian cabunet has found its positions untenable upon this point; that the tolls cannot be levied according to the law of nations; and therefore it is that that they law of nations; and therefore it is that that they have suggested the adoption of the quarantine system, to get out of the legal difficulty, but gathered together, shall for a long succession of years have been discovered and employedand when wealth shall have far outgrown the demand for its employment, then will this consummation be indicated by diminished rates of interest; but even then, we should be slow to consider these diminished rates as proofs of national prosperity. Till that time shall arrive, let it be remembered by every American legislator, that, as a general rule, with us public prosperity is as its highest pitch when money commands the highest price.

Nothing more favors the interests of commerce and manufactures than a general liberty to buy and sell without restraint or obstruction. The idea of fixing the price of money by law is absurd. Monday to give a settlement to citizens of othor States, after a residence of one year in this State. The bill is confined to white male citizens of the United States of the age of 21 years and upwards; of course it excludes minors and females. This would admit many freemen to the elective franchise, from whic they are now unjustly excluded. Could the members of the Legislature have witnessed the conduct of the federal party in this town in exluding our candidates for tythingmen, and voting by a red flag on the green in 1834, they would not hesitate to pass this law. In no way can they more advance the cause of equal rights. It is hoped they will also pass some law against the interference of students in Yale College with our elections. A resolution we understand is in the hands of one of the Senators, to take a vote on one of the panic judges of our Superior Court. We say let it go forward. A bill is before the Legislature providing for the payment of those who perform military duty 50 cts. per day. The sum is small, but still it will hold out some inducement to Independ. ent Companies, and be some compensation to those upon whom this burthen falls heaviest. We hope the Legislature will not adjourn without considering the laws for licensing re-tailers of spirituous liquors-and if found to e for the best interest of community, as we believe the measures will be, that they will repeal said laws. Remarks on this subject are hardly necessary at this period.

A. HOUSTON. The circumstances as related by these gen tlemen, are, that the Mexican army had for some cause or other been separated into two odies divided by the River Brazos, that the sudden rise of that river prevented the two bodies from effecting a junction-that Houston marched against the larger body, amounting to 1300 or 1400 men-that the latter retreated, and in their retreat set fire to the town of Harrisburgh. Houston succeeded in overtaking them about seven miles from that town, and made a sudden and vigorous attack on them, and after some severe fighting, the Mexicans were totally defeated, with the loss above mentioned. The gentleman stated that they were a short distance from Harrisburgh, and could distinctly hear the firing, and that the result was well known before their departure-that Houston had marched in pursuit of the other body, which it was supposed could not possibly ions were committed by Indians from the Creek Nation.

[From the St. Augustine Herald, May 12.] Mr. Abraham Dupont, who resides at Matanzas about 25 miles south of this city, arrived on Sunday morning about 7 o'clock, travelled on foot all night with his two little sons, whence he was obliged to flee for safety. Mr. Dupont states that about 10 o'clock on Sunday night from the opposite side of the river for the purpose of hunting cattle, lodged at Mr. D's. house The Creeks are, it is said, conversant which had the effect of making the Indians reat the house and yelling. He was thus ena-The Charleston Patriot of the 14th inst. an- bled to come out of his house by the back door, and fearing his retreat to his boats was cut off, he fled across his fields through the thickets. to the public road. Mr. Dupont met one of his negroes, from whom he procured a blanket, and wrapped round one of his children, who had been forced to come away without his clothes. The Indians had ransacked Mr. Dupout's house, and loaded ten horses with plunder, one of which the negro brought off with him when he made his escape. They distributed Mr. Dupont's guns among the negroes, and told The state of the Honder is most disastross. The made in second the regroes, and told There are not 500 effective men between the Creek and Seminole lines, and all Florida will be devastated, if the Governors of South Car-olina and Georgia do not send mounted men to the Florida line and to Tallahassee. The Se-the That is escaped in the instruction of the regroes, whom they carried off. The rest of the negroes escaped to town, as also all of Mr. Dupont's.

On Sunday morning, upon the receipt of the above information, Gen. Scott sent Capt. Dimin "summer quarters." Col. White has sent an express to Gen Scott, ick's Company of the U. S. Artillery, mounted, accompanied by 10 volunteers, in pursuit of them. After marching until sunset, they came upon a party of Indians, 7 to 10 in number. RIOT IN BATAVIA. - A letter to the Editor of the Albany Evening Journal, dated at Batavia on the afternoon of May 14th, states that that village had been during that day in a constant just tumult and uproar. At one o,clock, A. M. messengers arrived from the south part of the country, anouncing the concentration of a large mob at Alexander, to the number of some thou-Br sands, who were about to march to Batavia 20 for the purpose of destroying the land office and jail. The bells of the vilage were immediately rung, the inhabitants roused from their slum-bers, and summond to defend the vilage Hun-dreds were armed, and placed at different parts of the vilage the jail, land office and bridge across which it was supposed the mob wou come, the planks were taken up. The land office was barricaded. 2

The mob came in sight of the village at about six in the morning. It numbered about three hundred, armed with muskets and rifles, and Sch headed by desperadoes. They marched to the land office and paraded in front of it. But bayonets glanced from the windows of the building, and after some vaporing, they marched off, Be many leaving the village and some remained in it. The rumor prevailed, that those who had left the village, were concentrating in Attica, and intended to return armed with cannon. M The citizens have formed themselves into volunteer companies-the military of the neighboring country have joined them, and the vilgoo lage of Batavia has the appearance of a camp. The letter adds " should the mob return, blood will be spilled, but the laws of our country will triumph. The following is given in the letter refered to as the cause of the riots. F

At the last term of the circuit court, some individuals were indicted for a conspiracy and forcibly entry and detainer. The Sheriff with his posse had some difficulty in arresting the offenders, but had lodged some of them in jail, who, for some time, refused to be bailed. They were however, bailed out a few days since. 3 Two years since the Holland Land Company had some ejectment suits brought to trial in the U. S. Circuit Court and recovered possession of some lands in the town of Orangeville in this country, and ejected the settlers therefrom. The settlers put the occupants again into pos session and entered into a conspiracy to sustain them. This is the immediate cause of the mob. Other causes' similar to those which actuated the Maysville rioters, have served to increase the excitement.

Among those who lost their lives for Texas, was STEPHEN D. HIRST, of this city, acting at the time of his death as aid to Col. FANNIN. Mr. Hirst was known of our citizens. For a II long time, he was one of the principal clerks in the Post Office.—As a military man, his sol-dierly deportment won for him the esteem of of his bretheren, among whom he held a Col. onel,s command ; but as a citzen he was most known, and by us most esteemed for an amiable disposition' courteous deportment, bland manners, and warm attachments. A difference in ages and pursuits prevent much intercourse between Col. H. and ourself, but could not hide from us the fact, that he was deserving the esoffices where their stock is transferable teem in which he was held. As a Philadelphian, as a martyr to what he deemed the cause of human rights, and as a courageous man, it is
