

TEXAS SHERIFF SLAIN; KILLER MAKES GETAWAY

URGES MEN WITH 'FRESH OUTLOOK' FOR HIGH COURT

Attorney General Cummings, First Witness At Hearing, Wants Changes To Avoid 'Tortured' View of Basic Law

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—Attorney General Cummings urged congress today to give President Roosevelt authority to put on the supreme court man of "fresh outlook" who will not infringe on congressional powers.

Appearing before a thronged senate judiciary committee hearing, the cabinet officer asked for adoption of the chief executives court reorganization proposals in order to avoid "a tortured construction of the constitution."

No Puppets On Court, Is Promise

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—President Roosevelt put on record today a blunt declaration that he would not appoint to the supreme court "spineless puppets" who would decide specific cases as he wished.

"No president fit for his office would appoint, and no senate of honorable men fit for their office would confirm, that kind of appointees to the supreme court," he declared last night.

He asserted, however, in his second appeal for enactment of his judicial reorganization program that he would choose justices "who will act as justices and not as legislators."

"If that x x x can be called 'pecking the courts,' he said, 'then I say that I and with me the vast majority of the American people favor doing just that thing—now.'"

Two purposes
Mr. Roosevelt spoke in a nationwide broadcast on the eve of senate hearings on his program. He told the country his program would save the constitution "from hardening of the judicial arteries."

His bill had two purposes, he said: "First, to make the administration of all federal justice speedier and, therefore, less costly; secondly, to bring to the decision of social and economic problems young men who have had personal experience with modern facts and circumstances under which average men have to live and work."

After quoting criticisms of some supreme court majority opinions by dissenting justices, he said: "The court in addition to the

FRANCHISE IS AWARDED TO BUS LINE

Hughes - White Company Given Right To Establish Service In City

MAY BE STARTED WITHIN 60 DAYS

Two Buses To Be Operated Over Fixed Routes On Set Schedules

Early establishment of regularly-scheduled passenger bus service in Big Spring was in prospect today, after approval, by the city commission Tuesday evening, of an operating franchise for the Hughes-White Motor company of Fort Worth. Terms of the franchise call for beginning of operation within 60 days.

The company at the start will operate two buses, on fixed routes, and on set schedules, to provide 20-minute service along the routes. Fares will be five cents, with the same price for school children.

Purchase of 20 fare blocks for 60 cents will be possible for pupils. Routes To Be Fixed
The passenger vehicles will operate from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. under terms of the franchise. Definite routes have not been fixed. Provision was made in the city grant, which is not exclusive to the Hughes-White firm, for the operating company to carry public liability and property damage insurance. Life of the franchise is ten years.

The commission declared an emergency and passed the franchise resolution finally, so that it becomes effective within 60 days. No member of the applicant firm was present Tuesday evening, but James H. Hughes, member of the firm, had appeared before the board two weeks ago, outlining the application. His firm operates similar service at Marshall, Longview, Ardmore, Okla., and other points. The commission received letters from officials of the two Texas cities, commending the company's operations at those places.

Taxi Insurance
The commission Tuesday evening passed on the first reading an ordinance requiring taxicabs and other vehicles for public hire within the city to carry public liability and property damage insurance. Further action is slated at later meetings, and no effective date was fixed. Also passed on the first reading was an ordinance fixing minimum cab fares at 15 cents for 15 blocks, 25 cents for greater distances in the city.

2 ANNOUNCE AS ELECTION IS SET

Annual City Vote Ordered April 6; Nall And Allen Announce For Re-Election

J. W. ALLEN

LEO NALL

The annual business of Big Spring voters in making their selections for city commissioners was brought into public attention today, after the city commission Tuesday evening had issued formal order for the municipal election on April 6.

Simultaneously, came announcements for reelection of Commissioners J. W. Allen and Leo Nall, the two members of the board whose places become vacant this year. The other three places on the commission were filled in 1936 for a two-year term.

Both Allen and Nall, long-time residents of the city, are rounding out their second terms on the commission. It remained problematical whether there would be other announcements for the commission posts, but there has been some street talk of at least one other possible candidate. Candidates have until March 23 to file without petition. W. E. Purser was appointed presiding judge of the election and Robert Sirling, assistant. These officials will name clerks and other election workers.

Seek To Oust Special Water Sit-Downers

City's Irrigation Schedule Goes In Effect On April 20

The city's special irrigation rate on water, designed to permit more extensive use during the summer growing season, was set up by the commission Tuesday evening, to become effective on April 20 readings for those consumers who sign contracts for the rate. The special rate is in effect through the summer.

Schedule this year will be a $3.50 minimum for 10,000 gallons of water, with a rate of 40 cents per thousand thereafter. This represents a saving of $1.20 on the minimum to those who use 10,000 gallons since the regular rate figures at $4.70.

Approximately 600 signed for the irrigation rate last year, a procedure that has grown in popularity since its institution several years ago. Contracts may be signed at the municipal offices.

Commissioners said, in effect, that the irrigation rate is the best that can be made under the circumstances, since the city is confronted with the dual problem of providing summer water needs at a reasonable cost and at the same time assuring against excess use from a supply that must be conserved.

REPEAL BILL BACK WITH COMMITTEE

Race Wagering Measure Is Recommended By Vote Of 15 To 14

STORMY DEBATE ON ACTION IN SENATE

Foes Of Repeal Charge Not Given Opportunity For Hearing

AUSTIN, Mar. 10 (AP).—The Texas senate voted today after a storm of debate to send back to a committee for public hearing a bill repealing the law which in 1933 legalized the certificate system of wagering on horse racing. The vote to recommit was 15 to 14 with one pair.

A week ago the senate passed the repeal measure to third reading, 39 to 8, and before that the house of representatives had approved another repeal bill by an overwhelming majority.

Opponents of repeal charged they had not been given opportunity for a public hearing and demanded the bill be recommitted so arguments by livestock raisers, track operators and others could be presented.

As debate ranged over the controversial issue, charges were made members were "cowed and browbeaten" by forces seeking to knock out horse race betting, while proponents asserted the public had conducted a hearing for four years and wanted "race track gambling killed."

St. G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, opponent of racing, said he would ask for a hearing "as soon as possible." He said he probably would seek a hearing on the repeal bill, approved by the house, 107 to 24.

Sen. Albert Stone of Brenham, chairman of the senate criminal jurisprudence committee, said the group was scheduled to hold its next meeting Tuesday.

The senate atmosphere was tense as members gathered for the important session. Governor James V. Allred, who long has advocated repeal, came of the floor. Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, another bitter opponent of race horse betting, also took a seat.

Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth asked that the repeal measure be re-committed, a point of order by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur that other business was pending was overruled and the fight was on.

Rawlings told the senate the procedure two days ago when the repeal amendment was tacked onto a horse bill to regulate tracks by requiring a percentage of employees be native Texans was "unfair."

"The least the senate can do is to put the bill back in committee and give the livestock and track men an opportunity to register a protest," he said.

"Millions of dollars invested in property and spent for employment and supplies mean something to the state of Texas and we ought not to foreclose summarily."

SAVELL FAVORED AS TRUSTEE AT SOASH
In a special election held to determine sentiment to guide in the appointment of a trustee, D. B. Savell was selected by Soash voters Tuesday afternoon to succeed I. W. Rogers, who moved from the district. The county board will make the appointment. A similar election likely will be held soon in the consolidated Gay Hill-Blisco district.

Famed Senate Warriors Are Together Again

Borah and Johnson, One-Time Foes, See Eye To Eye In Opposing Court Reforms, Cash-And-Carry Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP).—Two old senate warriors—Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California—who sometimes have been at swords' points are fighting side by side once more.

Issues this season have drawn them closer together than at any time. They have been united in opposition to the Roosevelt court bill, the Pittman "cash and carry" neutrality bill, and the recent overture for American help in financing a huge French defense loan.

Frequently they sit together in the chamber to discuss strategy. Many oldtimers in the senate can remember when such co-operation would have created a sensation. The careers of the two men both prominent in the liberal wing of the republican party, have been strangely interwoven for 25 years.

Both were in the Theodore Roosevelt branch of the party in 1912. When "T. R." broke away to run as the "Bull Moose" candidate Johnson went along as vice-presidential nominee. Borah, however, ran for re-election to the senate without getting involved in the party split-up.

NO CLUES FOUND; WIDESPREAD HUNT AS YET FRUITLESS

Alex Brown Shot In Back, Through Window Of Apartment In Jefferson; Assailant Thought To Have Fled In Car

JEFFERSON, Mar. 10 (AP).—An unidentified assailant shot and killed Sheriff Alex Brown, 42, through a window of the officer's apartment as Brown conversed with his wife shortly before retiring early today.

A single charge of buckshot struck the peace officer in the back as he undressed for bed about 12:45 a. m. He died instantly.

The assailant slipped to a window of the sheriff's home on the ground floor of the jail building, fired his shot and fled to a spot about a block away. Officers theorized he escaped in an automobile, driving west.

No Motive Seen
Officers had virtually no clues. They were at a loss to give a motive and an early morning manhunt participated in by officers from this area of East Texas near the Louisiana border was fruitless.

O. B. Beard, held in jail here on a misdemeanor charge, said he had seen a man approach the jail shortly before the shot was fired and flee immediately afterwards. Officers said he gave no description of the assailant, however, and was able to help little.

Bloodhounds were brought to the scene and traced the fugitive to a corner a block away. When they lost the scent, investigators said they believed the killer had escaped by automobile.

Was Vigorous Officer
Brown was a vigorous peace officer and recently had inaugurated drives against vagrants and overloaded trucks. He also participated in a general roundup by state liquor board of control officers of stills in Marion county.

Two negroes escaped the county jail here last Friday night, cutting out a hole through the wall. One of them, Charley Brooks, was held on a robbery from person charge and was to have been prosecuted under the habitual criminal statute.

The other, J. C. Hartsfield, was held under a chicken theft charge. The department of public safety at Austin quickly took cognizance of the situation at the request of County Attorney A. J. Schuster and assigned Texas Ranger Captain H. B. Purvis to investigate the playing.

It was understood Bob Gosz, former ranger and former Kilgore chief of police, was given charge of the Jefferson investigation.

Widening Of 4th St. At Postoffice Is Ordered By City
The city commission took preliminary steps at a meeting Tuesday evening, toward clearing traffic congestion on that block of West Fourth street between Scurry and Gregg, ordering the city manager to institute proceedings for widening the block 16 feet.

The stretch will be extended eight feet on each side, with the city paying curb and gutter costs. Cost to property owners, it was estimated, will be about $1 per foot. The city manager was instructed to complete negotiations with the owners at once.

The block, not as wide as the remainder of Fourth street, is becoming more of a traffic problem with construction of the new post office at Fourth and Scurry. Action for the widening, agitated for some time, was taken to remedy possible crowded conditions around the postoffice when it is opened.

S'WATER OFFICER INJURED IN MISHAP

SWEETWATER, Mar. 10 (AP).—Night Patrolman D. C. Fulkerson was in a serious condition at a hospital today from injuries suffered in the pursuit of the driver of an automobile believed stolen in Pecos.

The police car struck a dip in a street and Fulkerson lost control of the machine. He was thrown to a sidewalk and suffered a brain concussion and other injuries. His companion, J. A. Bland, escaped with slight injuries. Their quarry escaped.

Pension Bill Is Moved Back

House Votes To Postpone Liberalization Action Until April 6

AUSTIN, Mar. 10 (AP).—The house voted 68 to 66 today to postpone until April 6 further consideration of a bill to liberalize old age pension requirements and double expenditures.

The bill, by Rep. Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth, would increase several hundred per cent the levies on natural gas and carbon black.

Rep. E. H. Thornton, Jr., of Galveston argued successfully the house should withhold pension consideration until it had passed upon important tax proposals and that the issue was not "drawn fine enough" for the members to pass upon it.

The lower chamber defeated, 37 to 11, a motion by Rep. Edgar F. Keefe of Frankston to postpone consideration until March 23. He argued that before that date the house could determine to what extent the social security board will aid in pension payments.

Some members had argued that liberalization of old age assistance would endanger federal participation.

SEAMEN RESCUED AS VESSEL HITS ROCKS

HAVANA, Mar. 10 (AP).—Four Cuban seamen were rescued today from the surf-washed deck of the tanker Hopper 62 on the rocks ten miles west of Havana, one of their fellows being drowned and five others were missing.

A rescue crew from the British steamer Empress of Britain fired a rescue line across the 185-foot Cuban tanker and the four men pulled themselves hand over hand to shore.

The boat ran onto the rocks, less than 100 feet from the shore, in a heavy squall last night.

Will Attend IOOF Meet

Delegates From Here Will Leave For Corsicana Saturday

Delegates to the grand encampment for I.O.O.F. lodges of Texas said today they planned to leave here for Corsicana on Saturday morning.

Among those to go are J. Hollis Lloyd, delegate from the subordinate lodge, and Nando Henderson, Coahoma, his alternate; Mable Glenn, delegate to the Rebekah assembly, and Mrs. Hazel Lamar, her alternate, chairman of unwritten work and state deputy; Ora Martin, a member of the credentials committee; Mrs. Ludie Lykins, noble grand, and Mrs. Sallie Kinard, past noble grand of the Rebekahs, and Tom McKinney, past noble grand of the subordinate lodge.

The Big Spring canton of patriots of militant will install all officers for the Odd Fellow state department. All Odd Fellow delegates will be privileged to witness the installation and the administration of the third degree. This is the second time in the history of Odd Fellowship in Texas that such procedure has been in order.

Local canton members and the auxiliary are planning on attending en masse.

New Quarters Needed For Museum Here

Present Space Required By County; Courthouse Is Crowded

Mrs. Mary Bumpass, curator for the West Texas Memorial Museum here, told the Lions club today that crowded conditions in the courthouse had led the county commissioners court to ask the museum to give up its present site as soon as possible.

The museum is located in the ground floor of the old city hall building. Receiving the value of the museum as an educational force, Mrs. Bumpass said we must have a new home for the museum, some way—somehow.

She saw in it an effective means of visual education, a project affording students a clear understanding of objects of study, something which offers a challenge to the mind, and the same time gives a true conception of the past through tangible evidence.

'Air Well' Pressure Shows Small Decline

Hopes of bringing the roaring Westbrook and Graham No. 1 Great West, wildcat oil test four miles east of town under control, were dimmed today when the first gauge in two weeks showed only a slight loss in pressure.

Shortly after noon Wednesday an Empire Southern Service crew, which had made three previous tests of the "air well," gauged the flow of nitrogen gas from the 10-inch hole at 89,353,000 cubic feet a day. This compared with 100,000,000 cubic feet a day on Feb. 24 and 280,900,000 on Feb. 17 when the test blew in.

Pressure, 140 pounds per square inch at the outset, dropped to 40 pounds two weeks ago, but had declined only five pounds in the last 14 days.

The test developed another unusual turn recently when it started blowing out sand in increasing quantities.

HIS ASSAILANT BEING SOUGHT

LOS ANGELES, March 10 (AP).—The trail grew colder today in the hazy hunt to find the night rider who ambushed and shot District Attorney Barton Pitts (above) last Sunday.

Although pained by a flesh wound in his left forearm, the veteran prosecutor was expected to make good his prediction that he would be able to leave the hospital sometime next week.

Park Work Is Authorized As Job Measure

Voted To Avoid Delay; No Other Projects Immediately Open

Moving to provide immediate jobs for WPA enrollees, the city commission on Tuesday night voted to resume work on the municipally-sponsored WPA project at the city park, with the limitation that sponsor's cost on materials, etc., be limited to $3,000.

At the same time the commission tentatively set up plans for an extensive paving project by which curbing and gutter would be constructed and dirt shaped up by WPA labor on 66 blocks of city streets. This program, submitted by City Manager E. V. Spence, will be considered more in detail at a later meeting, with probability it will be submitted for WPA approval because it is the only pending project which can supply jobs immediately. City officials and WPA District Director Homer McNew said that only the park job—not yet officially "closed"—can be shaped up for quick approval from the San Antonio WPA office.

There are no other projects now available under city sponsorship, they said, and a paving program which must go to Washington for approval, would require at least six weeks time before a "go-ahead" order could be given.

WPA, it was said at the commission meeting, has 100 men available for the city work, since the district quota recently was boosted. Major project under way in the county at this time is the Chalk-Highway 9 road, construction.

Park improvements will include building of fills and curbing around the swimming pool; stabilizing of surface on the roadways, construction of tool sheds and toilets, and sand work on the golf course.

CHILD KILLED
PARIS, Mar. 10 (AP).—The five-year-old daughter of Dr. Simon Slegier, CCC camp physician, died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered when she was struck by an auto as she ran across a street.

The driver of the machine was held blameless.

City May Finish Its Fiscal Year $5,000 Under Budget Figure

Only 2 Departments Show Over-run For 11 Months

An under-run of the city budget by perhaps as much as $5,000 was forecast in the 11th monthly financial statement by the city of Big Spring. The city ends its fiscal year the 31st of this month.

over-runs at the end of the 11 months. They were the police with an excess of $645.84 and the street with $7,015.86 disbursed over appropriations.

Police, with an under-run for February will come near evening its score but the street department may be expected to go even further on the long side.

Not provided for in the budget but paid out of savings has been $36,000 payment for the airport.

Water revenues for February totaled $7,421.81, a decrease of $13.90 from January and increase of $692.56 over February a year ago.

For the month of February general fund expenditures amounted to $10,703, or $2,848.08 less than the budget appropriation for the month.

MARITIME OFFICIALS PREPARE TO LAUNCH THEIR NEW DUTIES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy and four others appointed by President Roosevelt to the new maritime commission began preparations today to take over the government's latest excursion in ship subsidization.

Kennedy, Boston financier who retired as chairman of the securities commission in 1935 for a "peaceful life," will head the permanent body. It replaces a temporary commission set up last fall to launch activities under the new merchant marine act.

Other appointees are Thomas M. Woodward of Philadelphia; Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, retired, of Haverford, Pa.; Edward C. Moran, Jr., of Rockland, Me., former democratic congressman and Rear Admiral Emory S. Land of Laramie, Wyo., chief of the navy bureau of construction and repair. The positions pay $12,000 a year.

The commissioners will step into the midst of conferences with ship owners over settlement of existing ocean mail contracts, which under the law must be terminated by July 1.

$19,000 representing bonds and warrants paid and $34,596.37 interest and exchange. Cash in the banks at the end of February was listed at $106,859.35, of which $42,433.33 was in the general fund account and $63,426.03 was in the interest and sinking fund account.

Wheat Price To New High

Quotations Up 2 To 3 Cts. On News Of European Purchases

CHICAGO, Mar. 10 (AP)—Wheat prices in the major world markets soared two to three cents a bushel to new high levels for the season today, with reports that European importing countries had made large purchases of southern hemisphere grain.

Chicago futures shot up as much as 2 3/8 cents a bushel at the opening. May wheat touched $1.35 3/4, its highest price since December, 1929.

Liverpool wheat prices gained around two cents a bushel. Wheat traders said world supplies were low after several seasons of short crops. United States stocks were estimated the smallest since 1919.

METAL PRICES NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP)—An advance in commodities, with some reaching new recovery peaks, was marked by sharply higher prices for lead and copper today.

Principal producers advanced the price of lead 45 a ton, to the equivalent of 7.75 cents a pound, New York, and 7.50 cents St. Louis basis, the third increase of that amount in the past three days and a top since 1927.

Heavy bidding on the London metal exchange drove foreign copper prices to the equivalent of 17.45 cents a pound, highest since April, 1928. In New York, copper for future delivery ran up 32 to 34 cents a pound, with the metal deliverable in December quoted at 16.25 cents a pound, highest since futures trading began on the Commodity Exchange, Inc., in 1930.

THREE LOSE LIVES IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

PADUCAH, Mar. 10 (AP)—Two accidents claimed three lives in this area last night.

A grade-crossing collision here was fatal to three-year-old Charles Flemming and Mrs. Lee Mitchell, and seriously injured two other occupants of a light truck which was knocked into a ditch by a Quonah, Acme & Pacific passenger train.

Mrs. Forest Flemming, mother of the child, suffered internal injuries and was believed more seriously hurt than Lee Mitchell, husband of the dead woman.

All were Paducah residents. A. R. Tolbert, 49, was killed near Balls when the car he was driving turned over after striking a soft road shoulder.

Munitions Vessel A Prize Of War For The Insurgents

ARCACHON, France, Mar. 10 (AP)—The munitions transport Mar Canabrie was reported today to have been saved from destruction and conveyed as a prize of war to an insurgent Spanish port for the salvage of her $2,700,000 cargo of American made munitions.

First reported sunk in the stormy Bay of Biscay Monday when she attempted to slip past the insurgent blockade, the mystery vessel was said to have been able to leave the scene of ambush under her own power with the shell-ignited blaze in her No. 2 hold under control.

A boarding party from the insurgent cruiser Canarias, maritime circles here heard, took over the freighter and her cargo after severe shelling from the warship had forced her crew and passengers to surrender.

The only member of the crew known to have escaped, Juan Boo, expressed fear that the passengers as well as his fellow crew members had been executed aboard the Canarias by a firing squad.

An insurgent radio broadcast picked up at Rabat, French Morocco, was said to have detailed a huge list of war supplies found aboard the ship: 37 dismantled airplanes, 1,050 machine guns, 7,000 rifles, 42,000,000 cartridges.

AWAITS SENTENCE ON MURDER CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 10 (AP)—Two women, the defendant and a juror, awaited sentence today after the murder trial of Helen Willis Love.

Convicted of second degree murder for shooting her secret husband, Harry A. Love, broker, at a New Year's Eve party in a Santa Monica beach club, Mrs. Love yesterday withdrew her second plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

"Please, may we get this over with as quickly as possible?" she said, asking Superior Judge Frank H. Smith to sentence her at once. "I wasn't crazy at the time I shot Harry. I never have been crazy."

Judge Smith said he would sentence her Friday. The conviction carries a prison term of seven years to life.

The jurist planned to sentence Mrs. Mary Plettner, 45, a housewife and juror, today for contempt. One of the first shots in the Civil War was fired at a force led by an Ohioan, C. R. Woods of Newark, commander of troops on a boat hastening to the aid of Fort Sumter.

Job Insurance Parley Slated

State Official To Give Employers Information At Meet Tonight

Big Spring employers who want general enlightenment or answers to specific questions in connection with the job insurance program will have an opportunity tonight of getting that information. Edward E. Merriman, district supervisor for the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, will be here for an open meeting to confer with employers and all others interested.

The conference will be in the district courtroom, starting at 8 o'clock.

Merriman, who has headquarters in Lubbock, will arrive in Big Spring this afternoon and remain through Thursday. Those wishing detailed information may contact him tomorrow.

Schmeling Wants Braddock To Fight Him In Germany

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP)—Acting on behalf of the Deutschland Halle A. C. of Berlin, Max Schmeling today offered Jimmy Braddock $250,000, free of all German tax, to defend his heavyweight title against Schmeling in Germany this summer.

Schmeling said the offer was designed to meet Braddock's apparent objections to going through with his contract to fight the Teuton for the title under Madison Square Garden's auspices here on June 3. Braddock's manager, Joe Gould, has signified he has no intention of going through with this contract and has signed for Braddock to meet Joe Louis in Chicago June 22.

To compensate Madison Square Garden and Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting club, who were to have been co-promoters of the Braddock-Schmeling match, Schmeling said he had offered to pay $50,000 for their right to the bout.

He indicated at the same time, however, that neither the Garden Mike Jacobs or Gould had shown any particular interest in the Berlin plan.

LOOT RECOVERED AS BOYS ARE ARRESTED

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 10 (AP)—More than $300 worth of loot, believed stolen here during the last few months, was recovered and eight boys, all under 14 years of age, were arrested as police waded war on delinquent juveniles here.

The recovered property included four bicycles, medicine, cigarettes, cigars, several wrist watches, pocketbooks, a camera, fountain pens, shirts and a telephone.

Two other boys, 17 and 18 previously had been arrested for questioning.

GIRL STABBED, BOY BEING QUESTIONED

CANON CITY, Colo., Mar. 10 (AP)—Daisy McIntyre, 17-year-old Canon City high school student staggered into the home of friends late last night with a 15-inch, home-made dagger blade piercing her back.

Physicians said, however, she escaped serious injury.

H. E. Moreland, night policeman, said the girl told him a boy followed her as she walked home from a high school entertainment and without warning drew the knife and plunged it into her back.

A 16-year-old high school youth was held for questioning.

MATT KIMES TURNS TO MURAL PAINTING

McALESTER, Okla., Mar. 10 (AP)—George Kimes, whose bank robbery forays painted a lurid picture in southwestern crime records a decade ago, has turned to murals.

And, said Warden Jess Dunn of McAlester penitentiary, where Kimes is doing a total of 75 years for murder and bank robbery, the elder member of the notorious "Kimes gang" is getting along fine, thank you.

"We have him touching up some pictures," the warden said, "and he's showing a lot of native talent." Kimes came down from solitary confinement three months ago to try his hand at landscape painting, showed promise, and was put to work retouching murals in a mess hall damaged by fire recently.

EARHART'S PLANE TAKEN FOR A TEST

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 10 (AP)—The transport airplane in which Amelia Earhart hopes to encircle the globe at the equator was put through an extended test flight today with satisfactory results.

The $60,000 flying laboratory with Capt. Harry Manning at the controls took off at 2:23 A. M. flew to San Francisco and cut in to sea for 55 miles, and returned here at 8:25 A. M. Constant communication was maintained with a short wave radio station here.

REWARD POSTED FOR NARCOTIC SUSPECTS

DALLAS, Mar. 10 (AP)—A reward of $1,000 has been posted for the capture of Robert Gordon and Lador Kane, the two fugitive members of the Ginzburg ring, it was announced today at the Dallas narcotic bureau.

This reward will be paid for the capture of either of the men or both. Agents said Gordon and Kane were listed as public enemies No. 1 by the narcotic bureau.

Nine members of the ring were convicted.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Other Powers Accept With Grain Of Salt Japan's Announced Change In Policy of Equality With China

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP)—Japan's announcement of an ostensible change in her far eastern policy, which would accord unhappy China equality and would respect foreign rights, has been accepted with reserve by most other countries, pending a study of the situation.

If Japan unexpectedly has made such a sensational volte-face it will be of the utmost importance, not only to China, but to other powers, especially the United States and Great Britain with their great interests in that part of the world. However, observers are inclined to believe that the Japanese statement doesn't necessarily mean any such sweeping change in policy.

The announcement was contained in a speech before the diet

by Foreign Minister Naozoku Sato. His remarks, which were taken by the Japanese press to mean a turning point in Sino-Japanese relations, included the declaration that "Japan has no territorial ambitions in China." He added that "go beyond the Great Wall and extend her influence to central or south China" was "imaginary."

The Chinese under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, recently presented a strong and menacing front to the Japanese overlordship in northern China. The emperor's men were warned in about a dozen words to keep hands off.

This in itself might not worry Japan, were it not that relations between Nippon and Russia long have been strained and both countries have been arming defensively against each other. Japan would not care to find herself involved in trouble with Russia and China at the same time.

Further, Britain has been expressing concern over Japan's intentions regarding central and southern China—a matter of like interest to the United States—and this accounts for the foreign minister's assurance that his country was not out for expansion into these zones.

JEWEL THEFTS IN SAN FRANCISCO ARE BECOMING COMMON

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 10 (AP)—Inspectors on the police hotel detail saw an "amazing coincidence" today in the continued disappearance of jewels from wealthy women. Losses that during the last two weeks have amounted to almost $60,000.

The most spectacular loss occurred Monday when attractive Mrs. Adolph B. Spreckels, Jr., young bride of the youthful scion of a California sugar family, re-

10-Year Sentence For Robbery With Firearms Blights Youth's Chance For A Career In Big-Time Baseball

KERMIT, Mar. 10—Dreams of a big league baseball career for William Gordon House, 19-year-old St. Louis youth, seemed blighted today as he awaited pronouncement of a 10-year penitentiary sentence for robbery with firearms.

The boy, a member of the St. Louis championship high school team last year, was expected to be offered a contract with one of the St. Louis Cardinals farm teams.

He came to Wink early in February. He was employed at a filling station. According to the signed statement entered as evidence at the trial, he closed the station the afternoon of February 19, took a gun and went to the home of Mrs. W. J. Johnson.

There he gained entry to the house by posing as an old gold salesman, and then forced Mrs.

Johnson to go with him in her car. The car broke down near Pecos, and House was arrested by Highway Patrolman Jack Huddleston, who had stopped to render aid and was warned by Mrs. Johnson that the youth was armed.

The Winkler county district court jury was out an hour, and brought back a guilty verdict, attaching a 10-year sentence. Judge J. A. Drane has not yet pronounced sentence, and G. C. Olson, the defense attorney, appointed by the court, said that a plea for a new trial might be entered as soon as the youth's background was checked.

WON-LOST TOTALS RANK DEAN AS NUMBER 4 HURLER

Grove, Gomez, Hub Beat Dizzy's 5-Year Record; So Do Nine Old-Timers

By ALAN GOULD

Copyright, 1937, AP Feature Service

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Jerome Herman Dean points with precocious pride to his 5-year record of 120 victories, as against 65 defeats, in demanding about twice the salary ever paid a big league pitcher...

Baseball experts not only feel certain the dizzy right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals will settle for much less than the $50,000 he has been shouting for, but point out that Dean still has a long way to go before touching the best pitching performances on record.

The excellent statistics reveal that three outpunch contemporaries, Bob Grove, Lefty Gomez and Carl Hubbell, all rank ahead of Dean on percentage, at least, in a compilation of the best consecutive 5-year pitching records.

Grove, the highest paid flier in the American league, stands at the head of the 5-year class with the amazingly high percentage of .795 for his record of 128 victories and only 33 defeats in 1929-33 with the Philadelphia A's.

This excels even the marvelous performances of Mordecai (Three-fingered) Brown, Christy Mathewson, Grover Alexander, Walter Johnson, and Cy Young, whose flinging feasts otherwise overshadow those of the post-war pitching group.

Twelve Ahead Of Dean

All told, in the accompanying tabulation of Who's Who among pitching greats, Dean trails an even dozen performers, on percentage.

Our research is confined to toilers of the twentieth century, except that for purposes of comparison with older times, Cy Young's greatest 5-year streak during which he compiled 169 victories from 1892 to 1896, is included. Young then twirled for the Cleveland Nationals. With the Boston Red Sox after the turn of the century he had another 5-year run of 135 triumphs.

No pitcher has averaged 30 victories per season in so-called modern major league history, but up to the time of the World war that was the mark the big shots aimed at. Johnson came closest, with a total of 148 triumphs during 1912-16, with a club that was pennantless, Mathewson, with a stronger outfit, aggregated 147 for his best 5-year stretch.

Grove and Brown, with the best 5-year records of the post-war and pre-war groups, enjoyed powerful support. The Athletics won three pennants, the Chicago Cubs four, during their best years.

Then There Were Others

The 5-year list, of course, does not take into account a number of exceptional performances. Smokey Joe Wood, for instance, compiled the remarkable record of 34 victories against only five setbacks in 1912 with the Red Sox, but he tapered off so rapidly that his 5-year total reached only 91 wins. Rube Marquard had a brilliant 3-year stretch with the Giants, accumulating 73 triumphs from 1911 to 1913, but then slumped during which he compiled 169 victories from 1912 to 1916.

Grove, Dean and Sergeant Jim Bagby, former Cleveland right-hander, are the only pitchers since the war to register as many as 30 victories a season. Bagby collected 31 in 1920. Grove the same in 1931, and Dean 30 in 1934.

Here are comparative records showing the best consecutive 5-year performances of outstanding major league pitchers:

Price Named President Of Westex Loop

Final organization plans for the West Texas-New Mexico Class D baseball league will be completed Sunday at a meeting in Midland, according to word received here today.

Joe Pate, league organizer, back from a trip to San Antonio, said Milton Price, secretary of the Texas League, had been named president of the West Texas-New Mexico league which will start play on May 1 and close on August 29.

Several big league clubs already have agreed to back some of the teams. The Detroit Tigers will have a working agreement with Roswell, Dallas will help Monahans and San Antonio will send three representatives to the meeting.

Others who will attend are: J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League; Johnny Neal, who will operate the Hobbs club; D. C. Ferry and Sheriff F. C. Summers, owners of the Winkler club; John Holley, who will operate Odessa, assisted by George Elliott, Jr., and J. E. Payne, the Big Spring owner, an oldtime Western Association manager.

Three oldtime managers, looking over possibilities of operating teams in the league, also will be there. They are Ray Query, Fred Nicholson and George Harper.

LaGuardia To Open Bowling Congress
By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP).—At 8:30 tonight a signal will sound and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia will roll a 16-pound bowling ball down one of 28 glistening new alleys in the 212th coast artillery armory to open the biggest American Bowling Congress tournament in history.

After the first few days of limited competition, the tournament will run day and night until May 5 while the record entry roll of around 22,000 bowlers is marked off. The field includes famous and unknown bowlers from 31 states—another record—and three Canadian provinces. All the big name pin busters will be there, but there's always the chance some unheard-of bowler will suddenly get "hot" and walk off with a big share of the prize money totalling $145,000.

Picard, Revolva Looking To Third Straight Victory
MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 10 (AP).—The cry of "stop Picard and Revolva!" was raised anew today as the two-time winners of the international four-ball golf matches strode toward their third straight victory.

On the other side of the bracket, Lawson Little and Tony Magoro clashed with Willie MacFarlane and Frank Walsh to decide which two players will have to fight to shoot for $1,000 each in the four-ball final tomorrow. Runners-up get $750 apiece.

Dave Bancroft Sends Young Blakeney To A's

By L. E. SKELLEY
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Mar. 10 (AP).—Oliver (Bus) Blakeney—pupil of the peerless Dave Bancroft—will try to follow Connie Mack's lead by learning a sufficient share of the tricks that made "the Beauty" tops among National league shortstop 20 years ago.

Philadelphia fans haven't forgotten the handsome youngster who broke in with the Phillies in 1915 and became the inspirational leader for their pennant drive.

This spring Bancroft is sending Blakeney to the Athletics with the hope he did among the Philadelphia faithful.

They're much alike, this manager-prodigy pair, Bancroft was a marvelous fielder, but never a powerful hitter. Blakeney showed the same characteristics with the Sioux City Western league club.

A Solo Act
His fielding was so outstanding, however, he earned the distinction of being the No. 1 Western leaguer to obtain a 1937 trial with a major league team.

Bancroft, who took over the Sioux City management in mid-summer of 1936, changed Blakeney's batting stance and produced immediate results.

At 16 he went south with the Chicago White Sox. He was sent to Wichita in the Western league, but failed to make the grade and was released. Blakeney returned to independent baseball, and finally signed with the House of David in 1932.

His play with the bearded boys attracted Detroit scouts who signed him for a trial with the Tigers. They sent Blakeney to Shreveport in the East Dixie league for 1933. He obtained his own release, however, to return to the Davids.

In 1935 Blakeney joined Sioux City and has had two good years with the Cowboys.

Denver AAU Coach Hopes To Smash Jinx
Shelton Doesn't Pick His Club To Give Denver 1st Natl. Cage Title

By DENVER, Mar. 10 (AP)—Coach Everett Shelton, called west last year as a "trouble shooter" for the in-and-out Denver Safeways basketball team, has given his players a battle cry for the national A. A. U. tournament starting here Sunday.

It is simply: "Smash that jinx!" Shelton, who celebrated his first year here by piloting his team to second place in the powerful Missouri Valley A. A. U. league, doesn't go so far as to pick his club to give Denver its first national cage title.

But he does believe it will shake off the quarter-finals hoodoo that has haunted Safeway teams the past four years. Last year and the year before, the Denver quintet was a hot favorite, but it collapsed on the threshold of the semi-finals.

Shelton rates his team behind the Bartlesville Oilers, Missouri Valley champions, the Hollywood Stars, with five Olympic players in their lineup, and the strengthened Kansas City Trails.

Spring Styles Heralded At Fashion, Automobile Show To Large Audience

Beautiful Models Parade In Outstanding Spring Frocks And Accessories Against Background Of Attractive Garden Scene; Automobiles Demonstrated From Stage

The thrill of new clothes and shiny automobiles was imparted to each man, woman and child in the audience Tuesday evening when the spot lights played upon the spring offerings in the respective lines and showed the beautiful as well as the extreme side of the styles that designers decree will be the very thing to wear this year when models were shown at the Fifth Annual Fashion and Automobile Show at the Municipal Auditorium.

The attendance was even larger than at previous performances and their appreciation was shown by heavy applause.

A garden scene formed the background for the offerings and three swings, beautifully decorated with pink roses as were the garden gates, gave a particularly lovely atmosphere for the heralding of the spring season. Pink petals falling from above furthered the chosen theme.

The Swing Sisters, trio composed of Miss Wanda McQuain, Miss Clarinda Mary Sanders and Miss Jane Lee Hannah, swinging to the strains of "Beautiful Lady" opened the show, and then, singing "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," set the pace for the forthcoming performance.

Music for the show was arranged by Jimmie Willson who was assisted by Pete Shaw, Weldon Stamps and Gene Reynolds in orchestral music.

Jaqueline Faw and Andree Bulot sang while children modeled Kate Greenway frocks from the Grand Leader. They were Dorothy Marie Wasson, Jerry Hodges, Robbie Piner, Joanne Rice, Marijo Thurman, Doris Ann and Ruby Joyce Blankenship, Anne Currie, Joyce and Joan Beene, twins, who have modeled for this store nearly every one of their six years, Louise Anne Bennett, Yvonne Hull, Elizabeth Moody and Helen McGee.

Automobiles This was followed by Joe Robert Myers who introduced the first of the automobile show by singing "I'm Wild About Cars On Automobiles." A burst of loud horns introduced the first that arrived in all its gleaming glory and was gracefully turned about on the spacious stage.

Sponsors who appeared with the demonstrators were Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. Ray Lawrence, Miss Eloise Oldham, Miss Nancy Crenshaw, Mrs. Shine Phillips, Mrs. Preston Sanders, Miss Enid Avriett, Miss Daurice Thompson and Mrs. Adolph Swartz. Their escorts were Otis Patsick, W. L. Hanshaw, T. J. Wheeler, C. R. Johnson, R. R. McEwen, H. W. Eroughton, Hilo Hatch, Ell Maxfield, Granite Dawson and H. A. McCelvey.

After the first group of automobiles was shown, the models wearing the cleverly designed sport clothes entered. J. & W. Fisher company frocks were worn by Miss Gladys Smith, Miss Margaret Reed, Mrs. C. P. McElvey, Mrs. Hugh Duberly and Mrs. Garland Sanders.

Modeling for the Hollywood Show were Miss Charlene Fallon, Miss Pauline Van Horn, Wileen Lucille Rix and Mrs. Rosalind Gulkey.

Ladies' Salon was represented by Miss Minnie Belle Williamson, Miss Eleanor Bryarley, Miss Mary Konnington of Midland, Mrs. Robert Riegel and Mrs. Harvey Williamson.

The Fashion models were Miss Winifred Piner, Mrs. Rozelle Stephens, Mrs. Edna Morgan of Eastland, Mrs. Lewis Rix and Mrs. Tracy Smith.

Showing for Albert M. Fisher Company were Miss Don Hutte, Miss Chester Cathey, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mrs. Ruth Staha and Mrs. George Crosthwait and little Patricia Lloyd.

Lloyd Wasson, Roy Bruce, Lawrence Liberty and Elmo Wasson showed recent fashions from Elmo Wasson's men's store.

Entertainment features of the first act were a song by Mrs. B. C. Moser and a tap dance by Robert Riegel.

After the display of the afternoon apparel C. A. Bulot sang "I Sing You a Thousand Love Songs" and Pete Shaw and Weldon Stamps sang "When My Dream Boat Comes Home" and was assisted by an ensemble of girls that included Miss Nancy Phillips, Miss Mary Louise Wood, Miss Bobby Taylor, Miss Joelle Tompkins, Miss Marguerite Reed, Miss Don Hutte, Miss Clarinda Mary Sanders, Miss Wanda McQuain, Miss Jane Lee Hannah, Miss Mary Nell Edwards, Miss Dorothy Rae Wilkerson, Miss Nina Rose Webb, Miss Inez Knaus, Miss Camille Koberg, Miss Evelyn Clements and Miss Emily Stealup.

Spectacular beauty achieved by the displaying of some of the most beautiful evening gowns ever shown in the city featured the final act and was climaxed by the

Reading + Writing

By John Selby

Quite possibly you connect Robert Graves with Rome and the old Emperor Claudius, which is quite correct, since his last two novels have been about Claudius. Now he has done a philatelic joy called "The Antigua Stamp," and has come forward a good many centuries, and the whole thing's great fun.

Truthfully, the remark about "The Antigua Stamp" being a philatelic joy is not quite serious. There's a good deal of patter about this famous stamp, which is not in Scott's catalogue, so don't bother looking. The book concerns a quarrel over its possession between a sinister sister and a stupid brother, to be sure. But the whole thing might just as well have been stewed up over the possession of a Bertha M. Clay first edition, or the last year's tag on your dog's collar.

Mr. Graves is being very modern and very bright. He makes the sister a paragon of cleverness, and a ghastly unpleasant girl. The ingenuity with which she accomplishes her devilment is incredible, and the calculated chill of her results would have made a much more intelligent person than her brother Oliver writes. She loved tormenting people, from youth on, and was never quite as happy as when preparing subtle torture.

And Oliver was such a perfect mark. Oliver collected stamps as a boy, which gave Jane such a lot of opportunities. When he went to Charchester, Oliver found that stamp collecting was "not done," for no reason. He became the glass of Charchester stupidity, and when he went from school to London he was still stupid. He and Jane quarrelled—Jane was soon running the most successful atelier in England, and Oliver was writing novels—one might almost say "of course."

MAYBE THE TWAİN WILL MEET; HOSE PROBLEM SOLVED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—Missy's problem of making her stockings meet her garters appeared today to be headed toward quick oblivion.

Uniting on this vexing issue, the government and the hosiery trade have decided on a silken leg standard for future hose. This doesn't mean the stocking makers have turned their backs on the extra-short and extra-long legged women. The production of special models will continue.

It does mean that when an average-legged woman asks for "stockings," she won't come home with a silken something ranging from socks to hose that resemble wading boots.

Rebekahs Plan Attendance At State Meeting

Completion of arrangements for attendance at the Rebekah Grand lodge meeting beginning Sunday in Corsicana and initiation of a new member were features of the session of the local Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening.

Those who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Powell Martin, Mrs. Hazel Lamar, Mrs. Ludis Lykins, Mrs. Mabel Glenn, Mrs. Theima Randolph, Hollis Lloyd and J. H. Henderson.

Mr. Martin will take part in the installation of the state officers in the official capacity of state deputy, and will also be the escort for the state vice president. She is a member of the grand credit committee. Mrs. Lamar has received another year's appointment on the committee of unwritten work, and Mrs. Glenn will go on as an official representative of the local lodge. Hughes and Henderson will be present as representatives of the subordinate lodge.

Mrs. Bertie McLeod was initiated into membership in ceremonies presided over by Mrs. Ludis Lykins.

In addition to the members attending four Stanton guests attending were Mrs. Vera McCoy, Mrs. Pearl Laws, Mrs. Pearl Laird and Mrs. Pearl Payton.

ME Young People Hold Banquet At Church

Sixty-three members and guests of the high school department of the First Methodist church were present at a banquet Tuesday evening in the church basement that was sponsored by Mrs. C. E. Thomas, Mrs. O. M. Waters, Joy Stripling and J. C. Milburn, all of whom are class teachers.

The tables were attractively trimmed with Irish green and table motifs were shamrocks. The trend of program numbers also ran to the St. Patrick's day scheme.

Raymond Plunkett, department president, presided as toastmaster. Mrs. Thomas gave a brief introduction and the group was led in songs by L. E. Clough. Mickey Gordon welcomed the guests and afterwards Mrs. Valdeva Childers and her violin ensemble gave a number with Mrs. Edmund Berger accompanying at the piano. Gerald Anderson read two appropriate pieces and Miss Maurine Rowe and Maurine Shultz sang "My Wild Irish Rose," followed by a violin solo given by Mrs. Childers. R. H. Miller, representing J. C. Milburn's class, performed a clever stunt that ended the program. Impromptu talks were given by Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Biekley, Mr. and Mrs. Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Stripling, and Mr. Milburn.

Mrs. Schubert Honored At Birthday Party

Mrs. M. Schubert was honored with a surprise party Tuesday evening on the occasion of her 61st birthday. At games of 42 during the evening, Charles Schultz won high for men and Mrs. Schubert for women. Mrs. A. M. Ripps won a special prize.

The St. Patrick motif was carried out in decorations. Attending were Mrs. Ripps, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz, Mrs. J. Green, Mrs. N. Brenner, Mrs. Lloyd Kinman, Mrs. Wade Clifton, Mrs. C. H. Tidwell and son, James, and E. M. Fleming.

PROBE SHOOTING

MALESTER, Okla., Mar. 10 (AP)—W. J. Counts, Pittsburg county attorney, pressed an investigation today into the fatal shooting last night of James Davis, Hallettsville cafe owner, who was returning to his home after serving as a witness in a murder trial here.

Wally Protected In French Chateau

MONTHS, France, Mar. 10 (AP)—French police left Mrs. Wallis Simpson today to the protection of a sharp-eyed woman lodgekeeper in wooden shoes.

She hid the gate key of Chateau de Candé Mrs. Simpson's new abode, under her apron and telephoned to the chateau for instructions every time anyone rapped on the portals.

Three policemen withdrew, leaving only Julie Boldy, of the surete generale, somewhere in the Touraine neighborhood.

Mrs. Simpson slept until noon. Herman L. Rogers, her Riviera host who accompanied her here yesterday, said she had made no plans to go to Paris to get her trousseau for her spring marriage to Edward, Duke of Windsor.

Rogers' announcement that she would remain at the Chateau de Candé "at least a month," indicating it might be Mrs. Simpson's last residence before she weds the former King Edward VIII.

Music Club To Offer Program This Evening

A program arranged for this evening by Mrs. G. C. Schurman of the Music Study Club will introduce to local people Big Spring's adult "hidden" talent when the club presents its members in a musical program at the First Christian Church beginning at 8 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend the affair which is the only program of the year that is open to those other than club members. Appearing in instrumental and vocal numbers will be Mrs. Harry Hurt, Mrs. Omar Pittman, Mrs. H. B. Hurley, Mrs. Valdeva Childers, Mrs. Willard Read, Miss Ruby Bell, Mrs. R. E. Blount, Mrs. L. A. Eubang, Miss J. R. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Bruce Frazier, Miss Elsie Willis and Messrs. E. H. Bethel, Ira M. Powell, Herbert Keaton, D. W. Conley, Virgil Smith, B. T. Cardwell, J. F. Whitaker and Dale McCook.

Numbers will include chorus arrangements, vocal and instrumental solos and piano duets.

Air Service From Houston To Corpus To Be Authorized

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—The postoffice department appeared likely today to authorize a new airmail and passenger service between Houston, Texas, and Corpus Christi, Texas, within a week.

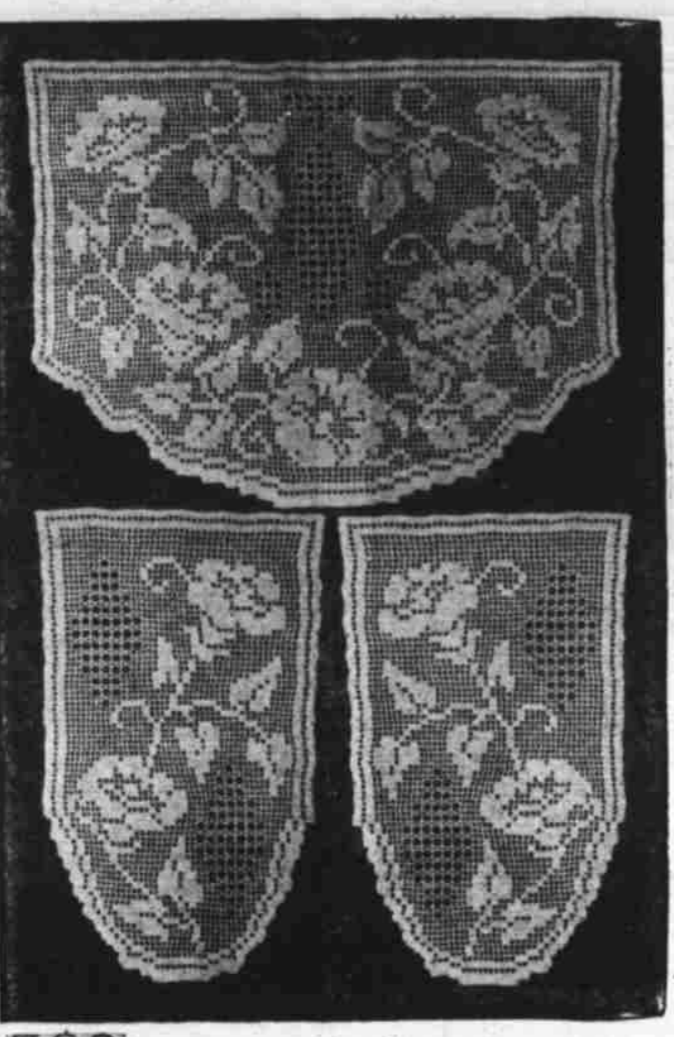

Karl Crowley, department solicitor, predicted Postmaster General Farley would approve, perhaps by the end of this week, his recommendation that Braniff Airways, Inc., be permitted to establish the 100-mile extension to its Chicago-Houston route.

He made the statement yesterday at the conclusion of hearings on Braniff's application and a similar request by Eastern Air Lines.

He said that, legally, both concerns could be given the air mail privileges over the Houston-Corpus Christi route, but expressed the opinion that the fact Braniff had been operating its system at a loss seemed to outweigh Eastern's contention that it could operate through service between Corpus Christi and New York City if its application were approved.

He asserted Braniff not only would suffer losses in Texas if the contract went to Eastern, but would be forced to reduce its service along its route from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico.

Chair Set

380

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 380

If you want your living room to look very nice on the first day of spring, and for many springs thereafter, now is the time to begin on a new chair set that will help to accomplish this. It is made of flax, not cotton, but that does not prevent us from obtaining graceful lines for the flowers. The chair back measures 18 1/2 by 12 inches, and the arm pieces 8 1/2 by 12.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with block and space diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 380 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring, Texas, Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 200, Station D, New York, N. Y.

Three Guests Join Happy Go Lucky Club At Bridge

Mrs. Logan Baker, Mrs. J. J. Green and Mrs. J. T. Allen were the guests of the Happy Go Lucky club Tuesday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Brigham for bridge.

The house was decorated with spring flowers and ivy and bridge accessories were suggestive of the season. Favors were Easter baskets filled with candy eggs.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Allen, Mrs. L. C. Graves and Mrs. Lee Parker.

Others present were Mrs. Hugh Hendrix and Mrs. Byron Housewright.

Mrs. Graves will entertain for the next party.

Mrs. Vernon Logan Is Good Times Hostess

Mrs. Vernon Logan was hostess for luncheon Tuesday at the Club Cafe for members of the Good Time Club.

After the meal the five women called in a body upon friends who were ill.

In the group were Mrs. Logan, Mrs. J. C. Loper, Mrs. E. T. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Coffey and Mrs. Roy Cornelison.

WOMEN WHO ARE AILING

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription stimulates the appetite and the circulation of the blood, helping to build up the body. Read this: Mrs. W. W. Soble of 709 W. 26th St., Texas, said: "For weak women, and to relieve nervousness associated with functional disturbances, I heartily recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. Buy now! New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00 & $1.25."

Out-of-Town Guests Attend Homemakers Party At Savages

Two out-of-town guests were present for the Homemakers' class party Tuesday afternoon when the First Christian women met at the home of Mrs. A. C. Savage for the monthly affair with Mrs. Delmont Cook and Mrs. T. E. Baker as co-hostesses.

Mrs. A. L. Haley and Mrs. D. C. Hamilton of Colorado and Roscoe, respectively, were the guests.

Many plans were discussed but no definite arrangements were made during the short business session that preceded the social hour. The Easter theme was attractively used on the salad plate that held tiny chickens and eggs, and served to the guests and Mrs. G. C. Schurman, Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mrs. C. M. Shaw, Mrs. R. J. Michael, Mrs. Shelby Hall, Mrs. George W. Hall, Mrs. M. C. Lawrence, Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Mrs. E. L. K. Rice, Mrs. R. W. Ogden, Mrs. W. W. Inkman, Mrs. Harry Lees and Mrs. Savage.

Mrs. Jimmie Shipman Joins Deuce Club

Mrs. Jimmie Shipman became a member of the Deuce Bridge Club at the Tuesday afternoon meeting in the home of Mrs. Shellie Barnes who was hostess for an Easter affair.

The chosen theme was used in all accessories. Mrs. B. P. Franklin was highest scorer. Mrs. Watson Hammond won at bingie while Mrs. R. H. Miller took the floating prize.

Members are Mrs. Shipman, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. L. R. Terry, Mrs. George Crosthwait and Mrs. Jimmie Tucker.

Mrs. Crosthwait will entertain next.

do these telephone mishaps ever happen to you?

Your telephone bell rings...you pick up the receiver, and...there is no one on the line. Here are some ways to avoid this...for yourself and others:

1. Someone may have asked for your number by mistake, discovered the error, and hung up.
REMEDY: If you are not sure of a number, look in the directory before making a call.

2. Someone called you, but got impatient and didn't wait a reasonable time for you to answer.
REMEDY: When you make a call, wait about a minute (10 rings) for a reply before you hang up.

3. You may not have answered your telephone promptly by the time you answered, the person calling had hung up.
REMEDY: Always try to answer your telephone promptly.

Simple remedies, these...but important. They help us give you better telephone service.

Infield Is A Problem For The Cardinals

There'll Be Plenty Of Gas, Fumes, Noise And Class With St. Louis

(This is one of a series on major league pennant prospects.)
By PAUL MICKELSON
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Mar. 10 (AP)—There'll be plenty of gas, fumes, noise and class with the St. Louis Cardinals this year but whether they can cross the finish line first depends on their infield. While the pitching situation has been improved with the acquisition of Lon Warneke from the Chicago Cubs as a teammate of the great Dizzy Dean, who's certain to be out there chucking opening day, the infield problem has Manager Frankie Frisch walking the floor nights.

Frisch has eight infielders, including himself, but of the lot only Leo "Lippy" Durocher is an established regular of major league calibre. And Durocher is not a freshman any more. Johnny Mizs should do at first. Yet, the second year often is fatal to a hopeful youngster. Frisch hopes to use Stu Martin on second, if not himself, but Martin recently underwent an appendicitis operation and is 30 pounds underweight. Durocher will be at shortstop. At third, the problem is whether Don Gottschalk can improve his hitting and field fast enough to fill the bill. Although Mickey Owen, exceptional rookie from Columbus and Bruce Ogrodzki, last year's receiver, look easily good enough to take care of the catching duties in good style, both must come through strongly to give the Cards what they need defensively and offensively there.

Men Still Prefer Blondes As Brides, Says Head Of Widow-Widower Club

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Mrs. Nelle Zrooke Stull, president and founder of the national Widow and Widowers club, is in Minneapolis on what she calls a "manhunt."
"She said she was looking for eligible husbands for two persons, a friend in particular, one a wealthy Cleveland woman who can cook."
These mate-seeking women, according to Mrs. Stull, have expressed preference for "the chivalrous Scandinavians."
Mrs. Stull, a chubby little woman past 50, told about her success in bringing more than 850 couples before the altar during the last 17 years.
"I pick out logical mates from the information each sends me and then they arrange their own meetings," she said, "and the resulting marriages are invariably love matches, because the participants, being in the mood for love, fall easily."
"Men," she said, "still prefer blondes. But what they really want is a girl who looks like a blonde, talks like a brunette and acts like a redhead. And the young men—oh, those boys—they want everything in a mate. They want good looks, health, a good figure, a job and money. Older men, on the other hand, want any woman who can satisfy their vanity by flattering and babying them."
"A meal ticket, excitement and a 'cave man' are the things that a young woman expects in a husband. All middle-aged women expect moderate comfort and companionship," she asserted.
Mrs. Stull admitted that she was a staunch believer of love. She added, "women won't fall in love with men for their good qualities but merely because of the way a man puts their hand or kisses them goodnight."
"The happiest marriages," she said, "are second marriages and the only real love comes in the second marriage. Earlier love is of the puppy variety."
And child marriages?
"They are deplorable," said Mrs. Stull. "Twenty is the best age for both men and women who intend to wed."
Mrs. Stull said she had 15,000 offers of marriage personally and described herself as "the only woman in the world who can keep a secret."

Oklahoma oil men breathed a bit easier when the house of representatives killed a bill to increase the production tax from five to 10 per cent.
The price structure of both crude oil and refined products remained unchanged.
Crude oil production hit a new top of about 3,800,000 barrels daily with no indication of a lull in the production in view of the fact that heavy producing states had set march allowables well in excess of the bureau of mines recommendation.
Wells completed in the nation totaled 515, six more than the week before and productivity was 78 per cent, a little better than average.

Tax And Labor Issues Worry Oil Industry

Executives Silent On Lewis Plan To Organize Oil Workers
TULSA, Okla., Mar. 10 (AP)—A hesitant feeling inspired by the possibilities of labor difficulties and higher taxes abated the optimism of the petroleum industry today.
Although executives were agreed that in the long view the prospect for a fine year's business had not changed, immediate problems had them a bit concerned.
The attention of labor and management alike was focused on the announced intention of John L. Lewis to organize a million petroleum employees in production and distribution under the Committee for Industrial Organization.
Oil company executives refused comment on the situation.
The fact was recalled however that less than two weeks ago Frank Phillips, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, forecast here the industry would have to cope with labor controversies during the year. He urged employees to consider the situation well before they allied themselves with any group.
Conference
A conference was in progress here today between a union negotiations committee and officials of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation concerning the union's demand for recognition. The negotiations committee has been empowered by three locals of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers to call a sit-down strike of 1,500 union employees if they are not recognized by the company.
The recurrent problem of taxation was in the forefront of the picture with Texas awaiting state senate action on the measure passed last week by the house to increase the oil production tax

LADY STOPS OFTEN MISTER HOLDS SPEED

Both ways you save and you're safer WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

Any oil ad is right when it tells you that normal starting of your engine—even in warmer weather—might still hurt worse than miles of speed. But is it enough just to TELL YOU? Or wouldn't you rather know exactly HOW your engine and your oil can really be SAVED? You don't want just general statements, but plain sane reasons. And here they are on OIL-PLATING...

It is the only type of lubrication not done solely by squirts of oil. Squinting can't even begin till the engine moves, and then the oil must still spread around. So there's very little oiling for some little while! But Oil-Plating, formed only by Conoco Germ Processed oil, is always completely spread, before you even leave your house, the stores, or a movie. That's specifically because patented Germ Processing forces this oil to seek an actual physical union with all engine metals. The cylinders, pistons, bearings and other parts take on this oil for good, and become lastingly Oil-Plated!

Really bound on by Oil-Plating, clear to the top of the cylinders, Conoco Germ Processed oil can't ever sneak away and leave bare spots. No matter how long you park, Oil-Plating doesn't run down. No matter how long you speed, Oil-Plating doesn't thin down to nothing, squeeze out, or burn up. So you can really tell why you save, and why the oldest or newest car is safer, changed over to Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

FUNDS FOR HIGHWAYS

One thing at least the legislature can let alone — and should let alone — is the state highway department, and its funds. The department is doing good work, doing it systematically, and the legislature would do much to retard and confuse that work if the members should enact such bills as one proposing to divert some millions of highway funds to the construction of lateral roads.

Other roads than highways are needed, of course—we need additional lateral roads in Howard county—but in many places they are being built as rapidly as is consistent with the means available. But to take money that properly should go to building and maintaining highways to construct neighborhood roads would be, it seems to The Herald, shortsighted policy. The highway department is headed by men who know what they are doing. It has engineers and other employees who know road construction and maintenance. The whole department is operating efficiently, accomplishing more than members of the legislature could accomplish, because they are not trained for that work.

The large amount of money that has been made available for highway work, through state and federal sources, is a constant temptation for diversion; yet it should not be, for the highway system of Texas is even greater than the money with which to enlarge and maintain it. That money takes care of the highways in every county of the state, but it is not a large enough sum to take care of lateral roads in addition. Used for that purpose, the system for which taxes are being levied and money is being collected would suffer; and while some neighborhoods would have better roads, the state as a whole would suffer.

Because of its size, Texas has a tremendous problem in the perfection of a network of highways. The state has made great progress in that direction, but needs to make more. Development of the state as a whole will demand the eventual linking of all sections by surfaced highways. And the maintenance item is a huge one in Texas. Additional highway building and adequate maintenance should come first; the lateral road situation is more a local problem.

There are plenty of problems confronting the legislature to which members may give their attention without devising proposals that would cripple the highway department.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Despite its craving for lurid headlines and new stories of an intimate gossipy variety, New York recently misses the real drama that lies underneath the front page news. Often the sorriest tragedies and the most romantic comedies are hidden in obscure little paragraphs among the public notices and in the lost and found departments.

These are the notes of the agony columns, the "Please come home" and "All forgiven" items, and while they may seem silly and even ludicrous to you, they are anything but that to the ones whose lives they concern.

Take, for instance, this note in one of the big metropolitan dailies: "Joseph, won't you write soon? Martin keeps asking for you." It is signed simply "Mother and Dad." Here are the elements of heartache that O. Henry could twist into fascinating fiction. Who is Joseph? More important still, who is Martin? He might be a brother, a friend, even a small son. The wording of the note suggests that he is ill.

Another query on the same page concerns a wife who left England a quarter of a century ago. "Will Clara Harrison (the wife of John Edward Harrison), Leeds Road, Bradford, who left Bradford, England, for the U.S.A. about 25 years ago, and believed to have lived in Philadelphia, please communicate with Messrs. Watson, Son & Smith, Solicitors, Bradford." Perhaps this woman was a young bride at the time. E. Phillips Oppenheim would have a legacy involved, and an exciting romantic chase across two continents.

Then there are such items as these: "Somewhere in New York, between the French Line pier and the Hotel Pierre, a diamond and onyx locket is missing. A Masonic ring, carrying an emblem and a diamond, is also missing. This is engraved 'Ida to Sam.' Easier to locate will be a Black Cocker spaniel with a white nose. She answers to 'Topsy.' Suitable rewards are waiting if you can return any of these.

"Restaurant Owners, if your business does not show the right profits, I am the man who can tell you why!" Now there is a fellow with a lot of self-confidence.

Young Viennese, 24, well educated, widely traveled, rich in ideas, seeks position where he can make his abilities count. Young lady, 32, pleasant, seeks responsible office position, where experienced, earnest services are valued. Two young men, 25, personable, well born, accomplished, excellent cultural backgrounds, will accept any legitimate connection involving adventure and romance.

Comedy and heartache—they flow through the columns of the newspapers every day in a turbulent procession of melodrama and adventure. But New York seldom sees them. New York can't get past that murder story on Page One.

Japan's promise of Chinese equality taken lightly. Lengthy delay seen between words and action. Inattentive justice sits congressman's wrath. Tydings' victory dinner speech displeases audience.

Armed Equality

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—The promise of equality for China, made by Japan's new foreign minister, State caused less of a stir privately than publicly. Diplomats thought it probably meant the injection into Far East diplomacy of the league of nations technique, in which there is quite a distance between words and action. Seto is just back from the Far East and his remarks were close to league methods. Authorities here, therefore, are inclined to count his promise as all to the good, but not necessarily forecasting immediate action, reviving the nine-power pact, recognizing the territorial integrity of China.

The Diet, too, to which he delivered his address, seemed to take the same view. As soon as he sat down, it passed the army and navy appropriations which consume half the budget.

To See Ourselves

A new congressman from the west had been hearing so much about the supreme court that he decided to go over and take a look at it.

At very dull legal argument was going on as he entered the impressive court chamber. Everyone was sitting around, chin in hand, eyeing the floor or the walls. Finally, he noticed the eyelids of Justice Van Devanter sagging. Later, the justice's mouth opened in such a manner as to suggest that he was listening more closely to the argument of Morpheus than to counsel for the plaintiff.

The legislator arose indignantly, stormed back to the cloakroom of the house of representatives, loudly told his idling colleagues there what he had seen and announced things like that should not be allowed to go on in this country.

Up piped the tired voice of an influential leader from a sofa in the corner:

"If you want to yell, go out on the floor. It is getting so a fellow can't get any rest around here."

Note—The difference between the house and the supreme court is that the justices remain in their chairs during all the dull and stupid arguments which are offered, but congressmen generally go to the cloakroom, to their offices, or even to the movies if they choose. Only a few are regularly present on the floor during most of each day.

Ark

Mr. R. is segregating the sheep and goat rather sharply now on the cotton issue, but he is discovering some lambs who may really be goats in sheep's clothing.

For instance, there seems to be some question inside as to whether the hair of lamb-like John Lewis is really as curly as should be. Some of Lewis' associates are going around saying in substance that they are for the president's court plan because they "have to be, whether they want to or not."

The answer probably is that, if Mr. R.'s court packing plan goes through, and he establishes a new NRA, Lewis may become far less influential than he has been lately. Incidentally, no well grounded political authority heretofore considers him possible as a 1940 candidate. Unless he eliminates the A. F. of L. entirely during the next three years, he would not even have labor support behind him. However, he may have something to say about who will be a candidate.

Pressure

The goat about whom there is considerable conversation in the senate lobby these days is Sen. Mildred Tydings, the Maryland democrat.

It seems Mr. Tydings delivered an address at the Raleigh, North Carolina, Victory Dinner which the audience considered to be something short of the best democratic speech ever heard. Tydings mentioned no names, but talked of dictator, and some in the audience got the idea somehow or other he must have meant President Roosevelt. At a reception afterward, the audience remained away in droves, and, some say, Tydings shook hands only with himself.

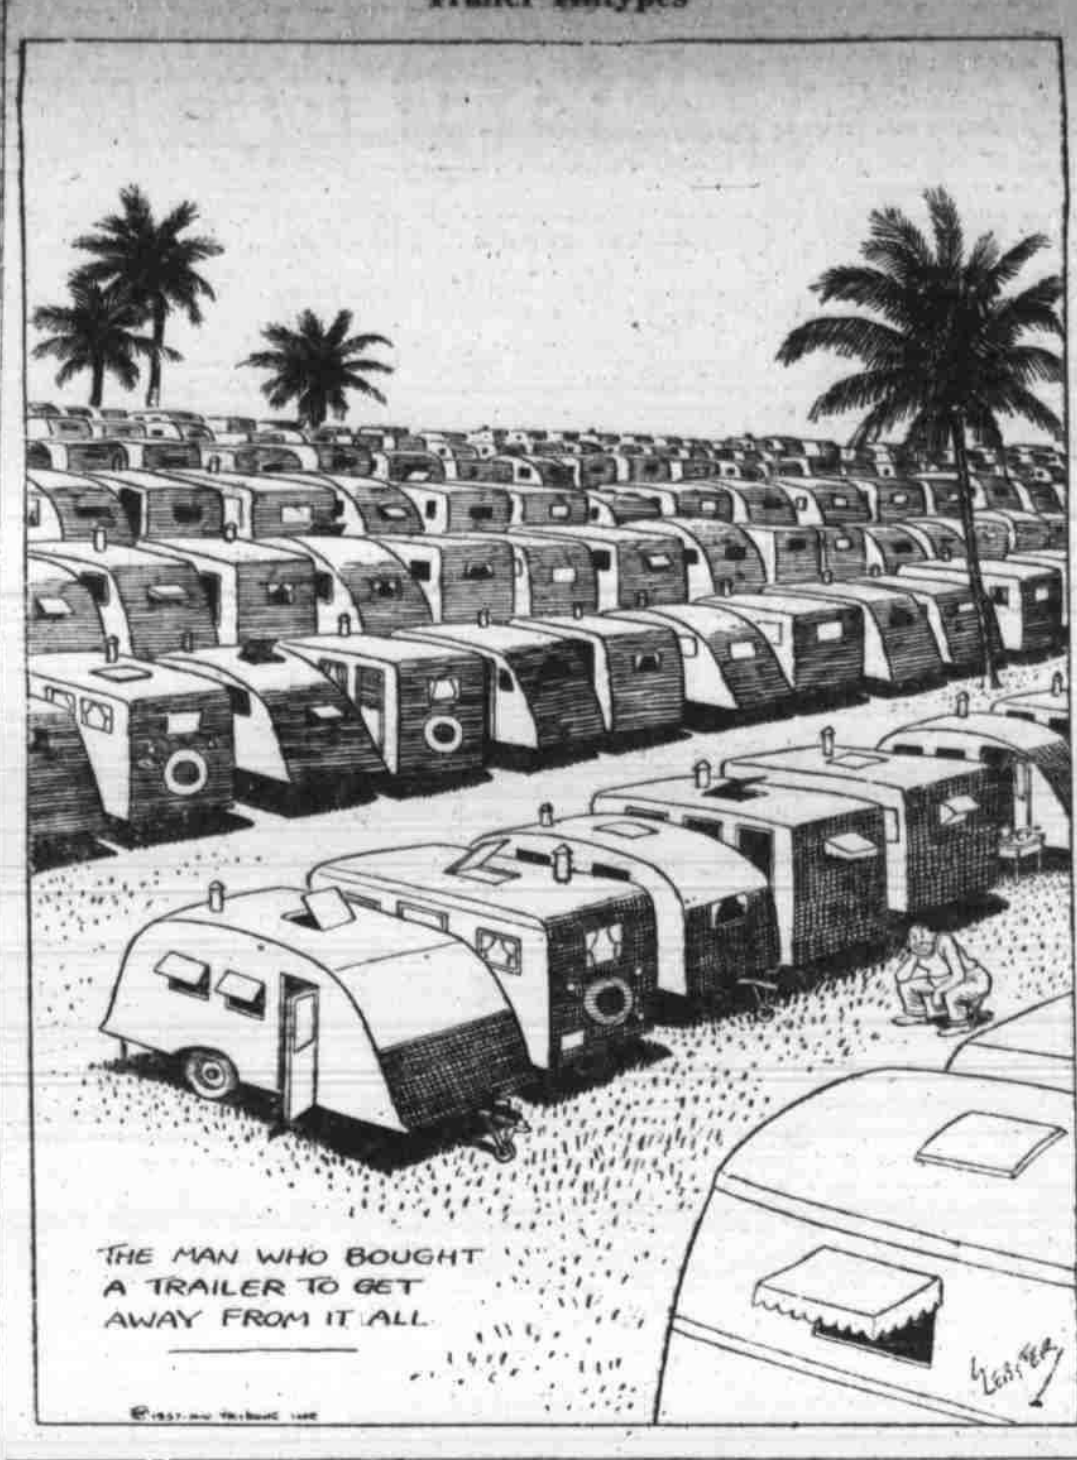

At any rate, a second Victory Dinner has been organized by the local authorities for Friday, and a speech will be delivered which will tell the audience only what it should hear. The arrangers made sure of that this time. They have invited Harold Ickes.

The Other Check

The supreme court is certainly doing right by the senate, regardless of what the senate may do about the rights of the supreme court.

Again the other day, the court inferentially upheld the senate right of impeachment by denying review in the Judge Ritter impeachment case.

The decision started senators to thinking that the court has, in recent years, upheld the rights of the senate in investigations (Mal Dougherty, etc.), in contempt cases (McCadden, et al), in impeachments. No personal issue has arisen between these two branches of government since the old Newberry case.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—They would have you believe, on the Metro lot, that Sam Wood's facial expressions on the set are due to his efforts to show the Marx boys how, in other words, they tell you, he has become a fourth Marx brother.

This may be true, for the hard-working Wood likes to go through the motions with his actors. But privately I have a hunch, since boys will be boys and so will Marxes, that there is some more deeply rooted cause.

Wood had the good fortune—or bad luck—to make a hit of the last Marx film, "A Night at the Opera," and therefore was logical choice for their current essay, "A Day at the Races." With this vehicle he has lived, eaten and slept these many months, long before it's the shooting stage, even before it went on the road for test performances in key cities.

Tense At Work
Watch him on the set, and you see a man who works tensely. This scene, for instance, wherein Groucho has been cavorting on the dance floor with blonde Esther Blair while long-suffering Margaret Dumont, the Groucho stooge, looks on indignantly.

Wood goes in there to trip lightning in Groucho style, through the party of the first part. Finally, and while the camera turns, he crouches beside it like a football tackle ready to spring. He pushes back his hat, a moment later pulls it down again, then pushes it back once more and mops his brow with his handkerchief. He alternately scowls, smiles and grimaces. The smiles are there when the scene is done perfectly, and he relaxes then, becomes the general Sam of the days when less strenuous films were his lot.

"It's the timing," he once told me, "that makes comedy tough."

Freaks A Worry
What seems to make the Marxes tough, however, is not so much their offstage pranks as their proclivities for disappearing.

From other sources you hear that Wood is a master at keeping the "boys" in line and on the mark. But Harpo still occasionally disappears, the unfathomable pixie, necessitating a canvass of all the telephones on the lot to discover at which he is planted in conference with his bookie.

STRIKERS PERMIT THE NORMANDIE TO SAIL

LE HAVRE, France, Mar. 10 (UP)—Strikers made a special exception today to permit the liner Normandie to sail for the United States with 500 passengers.

The striking maritime workers also agreed to go back to their jobs tomorrow, freeing more than a dozen ships which have been tied up since the walkout was called yesterday because of the strikers' dissatisfaction with an 11 per cent wage increase.

BEA GOTTLIEB STILL IN STATE OF COMA

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (UP)—Bea Gottlieb, 30-year-old golf star, lay unconscious in a hospital today as a physician fought to counteract the effects of what an ambulance surgeon described as an overdose of sleeping powder.

Her condition had improved since she was found in her apartment a few hours after Carey Phelan, restaurateur, had been acquitted of a charge of assaulting her.

Love Scenes Must Have Realism

Principals Must Like One Another, Or Audience Suspects, Says Director

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Mar. 10 (UP)—A romantic motion picture team can't be very convincing unless the party of the first part likes the party of the second part pretty well, it was said today in the opinion of W. S. "One-Take" Van Dyke.

Van Dyke, film director, is one of Hollywood's hardest-working cupids for purely professional reasons, of course.

"In matching a romantic team," Van Dyke said today, "it's necessary to have people who work smoothly together, who really like one another and attract one another."

A motion picture audience can't suspect, said Van Dyke, that when screen lovers get a reputation for the whole-hearted and effective manner in which they go into clinches there is something to it, after all.

Not love, necessarily—no affection that has the slightest impression on their off-the-screen relationships, the screen lover may be a happy husband and a good father; the other half of the team a devoted wife.

But you can assume, said Van Dyke, that the two get along quite well, if they don't the audience detects it, and so amount of histrionics can completely conceal the friction.

Some of the teams he is credited with creating include those of Joan Crawford-Clark Gable, William Powell-Myrna Loy and Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy.

A more recent combination is that of Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor. At the moment he is acting as the John Alden for Spencer Tracy and Gladys George.

Two Accidents Identical

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP)—Twice within three years, Miss Madeline Murray, 24, was involved in an automobile mishap at the same spot on Pleasant Street. Each time her car skidded through an iron fence and dropped into a brook. Neither time was she seriously hurt.

ESCAPE IF YOU CAN

BY FREDERICK JACKSON

Chapter 20
PENETRATING LORNA'S HIDOUT

Topsy was dressed in tweed plus-fours, woolen stockings and stout boots; a leather jacket that had a slide fastener in front was strained to span her ample hips; a canny colored scarf was knotted at her throat and she had on soiled woolen gloves. She looked enormous in her strange apparel—a truly awesome sight. But if Bigelow was astonished when he recognized her, Topsy was speechless as she recognized him.

"Oh," said Bigelow dismally, "hope I didn't startle you. I rang the gate bell ever so many times, but nothing happened."

"It doesn't ring," growled Topsy. "Where in God's name did you come from, anyway, and what brings you here?"

"I came with Anne. She's waiting outside the gates in the car."

"But how did you get in?"

"Climbed the wall. He smiled at her pleasantly.

"But why, for God's sake?"

"Anne will tell you all about it. If you'll let me have the key, I'll go and unlock the gates and she can drive in."

"Oh, ear she!" repeated Topsy grimly. "You're most polite but I can see quite plainly I have no choice in the matter, now that you know I am here. Laugh if you like, I've seen myself in the glass so I know how I look. But I find this a very practical costume for bringing in wood for the fires and other necessary chores. It belonged to the recent owner—Mr. Cornelius Hewitt—who, by the grace of God, bulged in all the right places. Right for me, I mean, of course. Just a minute and I'll go out with you and speak to Anne. You've got to know how to handle that gate."

She crossed to the table, opened a drawer and after fishing about for a moment, found the key.

"Come along," she said, closing the door carefully behind her. They crunched along the driveway side by side. Topsy was silent, frowning, deep in thought, and Bigelow did not interrupt her meditations. Anne saw them through the gate and called and waved excitedly.

"How in the name of God," cried Topsy, "did you get the idea of looking for me, here? I've never stayed here before in my life and with ordinary luck I'll never stay here again! And why were you so anxious to find me?"

"To reach Lorna," explained Anne, through the gate.

"Lorna?" repeated Topsy vaguely.

"Lorna Dryden. Isn't she here with you?"

"No, of course not. Whatever put that in your head? Isn't she in town?"

Anne stared at her in dismay.

"Open the gates," she begged. "We can't go on talking like this!"

Topsy unlocked them, Bigelow opened them, and Anne drove in. "Close them again, please," ordered Topsy. "It probably hasn't occurred to you, but I came here to be undisturbed." And she locked the gates again decisively.

"It's a kind of soap!"

"But why, Topsy, if it wasn't to hide Lorna?"

"Why?" repeated Topsy vaguely. "I don't know. It was a sudden impulse. I wanted to get away by myself somewhere and think something out—and suddenly I thought of this place. . . . But why should I want to hide Lorna? What's she done?"

"Nobody knows. But she's disappeared. Is she really not here with you, Topsy? We've got to find her."

"You can search the house if you like," said Topsy.

Anne sighed. "But where else can she be? I was sure we'd find her here with you."

"No one has ever seen where that one might be," said Topsy. "I have told anyone else your suspicions! Am I to expect a prosecution of visitors, now?"

"No," said Anne reassuringly. "We told nobody. Nobody knows we're here. So-if you'll give us a warm drink—we'll go away again and you can continue to enjoy your solitude in peace. Through why on earth you should want to stay here by yourself—"

"Don't ask indiscreet questions," said Topsy. "When a girl who isn't married at the moment decides to seek solitude, don't ask why."

She unlocked the front door and ushered them into a vest hall.

"Better come into the kitchen," she said, looking about her. "I haven't bothered dusting here, but the kitchen is clean and warm."

They followed her into the kitchen, obediently. There was a good fire going in the stove there, and the air was fragrant with the aroma of something delicious cooking.

"What is it that smells so divine?" asked Anne, going straight to the stove to sniff.

"Soup. That is a kind of soup," explained Topsy as she began to get down glasses and pour out the drink. "I invented it years ago in Kansas to save trouble when I had to cook for myself. You put everything in—meat, vegetables, everything—and have them all together."

"It sounds marvelous," said Bigelow, mischievously. "We'd stay to luncheon, if we were urged. There seems to be plenty."

"I don't think you'd like it," responded Topsy discouragingly.

"I'm sure we would," Anne assured her.

Topsy turned to look at them witheringly. And at that instant the door opened and a girl came in—a very pretty dark girl in a pink coat.

Topsy lamented her lot.

Bigelow turned in astonishment to stare at the girl advancing rather uncertainly. Anne cried, "Lorna!" and went to meet her, and they kissed. Meanwhile, Topsy was crying out wrathfully.

"Well, I'm a so and so! You make me swear myself red in the face that you're not here, and I know nothing whatever about you, and then walk in quite calmly and make a liar out of me!"

"Sorry, darling," cried Lorna penitently, advancing to perch on the edge of the kitchen table.

"Naturally, I didn't mean you to look to Anne! No idea she'd come looking for me. But when the banging came at the door and you peeped out between the slats, you said all you could see was a strange young man." Her eyes flashed to Bigelow.

"Mr. Bigelow—Mrs. Dryden," said Topsy with a wave of the big wooden spoon upon which she recognized you through the slit in the shutter—that's all I meant when I said, you strange!"

"I hope so," murmured Bigelow, smiling.

"So of course I said 'So I'm not here,'" added Lorna, after nodding at Bigelow to acknowledge the introduction. "Give me a cigarette."

Anne held out her case, and Topsy continued pouring and serving. Lorna took one and lit it absently. "I may be wrong, but it seems to me other people's friends aren't always letting them in for things! This is the first time she's allowed to get out of bed since we arrived here! I've had to carry her meals up to her. She finds the house cozy—which is only to be expected when you stop to think it's been shut up for years. But she would come here! I'd never have dreamed of it! And it wouldn't wear Cornelius's clothes. Betty, I assure you, didn't leave anything of hers behind here."

"Now Topsy—" put in Lorna, grinning, but Topsy was not to be so easily silenced.

"And mind you, I foresaw all this. I'm not an idiot! I tried to reason with her before we left town, but no-use mustn't stop to pack anything! I did manage to throw in a hot-water bottle, thank God, and this liquor! And by a miracle, my cook had just ordered in a supply of food stuffs so we just dumped the lot into the back of the car. Otherwise, I suppose we'd have starved. Do I or don't I have the damndest friends?"

"Do stop raving, there's a dear," drawled Lorna. "Anne and I have got really important things to say to each other."

Topsy snorted and, having distributed the drinks, set down and lit a cigarette.

"Now," said Lorna, turning to Anne and crossing her legs to be more comfortable. As the milk can postied, Bigelow observed that she was wearing a flame colored evening-gown and slippers to match. She was a pretty little thing, with dark eyes that had a way of opening wide, a three-cornered mouth that never quite closed, and distracting dimples. Her hair was the same shade as her lip rouge and her frock.

"Tell me," she breathed, "how you came to think of looking here for me? I thought no one would ever dream of this place! I suppose you missed Topsy—?"

"Yes," nodded Anne, "and Midge said she'd gone to Kansas and I knew nothing would ever persuade her to go back there."

"Nothing," declared Topsy grimly, and with finality.

"Yes, you don't think anyone else will think of looking here, do you?" asked Lorna. "Because if you do, we can't stay here, and I don't know where else I can go." (Copyright, 1937, Frederick Jackson)

RECTOR AT LAREDO CLAIMED BY DEATH

LAREDO, Mar. 10 (UP)—The Rev. Charles William Cook, 64, rector of the Christ Episcopal Church here for 24 years, died suddenly at his home last night of a heart attack following a long illness.

Funeral services were arranged for tomorrow afternoon.

COUNTRY CLUB AT CHILDRENS BURNS

CHILDRESS, Mar. 10 (UP)—The Children's country club house was destroyed today by fire of undetermined origin.

The loss, including a keeper's house and furniture, was estimated at $5,000.

The structure was in flames when a nearby resident discovered it in time to notify the keeper, Earl Alexander, and his family and allow them to escape.
