right off, without thinking too deeply, I'd say the best trout fishing to be found any place in the world is in the west," says Stan, who is baldish, old enough to have done a lot of fishing but not too old to have a good, stout casting muscle in his right arm.

"Pinning it down to exact ness areas of Montana that probness areas of Montana that prob-ably would yield as much fiah as any fishing place in the world. An exception may be Alaska, but some Montana spots, that are almost as remote as places on the Alcae highway, are just as good for fishing. Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah also have good trout

"For sea fishing, I believe right now that the west coast of Mex-ico is the best bet. Fifteen minutes after I started fishing recently I tied into a fish that gave me just about all of the sport I could handle for the day."

When the war started Great Britain had a monopoly on the fine tackle trade. Its craftsmen were known the world over for the excellent hooks, files and lines they created.

"Then along came lend-leas and England, with no spare steel of its own out of which to make fishing equipment, had to give up its export markets," says Wright. "America wouldn't permit her to ship back to this country the fish-hooks she might have made from lend-lease steel we were sending

"There will be none," one source told me. "Hitler and Himmier have seen to that. That is one of their strong holds. The people have no one to turn to."

There is some speculation that German business interests might force Hitler and the general staff to surrender once Allied armies reach Germany's borders.

After Officer Was Knocked Out-

Plucky Private Leads Platoon On The first to invade the city, after it became the Polish capital in 1550, was King Charles Gustavus of Sweden who captured it

Taking over at the insistence of his commanding officer, who was knocked out of action, Pvt. Heffernan led a platoon on a four-day rampage of fighting through Normandy which won a lot of ground from the Germans and high praise from Allied commanders.

It was probably the first case of its kind here in Normandy.

At Courbesville the division encountered its first great mine-fields. Lt. Col. Tom Kilday, San Antonio, Tex., former West Point football player, led a battalion into the town.

"After taking our objective during the night," Kilday related, "we set up operations head-quarters in a field and discov-

Then the destruction of 1939. With the aid of large scale maps, on which were marked Warsaw's fine buildings, its historic monuments, churches, public gardens, museums, castles — reflecting the old Polish nobility — the Nazis proceeded with their methodical bombardment.

Whether the road leads to Moscow or to Berlin, war's path cuts through the city. This veteran of total war is about to receive another shock treatment.

He d. "we set up operations head-quarters in a field and discovered at dawn that we had been kicking anti-personnel mines around like footballs. But, luckity, these particular ones were unactivated—the Germans had to get away in too big a hurry."

During the division's northward push Lt. Ralph Miller, San Antonio, Tex., and Cpl. Raymond Lustic, Detroit, figured in an episode which sounded like something out of a script writer's mind.

They slipped behind the Germans line for a rendezvous with a French cement manufacturer who gave them detailed information on nazi fortifications around an on nazi fortifications around an important Norman town.

of dire internal distress within Germany, there is perhaps a lesson that we need to at least study here in America.

It is simply this: Germany, faced with the prost of impending destruction, is being marshaled a titantic death struggle. Hitler himself stated the basis when he said that no one had the right to live in the Third Reich, even to breathe, who was not bearing or forging arms. We may be sure that his devilish ingenuity will achieve a certain measure of success in goading German people into a fight of desperation. It won't be easy to explode the maunless it is spontaneous.

We have not yet found it necessary to resort to ch desperate attitudes in our war production. On contrary, we have been easing up as the news gets increasingly better on the strength of what we have done and what our men are accomplishing to-

If anyone thinks that this attitude, pitted alongside the Nazi attitude of utter desperation is suffient to carry our home production along, then he had better think twice. Realization of this by individual workers not only will result in better and are work, but it will avert the necessity of eternal clamor for universal service.

We shouldn't let Allied success in Europe make us overlook the fact that things also go well for us in the Pacific—so well indeed that we likely shall be able soon to launch major operations which will be calculated to win the war in the Orient much once than originally expected.

We are closing in on Japan fast. This doesn't mean that we have an easy task before us. On the contrary it bids fair to be a nasty job.

However, our recent conquests in the Mariana Islands, including the great naval and air base of Saipan, have put a new and rosy complexion on prospects. Uncle Sam's heavy bombers now are within reach of Japan and the Philippines-both only 1,500 miles away. Our navy now has bases to smash directly at Japan, the Philippines and China,

That's hanging it on the line for the mikado and his little men to see, And the new Japanese cabinet ministers, who are shouldering the heavy troubles ex-Premier Tojo packed up for them, read the signs and freely admit that things are serious

They're particularly concerned about the Mariana theater, pointing out to the Japanese public that several powerful U. S. fleet task forces are prowling about in these waters which are vital to Nippon's security. They have a right to be worried, for we not only possess Saipan but are getting ahead well with our conquest of the important neighboring islands of Guam and Tinian.

Tokyo also has noted other hurricane warnings, reporting to the Japanese public that a U. S. task force has bombed Palau island and that a British force has strafed Sabang in the Dutch East Indies. Sabang has been bombed before, but an attack on Palau is a sensation.

Palau, and its 100 surrounding isles, is one of Japan's most important sea defenses. Moreover this group is a shield for the southern Philippines, being only 560 miles east of Mindanso.

"When a state official who is unopposed for re-election goes to the trouble and expense of inserting an advertisement in almost every state newspaper, and makes a statewide radio hookup speech to thank the voters, it seems reasonable to suppose that he has an eye on 1946."

Gratitude, the commission chairman reasoned in explaining why he did just that, should not be confined to those years when a man 's opposed for office. He believes in being grateful. His friends urged that he publicly express his thanks. Of course, no-body can say in 1944 what he'll be doing in 1946 . . . and the thought had occurred to others that he is a prospective candidate for gov-

Railroad Commission Olin Culberson, who during 1945 and 1946 will be commission chairman if the commission follows precedent, says that the following conclusion isn't correct unless it involves two other members of the railroad commission:

'It appears not impossible that in the 1946 race for governor of Texas, history may be repeated and two railroad commissioners may be pitted against each other."

At this time, Culberson said, p'ans to ask for re-election to the office of railroad com-missioner. Had he desired oth-er office, he might have accept-ed appointment to the Federal Railroad Commissioner Ernest

O. Thompson, the third member of this interesting political trio, wasn't in Austin to be included in the round robin. He is attending a rate hearing for the commis-sion. Thompson has twice been a candidate for governor, was un-fortunate enough to pick W. Lee O'Daniel as an opponent.

Surprising fact about the foreoing list is that on it you find no bright new political star; no crusading Dan Moody, no flery Jimmy Allred, no Pied Piping Lee O'Daniel. Unless one of that colorful type develops in the jungles of Saipan, or on the beaches of Anxio or Normandy —or the hot sands of Iran, where one-time candidate Jer-ry Sadler now is stationed—the 1946 governor might well be selected from the foregoing list.

For the first time in Texas that anybody can remember—almost for the first time in any state personal views of presidential electors become of importance; personal as distinguished from political, for if it were only the olitical views, the electors would be bound to follow the political party's mandate.

Always before, choice as a presidential elector was merely a recognition of party service, an office well deserving the phrase, "emp-ty honor." But today, if presidenelectors can be instructed, they are under definite instructions to vote against Mr. Roose

Lawyers agree that the state envention's instructions to presidential electors can't bind those electors. It follows that electors are free to follow their convictions. They can vote for any per-governor-Board of Control Chair- president. It would be far fetchcolumns a week ago pointing him litical leaders; but it is not so far up as a standout possibility to befetched to say that some Texas come a candidate for state office electors might prefer a team composed of, say, Harry Byrd and Lee O'Daniel, to a team composed of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry

So how those electors actually will vote becomes a matter prime importance, worthy of in-quiry. If enough of them vote against Roesevelt, the house of representatives starts over from scratch, and ballots on the president. In that balloting each state would get but a single vote.

It seems likely that this plan will be revised so that cut-backs will be announced locally and nctionally at the same time.

Such information might be of benefit to the enemy. Possibly at this time it would not. It is likely surrenders. If the surrender is at that OWI will take the bull by night, they needn't come to work the horns and soon make an anthe next day. If it's in the day- nouncement of a nationwide protime, the doors will be locked im-mediately and business suspended. pens.

All we know about Lt. Grady Corbell of San Antonio is that he has been with the 8th Air Force in England for the past eight months and has the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with several clusters.

Another 8th Air Force lad, Lt. Lawrence Bowen of Chicago, Ill., had well over 50 missions to his credit last April, and was still pounding Germany when last heard from in May. He has the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with at least nine clusters.

Lt. Charles H. Carroll of Craig. Neb., never did reach combat. He was killed in a plane crash near Tampa, Fla., while on a routine navigation training flight in May of '43.

43-3 Lots Of Curbstone Advice, But Who's Going To Tell Johnny Where To Get Employment After The War?

WASHINGTON, July 27 (P) -When Johnny comes marching home, who's going to tell him where to look for a job or what kind of job fits him best? You? You're probably not equipped to do it, and do it right.

Johnny, nevertheless, is go-ing to get a lot of free curb-stone advice from his friends and well-wishers who may not be the best people to advise

A good vocational counsellor needs training. But there are perhaps no more than 6,000 trained oscilors in this country. Probatly half of them are only partly trained in the professional sense.

But look at this picture: Millions of people will be shifting jubs during conversion and after the war millions of men and women will be coming back into civilian life from the armed forces. Those service people who want their old jobs back can get them. But what of those who want a new job and need help in choosing one? They can go for help to: Any one of the 1,500 U. S. employment
