

Three Killed In Highway Crash Near Sierra Blanca

The foothills are behind, the mountains rise ahead of Big Spring's high school football team.

Having shot through five Class B opponents to the tune of 223 points to none for visiting eleven, the promising squad led by Coach Eriflow and Brown now face five gruelling Class A contests for the district championship.

It is a golden opportunity for the Steers. Already one may find easily that winning a few games, even though they have been from considerably weaker eleven, has had a tonic effect upon the whole town.

There's something in a winning football game, come autumn, that goes the life-flavoring breezes of this most bliss of the footstool of the Almighty One better as an antidote for depression.

Principally because the high school has not had a winner in several years support of the team thus far this fall has in some respects been weak.

The Lions club men, with their wives, if any, will go to Midland next Friday in a body. A section of the grandstand has been reserved for the Big Spring pep squad, band and fans.

This club is to be congratulated for setting a good example. Other clubs would do well to follow its lead.

A special train can be obtained to carry Steer supporters if as many as 250 tickets can be sold at 80 cents each for the round trip.

High school officials, pointing out that operating an automobile to the scene of battle would cost more, are anxious for several reasons that the special be obtained.

It is much more satisfactory to carry the whole outfit in a body on a train. It's not a bad thing for the railroad either.

Yep, it's going to be a great scrap from now to Turkey Day. Midland's fighting men will put out more against the Steers than any other team. The first real test faces the Steers. Let's help 'em get over that hump.

Since we got started this morning on sports, just as well take time to say that, although our personal favorite, Connie Mack and his Athletics, lost, it was a great World Series and it larded the limit.

The best we could figure out the crowds that heard the play by play reports in front of the Herald office held a majority of Cardinal fans.

Usually we are for the supposed underdog. The Athletics, true enough, had won the past two years. But, Connie Mack, growing aged, who had always been a fine influence in the game, was trying to set a record by winning three in a row. We were for him. If he could have won we'd very likely be

U. S. May Act In Sino-Japanese Threat Of War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—A self-spoken but forceful American intervention to still the rumblings of a Japanese-Chinese war in Manchuria appear Saturday to be a question of hours.

The state department was fully prepared to invoke before the world for its opinion the promises of peace and fair dealing made so often by Japan and China in a long succession of treaties. Secretary Stimson was hopeful but not optimistic.

Tom Ball Not Guilty

Former Congressman Is Acquitted On Instructed Verdict

HOUSTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Col. Thomas H. Ball, known as the "father of Port Houston," because of his active leadership for more than a score of years in the development of a deep sea channel here, yesterday was acquitted of a charge of theft of warrants valued at $222,996.78 from the Houston Harris county ship channel navigation district.

The charge brought against the 82-year-old former congressman and one time gubernatorial candidate was not supported by the evidence presented. Criminal district Judge Langston G. King ruled in instructing the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

His Statement
After the close of the trial, Col. Ball made the following statement: "I stated that when I learned of the indictment returned against me that I was grieved beyond expression at the action of the grand jury, and that when the facts were ascertained through regular judicial channels, it would be found that the action of the grand jury was unwarranted."

"Today I refer to that statement and stand upon it without comment."

The vindication of Col. Ball and the removal of the questions raised by the state regarding his actions in a land transaction in 1927, when he was counsel for the port commission, came after the prosecution had introduced its evidence through a parade of witnesses that started Thursday morning and continued until after 10 a. m. Friday. When the state rested, the defense offered a motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty and the arguments of opposing counsel quickly narrowed the case down to the question of whether or not Col. Ball had acted with criminal intent and with false representations in obtaining a tract of land for the port commission.

Texas Officers Go For Suspect In Gang Deaths

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 10 (AP)—Police Chief P. F. Heard, and Assistant District Attorney Sam Lewis, were on their way here from Houston for Shilo Scrivener charged with murder in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones in a Houston apartment. His companion, Del McCabe, who was killed in a gun fight with Detective Loren Miller here faced the same charge. Scrivener said, "That's the way he wanted to go, shooting it out." He said that all he knew about the Jones killings was what he read in the papers. Mrs. McCabe telegraphed from St. Louis asking the custody of the body.

Houston police assert that the Jones couple was killed in a reprisal following the murder of John Cherris after a gang quarrel over money.

Defense Strikes At Every Point In Yarberry's Trial

BRINTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The prosecution hypothesis of the murder of Dorothy Symons, pretty choir singer, was attacked point by point by the defense attorneys at the trial of Newton Yarberry, alleged slayer, Saturday.

Alex Yarberry, father of the defendant, swore that his son was at home on the night of July 30, when the 18 year old girl disappeared. Efforts to impeach the testimony of Tom Conner, state witness, were unavailing.

Architect Outlines Details Of Plans For Municipal Building; Specifications Being Finished

Plans and specifications for Big Spring's Municipal building, to be erected on the half block along the west side of Nolan street, between East Third and East Fourth streets, will be completed in all details this week, according to W. T. Strange, Jr., of the architect's firm, Peters, Strange and Bradshaw.

City Manager E. V. Spence is checking various phases of the plans and some sections have been forwarded to New York for special examination of the acoustic properties of the proposed auditorium.

The building will face both on Third and Fourth streets, the auditorium facing north on Third, the City Hall and Fire Stations facing south on Fourth street.

Wide steps, flanked by terraces will lead from five exits of the auditorium, which will seat 1,500 persons. A foyer across the front will flank two ticket offices, will be flanked on either side by a smoking room and rest rooms. Towers at either side of the entrance will rise 62 feet.

The auditorium stage will be 32 feet deep, 70 feet wide, 70 feet high. A door on the west side with a leading platform, opening onto the alley, will provide entrance to dressing rooms and backstage. Scenery will be lifted, not rolled. The stage will be large enough to accommodate the most elaborate settings of any road show or opera company. The heating and ventilating systems will be combined and thermostatically controlled.

The City Hall will face Nolan and Fourth, forming the southeast section of the structure. It will be divided from the fire station by a long, narrow courtyard, with iron gates and from which entrance may be had by stairs to the police headquarters and city jail, without necessitating passing through the main corridor of the city hall. The jail, with quarters for both men and

'Hold Cotton' Advice Given

Futures Produce Neither Food Nor Raiment'

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 10.—Texas farmers were encouraged by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, to hold their cotton for better prices, in a statement issued by Commissioner McDonald here.

Cotton is now selling at one-half its production cost, Mr. McDonald said. Action of other states following Texas into an acreage-reduction policy was cited as one of the factors for a promised increase in the price.

Mr. McDonald said: "Cotton prices are the lowest in 32 years. Cotton now has a value of only one-half its production cost, and prices have about reached bottom. Farmers should make a desperate effort to hold every bale. This year's cotton is of unusual quality and spinning value, and presents an unusual investment opportunity."

"Texas banks have the ability to finance cotton properly warehoused and insured, aided perhaps by the federal reserve bank, and it is expected that the president and congress will arrange more liberal terms on loans financing crops. Other cotton-growing states are enacting laws to regulate production, and we may confidently expect that these laws will be strictly obeyed."

"With an abundance of money available to finance the cotton, there is no excuse for this high-grade cotton being sacrificed at present prices. Those with money and vision will save themselves of the opportunity of a lifetime by investing in the world's greatest commodity. Investment should be in spot cotton. It should be remembered that cotton futures exchanges produce neither food, raiment nor happiness."

Capone Henchman Found Armed At Trial Of Chief

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Crowds attending the trial of Al Capone were stunned today when a revolver was found on one of the gangster's henchmen, sitting alongside him in the courtroom.

Judge Wilkerson ordered the United States marshal to hold the man for trial and delivered a caustic tirade from the bench for his opinion of the defendant's tactics.

Al Capone ordered freely of things to give him pleasure. He spent freely and never quibbled about bills, eleven sun tanned Florida witnesses testified at his trial Saturday. The court smiled as Capone told of his $200 a week meal bill, his $4 a day baker shop purchases and his $40,000 winter home.

Rice Owls Humble Texas Eleven 7 To 0, Outplaying Longhorns In All Departments To Upset Dope

AUSTIN, Oct. 10 (AP)—The capitol Steers, with the dope all against them, in the middle of the fourth period Jamison, a substitute Rice back, shot a lateral pass to Frye, another substitute. The pass was good for five yards and Frye dashed ten more for a touchdown, aided by beautiful interference. The two subs exchanged post on the try for point, duplicated the play that produced the touchdown and added the point on a lateral pass, Frye to Jamison.

Rice threatened seriously to score on three other occasions, two of them brought about by Texas fumbles. The Rice team worked beautifully as a unit and had the better of the contest in all departments.

Rice gained 201 yards from scrimmage, making 46 yards on passes, five of ten being completed. Texas gained 116 yards from scrimmage, making 32 on passes, five of 14 being completed.

First downs: Rice 15, Texas 7.

Troubles Of First Married Year Motivate Ritz Picture

'Bad Girl' Is Featured By Sally Eilers

Girl-Bride of Miss Delmar's Story Depicted Admirably

Choosing the perfect interpreter of "Bad Girl" from among Hollywood's many likely candidates proved a most perplexing problem for Frank Borzage, director of the Fox Film version of Vina Delmar's popular novel of that name, which will be the featured screen attraction at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sally Eilers, final choice for the role after weeks of searching for a good "Bad Girl" is the ideal heroine to bring the emotions and reactions of Miss Delmar's girl-bride realistically to the screen. Those who have witnessed her performance in the picture are well in praise of the feeling she has injected into the part.

"It is the most ambitious characterization I have ever attempted," Miss Eilers said, while making the picture, "and naturally I am grateful for the opportunity. What emotional actress would not welcome it? I portray a young girl experiencing her first real love. She gets married and has a baby. Could there be a more complete cycle of human emotions?"

The engrossing drama of "Bad Girl" is principally an understanding study of a young couple's troubles during the first year of marriage. Sally Eilers, in the title role, meets and falls in love with a young mechanic, portrayed by James Dunn. Their love, which begins not wisely nor too well, precipitates them into marriage.

The supporting cast is composed of Minna Gombell, in the well-known role of "Edna," the friend; William Pawley, who created the stage role of the brother; and Frank Darien, veteran character actor of both stage and screen. Frank Borzage directed the production from Edwin Burke's screen adaptation.

Irrigation with electrical power is being promoted around Lockney, Texas, in Floyd county. Shallow wells producing from one thousand to sixteen hundred gallons of water per minute can be installed complete with pumping plants for sixteen hundred dollars.

Miss Gaynor and Farrell At Ritz In 'Merely Mary Ann'

The accolade of four stars is the least that can be awarded "Merely Mary Ann," the latest Janet Gaynor-Charles Farrell starring vehicle which opens today at the Ritz theater for a 2 day stay.

With a story fitted to its principals, thoroughly realistic settings, an excellently-chosen group of supporting players and the admirable direction of Henry King, a splendid background is afforded the famous film "team"—and they respond to the opportunity with some of the finest dramatic and emotional work it has ever been this reviewer's privilege to witness. They exceed their epochal work in "7th Heaven."

Miss Gaynor is more wistful and charming than ever as the repressed little maid-of-all-work in the dingy London rooming house, who shyly falls in love with the clever but impetuous composer, played by Charles Farrell—his best talking picture performance. Their delightful romance, with its vivid moments of sheer pathos, is one of the most appealing stories ever to reach the speaking screen, and Director King has handled it to perfection, touching just the right note throughout.

'Bad Girl'

Sally Eilers as a model bride in the title role of "Bad Girl." See modern drama.

Sally Eilers has the most important role of her career in "Bad Girl" to be shown Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz. It is a thoroughly human story of the troubles of a young couple in their first year of married life and Miss Eilers is the girl-bride.

'Honeymoon Lane' At Queen Theater

There are pies in the plot of Eddie Dowling's "Honeymoon Lane" which comes to the Queen theater on Wednesday and Thursday next for a two day run, but they are not "heavenly" pies like those in Keystone Comedies. They are "eat-in" pies like those mother used to make.

Marry Carr, who plays the foster-mother in the picture, bakes the pies—and Eddie makes her a lot of money by selling them to the public.

Core tests for potash are to be made soon near Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Edmund Lowe Star At Ritz

'Black Art' Practiced With Dexterity In 'The Spider'

Hands play an important role in a magician's success. His hands are as valuable as a pianist's or a violinist's. To increase their flexibility and dexterity, a professional magician will rarely be seen without a pack of cards in his hands or a couple of coins which he constantly fingers and works with wherever he may be.

The value of this practice was demonstrated by Edmund Lowe during the filming of "The Spider," Fox mystery melodrama, coming Saturday only to the Ritz Theatre, in which he portrays the role of a great magician and by demonstrations of his "black art" solves the baffling murder upon which the drama is based.

Almost every hour of the day, between scenes, Lowe worked with cards, coins, handkerchiefs and other tools of the trade, to become proficient in the wonders the story calls upon him to perform.

"The mind reading and spiritualistic scenes are easy for me," Lowe explained, "because they only call for acting and the reading of lines—both of which are part of my profession. But the sleight-of-hand, and other tricks requiring dexterity of the fingers, is something else. For one thing, now I've mastered the tricks called for in this picture. I certainly should be an expert at parlor games and be able to astound any amateur audience." Lowe is one of the truly great actors of the screen. He has never allowed himself to become identified with any one type. He essays the whole range of characterization; high comedy roles, romantic impersonations, underworld studies, his litigator-necked Marine types and now, a magician. All are alike to him, and he is different in them all.

"The Spider" co-features Lois Moran in the feminine lead. Ed Brendel and George E. Stone are very active. William Cameron Menzies and Kenneth MacKenna co-directed the picture.

Milo Lubratovich, for three years a star tackle at the University of Wisconsin, will be on the intramural coaching staff at Madison this fall.

Colonel Mulhall's Little Girl, Lucille, Left Alone at Home Ranch, Where She Started Cowgirl Career

She could rope a steer

By WILL ROGERS
We lost a mighty fine old Western Character a few weeks ago, I know you all read in the papers about Col. Zack Mulhall dying in Mulhall, Oklahoma, a town named for him, and in which he had been the leading citizen for many years. My show career kinder dates from the time I first ran into the Col. It was in 1899 at the St. Louis fair (not the World's fair) just the big St. Louis fair they held every year. They had decided as an attraction that they would put on a Roping and Riding Contest. They were not called Rodeo's, or Stampedes, in those days they were just what they are, a "Roping and Riding Contest."

and was the first girl that could rope and tie a Steer, not only do it but do it in such time that it would make a good roper hustle to beat her. He also had a younger son Charley that was afterwards a very good Bucking Horse rider. Charley is now out around Hollywood and works in the Movies. After that Contest and a few others around the Country that he promoted, why he drifted off to South America and around the rest of the universe awhile, and when I got back it was of the very best. Neatness was one of the fall before the start of the Worlds fair in St. Louis in 1904. Well I went out to Mulhall from Claremore a lot that fall and winter rehearsing and practicing for the big show which he was to have at the fair for the whole year. I lived with the family at Mulhall. The Col. had always kinder seemed to like me, and I thought a lot of the family. His wife Mrs. Mulhall will always be remembered by me as just about as fine a character as I have ever known. She was a grand old Lady. She had many trials and hardships, but she stood up under them like a Saint. It was a family of great devotion. The Col. thought a lot of these Children, and they of their parents. Lucille ever dressed like the Cowgirl you know today, no loud colors, no short lether skirts, and great big hat, no sir, her skirt was divided, but long, away down over her pattern leather boot tops, a whip cord girth, or grey broadcloth, small stiff-brim hat, and always white silk shirt waist.

They were received by the best people in every place. The Girls could have had a Society career if they had preferred. She received more Publicity than has fallen to the lot of any one you have today, perhaps as much as Sister "Almee" and all favorable. We were in St. Louis during the whole summer of the fair with the "Cummings and Mulhall Wild West Show on the Pike." The following year he took a small picked bunch of us to the Madison Square Garden, to work as an added attraction with the Horse Show. Lucille his Daughter, was the big attraction. New York had read of her but never seen a Cowgirl. Our show was a big success in connection with Horse show. With my little Roping act I was lucky enough to get on the stage with it direct from the Garden. He always kept in touch with me, and was very interested in my little carryings on. He was a natural showman, loved the spectacular, but never had any fakes. Every boy was a real one. His shows were of his hobby. His life was miserable trying to keep me presentable. Look at the Injun, (he always called me Injun) he went wear a silk shirt and I have bought him a dozen! He was generous to a fault. When Col. Mulhall had money, we were all nigger rich. When he didnt, well you wouldnt hardly know it. He never hollered; he never squealed; he took the misfortune with a smile. Being such a liberal spender, and in his older years naturally not able to earn so well, why he had hard luck, but he didnt broadcast it to the World. He always maintained his dignity. There was a lot of class to the Mulhall outfit, none of your cheap show stuff, they were always the Mulhall family, the family of southern distinction. NOT the Mulhall Family of show business. He did many a favor for many persons. When he had it you had it. The business of making amusement for the world which he adopted was not kind in the long run to him and his. They deserved a happier finish, for so one of them ever harmed a soul, they dealt fair, but didnt always receive their breaks themselves.

We have no one to replace the old fellow. He is of the rugged old Cowman type that is passing out. Lucille is left alone on the old Ranch place at Mulhall. Lucille Mulhall who's name has blazed across more papers than most public men attain in a long lifetime. The first Cowgirl, one that could do something, not pose, but ride and rope, the only Girl that ever rode a horse exactly like a man. (I mean a real Hand). She is left alone with her memories, and they should be happy for she has given more than she has received. Its not a bad legacy to leave, the Best Horsewoman in America. The old Col. has gone to book another Contest, and I can hear holler. "Come on Boys lets give em a real show, a Mulhall Show! Lucille now Baby, rope like you never roped before! Injun wake up and get in there!"

Howard County Honor Roll

One of a series of sketches on careers of former boys and girls of Big Spring and Howard County who have gained success in their chosen professions.

RALEIGH L. DAVIS, M. D.

Here's a face familiar to most of us—one of Big Spring's boys who still keeps in close touch with the old home town; partly one suspects because of his mother, Mrs. John Davis, still lives here and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Lloyd. Raleigh today is a specialist in urology in San Antonio. The World War was a factor in this, boosting him up where it threw others down. When the war broke out Raleigh was a young doctor getting his start here. He entered the army as a lieutenant and before he went overseas was sent to New York City for an intensive course in urology. Overseas he spent 18 months in one of the base hospitals in France. That was splendid training for any young doctor and it gave Raleigh a training for his present-day success, that probably would never have come his way in the usual course of events. He took advantage of all of it; returning to the United States with the rank of captain. He was with Dr. G. T. Hall until 1926, when he went back to New York City for more study of his specialty. When he returned to Texas, he selected San Antonio for his home, where he is now one of the leading men in his profession. Raleigh's interest in medicine goes back to his boyhood days. He always knew, says his mother, what he wanted to be. Even though he had to work his way through the school of medicine at Galveston, that did not stop him for an instant. His grandfather was a doctor and when Raleigh was a youngster he liked to hear stories about the old-time practitioners, little realizing in those days how important specialization in medicine would be during his manhood. Mrs. Davis was Miss Angie Lloyd. There is one daughter, Angie Lee, named for both of her parents.

The following new members were received: Mmes. A. Knickerbocker, J. A. Coffey, Tom Coffey, and J. S. King. The following old members attended: Mmes. L. L. Stewart, Glaser, Blount, Duff, Jess Slaughter, E. J. Heywood, A. E. Underwood, R. W. Henry, C. A. Brewer, Dallas Whalley. Mrs. Duff will be leader for the next program. The subject will be "What To Expect of the Pre-School Child."

St. Thomas Catholic Church Announces Mission Services

Catholics and non-Catholics of Big Spring are cordially invited to attend the special Mission services which are to take place at St. Thomas Catholic Church on North Main from October 18 to 25. The Rev. Fr. Francis Sexton, O. M. I., who has been engaged in this particular work for the past five years, will conduct the Mission. It will consist of a series of sermons and services especially suited to a better understanding of man's duty toward God and the neighbor, and to a clearer insight into the teachings, practices and ceremonies of the Catholic Church. A special and interesting feature is the Question Box, since it gives those who attend the Missions an opportunity to place any question, which they might wish to ask in regard to Catholic faith and practice, into a box set aside for the purpose, and hear the answer and explanation from the missionary at the evening service. In preparation for the Mission, St. Thomas Church is being improved and decorated under the direction of the pastor, and Messrs. J. M. Morgan and E. J. Mary. The special sermon topics for the various days of the Mission will be announced in Big Spring's daily and weekly newspapers during this week, and any inquiries will be gladly answered by the members of St. Thomas Church.

These churches will raise $10,000.00 for the Baptist Cooperative Program the week of November 29th to December 6th. Rev. P. C. McGahey, Organizer for District 8 will preside at the rally. Dr. Geo. W. Truett, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Dallas; Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Abilene and Secretary J. Howard Williams will appear on the program. The 7 representatives making up the Promotion Committee in each church are expected to attend. A portion of this will be used for mission work among the Mexicans, and other foreigners in Texas. There are 249,652 Mexicans in Texas. Seven representatives from each of the 2,888 Baptist churches in the State will meet in 19 District Rail

"MEXICO" By Stewart Chase

Probably most Americans were surprised at what they discovered between the covers of this book. Mr. Chase seemed not at all perturbed over such weighty matters as being unable to get a hot bath at a Mexican hotel or an answer to his bell. He seemed delighted to escape from radio. He approved of the costumes he saw, all the more when they did not resemble United States' costumes. In short, he wanted his Mexico, Mexico and nothing else. And he liked the natives. For the book, he hit on a very clever idea, that of comparing the average Mexican town with the average American town, "Middle-town." Some critics have insisted that he preferred the Mexican town to the American; but we feel that it was not an expression of preference. He wanted his Romans in Rome to act like Romans and not like Americans. Advice to Mexico All through the book he was intensely personal; it was I and I that; and he sprinkled the pages with advice as freely as though he were a little tin god; but it sounded to us more like advice to Mexicans than to Americans—except for the Americans who are trying to make over that country. His only inconsistency is that he is an American. He wanted to elevate the Mexican to proper place as a citizen of North America, a citizen with as much right—if not more—to be here as any of his northern neighbors; he had to do it at the expense of showing up the citizens of the United States, forgetting that he was merely one of this class himself. The book is well worth while for the person interested in Mexico—and who isn't?—because of the pages devoted to its history. Mr. Chase has related conflicting stories and given us a picture of the three early civilizations, Aztec, Toltec and Mayan, that will make the story easy to keep in mind. The Colorful Indian Texans who are acquainted with the Mexican Indian will be surprised at the author's enthusiasm for them. In their own homes they may be colorful but they take on the more uninteresting colors of the north as soon as they cross the Rio Grande. Texans will also be surprised at the high degree of culture the Indian once attained—but those are days long past and interesting not in regard to the future so much as the past. This is a book one can heartily recommend. Its subtitle, "A Study of Two America's" gives it a personal touch that will provoke argument—we are trying awfully hard to stay out of one. It is a fine combination of history, travel, guide book, political guide, and local color in one. It is amazing how interesting the chapters are with only a few episodes to add lightness. If you can get your hands on a copy, don't fail to read it. O. R. P.

October Kaleidoscope

In this edition we liked no Texan's poems as well as one by Alice Boorman Williamson, of Washington, D. C. It is called "First Flight" and written in memory of her mother. It follows: Wings! Well, perhaps not wings, for we have traveled Far from our old conception of delight— Heaven: a place of mystery unraveled, Angels and harps, and multitudes in white. Would I had seen her on that first awaking, Freed of the weary flesh left cold and still; Feet that had stumbled so on Earth, now making Swift and sure answer to her soaring will.

Dennis, Flowers, Coburn and Heblsen were the best ground gainers for the Steers during the afternoon session. In the line Red Sanders, Hopper, Dyer and Roberts were outstanding.

Coburn walked off with the cross country honors for the afternoon when he stepped through a hole in the Eagle forward wall and ambled 12 yards for a touchdown. The work of the Steer line on the play was excellent. The forwards opened the hole wide enough to shove a wagon through.

The Eagles were handicapped to some extent by having to wear their sweat shirts instead of their gold colored jerseys. The visitors were unable enough to offer to change as the jerseys of the schools are very much alike.

Dennis Leads

Tack Dennis continued to lead the scoring in district 4 when he chalked up three additional markers against the Eagles. Dennis was directly responsible for three other touchdowns. Passes resulting in scores came from his hand.

Two successful pre-conference season over experienced in Big Spring was brought to a successful close by the Steers, who have chalked up their fifth straight win, scoring 223 points to none in their opponents.

Mexican Pickers Ready At Santone

The local chamber of commerce Saturday received a telegram from A. W. Greene, in charge of the government employment office in San Antonio, notifying that several hundred cotton pickers are available there for farmers who will transport them to the fields.

The telegram said: "Several hundred cotton pickers, mostly Mexicans, in singles and families are available here if growers will come from them in trucks, offering free transportation one way. Very few have their own conveyances. Contact the larger growers in the Big Spring territory and advise this office if they will come." Mr. Watson said any farmers wishing to go to San Antonio for pickers might inform him, so that he could have them ready to return here on arrival of the farmers.

Pecos Crushed By Steer Stampede

Scraps With B Teams Ends; Eagle Fight

Steers Turn Attention To Stiff Class A Card; Have Scored 223

Flashing a powerful running and passing attack the Steers closed their pre-conference schedule yesterday when they plucked the Pecos Eagles to the tune of 99-0.

The Eagles departed from the Howard county stronghold Saturday after an ineffectual afternoon spent in trying to stem the march of the Bovines, and in turn trying to negotiate the final chalk mark in front of the Steer goal.

A fighting club from Reeves county went down with no apologies to make. The foot work of Wolf stood out for the defeated aggregation. His well placed kicks was a Coburn headed for the cross bars. He showed a clean pair of heels to the Eagles as he raced 72 yards for a touchdown. Try for point failed.

Dennis kicked 35 yards to Baker who returned 15. Baker got three yards at left tackle. A pass to Bush dropped the ball after he was in the end zone. Baker added a yard at left guard. Coburn fumbled and Pecos recovered.

Pecos fumbled and Hopper recovered. Dennis got 5 yards at left tackle. Hebe picked up a yard as the quarter closed.

A Pecos pass was pulled down by Dyer.

A pass, Flowers to Schwartz, was good for 28 yards and a touchdown. Bill added the extra point.

Dennis kicked off 55 yards to Wolf, who returned 25 yards to Wolf. Pecos player caught the ball and the Eagles were given a 15 yard penalty for interference.

Flowers failed to gain at left tackle. Flowers fumbled and was thrown for a 15-yard loss. A pass, Flowers to Forrester, was good for 23 yards. Dennis circled right end for 23 yards to the Eagle one yard line. Dennis went over right tackle for a touchdown. Flowers place kicked for the point.

575 BALES GINNED

Total of cotton ginned here this season reached 3,572 bales at noon Saturday, according to figures obtained from ginner. Approximately 1,000 bales were ginned last week.

It is a sad but true fact that the gentleman and Blundy favor very much, but Mr. House was very profuse in his apologies to the Pecos superintendent when he learned his mistake. He said that never would he have passed such a compliment on the Angelo scribe.

McCamey Players Ruled Ineligible

The title hopes of the McCamey Badgers were given a severe blow here yesterday morning when the solons of District 4 of the Inter-scholastic league met to consider evidence submitted to the district chairman, E. H. McLain, concerning two of the McCamey players. The meeting was called by Mr. McLain, of Sweetwater as a result of facts submitted him concerning the McCamey men. In view of the evidence given Virgil Smith, captain and quarterback, of the Badgers was declared ineligible, and Van Sullivan, star lineman of the McCamey school will be lost to Coach Park unless he can find sufficient proof to clear him of charges against him. Smith was declared ineligible because he has had four years participation. The 10-semester rule and the scholastic age limit both hit Van Sullivan. No other players in the district were considered by the officials.
