Defenders Of Batan Shove Enemy Back

Program For Credit Meet Is Completed

Program has been completed for a joint conference of three credit groups to be held in Big Spring Sunday, when some 100 or more visitors are expected for district sessions of these organizations: Retail Merchants Association of Texas; Associated Retail Credit Men, and Texas Retail Credit Bureau.

A number of state credit officials will be here for parts on the program, which includes addresses and open forums and which will be concluded Sunday afternoon with election of officers.

Carlos L. Carter, president of the Texas Retail Credit Bureau, will preside for sessions starting at 9:15 a. m. at the Crawford hotel. Invocation will be by Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, manager of the local Retail Merchants association; visitors will be welcomed by Mayor Grover Dunham, and T. E. Graham of Fort Worth will make the response.

Following introduction of delegates by Roy H. Rodgers, president of district 2, Associated Retail Credit Men, the following will make talks:

"Rendering Broad and Essential Services Is A Paramount Requirement in Bureau Operation," Alvah Conner, Wichita Falls, president Retail Merchants Association of Texas; "Associations in National Defense," Charles T. Lux, Austin, secretary-manager, Retail Merchants Association of Texas; "Credit Women's Clubs for Defense," Mrs. Willis Kay Fall, Dallas, president of Credit Women's Clubs of Texas; "Let's Cooperate," Henry Block, Galveston, president of Texas Retail Credit Bureau; "The Nine Old Men of Credit," J. A. Haskewell, Amarillo, president of Associated Retail Credit Men of Texas.

There will be two divisional meetings Sunday afternoon, following lunch. Carter will preside for a session of secretaries, and Vincent McCormick of the Credit Bureau of El Paso will conduct the open forum. Rodgers will be in charge of a conference of credit men and women, and John E. Clark, credit manager of Moninger's, Fort Worth, will conduct the forum.

Local credit groups will be hosts at a dance at the Crawford Saturday night for the early arrivals at the convention. Delegates and local association members are invited to attend.

Local Man Joins Parachute Corps

Big Spring's first contribution to the army's parachute troops was recorded Tuesday with the announcement by Sgt. Troy Gibson, army recruiting officer, that Rocky W. Rodgers had volunteered for that service.

There are plenty more openings in the parachute troops, Gibson points out, that branch having an unlimited quota. Pay for parachuteists is $50 per month above the base for men of similar rank in ordinary branches.

Meantime, the local naval recruiting office announced three men had been shipped for service. They are Lafayette Eugene Purvis, Midland, who signed up as a hospital apprentice; Felix Russell Holcomb, Midland, volunteering as a V-4 yeoman, third class; and Conley P. Lockhart, Gall route, who enlisted for midshipman training following conclusion of the current school term at Canyon teacher's college where he is now studying.

Many Are Undecided -- Effect Of Daylight Saving Time On Local Business Uncertain

Daylight saving time goes into effect next Monday, but whether Big Spring folk will "change with the clock" and start the day's activities an hour earlier (by the sun) remained a matter of conjecture Tuesday.

Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, manager of the Retail Merchants association, said she had contacted a large percentage of merchants, and that there was a variety of opinion on the time change. Some want to move opening time up an hour to conform with the national schedule, others feel that lack of patron-

New Landing Attempts By Japanese Quickly Smashed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Two attempts by the Japanese to land troops on the west coast of Batan peninsula the night of February 2 were repulsed with heavy enemy losses, the war department announced today, and General Douglas MacArthur's forces also successfully counter-attacked the Japanese on their right flank, overrunning three lines of enemy trenches.

The landing attempts on MacArthur's left consisted of a first raid by Tatori special shock troops which were repulsed by artillery fire, and a second and more serious attempt at midnight, when American night flying pursuit planes discovered a large number of barges approaching the coast under naval escort.

The planes attacked the convoy immediately with light bombs and machine guns, and as the enemy troops approached the shore the American and Filipino beach defense forces attacked them with artillery. None of the barges reached shore, although a number were found disabled and burning along the beaches the next morning.

On MacArthur's right, where Japanese had attempted to drive a wedge into the defending lines, the Americans counter-attacked and captured large amounts of enemy equipment.

MacArthur reported to the war department that Brigadier General Clinton A. Pierce had been wounded slightly in the recent fighting.

General Pierce was one of six officers whose promotions from colonel to brigadier general were confirmed by the senate on January 29 on MacArthur's recommendation. Pierce, a cavalryman who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 15, 1894, entered the army as a corporal in the Illinois National guard in 1916.

US Air-Sea Blows Due For Japanese

Daring new American air and sea attacks to slow the onrush of Japanese forces in the southwest Pacific were confidently expected today on the basis of official statements.

An Army report that formations of heavy American bombers were helping the defense of Singapore by raids on Japanese airfields gave evidence of increasing air strength in that vital area.

As for the warfare at sea, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, declared that every man and every vessel of his command was being used to the fullest extent to take the war to the enemy's front door.

Small formations of Flying Fortress type bombers raided the Japanese airfields at Kuala Lumpur and Kuantan, on the Malay Peninsula, the army said. Poor visibility prevented a check on results of the attacks, but the planes returned safely to their bases.

Another formation, consisting of four heavy bombers, was intercepted by Japanese fighter planes while on the way to attack shipping in the Borneo port of Balikpapan. One of the bombers was lost but nine Japanese planes were shot down in the ensuing battle.

The army told of the encounter in a communique late yesterday which had no new word of fighting in the Philippines to follow the announcement that General MacArthur's army had thwarted an attempt by Japanese shock troops to gain a foothold on the western shore of Batan Peninsula.

In a statement at Honolulu, Admiral Nimitz said his fleet's assault on Japanese concentrations in the Gilbert and Marshall Islands Sunday followed United States Navy tradition of seeking out the enemy to destroy him. He said the attack answered in part the question "Where is the fleet?" that has been uppermost in the minds of the American people for weeks.

The fleet is busy across the vast reaches of the Pacific in areas where it can most effectively harass the enemy, he asserted. The admiral explained that its task was a gigantic one because of the 70,000,000 square-mile expanse of the Pacific, but added:

"I can attest that every ship, every plane, every officer and man of the Pacific fleet, afloat, aloft and ashore, is being utilized to the fullest extent, both to safeguard America and to bring the war to the enemy's front door."

War Costs Sharply Rise In January

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—War costs of the treasury reached $2,100,754,428 in January, the first full month of the conflict.

This was nearly $200,000,000 more than was spent in December, and represented a doubling in the speed of defense-war expenditures in about six months.

Change in the early morning hours justifies a later opening time, at least by 30 minutes. The response to the Retail association queries indicated that the matter of store hours would have to adjust itself after next Monday.

The same variety in plans applied to offices. The postoffice will move with the time change, and city offices were expected to do the same. Banks have indicated they will try the hour-earlier opening at least for a time.

Trains, buses and plane schedules, naturally, will follow the time

Aid Rushed To Nazis On South Front

Russians Continue To Match Hitler's Power, However

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Germans are sending air and tank reinforcements to parts of the southern front to combat Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's increasingly active army but are being more than matched by Red army weapons, Soviet dispatches reported today.

"Despite the reinforcements which have already been brought up to the Russian front from the German-occupied countries, the German generals have demanded from Hitler the immediate dispatch of 20 fresh, picked divisions," the BBC said in a broadcast heard by NBC in New York.

"The generals have threatened," it added, "that otherwise it would be very hard, if not impossible, to prevent a general Russian break-through."

Testifying to Red air force superiority, dispatches from the front credited one Russian air unit with destroying 37 Nazi planes in a week and long-range bombers with deepening their offensives far into the German rear.

At one vital German railroad junction, they said, three supply trains of more than 200 cars, were destroyed.

Dragging machine-guns and cannon on sledges in 40-below zero (Fahrenheit) cold over the same roads used against Napoleon, the Russians were pressing forward on several fronts, all pointed toward Smolensk, 210 miles west of Moscow, and keeping up their fast pace despite determined German resistance.

Russian forces were reported to have killed some 1,400 Germans in three different sectors of the front and to have thrown back Nazi counter-attacks launched in a vain effort to stem the retreat.

Spaniard In Red Army Avenges Two Old Wrongs

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (AP)—A Soviet dispatch from the frigid Karelian front today related how a fighting Spaniard died for two fatherlands—his adopted Soviet Russia and republican Spain.

Jose Alvar, along with a number of orphans of Spanish republican arrived in Leningrad aboard the steamer Siberia four years ago. Under Russian care he grew into manhood. When the war came he volunteered.

His group was sent to the Karelian front.

"I have got to fight for two fatherlands. After the war we will marry," he told the girl Olga.

In the middle of one night the snow-blanketed countryside echoed to shots and shouts. Red army men rushed to where Jose was guarding a bridge. They heard more shots and shouts, then his cry:

"This is for Madrid."

The sound of a grenade explosion.

Another shout.

"This for Kiev."

Another blast.

Then quiet.

When the soldiers arrived they found Jose dead—also nine dead and three wounded Germans.

Government Workers Moved From Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Budget Director Harold D. Smith announced today that the agriculture department had agreed to move 3,848 employees out of Washington to make room for defense workers.

Approved by President Roosevelt, the transfers will send 1,140 farm credit administration employees to Kansas City, 700 agricultural adjustment administration employees to various cities where the agency now has field offices, 1,188 rural electrification administration employees to St. Louis, 633 farm security administration employees to Cincinnati, and 230 agriculture department solicitor's office workers to various cities.

India Prepares For Air Raid Defense

BOMBAY, India, Feb. 3 (AP)—All the big cities of India concentrated on defenses against air attack today and even the Bombay branch of the all-India congress party, which hitherto had refused to cooperate in air raids precautions, urged that protection for municipal schools be made ready quickly.

Mohandas K. Gandhi and his doctrine of non-violence now were said to have faded into the background since the investment of Singapore. He and his adherents have made little effort to propagate their views since the congress party executive committee decided "as free men" to defend their country by force.

New Allied Movement Underway In Far East

"U-Boat Commanders" Unchallenged—Two Philadelphia Record reporters, Frank Tonghill, left, and William B. Mellor, Jr., clad in uniforms of Nazi U-boat commanders, pass the Academy of Music on busy Broad street in Philadelphia without anyone paying attention.

British Hit Back At Rommel's Men

By The Associated Press
British North African troops, thrown back 225 miles in less than two weeks, were reported attacking Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armies "wherever found" in western Libya today in an attempt to check the head-long Axis counter-offensive.

A British spokesman, emphasizing the prime necessity of destroying the enemy's forces in desert warfare, declared:

"Area is not important. Tanks, men and trucks are."

Cairo headquarters indicated that Gen. Rommel's vanguards had reached the vicinity of Sionta, 105 miles northeast of Benghazi and 225 miles northeast of El Aghella, highwater mark of the British January offensive.

While the British said they now were taking the initiative, the German high command gave this version:

"In Cireneia (Libya), the retreating enemy again was brought to battle and dislodged."

Premier Mussolini's high command also asserted that German and Italian motorized columns continued to advance eastward "despite enemy resistance," and indicated that axis spearheads had knifed more than 110 miles beyond newly-recaptured Bengasi.

Spotted Typhus Spreads Eastward

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 3 (AP)—Spotted typhus has spread from the eastern front to Germany and the Nazi-occupied areas, the German health ministry announced today, listing 126 cases in Germany and 138 in the occupied eastern countries.

A demarcation line has been established at which persons coming from the east are examined for the lice, a primary typhus carrier. The small village of Pernik, in Bulgaria, was mentioned as one where typhus has broken out.

German press dispatches also reported a number of cases among Bulgarian gypsies.

Other dispatches said the German postal chief in Poland had forbidden forwarding of packages and letters from Jews. (Most of Poland's Jews are confined to the cramped quarters of Nazi-ordained ghettos in which any sort of hygienic protection is lacking.)

Man Rescued From Crushed Taxicab Between Two Trains

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 3 (AP)—Robert Timm, 30, was trapped for seven hours in the wreckage of his taxicab after it was pancaked between two trains in an unusual accident today. Scores of horrified onlookers watched efforts to extricate him.

Timm suffered severe leg injuries but remained conscious while a train wrecker lifted one end of a locomotive from the rails.

The cab was struck at 2:25 a. m. at the Jefferson street crossing in downtown Springfield, by a south-bound Alton freight train. The taxi was crushed against and between another locomotive, standing on an adjoining track. Timm was lifted from the wreckage shortly before 9:30 a. m. and taken to a hospital.

Physicians said Timm was suffering from shock as well as bodily injuries. They were undecided whether one or both of his legs would have to be amputated.

The injured man's wife, mother of five children, waited at the scene throughout the rescue work.

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—University of Texas student enrollment for the spring semester starting today was exceeding that of last year.

Through last night 5,681 registrations were recorded, 705 more than had paid fees on the same date last year. More than 300 new students were counted.

Registration ends tonight.

Japanese Bombers Blast Singapore

By The Associated Press
Australian Army Minister Francis M. Forde declared today that "a big movement by the Allies is under way" to counter Japan's sweep-in the far Pacific, even as Japanese dive-bombers struck violently at Singapore and a Tokyo military spokesman said that a direct assault on the island stronghold was imminent.

In a broadcast to the Australian Imperial force at Singapore, Forde declared that each hour Japan's siege armies were held at bay permitted the massing and deployment of more reinforcements and the accumulation of more weapons.

"It does not need my words to impel you, therefore, to hold on," he said.

Forde did not specify the nature or direction of the big new allied movement.

High-reaching flames, destruction and some casualties were reported in Singapore as Japanese bombers pounded the city with its 700,000 population and outlying sections.

A Chinese army spokesman in Chungking said Japanese bloody losses in the eight-week-old conflict were forcing her to draw heavily on manpower reserves and that the bodies of 10,000 slain in the Malaya campaign alone had already arrived at Saigon, Indo-China.

The spokesman reported that a huge Japanese convoy, including 41 warships and 28 other vessels, had been sighted steaming southward in Formosa Strait, carrying troops to make up for casualties. These might be headed for Malaya, the Philippines or the Dutch Indies.

Singapore's big defense guns, ranged along the mile-wide Johore Strait, thundered intermittently above the scream of air-raid sirens at Japanese troops in the jungles on the opposite shore of the Malay peninsula.

RAF scouting planes reported a heavy movement of Japanese troops southward, indicating that the invaders were massing in full strength on the lower tip of the peninsula before launching a direct assault on the 400,000,000 island fortress.

Sir Shenton Thomas, governor of the Straits settlement, worked in shirt sleeves alongside native coolies, laying hose to battle the flames set by Japanese bombs.

Other Japanese warplanes struck for the first time at Java, raiding the Dutch East Indies, hearing the big Soerabaja naval base.

Java is the headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's supreme United Nations command in the Far Pacific.

Besides attacking Soerabaja, the Indies chief naval base, a formation of 26 Japanese bombers, strongly escorted by fighters, also pounded towns in eastern Java in what may have been the prelude to an invasion drive. A communique reported "considerable damage" and casualties.

Meanwhile, Gen. Wavell's headquarters announced heavy new blows inflicted on the battered Japanese invasion armada in Macassar Strait, between Dutch East Borneo and Celebes Island.

United States warplanes twice attacked the enemy convoy yesterday off Balikpapan, Gen. Wavell's command reported, sinking two transports and probably another.

Combined Dutch and United States air and naval attacks are now credited with sinking a total of 46 ships in the shark-infested Macassar Strait.

GETS VICTORIA CROSS
LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Brigadier John C. Campbell, an artillery commander in Libya who replaced one of his wounded gunners and kept on firing even after being wounded himself, has been given the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest award for valor, it was announced today.

Detective Chief Linn O. Moss said it was possible that the gunmen may be those who last week robbed a bank at Mexico.

Zucherman and Kahn said they were getting into Kahn's car on a Wichita Falls street at 10 p. m. last night as two men, both carrying pistols, accosted them. The gunmen forced Kahn and Zucherman into the car, one gunman climbed under the wheel, the other

Men Abducted In Wichita Falls, Released In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Two business men kidnapped in Wichita Falls by two gunmen were released near here early today after being robbed of $170.

The victims were Mark Kahn, salesman of Chicago, and Syd Zucherman, Wichita Falls merchant.

Detective Chief Linn O. Moss said it was possible that the gunmen may be those who last week robbed a bank at Mexico.

climbing into the back seat. A short distance from Wichita Falls, Zucherman was robbed of about $60, Kahn of about $60. The victims said they were warned not to look at their kidnappers.

"If either of us turned our heads they would strike us in the head," Kahn said. "When we went through towns they made us get on the floor."

Three stops were made for gasoline and Kahn said he and Zucherman were ordered to appear to be asleep.

"They said there would be a killing if we didn't obey them," Kahn added.

Near Tulsa, the captives were released on an lonely road and hitch hiked to Tulsa police headquarters.

Farm Prices Near Federal Control Peak

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The nation's farmers heard straight from headquarters today that the war boom in the market for their products has gone about as far as the agriculture department and the office of price administration will permit.

Leon Henderson, the price administrator, and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard disclosed yesterday they were in "complete agreement" that the cost of living should be stabilized.

The agriculture department will do its part by using government-owned stocks of grains and cotton "to supplement private stocks" and by keeping feed prices at levels which will encourage production of meat and livestock products.

The price administrator will reciprocate by bearing down on the prices of things farmers buy.

The joint statement did not disclose how high they planned to let farm prices go, but Wickard provided a clue Saturday when he told the senate agriculture committee he thought "around parity" would be about right.

Parity is a price which would give farm products the same purchasing power as they had in a stipulated previous period—for most crops, the years 1909-14.

Britons Concerned Over Difference In Pay For Soldiers

LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The question of differences in pay between United States and British soldiers already has been raised in parliament—only eight days after the arrival of American troops in northern Ireland.

Lt. Col. Sir Thomas Moore asked war secretary Captain Henry D. H. Morgenthau in the house of commons today "how the pay and rations of the British army compared with those of American soldiers as stationed in this country or northern Ireland."

The question was not answered immediately.

The British Tommy's basic pay is two shillings ninepence (about 35 cents) a day. An American buck private gets about 70 cents.

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—State government departments will observe the war time effective next Monday, Governor Coke R. Stevenson said today.

"It appears there is no practical solution except to go right down the line," he asserted.

No difficulties were expected, department officials stated.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHEALEY

The singers carol "Have you bought any bonds today" and the newspaper and radio begin and end everything with reminders to buy defense stamps and bonds.

The children, the young people and the old folks are leaping into the sale with both feet and buying up all and more stamps than they can afford. The middle-aged are being plenty middle-of-the-road about it as they are about everything.

It is bound to make you slightly hysterical to see the "business as usual" and "we can't deny ourselves that" attitudes of the rest of the spoiled Americans.

Just can't help but think how these folks would look if the war were lost and a Quilting installed in every town. Those "little" indulgences such as fine cars, homes, clothes and luxuries would be the first things to go. Their liberty and right to cuss the government which they prize next in value would come as number two.

If only some gigantic hand could gather the whole of the Americas together and shake them vigorously, the people might wake up. Buying defense bonds isn't just a fad or a club "project." It's your life and liberty that is at stake. You aren't on the battle front but your war cry could well be "give me more defense bonds and stamps."

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHEALEY

The singers carol "Have you bought any bonds today" and the newspaper and radio begin and end everything with reminders to buy defense stamps and bonds.

The children, the young people and the old folks are leaping into the sale with both feet and buying up all and more stamps than they can afford. The middle-aged are being plenty middle-of-the-road about it as they are about everything.

It is bound to make you slightly hysterical to see the "business as usual" and "we can't deny ourselves that" attitudes of the rest of the spoiled Americans.

Just can't help but think how these folks would look if the war were lost and a Quilting installed in every town. Those "little" indulgences such as fine cars, homes, clothes and luxuries would be the first things to go. Their liberty and right to cuss the government which they prize next in value would come as number two.

If only some gigantic hand could gather the whole of the Americas together and shake them vigorously, the people might wake up. Buying defense bonds isn't just a fad or a club "project." It's your life and liberty that is at stake. You aren't on the battle front but your war cry could well be "give me more defense bonds and stamps."

3-AA Deadlock To Be Reduced Tonight

Steers To Engage Lamesa Quint On Local Floor; Angelo To Abilene

District 3-AA basketball is right back where it was this time last week. Four teams are tied for the top, and after tonight's games only two can be.

This was the picture a week ago when Big Spring and Lamesa sailed through to take the lead, only to lose it in Friday games as Abilene and San Angelo forged back into the charmed circle of favorites.

Now—Lamesa must engage the Big Spring Steers on the home ground at 7:30 this evening, and only one can walk away with the victory scalp. At the same time, San Angelo has to invade the Eagles' nest in Abilene, and that further will limit the possibility of district leadership.

Offhand, it appears that Big Spring and Abilene might be in the saddle after this evening. Lamesa gave the Steers the only sound defeat they have had all season, but that was on the Lamesa court where most visitors fare badly. In fact, Abilene is the only one this time to break the Tornado win-at-home monopoly. Since Big Spring absorbed that 25-12 drubbing in the initial game of the season, the Steers have improved wondrously under the coaching of Edward Marcum.

Until last Friday evening, when they were somewhat dumfounded by a tie-ball ruling when San Angelo Bobcats tackled them in the fading minutes of the game, they had not tasted defeat, although they had been in some mighty close bouts.

On the other hand, Lamesa was taking it on the chin at home with Abilene dealing out a 24-17 drubbing. So, with Blount, Fallon, Hostick, et al in fine fettle, it should be Big Spring all the way tonight. San Angelo dealt out a surprising 23-28 whipping to Abilene at the season, but the Eagles are still looking great and unless some miracle happens at Abilene this evening, the Bobcats are apt to feel the sharp blade of revenge. The Cats are a good bunch of players, but their rough tactics away from home will not net them any fouls.

In other games Colorado City moves to Sweetwater as a decided underdog, but there is a possibility that here is the chance for the upset of the season. In the first meeting, Sweetwater plastered Colorado City 29-17, but since then the Mustangs have grown worse and the Wolves have improved—or at least have acquired more endurance while discarding an inferiority complex.

Midland must go to Odessa this evening, and if the so-called isn't skipping a beat, those Ector county Bronchos are due to make canine hash out of the Bulldogs. Odessa took their first game 44-21, and there isn't much reason for holding that the outcome today will be substantially different.

Hot Scores In Phoenix Play

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 3 (AP)—A half-dozen par-busting pros, on hand early for the western open tournament starting Friday, continued to turn in dazzling scores yesterday in practice rounds.

Henry Picard of Oklahoma City duplicated Saturday's 68 over the par 71 Phoenix country club course. Johnny Perrell of Lake Tahoe, Calif., shot a 69.

Lawson Little of San Francisco came in with a three-under-par 23 for the first nine. Sam Byrd of Ardmore, Pa., Jimmy Elmes of Great Neck, N. Y., and Lloyd Mangrum of Monterey Park, Calif., checked in and the field was expected to reach 100 before the firing begins.

50 Percent Is Phillies' Goal

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3 (AP)—If the Phillies don't win 50 per cent of their games in the National league this season—"They'll smell."

That's straight from John Hans Lobert, 60-year-old coach who succeeded Doc Prothro as manager last fall.

"I'll tell you a secret," he declared before he left for New York to attend a league meeting. "If we don't win 50 per cent of our games this year then we smell. Anything above that will be swell. But 50 per cent. That's our goal."

The last time the Phils hit .500 was in 1932 when they finished fourth with a record of 78 games won against 78 defeats. Since then they have never been higher than seventh, finishing in the cellar the last four years.

"When I was appointed manager," continued Lobert, who broke into the major leagues as a third baseman under the late John McGraw. "I got a lot of letters from persons who said they didn't know whether to congratulate me or sympathize with me."

"Get this. I don't want any sympathy. Neither do I want to hear that old gag 'wait until next year.' The hell with next year. This is the year. I've got the makings of a good ball club and don't forget that Bill Killefer and Chuck Klein will prove their worth as coaches."

"Garry Nugent (president of the Phils) is cooperating with me in every way. We are ready to make trades any day that will help us, but believe me, we're not going to let any of our players get away for cheesecake."

Biggest Honor To The Guy Who Throws Back His Fish

STUART, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—A gold button awaits the angler who enters an eight-footer in the Stuart Saltfish club's annual tournament, but the finest badge goes to the fisherman who catches a beauty and then throws it back.

Anglers catching and keeping their first saltfish under seven and one-half feet receive bronze buttons. Between seven and one-half and eight feet the award is a silver button, and for monsters of eight feet or more the gold badge is given. But for letting one go after it has been hooked the sportsman receives a gold saltfish mounted on a sterling silver pin bearing the club's name.

Baseballers Go 'All Out' In War Aid

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Baseball's bit in this second world war is going to be something more substantial than just helping maintain the morale of the country.

The major leagues decided yesterday they would play two all-star games instead of one for the "hat and ball fund" and in addition would try to get everyone on their payrolls from Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis down to the bathys to accept 10 per cent of their salaries in defense bonds.

The National and American leagues were in almost continuous session for seven hours yesterday and they considered other means of cooperating in the war effort—such as exhibition games with service teams and admitting uniformed men free—but their big accomplishments were the double all-star spectacle and the payroll plan.

They agreed to play the first all-star game in a National league park in the east (probably the New York Giants' Polo Grounds) on Monday, July 6, and to follow this the next day with another skirmish between the same stars in an American league park in the west. The owners admitted an inclination to play this second game at night in the mammoth Municipal Stadium at Cleveland, where they might attract 50,000 fans.

It was agreed that the admission prices for the first game would be double the regular scale, while the second game would be played at ordinary prices, plus one dollar, each purchaser also would receive $1 in defense stamps with his ticket.

By this means the magnates hoped to inflate to a quarter of a million dollars the fund they have organized to buy baseball equipment for service camps.

The two leagues were unable to reach complete agreement on night baseball and tossed this old argument back into Landis' lap at their special joint meeting today. The National league voted to double the number of its night games to permit a maximum of 14 nocturnal contests at home for each club and this figure was agreeable to all members of the American league except the Washington Senators.

East Texas Tops Lone Star Loop

DENTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—East Texas State stands alone at the top of the Lone Star conference basketball list today.

Southwest Texas State of San Marcos was removed from the unbeaten ranks last night by North Texas State, 50 to 39. The Eagles thus evened it up with the Bobcats, who last week vanquished North Texas, 45 to 31.

The Lions of East Texas were given a better than even chance to succeed the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks as loop champions.

The San Marcos, Huntsville and Denton fives were all square in the standings with averages of .500, leaving the Lumberjacks with two losses in as many starts.

Southwest Texas meets the circuit-leading East Texas Lions at Commerce tonight, while Stephen F. Austin plays Sam Houston at Huntsville.

The remaining conference games this week is between North Texas and Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches.

Cosden Bowlers In First Place

Cosden kesters swept back into an undisputed hold on first place in the men's classic bowling league by virtue of victory of three straights over Big Spring Motor Monday night.

The Schlitz team, which had been tied with the Oilers, suffered a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Lee Hanson outfit. In the other game of the evening, Clay's bested R&R by a two-one margin.

Pete Howze was high series man of the evening with 590, while Jack Smith chalked up a 225 for best game.

S'west Race Gathers New Momentum

By The Associated Press

The Southwest conference tonight shoves off on one of its busiest weeks of the basketball campaign—seven games in five days, four of them counting in the title race.

Baylor's Bears meet Texas A. & M. at Waco to open the round with the Bruins needing a victory to remain in the battle for the championships.

Baylor also has two games with Arkansas, co-leader of the race. Both are at Waco and will be played Friday and Saturday nights.

Texas Christian, tied with Arkansas for the top, plays Texas at Austin Saturday night. The Christian lost one member of the squad this week when Nick Broom announced his plans to join the navy.

Another member, Bill Conrad, is likely to be drafted any day.

These two were not starters but their losses will cut the Frog squad to nine members.

There are three nonconference games on the week's schedule. Rice plays East Texas State at Commerce Wednesday night. Texas meets Sam Houston State at Austin Thursday night and Rice battles the Phillips Oilers at Bartlesville, Okla., Friday night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (Wide World)—Baseball's bosses are afraid to lift the night game limit beyond 14 games and some of them still argue it should be strictly a daytime game, but the customers don't seem to agree.... El Paso Taking A Look At Local Baseball Franchise

Reviere, Tate Are There For Conferences

Whether Big Spring will be a member of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball loop again this year was more than a question mark than ever this week, as the possibility of moving the franchise to El Paso was under discussion.

Tink Reviere and Jodie Tate, holders of the franchise, were in El Paso for talks looking toward a possible hookup there, although there was no definite announcement from the far western quarter.

El Pasos got interested in a connection with the WT-NM loop when it became known that the Arizona-Texas league will not operate this season. El Paso was a member of that circuit, but decided, along with Bisbee, Ariz., that it could not function this season, and there weren't enough clubs left to make the league operative.

W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, has confirmed

Albuquerque, N. M., also was a member of that circuit, and is also rumored as looking for a berth in the WT-NM.

Reports from El Paso said W. E. Casteel, president of the El Paso club, was looking for a WT-NM franchise, and that he would confer with Reviere and Tate.

Tink and Jodie have been in and around Big Spring for some weeks hoping to complete plans for the 1942 season. They have let it be known that some financial help would have to be forthcoming from Big Spring, if a team operates under the Bomber name again this season, but no definite working

Lions And AB Squads Ready For Clash

Both teams were loaded for heat Tuesday as the hour neared for the Lions vs. ABC benefit basketball game.

The service club quintets will tangle at the high school gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday with the "take" from 25 cent tickets sales going to the fund to buy home defense guard uniforms.

The favored ABC team was headed by star Billy Horn and Ted Phillips at forward, T. J. Dunlap or Emmon Lovelsky at center, and J. D. Jones and Clyde Thomas at guard.

Jack Smith, J. O. Vinograd, Neal Stanley, Randall Pickle and Pete Howze were thought likely to start for the Lions, with Bob Ward and Alex Gelfirk relieving those who fall by the way.

ON THE SETS With REED JOHNSTON

An actor is called upon to acquire many strange and incidental accomplishments in the course of a busy film career, and so Bob Hope can now add roller-skating to his repertoire as a result of his work in "My Favorite Blonde." He can add roller-skating and also the somewhat unusual experience of appearing in a vaudeville act with a penguin, for this is the situation in his newest comedy in which Madeline Carroll is the understandably favorite blonde of the title.

This penguin, a screen veteran in his own right named Pete, is a notorious scene-stealer, a fact which has led the screen writers to provide for his stealing the honors in the vaudeville act from his partner Hope, so that in this instance they can say they planned it that way from the start.

During a recent visit to the set, representing the stage of a vaudeville theatre, Mr. Hope was gliding easily about the premises on his roller-skates, but it cannot be said that the penguin has mastered the technique to any impressive degree. His shortcomings in this respect can be indicated briefly as a tendency to splay the feet awkwardly and sag in unexpected places as though made of rubber. And the act is further complicated, at least on the part of the feathered member of the duo, by an overwhelming preoccupation with fish.

To satisfy this apparently boundless appetite, and at the same time to whip up some interest in the business at hand, Mr. Hope was carrying a cane to which a choice morsel of fish was attached at the bottom end.

Well, as long as this tidbit was flourished in front of his beak the penguin managed a passable impression of interest in the scene being rehearsed but presently, in a gesture of misguided generosity, an assistant detached the fish and presented it to the feathered Thespian in one prodigious gulp.

"Oh-oh," said Bob. "I don't think you should have done that. Now he'll probably want to sleep for a couple hours."

And indeed there was a noticeable let-down in the bird's efforts from that point on.

"I think he's lost confidence," said the trainer. "Maybe we better let him rest till after lunch."

There was no sign of Miss Carroll while all this went on, though as I say she is Mr. Hope's favorite blonde in this picture. She is not, however, the favorite of Pete the Penguin, who doesn't seem to care much about blondes of any description. What he does, first, last and foremost, is fish.

Fashion Scene

By MARGARET McKAY

Who says there isn't anything new under the sun? An entirely new system of nail health, based on such sound medical principles that doctors testify to its being the first logical approach developed for aiding nail growth, has been discovered by George Newman, brilliant young Hollywood chemist, who feels that it will provide an answer to the despairing cries of thousands of women whose nails break off, crack and split.

Perhaps one might ask how fingernail culture gets into a fashion column, but when it is taken into account that long, healthy nails are the fashion of today's women, I'll go full speed ahead and tell you some of the main factors of Mr. Newman's method.

"The weakness of most nails," Mr. Newman told me, "is due to the nail not receiving the oxygen, minerals and vitamins which are as vitally essential to nail growth as to other tissues of the body. The layman has not recognized that nails are living tissue and therefore subject to infection. Bacteria collects and multiplies in the moist recesses under the natural nail roof and the nail begins to die. Therefore we must combat nail bacteria. Second, circulation is necessary for nail health, both to and from the nail. People seldom get sufficient circulation at the tips of their fingers because the blood vessels are of capillary (very fine) type. Consequently, by combining massage and finger exercise, nails will develop more strongly."

Circulation is induced by massage, as we well know, and now that they claim it will also aid fingernail growth, it is high time to recall that massage is probably a Number One beauty aid to all of us.

Authorities all agree that massage to the scalp livens and persuades hair growth, so that we may have crowning glories; and certainly the benefits of massage in syphoning the body to proper proportions have long been recognized. So, you who would be beautiful, massage from tip to toe and get your circulation into a happy rhythm.

Record Review

Although in Old Vienna marks the American recording debut of Marek Weber, his name is not unfamiliar to music lovers in this country. Thousands of record collectors have known him for his European waxes which have been extremely popular in this country for years. Radio listeners have heard him frequently on the air playing the music so characteristic of the once gay capitals of Europe, where Weber reigned supreme. His Columbia album captures the Continental flavor that dominates this artist's music. The warmth and vibrancy of his violin is apparent throughout this set of Viennese waltzes which are assured a large sale in America. The book contains the outstanding dances composed by Johann Strauss and Franz Lehar.

Glenn Miller has just been accorded the honor of "reigning favorite" with band lovers—"Down Beat," the music magazine, has concluded a poll of readers and Glenn won hands-down. And his latest Bluebird release, Moonlight Cocktail, keeps the standard solid. It is played in that slow and terrific ballad tempo, which characterizes Glenn Miller's excellent crew.

WAXORAX: Decca is discussing the release of an album of records dedicated to Carole Lombard—plan is to have her friends on wax as commentators and lift several of her best scenes from her pictures. . . . Dinah Shore has been voted tops in female singers by a poll of leading radio editors and music critics throughout the country. . . . Tommy Dorsey's wax of Blues in the Night is due in the next few weeks and we wouldn't even have to hear it to recommend it. . . . "Reader's Digest" comes this month with a history of the leading singing groups of the country—among those honored will be the Andrews Sisters, Merry Macs, The Four Belles, Ink Spots and the Eton Boys. . . . Tommy Tucker is the latest to come out with I Don't Want to Be Without You. . . . T. Dorsey's piano has been drafted—may be that if he can't get a release from his commanding officer, MGM will have to re-shoot several scenes with the band in "Ship Ahoy."

Robert Preston, Martha O'Driscoll in "Pacific Blackout."

As crisp and attention demanding as the headlines on a war extra, Paramount's "PACIFIC BLACKOUT," starring Robert Preston and Martha O'Driscoll, is the fastest-moving action film your reviewer has had the pleasure of seeing in many a long month.

For 76 minutes you are sitting on the edge of your seat, confirmed in the knowledge that movie technique must work the whole thing out right—but even though you are let in on the inside workings of a fifth columnist group, suspense and timing are so well done you're never sure until the final closeout as to just how it's all going to come out.

Action is instantaneous. First you see Bob Preston convicted of murder on the testimony of a nightclub singer (Eva Gabor) whom he has never seen in his life. Next you see him escape from the "Black Maria" in which he, handcuffed, is being taken to jail at the moment the blackout goes into effect, for all of which you have been duly prepared.

For he-man Bob Preston the role is tailor made. Martha O'Driscoll, in addition to being merely beautiful, proves that the build-up Paramount is giving her is a worthy one; and this young Tulsa girl also displays a flair for comedy that will take her places. Excellent too is Eva Gabor, who highlights a splendid performance with a standout rendition of Hoagy Carmichael's torch song, "I Met Him in Paris." Mr. Merrivale is as villainous as you could hope and an especial nod must go to Mary Treen, Martha's girl friend, and J. Edward Bromberg for a comedy relief scene that is particularly well done. And one cannot overlook a comedy bit by older Clem Bevans; but that is what one comes to look for from this past master of comedy.

Paramount also previewed "BAHAMA PASSAGE," starring the beautiful Madeleine Carroll and blonde giant Stirling Hayden.

Against a background of a tiny West Indian island whose sole product is salt, Miss Carroll proves that a blonde always wins and a man is merely a puppet if handled by competent hands. If the story had been stronger, this review would be longer.

In Mother Goose rhymes we've all heard of Tom Thumb. He stuck in his thumb and pulled out a plum. Frankly W. Ray Johnston and his assistant Tren Carr, of independent studio Monogram, have literally done the same thing. Many are called and few get up when it comes to making pictures based on comic strips. Columbia has hit with the "Blondie" series but others have gone overboard. When Johnston and Carr turned over Billy DeBeck's "Barney Google and Snuffy Smith" to a group of four screen writers the boys were nonplussed. And so was ace director Eddie Chase. But they came up with a winner: "SNUFFY SMITH, YARD BIRD." It's not a picture to review—it's a picture to see. Bud Duncan as Snuffy, Edgar Kennedy as the all too tough Army Sergeant, plus Sarah Padden as Lovizze and J. Farrell MacDonald as a General almost as tough as Ben Lear make for a perfect combination.

Meets the Stars

WITH VIC BOESEN

K. T. Stevens, back in Hollywood with the laurels of Broadway critics on her blond head for her work in the Kaufmann-Ferber play "The Land Is Bright," has proved her contention that the shortest way to a film career in Hollywood is often the road that leads to New York. K. T. therefore would advise all movie-struck girls. . . . to paraphrase Mr. Greeley. . . . to go East, young woman, and grow up with the stage.

K. T. could have had success without the long detour. She could have had it for the mere asking. Acting was in her blood. Her father is Sam Wood, the noted director. Her mother trod the boards until her marriage at nineteen. Her older sister, Jean, acted at the Pasadena Community Playhouse and in New York. But K. T., born no longer ago than July 20, 1920, came to the sage conclusion early in life that success built on anything other than hard work and intelligent self-direction can be only illusory and impermanent. Hard work, that was the thing.

She got down to action on that formula early, beginning in grammar school by taking part in class plays. She did the same in high school and the University of Southern California, always pouring as much effort into dramatics as time and curriculum allowed. The constant objective before her was to learn acting. Unlike her classmates, she knew what she wanted and she kept after it.

After college she put in six months in dramatics school, then she joined the Bliss-Hayden Little Theatre group for some further practical experience, and in the summer of 1937 entered summer stock at Clinton Hollow, near Poughkeepsie, New York.

The summer over, she set her square little jaw firmly and headed directly for Broadway. This courageous venture worked out well enough, for in no time she had landed the lead in "You Can't Take It With You" and kept it until the play closed two years later. In logical stages came experience in radio and television, a couple more runs on the stage, and then the role of the daughter in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," opening in San Francisco. Somewhere along the line, too, she did the title role in Shaw's "Saint Joan" at Tucson's Community Theatre.

Dropping down to Hollywood when the San Francisco play closed, due to the illness of Alexander Woolcott, star of the piece, she took celluloid parts in "Kitty Foyle" and "The Great Man's Lady," and went on from there to the name role in "My Sister Eileen" in Chicago. She did so well in this that Kaufmann personally selected her for an important part in "The Land Is Bright," opening on Broadway last October. And now, back in Hollywood a successful Broadway star and under contract to David O. Selznick, the future is bright for K. T. Stevens.

Marie McDonald is getting the build-up at Universal these days as a result of her work in "You're Telling Me."

ERSKINE JOHNSON'S HOLLYWOOD

TALK OF THE SOUND STAGES: Laird Cregar, Harpo Marx, Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck and Kay Francis plotting a stage tour of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" for the benefit of the American Red Cross. The stars have agreed to donate their time and talent if studio schedules can be juggled to permit their absence from Hollywood. Cregar would play the title role, Harpo Marx himself; Taylor the newspaperman; Stanwyck the secretary; and Kay Francis the actress. . . . Orson Welles' latest row with his RKO studio bosses. The studio wanted to give new find Michele Morgan the feminine lead in Welles' new picture, "Journey Into Fear." Orson's choice was girl friend Dolores Del Rio. After bitter arguments Miss Del Rio won the role. . . . Errol Flynn sinking $6000 in a tailor-made superstreamlined roadster. Among other novelties the car's front seat folds back into a bed.

Funny line in "Palm Beach Story," in which an actor names Sig Anso portrays a gooly foreigner. Says Mary Astor to Claudette Colbert: "He's a refugee—from his creditors."

Ann Sothern, who has been learning how to apply bandages with the Beverly Hills Red Cross unit, is now applying them to herself. Bruised a leg in a Sun Valley skiing accident. . . . A new Universal movie, "Boy Meets Baby," is a remake of a picture Joe Pasternak once produced in Europe. "Chibi" was the title, Francisco Gal the star. . . . Sally Wadsworth, who was Miss High School of 1941, is now Miss Hearst's and Jack Briggs. . . . Myrna Loy has taken her backyard herb garden out of the profitless hobby class. She's selling rare English herbs to a top Hollywood cafe. . . . Promised and hoped for: Bonita Granville and Jackie Cooper portraying a 35-year-old married couple for a gag sequence in RKO's "Syncopation."

Barton MacLane saw it on Beverly Boulevard. A big sign reading, "Nuts to Your Folks." In small, almost invisible letters, it's preceded by "Send some."

Heavy dramas and not comedies, as expected, are reaping the boxoffice gold as the war nears the end of its second month. "H. M. Pulham, Esq.," "Remember the Day" and the "Shanghai Gesture," are top favorites.

"Tales of Manhattan," they say, has one of the longest single romantic scenes ever filmed. Ginger Rogers and Henry Fonda—eight and a half minutes to a clinch. . . . Since the war the board of education has clamped down on minor players. Moppets can't even walk out a studio gate without a "stand-by" teacher in tow. . . . For the fourth straight year Bob Crosby's orchestra is dominating the two top All-American player polls. Five of his players were named in each selection. . . . Preston Foster has moved into his newly purchased 600 acre Twin Oaks ranch in Bouquet Canyon. . . . Newlyweds Rosiland Russell and Freddie Brisson, unable to find a house to their liking, have moved into her Beverly Hills bungalow.

In his Hollywood trade paper, the Motion Picture Review, Joe Blair publishes comments about new pictures from theatre managers all over the nation. Discussing the picture "Honky Tonk," an Ohio theatre manager wrote: "Our best gross in 15 months. Church people objected to the low level of the drama but everybody saw it."

Looks like that famous stateroom scene in "A Night at the Opera" is going to have a rival. For a scene in "Tortilla Flat," Spencer Tracy, John Garfield, five supporting players and six dogs crowd into a room 10 feet square. . . . Hedy Lamarr is wearing a giant amethyst ring, a gift from John Howard, on the third finger, but on the wrong hand. . . . Bill Holden reports to the army immediately after completing a new Columbia flicker. . . . Kay Kyser and Linda Darnell, who should know are scoffing at those romantic rumors. . . . Just friends, they say.

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

The beginning of each year finds Hollywood in its annual furor whipped up by the enthusiasm of actresses, actors, directors and other branches of the industry in choosing the outstanding chimes of the past year. Widely publicized throughout the country, the competition for the Academy Awards has caught the interest of the public which eagerly awaits the word of the accolades. Guesses as to the probable winners are now rampant. Here are the choices of the critics—polled by a trade publication, "Film Daily": Gary Cooper (Sergeant York) followed in order by Orson Welles (Citizen Kane), Clark Gable (Gone With the Wind), Charlie Chaplin and Spencer Tracy. In the women's division Vivian Leigh (Gone With the Wind) was followed by Bette Davis (Little Foxes), Katharine Hepburn (Philadelphia Story), Greer Garson and Ginger Rogers (Here Comes Mr. Jordan) copped the supporting roles with the female spot captured by Olivia de Havilland (Gone With the Wind). Juvenile kudos went to Virginia Weidler (Philadelphia Story) and Mickey Rooney (Andy Hardy's Private Secretary). Gene Tierney was hailed as the find of the year, with Theresa Wright, Joan Leslie, Orson Welles and Veronica Lake as the others.

After a picture is released to the theatres, studios are the recipients of many letters commenting on the authenticity of historical events, costumes, habits, etc. Twentieth Century-Fox has the unique distinction this year of getting such a letter long before the picture gets to the public. The following letter was received at the studio: "I have been reading about the explorations of Bougainville in the South Seas at the time of your picture, 'Son of Fury,' and have learned that the natives of period and spot wore no clothing at any time. I hope you are going to keep the picture historically correct. (signed) Jack Grant."

THE GOOD RUMOR MAN: Hear the Red Cross is after Bob Hope to take a big job in the organization which would mean a vacation from pictures. . . . Tom Brown has discovered Mary Jane Dolan, beautiful Paramount actress. . . . Tipsters are saying Warner Baxter is leaving Paramount—his already dismissed agent. . . . Look for wedding bells soon for Ruth Terry and writer Stanley Kramer. . . . Funny touchy subject at 20th-Fox—Adolphe Menjou and Jean Gabin are both working at the studio—Menjou has long been the friend of hat manufacturers and Gabin wears nothing but caps, and has paid no attention whatever to Menjou's entreaties to change. . . . "Tarzan's Secret Treasure" is mopping up at the box-office so the studio has shelved plans to sheathe the series. . . . Can hardly wait to hear Frances Langford's singing of "Over There" in "Yankee Doodle Dandy." . . . Diana Barrymore is in town for a fling at pictures—father John Barrymore cracks: "To think that after all these years I'd father a girl who turned out to look like Hedy Lamarr." . . . Keith Richards is not loyal to Paramount—he goes for Sunnie Pitts from 20th-Fox. . . . William Demarest, who discovered Jane Wyman and in Kay Kyser's "My Favorite Spy" . . . Friends are shocked over the separation of Ann Shirley and John Payne—and they say there's no hope for a reconciliation. . . . Glenn Tryon's wife filed divorce proceedings last week so it looks as if he will be in the Army. . . . Rita Hayworth is up and about in a building one—it will definitely have one room built for rumput. . . . she intends to entertain a platoon of soldiers once month. . . . Milton Berle's mother is off for Florida. . . . Betty Kazan's first starring part at Republic will have to wait again—just launched in "Yokel Boy," illness forced her replacement by Jeanne Davis. . . . Carole Landis has moved all her dogs to a new house on the Sunset. . . . Greg Bautzer will say goodbye to all that for the next month for a vacation at Phoenix's Arizona Biltmore, in Arizona's Valley of the Sun. . . . Sheila Ryan and Don Castle are getting more serious every day. . . . And Keep 'Em Flying!

Donald Nelson Came From Wrong Side Of Tracks, But He Wasn't Poor As Most Of Algier's Boys

By HENRY B. JAMESON
AP Feature Service

HANNIBAL, Mo.—Donald M. Nelson lived on the "wrong side" of Bear Creek, here as a boy but that made no difference. He was, in spite of it, one of the best known and best liked kids in town.

He was a handsome, raw-boned youth; a brilliant student but not a bookworm; a good athlete; a promising young actor who always played the villain in school plays, and leader of the South Side gang which lined up and threw rocks at the North Siders who tried to come over their way.

Some of his old schoolmates still recall how they envied Don because he was the only kid on the South Side who owned a goat cart.

Little Lord Fauntleroy
He wasn't a toughie—in fact, he wore his Lord Fauntleroy suit longer than most of the boys—but he got into plenty of fights and usually won.

The Lord Fauntleroy was one of the dark moments in Donald's life. At the grownup age of eight or nine his grandmother, with whom he lived, still insisted on his wearing it to Sunday school. The other boys snickered plenty but didn't dare laugh out loud. They knew it meant a poke in the nose after church.

Normal, American Boy
And so it was the life of a normal, red-blooded American boy in the closing years of the "horse and buggy" era that Donald Nelson, the nation's new war production boss, spent in Hannibal, the boyhood home of Mark Twain, in the 1890's and the early part of the new century.

Born in 1888, he was the son of Quincy Nelson, a "Katy" railroad engineer, and Mary Ann MacDonald Nelson, both well known and popular residents. The old frame house that was his birthplace still stands in the 1200 block on Lyon Street.

Donald was barely three years old when his mother died and he was reared by Grandmother MacDonald. The South Side may have been called the "wrong side" but old timers recall a lot of fine folk came from over there.

Rolling Boyhood
Those rolling boyhood days are still near to Nelson's heart. He still likes to live over those times when he played corner-rot baseball, carried newspapers, explored the caves and romped the hills and trails made famous by Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

His long and gruelling days in Washington are not too busy to hark back to them. This was demonstrated recently when John W. Mahoney, one of Donald's boyhood chums, went to Washington on a national defense mission. Nelson was elated over Mahoney's presence and after the business was settled, they slipped off to the quiet of his private office to talk over "kid days" while important callers cooled their heels outside.

Nelson was an honor student at the Hannibal high school from which he was graduated in 1906, and the University of Missouri where he won membership in both Tau Beta Pi and Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary engineering and chemistry fraternities, respectively.

Lessons Came First
Even as a youngster, his lessons came first. When the older boys came home from school, they flung their books on the table and dashed out doors to play. When Don came home from school, he got his lessons done first and then went out to play.

"His powers of concentration were such that he didn't have to study hard," recalls Sinclair Mainland, former mayor of Hannibal and Nelson's roommate at Missouri. "He always said in those days that his exercise consisted of running up and down a column of figures."

This is gross exaggeration because Nelson was fond of all sports and played baseball and football in high school. Mainland insists his temper was all that kept him off the college teams.

"Temper?" says Mainland, "they talk about his being so calm and easy going now, but he really had a temper in those days."

DONALD M. NELSON
Before and after he took up smoking.

Nelson played in one baseball game at Missouri—he was supposed to be the best first baseman the coach had ever seen—but he got in a hot argument with the umpire and walked off the field determined to stick to chemistry.

Contrary to some reports that he worked his way through college tending furnaces and doing odd jobs, friends say Nelson had a good allowance for those days—$50 or $60 a month—and was walking on tables or firing furnaces that he did was for extra pocket change.

Expert Pool Player
He was one of the best pool players in his class and always had the smallest pipe on the campus.

Nelson wanted to be a school teacher; he has hinted that he still would like to return to "Old Missouri" as a professor of chemistry. He took what he intended to be a temporary job in 1921 in the laboratories of Sears, Roebuck & Company, with the expectation that as soon as he had saved enough money he would go to Princeton for his doctor's degree.

Moore P-TA To Have Food Sale

MOORE, Feb. 2.—The P-T. A. met in regular session with Mrs. Henry Long presiding. The evening's activities were confined largely to a business meeting. The group discussed the problem of buying a refrigerator. Final plans for completion of the yearbook were made. A food sale was planned for Saturday, February 14. Announcement was made that the unit would meet again on Friday afternoon, Feb. 20, at 2:30. Mrs. N. Y. Blont and Mrs. Ross Hill and several other visitors will be present on this occasion. Mrs. Blont will show some pictures which were made when she and others attended the convention at Austin some two months ago.

The girl's 4-H club met recently with the agent, Miss Lora Farnsworth, in charge of the meeting. Plans for financing the club were discussed. The agent discussed plans with the various demonstrators. Mary Frances Phillips will be fruit demonstrator while Gertrude Hull will take the clothing part. Games were played at the recreation hour. Those present were Miss Farnsworth, Gertrude Hull, Sonia Weaver, Eula Faye Newton, Francis Phillips, Lucille Engle, and Billie Tucker. The next meeting will be Feb. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bauch have moved to this community from the Fairview section.

Mrs. Fred Cravy of Colorado City was a business visitor at the local school Friday.

George Billalba, who sustained a fractured right hip some two weeks ago is reported improving. His sister, Selma, who was burned some three months ago when a can of gasoline exploded, is also resting satisfactorily. She is still unable to walk, and doctors believe she will probably be confined to her bed for six more weeks.

Gladine Fields who has been sick for the past two weeks is back in school.

Thomas and Donnie Winn are suffering with mumps.

Rev. and Mrs. Horace C. Goodman of Fort Davis were business visitors here over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Goodman and children Lillian, Glenda, Sue, and Nina Joyce, spent the weekend at Wichita Falls visiting a son, O. A. Jr., who is stationed at Sheppard Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Robinson and Rosedale of Midway, and Mrs. R. B. Baker and daughter, Sherry Jean, of Midway were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. Lania Williams of Seagraves, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson and daughter, Joan, of Artesia, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hatch and children, Dora Ann, and Richard III of Coshoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hatch of Coleman, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hatch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gipson and family of Midway have recently moved into the local store and will operate it.

Dances Gross About $500

Gross receipts from Big Spring's celebrations of the president's birthday will be something over $500, it was indicated Tuesday as Chairman Grover C. Dunham was making a check.

Two hundred and seventy-two tickets—at $1.65 each—were sold at the door Saturday night, as three dances were held. In addition, there was considerable advance sale, and Dunham was checking on this Tuesday.

While the revenue is down some from previous years, expenses this year were lower too, so that it looked like the local infantile paralysis fund and the National Foundation each would get close to $200 from the benefit affairs.

In addition to the Birthday Ball receipts, Howard county contributed generously to the March of Dimes campaign, and Dunham said much of this money was still coming in, to be forwarded to the White House.

Troops In Ireland Get Into Routine
WITH THE AEF IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Feb. 3 (AP)—After an inspection by Lieut. Gen. H. E. Franklin, commander of British forces in this combat zone, the United States troops in northern Ireland settled down today to an ordered program of intensive training on full field duty. "There's a man-sized job to be done and, as far as one can judge, these are the men who can do the job," declared Gen. Franklin, 66-year-old veteran of the battle of Dunkerque. "They are a happy, fine-looking lot of men who are settling down well." This expeditionary force is well-equipped for all sorts of weather. From generals down to buck privates, they have galoshes, rain-

costs and everything else that may be needed. Major Gen. Russell P. Hartle, field commander of the U. S. force, has just concluded a series of meetings with his staff and with commanders of units spread over all of northern Ireland. Tires Cost More Than Car

Sea Scouts, Crystal And Carnett Win

A last minute spurge enabled the Sea Scouts to upset the American Business club Monday night in the city slow league's second round of the second half season.

The Sea Scouts forged ahead 10 to 7 by virtue of six quick points made in the last seconds of play. They had made six points in the first quarter, then remained scoreless for two periods while the ABC overtook them and knotted the score at the end of the third quarter.

Going into the last stanza, Vaughn sank a field goal and Thompson added a free pitch to make it look like ABC's game. Then the Scouts tied the game with two field goals by Miller and another by R. Thomas.

Carnett defeated Cosden 26 to 23 to ascend to second place in the fast league and get a good chance at the title. It was the last regular night of play for the fast league's first half schedule, but Carnett has opportunity to play a make-up game with the cellar-dwelling Vaughn's team. If they win and it looks like a clinch they will be tied for the title with Crystal and entitled to a playoff game.

Third game of Monday night's schedule found Crystal trouncing Vaughn's 39 to 18. Hunt alone made as many points for Crystal as the entire Vaughn team.

Funeral for J. B. Clements, 33, was held at 3 p. m. today in Baird. He succumbed here Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sara Elizabeth Clements, 505 Main, where he had been for the past year since illness forced his retirement. Clements had operated a cafe in Odessa for nine years until his falling health interfered.

Services were in charge of the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church in Big Spring, assisted by the pastor of the Baird First Methodist church, where rites were said. Casketbearers were Johnny B. Clements, Everett Clements, R. H. Rogers, Jack Mobley, Tad Goble, and Ben McKelvin.

Survivors include his mother and three sisters, Mrs. J. D. Faulkner, 1402 Austin street, Big Spring, Mrs. M. M. Page, Lubbock, and Mrs. G. K. Baker, Sweetwater. He also leaves three nephews and three nieces. His father succumbed in 1923 at Brownwood. Arrangements were in charge of Nalley Funeral Home.

Bragging About Their Sons— Button Busters Boost Boys Plenty Baseball For Southern California

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (AP)—It's 3,000 miles to a big league ball park, but Southern Californians this spring will get 90 games involving four major clubs. That's more than any one team plays at home in a full season.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics will play in nearly half those contests—42. The A's are not likely to win the American league buntling, but they should have no ailibi over lack of training. Battery men report at Carlsbad Feb. 15 to bathe off excess poundage. The entire squad is due at Anaheim a week later.

Jimmy Wilson's Chicago Cubs are slated for 31 exhibitions and, not to be outdone too much by the A's, will send a No. 2 team into 10 more tilts. The Cubs go to Catalina Island Feb. 21 and remain until March 12. Then they come to Wrigley Field, home of their little brother Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast league.

Paasenda again will be host to Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Sox due late this month.

Manager Frankie Frisch has asked his Pittsburgh Pirates and catchers to show up at El Centro Feb. 24. The rest of the squad is due 10 days later. Whether the Pirates will gather at El Centro or their customary San Bernardino park depends upon availability of the latter site.

The Cubs and Sox aren't scheduled for anything more exciting than interquid teneups until they meet each other here.

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 3 (AP)—The fathers of the nation's fighting men can bust a button bragging about their sons for two minutes flat without fear of interruption from other proud papas.

They can, this is, if they are members of the Button Busters of America, launched today by Roland (Dick) Broach, veteran of the last war, whose son, Roland, Jr., is in the Army now.

The new organization's constitution asserts the "belief in the fundamental right of any American father to brag about his son in the armed services in the same manner in which he bragged on him as a baby."

"A little levity mixed in with the seriousness of the situation won't do any harm," declared Founder Broach.

"We're going to brag on our boys anyway, so let's throw about that bragging a mantle of legal rights and keep our chins up without sticking out our necks."

The organization's insignia is a missing top vest button. Should the war effort gobble up men's vests, a vest button will be the badge.

Members shall be known as Bosses and chapters as Boxes, with Box No. 1 in Tulsa.

Under the by-laws a beautiful Boss may brag about his son, his son's outfit or branch of the service up to a point falling short of outright lying. But after two minutes of bragging the member may be interrupted by another proud father who after two minutes may, etc., etc.

Former Resident Here Fatally Shot

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the graveside in Sterling City for Mrs. Viola Anderson, 35, waitress, who fell fatally wounded outside a door of a Sterling City cafe at 8:30 a. m. Monday.

She had been shot in the left breast and witnesses said she had run from a wash room where they found a .22 calibre rifle. Justice of Peace T. E. Carr had not completed the inquest.

N'Orleans Track Enjoys A Boom

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Fair Grounds race track operators, who two weeks ago feared they might not be operating next season, today added another race to their daily card and considered a request by horsemen to extend the 42-day program as business continued to pick up.

The eight-race program will include a daily two-year-old event. Manager Ed Brennan announced. Owners asked the management to prolong the meeting, scheduled to end Feb. 17, for a week or 10 days.

Their request may bring favorable action as operators of the track, after being handicapped by bad weather and a post-holiday lull early in the year, are expecting spring weather to bring many visitors to the city.

I was told that I needed an operation.

No Spanish Textbooks For Local Elementary Schools

Los ninos in local elementary schools won't be habling Espanol for a while yet—unless they pick it up some place other than the school.

Big Spring was not included in the list of places distributing free Spanish text books to elementary students of Texas Monday.

School officials said this was because the order for texts had been sent in for high school work and was refused by the state department because the books are to be used only in teaching Spanish in elementary grades.

Accordingly, another order was sent, requesting the new Spanish texts for the seventh grade pupils but for use in high school if desired.

To date there has been no answer to that request.

W. C. Blankenship, city school superintendent, said that efforts to offer the work as a general elementary subject might encounter a formidable instructional obstacle.

In the first place most elementary school teachers have not been groomed to become language teachers, and in the second place the addition of a subject would further increase the load of teachers already doing yeoman service in order to help the school district make fiscal ends meet.

God's Power Is Stressed By Dr. McConnell

God's omnipotence and power as shown in the vast spaces of the universe were stressed by Dr. Charles Allen McConnell, in his sermon at the Church of the Nazarene Monday night, one of a series given during the Bible and Mission Institute.

Dr. McConnell preaches each evening, and on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. McConnell will talk to women on "Mothers And Babies In Africa."

From the text, "Be ye holy, for I am holy," Dr. McConnell pictured the greatness of the one who speaks these words, citing comparisons of the size of the earth and of other planets. He showed how God in His greatness had created a universe with space that has no end, and that as long as space is there, God is there.

Committee Votes Loan For China

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—An authorization for a $50,000,000 war loan to China was approved unanimously today by the house foreign affairs committee.

Members said the action was taken in a few minutes—and without dissent—immediately after four cabinet officers told them behind closed doors that the loan was necessary to help China prosecute its war effort.

Speaker Rayburn had predicted the fast committee action.

Plenty Of Tires, If We'll Use Them

AKRON, O., Feb. 3 (AP)—President William O'Neil of General Tire and Rubber Co., said today, "It is my considered judgment that we can keep all American cars rolling for three years without making another new casing."

O'Neil told stockholders at their annual meeting:

"Hysteria and panic have caused thousands of motorists to rush to their tire dealers for recapping. In many instances—maybe in most instances—these tires have contained thousands of miles of good rubber. It is as important to save this processed rubber as it is to save the crude rubber in the stock pile."

100,000 Men Join Navy In 7 Weeks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The 100,000th volunteer to join the navy since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7 enlisted yesterday.

The navy department said today that day and night operations of the navy recruiting service, on a seven-day week basis had brought an average of 1,786 enlistments a day during the eight weeks period since the first 30 days after Pearl Harbor 55,888 men were signed up and during the remaining 26 days 44,112 have volunteered for naval service.

Unemployment In US Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The WPA said today that despite the accelerated war production effort the number of unemployed had risen by 400,000 in January and now totaled 4,200,000.

This was accounted for, the WPA said, by seasonal factors in agriculture and retail trade, combined with "economic dislocation resulting from the war."
