Blast Sinks US Destroyer In Atlantic

Loss of Life Small, Navy Announces; Cause Not Determined

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The navy announced today that the destroyer Sturtevant had been sunk off the coast of Florida by an underwater explosion within the past 24 hours.

Loss of life was small, the navy communique reported, and most of the crew of the old World War vessel reached port safely, indicating that the ship may have gone down quite slowly.

The Sturtevant, a 1,190-ton, flush deck, four-stacker, normally had a wartime complement of around 145 to 150 men, but the navy's assurance that most of the crew reached port safely suggested that only a very small percentage of those aboard were lost.

Whether it was a torpedo fired by a German U-boat raider, such as blew up the Jacob Jones off the Jersey coast earlier this year, or whether it might have been a floating mine, possibly even one which had broken loose from America's own mine fields was not stated, and some authorities suggested it would be extremely difficult to determine just what had happened.

The Sturtevant became the seventh naval vessel announced as lost in the Atlantic area since last fall. Four have been destroyed by enemy action. They were the destroyers Reuben James and Jacob Jones, the Coast Guard Cutter Alexander Hamilton and the Coast Guard Tender Acacia. Two vessels were lost in heavy seas off Newfoundland—the Destroyer Struett and the Store Ship Folz.

Men 45-65 Rush Forth To Register

Perhaps more anxious to sign than any previous age group, men from 45 to 65 thronged registration places in Big Spring and Howard county Monday for the nation-wide manpower survey—classified also as the fourth registration.

From early morning the courthouse was jam-packed with men in their prime who wanted to be sure their names were in the hopper, although the registration was not for military service as have been the three preceding ones.

The Texas Defense Guard company, under command of Capt. Cliff Wiley, was in charge of registration at the courthouse, where the biggest rush occurred. Matters were handled with dispatch so that there was no stacking up on registration.

Break business greeted Gene Salazar and other registrars at the Kate Morrison school where Latin-American men were being registered.

Others were signing at Coshona, Center Point, Vealmoor, Forsan, Garner and Luther. Meanwhile, men who were born on or after April 28, 1877 and on or before Feb. 18, 1897 may register up to 9 p. m. today. Later they may get a simple employment questionnaire, but it will be simply for the purpose of getting employment abilities only.

Local People Go To Funeral Of W. T. Sargent

Friends have returned from funeral for William Terrell Sargent, 53, local mail carrier, who died at Fort Worth of an heart involvement Friday afternoon.

Mr. Sargent, who has been in failing health for a number of years, had been on sick leave from his carrier duties at the postoffice since after Christmas, and had gone to Fort Worth only last week.

At the request of the local Masonic lodge, the Polytechnic lodge at Fort Worth was in charge of graveside rites in Granbury cemetery at Fort Worth.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Jessie Lee Sargent, Fort Worth, and Maudee Sargent, Andrews; one son, Boyd Sargent, McCamey. Attending from here were A. A. Porter, Irvin Daniels, A. E. Truitt, W. L. Nowell and M. R. Brown. All members of the local postoffice staff.

Reds Swing Knockout Blow Toward Finland

RAF Rules Sky Over Western Europe

By Associated Press While the RAF cracked the whip over western Europe there were signs today that on the eastern front that Russia had launched upon an offensive to knock Finland out of the war and outflank the Germans on their main northern anchors about Leningrad and southward.

Nearly 8,000 Finnish soldiers were reported killed last week

In this apparent offensive likened in hitting power to the coupe de grace dealt the Finns by the Red army two years ago to end their short winter war.

Russia and Finland fought that earlier war, with Germany on the sidelines, over the Russian demand for Finnish territorial leaseholds to shield Leningrad. The battle lines now are drawn up well inside the Finnish frontier of 1939, said dispatches through London. The present Russian drive might have the additional effect of protecting the leasehold ports of Murmansk and Archangel while Adolf Hitler's main forces still mark time in the slush and mud from Leningrad south to the Crimea.

The RAF ruled the skies of western Europe today in its greatest offensive of the war, a strategic factor upon which the whole course of the conflict may depend.

It threatened devastation of centers of German power, one by one, in the deliberate manner of the last four nights of consecutive bombing at Rostock, a process which no doubt would be speeded up when and if Germany gets under way against Russia.

It was estimated that 1,600,000 pounds of bombs had been dumped on Rostock.

To clinch this aerial sovereignty, the British had the promise that United States planes soon would be working with them wing to wing in a campaign which already has shaded Germany's own 1941 blitz.

The prospect of United States collaboration in the work of destruction was not new. It developed from the recent visit to Britain by the United States chief of staff, General George C. Marshall. But American participation in the offensive was still in secretive preparation.

Last night's RAF pounding at Rostock, Baltic port of exit for supplies and troops to the northern Russian front as well as a great plane-building center, was followed up by another daylight sweep over the northern part of captive France.

Before noon, great bomber-fighter formations of the RAF had wings across the English Channel and back from the direction of Boulogne.

British air power was coming as close as it could to opening up a second European front while the Germans still dabbled, with a great diversion of their air power, on the Russian front.

Texas' Swollen Rivers Dropping

Cessation of heavy rains in most sections of the state gave rise to hope today that flooded rivers and streams might subside without further loss of life or property damage.

The Trinity river was reported falling after lapping menacingly at levees in the greatest flood threat since 1908.

Last night the Sabine river at Gladewater had risen within a foot of the 25-year high set two weeks ago and forced an estimated 150 persons out of their homes for the second time this month.

In Dallas county several persons marooned by high water were rescued yesterday by deputy sheriffs and others.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas trains were forced to detour by high water over the Trinity river railroad bridge at Dallas. The Cotton Belt used the lines of other railroads because of high water between Dallas and Greenville, and the Santa Fe made detours because of floodwaters north of Greenville.

Northwest of Fort Worth additional families deserted their lowlands homes when the west fork of the Trinity rose.

Highway 34 was under water on both sides of the Trinity. Highway 175 from Crandall to Dallas was closed after East Fork flood waters tore great slabs of pavement away. Dallas bound traffic is going through Terrell.

Vernon Minshew, Kaufman agent of the Southern Pacific, said at least another week would be required to repair washed out bridges and rails.

Zelma Mitchell Body Sent Here Body of Zelma Mitchell, World War I veteran, was to be shipped here from New Mexico for final rites, members of the family were advised Monday.

He succumbed at the veterans hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M., at 2:10 a. m. Sunday. Arrangements are pending arrival of the body, probably Wednesday. Among survivors are his mother, Mrs. Alma Mitchell, and a brother, Edgar Mitchell, of Big Spring.

Japan Races Against Time In Pacific

Allied Bombers Give Enemy Trouble In Southwest

By the Associated Press Straining for conquest of Burma ahead of the wet monsoon coming in mid-May and jockeying with a fresh show of air power for southwest Pacific positions before the United Nations can strike back full force, Japan has a big job on her hands and little time in which to do it.

Wide-ranging allied bombers answered the sudden intensification of enemy air activity in the Australian theater yesterday by blasting again at Japanese bases at Lae, New Guinea, and Bougainville, in the Solomon Islands. A Sunday attack by the Japanese on Port Moresby, New Guinea, was reported beaten off.

At least four planes were destroyed by the allies at Lae.

Military sources at allied headquarters in Australia voiced belief that the continuing American-Australian offensive in the air, harbinger of all-out action being prepared to crack the backbone of Japanese bases facing Australia, might force a speedy showdown.

The Japanese can ill afford to sit passively in their present island lodgements while the allies built up a striking force in Australia, they said.

By this reasoning the Japanese would have to attempt one of three courses—invade Australia, broaden the island invasion front with a view to cutting American supply routes to Australia, or attack New Zealand.

The recent landing of American troops on the French island of New Caledonia—subject of a pending protest by Vichy to Washington—was viewed by observers in Australia as a move to thwart Japanese expansion to the east on the flank of the supply routes to Australia.

It was reported that the Japanese have been concentrating fresh invasion forces and material in their Marshall Islands in apparent preparation for some new operation which may bring the United States fleet into action. Some observers foresaw the possibility of a great naval battle somewhere between Hawaii and New Zealand.

In Burma it was a question whether the hard-pressed British imperials and their Chinese comrades-in-arms could stay the Japanese push until the monsoon rains come with their prospect of hindering Japanese communications.

At present the defenders were impelled by two new thrusts, according to London reports: One a drive from Lohit on the eastern flank of the line, toward the Mandalay-Lashio road, threatening the two cities joined by the high-water, and the other an infiltration to the west aimed at isolating the allies in the Pyawbwe area, about 85 miles south of Mandalay.

Local Men Get Army Advancements

Advancements in army service for two Big Spring men were announced today.

At the Enid, Okla., army flying school, it was announced that Thomas J. Higgins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Higgins, 100 Canyon Drive, had finished basic flying training and is being sent to advanced flying school at Miamon, Texas.

FDR Outlines Money Ideas

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt will outline to the nation over radio tomorrow night the comprehensive anti-inflation program he will present to congress today, Senate Democratic Leader Barkley said after a White House conference this morning.

The hour for the broadcast was not announced.

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)— President Roosevelt said today that during the war "no American citizen ought to have a net income, after he has paid his taxes, of more than $25,000 a year," in proposing to congress a seven-point program designed to combat the upward spiral in living costs.

The president proposed stabilization of wages and salaries of individuals, saying "I believe that stabilizing the cost of living will mean that wages in general can and should be kept at existing levels" and asked repeal of the provisions of the price-fixing law which allows farm commodities to rise to 110 per cent of parity. (Parity is the price designed to give the farmer a return, based on industrial purchases, enjoyed in a 1909-14 base period.)

"We must fix ceilings on the prices which consumers, retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers pay for the things they buy," the president said as he outlined his plans to keep the cost of living down, and added "ceilings on rents for dwellings in all areas affected by the war industries" to the steps that must be taken.

Mr. Roosevelt also declared it was "indefensible that those who enjoy large incomes from state and local securities should be immune from taxation while we are at war" and urged that state, municipal and similar bonds "be subject at least to surtaxes."

Flatly opposing suspension of the 40-hour work week law, the president said: "Most workers in munition industries are working far more than 40 hours a week, and should continue to be paid at that rate and a half for overtime. Otherwise, their weekly pay envelopes would be reduced."

Mr. Roosevelt reported that "all strikes are at a minimum."

The program, outlined in a message to congress, was the administration's plan for gearing the economy of the nation and its people to emergency war conditions.

The chief executive also proposed heavy taxes, holding personal and corporate profits to reasonable levels, stabilization of prices received by farmers, discouraging credit and installment buying, rationing of all essential scarce commodities, and stimulation of the purchase of war bonds. Only taxes and stabilization of farm prices, Mr. Roosevelt said, require legislative action.

But he added in his message, read to the senate and house by clerks: "I assure the congress that if the required objectives are not attained, and if the cost of living should continue to rise substantially, I shall so advise the congress, and shall ask for any additional legislation which may be necessary."

Mr. Roosevelt said there were obvious reasons for taking every step necessary to prevent a rise in the cost of living, which already has moved up about 15 per cent since the autumn of 1939 and which might soar "another 50 per cent or 60 per cent during the next year or two."

Nazi Home Front Cracking? — Hitler Widens Powers

German Dictator Promises Victory, But Does Not Follow Custom Of Fixing Date

LONDON, April 27. (AP)—Adolf Hitler made himself the supreme master of Germany yesterday, with fiat power even above his own Nazi law, and his act roused the hopeful suspicion of his enemies that Germany is in deep internal trouble after a winter of near-catastrophes.

The extraordinary power to require absolute obedience from every German was voted at Hitler's demand by the reichstag after he had addressed his uniformed members in a speech strangely mixing his usual bombast and confident predictions of victory with a new under-current of anxiety.

One of those predictions was that Soviet Russia would be the decisive battleground of the world conflict and that it would be a scene of Nazi triumph.

But Hitler's demand came immediately after he had conceded to the reichstag that the German army survived a "threatening catastrophe" and suffered hardships for which the reich had been unprepared during the terrible cold of the Russian winter.

That the führer, who became Germany's military as well as civil overlord during the winter crisis on the Soviet front, should now demand strengthening of his dictatorial power and was hailed both in Britain and Russia as a sign that nation's home front was cracking.

The London Daily Herald declared it would not be surprised if Hitler planned a purge "or some move so desperate that its accomplishment will necessitate a purge."

As broadcast by the Berlin radio, Hitler turned from his assurances that the next winter would find Germany ready on the Russian front and made this demand: "For this purpose, I expect, however, one thing: that the nation entitles me to intervene and act myself, immediately, in every case where in the service of the greater cause which decides on our existence not the strictest, unreserved obedience is shown. . . ."

"I therefore beg of the German reichstag explicit confirmation that I am legally entitled to hold anyone to my duties or to sentence to death or to send from office and position anyone without consideration of his personal. . . . Who in any conscientious opinion does not fulfill his duties."

Although he promised ultimate victory, the man who once declared that the Russian "enemy already is broken and will never again rise," set no date for triumph and indicated to the Germans that they must fight through another winter.

Otherwise, the speech ran the same gamut as Hitler's in the past—a liberation of "endless German efforts for maintenance of peace," predictions of dire catastrophe for the British empire and imprecations against the "Jewish international parasites."

It contained the same oratorical devices: Threats: "If in England the idea should be carried out to continue the air war against the civilian population with new means, then I want to state before the world. . . I shall retaliate from now on blow for blow. . . ."

Opposes More Shutdowns In Oil Production

Culbertson Fears Half Operators To Break If Ickes Plan Followed

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Olin Culbertson, member of the state oil road commission, today expressed the opinion that if Texas oil production were slashed to 80,000 barrels daily, as recommended by federal officials, half of the state's 8,300 independent operators would go bankrupt.

Asserting Texas refineries total storage capacity was only two-thirds filled, Culbertson said he could see no reason for reducing the state's production days from 12, the current number, to six, the figure he said would be required for May under the recommendation of Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes.

The commissioner said that as of March 1, Texas' total storage capacity of 126,904,394 barrels of oil and products lacked 47,979,367 barrels of being filled.

"With the oil industry having taken it on the chin with 15 days production out of 30 this month," Culbertson declared, "it appears to me that with one-third of the storage capacity being empty and available, there is no justifiable reason why operators should be reduced to six days production in May."

"It seems that it would be the duty of the holders of empty storage to be permitted to take at least 15 days production and thus in a measure avoid a still more serious rupture of the aggravated economic situation confronting the industry in Texas."

"In other words, I think the industry should at least give the state man a 30-day extension on his hope for life by being permitted a permissive flow at least equal to that set in April."

"I assure the congress that if the required objectives are not attained, and if the cost of living should continue to rise substantially, I shall so advise the congress, and shall ask for any additional legislation which may be necessary."

Mr. Roosevelt said there were obvious reasons for taking every step necessary to prevent a rise in the cost of living, which already has moved up about 15 per cent since the autumn of 1939 and which might soar "another 50 per cent or 60 per cent during the next year or two."

Five Killed As Subway Runs Amuck

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 27 (AP)—The third car jumped the track as a heavily-laden Hudson river tube train lurches along 15 feet underground at the Elizabeth Place station at 10:40 p. m. (AP) last night, knocking five people dead and injuring 200.

Daniel Casey, public safety commissioner, announced early today he had booked the motorman of the eastbound Hudson & Manhattan Railroad's six-car train, Louis A. Vierbuchen, 46, on a manslaughter charge.

"The responsibility is definitely the motorman's," declared Casey adding that the other trainmen would be questioned. The commissioner said authorities were "trying to find out exactly what happened."

The derailment cut power lines plunging the tunnel into blackness at the deepest point on the line just before the train bursts under the Hudson river. Arcs of flame gushed from storage batteries in the wrecked car, which left the track with a blinding flash and burst into flames. Women shrieked, car windows were kicked out. One negro girl, pinned under a seat, had to be extricated by scolding men.

All but 100 of those injured were released from the medical center after treatment for superficial injuries.

Uncle Sam Pleads For Aircraft Workers

Uncle Sam is in great need of aircraft sheet metal workers, according to C. R. Rodden, manager of the United States Employment Service office here.

So great is the need that a plan is being issued for more men to take the aircraft sheet metal course offered free here by the government. Rodden urged that all men interested come to the USES office and confer with him.

Night classes are arranged for men who must continue their regular day jobs while taking the training.

'We're Just Lucky' — AVG's Tell Of Miraculous Survivals

NEW DELHI, India, April 26 (Delayed) (AP)—"We've been pretty lucky."

That's what the Flying Tigers, the fliers of the American Volunteer Group, themselves say for their record of destroying approximately 400 Japanese planes as against a bare quintet of their own number killed in actual combat.

Naturally there have been others at casualties but their losses have been so trifling that even they are amazed.

Examples of how "lucky" the Tigers have been were given by Robert Layher of Colorado Springs, Colo., one of a group who stopped off in New Delhi today while ferrying more planes into Burma.

Layher said one Yankee pilot whose engine was not functioning too well was caught by a Japanese fighter and chased 50 miles. His plane was simply shot to ribbons and he was flying so low he could dive to safety.

Minute after minute he felt Japanese bullets pounding against the armor plate at his back.

Finally the Japanese ran out of bullets and pulled off.

The American still had a hundred miles to go with an oil pump that was leaking badly. But he got in.

"I've never seen a plane with so many holes in it," grinned Layher. "All the tires were flat and the wings and fuselage were like a sieve—but not a solitary control gear had been hit."

Another pilot was caught in a blast of machine-gun fire that shot off both his parachutes at the same time. The bullets left burns along both cheeks just below the ears—but the pilot otherwise was unscathed.

Indians Come Through To Cling To Share Of Lead

Buster Mills Raps Out The Winning Blow

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

His real name is Colonel Mills, but the fans who watched him keep the Cleveland Indians in a first-place tie in the American league with a two-run single at Chicago yesterday now know why his friends all call him "Buster."

Held to one hit by Johnny Rigney for seven innings, the Indians were about ready to kiss their winning streak goodbye. Then Jeff Heath opened the eighth for the Tribe with a single and Les Fleming followed suit.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who has surprised everyone else — if not himself — by the apparent miracle he has worked at Cleveland, wiped out half of the White Sox two-run lead with a double and looked around for a pinch-hitter after Ray Mack had been purposefully passed to lead the socks.

His choice was Colonel (Buster) Mills, an outsider who has shifted from the majors to the minors and back again more times than a pianist.

Purchased from Kansas City shortly before the season opened for just such game-saving chores, Buster lived up to his name by smacking a single that scored Fleming and Boudreau with the tying and winning runs.

The 2-2 triumph was the eighth straight for the fast-traveling Tribe, which kept even with the New York Yankees at the top of the American league.

The Yankees exploded as usual in one big inning, pushing over six runs in the third at Boston and coasting to a 7-3 decision over the Red Sox behind the two-hit pitching of Marvin Brewer.

Buddy Reese capped the scoring spree with a three-run homer.

At Detroit, a couple of other streaks were kept alive as the Tigers swept both ends of a double-header with the St. Louis Browns, 10-5 and 7-6, boosting their own winning spree to five and stretching the Browns' string of losses to nine.

The double triumph moved the Tribe into third place in the American league, only half a game behind the pace setters.

The Philadelphia Athletics got a pair of nine-hitting pitching performances out of Luman Harris and Roger Wolff and walked off with both ends of a twin bill with the Senators at Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 2.

In the National league, the Brooklyn Dodgers tightened their grip on the lead and the Pittsburgh Pirates pushed the New York Giants out of second place with the help of the Boston Braves.

Playing with something of a makeshift lineup, the Dodgers downed the Philadelphia Phils, 3 to 1 and 10 to 2, and liked their record to 11 wins in 14 starts as Curt Davis and Ed Head chalked up their third pitching victories against no defeats.

The Pirates blanked the St.

Louis Cardinals, 2 to 0, in the first game at St. Louis, but the second wound up in a 4-4 deadlock when darkness intervened at the end of the 11th.

At New York, the Boston Braves snapped out of an eight-game losing streak and ended the Giants' four-game winning party by capturing a double bill, 3 to 2 and 8 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds entertained their first Sunday home crowd with a 9-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

These two teams play again today in the only contest on the major league schedule. When hostilities are resumed all around tomorrow, the National league will find the eastern teams invading the west and the American league's western teams will be opening a tour of the east.

Tulsa Holds Lead, Taking A Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

The weather yesterday allowed all eight teams of the Texas league to go into action at last.

The Tulsa Oilers, leading the race by the widest margin of one game, showed their mettle before an enthusiastic home crowd by sweeping a twin bill with Oklahoma City, 3-2 and 4-3, the initial contest stretching out to 13 innings.

Resumption slaughtered the lackadaisical San Antonio Missions on the latter's grounds, 6-4, and took a two-game hold on second place.

Third place Houston, playing at Shreveport, annexed both games of a doubleheader with the Sports, 5-2 and 5-0. The visiting Fort Worth Cats drubbed their arch rivals, the Dallas Rebels, 5-2.

Jittery Joe Berry did relief duty for Tulsa and got credit for the first victory yesterday, outlasting Clay Touchstone.

In the second contest Julian Tubb let the Indians down with seven hits. He also collected two hits scoring one run and driving in another.

The Missions dropped their seventh straight game by losing to Beaumont. Dick Wakefield, the Exporter rightfielder, garnered a home run, a double and two singles and knocked in three runs.

Today's schedule:
Dallas at Shreveport (night).
Fort Worth at Beaumont (day).
Oklahoma City at San Antonio (night).
Tulsa at Houston (night).

15 Or 16 Entries Sighted For Derby Next Saturday

It's Hard Job To Pick Out A Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27 (AP) — Derbytown began to powder its nose and put on fresh face paint today for its big horse holiday week, as early indications were for a field of 15 or 16 three-year olds to come out a-runnin' in Saturday's 68th Kentucky Derby.

And this biggest collection of derby gallopers since War Admiral led the conga line for 19 others five years back, represented what was probably the outstanding display of bargain basement offerings ever to sit in on Col. Matt Winn's shindig. All but a scant few were picked up here and there, out of yearling sales, in cash transactions or claiming races, for as little as $700 or $800.

This fact, added to the size of the field and the way most of the classiest candidates in the lot have been hot as firecrackers one day and cold as last night's mashed potatoes the next, left most of the headboots wondering just who was "Mr. Big" in the outfit.

Requested a victory in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday — in which Apache's tired third place finish brought clouds to Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons — left him a slight betting choice in today's callover. But along with that triumph for Texas Ben Whitaker's little fellow, you still couldn't overlook Alab's improved stepping in the Chesapeake at Havre the week before and Devil Diver's dashing 2:00 3-8 workout over the full mile and a quarter route yesterday to show he's all over the cut leg.

There was quite a bit of local approval for the one-two punch in the barn of Emerson Woodward, the Texas cattleman. Almost as soon as you hit Walnut and Fourth streets someone stepped up and told you not to lean too far away from this pair — the imported Hollywood and Valinda orphan.

With changes likely to come daily, here is the way the field shapes.

Alab, Al Sabbath, Chicago, Basil James.

Walking Is Going To Help Develop Better Track Team, Coaches Think

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — Gasoline and tire shortages have the track coaches smiling.

They are of the opinion that if Uncle Sam's war needs can put the public back on its feet by applying the breaks to pleasure driving — and perhaps halt the campus squeak-wagons altogether — walking again will become fashionable and necessary with a resultant improvement in track efforts.

Lawson Robertson, coach of the University of Pennsylvania runners, expresses the idea that one can't learn to lay bricks by playing dominoes and that one can't become adept at walking or running by riding three blocks to the corner ice cream parlor in a 15-cylinder car.

His views are shared by such coaches as Harry Hillman of Dartmouth, Billy Hayes of Indiana, Franklin Johnson of Stanford, W. H. Hargiss of Kansas and George T. Freshman of Iowa.

Robertson is certain that the present curtailment of riding hasn't produced any noticeable effects in the track world as yet but he is positive that if walking be-

Softball Enthusiasts Plan Season Tonight

With prospects for but one league, softball enthusiasts will meet at 8:15 p. m. today in the office of Haddon F. Malone, city WPA recreational supervisor, to complete plans for the 1942 season.

Talk of a fast league appeared to be going by board, Malone reported, for ability to get only two teams for certain in this division was mitigating against it. Two, L. D. Cunningham, a member of the uncertain city entry, is in reality the only "fast league" pitching material in sight. In all likelihood, Quick Lunch and Vaughn's, the fast entries, will have their pitching adjusted to meet the slower competition and fit into the slow league.

As it now appears, the sure starters would be ABC club, Lions club, Mexican team, Boy Scouts, Quick

A&M, Texas Battle For Loop Title

By The Associated Press

The Southwest conference baseball race rolled down the stretch today with Texas A. and M. and Texas pointing toward a two-game series that appears certain to determine the championship.

The Aggies are leading on a percentage basis only because they have played more games, each team having lost twice, but the way the Cadets now are knocking over the opposition they should enter that series — scheduled May 8 and 9 — as favorites.

The Baylor Bears and Southern Methodist Mustangs clash at Dallas this afternoon in a double-header.

A. and M. meets Texas Christian at College Station Friday and Saturday, while Texas plays but one game, clashing with Southern Methodist at Austin Friday.

Other games:
Thursday — Rice vs. Texas Christian at Houston.
Saturday — Baylor vs. Southern Methodist at Waco.

OUR LOCAL SCRAPE WON'T LICK THE JAPS

The American people have made it clear that throughout this war they want the facts. Disunity created by false propaganda can serve but one purpose.

In its May issue, the Magazine ESQUIRE asks editorially: "What are you saying to make Goebbels grin?" This editorial lists seven idle pastimes by which Americans can aid the Axis. One of these seven is continuance of Prohibition incitement.

"If they (the Axis) can only get us started chasing each other up that blind alley again, it will be worth more to them than the fall of France and the capture of Singapore combined," says this editorial.

Prohibitionists far removed from the scene and facts immediately pounced upon alcoholic beverages as responsible for what happened at Pearl Harbor. Howard County Drys are continuing to libel those brave men who died there and those who survived to continue the fight for their country by having you believe they were all drunk. And they attempt to "prove" this by telling you that the sale of alcoholic beverages is consequently banned there today. Neither of their assertions is true.

President Roosevelt appointed a commission headed by Justice Roberts of the U.S. Supreme Court, to go to Hawaii to investigate and determine the facts. That commission's report, accepted by our government as OFFICIAL and printed in all the newspapers of this Nation where any fact seeking Prohibitionist could read it, had this to say:

"Through inquiry disclosed there is no evidence of excessive drinking by any officer of either service on that night. On the morning of Sunday, Dec. 7, army posts and naval vessels and stations were adequately manned for the readiness and alert them in effect by men fit for duty."

Who knows best? The Prohibition leaders of Howard County or the official board of inquiry that went to Hawaii, where liquor is sold legally today?

Howard County Dry leaders who would impose their prohibitive views upon all their fellow men, continue otherwise to set themselves above our best military minds in prescribing Prohibition for soldier and citizen.

But both Army and Navy Departments disagree with them. War Secretary Stimson tells Congress that "The War Department is convinced that temperance cannot be attained by Prohibition." Chief of Staff Marshall tells Congress that legal control "has been found to be far more effective than strict prohibition which furnishes a fertile field of bootleg operations." And Maj. Gen. Donovan, who commands this Corps Area, speaking out against Prohibition for military areas, says "Liquor is NOT a serious problem for the Army."

Howard County citizens will neither win nor lose the war with their votes next Saturday. They will simply decide whether the county's alcoholic beverage business will be licensed, taxed and controlled, as the Nation's military leaders prefer, or whether it will be returned to the bootlegger as the Prohibitionists prefer. Let's keep faith with our absent soldiers.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, April 27—Joe DiMaggio, the leading hitter of the Los Angeles City College baseball team, keeps a picture of Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees in his locker—which shows the kid has ideas as well as a name.... In the hullo-bello over the Penn relays, the Philadelphia papers didn't overlook another important occasion. Under the heading "History Is Made," they related in front page boxes that the A's and Phils had won ball games on the same day.

Moonlight serenade—
When George Trautman, American association president, is married to Mrs. Jane Asbury of Valdosta, Tenn., sometime within the next couple of weeks, a foxhound named Moonlight should get an invitation.... They became acquainted when Mrs. Asbury visited Jackson, Ohio, for the national hunt a couple of years ago.... Moonlight, the dog, got lost and Mrs. Asbury went out to help find him.... When the hunt took them near Trautman's cabin, he joined the search.

Service dept.—
Hugh Mulcahy, the first big leaguer to go into the army, had to turn down an offer of $1,200 a month to play week-end baseball with a semi-pro team recently. He's allowed only one week-end furlough a month from Camp Edwards, Mass.... The Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station, which has practically everything in the sports line, can boast of at least three national champions and a member of a fourth title-winning outfit. They are Joe Flack, national handball champion; Robert Antonacot, N. C. A. A. 128-pound wrestling ruler; Earl Clark, A. A. U. diving champion; and Aldo Forte, who played with the title-winning Chicago Bears.

Today's guest star—
Carl Bell, Northwest Arkansas Times (Fayetteville): "You might say that Churchill Downs, scene of the Kentucky Derby, is the world's camping off place."

Casey Stengel, figuring out where he stood in the 45-46 draft registration, remarked: "I'm ashamed to sell it, but I never yet hit a quail, so how could I hit a Jap?"

Haiti is the smallest of the American republics.

U. S. Wheat Bins Are Full

World War II finds the United States well supplied with wheat, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As the chart indicates, the supply is double that of 1917 when America entered the first World War. It is estimated that on July 1, the Nation's supply will be nearly 1 1/2 billion bushels, enough for two years of domestic use. Instead of plowing up new land and expanding wheat acreage, farmers are able to use land, labor, and equipment in turning out other war commodities more vitally needed—such as dairy, poultry, and meat products, vegetables, and oil crops.

Body Of Youth Is Sought In Bayou

BROWNWOOD, April 27 (AP)—A search was under way today for the body of William Moore, 17, son of the Rev. Ben H. Moore, executive secretary of Daniel Baker college, who drowned in Focan Bayou while trying to save the life of a companion.

The companion, William Davis of Brownwood, was pulled from the bayou waters by Glenn Pouncey, 18, and J. W. Dennis, 20, and revived by artificial respiration.

Moore and other youths had been swimming.

REQUESTED—Ben Whitaker owns Requested, a chestnut colt with Kentucky Derby aspirations. Exercise boy Arthur Kavanaugh is up. Requested's 1941 total was $49,850, and he finished in the money 14 out of 16 times. Derby date's May 2.

FLORAL—Fair as the flowers that bloom from her hair and suit is attractive New Yorker Vivian Brown whose miniature garden of French-enamelled, true-to-life painted hollyhock, poppy and pansy is the handiwork of Wm. K. Bohmer, N. Y.

CAT HAS REVENGE, STEALS PUPS FROM POODLE—In reprisal for Nellie's killing her two kittens, Kitty, this Persian at Brantford, Canada, stole six pups belonging to Nellie, a French poodle, and is doing a good job with her foster offspring. The pups grow fat on the privilege of having two mothers, although Nellie gets little enough chance to exert her authority. Jealousy between these two pets in the John Katusnyk household started the feud.

SUN AGAIN—Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby eligible, Sun Again, breezes along in a pre-Derby run. This colt sired by Sun Teddy is one of Calumet's hopes for a repeat, since their Whirlaway captured 1941 three-year-old classic.

WEST COAST PARTY—Actress Marion Davies, uniformed as a medical battalion captain, attended California State Guard military ball in Hollywood. At left is Publisher Wm. Randolph Hearst.

'OLD MAN RIVER' SERVES—Some $2,000,000 worth of war materials is floating in this record tow of barges, in the Mississippi river near Memphis, on the way from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. Capt. Roy Clay pilots the towboat Ohio for this home haul.

SYMBOL—A German bomber diving in flames is the appropriate insignia for this member of a Canadian anti-aircraft battery stationed somewhere in England with other flying units.

WITH REGARDS—Out of Loose Foot by Jack High came With Regards, a bay owned by Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Grimes, who are training him for the Kentucky Derby May 2 at Churchill Downs in Louisville. He's working out at the Downs.

SAFETY DRILL—In a safety drill aboard an oil tanker, crew members rush to the boats wearing their new type life-saving suits, made all in one piece of a vulcanized rubber fabric, and with an inner tank-backed vest to supply buoyancy.

YANK IN A TANK—Crew member aboard a Standard Oil tanker stands inside an 8,000-barrel tank, one of 12 tanks on ship. In these tanks are carried the war-needed oil.

BLESS ME—Col. E. R. Bradley's Bless Me preps for the big Derby race May 2 in Kentucky. Bless Me had a rather poor showing as a two-year-old, so isn't too well regarded by turf followers. He was sired by Sickle.

MODE—A fashion fling before War Production Board ban on those matching frills dear to a woman's heart, has this girl wearing a New York creation—a four-piece dressmaker ensemble of rayon and wool gabardine. Blouse is rayon jersey.

New Sponsor Of High Heel Slipper Club Is Introduced At Tea

Mrs. Thomas To Be In Charge Of Girls Club

A tea introducing Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr., new sponsor of the High Heel Slipper club, was held from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon by club members in the home of Celia Westerman.

Roses and spring flowers decorated the rooms and the club colors of blue and white were used throughout the party motif.

The table was centered with a punch bowl surrounded with white sweet peas. White tapers in blue holders were mingled with bouquets of white sweet peas. Blue sandwiches were served with white cakes laid in blue with the initials, H. H. S. in white on top.

Leaving one job for another, MARY HELEN DONNELL tells us that she is doing something new she has always wanted to do — and she is selling insurance. She has been working at the Big Spring hospital but took on the new job last week.

MRS. R. V. MIDDLETON is pretty busy these days since she is raising baby chicks. Seems she has quite a number of them, about 100, and she is taking care of them by herself. Mrs. Middleton says it takes quite a bit of "sitting up" with them to get them grown.

Did you ever pick up a soldier hitch-hiker and wonder if he ever appreciated your efforts? Well, Mrs. DOUGLAS ORME picked up one private and took him to Camp Barkley, Abilene. The next day he wrote in a note to thank you for the 40 mile "pick up." It was greatly appreciated. It is difficult for us soldiers to always be on the receiving end of kindness, without reciprocating in some manner... Again thanks and "Keep 'em Flying." So now you know how one soldier feels about civilian thoughtfulness.

Speaking of privates, JACK DOUGLAS, former scout writer here, writes that he is assigned to one of those steel-sided scout and combat cars at Fort Riley, Kas. From 5 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 o'clock at night they do scout and patrol work. It makes a busy day, says JACK, but is certainly interesting.

Editorial - - Government. Should Not Be 'As Usual'

Because it is the nation's largest city, New York has little in common with other local governments and the news that the big town has slashed its budget would not, ordinarily, be of any great interest elsewhere.

For, while citizens have faced the grim fact of war and have shown an admirable willingness to accept every sacrifice and personal hardship that may be necessary, "government as usual" seems to be the guiding rule of officialdom.

Secret Orders BY ELEANOR ATTURBY

Chapter 13 GIRL IN FEAR

An opportunity to see Kurt presented itself much more easily than Stephanie could, in her wildest dreams, have anticipated. Back at Headquarters that same afternoon, she heard that Mrs. Daubney, head of the Motor Corps, put in a call for the Hospital, talk long and earnestly.

"But we have no more room for wounded in our city hospitals, now, you know," Mrs. Daubney spoke into the telephone.

"I suppose we could move some of those - those who are recuperating. To private homes, if necessary."

"Stephanie blessed the fact that it was after five and the long, barn-like room practically deserted. Gathering every shred of control, 'I couldn't help overhearing your conversation, Mrs. Daubney. Does it mean that some of the wounded will have to be moved to make room for more from the Islands?"

"Looks like it. We'll send those who can't travel at all inland. Others who can be moved, will be taken to private homes at least temporarily," the older woman told her.

"You wouldn't like to take the responsibility of locating homes for them, would you?"

"Of course!" - and felt as though the wings of her Guardian Angel had brushed her cheek.

Henri called after dinner, invited both girls to a symphony concert.

"You go, Vicky," Stephanie urged when her cousin came flying up to the bedroom where Stephanie was already deep in the pillows of her chaise-longue and the intricacies of a detective story.

"Henri called after dinner, invited both girls to a symphony concert."

"You go, Vicky," Stephanie urged when her cousin came flying up to the bedroom where Stephanie was already deep in the pillows of her chaise-longue and the intricacies of a detective story.

"Don't be silly. Anyway - I like Henri. He's different." She slipped into a silver fox jacket and the result was mechanical. "Wish you were coming with us."

"No you don't. Skip now and let me solve my murder."

Terror But she was destined not to solve the murder - not that one. She heard Henri's car roll out of the drive, heard Tsang making his nightly round of the doors and windows on the first floor, carefully checking locks. Then finally the front door closed and old Tsang was off to his weekly visit with his friends some where in the heart of old Chinatown.

Silence settled down over the spacious old house, a silence that was hardly a silence at all. Stephanie thought, cuddling down into her pillows and trying not to hear the stairs creak, an attic window rattling. She was used to the old home, or should be, she added smiling. Still, she'd be glad when Aunt Allison got back from her bridge party.

The wind began to nag at a loosened window latch. Stephanie gave up after a moment, pulled up the blind, refastened the lock. As she did, something in the darkened garden below caught her at-ention. A figure moved quickly out of the drive into the pool of shadow under the oak tree. She watched, puzzled. It had looked like a small boy. But that was silly. Small boys wouldn't be prowling about this time of night. Still, she was sure she had seen someone.

When she heard the sound of someone running on the gravel, she jerked erect. There was someone out there! Before she could get up, the footsteps clicked up the steps, across the porch. Then the old-fashioned pull-bell clanged furiously.

Snapping on lights as she went, Stephanie ran down the long hall, the graciously curving staircase, to the front door.

"Who is it?" she called, her hand on the knob as precaution caught up with her.

"It is I, Miss Stephanie. Liu. Please - let me in."

Washington Daybook - - Rip Winkle Would Have Hangover Now

By JACK STEINHEIT WASHINGTON - Restrictions on consumer goods are coming so fast these days almost anything can happen here without greatly surprising most of us.

But let's suppose a citizen of the Coolidge era had awakened on a recent spring morning after doing a Rip Van Winkle for 15 years and had glimpsed one section of the front page of a newspaper before anyone could tell him what was going on in the U.S.A.

Side by side are three news articles which caused him to wonder whether he is having a nightmare or whether the good old land of profligate abundance he knew has gone completely wacky.

A headline with the familiar word "bootlegging" catches his eye. But to him the headline as a whole is utterly fantastic: "Wives Warned on Bootlegging Pants Cuffs for Husbands."

He reads on: "The wife who sews cuffs onto her husband's trousers' legs may face federal prosecution, WFB warned yesterday."

Just beneath that story is another strange headline: U. S. Frees Bicycle Stocks; Rationing Ordered." He reads the body of the story: "Faced with a terrific run on bicycles, the WFB halted the sale, shipment, delivery or transfer of all new adult models, effective at 11:59 o'clock last night."

To the man who has been doing a Rip Van Winkle since 1927, it just doesn't make sense. As he remembers, a bicycle so far as adults were concerned, was a fading relic of an early transportation period. Why, then, a stampede by grownups for this antiquated vehicle?

Next he sees this headline: "U. S. in Cheese Business; Seizes Syracuse Plant." Can it be that the land of Lincoln, of Harding and of Coolidge has gone Bolshevistic with an American Lenin, nicknamed WFB, issuing ukases to the Yankee proletariat?

Es turns to an inside page and reads: "Army Streamlines Star-Spangled Banner So Males Can Hit Land of the Free!"

And then his eye lights on this one: "Army Brass Hats Wrestle Over Undies for Women's Corps."

The Citizen of the Coolidge Era can't take any more. The paper drops from his hands. He eased down into his bed and whispers, "I'm doing another Rip Van Winkle and it's for the duration."

A large crowd attended the Mid-way gathering and there were several good quarters and specials to go along with class singing by large numbers living within the county.

Nelson Says Arms Production Good

WASHINGTON, April 27. (UP) - Arms production is "over the hump" and soon will overcome the advantage with which the axis powers started out in that respect, Donald Nelson, war production chief, said yesterday.

He made the assertion in reply to a query by Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) during the Texas Forum of the Air. Representative Wright Patman of Texas asked Nelson to elaborate in interrogating the WPB head.

Pearl Harbor Victim Gets Hero's Medal

HOUSTON, April 27 (UP) - A Distinguished Service Cross yesterday was awarded posthumously to Staff Sgt. Doyle Kimmey, 27, to commemorate his heroism at Pearl Harbor.

The award, bestowed at Ellington Field, was received in behalf of his son by Wood H. Kimmey, Angelina county highway worker. Hundreds of cadets presented arms as the decoration was pinned on Kimmey by Colonel Walter H. Reid, commander of the field.

"I found that there was no such number. I became alarmed when I saw the same man - or someone who looked like the same man - standing in a doorway not far from me. I was not sure he saw me, but I did not dare to go home then. We live so far from the car line and the street is so dark, you know. So - I came here to my grandfather. Then, as I came up the hill, he was following me again!"

"He? Who?"

"That man. I know it was. I looked around just as he passed under a street light. I walked faster. So he ran. When I began to run, he ran too. That's why I could not wait to go around to the back door. Miss Stephanie, why is he following me? I have done nothing! Is it because of Hajami?"

Stephanie frowned, tried to think straight through the tangle of her emotions. "Probably. But - you're safe now. You stay here for the night."

But as she crept, shivering, back to her own room a little later, she wasn't so confident. Something sinister lurked in the garden around the old house.

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK - After a turn up and down Broadway it is comforting to remember that the most important people in this town are never seen and almost never heard. They are the obscure people who make no witty speeches and set no styles in fashions, and who in fact contribute nothing at all save the taxes necessary to continue government and the toll necessary to make a great city function.

I suppose it is unfair to walk up and down Broadway and point out fifty or sixty drones who won't work and who spend all their nights in nightclubs in a sort of frenzied effort to escape from themselves, spending inherited money and running the government and also the war from ringside tables, and then say, "This is New York."

It isn't New York. But it is one sorry aspect of it. You can put it down in your little black book that any man - unless employed by them - who voluntarily spends five or six nights of every week in the corny and blowy atmosphere of nightclubs is a lightweight in more sense than one.

I can name you a dozen offhand whose names are in the newspapers regularly and who have unlimited funds to play around with, and not one of them could earn a dime if thrown to his own resources. If they had to spend 24 hours by themselves, without the fake sedatives of brass bands and phoney lights they would become insane.

Their ideas, like their appetites, never change. Once they stumble over an idea they bury it and never dig it up to reexamine it or see whether it fits the world they live in. Some of these men change wives with the seasons but never their ideas. They take an idiot's delight in being photographed with blondes, who can not afford to ignore or be rude to them unless they want to risk losing their jobs. The arguments they give you, which they didn't think up for themselves, are the same arguments they were giving you back in 1927, when all you had to do to make an extra thousand was telephone your broker.

You see these men today and you wonder if anything on earth could lift them to the level of the contempt of the waiters who pocket

Hollywood Sights And Sounds - - There's No 'Lowdown' On Lew Ayres

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD - Hollywood and the Biggest Show: There seems to be some demand for the low-down on Lew Ayres, conscientious objector. The low-down was in the papers at the time, in Lew's statement and the words of draft officials. There isn't any more.

Lew's sincerity in his stand, to those who knew him even slightly, can hardly be questioned. Any suggestion that he took his course as a personal skin-saver is nullified by the obvious fact that he chose to face an alternative which is, to most people, infinitely more dreadful than the rigors of war: the bad opinion of the American people and of many co-workers, and the loss of his career.

One fact frequently overlooked by the local coffee clatches sitting in judgment on Ayres was that, in making his choice, he was availing himself of one of the "four freedoms" for which this war is being fought. Freedom of religion, or conscience.

His anti-war philosophy, of course, carried to one logical conclusion, might have dictated another course in which war against the makers of war, fighting for a freedom so precious as this very freedom of conscience, would not have been compatible. Millions of other war-haters, including the famous conscientious objector Sergeant York, have found their answer thus.

Meanwhile, there's some famous advice in a good book: "Judge Not." It's especially good in this instance, because all the judgments passed in the hot-stove leagues aren't adding as much to the war effort as that scrap of tinfol who salvaged today.

As usual, there were many here quick to fear that the Ayres incident would cause the public to growl at Hollywood in general. That's an instance of Hollywood's old inferiority complex asserting itself. All Hollywood has to do is point at the growing list of its dream-children in the armed forces.

Red Skelton has a dud bomb among his souvenirs - result of a show he gave to bomber pilots out on the Mojave desert. Arriving there, he found fliers and crews living in tents, with no indoor facilities for a performance. Red performed on a sand dune in weather 16 above zero. The gift of the dud, of course, was no reflection on the show....

Ann Rutherford, back from four weeks of Army camp tour, including serving as queen of New Orleans' Victory Ball, relates this experience at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital: "I stepped off the train and was whisked to the hospital to 'cheer up' the boys too ill to come to the festivities. Feeling like Florence Nightingale, I rushed into the first room. And who should be lying in bed there but Richard Barthelme! There I was, coming 3,000 miles to 'cheer up' a movie star!"

Fred Hildreth, Warner "grip," collects 10-cent defense stamps, rimes or both from fellow-workers, sending the filled stamp books on to Father Flanagan for Boys Town....

Joan and Leslie and sisters Betty and Mary Brodel are our town's newest "victory gardeners." That lot next door to their valley home, long intended for a badminton court, is going into spinach and other vitamins instead.

Funeral Set Today For Fire Victims

MCKINNEY, April 27. (UP) - Funeral services for two children and their parents who died in injuries suffered in a fire that destroyed their home near Celina will be conducted today.

C. B. Taylor, 40, and his wife, Mrs. Sallie Taylor, 36, died in a hospital here yesterday. Two of their children, Myrtle, 4, and Dovie, 2, died Saturday in the blaze.
