Finns Reject Plans

Negotiations Of Red Armistice Effort Closed

MOSCOW, April 22 (AP) Drei J. Vishinsky, Soviet vice-commissioner of foreign affairs, announced tonight that revised Soviet conditions for an armistice had been rejected by the Finnish government, bringing negotiations to a close.

The vice-commissioner said Finland after two months of negotiations had informed Russia April 19 through Sweden that the Finnish parliament had decided the Russian terms would impose a burden on the people exceeding their capacity and that some of the terms were incapable of being carried out for purely technical reasons.

Vishinsky said the Finnish representatives who came to Moscow March 27 at the invitation of the Soviet government included J. K. Paasikivi, they met with Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov. "These were the Soviet terms which Finland rejected: 1. Rupture with Germany and immediate internment of enemy armies and warships, or their expulsion before the end of April.

2. Restoration of the Finnish-Soviet treaty of 1940 and withdrawal of Finnish troops to the 1944 frontier. 3. Immediate repatriation of Russian and Allied prisoners and civilian internees. This repatriation to be reciprocal.

4. Fifty percent demobilization of the Finnish army. 5. Reparations of $600,000,000 payable in five years. 6. Return of Petsamo to Russia. 7. If these conditions are accepted, the Soviet government will renounce its claim to Hangö without compensation.

Vishinsky told a press conference that the Soviet government had advised the United States and British government and that Britain had approved the Russian reply which declared that Finland's reasons for rejecting the armistice terms were "unfounded."

In its note Russia said that Finland already had lost its independence by permitting the entry of German troops and that the real reason for her refusal was on the payment of $600,000,000 indemnity asked by Russia, but the expulsion of German troops from Finland.

Vishinsky estimated that there were about seven Nazi divisions of 70,000 to 100,000 men in the country, mostly based in the north.

China's Future Is Endangered By Jap Thrust

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH KUNMING, China, April 21 (Delayed) (AP) — China's whole military future is endangered by the Japanese invasion thrust toward the Allied lifelines in north-eastern India and she is faced with the difficult decision of whether to risk an offensive against the Japanese rear from her Salween River positions.

It is conjectural how much the struggle with Japan might be shortened by a bold thrust westward from the Salween. But there is no question that a major Japanese success in the drive toward the Bengal-Assam railroad and the Brahmaputra River in India would incalculably prolong the war in this theater.

I have just returned from an air tour to the India-Burma front which carried me to one of the toe-holds in Burma secured by airborne Allied troops on the enemy's Mandalay-Mitkylina railroad inside Japanese lines. I also travelled by automobile down the Manipur road to the Kohima front.

One of the most decisive engagements of the war in the east still is shaping up where the Manipur jungle rolls out of the mountains and engulfs the Brahmaputra plain alongside the Bengal-Assam railway. This line is parallel to river transport, the two together forming a feeder line for China's troops under Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell on the Ledo road. China also has air transport over the "hump."

A Japanese victory there easily would offset the toehold advantages gained by the Allies' airborne exploits and indeed it might spell disaster for the American forces in upper Burma.

Catholic Dean In America Is Victim Of Death

BOSTON, April 22 (AP) — William Cardinal O'Connell, 84, archbishop of Boston and dean of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in America, died today from bronchial pneumonia.

The Cardinal died at 5:45 p. m. EWT, according to an announcement by Rt. Rev. Jeremiah F. Minihan, chancellor of the archdiocese. "Cardinal O'Connell took a severe attack at 2:30 p. m., EWT," Mgr. Minihan said.

"He rallied from that attack and took another at five o'clock. "It was a beautiful and inspiring Christian death." Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, auxiliary bishop of Boston, and Mgr. Minihan were at the Cardinal's bedside. The Cardinal was given the apostolic benediction.

Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, who was at the bedside of the Cardinal with Mgr. Minihan said, "As I was giving apostolic benediction, he passed on to his eternal rest." First word of the aged prelate's illness was announced just before midnight Wednesday. He had been ill about a week.

In announcing the Cardinal was seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia at that time, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Richard J. Haberlin, vicar general of the archdiocese, also asked: "The prayers of the priests and faithful of the archdiocese for the spiritual and bodily welfare of his eminence, the Cardinal." A cablegram expressing the concern of Pope Pius XII was received from the Vatican at Rome yesterday.

Residents will be encouraged to do all they can this week, and in subsequent weeks, to rid their premises of weeds and trash, to fix up the place in general and to add touches of paint where possible.

Cooperating as always, the City of Big Spring will furnish free trash hauling service. City Manager B. J. McDaniel warned that due to manpower shortages that service would not be as good as in former years but added that as rapidly as possible city trucks would haul away properly handled refuse.

Trash should be placed in boxes or sacks and brush and trees cut in smaller pieces and made compact for handling. All refuse should be placed in alleys or on the curb, depending on how the regular garbage route runs. First pick-up will be Thursday morning.

Massed Aircraft Smash Goals In Belgium, France

By W. W. HERCHER LONDON, Sunday, April 23 (AP) — Pre-invasion fleets of nearly 4,000 American and Allied bombers and fighters smashed the German rail center of Hamm, coastal fortifications in France, and airfields in Belgium and France yesterday in history's greatest aerial offensive, which apparently still was under way early today after a week in which 29,000 tons of explosives had been hurled onto Hitler's continental ramparts.

A U. S. Air Force bulletin issued early Sunday morning said "satisfactory results" were achieved in the main strike at Hamm by nearly 2,000 Flying Fortresses and Liberators escorted by Thunderbolt, Mustang and Lightning fighters, but failed to mention any aircraft losses.

Large formations of RAF heavy bombers were heard outward bound over both the southeast and east coasts of England both last night and early today. Dover Straits residents heard explosions across the channel in France and saw German searchlights at Calais and Boulogne.

Saturday Duster Similar To 1934

Weather ran the gamut that almost took the Big Spring area back to the "black blizzard" days of 1934 Saturday.

Early morning sprinkles gave way quickly to high winds which rose to sustained velocity of 30 miles-per-hour with 55-mph gusts which stirred up a blinding sand-storm. Motorists reported there were times when it was difficult to see beyond the front of a car on highway No. 9 north of here.

As the storm subsided late in the evening it was replaced by a renewed blast from the north as a cold front moved in.

Civilians Injured By Falling Plane

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 22 (AP) — Five army airmen were killed and three civilians seriously burned—when an A-29 light bomber spun out of control and crashed at a busy street intersection in east Phoenix today.

Capt. James A. Carvin, public relations officer at nearby Luke Field, reported the plane called the radio tower at municipal airport, a few blocks southeast of the crash scene, and was coming in for a landing when one wing dipped suddenly and struck a power line.

Gasoline burst from its tanks and showered the home of Mary Ruiz, 65, igniting and severely burning Mrs. Ruiz and her three grandchildren, Stella, 5, Rosalie, 4, and Samuel, 16-months. An automobile crossing the intersection was struck by flaming debris, critically burning the driver, Waldon Coleman, about 50, police said.

Paperhanger's Chief Worry Is Manpower Shortage As Army Has Been Cut In Half

By DANIEL DE LUCE WITH THE U. S. FIFTH ARMY ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, April 22 (AP) — The German army has been cut nearly in half in the past 18 months, primarily because of losses in Russia, and has a critical manpower problem, but it remains a well-armed and formidable machine, according to the latest estimate available here among men who have been fighting it.

Morale: That of the German forces in Italy characterized as "not good," but in the past three months it has risen. Failure of the Allied attacks in the Cassino sector and the stalemate situation here on the beachhead have been a bulwark for enemy spirits. Uniformly high fighting spirit found among German parachute troops.

Arms: Regardless of some Allied claims to the contrary, German arms and munition equipment are of high standard and are well maintained. They show little or no deterioration in the past year. Manpower: The basic number one problem of the German high command. The general staff's ideal of all units of veterans trained for three or four years went overboard when the Germans prepared for the Russian war, and it is the eastern front which has eaten into the overall strength.

After France fell the German army was increased from 100 divisions to more than 150, and in the spring of 1942 it was increased to 250. Stalingrad and other reverses compelled it to increase to an all-time high of 360.

As the number of divisions grew, the training and quality and the number of troops per division decreased considerably from the pre-war average of 15,000.

The parachute troops are usually in their twenties, few non-Germans are mixed in their companies, and their fighting morale runs high, but an old-line morale outfit like the 362nd Infantry division, in which aliens and older men are included, has a lower morale.

Even the hopeless soldier, however, has his pride. When the Allies exert formidable pressure he gives up, but until then he serves dutifully if fatalistically.

To ease the manpower problem German inventive genius has been called on continuously to develop new weapons operated by robot controls, and the result has been a number of armored vehicles operated by radio or cable and also rocket projectiles.

Hitler's hopes of getting other Europeans to fight his war for him have been dashed. They have proved inferior fighters for the Nazi cause. The Germans have employed Russians, Balts, Slovaks, Poles, Yugoslavs and Albanians in the Mediterranean theater.

By THORBURN WIANT SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, April 22 (AP) — Powerful American warships—including a sizable force of deadly carriers—were disclosed today to be operating in the Indian Ocean and to have teamed up with other Allied naval units in the blow that caught the Japanese offguard at Sumatra at dawn Wednesday.

(American pilots outnumbered the British two to one in the Sumatra attack which left huge fires burning in the inner harbor at Sabang, said Associated Press Correspondent Eugene Burns, who was aboard an American carrier during the raid).

The first formidable assault against the Japanese from the direction of Ceylon, headquarters announced, was delivered by planes launched by British and American flat tops protected by British and French battleships and lighter units of the U. S., British and Dutch navies.

Installations at Sabang, on the island of We, off the northern tip of Sumatra, and at Lhong airfield on Sumatra itself were smashed by explosives from the Allied planes. The attack was preceded by a diversionary raid on Port Blair, in the Andaman Islands 300 miles northwest of Sumatra, by India-based American Liberator bombers.

The naval flotilla was dominated by British tonnage, but 80 per cent of the air armada was composed of American-made planes, 65 per cent of them Hellcat fighters. Dauntless dive-bombers and Avenger torpedo-bombers with Americans at the controls, American-made Corsairs, flown by U. S.-trained British fliers, and British Barracudas also went aloft.

(While there was no indication the American carrier force had permanently joined the British in Southeast Asia waters, it was presumed that movement of the force—apparently from the Pacific—was an elaborate operation that was not designed for this one attack alone.)

(Burns, who witnessed the raids from an aircraft carrier, sailed from Pearl Harbor January 9. One and a half months ago he dropped out of sight, after covering fleet operations in the Marshall Islands. Burns wrote that during the Sumatra attack the 6,000th plane landing was made on his carrier, indicating that the ship was one of the American Navy's veterans of Pacific action.)

Success of the attack — which cost the loss of but one plane, whose pilot was rescued—indicated that coming events bode ill for the Japanese from these waters and that Admiral Sir James Somerville, commander of the British eastern fleet, now will be able to muster other attacks. If only high-rain smashes, Somerville called the raid a "great performance."

Anzio Planes Hit At Balkans

By NOLAND NORGAARD ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 22 (AP) — Italy-based night-flying RAF Liberators and Wellingtons have teamed up with daylight American Liberators in pressing through another 24 hours their incessant pounding of Axis communications in the Balkans and northern Italy, Allied headquarters announced today.

The beginning of the fourth month since the Allied beachhead landings at Anzio, which brought the Allied armies nearest to any of the Axis-held capitals in continental Europe, found the stalemate continuing on the ground along the entire Italian front and the Mediterranean air force alone carrying the offensive to the enemy.

Bad weather which has hampered the Allied air efforts to destroy key rail centers in the Balkans continued, but some Liberators yesterday penetrated leader skies and screens of enemy fighters, which attacked in 60-plane waves, and bombed price rail targets at Bucharest and Turnu-Severin at the Yugoslav-Romanian border.

Forty-three enemy planes definitely were destroyed yesterday by Allied planes and anti-aircraft fire, 35 of them shot down by bombers and escorts on the mission to the Balkans. The Allies lost 17 planes, including eight heavy bombers, in all operations, which included widespread raids over Italy. The enemy planes shot down included five Italian-made Messerschmitts.

Last night Wellingtons and Liberators bombed the Italian ports of Genoa, Santo Stefano, Livorno, Leghorn and Piombino, starting fires and disrupting German shipping.

The Soviet government was reported to have joined the United States and British governments in asking that Sweden cease the deliveries to Germany.

Big Spring - Week -

There are times, when, after breathing, eating and plucking our migratory soil out of our eyes, we wonder if the Indians didn't just lead us on and bait us into taking the country.

Reports on war bond sales from May 1, 1941 to Saturday showed Howard county to have invested something like $7,164,000. This is nearly a million dollars over the assigned quotas, and a record in which the people of this city and county should take pride. We can remember when the issues were first offered rather timidly and sales were so slow that we advanced the hope that someday Howard county would ultimately invest a million dollars in war bonds.

Sabang Hit From Indian Ocean

ABOARD AN AMERICAN CARRIER OFF SABANG, Sumatra, April 19 (Delayed) (AP) — For the first time in history American carrier pilots raided from the Indian Ocean today in hitting the Japanese held port of Sabang, in Sumatra.

The task force under the command of Admiral Sir Ames Somerville, commander in chief of the eastern fleet included major units of the British, American and French navies and lesser units of the Dutch, New Zealand and Australian navies. However, it was predominantly British.

Clean-Up Drive Starts Monday

Big Spring turns to the chore of an annual clean-up, paint-up and fix-up campaign Monday.

Proclaimed by Mayor Pro Tem R. L. Cook as a community undertaking for sake of cleanliness, health and safety, the campaign carries the endorsement of the chamber of commerce, the Big Spring-Howard county division of the Midland-Ector-Howard county health unit, the Big Spring Safety Council, City of Big Spring and many other organizations and agencies.

Sweden Refuses American Request

STOCKHOLM, April 22 (AP) — Sweden delivered a negative but conciliatory reply today to U. S. Minister Herschel V. Johnson on the American request that this country stop delivery of ballbearings to Germany.

The Soviet government was reported to have joined the United States and British governments in asking that Sweden cease the deliveries to Germany.

Bond Sales Top Sought Quotas

Big Spring and Howard county have invested well over seven million dollars in US war bonds since the beginning of the war.

While the county is falling down on its April quota of $103,000, figures released through Ira Thurman, county bond chairman, showed that all assigned quotas since the issues were first offered in May of 1941 had been oversubscribed. Practically all purchases have been made since Pearl Harbor.

Flynn Starred In Action Film At Ritz Theatre Sun

Action in plenty is promised for Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre when Errol Flynn supported by Paul Lukas comes to the screen in Warner Brothers' "Uncertain Glory," with other supporting cast comprised of Jean Sullivan, Lucile Watson, Faye Emerson, James Flavin and Douglas Dumbrille.

Flynn, who plays the role of Jean Picard, escapes while being led to the guillotine during an air raid over Paris. What seems like the end of a long trail for Inspector Bonet (Paul Lukas) is but the beginning of a new one. It ends with a grand gesture when Flynn volunteers to confess as a saboteur to save the life of 100 hostages held by the Gestapo.

It is an extraordinary simple, well-knit piece of drama that never detours from the high road of destiny—a timely gesture toward those Lukas describes as "real Frenchmen." There is a romantic interlude with Jean Sullivan woven in as the inspiration for Flynn's sacrifice. Laszlo Vaday and Max Brand did the script from an original by Joe May, and Vaday and Raoul Walsh directed. There are a few light moments, but the tension is never allowed to relax.

Smack: Jean Sullivan and Errol Flynn in a romantic scene from "Uncertain Glory," with Paul Lukas, Lucile Watson and Faye Emerson showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

'Sailors Holiday' Shows At Lyric Sunday, Monday

According to advance reports, Columbia has once more clicked off one of those fast-moving, gag-and-glamour farce-comedies for which this studio is so well-known. This time it's "Sailor's Holiday" and it opens at the Lyric theatre on Sunday, with Arthur Lake, Jane Lawrence and Bob Haymes as the featured players.

Information adds that it tells the story of three seamen from the Merchant Marine, "sea wolves on leave and on the prowl," and their experiences in Hollywood. They wanted romance and excitement and found it at a fire, at a fight and at a wedding!

From descriptions of this wedding, it sounds like one of the most amusing incidents in the picture. For purposes of the plot, the boys are fooled into thinking that they are meeting many of Hollywood's glamorous stars, Rita Hayworth, Veronica Lake, Irene Dunne and many more, only to discover the hoax and see these glamour girls as they really are—doubles for the stars.

Soldierly Horse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The cavalry, Eavid Stimpkins believes, trains its horses well.

He bought one of the army's retired, but not too decrepit, mounts at an auction and decided to ride it home.

Enroute, Stimpkins dismounted and the horse—as if aware that its retirement was about to end—started walking away. Stimpkins walked after it. Then the horse ran. So did Stimpkins but with no luck.

Footsore Stimpkins walked home and reported his loss to police by telephone.

Beware Rustlers

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—No longer is the Idaho-Nevada state line a barrier between cattle rustlers and peace officers.

In a conference here, border officers of the two states were vested with interstate deputyships with a view to breaking up bands of rustlers who have been slaughtering cattle in one state and hauling carcasses into the other by automobile.

Gob's Job: They're the pride of the Merchant Marine and a girl in every port with Arthur Lake in "Sailor's Holiday," showing Sunday and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

Star-Spangled: A scene with Walter Huston portraying Uncle Sam from "Yankee Doodle Dandy," starring James Cagney showing Sunday and Monday at the State theatre.

State Theatre Stars Cagney Sunday, Mon.

"Yankee Doodle Dandy," which opens at the State Theatre Sunday, brings to the screen another Warner Bros. life story in film.

It is the outstanding story of the career of George M. Cohan and ever made. It is thrilling for many reasons but its timely patriotism is the most important one of all.

James Cagney portrays the role of George M. Cohan and it is by far his finest work. His impersonation of Cohan is wonderful because he doesn't allow himself to become a stickler for detail. He looks like Cagney, but talks, sings and acts like George M. Cohan himself.

The picture begins in Providence, Rhode Island, on July 4, 1878. Jerry Cohan, played by Walter Huston, dashes from the stage of a theatre where he is doing a turn, to his wife who has just given birth to a baby boy.

The doctor suggests that they name him George Washington because of the holiday, but Nellie Cohan, portrayed by Rosemary DeCamp, says it will be too long for the billboards and they compromise Michael.

After George came Jolie, and it isn't long before they are known throughout the vaudeville world as The Four Cohans, playing every town in the United States that boasted of a theatre.

When he was about thirteen, George made a hit in the title role of "Peck's Bad Boy," to which his off-stage character was suited perfectly.

Later on when George is a young man and the Cohans are doing a sketch in Buffalo, a young girl called Mary, excellently played by Joan Leslie, comes backstage to ask his advice about seeking a stage career on Broadway. He takes an interest and agrees to help her. Sometime later he decides her career should consist of being Mrs. George M. Cohan, and she agrees with him.

The film builds carefully and interestingly showing the ups and downs of the Four Cohans and the difficulty George had in getting anyone to buy his songs and scripts which he has been writing at a great rate. He meets another discouraged man of the theatre, Sam H. Harris, played by Richard Whorf. They manage to get an angel for one of Cohan's plays and the first of many Cohan-Harris hits makes it Broadway debut.

It is "Little Johnny Jones," whose score consists of "The Yankee Doodle Boy," "Hurry Up" and "Give My Regards to Broadway." All three numbers are presented splendidly in the picture.

The film hits the high spots of Cohan's theatrical career for it would be impossible to present all the shows he wrote or appeared in. Through the presentation of his most memorable musical plays and a very effective montage treatment to cover the intervening years, we get not only the story of George M. Cohan, but a cavalcade of show business.

Dice are said to have been used in Greece about 1244 B.C.

Flashes From The Fronts—
Men Of Class 42-17 Over Globe Fighting Or Rearin' To Fight

Big Spring residents who learned to know so many of the boys in the first graduating class of AAFBS will be interested in a continuation of these tales concerning their deeds and doings since they left our school:

2nd Lt. Paul C. DeMarsh, of Canton, Ohio, had seen considerable action in the Pacific area before his parents received word from the War Department that he was missing on May 9th of last year. Hope is still held that this bombardier will still turn up on one of the many islands in that theatre of action.

1st Lt. now for John C. Davies, of Plainfield, N. J., another member of this class who, after patrol duty in the eastern Pacific near Panama for some four and a half months, returned to the U. S. A. last July. After being located in a number of fields throughout this country he again felt the urge and left on February 21, '44 as the bombardier of a crew which flew to Italy where he is blasting the Nazis all the way from the Anzio beachhead to Germany proper. He is entitled to wear three campaign ribbons.

2nd Lt. Stanley T. Dahlquist, Brooklyn, N. Y., has served his time in Africa and is now back as an instructor in this country. However he didn't return before winning the Air Medal with clusters as well as participating in a Presidential Group citation for his anti-sub patrol work on the other side.

2nd Lt. S. E. Davidson, of Casper, Wyoming, is seeing action in the Pacific. Just how much and where we are not allowed to say. Our bombardiers are eager. Lt. Merritt A. Deuel, according to a note from his parents from Milwaukee, Wis., has a location which is "uncertain at present." However we do know that he has seen action in the Pacific and Caribbean areas, has instructed here at home since then and is now again on his way overseas.

From Minnesota, Rochester in fact, comes word that 1st Lt. John T. Dresbach, who had remained here at Big Spring until a short time ago, is now located in Florida and that he has high hopes of seeing that action he's been craving within a short time. Lt. John W. Dugan, with that good Irish name, hails from Steubenville in the Buckeye State. His action, to date, has been in South America and Panama. His mother writes that he is ready to leave again but for parts unknown.

2nd Lt. Richard J. Efker, of Santa Ana, Calif., became a papa on February 26, last, but will wait until his return from the Pacific to see whether or not Junior takes after him. He finished his navigation training before going overseas last September and acts as navigator as well as bombardier with the squadron to which he is attached.
Another member of this class to get his initial training in the Caribbean and at Panama was Lt. Richard W. Evans, of Alton, Ill. He returned to the States in June of '43, instructed in Kansas until October, last then to Utah, Texas and the next his parents knew he reported from England on March 17th. Now he's blasting Hitler's fortress.

1st Lt. Marion J. Farrell, of Cass Christian, Miss., left here for Florida. From there he was sent on a special mission which included England and Ireland and other points. He returned within a short time to his original field in Florida but, having two others overseas, volunteered to go across. His wish satisfied he was next heard from in North Africa. Then, on December 26, '43 came the word that he was missing in the North African area. He was enroute to India when last heard from and may yet turn up as an internee.

Few details other than the fact that Lt. Pomas B. Fasules, of Ottumwa, Ia., is in the North Pacific and the Aleutians and that he is the holder of the Air Medal, getting the job done!

2nd Lt. Gabriel E. Ferazi, of Plymouth, Mass., is another of the many who are vacationing in England. At last reports he had been on 13 pleasure trips over Hitler's health resort. He is wearing the Air Medal with clusters as the results of his efforts.

1st Lt. John A. Foulk, of Moline, Ill., is another of our graduates who, with the arrival of a daughter some five months ago, now rates the title of "Daddy." He is at present instructing in Florida at Elgin Field. He has a 70 day mission to Bengal to his credit and is sweating out that call to foreign service at present.

1st Lt. Floyd E. Fredenburg, of Edgeley, N. Dak., has already earned his Air Medal with clusters in the So. Pacific. He is a quiet sort of chap and has little to say of his activities other than the fact that his plane was forced down at sea and rescued. Credit for 44 combat missions means he should be enroute home before too long.

"Lost at sea" was the tragic notice received by the parents of Lt. Max H. Gee, of Charlotte, Mich. On June 11, '43 his plane was on patrol duty flying from Guatemala when it crashed on the coast of Central America. Lt. Gee was one of the six crew members lost, five were rescued.
1st Lt. W. M. Harrington, of Milledgeville, Georgia, after completing navigation training, had been stationed in Nebraska. He was promoted last August, and is the first of three brothers in service to be on his way to foreign duty.

Word comes from Johnson City, Ill., that Lt. John L. McDonald was sent to South America last February. Since that time he has flown a distance of four times around the world. In doing this he was forced to ask his parents to replace his cap, which was lost at sea. Luckily he wasn't in the cap. He holds the Air Medal with at least one cluster.

Recently completing 50 missions is 1st. Walton R. Bush, of Jonestown, Miss. He's been more than busy flying over Italy. Proud indeed are his parents over the FW-190 he claims as well as the fact that he wears the Air Medal with several clusters. He is expected to return home soon.

1st Lt. Bert G. Lynch, of Louisville, Ky., got his promotion last October while flying in what was once the "dust bowl" in western Kansas. He's familiar with the B-29, our largest bomber on which he is a Squadron Bombardier. He did see service in the Caribbean area before being located in the middle west. He's also hoping for more action soon.

Lt. Harold E. Perkins, of Flint, Mich., hasn't had a chance to get outside his country as yet but he has hopes. He is doing preparatory work in Colorado. He expects to leave for overseas this spring.

Jake Bishop Weds Miss Reta Grace

Bridegroom Reared Here; Couple At Home In Boston

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Reta Irene Grace of Boston, Mass., and Lt. Jake S. Bishop, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake S. Bishop of Big Spring.

The double ring ceremony was conducted April 9, Easter Sunday, in the Harvard Epworth Methodist church in Cambridge, Mass.

Wears Powder Blue
The bride wore a powder blue ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Bishop was graduated from Boston high school and attended the Museum of Fine Arts. She later taught art in a social center, along with social service workers. Two years ago she became a medical technician by attending Dr. Hinton's laboratory of the Boston dispensary. Since then she has been doing research work.

Reared In Big Spring
The bridegroom was reared in Big Spring. He attended school three years in Fort Worth and was graduated from Paschal high school when he entered the army in 1941 as an enlisted pilot. He received his wings at Ellington Field at Houston in October of 1942 and was sent to Big Spring Bomber school as a pilot, spending 18 months here. In February of 1944 he was sent to Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass.

The couple will be at home at 486 Beacon street in Boston.

Howard H. Stephens, seaman second class in the Navy who is in training at Farragut, Idaho, left Saturday after, spending a week here with his wife. His two sisters visited him here last week-end. They were Mrs. J. S. McIntosh of Fort Worth, whose daughter, Thelma Joyce, was here with her, and Mrs. I. D. Corn, accompanied by her husband and three children, of Baird.

Paintings And Pastels By Ruth Philpott Lovelady To Be Shown

Ruth Philpott Lovelady

Approximately 40 oil paintings and pastels by Mrs. Ruth Philpott Lovelady, Abilene artist, will be shown from 1 to 10 p. m. Monday at the Big Spring USO club.

Mrs. Lovelady is the mother of Ennon Lovelady of Big Spring.

Mostly Texas Landscapes
Her exhibit will be comprised for the most part of Texas landscapes, although it also will include some paintings of Louisiana and Florida landscapes.

Desk hostesses will be Mrs. J. A. Myers, 1 to 3 p. m.; Mrs. Marie Walker, 3 to 5 p. m.; Mrs. C. O. Nalley, 5 to 7 p. m., and Mrs. R. Z. Dunovan, 7 to 10 p. m.

Guest hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Ennon Lovelady, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd McDaniel, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. Mary Locke.

One criticism of Mrs. Lovelady's work was by Claire Tate, as follows: "When I went to Ruth Philpott Lovelady's exhibit I expected to see a group of well known flower pictures, but to my surprise I couldn't see the flowers for the landscape."

Picture Outstanding
"Near Weatherford," included in the exhibit, shows rolling hills covered with silver green mesquite grass and studded with evergreens. The well balanced composition presents as center a spring that reflects the sky.

Mrs. Lovelady is a member of the Texas Fine Arts association, Southern States Art league, Klepper club and Raugh club in Dallas, Abilene Art club and other organizations.

She received her training at Kidd-Key college in Sherman and has studied under Frank Klepper, E. G. Eisenlohr, Harry Anthony D'Young, Olan Travis and Frank Reagin, all outstanding artists.

Appeal Is Made For Magazines

An appeal for current magazines to be used at the Big Spring Bomber school hospital and then utilized by men on troop trains was voiced Saturday by the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter hospital committee.

Working on this group to secure magazines for men confined to the station hospital are Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, chairman, Mrs. Ennon Lovelady, Mrs. R. L. Beale and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

All residents are urged to carry their current magazines by the Red Cross headquarters as soon as they are flushed with them, or if women, who can give their time in the surgical dressing room, may leave their magazines at that point.

Thus far, appeals have not drawn much response, but Mrs. Skalicky was hopeful that people would make this a personal responsibility in order to cheer soldiers confined to hospitals and those with long hours to pass on a troop train.

Sue Landers And Lt. Porter Wed In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, April 22—Before an altar barked with Easter lilies and lighted with twin seven-branch candelabra holding white tapers, Sue Landers became the bride of Lt. Joseph Craig Porter Thursday afternoon at All Saints Episcopal church in Colorado City.

The Rev. Robert Snell, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Big Spring, read the impressive double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock in the presence of 100 guests.

Candlelighting Precedes Vows
Flanking the candles on the chancel were two baskets of Easter lilies and trailing vines was swung from the chandelier to form an altar arch. Don Landers of Midland, cousin of the bride, was acolyte and was vested in white for the candlelighting preceding the vows.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Earl Powell of Stanton, Louis Latham, United States naval cadet, and Don Hall Burrus were ushers. Joe Earnest, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man and Mrs. Dwayne Feaster attended the bride as matron of honor.

Mrs. Feaster wore a tailored suit of navy with matching accessories, a pink feather colot, and a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Given By Father
The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Landers of Strawn and formerly of Colorado City, was given in marriage by her father. Her suit was of pearl gray wool gabardine, her accessories black and white. She wore a Dutch-style half-hat of white straw with black veil and carried a prayer book showered with lilies of the valley. An orchid was her shoulder corsage.

Reared in Colorado City, she attended high school here, where she was a member of the Sub-Deb club, and in Strawn where she was graduated in 1942.

Both the bride and the groom are members of families prominent in pioneer Mitchell county. Mrs. Porter is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. C. Landers, Sr., and the late Mr. Landers, early-day rancher. Lt. Porter is the grandson of the late Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest in whose home he was reared, and who were the first couple married in All Saints church here in April, 1886.

The bridegroom finished high school here in 1942 and worked until he entered training in the air corps, for the City National bank. He received his training at Texas A. and M. College, San Antonio, El Reno and Enid, Okla., and was commissioned last week at Mission.

Immediately after the ceremony Martha Earnest, aunt of the groom, and Joe Earnest were hosts to a reception for the wedding party and guests.

The Lord Is a Man of War
by Stanley F. Donath
Don't pick up this book unless you have the time to finish it at one sitting. Otherwise you are certain to neglect those things that await you, since you will not be able to lay it down until you have read to the end of the last chapter. It is a compelling tale.

The Lord Is a Man of War is a thrilling story of the personal reaction of a young Czech refugee to Nazi oppression in his homeland. All that he dared in the quest of revenge for his father's murder and how the bloody score was finally settled, adds up to a suspense-filled tale that the reader will prefer to find out for himself. The thread of romance woven through the story sustains our sympathetic interest.—M.H.B.

Mischievous Nurse Tells Pacing Father 'No Dads Have Been Lost'

... and my baby hasn't arrived yet, you say?" the flustered father persisted anxiously. The nurse assured him that the baby hadn't arrived yet.

"And my wife, how's she doing? You think she'll pull through all right, nurse? And how's the baby doing? Oh, that's right, you just told me the baby hadn't arrived yet. Silly of me..."

An expectant father is shown "sweating it out" outside of the obstetrical ward at the Big Spring Bombarrier school. Sgt. Albert Lessard is the father, and the nurse offering him the glass of water is Mrs. Nina Williams.

The wild-eyed man grinned sheepishly. He took out a crumpled handkerchief and mopped a feverish brow. Then he nervously resumed his pacing of "father's runway" which is located outside of the obstetrical ward at the Big Spring Bombarrier school.

The nurse, by now thoroughly familiar with the painful labors of expectant fathers, sympathetically reassured him that everything would be all right, adding with a gleam of mischief in her eye that they had never lost a father yet.

And therein lies a story of the "babies" ward at the Big Spring Bombarrier school. Since the first baby, a sergeant's son, was delivered on May 9, 1943, over a hundred babies have made themselves heard for the first time at this army hospital. Boy babies outnumber the girls by more than two to one, and the Colonel's wife as well as the wife of the buck private has had her baby in the maternity ward of the hospital.

There are no private rooms in this ward. All mothers are housed in the same room, which holds 18 beds and is a large cheerful affair, tastefully decorated and immaculately clean. Gayly-colored curtains brighten its windows, and a cozy well-furnished sun porch at the far end of the ward provides convalescent mothers with a recreation lounge. The post Red Cross office has furnished the lounge and equipped it with a radio as well as a wide selection of books, magazines and games.

comes," Captain Laughlin explains to each expectant mother, "may determine its' entire life, for good or ill. During the time of waiting, your baby depends wholly upon you for its body-building materials, so you can easily see how important it is to take the best possible care of your health. A healthy woman should make a quick recovery after child-birth, and her baby should be robust and strong."

Each woman is urged to faithfully follow instructions and to promptly advise the doctor of any disturbing symptoms or changes in her physical condition, thereby preventing many complications and difficulties.

"Unfortunately," said Captain Laughlin, "well-meaning friends and relatives have a tendency to advise the expectant mother on what she should do or shouldn't do. This advice, however well-intentioned, may prove harmful, as each patient presents an individual problem which can only be safely handled by a qualified physician."

Mother and child remain in the hospital 10 days after birth, and the only time the mother is allowed to have her baby is at feeding time, which occurs six times every 24 hours, at 10, 2 and 6 o'clock, day and night. The proud but frustrated father is not permitted to approach his offspring. He may only glare at it with mixed emotions through the nursery window as he ponders paternal resemblance. Any of the hospital staff entering the nursery are required to wear sterile cap, gown and mask.

When the mother leaves the hospital, she is provided with charts and instructions on the care and feeding of her baby and told to report back in six weeks, or sooner if necessary, for a complete checkup. Should any complications develop, however, she is cautioned to advise the doctor immediately.

"Thus far," said Captain Laughlin, "no serious complications have developed in any of the maternity cases at this hospital. We haven't even had an elevation of temperature." Elevation of temperature could easily lead to septicemia (puspoisoning), a form of blood poisoning which could prove very harmful if not fatal to the mother.

Captain Laughlin's staff includes two civilian nurses, Mrs. Nina Williams and Mrs. Betty Williams; two WAC nurses' aides, Pvt. Maybell Farham and Pvt. Stoney Robertson; and two soldiers, Sgt. Ross Baker and Pvt. Frank Ward.

devotion to their duty, the Captain touched on one instance when the two WACs remained in constant attendance on a sick baby with a persistent temperature of 105.

"For five days and nights they never left the baby alone for one minute," he said. "They kept right on fighting until the crisis was passed, and the baby, a lieutenant's daughter, is now as healthy a little girl as you could find anywhere."

One of the WACs, slender and shy young Pvt. Robertson, ventured, "She was the cutest little back-haired baby girl you ever saw in your life, and after being with her for so long, maybe I and I felt as if she were our very own. If she hadn't pulled through, I think we both would have simply died."

Captain Laughlin, who took his M. D. at the University of Michigan in '35, specialized in obstetrics and gynecology before entering the army in May of '42. After two years at Johns Hopkins and a year in Vienna, he taught Gynecology and Obstetrics at the University of Iowa for three years. His assignment as obstetrical officer at the post hospital is listed as an additional duty, his principal task being that of flight surgeon.

The shortage of doctors at the Big Spring school makes it necessary for each medical officer to perform many other duties in addition to his principal assignment, because although it is recognized as a regional hospital, the staff consists of only six army doctors. Upon the shoulders of these six men rests the responsibility of caring for all the military personnel in Big Spring and the commanding officer of these medical men is Major Paul H. Rankin, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. The five army doctors who make up his staff are Major Weldon W. Stephen, Capt. B. J. Palen, Capt. R. C. Douglas, Capt. Edward R. Atkinson and Capt. K. A. Laughlin.

Blue Proud Of Red Cross Total Given At Post

Gratification at the response of enlisted men, officers and civilian personnel at the Big Spring Army Air Forces Bombardier School to the American Red Cross War Fund appeal was expressed today by Field Director Max J. Blue, as he announced a preliminary total of $3,117.91. The campaign ended April 1.

listed men were not solicited and that all donations from them came in without organizational effort, the achievement of the Big Spring A. A. F. B. S. is outstanding," said Blue, who expressed appreciation to those who helped collect the gifts. "The returns from this post and from others throughout the country indicate the appreciative feeling shown by today's fighting men in the worldwide activities of the American Red Cross. "Not only in donations to the War Fund are the men making their feelings known, Red Cross chapters everywhere are receiving letters of gratitude from servicemen—long letters or hastily scribbled V-mail thanking the Red Cross for a Christmas gift, a sweater or a muffler. These serve as an incentive for even greater efforts by Red Cross volunteers back home." Letters expressing thanks come almost daily to this field's Red Cross office from servicemen who have been aided or whose families have received help from the Red Cross in emergencies. "Letters on file in our office from servicemen overseas praise the work of the American Red Cross in establishing clubs and clubmobile services and in providing facilities for contacts with families at home," Blue stated. "With American forces scattered to every continent and constantly expanding, the demands on the Red Cross are so great

Bureau Of Mines Produces Helium

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The bureau of mines is producing more than enough helium to meet that 90 per cent of the 1944 War Fund raised is allotted to services to the armed forces. "It is this fact that makes especially significant the returns from Big Spring A. A. F. B. S. and other posts. The men appear to appreciate the size of the Red Cross job at hand and the value of the work it does."

all wartime requirements of the army, navy and governmental agencies, secretary of interior Harold I. Ickes said today. The surplus of this lightweight, noninflammable gas is now available in considerable quantities for medical, scientific and commercial uses, he declared in a statement. Actual production figures on helium must remain a secret, but it was revealed that the bureau of mines is producing more than 25 times the pre-war output. The helium research laboratory established in Washington in 1921 was formally opened in May of that year by Madame Curie, then visiting the United States. This laboratory was later moved to Amarillo, Texas.

Many new uses for helium have been developed recently, and the gas is expected to have an important role in the peacetime economy, Ickes said. Its use in treatment of asthma, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases as well as a part of noninflammable anesthesia and in the welding of magnesium metal has been cited. Many other potential uses are being studied. The United States is the only nation in the world producing helium in quantity. Governor's Island in New York was purchased from the Indians in 1637 for $1.65. The U. S. Military Academy at West Point was opened in 1802.

East Howard Test Completed For 227 Barrels; Frazier Test Shot

One completion was reported for this area during the past week with the Cosden No. 2-B Read in the southeast quarter of section 48-30-1s, T&P, rating 227 barrels of 31 gravity oil on a 24-hour pumping test. The well, which was one of the heavier producers in the Read pool area of eastern Howard county, also was slightly higher in gravity oil. Production was from 2,722-2,848 feet in lime. Key Oil, drilling its No. 3-B Read in the northeast quarter of the same section, was reported below 300 feet. Directly west of Big Spring, the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Bruce Frazier took its first shot of 470 quarts from 3,138-3,216 feet after topping both lime and pay slightly higher than wells to the south in the Moore area. Location is 1,850 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east lines of section 7-33-1s, T&P. Two miles to the north the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Gutter estate, section 2, B&C, was waiting on cement to set on oil string. The John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Allison, a mile north of the Frazier and in section 6-33-1s, T&P, was at 740 feet waiting on cement to set on surface pipe. Three tests in the Moore area were on the verge of potential pumping runs. Tubing was being run Saturday in the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Thompson, section 13-34-1s, T&P, and the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 J. O. Rosser, section 23-34-1s, T&P, and the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Harold Homan, section 12-34-1s, T&P, waited for tests. J. C. Karcher, et al No. 1 J. C. Caldwell, northern Howard county deep wildcat, was reported shut down below 700 for underreaming. Location is 1,980 feet from the east and 660 feet from the north lines of section 32-32-3s, T&P. In south-central Borden county the Northern Ordnance Oil Co. No. 1 Clayton & Johnson deep wildcat was below 5,600 feet from the north and west lines of section 32-31-4s, T&P. Cosden & Guthrie No. 2 Pauline Allen, Vincent test in northeastern Howard county, had set pumping equipment Saturday for a test after cleaning out from shot at plugged-back depth. Cosden & Guthrie No. 1 Pauline Allen, discovery well for the small pool, was fishing at 4,050 feet while trying to clean out from a shot given the original pay section when a deepening project failed. Location of both wells is in the southeast quarter of section 57-20, LaVaca. The Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Guy Guffee, direct east offset to the No. 1 Allen and located in the southwest corner of section 58, last week rated 117 barrels.

Senators Nod To Yanks In New York

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—made five of Washington's nine hits between them. One of Spence's two hits was a home run. Mayor LaGuardia was present at the ceremonies before the game, which began with a march to the centerfield flag pole, where the Yanks' 1943 championship emblem was raised.

Donald relieved Spud Chandler in the seventh inning and blanked the Senators with three hits and struck out four. Etten had a perfect day at bat, with two walks, two singles and a 360-foot homer off knuckler Roger Wolff. The Senators' starting pitcher, Chandler, 1943 ace of the world champions, proved a little out of practice and yielded the Nats all three of their runs in the six innings he worked.

Let's all do our part in the Big Spring Clean-Up, Fix-Up and Beautify Campaign, starting tomorrow.

...and you'll just wave your hand and make any climate you wish...

WOULDN'T it be heavenly to live in a house that makes its own weather...that's balmy in January, cool as a mountain top in July...regardless of what the thermometer says outdoors?

ALL THIS WILL BE A REALITY! For tomorrow your new Gas air-conditioning system will give you "weather as you want it" at the flip of a finger.

But climate control is just one of the wonders of comfort being developed in the laboratories of the Gas industry today. Here are some of the other things in store for you.

TOMORROW'S MIRACLE KITCHEN...so cool, so clean, you'll love every minute you're in it...where a new Certified Performance Gas range gives you speed in precision cooking—saves food values and work!

NEW MAGIC IN REFRIGERATION...a silent Gas refrigerator with cooling units that will keep all kinds of food fresh longer—meats, vegetables, even frozen foods. Will save you hours of marketing time!

A "HOT SPRING" ON TAP...an automatic Gas water-heating system that will provide hot water galore...effortlessly, economically...make all housekeeping easier.

These are just a few of the wonders that will be brought to you tomorrow by the tiny blue Gas flame...the flame that cools as well as heats.

You can speed that day by using Gas wisely...by conserving it for vital war production...and by saving for that magic home of the future with every war bond you can buy.

Badminton Play Begins Friday

DALLAS, April 22 (AP)—Play in the seventh annual championships of the Texas Badminton Association will get under way next Friday and continue through Saturday at Southern Methodist University's gym.

Entries are expected from Waco, Abilene, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Austin and Denton. The event is expected to attract a large entry from military personnel.

Competition will be held in men's and women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, and veterans doubles for men and women.

Expected to take part is Cpl. Bert Barkhoff of Seattle, Wash., former national women's champion, who is stationed at Waco. Other stars who have been extended bids include Sgt. Stig Larson, New York singles and mixed doubles champion, Camp Wolters; Capt. Robert Madden, recent winner of the Baylor open singles, Love Field; Mary Honaker, for the last three years the state and southern intercollegiate champion from Baylor; Lt. Carl Lange, St. Louis champion, Camp Howe; Lt. Eugene Tenney, state and intercollegiate champion from Abilene Christian college; Capt. Jim Gibbons, Ohio titleholder, Camp Claiborne.

Schoolboy Brains To Be Tested In State League Meet

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—Plus Andy, the big-brained schoolboy who may not have the physique to earn a football or track letter but who shines in the classroom, will come into his own in this year's interscholastic league meet.

High school math wizards quick on the slide rule will compete for the first time in the history of the University of Texas school child literary contest.

There is also an event for the top students in mental arithmetic, another war-born competition being offered for the first time, said Roy Bedichek, director.

The mathematical events were added to the league's calendar this year in recognition of the heavy demand for the armed forces for accelerated high school training in such subjects.

"We don't know how many contestants have entered these events, but we do know we have distributed a thousand copies of our bulletin: 'How To Use a Slide Rule.'"

League officials did not think the demand for such a bulletin would be heavy unless the slide rule was beginning to compete with the football and discuss in popularity with students.

Longhorns Swamp Owls Second Time

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns slaughtered the hapless Rice Owls 23-4 today to sweep a two-game series. Texas took the first tilt 5-0.

The Longhorns swamped their Southwest conference opponents with a 16-hit attack on four pitchers from whom they drew 13 walks. Six Owl errors and a hit batter contributed to the fabulous total of runs chalked up by Coach Blair Cherry's ambitious young steers, who went into a tie for the Southwest conference leadership with Texas A&M.

Texas laid down a four-run barrage in the initial frame and added six more in the fifth when the team batted around, sending Pitcher Lee Head to the showers.

Bailey fared no better, as the Steers backed up five runs in the seventh. Causton came in in the seventh with one out and hurled one and two-thirds frames, giving way to Tom Hopkins, who had held the Steers to five runs in the series opener.

Eight runs in the eighth stung climaxed the carnage.

Bob Dalzell, who started for the Steers, was relieved by Bobby Layne after four and two-thirds innings had seen the Owls tie the score at four-all. Layne, striking out eight batters, held the Owls, unless the remainder of the game.

Voiselle Hurls Giants To 2-1 Win From Bums

BROOKLYN, April 22 (AP)—Bill Voiselle, the Giants' freshman righthander, held the Brooklyn Dodgers to seven hits and registered a 2-1 victory today for the New Yorkers' fifth straight success, without a defeat.

It was Voiselle's second triumph of the season. Once again it was Joe Medwick, ex-Dodger, and big Ernie Lombardi who wielded the big bats for the Giants. Each made three hits and drove in a run, to account for both Giant tallies.

Medwick's double in the first inning scored George Hausmann and Lombardi's single tallied Medwick in the third.

The Dodgers' lone run came in the sixth inning when Howie Schultz, Brooklyn's tall first baseman, hit a home run. It was Brooklyn's first home run of the season.

San Antonio Teams Tied In Region Six

SAN MARCOS, April 22 (AP)—Brackenridge and Thomas Jefferson, San Antonio teams expected to battle it out for the state schoolboy track and field championship, finished in a tie with 44 points each for the region six title today as five records tumbled and two more were tied.

Brackenridge had a one-point lead with only the mile relay left but Perry Biles ran a fine anchor lap to give Jefferson second place behind Austin and Brackenridge pulled in third.

Flyin' Charley Parker of Jefferson lowered the 220-yard mark a tenth of a second with a time of 21.3, tied his 100 yard record with 9.8 and brought the baton home with a tremendous burst in the 440-yard relay to nip Austin in 44.2.

Brackenridge's Jim Southworth was high point man with 14, vaulting 12 feet 1 1/2 inches to set one of the records. Other marks hung up were by August Erfurth of Brackenridge with 14.6 in the high hurdles, Tom Watt of Brackenridge with 22.7 in the lows and Alan Sparkman of Jefferson with 11 1/2 inches in the discus throw. Desmond Kidd of Austin tied the 51-foot 440-yard record.

Goose Creek Wins Region Track Meet

HOUSTON, April 22 (AP)—The Robert E. Lee Ganders of Goose Creek completed their sweep of Southeast Texas schoolboy honors for the year by winning the Region V track meet today with 37 points to 24 for John Reagan of Houston, the defending champion, and 21 for Jeff Davis.

Three regional records went into the book: 51.1 in the 440 by Buck Watts of Jeff Davis; 21.5 in the 220 by George Walmesley of Lee; and a heave of 151 feet 1 inch of the discus by George Kadera of Reagan. Lamar's sprint relay also tied the regional mark with a time of 44.3. Both Lamar and Stephen F. Austin surprising by finishing ahead of Lee.

Walmesley and Earl Sherman of Lee tied for top honors with 10 1/2 points. Walmesley getting both sprints, Sherman both hurdles, and both running on the third place sprint relay. Kadera won both weights for Reagan.

Paul. It was the first time the brothers have been on the same team since 1941 when both, after making history in the outfield of the Pittsburgh Pirates were with the Boston Braves.

Paul was with Brooklyn last year while Lloyd worked as a member of a fire crew at an Oklahoma City airport.

Lucky Draw And Stir Up Gallop To Wins At Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—George D. Widner's Lucky Draw, making his first start of the year, and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Stir Up threw out a serious challenge for the Kentucky Derby today when they galloped off with the two divisions of the 25,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

After Stir Up had won the first division of the split mile and one-sixteenth by four lengths in 1:44 1-5, Lucky Draw breezed home by the same margin in the second section in 1:46 1-5. Stir Up won $18,700 for his victory to send his three-year-old earnings to $38,525 while Lucky Draw picked up $20,200 for his triumph.

Taking the lead soon after the start, Lucky Draw fought off the early challenge of Col. C. V. Whitney's Hoodoo and then pulled away to win under the light rein of Johnny Longden. Stir Up's stablemate, Broad Grin, came up to finish second to Lucky Draw. Hoodoo weakened in the stretch and wound up third in the field of nine.

As the favorite, Lucky Draw paid $4.30 for $2. Stir up was the second choice to the disappointing Pukka Gin in the first division and returned $6.50 for a $2 win mutual.

Battered, Weather-Beaten Old Hat Is Sure Jinx Breaker For Henry Frnka

By BEN FUNK
 TULSA, Okla., April 22 (AP)—It was a cool October day but as Henry Frnka sat on the bench in Skelly stadium crops of sweat oozed from under his new ten-dollar hat and trickled down his back.

Things were not going well for Tulsa's Golden Hurricane. Nobody had scored but Baylor's Bears appeared to be literally mopping up the field with Henry's football team.

A Baylor back cracked Tulsa's line for ten. Henry winced. A Baylor pass worked for eight more. Henry tore off his new hat and motioned to his son, "Big Boy," who was nervously collecting splinters at the other end of the bench.

Without a word, "Big Boy" walked over to dad and handed him a battered, weather-beaten old hat he had been wearing. Henry clamped it on his head, took a new grip on his sagging cigar and faced the field with a grin.

Almost immediately, the Hurricane began to blow. Clyde LeForce booted a field goal to give Tulsa a 3-0 lead and thereafter Baylor didn't have a chance as the Hurricanes rushed over three touchdowns.

Henry's complete faith in his "lucky hat." For a dozen years he had worn it to every game and at Greenville, Tex., high school, where he used to work, the roofing section had a regular yell directed at it.

He believes in jinxes and good luck omens and has been known to practice numerology in doping out football strategy.

At a ceremony in the Sun Bowl in 1941, before Tulsa defeated Texas Tech, 6-0, Frnka and Tech's Coach Dell Morgan were presented with ten-gallon hats and asked to wear them during the game.

"That damn hat will jinx me as sure as I'm living," Henry declared.

"I told him," Morgan recalled later, "that he could break the jinx by spitting over his shoulder before each play. Sure enough, he bought himself a pocket full of gum and during the game I could see him turning his head from one side to another like a spectator at a tennis match.

After the game I saw Mike Milligan (Frnka's line coach) and he was made as a wet hen. Henry had been spitting all-over him."

Steer Prospects Shape Up Better

Friday developments considerably brightened the picture for the Big Spring Steers, who rounded out the initial week of spring training in preparation for what promises to be an extra tough season of campaigning next autumn.

Foremost was the announcement that Bobby Barron, one of the mainstays of last year's backfield, will be back. The small but rugged halfback who did most of the team's passing and a lot of the signal calling last year could add much to the Steers' secondary for his experience would be a steady influence. Friday he told Coach John Dibrell his plans were to be back.

Second developments in favor of the Steers was the manner in which they shaped up in their first scrimmage of the season. Although they were ninety yards, there appeared a greater disposition to mix it and Dibrell made no secret of the fact that he was pleased with the spirit.

With Barron back, a secondary of letterman can be mustered, including Bobo Hardy, Pete Cook, Ben Byron, Jackie Barron, Ed McClaren, Robert Miller, Nathan Richardson, Horace Rankin, Ben Auquerre, Jim Bob Chaney and Donald Webb.

The situation at end is generally encouraging for Pete Higgins and Winfred Cunningham have been showing considerable class. Billy Ray Warren, handling dark horse for a terminal job, has been sparkling with his pass receiving, and Don Williams and Kenneth Huett have been hustling. Darrell

Douglass was slowed by a sprain. Dibrell still had tackle problems, although this department out the initial week of spring training. I. B. (Toar) Bryan has been going great so far and 165-pound John Cooper has proven a surprise candidate for the other side. His keen opposition is Gerald Harris. At guard the story is pretty much Leo Rusk, letterman, who was moved up from the backfield, and Tippy Anderson, Harry Middleton and Ike Robb are showing lots of fire.

Tommy Clinkscals still has inside track for the center post, but Ladd Smith will make him battle for the place. An up and comer appears to be J. L. Banks.

During the past week Dibrell lost Eugene Jones but added John Ray, Alton Wheeler, Gilbert Hernandez and Troyce Robinson. The practice menu has been strenuous with long doses of callisthenics, dashes, blocking, tackling and sled pushing. One afternoon the coach, who is working more than 60 lads by himself, prolonged his tacking session until his hopes actually were begging to shove the sled around.

Track Star Saves Child From Drowning

SAN MARCOS, April 22 (AP)—Gilbert Cavanaugh, trackman and golfer at Brackenridge high school of San Antonio, won glory of another fashion at the regional 7 track meet here today.

Eliminated early in his event—the high jump—Cavanaugh was on his way to the San Marcos river for a swim when he noticed a little boy and girl struggling in the middle of the deep river. Still clad in his track shorts he jumped in and pulled the girl to safety, while the boy managed to swim ashore.

EL PASO, April 22 (AP)—Ysleta won the Region Eight schoolboy track and field meet today in a blanket finish with El Paso High and Austin (El Paso). Ysleta's total was 45 points, El Paso 44 and Austin 43.

Paul Barry of Ysleta set the only record of the day. Tossing the discus 134 feet 3 3/4 inches to better the old standard by almost seven feet. Steele of Austin was high point man with 16 1-4.

Dick Savitt of El Paso won the boys tennis singles; Ed Chew and Bob Goldfarb of El Paso, boys doubles; Margaret Vaner, Austin, girls singles; and Betty and Lou Smith, Austin sisters, girls doubles.

Third Slots Best Local Cinder Aces Gain At Abilene

Big Spring was held to a brace of third places in regional track competition at Abilene Saturday.

Kenny Partridge took third in the 100-yard dash, an event which went at 10.1. Young Partridge, running one of the best races of his career, was pressing for the lead. He had been withdrawn from the 220 in order to concentrate on the century, else he probably would have placed in that event also.

Donald Webb, freshman hopeful, took third in the mile, a race which attracted a field of 36 entrants.

Others competing were Pee Wee Simmons, who had a game ankle which quite likely knocked him out of a place and possibly a first in the pole vault, Leo Rusk, Jim Bob Chaney, Jay Boyle, Ben Aguerre and Hugh Cochran.

North Dallas Wins Regional Track Meet

DALLAS, April 22 (AP)—North Dallas won the region three schoolboy track and field meet today with 29 5/8 points but big Charles Tatom of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) stole the show with three first places, one of them a record-breaking broad jump.

Tatom leaped 22 feet 5 3/8 inches to better the regional record by an eighth of an inch. It was the only mark erased as rain and wind hampered the runners, jumpers and throwers.

Adamson (Dallas) was second with 25 1/2 points and Woodrow Wilson was third with 24 1-3.

Sherman won two tennis championships, Masonic Home (Fort Worth) one and Burk Burnett one. John Baker of Sherman beat William Gilbert of Woodrow Wilson for the boys singles title, 2-6, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3. Lavelle Boggs of Sherman won the girls singles, defeating Roemisch of Woodrow Wilson 6-1, 6-4. Mac Sutton and Noel Duke of Burk Burnett downed Carl Lambert and Leslie Gayword of Sunset (Dallas) 6-4, 6-3 for the third double championship.

Ruth Tindie and Helen Lewis of Masonic Home took the girls doubles crown by defeating Wanda Randolph and Jeraline Massingale of Sherman 6-1, 6-3.

Poor Geronimo—Mexican Youth Heart Victim

Poor Geronimo! It could not be he was dead.

The young do not die so quickly. An old man, yes, but surely not Geronimo.

But Geronimo Alvarado, 16-year-old Mexican youth, was dead, victim of an heart attack as he rode to town Saturday morning from the Elbow community. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Santos Alvarado, who live on the R. W. Senter place a mile below Elbow, did not know where else to take him, so they rushed him to the Big Spring-Howard county health unit office. A physician was summoned and declared the boy dead.

It could not be, said his bewildered parents. Perhaps if he had a certain medicine he would awaken. They would not give up the body to Eberley-Curry Funeral home until they had sent for some of it—and when poor Geronimo did not awaken they went out with the rest of the children—Clarita, Sevastian, Ester, Teresa and Santos—to send word to another son, Pvt. Reyes Alvarado, New York, that Geronimo was dead.

The total American Indian population is estimated at about 360,000.

George N. Grant Taken By Death

George Nelson Grant, 65, long time resident of Howard county, was found dead at his home eight miles north of here at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Justice of Peace Walter Grice held in an inquest verdict that Mr. Grant had died of natural causes. Members of the family said he had complained of feeling ill after he had unloaded a heavy drum of fuel, and a short time afterwards a daughter, Lucille, found him dead at the barn. Apparently he had died of heart attack, the justice said.

Born in Oklahoma on May 12, 1888, Mr. Grant moved to Howard county in 1919 and had farmed in the Fairview area continuously since. He moved on to the place of his son, Haskell, in January this year.

Services were set tentatively for 3 p. m. Monday pending word from relatives, and the body is in state at the Eberley-Curry Funeral home.

Survivors are his widow; five sons, Carl Lee Grant, Jack Grant and Jim Grant of Fairview community, Jeff Grant of Moore community and Haskell Grant, Big Spring; two daughters, Lucille Grant and Mrs. Alden Ryan; and eight grandchildren.

Phillips Dips Again Into Literary Pool

Shine Phillips, who wrote the biography of Big Spring, had it published and sold by thousands on a national basis, has dipped his fingers into the literary pool again.

This time it is a little piece in Red Barrel, publication of the Coca-Cola company and which circulates all over the country.

Shine terms it the "Invasion of Big Spring" and tells in it how the young men and women stationed at Big Spring Bombardier School changed the complexion of the community, how airplanes have become so common place that he had "seen the Settles hotel duck a time or two."

Paying tribute to the school personnel, Shine's article—which had the No. 1 spot in the magazine, by the way—ended up with the observation that "we have the finest bunch of boys in the world stationed here. Those mothers who used to worry now invite 'Bill' in to wait while daughter finishes dressing. We are expecting great things of these boys and they are also going to expect some things of us when they return after this is over. They will find what they are looking for here in Big Spring."

Jerries Misuse Red Cross Flag By Using It To Cover Retreats

By KENNETH L. DIXON WITH THE AEP IN ITALY. April 16 (Delayed) (AP)—On both the Anzio and Cassino fronts the Jerries have been trying a new trick lately, covering retreats behind the Red Cross flag of medical aid men.

On the Carroccio sector on the north flank of the beachhead a group of British soldiers made a surprise attack one night not long ago. After a short period of fierce fighting cries of "Kamerad! Kamerad!" came from an area where they were pouring in mortar shells. So they stopped the shelling, moved forward ready to take over the surrendering Germans. Suddenly between them and the enemy appeared a platoon of medical aid workers, enemies but still protected by the Red Cross flag. The British held their fire and delayed their advance momentarily.

Behind that flag, the Germans, who but a moment before had been crying out to surrender, retreated to safer, well-reinforced positions.

"There wasn't a bloody thing we could do about it without going on the medicals," a disgusted Tommy said later.

The same type of incident also has been reported along the Cassino front.

Even incoming shells and bombs occasionally have their cheerier side. Pfc Jack A. Hansen of Stillwater, Okla., Pvt. Leslie Rainey of Brownwood, Tex., and Martin Fannin of New Boston, Tex., were told one night to dig a garbage ditch first thing in the morning.

During the night the shells came and at dawn they found a hole blasted in the exact spot picked out for the pit. The sergeant said with a little spade work it would do. The same labor saving device worked once with the Third division on the beachhead, except the digging was done by enemy bombs there.

An Important Decision

Big Spring voters will be asked to reach a mighty important decision at the polls on May 1 when they pass upon a proposed $400,000 bond issue for development of an additional supply of water.

Faced as we are with the exigency of water rationing at a time when our consumption is not normally even close to its peak, there can be no doubt as to the gravity of our situation. Should it rain hard enough to fill city lakes, the pressure would be relieved but by no means removed. The facts in the case indicate that Big Spring apparently outgrew even its normal water supply much faster than anticipated.

Thus, today we are confronted not only with the problem of mere need or adequacy, but one of necessity. That has been the history of our water development in Big Spring, and it probably will continue to be for we always do something when we are convinced we have to—and not before.

We think the answer to many problems now being raised in the minds of propertied voters who will pass on the issue are fairly simple. For instance, to our minds there seems but one answer to the question of need or necessity.

Although more confusion probably develops around this point than any other, we think the question about cost may be answered simply by saying that it will cost us $400,000 plus interest—and we have up to 15 years in which to pay it back.

But will taxes be raised? That remains to be seen. It is entirely probable that some increase in the rates will be necessary. It also is possible that the increase in consumption from a plentiful supply of water will about liquidate the cost from year to year. Last year the city consumed around 535,000,000 gallons of water. Addition of 200,000,000 gallons to the yearly consumption would mean ample net return to care for handling the issue for any given year. But however the matter is handled—whether by taxes or water payments—it still will cost us $400,000 plus up to three per cent of interest on the amount.

Will the new supply be adequate? Who can tell? The proposed project would supply 2,000,000 gallons additional water daily for the city. Should the line be increased, that would mean another million daily, but this is conjectural just as our rains are conjectural, as our progress is conjectural.

One thing seems fairly certain. We scarcely hope to hold with our present supply, and certainly we cannot hope to grow. When voters go to the polls on May 1, they may do well to turn their votes on this point.

Babies' Bill Of Rights

(Since National Baby Week (April 26-May 1) is just around the corner, grown-ups who couldn't protest names they drew may appreciate this timely feature.—Ed.)

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Feature Writer

Some day there's going to be a Babies' Bill of Rights, written by misnamed, unhappy grown-up infants.

The first provision will prohibit parents from naming their children. The second will make it illegal for grandma, Aunt Fanny or other interested parties to think about any mite's monicker. The last will make it baby's responsibility to find a name for himself—when he reaches the age of reason.

The passage of this bill will immediately transform the world into a Utopia where all babies are called Snooks. It will promote peace—parental pre-natal fights will disappear, and the phrase "It's my baby as well as yours" will go out of existence.

Split personalities will vanish because no man who feels like a Joe will have to live up to Gaylord or Abernathy. All Priscillas and Faiths, will look and act exactly as you'd expect Priscillas and Faiths to look and act.

In this Utopia of self-appellation, people will have only one name to think about—their own. It will be against the law for any two people to confer on the subject. The brainpower thus conserved will probably be sufficient to discover the sixth dimension.

The self-tagged man of the future will be happier than his ancestors. He won't have to go through life avoiding monograms because his high-sounding name, Melville Ulysses Gray, boils down to plain M.U.G. He'll understand the danger of naming himself Minor if his last name is Key. In grade school, he'll learn about tongue twisters like Smedley S. Smallings that make it almost possible for anybody to call him anything. He'll be taught about this century of ill-named infants, when endless searches for just the right name result in prize items like Hansomme Mann, Georgia Possum, Virginia Ham and North West.

He'll know that there's plenty in a name—particularly if it's his own.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

All-Out Airpower Boys Are Quiet

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The advocates of all-out airpower as a means of defeating the enemy aren't making much noise these days and for good reason — the war has disproved their contentions on several fronts.

Gen. Ira Eaker's recent statement that the air armadas over Cassino and the Anzio beachhead had accomplished all they were expected to, put the final fillip on the dream of knocking enemies out of the war by bombing alone.

Amid war secrecy, strategists here have been working along these lines for months, but not without some argument from those who still held that block-busters would win the war.

As I wrote some weeks ago, Tarawa got the worst drubbing of any square mile of land subjected to an attack up to that time. Yet the Marines who landed there fought the greatest battle and suffered the greatest percentage of casualties in their long history.

At Cassino, an even greater air bombardment was laid down, yet the enemy clung to that stronghold and the Allied forces were stalled. There never was any question of our air supremacy over the Anzio beach-head, yet that effort to flank the enemy still is abortive.

In spite of overwhelming superiority in the air on the entire Italian front, we never were able to prevent the Nazis from bringing up sufficient supplies and reinforcements to stop the Allied advance.

Keys At The Capitol Plenty Of Proclamations

By WILLIAM E. KEYS

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—Not the least of a Texas governor's chores is the issuing of proclamations.

While proclamations legally are part of many governmental functions, those designating certain days, weeks, months or intermediate periods for special observance are the most numerous and apparently have no foundation in law.

The authority for them just grew. Governors issue them as a courtesy, usually at the request of sponsoring organizations.

The number grows annually since most of these special dates which the governor through a proclamation asks citizens to observe become an annual fixture after they first are thought up.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson has 26 to his credit since January 1. They run the gamut of Junior Chamber of Commerce week, Social Hygiene day, Use Eggs Now month, a Day of authority to issue proclamations for specific memorial days. The exception is Texas Pioneers' Day, Aug. 12, and the law creating it directs the governor to issue a proclamation 30 days in advance of the day which is NOT a legal holiday.

(Legal holidays in Texas, created by statute, are Jan. 1, Jan. 19, Feb. 22, March 2, April 21, June 3, July 4, the first Monday in September, Oct. 12, Nov. 1, Dec. 25 and all days appointed by the president or the governor as days of fasting and Thanksgiving and every day on which there is a statewide election.)

State law and the constitution authorize a proclamation by the governor for many purposes important in governmental function.

All clemencies granted convicts take the form of proclamations. If his judgment dictates the governor also can by proclamation:

Declare a state of Insurrection, National Family week, Garden week, Good Friday, Army day and Music week to name a few.

With one exception the statutes are silent as to the governor's authority to issue proclamations for specific memorial days. The exception is Texas Pioneers' Day, Aug. 12, and the law creating it directs the governor to issue a proclamation 30 days in advance of the day which is NOT a legal holiday.

Assume full police jurisdiction in areas where rail or bus line movements are interfered with in violation of law.

Convene the house of representatives between sessions for impeachment purposes.

Declare quarantine areas against spread of communicable disease among humans or livestock.

He also issues a proclamation to advise officially of adoption of a constitutional amendment by the people and to instruct county officials to hold general elections.

Proclamations can be issued under authority of law in connection with certain suits involving public lands, land patents, inspection of books and records of miners, oil and gas development of school and asylum lands.

Hollywood - Wooley Forced To Make A Star

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — The script of "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" calls for Monty Wooley to be forced, on a bet, to make a star of June Haver. On the record the script picked the right girl for the part.

Miss Haver, a cute, doll-like, blue-eyed blonde, is 17, and just to hear the list of her accomplishments to date is enough to give any middle-aged man over 21 a galloping inferiority complex.

"Sometimes," said June's mother, who is pretty, young, and plump, "I think the other mothers at June's schools didn't like us. She was always winning contests, parts in school plays, prizes. The contest kid, we call her."

Just then June finished the one-hour set period which, with three hours' schooling, the law requires minors to take on movie sets. She joined us. She has a nice, unassuming manner, a sunny smile, would never spot her as a child prodigy, a youngster who might have come out to be a Shirley Temple rival.

"Metro tested me when I was seven," she said. "I won a contest doing impersonations at the Albee theatre; in Cincinnati, and they offered me a contract then. But mother thought it might spoil me, so we didn't come."

That was the year she won her piano prize, a solo appearance with Eugene Goossens and the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, so movies didn't matter much. As for Shirley, June already had won a Shirley Temple contest for impersonating the moppet.

And then it came out in all her career of contests, she has never placed second to anybody. "Well," she explained that, "I always go in feeling sure that somebody is going to be better, and that makes me work harder."

She has won four prizes in music, five in speaking. (One essay: "Why You Shouldn't Use Liquor Too Freely.") She delivered it when she was 11 years old.

Ted Flo Rito. With the latter she came to Hollywood, the family moved out, and June went to Beverly Hills high. Talent scouts signed her from a school play, but she was released as "too young." A few months later the same studio, 20th Century-Fox, re-signed her — on a test she wrote for herself. She was featured in "Back Home in Indiana," and "Irish Eyes" is her second picture.

In her current school program she is studying shorthand and typing. "Just in case," she said.

Capital Comment - Navy Appropriation Shows Unity

By GEORGE STIMPSON

WASHINGTON (Sp) — As this columnist predicted several years ago, it's now spring in Washington.

What Wendell Willkie left behind him was not a mantle, but a shroud.

Washington is full of oil men. Two Texans are taking a prominent part in the Anglo-American oil committee conferences in session here — William R. Boyd, chairman of the Petroleum Industry, War Council, and George A. Hill, president of the Houston Oil Co.

Every year on the anniversary of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln a little group of Lincoln devotees meet in the museum in the old Ford's theatre, which is just four blocks east of my office. Across Tenth Street is the house in which Lincoln died after he was shot by Booth.

If he isn't careful, alliterative John Becker of Ohio is going to coin a usable campaign slogan for the Republicans. His latest alliteration is, "Already the army of the payroll patriots of the Potomac are beating the drums."

The first casualty of war is truth; the second is politeness. Disension in Washington can't be too serious when the House of Representatives, where the two parties are almost evenly divided, passes a $32,000,000 naval appropriation without a dissenting vote.

During the discussion on this bill, Cong. Albert Thomas, of Houston, made some interesting observations. "A lot of people, said Albert, 'still think we have what' is commonly known as a cost-plus contract, which existed, as I am told, in World War No. 1. Well, there is no such thing as a cost-plus contract during this war so far as the Navy Department is concerned. There are two types of contracts, one is the cost-plus-fixed-fee. Under that contract the more it costs to produce a ship, or a gun, or an airplane, the less the manufacturer makes out of it. He is given a premium when he reduces his cost and he is penalized when his cost gets out of bounds.

"The other type of contract is the unit-price contract. In my judgement, that is the most desirable type of contract. I may say that your committee has urged the Navy, year after year, to reduce their cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts and to convert them into unit-price contracts."

Albert Thomas gave some other information that I think ought to be passed along. It may help us to keep our perspective.

"You will remember what we have been told about those 'anatical Japs. We know they are fanatical; we know they are barbarians; we have heard our own naval officers who have escaped their prison camps in the Philippines tell of their barbarity, but, on the other hand, sometimes we may get the idea from reading various articles and publications that these Japs are poor, ignorant peons, if you please, who are under the domination of the emperor and their war lords; that they have no education, and a forth."

"This is far from the truth. The vast majority of men in the Japanese Army and Navy are high-school graduates, and many of them college men. They are intelligent and most dangerous. I have here some information relative to the percentage of illiteracy in Japan as compared with the United States, France, Germany, England and Switzerland. Let us see about these poor little ignorant peons in Japan. Do you know that less than 1 per cent of illiteracy exists in Japan? To be accurate, according to this information, it is eighty-eight one-hundredths of 1 per cent. In our own country, as of 1942, taking in all races, the percentage is 8.4. In Germany, according to the German embassy's figures of 1937-38 there was no illiteracy. They may not have had any illiteracy, but they certainly had some crackpots. For England the figure is thirty-four one-hundredths of 1 per cent; for Switzerland thirty-one one-hundredths of 1 per cent; and for France, 6.57 per cent."

Local Guardsmen Plan For Bivouac

Texas State Guardsmen of company E, 34th battalion had a pair of active drill sessions last week, getting in a variety of activities.

Tuesday evening Lt. L. D. Thompson gave a talk on security and scouting patrol, and the men had time also for calisthenics, close order drill and a hike. Thursday the program included guard mount, riot drill and recruit drill.

More preparations were made for the overnight bivouac which gets underway 6:30 p. m. Saturday from the city fire station, where the company will assemble. Guardsmen will march to the bivouac grounds east of town, pitch camp, camouflage tents and post guard.

Sunday morning, following inspection, there will be rifle practice. Camp will be broken after lunch Sunday.

Last week Capt. H. L. Bohannon announced four discharges. Donale E. Young was discharged to enlist in the Navy and discharges to Alvin C. Mize, Clifton C. Hendicks, Donald E. Webb and Dan R. Byrne were based on non-attendance.

Water Project Awaits Approval

Regional Federal Works Agency representatives are hopeful of an early Washington approval of the Big Spring water extension project. B. J. McDaniel, city manager, said Saturday on return from Dallas and Fort Worth where he had been attending a state city manager's parley and conferring with FWA officials.

The project, which would entail expenditures of around $800,000, has approval of the regional office on the basis that FWA would make a direct grant in half the amount to the city, which would then effect the project.

The city has called a bond election to consider floating its share in event of final FWA approval in Washington in order that no time be lost in developing a supplemental water supply for the city this summer.

Big Spring Chosen For CC Meeting

Big Spring will be the site for the next annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Managers Association of West Texas.

This city was chosen at the closing session of the meeting in Amarillo Saturday where delegates heard a variety of post-war planning talks for two days, including one by J. H. Greene, Big Spring chamber manager.

In contrast to planning talks last year, those at the Amarillo parley pointed to the "blue-print" stage, indicating a time for action.

Charles Green, Vernon, was named president of the organization, succeeding M. J. Benefield, Brady. Other officers were E. O. Wedgeworth, Snyder, vice-president; Mrs. Matt McCall, Lamesa, secretary; Pat Bullock, Colorado City, Guy Witt, Plainview, J. A. Rix, Fort Worth, Glenn Burgess, Alpine, and W. E. Cantrell, Dalhart, directors.

Attending with Greene, who was chairman of the nominations committee, from here was C. S. Blomshild.

Clean-Up

schools and service club members are getting these, too, along with an assignment to supervise the clean-up in downtown sections.

School children will participate in an essay contest with upwards of 100 prizes ready for youthful winners, Boy and Girl Scouts are assisting in the campaign.

In direct control of the campaign is Henry Norris, chairman of the chamber of commerce fire prevention committee. The health unit, citing the need for a clean city in order to combat summer plagues such as poliomyelitis, typhoid, etc. The clean-up, said V. A. Cross, sanitarian, would be particularly helpful in controlling flies and mosquitoes. Franklin Nugent, president of the Big Spring Safety council, said a thorough clean-up would prove one of the "most wholesome things possible for the city, removing many hazards which might cause injury or fire."

GUESTS OF TURNERS
Ma) and Mrs. W. E. Turner have as guests their daughter, S-1st C. Mary E. Turner of the SPARS, and W-2nd C. James C. Tansey of the Navy, both of whom are stationed at Boston in the first naval district. They are on 15-day furlough.

Twenty-two persons attended the dinner. Frazier president and Dudley Mann was co-chairman.

The group briefly considered present disturbance concerning presidency of the college and offered its support to the ex-students' organization of the college in any action on the subject.

a good sport and join in on it. Don't be the sort of fellow who will sit in the midst of a clean neighborhood with a frown looking place. Just grab a hoe and cut those weeds—the rate we seem to be getting moisture you may not have to cut them again this year.

Every once in a while you can hear someone spread talk about closing down the bombardier school. The recent water crisis has heightened this sort of thing. The truth is that no one outside the war department knows about those things for sure—but the most reliable source we know of is to the effect that it not only will not be closed for a long time yet, but that the program actually will be intensified.

Rotarians Attend Parley In Lubbock

Representatives from the Big Spring Rotary club are in Lubbock today to attend the two day district parley which features the appearance of Gov. Coke Stevenson and of John B. Reilly, Rotary international representative.

Heading up the local delegation are A. V. Karcher, president-elect of the Big Spring club; Marvin K. House, secretary; W. C. Blankenship and Rev. Dick O'Brien. Mrs. Karcher and Mrs. House were to accompany the group.

The Rev. O'Brien is down for a humorous talk at the general session Monday morning and for an address at the governor's banquet Monday evening.

Blankenship is to address the community service luncheon Monday noon on the subject: "What to Do About Our Youth Problem."

Registration at the Hilton hotel is set for Sunday afternoon and at a victory service program Gov. Stevenson will speak. General conferences consume Monday morning with club service and publication luncheons in addition to the one for community service groups. A trip through Texas Tech and entertainment for visiting women precedes the governor's banquet Monday evening.

Police Wonder If Everything's Okay

Police have begun to wonder if there isn't something a little the matter with this guy.

It all started when he disdainfully gave up meat points in a grocery Friday because he insisted he had never heard of rationing.

Saturday morning his talk was confusing if not incoherent. He had, he told police, worked 4,000 sheep in four weeks, and all the while drilling a well to the depth of 14,000 feet, having to abandon the second venture because he was breaking his employers' buying pipe.

Movie Fans Give To Red Cross Liberally

Motion picture fans of Texas, while attending 865 theatres in the state, contributed more than $210,419 to the American Red Cross, R. J. O'Donnell, state chairman for Red Cross theatre week, has reported. The amount is $43,000 in excess of last year's contributions.

While the average per theatre in the state was $315, the R. & R. theatres here reported $2,039.89 given by movie fans, according to J. Y. Robb, manager. The R. & R. shows in the state reported $18,443, slightly more than the amount the group raised in Oklahoma.

George T. Gunnip is the field representative and will maintain office space in the US Employment Service office.

Couple United

Mrs. Ruby Morgan and Edwin L. Grafton were married Wednesday night at the home of A. A. Chapman, Baptist minister. They will live in Big Spring. It had been erroneously stated Mrs. Grafton was a sister of Chapman.

Junior-Senior Prom To Be Held Monday

Inaugurating a series of whirlwind activities for upperclassmen at the Big Spring high school, the junior-senior banquet and prom is scheduled for Monday night.

Cast members, who are selling the tickets for the event, have announced that the annual senior play will take place at the municipal auditorium April 28, and senior day is to be celebrated by a trip to Christoval May 5 for swimming, boat riding and a barbecue. Reservations have been made for cabin space and rowboats.

Ex-Steers will play the regular team May 12 and then come final examinations, baccalaureate and commencement exercises.

With only five weeks left in their final semester, the seniors find themselves about to push four years of study, companionship and fun into the past—and the juniors are prepared to see to it that their farewell banquet and other activities furnish a fitting climax.
