A Successful Operation.

On last Monday morning, Drs.
Homan & Smith, assisted by Dr.
Crutcher of Mt. Vernon, performed an operation on Mrs. Ed.
Dupree for appendicitis, which, we are glad to report, was highly successful, and the patient is rapidly recovering. She has long been a sufferer and in feeble health, and it is a source of comfort to her friends to know she can now look forward to healthier, happier days.

Magazine Club.

The magazine club held their

They decided to meet during this

All members with two excep-

The meeting today is with Mrs.
Jas. T. Johnson.

Dr. Phenix, by the use of his

Summary of Schools.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of Colorado Independent School District.

Gentlemen:—I beg to submit to you the following as my total summary of the schools of the city for the month beginning Sept. 11, and closing Oct 6, 1905:

Total number of pupils enrolled: Male, 210; Female, 205. Total, 415.

Number of pupils enrolled under school age: Male, 3; Female, 2. Total, 5.

Number of pupils enrolled in schools, all ages, to date: Male, 213; Female, 207. Total, 420.

Average daily attendance of pupils within scholastic age this month: Male, 186; Female, 190. Total, 376.

Average daily attendance of pupils under scholastic age: Male, 1; Female, 1. Total, 2.

Average daily attendance of the entire school, school ages, overs and unders, this month: Male, 187; Female, 190. Total, 378.

Number of cases of corporal punishment inflicted, 3.

The above constitutes a monthly record of which any community or school may well feel proud. We wish to especially commend the conduct of the pupils on and off of the school grounds—to have the numbers we have in constant attendance and to be able to record for the entire month only three cases of corporal punishment—and they for minor offenses, speaks well for our school and community.

The above has only been made possible by the hearty co-operation of patron, pupil and teacher and a cheerful response to school regulations. There is, however, one fact we sadly deplore—that we have to record the great number of marks of tardiness which are daily recorded in all the rooms. This is a matter the teacher is powerless to correct, unless he be given the hearty support of the parent. May we not look for, and expect, a better record along this line the coming months?

We cannot close this report without recording our appreciation of the signal service rendered to the school by the members of the Woman's Club. During the summer months, the campus being neglected, had been overrun by weeds and "everything whereon thorns grew;" so much so, that life was made miserable to all. Under the direction of Mrs. Martha B. Smoot, Chairman of the Committee of Civic Improvement, the grounds have been well purged of all rubbish.

In this connection, we wish to express our appreciation of the nice office desk presented by Judge C. H. Earnest to the school, also to Mrs. O'Keefe for the gift of a complete set of encyclopedias for the school use.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all to visit the schools at any time.

Respectfully submitted,
T. J. YOE.

Notice To Land Owners Of Mitchell County.

I have prepared a map of Mitchell County which shows every section of land in the county, and every fractional section, quarter section and even every eighty (80) acres with the name of the owner on each section and part of section, resident and non-resident, together with the certificate and abstract number given correctly on every section, and showing the SCHOOL LANDS which are remaining in Mitchell County and unsold with the price per acre and classification marked on each and every section of school land of which there are several and showing the date of the expiration of the leases. These maps are invaluable for rendering your property for taxes, seeing the location of the unsold railroad lands and unsold individual lands and their relative location to other settlers. All fences of pastures and small men and all public roads and post offices are also shown on this map. Blue print copies of this map, which will last a life time, are for sale at $ 2.50 per copy, if you want a copy write or phone me at the Court House or leave order with the county clerk. If you haven't the cash will wait with you, prefer cash, of course. Every one ought to know his home county as well as his state. This map is absolutely up-to-date and correct. Send for one before they are all gone; all are home-made in every respect by myself here in Colorado.

Fine Cotton.

At the feed store of J. S. Vaughan there is on exhibition a stalk of cotton measuring six feet from root to tip of the stalk, which is a fair sample of a thirty acre field on the farm of Geo. B. Root, about six miles out on Lone Wolf. Parties capable of making an estimate claim a bale will be made to the acre. Mr. Green a prospector who has traveled over various portions of Texas' most fertile land claims that to be the finest field of cotton he has seen in his travels.

In the office of the T. & P. Development Co. there is on exhibition another huge stalk of cotton containing 99 boles and squares taken from the field of Judge C. H. Earnest, three miles east of town.

"Uncle Josh Spruceby" the first of the many rural plays now being presented in the different cities will be seen at Colorado Oct. 10th.

This production is said to be different from all others as it contains much comedy as well as pathos, and the realistic saw mill scene is said to be the most exciting and intense effect ever produced. The scenes of the play are laid in Vermont and New York which gives ample opportunity for portraying the simple rustic characters in country as well as the many incidents that befall the simple country folks that visit the metropolis.

Colorado Gets Association.

Rev. Holmes Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hooper, and Mrs. Robt M. Webb returned Saturday from the meeting of the Sweetwater Association of the Baptist church at Mulberry canyon. This Association meets annually, and we learn with pleasure the next meeting will be held in our city. Three or four other places were contesting for it and we feel sure it was through the earnest efforts of our delegates that Colorado was the successful candidate. This means some 150 visitors to our city.

The neat little paper issued by the Colorado National Bank modestly appears once a month into the places of business and homes of our people, truthfully impressing upon them the advantages of laying by dollars for the rainy days ahead—by depositing in the safest place—A National Bank.

ADAMS & SHERWIN.

This season all feed stuffs have exceeded in quantity and quality the most sanguine expectations. Mr M Dry has at his place Johnson grass 8 1-3 feet high while Mr. Wear brought in from his cotton field a stalk of what seemed a cross between maize and sorghum which measured 10 1-2 feet in length. Mr. T. A. Morrison says the maize in his field is remarkable, as thirty heads of grain from one original stalk from new shoots coming out. Our corn is fine, and our cotton would almost make the famous Brazos bottom product ashamed of its self.

Ready For Business.

To the citizens of Mitchell and adjoining counties: I desire to say that I am now ready to gin all cotton that is brought to Loraine at 60cts per hundred lbs., including wrapping. I will also buy your cotton and seed, paying the best price for same. Bring your produce and get the best price for it.

I have recently enlarged my store building, and have purchased a full line of fall and winter goods, and you're respectfully invited to call and inspect our stock and get our prices.

I have no water, light, or rent bills to pay. We have our goods marked down, and they all go at a low figure. We have some advantages over the larger towns in expense account, and can save you money on your purchases.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Mr. Conrad C. Harness and Miss Lillian Blandford United in Wedlock.

At the Christian church on Wednesday evening, hundreds of friends assembled to witness the ceremony which joined in holy wedlock the lives of Mr. Conrad C. Harness and Miss Lillian Blandford.

As one entered the sacred edifice and softly trod up the white carpeted aisles, murmurs of admiration escaped all lips as their eyes feasted upon the lovely decorations which the deft fingers of true friendship had so artistically created.

The color scheme, white and green, appropriate and typical of the purest, ever-living affection, was carried out most beautifully in lovely white cosmos, palms and ferns.

The alcove in the rear of the pulpit was rendered so sublimely beautiful that one was instantly impressed with the sanctity of the occasion, and it seemed in its spotless purity, a perfect altar upon which the loving, trusting heart of a fair, sweet girl could safely be placed in the keeping of him she so fondly loves and honors, with the full assurance of his staunch affection hallowing and illumining her future life, as the mellow glow from those bright tapers softly enveloped her graceful, girlish figure.

Rare and spotless draperies enclosed the altar, in the rear of which rested a large mirror. Before this, stood a table with snowy covering of exquisite handiwork, upon which stood a handsome silver candelabra with many glowing white tapers which were reflected in the mirror beyond with splendid effect.

On either side down to the floor from the altar, were most beautifully arranged palms, ferns and the sweet nodding white cosmos, whose spotless petals and golden hearts seemed emblematic of the purity and wealth of the great love there being plighted.

Bands of ribbon held in place a wedding bell of unblemished white, over which trailed the daintiest fern, and from its heart glowed a beautiful soft light.

The organ bore its wealth of sweet blossoms, in the midst of which rose another silver candelabra with gleaming candles.

Promptly at 8.30, the inspiring strains of the wedding march, under the skillful touch of Mrs. Jno. W. Mooar, pealed forth and the bridal party entered. Up the left aisle came the usher, Mr. Hall Homan, then the bride's-maid, Miss Viola Henry, a fitting companion for so fair a bride. She was stylishly gowned in white silk Eoline hand embroidered in white silk roses, with hand-made silk lace trimmings and velvet girdle. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Next came the ring-bearer, Master Charlie Blandford, who was a veritable cherub in his spotless suit, and, with much dignity, bearing the glistening signet upon its dainty cushion.

Next came the bride, erect, graceful and lovely, wearing a gown of white silk mull, silk net yoke appliqued in ribbon embroidery, with girdle of white satin. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her only ornament was a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. A cluster of orange blossoms caught from the sweet, fair face the wedding veil of silk tulle, which completely enveloped her slender figure.

From the right entrance, emerged the usher, Mr. V. in Shropshire; then came the groomsman, Mr. Tom Stonerod, followed by the bride-groom, each looking as chivalric and handsome in conventional dress suits as ye knights of Auld Lang Syne.

At the altar they were so grouped as to form a semi-circle, and, as the sweet strains from the organ softly rose and fell, Judge J. H. Homan pronounced the solemnly beautiful words which made them man and wife.

Then, as the gladsome music swelled forth in joyous harmony, the exit was made, and from each heart present came the wish for a life of great happiness for this popular young couple.

They repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Blandford, where a reception was held, to which only the bridal party, relatives and a few intimate friends were bidden.

This young couple needs no words of introduction to our readers. Both are well and favorably known, having been reared in our city. No fairer girl or more gifted with lovable, Christian character exists than this bride, whose pure heart cannot fail to inspire the man of her choice to noble thoughts and acts.
