

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

THE GRUB LINER READS TRAIL SIGN

Between Big Spring and Stanton on the north side of U. S. 80 and just west of the Martin County line, there is a sign that can be read by travelers from either direction, that advertises Harold's Club, a gambling casino in Reno, Nevada, the best known of all such establishments in the Western Hemisphere.

This sign is just one of more than 2,000 located throughout the United States from Seattle to Key West, from San Diego to Augusta, Maine. The fact that Harold's Club is located thousands of miles from hundreds of these signs doesn't matter because the management of this gambling house also known as the "Gamblers Five-and-Ten" and as "Harold's Penny Arcade" figures that among the more than 5,000 out-of-state visitors to this "Poor Man's Monte Carlo" daily many of them have been attracted to Nevada, to Reno, and to Harold's, simply because they may have seen one of these roadside signs at some distant point.

In Nevada Harold's is quite an institution. It employs more than 500 persons; is open to gambling and drinking the clock around; annually more than a million and a half people, more than ten times the population of the state gamble there; it has hundreds of slot machines in which U. S. coins of any denomination, except one-cent, may be played; a slot machine jackpot is hit every 12 seconds every 34 hours; school children are taken there in school buses to see what is probably the largest museum collection of western frontier items in the world; every year graduates of some 40 Nevada high schools are awarded $4,000 college scholarships by the club; in the club there is a bar inside with 2,000 silver dollars and a "Whiskey Falls" which is a representation of a mountain cataract over which tumbles a broad stream, not of water, but of bonded whiskey, and the visitor is free to pick up a dipper and prove to himself that it is a real whiskey falls.

Harold's is just one of the many gambling clubs in Nevada, and is mentioned here principally because it is so well known and because the traveler between Big Spring and Stanton can't help but be aware of its being.

But does this mean that the people of Nevada are unanimously in favor of legalized gambling? Apparently it does not, according to revelations made in a new book written by a Californian, Oscar Lewis, and just published by Doubleday and Company of New York at $3.50. This volume, "Sagebrush Casinos, The Story of Legal Gambling in Nevada," is entertaining reading and one that will be of equal interest to those who favor and those who oppose gambling, legal or illegal.

According to "Sagebrush Casinos" the percentage of Nevadans opposed to legalized gambling is probably as high as the percentage of Texans opposed to it. One difference is that gambling is legalized in Nevada and that state may have a tough time ever getting shut of it.

Some Nevadans like the idea of the revenue derived from the gambling concessions which enables the state to operate without state sales, income or inheritance taxes, and with property taxes that are well below the national average. On the other hand it is not favored by merchants who aren't able to ever get some customers to pay their accounts up in full.

"Sagebrush Casinos" also gives a picture of the Nevada divorce courts that has never been seen by most Americans. This volume points out that it is only the most sensational of these cases that ever gets into the news. By far the greater percentage of the divorcees decrease go to average women who work as maids or waitresses, or in gaming casinos, while maintaining their residence in the state for the required time. (Women contemplating divorces will be especially interested in this volume.)

But Nevada is beginning to become conscious of some very sinister influences that have moved into the state in the form of such gangsters as Bonnie Blinn who have found that there they can get out into the sunshine while elsewhere they might just be looking out at it. No longer are the gambling concessions being held only by citizens of good character who can be trusted to do the right thing. It is beginning to appear that the outlaws from elsewhere are trying to monopolize the privileges, and the people of Nevada are worried, as they have every right to be.

"Sagebrush Casinos" isn't a prejudiced book. It gives both sides. It is a fair and impartial analysis, and the first complete one, of the Silver State's gaudy experiment with legalized gambling over more than a score of years. This manuscript is the record of a thorough investigation in social, political and economic terms. It dispels many fraudulent notions about Nevada games and divorces as it reveals the worst as well as the best about Nevada's most unusual program that so directly touches its public officials, its churches, its schools, its merchants and the life of every person within the state of which an old boom camp miner once said: "Hell, brother, Nevada's whole history has been one long gamble."

Next Few Days May Decide Crop Controls

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The coming week may show how far the Eisenhower administration will have to go next year in applying crop controls it has pledged to hold to a minimum.

On Monday the Agriculture Department will release the first official estimate of the size of this year's cotton crop. Should it exceed 12 million bales, controls on the 1954 crop would appear unavoidable.

Another report, to be issued Tuesday, will give the latest forecast of the corn crop. Should it exceed 3,400,000,000 bushels, controls would be considered for this crop next year. A forecast last month put corn at 3,336,000,000 bushels.

On Friday growers will vote in a nationwide referendum on rigid marketing quotas for next year's wheat crop. Proclaimed recently by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, the quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting before they become effective.

Both the GOP platform and President Eisenhower are in favor of a minimum of controls on farmers.

The action in involving controls on wheat, plus prospects of similar measures for cotton and corn, were made necessary by the accumulation of large supplies from recent crops and the requirements of farm laws. These laws make it mandatory to impose controls when supplies reach a level defined by the law as "surplus."

Controls in effect this year on most types of tobacco and peanuts will carry over on next year's crop. In addition, Benson has announced plans to restrict production of sugar cane in this country and in Puerto Rico next year.

Friday's wheat referendum has important political and economic implications. First, it should give an idea about how farmers feel toward the politically controversial controls. Second, it will have a big effect on next year's wheat prices, and hence on income of many farmers.

Should the controls be rejected, price supports would have to be reduced from this year's national level of $2.21 to about $1.25 a bushel. Such a drop could cost wheat growers upwards of a billion dollars, depending, of course, on the size of the crop and the way market prices acted. Approval of quotas would keep supports at this year's level.

A big drop in wheat prices might be a blow to some Republican members seeking re-election in next year's balloting.

Benson has said in statements and speeches that the GOP administration finds itself in the position of having to invoke controls because of "failure" of the Truman administration to take steps earlier to restrict crop output.

In an NBC radio talk today Benson said no attempt is being made to influence farmers' votes on the wheat quotas. He said the department has merely explained what is involved in the referendum and "the decision is now up to the farmers."

The secretary will not be required to make an immediate decision on cotton and corn controls. The law gives him until Oct. 15 to decide about cotton and until Nov. 15 on corn. It would be possible for the crop outlook to change enough in the meantime to avoid the rigid, penalty-invoking marketing quotas.

But chances appear slim that use of the less-restrictive acreage planting allotments could be avoided. Under allotments, the department assigns growers a planting share in terms of acres. But farmers are free to plant more if they desire to do so. However, only those staying within their allotments would be eligible for price support aid.

Under quotas, farmers must pay heavy penalties for crops grown on acres planted in excess of their allotments as well as suffer loss of price support assistance.

Federal Beef Buying Giving Stockmen Aid

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The government's beef-purchasing program is bringing increased returns to livestock growers in drought-stricken areas of the Southwest, Rep. Brooks (D-Tex.) said today.

After a conference with Agriculture Department officials, Brooks told a reporter approximately 25 million pounds of lower-grade beef has been bought by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). A total of 200 million pounds is scheduled for purchase under the price-support program.

Purchases have been filled primarily from cutter and canner grades, originating from grass-fed animals, Brooks said. Cattle, once selling at 19 cents a pound on the hoof, now are bringing 12 1/2 cents, he added.

Brooks said John Davis, assistant secretary of agriculture, indicated the purchase program may be carried beyond the presently authorized 200-million-pound mark to keep prices at the present levels. CCC purchases of beef this week totaled 11,309,000 pounds, he said. Last week's purchases totaled 8 1/2 million pounds and the preceding week's 5 1/2 million pounds, he reported.

Brooks quoted Davis as expressing hope that the buying can be stepped up to 25 million pounds a week, with next week's purchases near 15 million pounds.

He said Agriculture Department officials told him some big chain food stores soon will launch an advertising drive to encourage increased consumption of hamburger, wiener and other meats utilizing lower grade beef.

State President Of JayCeers Visits

Tommy Cook of Baytown, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, visited briefly in Big Spring Saturday morning.

Cook was accompanied by Charley Trigg of Brownwood, a state vice president.

Walter Shaller, Amarillo, national director, had come here Friday evening and was guest of local JayCeers at a reception and dinner session.

The JayCee officials were en route to Odessa for a bi-regional meeting of regions three and four, which opened Saturday. They were accompanied to Odessa by Raymond Andrews, state vice president from Big Spring.

A substantial delegation of local JayCeers planned to go to Odessa Sunday for the business session of the bi-regional convention.

One person was killed and three others injured last night when a car hit a bridge and careened across the highway into the path of a panel truck.

The driver of the truck, Gene Hurt, Childress, was killed. A passenger with him, Eugene Gray, 15, Childress, was injured.

Two Amarillo Air Force Base men in the car also were injured.

Richard Deats Finds Mexicans Humble, Sincere, And Grateful

Humility, sincerity and gratitude of the Mexican people are the impressions brought home by Richard Deats from a summer of mission work near Mexico City.

"We had heard tales of bandits on the interior and although we didn't put much store in them, we couldn't help being uneasy at first," he said. "Before long, as we got to know the natives, we found them to be just like other folks. They were decent, kind and had the same yearning for brotherhood."

Richard, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats, was one of a group of 10 young Methodists who worked on an experiment station for the Union Theological Seminary at Mexico City. Last summer, he was one of the students chosen to work on a Quaker project in Germany.

The project from whence he has returned was at San Vicente, a town of some 3,000 people and 20 miles east of Mexico City, where 3½ million dwell. The capital is a modern city in most respects and the University of Mexico campus is living up to its claim of being the most beautiful campus in the world, he said. The stadium seats 100,000, the swimming pool covers almost a block.

But 20 miles away, San Vicente is almost in another world. There is no running water; no gas service; no telephones. Electricity is the only modern convenience for the people who live in adobe huts and eke out existences as small gardeners, day laborers and street vendors.

A few homes have outhouses, but by and large the backyards serve as open toilets. Flies abound and diarrhea is common.

Object of the experiment station was to demonstrate means for pro-

Abilene Crew Gets Surprise By Jet

A Webb Air Force Base jet pilot got down safely Friday at Abilene, but a score of workmen took to the hills.

James McKenzie, the pilot said at Abilene he became lost on a flight from Big Spring to Lubbock and was low on fuel. He made one attempt to land on the old Municipal Airport across the highway from the new Municipal Airport. The runway was too short.

So he brought his jet around, this time sitting down on the unfinished runway at the new port. Tire rubber burned and surprised workmen at the end of the runway scattered like quail.

Sidney Pitzer, a member of the Abilene city engineering department survey crew, said that the plane was undamaged.

ducing food and improving sanitation. The young men, fledgling ministers, carried on spiritual and recreational programs, too.

"We built chicken brooders and rabbit hutches," related Richard. "Men came in to see how these were constructed and how baby chicks and rabbits can be raised successfully. They were responsive and I believe they were learning and encouraged to try to raise their standard of living."

The young workers also built model outhouses to promote better sanitary facilities.

Manford Act Suit Drop Set

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board advised Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd's office today it will dismiss its suit attacking state enforcement of parts of the Manford Act, a Texas labor law.

The suit has been scheduled to go to trial Monday.

The NLRB brought its action after Shepperd secured injunctions against the International Fur and Leather Workers Union prohibiting it from organizing Texas labor.

Shepperd had based his suit against the union on its failure to comply with the labor law which prohibits unions from operating in Texas without filing a detailed operational and financial report with the secretary of state. He said an organizer for the union also had failed to comply with a requirement that reports be filed before attempting to organize workers in the state.

A spokesman for the attorney general said a telegram from Duane Beeson, deputy general for the NLRB, stated the agency would dismiss its suit Monday when called for trial in federal court.

The NLRB had claimed in its petition that the state law was in conflict with terms of the National Labor Relations Act and that the state was acting in a field preempted by Congress in the Federal Labor Law.

Fine Assessed Here Collected In Angelo

A check was received at the local sheriff's office Saturday from sheriff's officials at San Angelo for payment of a $14 fine assessed against H. D. Glass.

Glass was arrested here for San Angelo on charges of passing hot checks. It was later found that he had passed a hot check here. His fine was collected at San Angelo for the Big Spring offense.

as he saw fit, Richard bought a four-burner stove that operated off a liquefied petroleum gas.

"It was the second one in the village and the natives were overjoyed," he recalled.

Part of the time the workers helped build and finish quarters in which they lived. These will be used for church and demonstration purposes later. Some of the men conducted recreation programs, others taught English classes for children and adults. They showed movies in the village on sanitation, tuberculosis and similar subjects.

The young men, of course, held their morning and evening devotions and conducted church services for the natives. Richard was chosen to deliver the sermon which preceded communion. He also took part in a program at the seminary. Preaching was a bit disconcerting at first, because he would say a sentence and pause while the translator repeated it in Spanish.

Pastor of the Methodist Church in San Vicente is Juan Diaz. He is an energetic man who is a former secretary of education and who takes time out from his duties as professor of Hebrew, Greek and New Testament at the seminary to serve his charge without pay.

The experience also gave Richard opportunity to do some visiting. He rode the 4-lane highway the 20 miles from Mexico City to Cuernavaca and which is as modern as anything in the United States. He found that the new president has earned the reputation for honestly trying to do something for the people. Richard thinks that Mexico has the resources, the people, and the seeds of a great nation.

County Tops Area In Sale Of Bonds

Howard County has the best record in this area for sales of E and H series United States Savings Bonds for the first half of the year.

Sales received and credited by the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas through June 30, 1953 showed Howard with $391,238 of a $750,228 goal for the year. This gave a 52.14 per cent rating, highest among counties in this general area.

Ira L. Thurman, county bond chairman, was hopeful that with such a good start that the year's goal could be reached. He expressed appreciation for bond purchases made to date.

Other counties in the area and the percentage of annual goal follow:

Borden, no sales; Ector $290,975 and 46.55; Glasscock $712 and 15; Martin $34,381 and 48.58; Midland $323,454 and 33.17; Mitchell $128,722 and 50.58; Reagan $18,806 and 36; Scurry $174,981 and 42.72; Sterling $6,268 and 10.65; Taylor $654,400 and 38.58; Tom Green $546,548 and 35.83.

Crashed Jet Plane Is Identified As Trainer From Webb

A jet plane which crashed and burned 15 miles north of Coahoma Friday morning was subsequently identified as a T33 trainer from Webb Air Force Base.

Witnesses said the plane caught fire and fell on the W. D. Anderson ranch. The pilot was killed.

Webb officials said that identification of the pilot probably would not be announced before Sunday or Monday, which is the procedure usually followed when a cadet from a foreign country is involved.

Ike Vetoes Private Veterans Program Rule Change Bills

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower says the federal programs for veterans and beneficiaries, "if they are to be successful, require unwavering uniformity of rule and equality of treatment."

With that comment, he refused yesterday to sign two private relief bills which would have relaxed rigid legal requirements in two hardship cases.

One would have authorized a widow's pension for Mary Thalia Womack Webb of 715 E. 23rd St., N. W., Oklahoma City, Okla., who was unable to prove that Jim Henry Webb, a World War I veteran, had obtained a legal divorce before she married him 18 years before his death.

The other would have permitted Ethel Hudson Morrison of Concord, Richmond County, N. C., aunt of the late Peter B. Bost whom she reared, to collect remaining payments on his National Service Life Insurance. Bost died before the law was changed to permit naming of an aunt as principal or contingent beneficiary. Bost's mother died after collecting 62 monthly payments of $76.70 each, and the aunt sought the remainder.

USE COMMON SENSE TO TAKE OFF FAT

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Not one in a hundred overweight people have a thyroid condition. But don't make the mistake of going on a protracted starvation diet to fight the "battle of the bulges." A strenuous diet can do a great deal of harm.

Why not try the sensible Barcena diet? Nothing harmful—no dieting and if the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Nearly five million bottles sold in Texas in nine years.

Just ask your druggist for four ounces of Barcena. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label and take according to directions. That's all there is to it.

Mrs. Carmen Powers Mejia, 413½ S. Mesa Ave., El Paso, Texas, wrote us as follows: "Thanks to Barcena, I have lost 30 pounds. Used to weigh 165. Now weigh 135."

5,115 Persons Take Part In Annual X-Ray Survey

The Howard County Tuberculosis Association's mass X-ray survey closed here Saturday after 5,115 residents paused before the screen for their chest examinations.

The total number of X-rays given was slightly less than the 1952 record, approximately 5,200.

The last day of the survey was the busiest for State Health Department X-ray technicians. More than 1,000 persons reported for the examinations Saturday. Previous high of the survey was Monday when 921 X-rays were given.

The TB Association and Health Department conducted the survey for the purpose of locating any undiagnosed cases of tuberculosis. Reports on the individual X-rays will be received by mail in the next few weeks.

Vic Alexander, survey chairman, asked that his appreciation be expressed for all the volunteer workers who assisted with the X-ray program.

Special attention was called to the work of Mrs. Alton Underwood, registration chairman; Sydney Johnston, who distributed posters and handled other promotional work; Eloisa Garcia, director of Latin-American registration; Claudia O'Donnell, who assisted with registration every day of the survey; Bryce Wington, co-chairman for the survey; and Mrs. Shirley Fryar, rural promotion chairman.

Alexander also thanked all members of the various women's organizations which assisted. Clubs which had charge of registration were the Woman's Forum, 1948 Hyperion Club, Home Demonstration Club, 1905 Hyperion, 1900 Hyperion and the Exemplar, Mu Zeta, and Beta Omicron chapters of Beta Sigma Phi.

Funds For Webb Included In Bill

Funds for projects at Webb Air Force base are included in a bill signed Friday by President Eisenhower.

The bill lists $578,000 for Webb, which is the figure approved several days ago by the Senate and then forwarded to a conference committee.

Purpose of the Webb appropriation is to finance additional runways and acquisition of land needed for extension of runways.

Largest Texas allocation on the list was $12,228,000 for construction at the Abilene Air Force Base which is now under construction.

Reopening Of Martin Hospital Set For Monday

STANTON, (SC) — The Martin County Memorial Hospital which has remained open only in charge of a caretaker for a few weeks, will be again put into full service Monday morning, it has been announced by Cecil Bridges, secretary of the institution's board of directors and president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

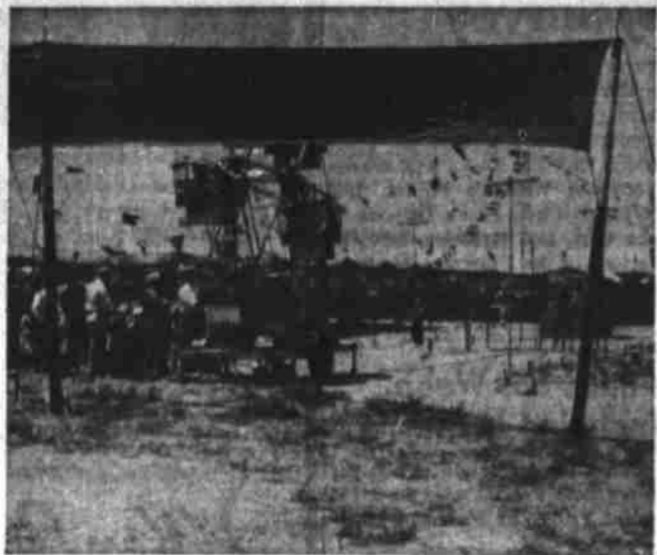

Bridges said the decision to resume full operation was made after a conference with Dr. George W. Dawson Jr., a physician and surgeon at Albany, who agreed to move to Stanton immediately. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and he and Mrs. Dawson have three children. Dr. Dawson will start his practice here tomorrow morning.

Already practicing in Stanton is Dr. Don A. Gaddis, who had been here since 1949. For the past two or three weeks Dr. Gaddis has been obliged to hospitalize his patients elsewhere but starting tomorrow will resume his work at the hospital here.

Horse Kick Injures Local Youth At Rodeo

Jimmy Wiginton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wiginton of 1008 Sycamore, remained in Big Spring Hospital for observation Saturday as a result of being kicked by a horse at the rodeo Friday night.

Young Wiginton suffered contusions and abrasions of the chest, the hospital reported. He was accidentally injured near a concessions stand at the rodeo grounds.

Electric Fair

Exhibits at the big Electric Fair attracted hundreds of people to Stanton on Thursday and Friday. The fair was held in connection with the annual meeting of the Cap Rock REA Cooperative.

Two From Area To Receive Degrees

CANYON — Mrs. Vera B. Nelly of Garden City and Dell McComb of Big Spring are among the 240 candidates for degrees listed at West Texas State College, who expect to participate in summer commencement activities Aug. 21, according to Dean Walter H. Juniper.

Highest number of students to be graduated during the summer at West Texas State was 248, in 1951.

Mrs. Nelly is a candidate for the Master of Arts degree, and Mr. McComb is seeking the Master of Education degree.

WIRRAL, England, Aug. 8 (AP)—Selwyn Lloyd, British Minister of State, was stricken today with an attack of tonsillitis—three days before he was due to fly to New York for a special United Nations session.

Cap Rock Reelects Members Of Board

STANTON — More than 2,500 persons from Stanton and the ten county service area of Cap Rock Electric Co-Op thronged the Co-Op's grounds Thursday night and Friday for the annual membership meeting and Electric Fair.

Circus-type entertainment, electrical, irrigation and farm equipment exhibits, plus the awarding of door prizes and an amateur talent contest made up the day-long program Friday, all in addition to the Co-Op's membership meeting.

Members attending the business session re-elected three members of the Co-Op's board of directors to serve for the next three years: J. D. McCreless, Stanton; Edgar Phillips, Vealmoor Rt., Big Spring; and W. D. Howell, Lenora.

Incumbent directors not subject to the election this year included Glenn Cantrell, Big Spring; Miss Arab Phillips, Big Spring; D. W. McDonald, Midland; Mrs. Lee Castle, Rt. 2, Big Spring; Paul Adams, Rt. 1, Ackerly; and C. F. Gray, Stanton.

Manager O. B. Bryan showed members a graph which detailed how each revenue dollar the Co-Op received in 1952 was spent. Twenty-two cents of each dollar went for power which was, in turn, distributed to members. Payments on the money borrowed to finance the Co-Op's construction took eleven cents of each dollar and interest on the borrowed money took twelve cents.

A printed report on the Co-Op's financial condition was given to each member attending.

Jan and Linda Nichols, Route 1, Stanton, were winners of the Kelvinator Amateur Talent Contest. They received a Stromberg-Carlson radio. The Nichols girls will be contestants being held this summer at rural electric co-op meetings throughout Texas. Six finalists will be selected for the Kelvinator statewide finals to be held in Mineral Wells in October. Each finalist receives $50 to cover expenses to Mineral Wells, and the winner there receives one of Kelvinator's major appliances—an automatic washer, a refrigerator, range, or food freezer.

Other entries in the contest here (Stanton) were Bobby Carlisle, Star Route, Lenora; Bill Hanson Jr., Gall Route, Big Spring, and Tommy Birkhead and the Texas Sand Dusters, Vincent Route, Coahoma. Cap Rock Refrigeration Co-Op members met briefly, re-elected their directors, and heard a report on their Co-Op's financial condition from Manager O. B. Bryan. Bryan said that at the present rate, the refrigeration co-op will be paid for next year and after that patronage refunds can be made to members.

Refrigeration Co-Op directors re-elected include J. D. McCreless, W. D. Howell, C. F. Gray, Mrs. Lee Castle, and Glen Cantrell.

Two More Polio Cases Reported

Two additional cases of polio were reported in the past week, bringing Howard County's total for the year to eight cases.

Latest residents to have the disease are Joe Clark Faulkner, 20, of 2002 Johnson, and Mrs. W. R. Hale, wife of a Webb AFB airman. Faulkner is in a local hospital.

He has suffered no paralysis, it was reported Saturday.

Mrs. Hale is receiving treatment in San Antonio. Her polio was diagnosed in Austin and no information was available here as to whether she suffered paralysis.

The polio infections were listed among reports of 69 cases of eight different communicable diseases by the City-County Health Unit.

Diarrhea continued to be the most prevalent infection with 37 cases. There were 15 cases of tonsillitis, eight infections of gastroenteritis, three cases of gonorrhea, two of pneumonia and one each of syphilis and chickenpox.

Queen Mary Leaves Less Than Expected

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The late Queen Mary, descendant and forebear of British monarchs, left an estate of 496,407 pounds ($1,137,939) considerably less than had been expected. The net value after taxes was given, upon probate of her will today, as 379,864 pounds ($1,061,689).

Queen Mary, grandmother of reigning Queen Elizabeth II, died last March 24 at 85. Unofficial estimates of her holdings at the time ranged as high as seven million pounds ($19,900,000).

Only the wills of a reigning monarch are exempt from taxes. Names of the beneficiaries of Queen Mary's will were not disclosed. While wills of the royal family are admitted to probate in the usual way, they are kept secret until their disclosure is authorized by the president of the Probate Court. As a rule, details are never made public.

Queen Mary was the great-granddaughter of King George III. Queen Victoria was her godmother and King Edward VII, Victoria's son, her father-in-law. She was the mother of abdicated King Edward VIII, now the Duke of Windsor, and of the late King George VI.

July Construction Lowest In 5 Years

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—Texas construction awards dropped to a low for the year last month, totalling $80,371,473. It was the lowest July total since 1948.

The review of Texas construction activity was released today by Texas Contractor, a trade magazine.

July awards included $54,890,998 for non-residential work, $15,877,089 for residential, and $9,303,386 for engineering.

Lettings for July were nearly 15 million dollars below the previous month's total of $95,059,873. The slump resulted from a decline in engineering and residential work.

Edgar L. Guerry Of El Paso Dies

Edgar L. Guerry, 89, of El Paso, died in a local hospital Saturday morning.

The body was sent by Nalley Funeral Home to El Paso Saturday for funeral services. Mr. Guerry was born Feb. 8, 1864, in Americus, Ga. He is survived by his wife.

Bed Theft Reported

Theft of a hospital bed from a porch at the Asford was reported Friday by Mrs. Leta Miller. She told police the bed had been borrowed and that she thought it had been returned until she checked Friday. Mattress was not stolen.

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ingram and family wish to express to their many friends their heartfelt thanks for the tokens of sympathy tendered them during their recent bereavement.

Rites Held For Mrs. McFarland

Death claimed Mrs. M. B. (Fannie) McFarland, 68, in a local hospital late Friday. She had been ill for the past month and took a turn for the worse last Monday.

A local resident since 1909, Mrs. McFarland was born in Rising Star, Tex., Jan. 15, 1885.

Funeral services were conducted at the Trinity Baptist Church at 4 p.m. Saturday, after which the body was taken to the Salem Cemetery by the Nalley Funeral Home for burial. Rev. Jack Powers officiated, assisted by Rev. Cecil Rhodes.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, include two foster daughters, Mrs. Lester Aaron of El Paso and Mrs. Howard Shaffer, Big Spring; two brothers, Edward Hull, Big Spring; and Tom A. Hull, Fort Worth; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Robinson and Mrs. Walter Davis, both of Big Spring.

Pall bearers were her nephews. They were J. W., Leo and Joe Hull and Woodrow, Henry, J. C., Walter and Albert Robinson.

Hitchhiker Killed Sleeping On Road

DENVER CITY, Tex., Aug. 8 (AP)—David Moore, about 16, was killed at 2 a.m. today when an auto ran over him while he lay sleeping on State Highway 214 about two miles south of here.

Moore and a friend, C. A. Peacock, 18, apparently had been hitchhiking to their homes in Kermit and unable to flag another ride after one from Dumas, they went to sleep on the road.

Police said the youths were struck by a car driven by Charles Frank Burns Jr., 29, Odessa. Moore was dragged about 60 feet. Burns notified authorities and was not held.

'It Works! It Works!'

That was the exclamation of Mrs. Hilla (Stormy) Weathers, manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, when with one of the two "first calls" from the new Stanton dial exchange she reported to the Big Spring Herald that the new system was in operation and functioning perfectly. Mrs. Weathers says Big Springers should appreciate the fact that it's easier to call Big Spring operator than to dial another number in Stanton. Like the Big Spring telephones those in Stanton have been assigned five-digit numbers. For the last several weeks all subscribers have had two telephones in their homes and offices, one the old-fashioned style with the hand-operated crank on the side and the other an ultra-modern dial instrument. Crews are now engaged in gathering up the museum pieces.

Among Memory's Souvenirs

Telephone switchboards such as these that went out of service at Stanton Friday were the very latest thing at the close of the Gay 90s and people marveled at the tricks such contrivances could so miraculously perform. "What's next!" they wondered and asked each other. Back there in the days of hand-cranked telephones it was frequently a matter of minutes before a subscriber could attract the attention of the operator and place a call. Now with one flip of the wrist a Stantonite can have immediate communication with any telephone in Big Spring. In fact, it requires less effort and time to dial Big Spring than to dial another number in Stanton. Among operators who were on the job when the switch-over was made was Mrs. Sybil Bickley, foreground.

Stanton, Big Spring Are 'Wired' Together By Telephone System

STANTON, (SC) — This Martin County capital was wired tightly to its sister city of Big Spring a few seconds past noon Friday and the wires that bind the two communities are the lines of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

At that hour Stanton's new dial system of approximately 560 telephones was put into service on what has been described as a split dial exchange connected directly with the company's exchange in Big Spring.

To call either the operator for information or to call Big Spring the Stanton telephone user will dial "0" while to place a long distance call to any other point the Stanton will dial the single numeral "9". As the service has been explained, if a Stanton subscriber has misplaced her directory and wants to know the number of the neighbor just across the street, she will dial "0" for the operator for this information and the operator who answers will be located in the Big Spring exchange the same operator

C-City Rodeo Is Slated Aug. 19-22

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Frontier Roundup Association announced this week that plans had been completed for the 18th Annual Colorado City Frontier Roundup and Rodeo, Aug. 19-22.

The Triangle Bell Rodeo outfit will put on the rodeo this year, according to Alvie Hickman, secretary of the Roundup Association, with Duke Gibbs of Belton, as producer. Dan Coates will announce.

The Old Timer's Reunion is set for Aug. 20, according to Hickman, with Mrs. Oscar Majors as director of activities.

Mrs. Robert Motley will act as girl's sponsor.

AP Commodity Price Index Shows Decline

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Associated Press index of important commodity prices declined this week, with the grains and cotton component hitting a new 1953 low.

The index was at 178.62, compared with 180.81 a week ago and 186.39 a year ago.

Former King Farouk's Art To Be Auctioned

CAIRO, Aug. 8 (AP)—An Army spokesman said today millions of dollars' worth of ex-King Farouk's art and antique art collections will be sold at a five-week auction starting February, 1954. Art observers said the sale will be one of the biggest ever held.

who furnishes information to Big Spring subscribers.

Two "first calls" were placed simultaneously when the system went into service on a switch-over from the old crank-style telephones in a matter of a very few seconds. One of these was from Mayor and Mrs. Woodford Sale to his brother, E. B. (Chick) Sales at Bryan, and the other was from Mrs. Hilla Weathers, manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, to the Big Spring Herald reporting the switch-over to the improved service as having been completed.

Operators said the second the system went into effect the lines to Big Spring were immediately so jammed with calls to Big Spring that it was necessary to route Mrs. Weathers' call over a private line of the company and through the Midland exchange.

Up until this new service was put in service Stanton subscribers used cranks on the side such as were in vogue as far back as 50 years ago. Mrs. Weathers said she understands that very few neighboring towns, especially in the West, have the splendid inter-city telephone service that this newly installed Stanton system gives this community and its nearest neighbor on the east.

"If we want to call Midland," Mrs. Weathers explains, "we have to dial numeral '9' and then place our call. We would also have to dial '9' if we were calling London, England. But to get Big Spring all we have to do is dial '0' and we have Big Spring."

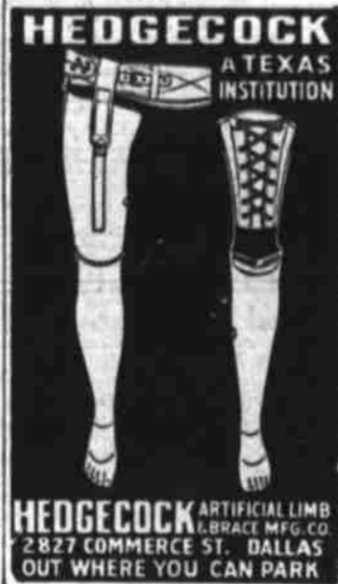

Probably two seconds before noon the old system was in service and four seconds later it was out forever and the new dial equipment had started buzzing. The shift-over was almost instantaneous.

Among the telephone company officials present for the change-over were Bill Yeatts of Midland, district manager; Cliff Fisher of Big Spring, manager of the Big

New Alarm System Used

STANTON (SC) — With the advent of the new telephone dial system installed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and put into operation at noon Friday, Stanton acquired a 24-hour fire alarm system. The number to be dialed to report a fire is 4-3333 and the report will be received by the Arlington Ambulance Service, the Martin County Memorial Hospital, or some other office which is open around the clock.

These stations have been equipped with switches with which to sound the city fire siren to summon the volunteer firemen. The reporting station will hold the line to the City Hall open until the firemen arrive there in order to give them the location of the fire. Thus the person reporting the fire can give the location but once and then set to work trying to extinguish the blaze himself before the fire equipment arrives.

The United States has 29.3 telephones for every hundred people; Sweden, 25.2; Canada, 22.1; Switzerland and New Zealand 19.9.

Lengthy Hearing On Judge Ouster Charges Likely

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (UP)—A lengthy hearing on the ouster charges against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice seemed certain today as the list of called witnesses stood at 22.

The hearing will begin Aug. 17. It will be conducted by District Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown, who was named by the State Supreme Court to act as master-in-chancery in developing facts for the court.

Removal of the 79th District judge, who has been backed by the political power of George Parr of San Diego, was requested by 11 lawyers who live in the South Texas area.

Subpoenas have been issued for three district judges and former District Judge Sam G. Reams, who was beaten in his bid for re-election last year by Laughlin.

District judges called are Roger Thurmond of Del Rio, Arthur A. Klein of Brownsville and E. D. Salinas of Laredo, the latter two at the request of Laughlin's attorney, Clint Small Sr. of Austin.

Ike Approves Blue Tongue Control Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (UP)—President Eisenhower approved today a bill giving the Agriculture Department authority to control and eradicate scrapie and blue tongue, diseases that have caused heavy losses in sheep.

A congressional report on the measure said that outbreaks of the two animal diseases have been discovered in sheep raising areas and permanent controls are necessary.

It said a 1952 outbreak of scrapie in Butte county, Calif., caused destruction of 800 sheep. The disease has also been identified in Ohio and Illinois.

The report added that 325,000 California sheep recently were infected with blue tongue and there were earlier outbreaks in West Texas and Utah. In controlling these and similar diseases, federal officials condemn and kill the infected animal and cooperate with state and local agencies in paying partial damages to owners.

throughout the 1952-53 school year. Boarding students will register on Monday, Sept. 14.

Schreiner is a fully-accredited military school, and includes four years of high school and two years of junior college work. It is a church-related (Presbyterian) school with an emphasis on Christian Education.

'Blue-Tongue' Disease Hits Glasscock Flocks

GARDEN CITY (SC) — The flocks of nearly every sheep rancher in Glasscock County have been hit this year by blue-tongue disease, which is more commonly called sore-muzzle in this area, according to County Agent Oliver West.

"Texas sheepmen have been having some animals with stiffness for years," West explains, "but this year it seems to be worse than it has been for many years. It has been definitely established that the disease which is attacking our sheep is blue-tongue or sore-muzzle. Some of our ranchers have as high as 20 per cent of both the ewes and lambs with the disease."

He says death losses can naturally be expected to be higher on some ranches than on others. Symptoms of the disease include, West explains, nasal discharge; a swelling of the lips with a tendency to bleed at the margins when handled; lameness; depression; rapid loss of weight; failure to eat; with ulcers of various size sometimes being found in the mouth, sometimes on the end of the tongue and sometimes right behind the front teeth. Many times, West says, a red circle or inflammation of the coronary band right above the hoof and bulb of the heel is seen. In some cases there is an inflammation of the band at the root of the horn.

Dr. D. A. Price of the Sonora Experiment Station has been here working with West and the ranchers in seeking to solve the problem of the disease. He explains that sore-muzzle is a virus disease which is spread by a sand fly or biting gnat which bites only at night. These gnats, he says, are extremely small, being about one-fourth as large as a small mosquito, or even smaller. They breed in places similar to those preferred for this purpose by mosquitoes.

According to Dr. Price and West it is believed there are at least four different strains of the virus in Texas and possibly more. At least 11 different strains have been found and isolated in South Africa, they said, and it is definitely known that some Glasscock County ewes have been attacked by two different strains of the virus recently.

Price has taken blood from a number of sheep here during the week in an effort to discover whether or not there are other strains present. He said that he and Dr. W. T. Hardy, also of the Sonora Station, believe they will have a vaccine for the disease developed within a year or a little longer. They say new drugs have been tried on the sick animals but that these have not proved to be of any value in combatting the outbreak.

Price and West say that for the present their recommendations are to leave the sheep alone but to take as good care as is possible of them. They say that if one of the animals is found to be in poor flesh, drawn and weak in the pasture, that it can be loaded in a pickup and hauled to shade somewhere in the pasture, but that animals should not be carried on a horse in the hot sunshine since most of those handled this way will die. They say the best treatment they can suggest just now is to move sick animals, by pickup, to shade, and that most of these will recover.

"This sore-muzzle should not be confused with the sore-mouth that is the effect of eating irritating plants, cactus or that may come from pneumonia or other common diseases," West explains. Many hundreds of animals have been unnecessarily subjected, at considerable expense, to sore-mouth vaccination, penicillin injections and drenching for stomach worms.

The county agent says that some times sheep with bad cases of blue-tongue or sore-muzzle get screw worm infestations and have to be treated accordingly. He says the disease is affecting sheep in country where recent rains have greened the grass up and also in country where there hasn't been any rain and it is still very dry.

Border Patrolmen To Go To California

Border Patrolmen stationed in Big Spring were to leave again today for at least two months of temporary duty in California.

The four patrolmen were ordered to California several weeks ago, but the assignment was cancelled. Elmo Rainbolt, inspector-in-charge, said the new orders probably involve the same assignment of assisting in blocking the influx of Mexican nationals into California for the harvest season.

DFC Pilots Honored At Big Wing Review

Webb Air Force Base personnel looked like Infantry foot-soldiers Saturday when a special wing review was held honoring three fighter pilots.

Approximately 2,500 airmen and their officers took part in the ceremony. The three pilots were presented Distinguished Flying Crosses by the new commanding officer, Col. Fred M. Dean.

Recipients of the honor were 1st Lt. Richard L. Raymond, 1st Lt. John F. McCloskey, and 1st Lt. Lynn E. Thomas. All won the DFC medals while serving in Korea.

The wing review was the first for Col. Dean since he took command at Webb. And it was the consensus among spectators that the men did their new commander proud.

"Open base" had been declared for the occasion, and many civilians were present. The entire service took less than an hour, starting a few minutes after 8 a.m. and ending just before 9 o'clock.

Although the ceremony took place on the flight line, about the only way spectators could tell it was an Air Force occasion was by the aircraft flying over. The ceremony had all the appearance of a well-practiced Infantry maneuver.

Airmen, cadets and officers marched onto the field to the strains of music played by the 509th Air Force Band. Starting at the north end of the flight line, squadrons marched to the inspection site in strict military fashion.

Commander of troops, Col. Henry S. Tyler Jr., then turned the men over to Col. Dean. After the inspection, the three pilots marched to the reviewing stand where medals were presented. Lt. Raymond's DFC came as a result of his action in destroying a 15-truck North Korean convoy on March 2, 1953. He was leading a four-plane flight at the time he spotted the camouflaged convoy.

Lt. Thomas on March 9, 1952, destroyed an anti-aircraft unit after his plane had been hit and a tip tank severed. When hit, his plane went into a spin. However, he recovered control, spotted the firing unit, and destroyed it.

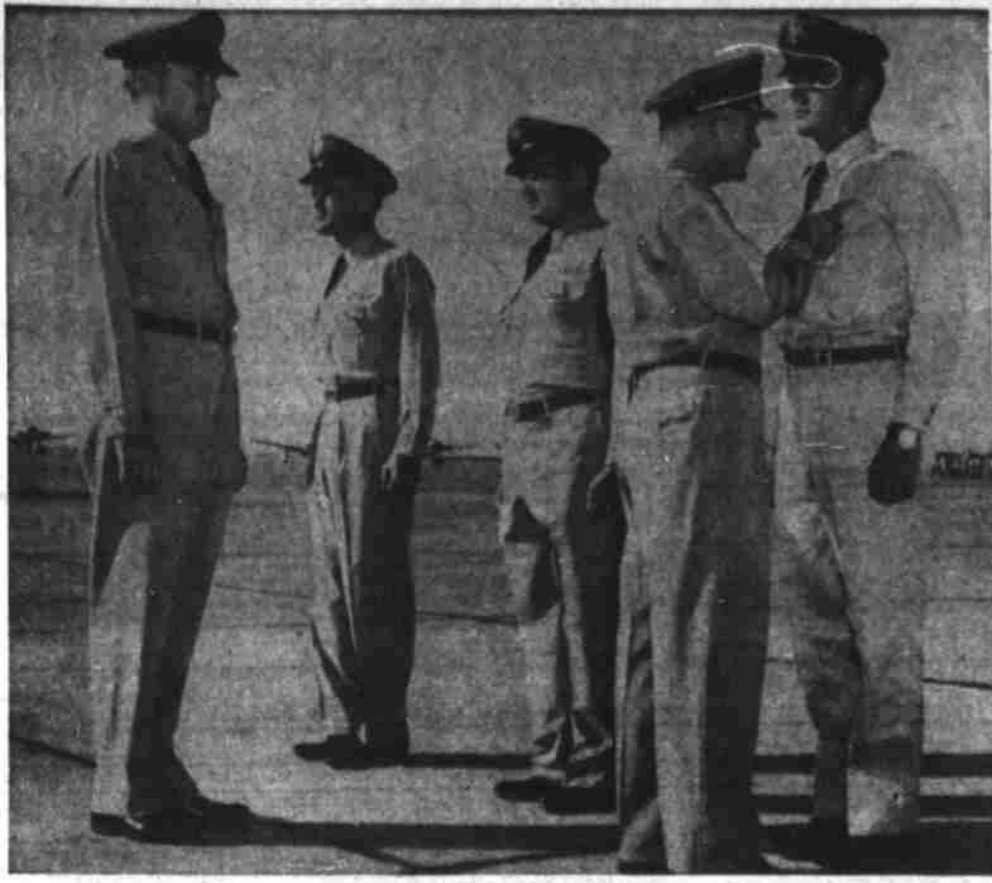

Lt. McCloskey's award resulted from his locating a spotter aircraft and ground unit, thereby preventing ground bombardment of American troops.

After the presentation, the troops passed in review as a salute to the honored pilots and the new commanding officer. It was at this time that two flights of T33 jets and T28 propeller powered planes was led by Lt. Col. James A. Wilson. Major Herbert H. Bahke led the T28 flight.

Rooney Settlement Bill Inked By Ike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill directing payment of $5,000 to Lt. Thomas C. Rooney and Mrs. Rooney of San Antonio, Tex., in settlement of claims arising out of the death of their two-year-old son.

The child was electrocuted accidentally by faulty lighting fixtures on Sept. 11, 1950, in the apartment furnished them by the Army while Lt. Rooney was serving at Frankfurt, Germany.

Pinning On Awards

Three Distinguished Flying Crosses were awarded in Wing review ceremonies at Webb AFB Saturday. Here, Col. Fred M. Dean, base commander, pins the DFC to the uniform of 1st Lt. John F. McCloskey. Others receiving the medal were 1st Lt. Richard L. Raymond, second from left, 1st Lt. Lynn Thomas, third from left. Standing at left is Lt. Col. William S. Smallwood, Wing Review Adjutant. ## Rayburn Says We Must Keep Strong

BONHAM, Aug. 8 (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn said today we must keep our nation strong whether Russia has the hydrogen bomb or not.

When a newsman told him that Soviet Premier Malenkov had announced today that the U. S. doesn't enjoy a monopoly on the bomb any more, Rayburn answered:

"We can't afford to let down. We must keep ourselves strong at all times whether they have it or not. We must remember that other nations also have scientific men, engineers and builders." Rayburn, a Democratic congressman of many years from Texas and former Speaker of the House, arrived yesterday in Bonham, where he lives with his sister, Miss Lu Rayburn.

He said he was just going to relax for a while, visit with friends, go fishing. He has a ranch about 15 miles from here, where he often goes to rest. The ranch has no telephone.

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered—and how much I could save!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel. Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas. Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

You can see all around. You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

It's heavier for better roadability. You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide.* Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it. You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops. An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

And it's the lowest-priced line. A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field. *Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and "Bel Air" models at extra cost.

Vote Of Confidence Is Given Dairy Inspector

Howard County dairymen were cautioned Friday against making any further accusations they can't prove against Health Department Inspector Richard Braze.

"There were a lot of general statements made here this afternoon, but no proof," Mayor G. W. Dabney told Ransom Galloway, Freddie White and Dalton White at the end of a series of hearings on complaints dairymen had leveled at Braze.

Stressing that he was making no accusations against anyone, the mayor said he thought that public airing of the dairymen's complaints "has hurt the producers and distributors a great deal."

"We hope the discussions will be of some benefit to the consumers," Mayor Dabney declared.

The mayor's remarks amounted to a vote of confidence on the part of city and county officials in the milk inspector, Dr. Charles A. Pigford, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard Health Unit, had requested an "official expression of opinion" on results of the week of hearings.

No other city or county official offered any comment except Judge R. H. Weaver who said he hoped dairymen and health officials would "go away from here with a better understanding."

Mayor Dabney also emphasized that officials want no let-down in sanitation. "The consumer comes before everyone," he asserted after recognizing that "no one has a harder job than the dairyman."

The Friday afternoon meeting of dairymen, health department representatives and city and county officials came after both city and county commissioners had met with the other groups in separate sessions.

Calloway had submitted to the commissioners a list of 11 complaints he said the Howard County Dairy Association had against Braze. None of the complaints was substantiated at the Friday hearing.

Galloway expressed some doubt concerning who was represented by the complaints against the milk inspector.

"I guess I've been double-crossed," he said after four other dairymen had declared that "Galloway doesn't represent me."

Ralph Neill and Fred Wilson spoke for the dairy operators who said they had no complaints against Braze.

"You have to keep a dairy clean," Neill said. "I keep mine clean and the others can too, if they want to. I want it clean. I know that babies have to drink our milk. Mr. Braze helped me."

"If Mr. Braze keeps on, he'll have my barn where I won't be ashamed for anyone to see it," Wilson told the group. "Nobody is representing me here."

A. E. Merworth and D. C. Buchanan said they agreed with Neill and Wilson.

"Just who do you represent, Mr. Galloway?" Judge Weaver then asked.

"I guess I've been double-crossed," Galloway replied.

Midland and Mitchell County dairymen got us into this," said Freddie White.

Coahoma Teacher Honored

M. T. Jenkins (right) vocational agriculture teacher in the Coahoma High School was awarded a distinguished service plaque at Dallas Friday for assistance given farmers in the Coahoma area.

R. A. Hanson, (right), teacher at Maria, was honored for his services in building a program of vocational agriculture in Presidio County, and John Atkins (center) of Iran, was honored for supervision of farming activities in Pecos County.

While joined Galloway in any oral complaints against Braze's methods. They said dairymen were cut off from their markets for long periods of time.

Braze produced a file of reports which he said showed that some operators had records of high bacteria counts and "added water" in their milk. He said some milk delivered to a processing plant in Midland "contained big globs of chlorine powder."

The operator said he thought hired help may have put water in the milk to refill cans after skimming cream off the top. Another said he uses a cleaning compound which might contain chlorine. He admitted the milk may have belonged to another dairyman after Braze accused him of "bootlegging" milk produced by another dairy on which permit had been suspended.

The inspector admitted he had refused to grant one operator a new permit, one of the actions listed in the dairymen's complaints. He said he thought refusal to re-issue the permit is justified by "the record."

Judge Weaver pointed out that dairymen can appeal to the health officer (Dr. Pigford) for reconsideration of Braze's decisions. Further appeal may be made to higher health authorities or in the courts, he said.

Judge Weaver called for adjournment of the meeting after the 11 complaints had been discussed separately. Dr. Pigford said he would welcome dairymen to his office in Midland at any time they have any problems to discuss. Braze told the city and county officers that "I've done what I thought was right. I will appreciate any suggestions."

Coahoma Agriculture Teacher Is Achievement Award Winner

M. T. Jenkins, vocational agriculture instructor in the Coahoma High School, and advisor to the Coahoma Future Farmers of America Chapter, was one of two vocational agriculture teachers in Area II, which includes most of West Texas, who were honored with adult-education achievement awards at Dallas during the week.

The other teacher was Lester Buford of Brownfield.

Jenkins and Buford were presented with engraved bronze plaques in recognition of their "distinguished service in their respective communities."

Prior to the meeting at which the awards were presented, a committee of teachers had selected Jenkins and Buford from among more than 90 others in Area II, as the leading teachers in the field of adult education. Their selections were based on the amount and kind of services provided farm people in their communities. A spokesman for the committee said both Jenkins and Buford "have been prominent in working with farm farmers and in co-operation with other agencies working with farm people."

The presentation of the "Meritorious Service Awards" was made Friday at the close of a three-day conference attended by 850 Texas vocational agriculture teachers.

R. E. (Bob) Post, vocational agriculture teacher at Colorado City, was given an award for "distinguished service in promoting the FFA and Vocational Agriculture above a local level."

In the presentation ceremony it was pointed out that providing service to farm people is an integral part of the overall program of vocational agriculture and is a responsibility which parallels the teaching of vocational agriculture students in high school.

The plan of providing awards to vocational agriculture teachers for outstanding work has just initiated this year, according to E. L. Tiner of Big Spring, supervisor of Area II, who said that since most of the teachers are on approximately the same salary scale, the advisory council felt that there was a real need for recognizing teachers of outstanding achievements earned by service to the community above and beyond normal duty. Plans have been made to continue these awards each year, Tiner said.

HOW ABOUT A CUP OF COFFEE Mrs. Thomas A. Dolan, a native of Wallasey, Cheshire, England, asks a customer. People who don't know, have called Mrs. Dolan a Dane and a Yankee. But she hastily admits she's neither.

LOTS OF STUDY is what it will take before Mrs. Earl W. Flatman can qualify for her American citizenship. Her home was formerly in Silesia, Germany. Young Earl Jr. is already an American citizen.

They Come From Far Places...

By JO HILL

Big Spring is quite a cosmopolitan city. If you don't believe it, just look around.

With the reopening of Webb Air Force Base, many women from foreign countries have come to call Big Spring home.

Each of them has had problems . . . language and climatic primarily. But most of them have mastered their problems and are now true Big Springers, Texans and most of all Americans.

Take Mrs. Earl W. Flatman, 206 Abilene Ave., for instance. She's from Silesia, Germany, a portion of the country which is right on the Polish border and which, since World War II, has become a part of Poland.

"You can buy more things here in a year than you could in Germany in five years," Mrs. Flatman said in amazement.

How does she like Big Spring? Just fine. At the moment, she's deep into American government and history studying for those all important citizenship papers.

And when she gets lonely she just picks up her son, Earl Jr., 7 months, and they trudge off to visit other German girls living here.

Mrs. Flatman, whose husband is a technical sergeant at the Base, has been in Big Spring since last November.

From another country near the continent has come Mrs. Thomas A. Dolan, 719 Nolan. She is a native of Wallasey, Cheshire, England.

"People in Big Spring are the nicest I've ever met," she opined.

"My main problem has been making people understand what I'm talking about . . . and that seems so funny for we all talk the same language. Some think I'm from Denmark while others say I'm a Yankee from Massachusetts," she laughed.

Mrs. Dolan is employed as a waitress at a local drive-in so she and her husband, A-2C Dolan, have very little time for social activities.

Colombia, the first country in South America, is represented in Big Spring by Mrs. Raymond Wallace, 1703 S. Monticello.

Since arriving in Big Spring last December, Mrs. Wallace has plunged right into the swim of things.

In addition to her housekeeping duties, she, assisted by her captain husband, teaches South American

THIS IS THE WAY TO DO IT comments Mrs. Raymond Wallace (right) as she shows Mrs. Guy Collins the proper hand hold for the Rhumba. Mrs. Wallace, from Medellin, Colombia, teaches South American dancing at the Officers' Wives Club of Webb Air Force Base.

KEEPING THE BABY ENTERTAINED isn't such a job when the little boy's favorite toy is available, believe S-Sgt. and Mrs. M. F. Costa. The Costas were born and reared on the island of Oahu in Hawaii. That's Dennis, 21 months, in the high chair.

Dior Loses A Round Here; Local Women Are Against Shorter Skirts

Women in Big Spring are talking about Christian Dior's proposal to shorten skirts. And what they're saying probably wouldn't be music to the French designer's ears. Dior, creator of the "New Look," is setting the skirt lengths 16-17 inches from the floor.

And local gals are "agin' the movement period. The women have a number of reasons for their dislike of the shorter length. The primary one is that most women's legs aren't very pretty when you start showing them up to the knee-cap.

Too, Big Spring women feel that the current length, mid-calf, is a fine one for everybody.

"I'm going to wear my skirts the same length as I always have," commented Mrs. Kimball Guthrie. "I just don't like skirts shorter than they are now."

Mrs. Jimmy Felts doesn't think that knee caps are pretty or the part of the leg just below the knee cap for that matter. Consequently, she will leave her skirts the same length as they are now.

"That is, I'll leave them the same length if everybody else does," she added thoughtfully.

"The skirts could be just a little bit shorter," opined Mrs. David Elrod. "But not to the extreme that Dior has set. I think the real short skirts are just plain 'tacky' and most women don't have pretty enough legs to wear them anyway."

Would she shorten her skirts if everybody else did? "I said I wouldn't lower my skirts when the 'New Look' came in but I did and I'd probably raise them too," she replied. Mrs. Charles Weber doesn't want to raise the length of her skirts.

"I just prefer them the moderate length that they are now. Skirts just look better to me when they're not too short. I don't have the type of legs that short skirts would look nice on," she said.

"Frankly I don't care for short skirts," Mrs. Emmett Grantham stated. "I measured that 17 inches and that's almost to the knee cap. But I guess I'll have to shorten my skirts if everybody else does."

"The new length is horrid," Mrs. H. F. Jarrett has decided. "Personally I think a skirt 13 inches above the floor is short enough. Even 14 inches is a little short and heaven forbid them getting any shorter. I'm hoping that I won't have to raise the length of my skirts."

Perhaps the most definite person interviewed on the subject was Mrs. Jim Zack.

"I think that Dior is crazy and you can quote me," she said excitedly. "Short skirts aren't pretty. I can remember when we used to wear them at the knee cap and above and it wasn't glamorous then."

"Many designers feel that mid-calf is a flattering length for all women's skirts and since Dior started this furore so late in the year, few of the fall styles will feature the shorter lengths. Most retailers had already bought their fall stocks when the thing came up. The designer has created quite a stir which resulted in a lot of publicity for himself and that's what he wanted."

"No short skirts," Mrs. Leonard Shipman urged. "I look better in skirts that are lower than the prescribed 16-17 inches above the floor. I wouldn't even shorten my skirts to the knee."

There is a possibility, according to Mrs. Zack, who with her husband operates Zack's of Margo's that the Spring styles will feature skirts a little shorter than they are now. But in all probability they won't be as short as Dior would like.

For a while at least, Big Spring women can breathe a sigh of relief, and not dash for the needle and thread.

It looks like the battle of the hemlines has lost a round here.

Mrs. and Mrs. Mosby Pharr of Corpus Christi left Saturday for Lubbock after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, 809 W. 18th.

Good Grooming Called Basis For Glamour

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — When I lunched recently with Mary Healy and her talented husband, Peter Lind Hayes, at the Ambassador Hotel where their night club act broke records, they were full of plans.

"There is so much luck in making the right decision," Peter said. "We have offers to do a picture, a Broadway play or to go on a tour with our act."

"Five Thousand Fingers of Dr. T" is getting critical raves, I remarked, adding how much I enjoyed it.

"It's an off-beat picture," Mary commented, "but we liked it."

Peter began softly to sing one of the songs which ended, "more people marry dollars than people marry people." With a face full of fun he announced, "Mary married me for my money."

"And why did you marry Mary?" I asked as I warned Peter I expected a serious answer.

"First I was attracted to her figure and then I looked at her eyes," Peter said. "A person can't hide what is in his eyes. I love people who look at me when I'm talking to them."

"And Mary is a wonderful listener," Peter added.

"What do you dislike in women?" "You mean beside having inattentive eyes when I'm talking to them?" he asked. "I think wearing too much make-up. To me, a woman looks her best with a clean skin—without lipstick or anything on her eyes. And I hate fancy hair-dos."

"That's a break," I said, turning to Mary. "You can please your husband without fussing with yourself."

"But it has its disadvantages," Mary confessed. "Peter never notices anything. When we tested for 'Five Thousand Fingers of Doctor T,' Columbia asked me to lighten my hair. When I gave my consent I thought 'What will Peter say when he sees me blond?' But you know he didn't even notice it and the first time he said anything was after reading about it in someone's column."

"I've kept it this way," Mary continued, "because I had so many letters saying how becoming it was."

"What is the most useful beauty lesson you've learned in Hollywood?" I wanted to know.

"Individuality," Mary confided. "It is tempting to adopt something which is becoming to someone else. But this doesn't mean it will do anything for you. You must study yourself and point up your best features."

"Even with make-up you have to experiment. So often you'll hear someone ask a friend, 'What shade of lipstick are you wearing?' But when they try that same color, due to their skin chemistry, it

BEAUTY CARE

There is still time this summer to make plans for fall beauty. The following leaflets may be just the ones you are looking for. Order them by number:

- M-12—Exercises for Developing the Breasts
- M-15 Fashion and Make-up Secrets of the Stars
- M-25—Home Beauty Treatments and How to Make Them looks quite different and is not a bit becoming. It took me ages to find a shade of lipstick that I knew was RIGHT for me but it was worth the effort."

"What is your top glamour secret?" I asked Mary.

"I don't think I should hear this," Peter said as he ducked over to another table to chat with friends.

"Glamour," Mary answered. "That word means many things to many people. But to me it signifies perfect grooming with a knowledge of all the make-up tricks done so subtly you're not aware of them. I don't think you can be obvious in your attempt to attract attention and still be glamorous."

I complimented Mary's clear skin which was unpowdered.

"I wear make-up so much when I'm working," Mary told me, "that the rest of the time I like to let the air get to my skin."

"What's your favorite cosmetic?" I asked.

"My grandmother had the most beautiful complexion I've ever seen," Mary remarked, "and I use her routine."

"I make a paste out of oatmeal and warm water. Then I spread it over my face and neck and let it dry for about ten minutes. A quick washing, then, and the complexion treatment is finished."

Across the room Peter made sign language that they had to rehearse.

"What has been one of the hardest things you've had to overcome?" I asked as a final question.

"Getting tied up in knots," Mary said without hesitation. "I found when we were on the road that my motor was racing day and night. And traveling from one hotel to another with irregular hours upset me so I got sick. The doctor told me I had to learn to relax."

"What helped you accomplish this?"

"It was a combination of many things, but mostly it was learning to take things as they come."

"Life can be beautiful if you don't worry. Just relax and allow your fate to unfold," Mary said seriously.

MRS. GOEBEL GENE MUSIC JR.

June Brownrigg, Goebel Gene Music Exchange Vows In Church Ceremony

In a formal, double ring ceremony Thursday June Marie Brownrigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brownrigg, became the bride of Goebel Gene Music Jr. of Elk City, Okla.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Music of Elk City. Ernest McCoy, uncle of the bride and minister of the Church of Christ in Gainesville, read the ceremony at the Main St. Church of Christ at 5:30 p.m.

The church was decorated with fern, baskets of white asters and candelabra holding white tapers. A choir sang "One Alone," "Always," "Faithful and True," "Wedding Prayer" and "O Promise Me." The choir included Stanley Peurifoy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, Dan Conley, David Elrod, Luan Nall, Sue Nell Nall, Jerry Maddox and Frances Walker.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the hands and a train. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and her flowers were gardenias on a white Bible. The Bible belonged to her sister, Mrs. Cleve Cullers, of Wichita Falls, who carried it in her own wedding.

She wore a penny in her shoe and her "something old" was a handkerchief carried by her mother in her wedding.

Mrs. Cullers was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink organza over pink taffeta, styled with a sweetheart neckline and gathered skirt.

Jimmie Rae Ater of Roscoe and Earlene Hatchett of Lamesa were candlelighters. They chose gowns of blue organza over taffeta styled with high necklines and self-covered buttons. They wore pastel blue carnations wristlets.

Owen Cosgrove of Oklahoma City, Okla., served as the best man and Cleve Cullers, Earl Dean Music and David McCord ushered. Deana Kay Music was flower girl and Cullen Keith Cullers was ring bearer.

For traveling the bride wore a tan linen dress suit with British tan accessories. Her jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom.

The couple will live in Abilene where both are students at Abilene Christian College. The bridegroom is a ministerial student and minister of the Swan's Chapel Church, north of Abilene. The bride is a senior.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white organza cloth caught at the corners and at the center front with white bows. The centerpiece was a large wedding ring replica in which was placed a crescent-shaped arrangement of pink and white crepe myrtle. A bridal doll was placed at the side. Appointments were in silver.

Serving punch and the three-tiered wedding cake were Mrs. Earl Dean Music, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Dave McCord, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Loy Acuff presided at the guest book.

Also in the house party were Mrs. Anna Lu Sanders, Jonell West, Peggy and Patty Frances, Mrs. Roy H. Rickner and Mrs. Margaret McCoy.

Out-of-town guests were the bridegroom's parents and Mrs. Lewis Hale, Mrs. Julius Bode of Christoval; Mrs. E. L. Lowder of Canute, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Dave M. Cord and son of Elk City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dean Music and daughters, Deana Kay and Lana Gay of Elk City; Mrs. Nell Rowe and daughter Glanda of Eunice, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCoy and children of Gainesville and Mrs. Roy R. Rickner and Eric of Abilene.

Newcomers' Daughter Is Student Of Piano

A piano teacher with two years experience—and herself only a June high school graduate—is an accomplishment Jan Baggett can claim.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett, who moved here from Abilene two months ago, Jan will be headed for Oberlin, Ohio, in the fall, to enter the Oberlin Conservatory of Music as a freshman. She has won a scholarship to the school.

At the same time, Jan's seven-year-old brother, Mike, will be entering the second grade at Park Hill School.

The Baggetts are a family of native Texans, except for Jan. She was born in Oklahoma, but says she's a Texas anyway. Her father claims Electra as his home town, and Mrs. Baggett, Decatur. They lived in Abilene for six years.

Baggett, a sales representative for Cosden, leads the family in their enthusiasm for fishing. All four of them have often tried their luck at Possum Kingdom, near Breckenridge.

They are still looking for a favorite spot in these parts, though the women in the family suspect that Baggett has found his own special spot at Lake Colorado City.

The Baggetts are living at 1507 Aylford and are members of the First Methodist Church.

Farewell Party For Jack Lehive Set

A farewell party for Jack Lehive, who is being transferred to Presque Isle, Me., was planned for Saturday at the Turtle Club meeting in the hall of St. Thomas Catholic Church Thursday.

Ronald M. Smith was welcomed as a new member. Plans were made for a picnic on Scenic Mountain next Thursday night. Sam Davis and Janice Rome will be in charge of food. Richard Angelo, Jan Rankin and Earl Krebsback will plan the entertainment.

Club by-laws were discussed. Recreation included pool and ping-pong. Duane Quinn and Jan Rankin served refreshments.

Fifteen members attended, including Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, sponsor. Smith is going on leave to his home in Pittsfield, Mass.

An Admiring Family

The family spotlight falls on Jan Baggett as she plays the piano. Gathered around are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett, and her brother, Mike.

Crepe, Satin Combine For Most Elegant Result

Fabulous fabric contrast... the satin gathered over the bust is cocktail elegance for fall: Jo Copeland, who dresses the young Park Avenue matron, makes a sheath of crepe to bring out the lustre of satin which she drapes over the bosom and flares out with side panels from the hips. The sheath skirt under the flying panels is straight and narrow—the panels being designed to give a graceful fullness for any size. Notice that the satin gathered over the bust is not bulky... but rather cleverly designed to give the bosom just the right amount of emphasis. Make yours in the same combination of fabrics for a most elegant result.

Please use the guide below which represents the body measurements used by this designer:

Size 10, bust 33½, waist 24, hips 34½; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36; size 14, bust 36½, waist 26½, hips 37½; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39; size 18, bust 39½, waist 30, hips 40½.

Size 12 requires 2¾ yards of 50-inch material for the dress-sheath and 2½ yards of 50-inch material for the contrasting fabric.

Fashion Tips

Schlaparelli, noted French designer, says the wise woman will make every costume her own with one touch of the unexpected. She suggests such tricks as tucking not one but four handkerchiefs in the graduated pockets of lounge trousers; a king-size, shocking bow poised on the bodice of a princess-line dress; a flash of buttons on the walking slit of a stem petticoat.

A Bible Thought For Today —

All time in civilized lands is dated from His birth, yet He came in the form of a servant and performed humble, indeed menial tasks. Inflated egotist characterizes very little men, not really great ones. "Jesus . . . began to wash the disciples feet." — John 13:5.

Expediting Fourth Street Sign-Up Would Meet With Wide Approval

Within a month, engineers, for the state highway department will be closing the folio in plans for the September lettings. Big Spring's new east-west outlet, Fourth Street, has an excellent chance of being included if city and county officials can tell the state highway department that the right-of-way has been secured and curb and gutter commitments signed.

Inhumanity to Man Is Familiar Trick Employed By Communists

In the first exchange of prisoners, last April, the U. S. negotiator protested to the Reds the small number of sick and wounded Americans handed over at Panmunjom. The total of all prisoners released by the Reds was 684, of whom 149 were Americans. Keeping in mind that both sides were supposed to turn over all sick and wounded, the U. N. Command on May 1 protested that the enemy held back 375 Allied POWs.

stead as they come face to face with the realization that ordinary diligence and action will not be enough to get the job done in time for the September letting. Thus, we believe that most people would applaud the efforts of the two governing boards were they to designate or hire someone to stay exclusively on this job, not only contacting property owners, but actually getting them on the dotted line. If it takes a notary to accompany the contact representative, we believe the expense would be justified.

WASHINGTON — When President Eisenhower took off for the Governors' Conference in Seattle and Congressmen took off for the 48 states and elsewhere, the national scorecard wasn't bad to look at. It read: 1. Cease-fire in Korea—with its profound relief to parents, relatives, sweethearts, and young men and women trying to plan a future in a peaceless world. For the moment, at least, the killing and maiming are at an end.

Business Men Talk About A Recession, But Their Actions Indicate Optimism are necessary to help farmers. Wheat quotas have been proposed for next year. But the broad pattern of the Eisenhower administration has been away from control. In this drive toward greater economic freedom, the President was ably served by Sen. Robert A. Taft. The new freedom in the marketplace is as much a tribute to the Senator in death as the service in his honor in the rotunda of the Capitol.

Debate Still Rages On What To Tell The Public About H-Bomb

WASHINGTON — Among the advisors around President Eisenhower the debate is still going on as to whether the President should tell the American people, and incidentally the rest of the world, about the swift development of the hydrogen bomb and its fantastic destructiveness. In the course of this debate, they are asking—and attempting to answer—some of the large questions hovering in the air above and beyond the stuff of political controversy that makes the headlines.

One answer, as suggested by Senator Wiley, is that if the American people were told as much of the truth as possible, within the bounds of security, by the highest authority, then they would be ready to accept even at some sacrifice the necessity for protective measures. At a minimum they would back in Congress a program to build a continental defense system even though this might mean higher taxes.

Bible Words to Live by PSALM 139:23 - "Search me, O God, and know my heart." A habit is a tendency to act in a certain way. Habits of thinking and feeling are called attitudes. The student's attitude toward his studies determines, very largely, his attainment. The workman's attitude toward his job decides, to a large degree, his success. The homemaker's attitude toward her task makes the difference between its being drudgery or joyful service. Just so, an individual's attitude toward God determines his spiritual growth.

As we earnestly and continually pray God to search us and know our hearts, we will perceive led to search ourselves. In so doing we are almost certain to see the error and futility of negative attitudes. The clouds of war and social unrest cast their pall everywhere. There is a danger that, as we take a dim view of many things, we will soon take a dim view of everything. While we face our perplexities, we must look beyond them to the fact of God's sovereignty. We shall be doing this well if we cultivate the attitude that takes "our Father's world" and that we do "better to light a candle than to curse the darkness."

In Some Parts Of The World, The Price Of Wives Is Higher

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Just to show you how completely daring a fellow can get, we will let today's subject be Women. And just to show you that even a daring fellow will hedge when the showdown comes, we will emphasize that none of these items about women are our own. We just read it somewhere.

First of all there drifts in the intelligence that the cash value of wives in some areas has yielded to inflationary pressures. It is reported that chieftains in Southern Sudan agreed that the price of a mate should be increased from 20 spears to 50 (nothing said about the quality of the spears). New Guinea tribesmen are now selling brides at $2,800 a head, so one can see that the dollar isn't worth much in New Guinea. They've even put price ceilings on wives in some portions of Africa, to protect the distressed bachelors.

en's club convention in Minneapolis where the vote was 1,355 to 1,219 against endorsing a proposed constitutional amendment providing that equality of rights shall not be abridged by law because of sex. Naturally, with 2,500 women present, there was a lot of debate, and you can see that the vote was close. There was one housewife arguing against this proposal who contended that actually the intent of the amendment was special privilege because of sex and that this in itself was inequality. This may seem a little bit complicated, but it's not a viewpoint you can go around arguing against.

And there was the housewife whose husband came home and asked her what was on the dinner menu. "Sp. nce cake," she replied. "I sponged the eggs off Mrs. Smith, the flour off Mrs. Jones and the milk off Mrs. Brown."

It was a pretty, young lady who presented the check at the bank window, for cashing, and the teller asked if she could identify herself. Whereupon the young lady dipped into her purse and pulled out a small mirror, glanced at it for a moment and then looked up and said, "Yes, it's me all right."

Well, as the experts say, we live in a different economy.

For instance there seems to be one woman in New Jersey whose worth is beyond all calculation. The story was that her husband got trapped in an elevator shaft on a Saturday and had to stay there until Monday morning until someone showed up to get him out.

But did his wife in the meantime go shrieking about the neighborhood and bothering the police because her husband had not come home? She did not. Saturday was his "night out," she explained, and she had taken it for granted he was out with the boys. H-m-m-m.

Two friends met and one of them noticed that the other's hands were dirty. "How come your hands are covered with soot?" he asked. The friend explained that he had just been down to the station to see his wife off on a long trip to visit relatives. "But why are your hands dirty?" "I patted the engine."

You have heard about the other man who entered the office of a noted divorce lawyer. "I want to know if I have grounds for divorce," he said. "Are you married?" asked the lawyer. "Of course."

"Then," he replied, "You have grounds." Repeat, repeat: This is not our platform. We only read this stuff. —BOB WHIPKEY

Confident Living - Norman Vincent Peale

Famous Hotel Man Publishes Own Independence Day Prayer

A few years ago a New York publisher was about to issue a book with the title "The Man Who Bought the Plaza." Although the volume had been rushed from its author through the press, before it could be sent out to the bookstores the entire first edition had to be reprinted so that it could be reissued under the new name, "The Man Who Bought the Waldorf."

"We are afraid of the terror that flies by night, and the arrow that flies by day, the pestilence that walks in darkness and the destruction that wastes at noon-day." "We have turned from You to go our selfish way. We have broken Your commandments and denied Your truth. We have left Your altars to serve the false gods of money and pleasure and power. Forgive us and help us.

This is just one sidelight on the career of a remarkable hotel man named Conrad Hilton, who was thought to have capped his career of building one of the world's greatest hotel chains when he bought New York's famous and fashionable Plaza Hotel, and then upset the publication of his biography by going on to get control of the same city's best-known hotel, the Waldorf-Astoria. And this interesting Texan is not content with that achievement—Porto Rico's Caribe Hilton Hotel is the first step in a world-wide program of building Hilton hotels from Madrid to Istanbul.

"Now, darkness gathers around us and we are confused in all our counsels. Losing faith in You, we lose faith in ourselves. "Inspire us with wisdom, all of us, of every color, race and creed, to use our wealth, our strength, to help our brother, instead of destroying him. "Help us to do Your will as it is done in heaven and to be worthy of Your promise of peace on earth. "Fill us with new faith, new strength, and new courage, that we may win the battle for peace.

Conrad Hilton's success has had its foundation in a strong faith in God and in the power of prayer. In the July issue of Guideposts magazine published at Pawling, New York, he tells the story of how he came to publish an Independence Day prayer for peace under the title "America on its Knees." I cannot recall that fascinating story here, but I do want to give you that prayer in the hope that you will get on your knees and add your voice to those of the thousands of Americans who have already used it: "Our Father in Heaven: We pray that You save us from ourselves. "The world that you made for us, to live in peace, we have made into an armed camp. We live in fear of war to come.

"Be swift to save us, dear God, before the darkness falls." Conrad Hilton will send you a copy of this prayer in a color reprint illustrated by a beautiful painting of Uncle Sam on him at 9970 Santa Monica Boulevard, Beverly Hills, California. Why not write to America and get your copy today. Let's sow American knees deep in this moving prayer to the God of our fathers. In a troubled world, all of us will do well to pray for peace. And for God's guidance for our beloved country. Whether you choose to use Conrad Hilton's prayer or words of your own, your faith in God and your prayers can help make the world the peaceful and beautiful place God meant it to be.

Chameleons Like Insects Alive

Small lizard-like animals are sold, sometimes, at a circus or carnival under the name of "chameleons." They differ from the true chameleons of Africa and southern Asia, but have some power of changing color. When a chameleon of that kind is brought home, there is worry about what to do with it. If small, live insects are offered (houseflies, for example) the animal is likely to eat them, but it usually refuses to eat dead insects. Various readers have asked me what to feed my pet, and I have given a few suggestions. One reader, Joan Gebhardt, told me about her worries last September, but now she has written me another letter with some cheerful news. She says: "Most of my friends who got chameleons from the circus last September had them only a short time before the chameleons died. I thought you might find it interesting to know that my chameleon is still living. We call him Willie. "During the winter, Mother got Willie to eat vanilla pudding and apple sauce. He would lick such food from her fingers. "Three cheers for your mother, Joan! Not only did she help you solve your problem, but she also may have opened the way for thousands of other owners of such pets to save them from dying from hunger. I, your pet enjoys vanilla pudding and apple sauce, it seems likely that other animals of the same kind can be trained to eat such food. Maybe they might learn to like jelly or jam! Helping set up the food were, from left to right, Mrs. Dick Hooper, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Leroy Findley, vice president, and Mrs. R. G. Burnett, social chairman. About 47 families attended. From out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Royce Johnson, Denver City; Mr. and Mrs. Rozelle Hillburn, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Daugherty, North Long Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Barber, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tidwell, Midland.

OES Chapter Named For Norman H. Read

Tribute was paid the memory of Norman H. Read when a new chapter of the Order of Eastern Star was instituted Friday evening in Midland.

The chapter has been named the Norman H. Read Chapter, U. D. Ceremonies were held in the new Midland Masonic Temple and a number of people from Big Spring and Coahoma attended.

Mr. Read, a member of a well-known ranching family, served as worthy grand patron of the Order of Eastern Star in 1946. He was a long-time member of the Coahoma Chapter, OES.

During the institution, Mrs. Read, who, herself is a former worthy grand matron, was recognized and spoke briefly. She expressed to the group her appreciation of the honor bestowed on her late husband's memory.

She presented the silver officer badges to the chapter. Many other gifts were presented in memory of Mr. Read by Mrs. Jean Rowe, worthy matron of Coahoma; Mrs. Iva Richardson, worthy matron of Big Spring; Mrs. Rebecca Miles of Arlington, grand secretary; and representatives of other chapters. The institution, under the direction of John Rawlins of Dallas, worthy grand patron, followed a banquet held at 6 p.m. at the Scarbauer Hotel.

Attending from Big Spring were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Helton, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Magee, Mrs. Lena Koberg, Mrs. Annie Ray Howard, Ilene Barnett, Pyrie Bradshaw, Dorothy Driver; Mrs. O. B. Hull, Mrs. Edith Murdock, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. George Pittman, Mrs. Beulah Carnrike, Mrs. Euta Hall, Rad Ware, Mrs. Christine Robinson, Mrs. Berniece Davis, Mrs. Sylvan Dalmont, Mrs. Fred Eaker and Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Read. Among the 25 grand officers attending was Mrs. Mildred Garlitz of Fort Worth, worthy grand matron.

Also attending were about 30 members of the Coahoma Chapter. Mrs. Read has had as her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Childer and Mrs. Eunice Carnell, all of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vollus of Houston.

Childer served as worthy grand patron when Mrs. Read was worthy grand matron. Mrs. Vollus was the worthy grand matron when Mr. Read served as the grand patron. Mrs. Carnell is the present grand conductress.

Refreshments were served to about 300 members following the institution. Members of the Eastern Star from Abilene, Colorado City, Lamesa, Goldsmith, Andrews, Crane, Hobbs, N. M. and Odessa attended as well as those from Big Spring, Coahoma and Midland.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

If You Don't Succeed

Dear Beverly:
I'm seventeen and the more I date the more confused I get. I thought I understood girls until I met "her." She's different from any I've met and doesn't conform to any of the types listed in the date books.

Because I liked her from the first, I was extra careful to leave an impression of being a nice boy and definitely not a wolf. I took her to nice (and I might add, expensive) places and did not even try to kiss her until our seventh date.

Seven may be a lucky number, but not mine. Although she had held my hand occasionally, she struggled free and would not let me kiss her and she offered no reason.

She has since dated me, but on a strictly platonic basis, as neither of us have made any advances. Should I take her action to mean that she wants me only as a friend or should I make another try? If so, how?

Frustrated

Remember the old saying, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again"? That's my advice to you. You like the girl, and she likes you. If she didn't she wouldn't be so available to your calls or spend so much time with you. She may enjoy the free movies etc., too, but you count for something. Just as you tried pretty hard not to leave the impression of being a wolf, she was probably trying to avoid seeming like an easy mark or a cheap sort of girl when she repulsed your kiss. Many girls make it a policy never to kiss a boy the first time he tries.

If you really like her, stay in there pitching! Girls like to be sought after. Never give up until you've tried three times in all. Perhaps something was said or done during the evening to make her angry, embarrassed or otherwise out of the mood for a goodnight kiss.

Why not ask her why she refused you the first time. Or ask if you may kiss her good night, now. If you've got the courage, take her by surprise and she may surprise you by melting in your arms.

(Want to enter a contest and maybe win a prize? Just write Beverly Brandow in care of The Herald telling in 250 words or less why you approve or disapprove of any one of the following: Girls or boys smoking, boys wearing blue jeans around town, girls wearing their hair rolled up in public or wearing shorts in public. Pick your subject and go to work.)

Auxiliary Has Party At Country Club

FORSAN, (Sp1) — The Ladies Auxiliary met at the Country Club recently for canasta and bridge. Twelve members attended. Mrs. J. N. Asbury and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Willis have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Bill White of Monument and Willis' mother, Mrs. Cora Willis of Whittier, Calif. Mrs. Willis also has visited the Jeff Green family and her brother, Oval Fox and family in Guthrie, Okla.

Forsan residents who have been hospitalized in Big Spring hospitals this week are Mrs. W. H. Foresythe, Mrs. E. E. Blankenship, Larry Furse, Frank Thieme, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Philley and C. V. Wash. Mrs. Foresythe and Thieme have been dismissed. Wash was injured in a collision Thursday afternoon near Stanton.

Rickrack Applied With Heat Of Iron

A highly decorative rickrack just irons on, with no sewing! It is covered with a thermoplastic coating which forms a permanent bond with the fabric when the heat of the iron is applied. There are no curling points to interfere with later ironing either.

The plastic treatment is also available on scallop trim that has one scalloped edge and one straight edge. It can be used on collars, pockets and hems or combined with the rick-rack.

DRESS PARADE

By Jo Hill

An interested onlooker at the Rodeo Parade this week, was Mrs. Marion Edwards of Coahoma, whose husband is vice president of the Rodeo Association.

She chose for the occasion a navy blue linen dress fashioned with a collarless neckline and a straight skirt. She wore white embroidery and a bunch of violets at her throat. Her skirt, of grape and white striped nubby weave polished cotton, was pleated all the way around.

Cowgirls, who participated in the Rodeo this week, seemed to wear western fashion styles which differed from the cowgirls in the stands.

Pastel boots were the vogue of the contest entries while the other cowgirls in the stands usually wore moccasins with their riding pants. Betty Gutte was watching the Rodeo performance Friday night wearing a white peasant blouse trimmed in red rick-rack and a red bandana print skirt.

Mrs. Mike Kokinakis, who moved here from Michigan, was intently watching the contestants in the arena. She chose a chartreuse cotton sleeveless blouse with a flared cotton skirt in varying shades of green.

Mrs. Frank Hughes looked charming, riding a Palomino horse in the grand entry Friday evening. She was attired in a royal blue short sleeve western skirt with matching riding pants and a white cowboy hat.

ard pumps and carried a navy kid bag. Bowen, who always manages to look nice, didn't fail when she was seen downtown this week.

She was attired in a black cotton sleeveless blouse with a white double pleated skirt which featured miniature red and black squares. A striking feature was her wide red, white and black patent leather belt. She wore red kid sandals.

Mrs. Raymond Stallings managed to look neat despite the heat as she stood on a downtown street to witness the parade.

She wore a pink salina dress designed with a small collar, cap sleeves and a straight, narrow skirt. She wore brown sling pumps and a rhinestone choker with matching earrings.

GLIMPSE DEPARTMENT: Have you seen Mrs. Lou Carothers wearing her hair pulled back from her face and sporting the new "mobile" earrings? She looks nice. Leaving the bank, Mrs. Reba Baker still looked crisp and cool wearing a blue and white striped seersucker dress, red kid shoes and a panama picture hat.

One of the cutest girls we've seen in a long time is Darlene Montgomery. Her long black curly hair softly frames her face and her eyes are deep blue. Going to work the other day, she wore a white linen blouse decorated with eyelet

Ladies' Aid To Collect Clothing

Plans for collecting clothing to be sent to Korea were made by the Concordia Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the church Educational Building.

The group will send the clothing to the church welfare agency of the Missouri Synod in St. Louis, Mo., where it will be sent to Korea. Serviceable clothing for men, women and children will be collected.

Mrs. W. C. Heckler discussed "Our Mission Work as Personal Evangelism" as part of the study topic, "Disciples in the Home Home Church."

Mrs. F. G. L. Snow opened the meeting with prayer and read from John 1:35-36. A chicken barbecue for members and friends of the church was set for Aug. 23 at the Educational Building.

Final plans were made for a banquet the women will sponsor Sept. 13 for the Lutheran Laymen's League. Men will attend from Monahan, Odessa, San Angelo and Lamesa.

Ten members were present. Mrs. Leroy Budke was welcomed as a new member.

Victor Whitfields Will Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Whitfield will be in Big Spring this week. Whitfield, grand commander of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Texas, will be visiting with the Big Spring Commandery 31 Monday evening.

Refreshments will be served beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the stated meeting will be held at 8. Mrs. Whitfield, supreme inspector in Texas, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, will visit the Big Spring Assembly Tuesday evening.

The couple will remain in Big Spring for several days and will make visits to Colorado City, Snyder, Midland and Sweetwater while in this area.

Fish Fry Given By Warrens Friday

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Warren entertained members of their family and friends with a fish fry Friday evening.

Slides were shown of Charles Warren's trip to Brazil. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Metcalf, and Rene Beth. Mrs. Estalene Montgomery and Karen, Shirley Riddle, Charles Warren and the hosts.

Rainbow Girls

The Big Spring Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Masonic Hall instead of at 7 p.m. as previously announced.

HI-TALK

By Libby Jones

I suppose this isn't really news, but there's been a rodeo in town this past week. And to get plenty of people to flock to the rodeo grounds, the Chamber of Commerce sent a group of pretty girls surrounding towns to advertise the Rodeo.

The girls included Ann White, Mary Sue White, Gay Jones, Barbara Lewter, Carolyn Whitefield, Iris Jones, Barbara Bowen, Mariou Stagg, Rosemary Lawson, Mary Anne Leonard, Nell Dene Choate, Lynelle Claxton, Carolyn Sneed, Glenna Coffee and Janice Nally.

Of course, we've seen quite a few of the kids out at the Rodeo and also at the Hoyle Nix dances after the big event.

Some of the kids seen at one of the other have been Anna Mae Thorp, Roger Brown, Ann White, Darlene Sneed, Louis Stipp, Wayne Medlin, Doss Brookshire, Dean Porter, Travis Fryar, Carolyn Whitefield, Toni Barron, Jim Damron, Nancy King, Frank Long, Bob-ing Joyce Horne. Ann White has had as her guest, Jackie McCright, of Sweetwater, Marilyn Miller, Wanda Petty, Susan Houser and Ann Crocker, Big Spring High School exes, are vacationing in Galveston.

Some of the kids seen at the sneak preview Tuesday night were Jimmy Porter, Nita Heddeston, Frank Long, Sue Barnes, Bobby Hayworth, Mariou Stagg, Margy Keaton, Don Reed, Pauline Buzbee, Sonny Wimberly, J. C. Armistead, Warren Anderson, Junior Suter, Doyle Mason, J. W. Thompson, Joyce Edwards, Jeanette Petty, Lila Turner, Carolyn White-

A CHANGE IN VIEW

There's nothing like a new perspective to change your attitude toward life.

When Junior is bored, he simply stands on his head for a new slant at things. The floor flips to the ceiling, with tables and chairs hanging from it, and people walk upside-down. At least that's the way it looks to him.

It is a good idea to gain a different perspective—to step back and get a new slant on things around you. But you don't have to stand on your head to do it.

Instead identify yourself with a church. Take your family and go regularly to worship. You will find a new perspective. Genuine values will keep their importance; unimportant things will diminish.

Today's life will be happier; tomorrow's full of hope. Nothing is upside-down, but everything claims its rightful place when you view life with the faith of a Christian.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Come As You Are!

Yes, come as you are—in work clothes, sport clothes, or casual wear. You'll fit into the informality and good fellowship of the Laymen's Revival which continues this week.

Come as you are spiritually, too, for it makes no difference what you have done or have failed to do. The singing, lead by Joe Trussell, will stir your soul, and the plain, burning preaching of Fred Cherry will touch your heart.

"Just as I am..." That's all the attitude that God asks. Come as you are—but please come.

3-D Western

Guy Madison and Frank Lovejoy watch as Steve Brody aids a fallen companion in "The Charge At Feather River." This three-dimension Warner-Color movie is scheduled to play at the State Theatre today through Thursday. It concerns the Cheyenne uprising in 1869 at Beecher's Island, Colorado.

'Charge At Feather River' Is Latest Thriller In 3-D

Tumbling boulders, flaming arrows and gleaming knives appear to shoot from the screen toward the audience in the new three-dimension Western scheduled at the State theatre today through Thursday.

It is "The Charge at Feather River," which was filmed in Natural Vision three-dimension in Warner-Color.

Guy Madison and Frank Lovejoy star in the film, which is based on historical fact surrounding one of the fiercest pages in the history of Colorado.

Helen Westcott and Vera Miles handle the leading feminine roles. The story recounts in three dimensions the tale of a band of Americans as they make a last stand against the uprising of the Cheyenne Indians.

Lovejoy plays the commander of a cavalry patrol assigned to rescue two women captured when Indians raid a wagon train. Madison has the part of a frontier scout who leads the patrol.

After rescuing the women they return to the fort where they are stationed only to find that the people at the post have been massacred—including the entire Army unit. Then the small patrol takes a stand at Feather River on Beecher's Island.

Here they succeed in turning back the tide of the Indian uprising after

FORD STARS AS ONLY MAN WHO LEFT ALAMO

The story of the only man who left the Alamo alive will be told in "Man From the Alamo," Technicolor movie slated at the Ritz theatre Thursday through Saturday.

And Glenn Ford has the part of John Stroud, the man who escaped the massacre. His co-star is Julia Adams, who plays the fiery frontierswoman who alone believes he is no deserter.

The movie opens with the last-ditch defense of the historic fortress at San Antonio. As the men await the onrushing armies of Santa Ana, Ford—as Stroud—is chosen by lot to slip out of the Alamo and save the fort from disaster.

Chill Wills plays an unrelenting Texan, and Victor Jory has the part of a turncoat. Hugh O'Brian is seen as a marinet officer.

Dr. Morgan Will Deliver Address

Dr. James N. Morgan, new president of the Texas Baptist Convention, will deliver the Hardin-Simmons University baccalaureate address Sunday, Aug. 23.

A member of both the Texas Baptist and Southern Baptist conventions, Dr. Morgan now serves as the Texas member of the Foreign Mission Board in Richmond, Va. He is a trustee of the "Baptist Standard," of the Decatur Baptist College and of the Central Texas Baptist encampment and in 1951 he served as chairman of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade in Fort Worth.

Dr. Morgan has been invited by the President of the Baptist Federation of Europe to conduct a series of revival campaigns in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and other European countries in the early part of 1954.

Baccus Returns From Conference

W. H. Baccus, personnel officer of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring, has just returned from Dallas where he participated in a week-long training conference of personnel officials from VA's Central Office in Washington, D. C., and from other VA installations in three bordering states.

In its continuing effort to develop efficiency and economy in operations, the VA is in the process of decentralizing from its Central Office the authority for classifying all Civil Service positions falling under the Classification Act of 1949.

Under the plan, the personnel staff of each VA station will be equipped to take necessary prompt action to effect classification changes as to class and grade in accordance with any changes in the duties, responsibilities and qualification requirements that effect the individual employe, Baccus reports.

Pirate Pairing

John Payne is romantically paired with Arlene Dahl in the new Technicolor production "Caribbean," slated at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday. Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Francis L. Sullivan have supporting roles in the swashbuckling sea adventure, which concerns rivalry between pirates.

Rivalry Featured In 'Cattle Town'

Rivalry between land and cattle barons is featured in the movie "Cattle Town," scheduled at the Terrace theatre Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Dennis Morgan, Philip Carey, Rita Moreno, and Amanda Blake have the lead roles in the production. Morgan plays a trouble-shooter who tries to stop strife between the two factions.

Colorful Pirate Thriller To Play Ritz Wednesday

A Technicolor pirate thriller—complete with excitement, action and romance—will drop anchor at

Buddies

George Winslow, the boy with the fog horn voice, is trying to explain the presence of a dog to Richard Widmark in a scene from "My Pal Gus." The picture plays at the Jet Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Widmark has the part of Winslow's father. Winslow plays Gus in the movie.

the Ritz theatre Wednesday for a one-day stop.

It is "Caribbean," starring John Payne and Arlene Dahl in romantic leads. Supporting actors are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Francis L. Sullivan and Willard Parker.

The story deals with a notorious pirate of the Caribbean—Hardwicke—and his attempts to obtain revenge against his former partner—Sullivan.

In the movie Sullivan is a ruthless ruler of a fortified island. Miss Dahl plays the part of a girl raised by Sullivan not knowing she is the daughter of Hardwicke.

Payne plays a disinterested seaman who is kidnapped by Hardwicke and forced to land on Sullivan's island under the pretense of being the latter's nephew. This pretense makes possible an invasion by Hardwicke's men.

Resulting action includes storming of the island, a knife duel to the death, and revolt of native slaves. The turbulent meeting between Payne and Miss Dahl creates further complications in the movie.

Bette Davis Seen In Movie At State
"The Star," featuring Bette Davis and Sterling Hayden, will play at the State Theatre Friday and Saturday.
The movie concerns the last days in the life of a movie star—Miss Davis—and the first few hours of her new existence as a woman.
Miss Davis plays a celebrated actress who discovers just before it is too late that being a woman is the most important thing in her life. And Hayden is the man who helps her discover this truth.
She is seen as a slipping actress who ends up in jail as a drunkard. Hayden, who had once been selected to play a leading part in her movie, balls her out.

dancing to members of the Officers' Wives Club and their husbands.

"People here have been wonderful to me," Mrs. Wallace commented. "I do think, however, that they've had trouble understanding me when I speak."

The language barrier is being broken gradually as Mrs. Wallace comes in contact with more and more North Americans.

Her home, originally, was in Medellin, Colombia, and she's been in the United States nearly two years. High on the list of plans for Capt. and Mrs. Wallace in the not too distant future is a Christmas visit with her family and friends in Medellin.

"I'd rather be at home Christmas than any other time," she stated a little sadly.

Arriving in Big Spring about six months ago, Mrs. M. F. Costa, Ellis Homes, is from Kia Lua on the island of Oahu in Hawaii.

Accompanying her to the United States were her husband a staff sergeant and their son, Dennis, 21 months.

Mrs. Costa is of Portuguese descent and her husband is Portuguese-Spanish.

Mrs. Costa's reception has been no different in Big Spring than it would have been anywhere else, she believes.

"Nothing has been different except the climatic conditions," she grinned.

"I just wish I could go home," she added simply.

Most of the time, however, Dennis, whom his father calls "Dennis the Menace" takes his mother's mind off of her homesickness.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
by Hal Foster

Synopsis: PRINCE VALIANT SMILES IMPUDENTLY AT KING RORY MCCOLM IN WHOSE ANGRY EYES HIS DEATH WARRANT IS PLAINLY WRITTEN. FOR AN INSTANT A HUSH FALLS OVER THE GREAT HALL AND, SEIZING THIS OPPORTUNITY, VAL'S CLEAR VOICE RINGS OUT:

"FOR OVER A HUNDRED YEARS YOUR SCOTI (RAIDERS) HAVE CRUELLY RAVAGED THE COASTS OF BRITAIN. BUT NOW EVERY FIGHTING MAN MUST GO TO SERVE KING ARTHUR IN A STRUGGLE TO THE DEATH WITH THE SAXON INVADERS, AND OUR SHORES ARE UNDEFENDED."

THEN RORY SPEAKS: "YOUR KING IS AN OLD WOMAN! HE BEGS US TO STOP RAIDING, BUT TELLS US IT IS PERFECTLY SAFE TO DO SO!"

"SHOULD THE SAXONS WIN IN BRITAIN, IRELAND WILL BE NEXT!" ANSWERS VAL CALMLY. "BUT ARTHUR WILL CONQUER! AND AMONG THE SPOILS OF WAR WILL BE THE SAXON FLEET. THINK, RORY MCCOLM, A THOUSAND SHIPS MANNED BY MEN FROM TOWNS YOU HAVE SACKED!"

"DO YOU DARE TO THREATEN ME!" ROARS THE KING, FLINGING ASIDE THE RESTRAINING HANDS OF HIS COUNSELORS.

"I BUT STATE PLAIN FACTS, SIRE," SAYS VAL. "A HAND HAS BEEN OFFERED YOU IN PEACE, BUT A HAND THAT CAN ALSO WIELD A SWORD. IT IS AS YOU WISH!"

RORY SITS DOWN, TOO ENRAGED TO TRUST HIMSELF TO SPEAK. HE GESTURES TO ONE OF HIS ADVISORS.....

....."HIS MAJESTY, RORY MCCOLM, KING OF ALL THE KINGS OF IRELAND, WILL CONSIDER THIS MATTER AT HIS LEISURE."

AS VAL WALKS FROM THE HALL HE RECEIVES MANY NODS OF APPROVAL FROM THE WARRIOR NOBLES. HE WONDERS IF HE MIGHT YET OUTLIVE THE DAY.

NEXT WEEK—The Final Insult.

GRIN and BEAR IT

"If we're going to ignore Junior's tantrums properly like the book says, Otis, you've got to stop screaming 'ouch'! . . ."

"Bah!! I on foolish love scene! . . . hero worker could have made his production record without her . . ."

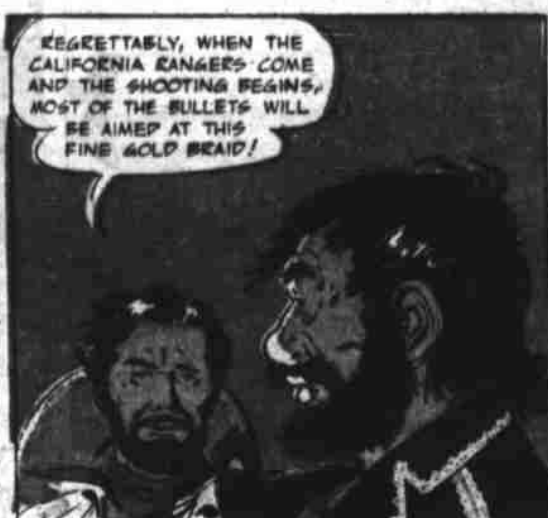

"You've been misinformed on the scope of my investigations, madam . . . I do not shadow errant husbands! . . ."

"Our scientific preparations are complete, men . . . all we have to do is wait for a full moon so we'll have more room to land . . ."

THE FIT IS A LITTLE SNUG, BARTOLO—BUT VERY TIMELY! SINCE YOU HAVE USED MY NAME FOR YOUR KILLING AND STEALING, IT IS ONLY RIGHT YOU SHOULD WEAR MY CLOTHES!

REGRETTABLY, WHEN THE CALIFORNIA RANGERS COME AND THE SHOOTING BEGINS, MOST OF THE BULLETS WILL BE AIMED AT THIS FINE GOLD BRAD!

JOAQUIN REELS IN THE SADDLE, HIS BRAIN SWIMMING IN BLACKNESS . . . INSTINCTIVELY, HIS LEGS LOCK AROUND HORSE'S MIDDLE—THE ANIMAL LEAPS FORWARD . . . AND THE RANGERS ARE UPON THEM!

RELAX, AMIGOS—SOME OF US MAY ESCAPE! THE RANGERS' HORSES WILL BE WINDPED FROM THE LONG CHASE . . . OURS ARE RESTED!

JOAQUIN, THEY ARE GETTING CLOSE!
ALL RIGHT, AMIGOS—GO! AND IF ANY OF YOU THINK YOU ARE GOING IN THE DIRECTION OF HEAVEN, TELL THE PADRE—I HAVE KEPT MY BARGAIN NOT TO SHOOT ANYBODY PERSONALLY!

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

WITH SURPRISING SPEED, THE GIANT GRABBED TARZAN IN A CRUSHING BEAK HUG—BUT THE APE-MAN RETALIATED, DRIVING HIS KNEE INTO HIS FOE'S STOMACH.

THE BRUTE GRUNTED AND DROPPED HIS PREY, NOW HOPING TO CRUSH HIS HEAD WITH A FLESHY FOOT—BUT TARZAN QUICKLY GRASPED FOR A DANGLING ROPE.

INSTANTLY, THE CREATURE'S VERTEBRAE SNAPPED AND HE CRUMPLED TO THE GROUND. NOW TARZAN DEFIANTLY FACED SADAR AND BELLOUED FORTH HIS CHALLENGE. "THIS AMAZING VICTORY," MUGGED THE KHAN, "QUALIFIES YOU FOR THE FINAL TEST. GO FREELY INTO THE JUNGLE, BUT BRING BACK PROOF THAT YOU HAVE KILLED A BULL BUFFALO!"

TOOTS AND CASPER

By Ernie Bushmiller

SOPHIE HOOFER SURE IS MAD AT THE COLONEL, CASPER, THEY CAN'T AGREE ON WHERE TO GO FOR THEIR VACATION!

YES I KNOW, HE LIKES TO FISH AND SHE LIKES TO PLAY GOLF!

THEY HAD AN AWFUL ARGUMENT ABOUT IT TODAY!

SO YOU AND SOPHIE CAN'T GET TOGETHER ON YOUR VACATION, COLONEL ...

NO, SHE WANTS TO GO TO A DRESSY MOUNTAIN RESORT, AND I'D LIKE TO GO TO A FISHING CAMP AND RELAX!

COL. HOOFER, I WANT YOU TO GO OUT TO CENTER CITY RIGHT AWAY AND CALL ON OUR ACCOUNT THERE. THEY'VE BEEN COMPLAINING ABOUT OUR SERVICE--AND HURRY, SO YOU'LL CATCH THE NIGHT TRAIN!

SURE THING, BOSS! I'LL GO RIGHT HOME AND PACK.

I'VE GOT TO STEP ON IT IF I'M GOING TO PACK AND MAKE THAT TRAIN, SEE YOU NEXT WEEK, CASPER.

HAVE A GOOD TRIP, COLONEL!

COL. HOOFER EVEN THREATENED TO GO OFF ALONE ON A FISHING TRIP, TOOTS! IF HE EVER TRIES IT, I'LL THROTTLE HIM!

SOPHIE, COME HERE--

JUST A MINUTE, COL. HOOFER! I'LL TEACH YOU TO RUN OFF ON YOUR VACATION ALONE AND LEAVE ME HERE TO BROIL IN THE HOT CITY!

BUT, SOPHIE--

I WASN'T GOING ON VACATION! MY BOSS WAS SENDING ME ON A BUSINESS TRIP-- BUT NOW I'VE MISSED THE TRAIN!

WHAT?

NOW WE WON'T HAVE TO ARGUE ABOUT WHERE TO SPEND OUR VACATION!-- WHEN MR. PLUNKER FINDS OUT I MISSED THE TRAIN, I WON'T HAVE ANY JOB TO TAKE A VACATION FROM!!

THIS IS THE CRITTER WHO CHASED US AWAY FROM THE STAGE. LET'S GUN-WHIP HIM!

TRY IT, AND YOU'LL NEVER SEE THE PLANS OF AARON BURR!

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THOSE PLANS?

I FOUND THEM IN THE POCKET OF THE STAGECOACH PASSENGER YOU KILLED. HE WAS BRINGING THEM TO YOU FROM THE EAST.

THEN YOU HAVE THEM?

YES, AND THEY'RE FOR SALE. IF YOU WANT TO NEGOTIATE, TELL YOUR PALS TO HOLSTER THEIR GUNS!

I'LL HAND OVER THE CASH WHEN YOU BRING ME THE AARON-BURR PLANS!

THEN GET OUT YOUR CASH!

I HAVE THE PLANS RIGHT HERE

JUMP HIM!

CRACK HIS HEAD WITH A GUN BARREL!

THOUGHT YOU'D COLLECT FROM THE BOSS, EH?
