Heading her postcard back to town was Mrs. J. B. SLOAN who wrote from Long Beach, Calif., telling about what a swell vacation she was having. The ocean breeze, Mrs. SLOAN said, is wonderful.

School Styles Change, Too— Streamlining And Dramatic Treatment Feature New Books

New 1941-42 textbooks arriving for use in Howard county schools boast styles as new as Midway's kate.

There's a distinct flavor of patriotism to the texts. But since most of the books were planned before the war started, the patriotic aspects are not war-borne, but deal more with the relation of the citizen to his state every day.

Books are streamlined modern versions which can hardly be classified in the strict canons of culture followed in past years. Instead of civics, sociology and economics, the high school student is given texts entitled "Democracy in America," "You and Your Community," "Democracy in Action," "Fundamentals of Citizenship." These are modernized versions of the social science studies that take a fresh, up-to-date slant on the subject.

History for sixth-graders is made more appetizing in a book called "Cavalade of America," which dramatizes stories of the nation's greatest heroes. Texts on Texas history are profusely illustrated with pictures of the state in early days and now.

Dull old texts are now dramatized. The sixth grade health book offers the title "Adventures in Health," and the spelling for that grade has the inviting title: "Let's Learn To Spell."

The proper use of words is not taught as "English" or "Grammar" but as "My Own Language" in the new books. How to avoid accidents is taught under the swingy name of "Safely On We Go."

"Composition" was a dull word, but the lower grades are now using a book called "Using Words."

Not all has changed however. "Will and May" "Baby Ray" have gone on with the horses and buggies, but "Tom and Jip," "Bob and Judy" and "Jo-Boy" represent the same type reading for beginners.

Excess Cotton Faces Penalty Of Seven Cents

Cotton marketing in excess of the 1941 farm quotas will be subject to a penalty of seven cents a pound, according to M. Weaver, county AAA administrative officer.

A recent amendment to the AAA set the penalty rate on excess cotton at 40 percent of the basic loan rate. The basic loan rate, which is 85 percent of the parity price of cotton, was announced at 14.02 cents per pound recently. Parity price of cotton as of August 1 was 16.49 a pound.

A marketing quota for a farm is determined as it was last year. It is the larger of the normal or actual production multiplied by the acreage allotment, plus any carry-over penalty free cotton. All cotton marketed in excess of the quota is subject to the seven cent penalty.

Two types of marketing cards are being issued this year, issuance to begin at the local AAA office Friday. White cards will be issued to producers planting within their acreage allotments and having no penalty cotton on hand, and authorize the grower to market all his cotton penalty free.

Red cards will be issued to producers who have exceeded their allotments, or who have carry over penalty cotton on hand.

Dutch Say Jews Not Prosecuted
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (UP)—Dr. A. Loudon, the Dutch minister, said today that Jews enjoyed full citizenship in the Netherlands prior to the occupation by Nazi Germany.

Under the Dutch constitution, the minister said, there was no discrimination among any Dutch subjects and a number of Jews have held high civilian and military office in the Netherlands.

Consequently, Loudon said, it is incorrect in reporting anti-Jewish measures taken by the Nazis since the occupation, to say that Jews never were accorded full Dutch citizenship.

The War Today— New Activities On East Front May Herald Soviet Offensive

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Herald Special News

The fierce counter-attack by the Reds along the center of the Russo-German battle-front in the strategic Smolensk-Gomel sector is a remarkable demonstration of reserve power, and provides further sensational evidence of the great military strength which the world failed to recognize until Hitler launched his conquest, expecting to be in Moscow in six weeks.

The magnitude of the operation, which extends over a sector of some 200 miles, gives to wonder whether it represents the major offensive which the bolsheviks might be expected to launch at about this time, provided they had the stamina after the terrible hammering they have endured from the German war-machines.

A heavy attack in this center would be a logical development in any event; for the purpose of relieving pressure on the Russian right and left flanks, where the battles of Leningrad and Odessa respectively are raging, Marshal Timoshenko's offensive, however, has been sustained at full steam for close to a fortnight, and this might bespeak bigger things.

Moscow reports that the red troops have retaken 22 villages in ten days, and at one point threw the Germans back thirty miles.

The natural strategy of the red command at the outset of the war would be to fight a defensive action until the German lines of communication were greatly extended and the attacking forces were tired and weakened by casualties and destruction of equipment. Then the bolsheviks would seize the initiative—if still strong—employing the great army of fresh troops which repeatedly have been assembled.

It looks very much as though the bolsheviks have been going all-out in this offensive. Progress naturally will depend on circumstances, but the Moscowites may be expected to develop this great drive as far as possible.

Whether this is the appointed hour remains to be seen. The Russians have been claiming that the invaders were nearing the point of exhaustion, owing to terrific casualties and continuous fighting.

That the German lines of communication are vastly extended needs no further demonstration than a glance at the map.

As previously remarked, one of the purposes of this blood-letting in the center of the line is to relieve pressure at Leningrad where the position is critical.

If the struggle for this second largest city of all the Russias does develop into a siege, we are likely to witness one of the greatest battles of its kind in history. In this connection I was much interested in the warning issued yesterday by a Japanese commentator about the strength of Russia's spirit.

This observer declared that the Russians have a fatalistic view of life which produces strong resistance and power, and that this is a grave question for Germany.

I should say that the bravery and determination which are sustaining the Russians now aren't the result of any fatalistic belief but represent that quality which we Americans rather crudely but expressively sum up as "guts." We have an illustration of what I mean in the battle of Leningrad.

Yesterday Moscow told a story of how the combined forces of the red army and the people's army which is sworn to die rather than surrender their city, made a counter-offensive which drove the nazis back three miles and ousted them from a strategically important town. That spirit isn't inspired by fatalism. It's guts.

Defense Guard Review Slated

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 4 (Sp)—A large percentage of the membership of Company D, Tenth Battalion, Texas Defense Guard, of Colorado City is to go to Odessa Sunday afternoon for a regional review and inspection with Gen. J. West Page, adjutant general of Texas, as reviewing officer.

Capt. H. F. Elagst of the local company said this week that school bus transportation will be furnished for company members not wishing to go in their own cars. Buses will leave here at 1 o'clock.

This will be the only company attending from the Tenth Battalion, Capt. Elagst says. Hosts for the occasion will be Major A. E. Knickerbocker and the 34th battalion with headquarters in Odessa. All companies of the 34th battalion and several invited guard units, such as the Colorado City company, will march in a downtown parade at 4:45 p. m. Barbecue supper will be served at 6 o'clock, followed by inspection at the Odessa football field at 7 o'clock.

Underpass At Colorado City Nears Finish

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 4 (Sp)—Final pouring of concrete was due this week on the Highway 101 underpass at Colorado City, and completion of the $25,000 structure and its connecting pavement is due by mid-September.

All pavement has already been laid, and the concrete to have been poured this week for sidewalks. Task of sodding the underpass slopes is still to be completed.

The underpass, connecting on the north with U.S. 80 which forms Colorado City's main street, is connected on the south to the new $75,000 Colorado river bridge. Pavement extends several hundred feet south of the bridge. Highway 101 connects Colorado City with San Angelo via Sterling City on the south. The highway north of Colorado City to the Seury county line has been paved for several years.

Prisoner Killed In Escape Try

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (UP)—A gun battle following a sudden break on the Blue Ridge prison farm near Missouri City resulted in the killing of one convict and in the wounding of another convict and a guard last night.

Four convicts escaped but were recaptured soon afterward.

E. L. Seay, manager of the farm, identified the dead convict as Apollonia Games, serving a 30-year sentence for murder from Bexar county.

He identified the wounded convict as Geronimo Molinar, sentenced to serve 27 years for robbery from El Paso county on September 7, 1933.

Roland Malone was wounded when he and another guard, L. O. Musick, returned the fire of two members of a prison plow squad who whipped out pistols as the day's work was about to end. After Malone was hit in the thigh his horse reared and threw him to the ground, paring him loose from his pistol and shotgun.

Four prisoners charged him, took the weapons and fled on mules. Musick, his gun empty, was forced to watch the other 31 prisoners and was unable to aid Malone.

Twice As Much Feed Goes Into Trench Silos As Ever Before In This County

An accurate estimate is impossible to obtain at this time, but County Agent O. P. Griffin believes that Howard county farmers are putting twice as much feed into trench silos this year as ever before.

He estimates that 175 silos will be filled, with each averaging 100 tons in capacity.

This is just a "drop in the bucket" compared to the total acreage of feed in the county that could be used as ensilage more profitably than any other way, the agent believes.

There are 13,000 acres or more of sweet sorghums in the county, having no great value as feed but which will make an average of 7 tons per acre of ensilage. This would make a total of 90,000 tons of ensilage, compared with 17,000 tons that is being stored.

In addition to sweet sorghums, there is a much larger crop of grain sorghums in the county, and under certain conditions, it is profitably used for ensilage. Some farmers put maize, hegar and other grain sorghums into silos without heading it. This gives a feed consisting not only of green foliage but also of fattening grains. Ensilage made with whole grain sorghum stalks plus a small amount of cottonseed cake produces a fattening diet for livestock that is a completely balanced and healthful ration.

However, farmers are using little maize and other grain sorghums for silage, preferring to head and thresh the crop and sell the grain.

Although much maize is being headed, many farmers are harvesting the crop with combines. There is a larger acreage than ever before—over 1,000 acres—devoted to wheatland maize, which is adaptable to combine harvesting. Wheatland maize is short, and the long slender heads stick straight up even after it is ripe, making combine harvesting easy. Yield is ordinarily not so great as that of common dwarf maize, however.

Howard and surrounding counties are producing a great crop of feedstuffs of all kinds, but many farmers are discouraged from buying and feeding out livestock because of the high prices for stock. Feeder calves are selling for around 13 cents, while finished beef often sells for less. This makes the feeder hesitate to buy cattle for fattening. Likewise sheep and hogs are high.

French To Improve Dakar Connections

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 4 (UP)—The government today appropriated 123,000,000 francs for work on the French West African naval base at Dakar and its overland communications with the Mediterranean.

Besides port installations, one of the chief uses of the money will be to help make communications between Europe and Africa independent of naval control in the Atlantic by improving the Dakar-Niger railway and completing a trans-Saharan highway system.

Elwood, Ind.—Harley Hobbs' sleep was disturbed by a small boy's screams, coming from the automobile he had parked in his driveway three hours before.

Hobbs restored the youngster and the automobile to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Noble, who had been hunting everywhere for them, and drove home his own car.

A check showed Hobbs' key fit both automobiles, which had been parked in the same block.

Baton Rouge—A hunter bagged a squirrel and thereafter became a quarry himself. It was out of season for squirrel and Game Warden L. H. Blanchard, losing the trail in the woods, called some bloodhounds. Howling dogs led the warden directly to the hunter's home.

Dates Produce Fruit Here In Westex Climate

So you think that mesquite trees are the only vegetation West Texas will support? Then take a trip out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blomshield and look at their date trees. Already bearing dates, though not fully ripened as yet, the trees are thriving.

Date palms have been experimented with in the United States, mostly in California and New Mexico, but date trees are a rarity. The trees, which were grafted in Japan, were given to the Blomshields this spring and planted in their yard. They have successfully withstood frost, drought and an excess of rain since planted as shoots.

They resemble a pear tree in growth, and when full grown will provide shade as well as fruit. Although the trees are still in the experimental stage they seem to withstand climate changes here.

Date palms haven't been very successful in this area but the trees seem to hardy. The Blomshields are hoping if not the first year, then next year to have fresh dates from their trees.

The Imperial gallon, the measure used in Britain, is about 25 percent larger than the American gallon.

How To Cut Meat Cost Is Plenty Important For Budget Interests

One hobby that helps out food costs is that of collecting recipes for chopped meat dishes. Many homemakers gather scores of such recipes to fit into their daily menus. Thus, they always have new ones to try.

While meat balls, meat patties and loaves are familiar to most cooks, dozens of other tricks are yet to be invented. Combinations with vegetables, with cereals, and with various starchy foods are all excellent fields for experimentation.

For instance, here are a few recipes using ground meat which may help to start your collection and at the same time cheat Old Man High Cost of Living and supply needed vitamins, proteins and minerals:

Tiny Stuffed Meat Loaves
 4 cups ground cooked veal
 1 cup fresh bread crumbs
 1 egg
 1 cup milk
 1-2 tablespoons chili sauce
 3 teaspoons salt
 1-8 teaspoon pepper
 4 cooked pork sausage links
 Mix the cooked veal, crumbs, egg, milk, chili sauce and seasoning. Divide mixture into four equal portions and roll each portion around a cooked pork sausage link, shaping it into a tiny loaf pan (2 1/2 x 4 x 2). Turn out onto greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Decorate loaves with sliced stuffed olives

Sausage Stacks
 1 1/2 pounds fresh pork sausage
 2 large onions
 3 tomatoes
 12 slices bacon
 Make one inch-thick patties of the sausage. Brown in a frying-pan. Cross two strips of bacon and lay a sausage patty in center with a slice of tomato and thin slice of onion atop patty. Fasten ends of bacon together on top with a toothpick. Place in a baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour, or until meat is tender and the bacon is crisp. Buttered green beans or greens are a fine accompaniment for the "Stacks."

Mexican 'Burger Casserole
 1 8- or 9-oz. pkg. macaroni
 1 cup minced onion
 1-3 cup minced green pepper
 2 tablespoons lard
 1 pound ground round or chuck of beef
 1 teaspoon salt
 1-8 teaspoon pepper
 6 tablespoons grated cheese
 1 1-2 cups well-seasoned white sauce
 1-2 cup canned tomatoes
 Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, and drain. Fry the onion and green pepper in lard until tender. Add meat, and cook until meat has lost its red color, stirring frequently. Add salt and pepper. Add 4 tablespoons of the cheese to the hot white sauce, then gradually add tomatoes, stirring constantly. Arrange alternate layers of macaroni, meat, and tomato sauce in a casserole. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake uncovered in moderately hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 40 minutes.

Grilled Lamb Dinner
 Most meat men have or will make ground lamb patties one inch thick and wrapped in bacon slices. Season well and broil 10 minutes on each side. Other foods appropriate for broiling with the lamb patties are: pineapple slices, pork sausage links, tomato halves sprinkled with grated cheese, thick cucumber slices, parboiled carrot balls, macaroni cakes, cooked potato halves sprinkled with cheese, and many others. Serve on one large platter.

Long attended aviation school classes at Big Spring and had flown some prior to his being called into the air corps service and to fly a plane has been his urgent desire since seeing his first plane when a small boy.

Interference In Army Accused Of Hurting Morale

By RICH YARNER
 WITH THIRD ARMY IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 4 (AP)—The personal officer of the first national guard division said today army morale was very good but declared it would be better if it weren't for "lace party interference."

Lieut.-Colonel Henry A. Boots of the staff of the 48th division said he considered the 170 men absent without leave from the division was low since there are about 22,000 troops in the unit.

"The morale buster was the hesitating and vacillating attitude of congress during consideration of the act extending the training period of federalized and conscripted soldiers," Col. Boots declared. "Now the men have found out what was wanted and they're taking their lot as they go. There will be morale in the army if we just let it be the army and get rid of lace party interference."

The 61-year-old regular army officer said much of the interference came from outside organization and groups who sought to dictate army welfare policies instead of letting them evolve naturally.

Under the original induction order the 48th division would have been released Sept. 15. Conversations with men throughout the division, however, brought from doesn't the statement that they were ready and willing to fight as soon as somebody tell us to." All men of the third army resumed simulated battle today after a six-day lull in preliminary to war games with the third army opposing the second, Sept. 15 to 20.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—

Some Actors Won Spurs In Double Bills

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Maybe Hollywood wouldn't be so eager to abolish the "double-feature" if it paused to think how many of its current stars were developed in the lower halves of the bills.

George Montgomery, so "hot" at 20th now, and Mary Beth Hughes played in second-fiddle pictures which won an audience mainly on the strength of the so-called top features.

Man has to say: "In most cities there are enough movie theatres to give the exhibitors their entertainment at any price they wish to pay.

There's a new version of an old poem which is done with gestures, first dreamy and then irritated. It goes this way:

The changeover from summer driving to school-days driving may be hard to remember, so as a reminder, it might be well for police cars to patrol school areas for the first few weeks.

Cotton-Insect Control Fight To Be Planned

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 4 (AP)—A campaign to fight cotton-destroying insects in the southwest during the cotton-growing season in 1941 will be mapped out at a five-state meeting here Sept. 16.

Plans will be discussed to prevent repetition next year of serious inroads on the cotton crop made by insects this year.

The conference is sponsored by cotton leaders of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

K. P. Ewing, in charge of the federal cotton insect control station in Waco will take part in the meeting.

Fall Weather Turns Thoughts Of Greens Lovers To Turnip Patch

That rain the other day put a lot of folks to thinking about turnip patches this week.

Not that turnips have any great commercial value, but real turnip green lovers don't worry about profit. They just want plenty of greens and turnips for the table during fall months.

County Agent O. P. Griffin asserts that there is a lot of fine turnip land around Big Spring.

Turnips, he said, taste a lot better when grown on certain types of land, and that land is here.

Turnips often are planted on plowed up stubble, feed, or cotton land.

The county agent opined that the AAA wouldn't pay any attention to the turnip patches, so it doesn't make much difference where the greens are planted.

There are two or three ways of planting the greens. Some break the field roughly, sow the seeds broadcast by hand in the old-fashioned way, then harrow the field down level.

Some sow the seeds broadcast over the field before it is broken, then turn the whole business under good and deep.

This method requires a good rain and some time to produce the turnip, but it turns out some healthy ones.

Ordinarily, six to eight weeks are required to grow a turnip to good eating size, although a good appetite sends the turnip lover into the field after those greens while they're mighty young and little—and tender.

Food Stamp Use Continues To Increase

Howard county's food stamp business still shows booming gains.

Cash intake of the food stamp office increased from $4,008 in July to $7,242 in August, according to Claud Wolf, issuing officer.

Blue stamps given free to clients increased from $4,500 to $5,561 during the same period, he reported.

September promises even further gains. Tuesday, first business day of the month, showed the biggest run of business since the stamp office opened last May 16.

That day $1,394 worth of orange stamps were sold, and $1,038 worth of blue stamps were given away free.

Wolf attributes the growing popularity of the stamps to the fact that relief clients are becoming better acquainted with the advantages of using them.

Relief clients buy the orange stamps at face value and trade them at grocery stores for any sort of food.

The blue stamps are given free, a certain ratio of blues being given with each purchase of orange stamps by various types of relief clients.

These stamps may be used only to buy foods of which there is a surplus on the market, and represent entirely new business to Howard county grocers.

Local Student Has High Rank At OCU

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 4.—Miss Jacqueline Faw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Faw, of Big Spring, has been placed on the dean's honor roll of Oklahoma City university, according to an announcement today by Dean Clinton M. Allen.

"Miss Faw's work last year placed her among the six highest ranking students in the university," Dean Allen said. "Such outstanding students are a credit to themselves and to our school."

Out of a possible 57 honor points under the university grading system, Miss Faw finished with a total of 54, it was said.
