Agree on Paving St.

The State Highway Department and the city of Baird had a meeting recently in which they agreed and signed a contract on the paving through Baird on Highway 183 from Coleman to Albany inside the city limits, so the city secretary T. Baulch announced last week.

The contract calls for both curb ing, guttering and paving from the city limits of Baird to the Ross cemetery, about three fourths of a mile north of the city limits.

From all reports it looks as though the flour shortage is getting pretty serious.

It is near home, Abilene bakeries are faced with a possible shut down in the next two or three weeks, unless there is some relief within the few days of the shortage of flour.

Biggest cause for alarm is the flour shortage brought on by shipments to famine stricken foreign per cent dividend on the $50,000 mills have already notified bakeries that they can not see any more flour due to government orders for the production.

It is said only a three weeks supply is assured at any time, since the foreign aid plan went in weeks run.

How do you like your Eggs?

Reddy Kilowatt as a trouble-shooter isn't worrying about your eggs-or whether you want 'em soft boiled, fried, scrambled-or if you like eggs at all.

But he is worrying about keeping your electric service flowing along as usual. If that means eggs for your breakfast, okay then, that's why he's up on a storm-lashed

And, he'll stay there till he gets your line repaired-in spite of hot wires sputtering around him. In spite of rain lightning . . . thunder . . . and a high wind howling, "Watch out, fella, we're gonna hit it again!" You don't have to send him a check for his trouble. You won't pay any more on your electric bill-to cover his hard, wet work and the materials he uses. Chances are you'll never know a line went out.

This kind of service is routine stuff for Reddy, and the electric company he works for. Storms-the repairs and cost—are all prepared for and handled in a businesslike way. But it isn't an easy job. Keeping your electric service dependable and cheap is the result of careful planning and sound business management.
