Old Clipping Tells Size Of Confederate And Federal Armies

Kaufman Herald: Even in this day of blitzkriegs when great nations fall within a few weeks before the onslaughts of gigantic mechanized war machines, figures on the War Between the States are still interesting.

Prejudice and hard feelings between the north and the south have been forgotten for decades. It is because the figures are interesting today and not to rekindle these old disputes that Jess Graves of Kaufman treasures a clipping from the July 5, 1904, edition of The Kaufman Noon Day Sun, which quotes a table showing the numerical strength of the armies of the north and south, prepared by C. G. Lee of Washington.

The northern army greatly outnumbered the south, the figures contained in the clipping, yellowed with age, show. The total enlistments in the northern army were 2,778,304 as against 600,000 in the Confederate army. Foreigners and negroes in the northern army were said to aggregate 680,917 or 80,917 more than the total strength of the Confederates. There were 316,424 men of southern birth in the northern army.

According to clippings, the odds were even pronounced at the war's end.

These figures were shown: Aggregate Federal army May 1, 1865, 1,000,516.

Aggregate Confederate army May 1, 1865, 133,433.

Federal prisoners in Confederate prisons, 270,000.

Confederate prisoners in Federal prisons, 220,000.

Confederates died in Federal prisons, 26,436.

Federals died in Confederate prisons, 22,570.

Comparative figures in some of the battles were shown as follows:

Seven Days' Fight, Confederates 80,835, Federals 115,249.

Antietam, Confederates 32,255, Federals 87,164.

Chancellorsville, Confederates, 57,212 Federals 131,661.

Johnson Grass Is No Longer Enemy Of Many Farmers

It's 'good old bermuda' and 'good old johnson grass' now. These two grasses, once hated and feared by the farmer, are coming into their own.

The man without livestock still has no love for them—but cattle, sheep and goats are showing up on more and more Texas farms. Both grasses are fine at healing wounds caused by erosion, at protecting terrace channel outlets, and both respond wonderfully to proper care and management.

Chemical analyses of 1,432 samples of various grasses growing in East Texas, recently made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, saw bermuda grass top all others in protein content, which ranged as high as 8 percent in the spring months. Johnson grass was also in the top bracket in this respect.

Bermuda and johnson grass shared top ranking in both phosphoric acid and lime, two important minerals in sections where livestock often suffer from mineral deficiency.

As an indication of the increasing popularity of the two grasses, R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, quotes Soil Conservation Service reports that more requests are coming in for plantings than the CCC boys and WPA labor groups can handle.

In 1939, 1,512 farmers claimed AAA soil-building payments for sodding 16,022 acres.

AAA Payments In 1939 To Farmers Over $5,000,000

Texas farmers in 1939 benefited to the tune of more than five million dollars under the provision in the AAA program which increases small payments.

All payments of less than $200 are subject to increases ranging from less than one dollar to as much as $14. For example, a payment amounting in the regular procedure to $6.00 would be increased $2.40 to total $8.40; or, a payment amounting to $58 would be increased $13.80 to total $71.80. Proportionate increases are granted on all payments of less than $200.

Reports of the AAA in College Station reveal that 337,459 payments were increased under the $5,251,547. On the other hand, deductions totaling $183,382 were made under the provision that no payment to any individual, partnership or estate can exceed $10,000.

These increases are made in an effort to give the small farmer added purchasing power which he badly needs. George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, pointed out. Another provision of the program aiding the small farmer is that the minimum soil-building allowance for any farm shall be $20, an amount which permits the small farmer to accomplish soil-building work which he otherwise would be unable to do.

BONE MADE COINS USED BY NATIVES

Down in the South Sea Islands, about 600 miles southwest of Java on the Keeling Cocos Isles, little flat bone tokens, square and round and about the size of quarters, are used for money.

These tokens have the coat of arms of the islands burned on one side, and the value in rupees and cents, on the other.

The money came into use about 100 years ago, when the first governor discovered that the natives refused to part with any silver or copper coins which came into their possession. They punched holes in them and used them as necklaces.

FINAL WORD From Sam Russell

To the Voters of the 17th Congressional District: I am ending this campaign in the same manner in which I began it—clean and above board. I have not engaged in mud slinging or dirty politics, but have carried my program to the people in whom I have always had complete confidence; believing that I had a program which would be for the best interest of the public as a whole in this great district.

I was, and am, of the opinion that during these perilous times, the district needed a man to represent them who had the ability, courage, and fighting spirit to work and fight for the best interest of America. To that end, I have not only dedicated my service, but my life as well.

I have made no rash promises. I have not promised to work or vote for me. I have no positions to offer for the purpose of securing political preferment. But I do have a burning desire to render ardent and faithful service to my people, and this, I promise to do.

I ask you to not be misled by last minute personal attacks that are being made against me. The district is literally covered by hirelings of my opponent, and large sums of money are being spent to over-persuade the voters.

I am a poor man and have paid every cent of my expenses out of my own pocket, but I am meeting these unfair attacks, the best I can, with the voluntary aid of my friends.

In answer to such attacks, I have served my home people, where I was born and grew to manhood, and have lived all my life, for over twenty-one continuous years in an official capacity, without a single defeat, and on July the 27th, they gave me the largest majority that my candidate received in his home county. This vote of confidence of my home people, who know me best, answers all charges made, or to be made, against me.

If you believe in clean politics, if you believe in honesty, and faithful representation, and feel that I can give you such representation, may I have your vote and influence on the 24th day of August, for which I shall be eternally grateful. Respectfully yours, SAM RUSSELL, Candidate for Congress.

have buried themselves in the ground will survive this intense heat. These seeds are natural food of our game and song birds.
Since the food of the birds is removed so must the birds move to another area to find their daily diet. Many dead trees of the areas are destroyed, thus the homes of many birds are taken from them.
These dead trees furnish insects for our birds, also, his source of food is removed. The insects that survive must go to another area and start work on good trees and thereby destroy much valuable forests.

Saying that fish will be affected by forest or prairie fires sounds like a foolish statement, but nevertheless it is true. The ash that is left from these fires is dangerous to fish life. After a rain all this ash will be washed into the streams causing the fish to die and probably give others diseases that will cause them to die later.

Fires leave land without soil holding vegetation, thus causing soil erosion and this will do much damage to the land plus putting millions of pounds of soil into the streams. Thus the stream beds gradually fill up with silt and a muddy stream will result. In many cases this silt will cause the death of many fish, because game fish cannot live in a stream that is mud-

Mrs. Anna Hind Scala, of Utica, N. Y., who owns what has been rarest postage stamp, the only known copy of British Guiana's octagonal 1 cent magenta of 1856, has been offered $25,000 for the rarity, if it was learned authoritatively in New York City. The Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue quotation for the stamp is $50,000, a figure based in part on what Mrs. Scala asked for the item several years ago after it had been bequeathed by her husband, Arthur Hind. The offer at "half catalogue" price was made through an up-State New York dealer and came from a Western dealer representing a private col-

of all do your part in preventing one to start.

The actual cash income of cotton growers from their staple crop alone advanced from $434,300 in 1932 to $815,000,000 in 1939, including AAA payments.

Freight rates on fresh fruits and potatoes average lower now than during the decade of the 1920's, but continue high when compared with the prices received by producers of these products, according to a study released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Rates on truck crops other than potatoes are the highest since 1920.

Approximately 43 percent of all the beef cattle, 71 percent of the goats in the United States are on

In 1939, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the 32 million people living on farms were able to supply the needs of from 50 to 70 percent more city people than the same number could supply 30 years ago. Technological advance, plus improvements in breeds of livestock, farming practices, and crop varieties, have contributed to this increase in efficiency, and, by

LANE BURIAL ASSOCIATION

This association provides a plan of Burial Benefit, at a rate so reasonable, practically everyone can afford to carry the protection. (Ages 1 month to 80 years.)

This is a home enterprise, organized under approval of Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas. It is directed by men who have been in the funeral business for many years, who understand the needs and emergencies that arise at the time of death.

Burial Benefit is not life insurance. All of the investment, features have been eliminated. Therefore it is operated at the very lowest cost.

We are not in competition with any Life Insurance Company, but we offer you this additional Burial Protection at a price you can afford to pay. Carry it along with your regular Life Insurance.

It does not cost you any more to become a member of our Association, than it does to pay your regular monthly premiums. You can pay by the year or month at our office.

We are not interested in Insurance Profits. We offer this protection to our friends who feel the need of burial benefits. The rates are low, but high enough to insure a fund large enough to meet the needs of the Association.

We urge you to investigate the plan and purpose of this burial association with as much sincerity and consideration as we had in you in bringing this highly desirable benefit to you.

PUTNAM SCHOOL HAS TWO LIBRARIANS FOR ENTIRE SCHOOL YEAR

The Putnam school through the efforts of the school officials has enjoyed the services of two WPA librarians, Miss Elsie Kelley and Miss Bessie Roberson, for the entire summer. Putnam being the only school in Callahan County getting the library services during the summer.

Many books have been in circulation from both the grammar school and high school. It has been a great pleasure and service to the students and patrons of the school.

This summer the high school library has undergone a complete change. The school has the Dewey system of classification which will help the students and the librarian in finding books. By this system the books are found by class number instead of title. The class numbers range from 100-199 is philosophy, an example is how to win and influence friends 200-299, is religion such as the Bible and mythology 300-399 is sociology such as etiquette and civics 400-499 Philology such as grammars and dictionaries 500-599. Pure science such as chemistry, biology science 600-699 is useful arts such as home economics 700-799 is fine arts such as paintings and pictures 800-899, is literature 900-999 is history.

The Putnam school library has the distinction of being classified on an equal bases with schools many times their size.

The school has been very fortunate in securing the services of Misses Kelley and Roberson who are very efficient and well trained in library methods.

Something new in the line of food—Smoked Turkey—try it some time—the flavor is new—tasty. This is the way to get the results:

Curing the turkey —
1. Prepare the turkey as for roasting. Tendons should be removed from legs.

2. Cool over night.
3. Make a brine solution as follows:

6 lbs. salt—3 lbs. sugar—3 oz. salt peter—and 4 1/2 gallons water.

Use earthen crock-size determined by number turkeys to be processed.

This mixture is sufficient to cover 2 turkeys packed in an 8 gallon crock.

Should you desire to cure more than two turkeys make sufficient brine to completely cover turkeys.

4. Submerge turkeys and weight down to see that all parts are covered by the mixture.

5. Place in a cooling vault with temperature 34-38 degrees F. for two weeks.

6. At the end of the first week stir mixture and change positions with turkeys.

7. At the end of second week remove from brine, wash in tap water and place back in the cooling vault to drain for 24 hours.

Smoking Turkey—

Hang in cloth sack made of thin cheese cloth or similar material and smoke for 8 to 12 hours or until a good nut brown is obtained. Good woods for smoking are: Hickory, Oak, and Pecan. Other good materials are clean corn cobs, or any of the hard woods. Avoid resinous woods such as pine.

Cooked Smoked Turkeys—

Place turkey in a utensil large enough to cover it with cold water and bring to a simmering point and then drain. Add 3 cups of water cover and bake in a moderate oven for 20 minute, per pound. Baste occasionally. If covered roaster is not available, cover with strips of bacon or place a cloth dipped in melted fat over the turkey to protect the skin as much as possible. Stuffed turkeys are seldom stuffed but if stuffing is desired, very little salt should be used in the seasoning.

Serving Smoked Turkey—

Smoked turkey may be served hot or cold. It makes a delicious cold meat for lunch or supper. The left-over or nonsalable meat may be used or prepared by any of the recipes for left-over cured ham. These may include creamed dishes, in hash, in fillings.
