According to the statement of an astrologist out in California, our troubles are about over with Russia for a period of at least seven years. He said: "Uranus, the planet of universal democracy, entered Cancer, the birth sign of America on August 30. The planetary event ushered out Neptune, the planet of communism, which has enjoyed a prominent place in the scheme of things since 1933. Uranus will remain in the Cancer sign for seven years."

"The next seven years," he said, "will be similar to those that followed the Civil War. There will be radical changes, upheaval, and progress. The trend of events will be neither to the right nor left but rather along the middle of the road."

It was reported that sportsmen and small hunting parties out to open the dove season, say there is a shortage of doves this year. Some of the hunters are said to attribute the shortage to the long continued dry weather, which has made grain and seed scarce.

An Illinois physician has reported a new drug he has been experimenting with has been found effective in cases of hay fever.

The drug is thephorin and was effective in controlling symptoms of 91 per cent of patients suffering from both hay fever and asthma. The physician, Dr. John Peters, reported there were three failures in a group of 34 such cases. All of the failures, he said, were sufferers of bronchial asthma.

The new drug was 100 per cent effective in pollen and grass asthma.

A smart guy said to the bus driver the other morning: "Well, Noah, you've got here at last. Is the ark full?"

Bus driver: "No, we need one more monkey. Come on and climb aboard."

The church was crowded for the Easter service. The minister, recalling many Sundays when there had been only a few worshippers, gave way to an impulse and said: "I realize there are many here who will not be with us again until next Easter. So, I take this opportunity to wish them a Merry Christmas."

Albert Newcombe, cofounder of Southland Paper Mills, Inc. and prominent official of the Southland Mills died in New England, while traveling to regain his health, on August 25. He had been in ill-health for the past two years.

Mr. Newcombe was known as an authority on the paper milling industry and was associated in the Southland Mills with Mr. E. L. Kurth, with whom he worked for long arduous months to bring the paper mills of the south into a reality.

He was born in New York City and was a graduate of Yale University.

Johnson Is Given More Votes After Check in Brown

Eastland. — Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic senatorial nominee, indirectly receiving 466 votes gain in a Brown County election dispute which the 11th Court of Civil Appeals ruled on the past week. The appeals court affirmed the decision of the lower court ruling which threw out six boxes in Brown County invalidating 1727 votes, and thereby making Brown County A. E. Wilson the Democratic nominee. Wilson's name will go on the ballot.

Although Johnson and Steven were a party to the suit, it was believed that Johnson could claim 466 votes by this action of the court.

This contest was brought by Wilson, the present county judge of Brown County, on the grounds that there were 1727 votes in number of boxes, where the presiding judge failed to sign his name on the ballot after it was voted.

Oil Men to Meet For Dedication

ABILENE, Oct. 4.—Abilene will be the world capital of the petroleum industry October 13 when oil and gas executives from all over the United States gather in tribute to the late J. C. Hunter, Abilene oil man, church and civic leader.

Quietly and unknown to the public, American oil men for more than a year have been making personal contributions to a J. C. Hunter Memorial Fund. Not until September 25, when Mr. Rupert W. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons University, received notice that the petroleum would retire the bank loan on a three-story dormitory for girls, did the news reach the public.

Mr. Richardson said that he was proud that so many leaders of the petroleum industry were in Texas who had not forgotten the church schools where they obtained their religious and domestic education. "In the true American way, these successful men and women have risen to the top by their own efforts. Yet they still remember the school from which they came," he said.

Tax Drain Slows Social Advance

Present tax burdens seriously "curtail economic and social advance in the United States," former President Hoover said in a speech recently.

The situation makes necessary every possible saving by government, he emphasized, adding that the tax burden is drawing fund savings into the treasury, so that long time capital is borrowed instead of being obtained from investors.

We have not socialized industry, but we have come close to socializing savings into the government.

Tax collections don't only burden the tax payer but government spending is now the greatest cause of the inflated price we have. Watch the grain market and see it advance everytime the government enters the market. More production and less spending will cure inflation.

H-S University Selects Artists For Fall Season

Six numbers have been selected for the 1948-49 Hardin-Simmons University artist course, according to E. W. Ledbetter, business manager. Three are to be presented during each of the fall and spring months.

The United States Navy Band will be heard in matinee and night performances October 19; The Westminster Choir, directed by John Finley Williamson, who conducted the Westminster Choir College on the Hardin-Simmons College campus last June, will be presented November 12.

The Hour of Charm is the last of the fall programs which have been chosen to date. Ledbetter said. It will be given during the week of November 15. No definite date has been set yet.

First of the spring numbers is to be Richard Dyer Bennett on Feb. 22, followed by a presentation of the Barber of Seville on March 17. Gerald and Windsor Beal, twin violinists, will be presented April 4.

Nation's Payroll Is Record Size

One of every ten persons employed in the United States last April was paid out of tax funds, according to the United Census Bureau.

With $8,330,000 employed, the Bureau says 5,900,000 more than ten per cent were working for Federal, State or Local government projects.

With all workers who paid taxes contributing, April's public payroll was the highest in history, about $1,228,500,000. In the Federal service, pay raises have been more than used up savings made through dismissal of nearly a million war-time workers.

SUBMERGED SCHOOL LAND

A rich heritage of the school children of Texas, and a sacred trust of all true Texans are the submerged lands along the state's coast, which are now producing petroleum and other valuable products.

The Texas School Land Board, up to September 1948, collected more than thirty million dollars in royalties and bonus money for oil leases in Texas, inlets and the Gulf of Mexico Border, for the benefit of the public free schools of Texas, an average of more than two million dollars a month, such royalties are expected to increase and continue for many, many years in the future. But now President Truman claims that Texas school children have no right to these lands, that they belong to the Federal Government, and he has directed his Attorney General to bring suit against Texas for possession.

When Congress undertook to confirm the title of Texas School children to these funds, Senator Albin Barkley, now the Democratic candidate for Vice President, vigorously opposed the measure and voted against it. And when, in spite of this opposition, the measure was passed, President Truman vetoed it. This measure will come up again in the next Congress, but if President Truman should be elected, he would veto it again, and he would direct the Attorney General to prosecute to the limit the suit to take these lands away from school children of Texas.

The National Democratic Convention proved that this is the Democratic party program, for it turned a deaf ear to the plea of Governor Jester and others and flatly refused to declare for State ownership of such lands. Then it nominated the two advocates of Federal ownership, Truman and Barkley. The Republican National Convention on the other hand, declared that these lands should remain the property of the school children of Texas and that their title should be confirmed by Congress. The Republican National Convention, declares:

"We favor the restoration to the States their historical rights to the tide and submerged lands, territorial waters, lakes and streams."

That is plain language. And it seems that a vote for the Dewey-Warren ticket on that platform is a vote for the school children of Texas.

Are we as Texans, going to vote for the blank ticket and permit them to filch millions of dollars from the Texas school children?

Sudden Weather Changes During Fall Months Bring Epidemic of Colds

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—Sudden seasonal changes in the weather during the fall months often result in chilling, which in turn is usually followed by wide-spread incidence of the common cold. This disease always spreads rapidly because of the fact that very few people can live isolated lives and in any group or crowd of people, coughing, sneezing and spitting will scatter millions of cold germs among susceptible persons.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer says that there are countless ways of spreading a cold other than by coughing, sneezing and spitting. "For instance," the Doctor said, "if a member of your family has a cold and the other members share a common drinking glass with him, you may expect the whole family to pick up the germs he leaves on the glass. Sometimes a person with a cold thoughtlessly touches his mouth to nostrils with his hand, and then shakes hands with another person. That person can, and very likely will contaminate his own mouth or nostrils with his hand, and the germs are transmitted into his system. A child with a cold may contaminate his toys, and the next child that picks them up and plays with them will certainly obtain the cold germs, along with the toys."

Children, as well as adults, who are suffering from a cold should be put to bed, and if complete rest, light food, and plenty of liquids do not improve his condition in a short time, the family physician should be called. Dr. Cox further advised that dressing properly for the weather, sensible eating, plenty of rest, and avoiding persons with colds can be helpful in preventing your own infection. Colds are costly in time, health, and money, the Doctor said, and added, "Prevent them if possible."

The band gave a concert and delegates from the various towns represented went to the American Legion Hall for the business meeting.

After the group had sung "America", Mayor Edward Lee welcomed the visitors on the behalf of the citizens of Cisco. He told the visitors that the city was pleased that they had selected Cisco for the meeting, and invited them to visit as long as they wished. Fire Chief Autrey of Snyder department responded for the visitors.

B. A. Butler, secretary-manager of the local chamber of commerce, also welcomed the visitors. Leonard Henderson of Colorado City made the response to Butler's welcoming address.

Railroad Commissioner Olin Culbertson, first secretary of the State Fire Marshall's and Firemen's Association, of Austin, and Frank Williams, State Firemen's Pension chairman, also of Austin, made talks before the group.

Between talks the visitors were entertained with musical numbers by Ray Judia, Pearla and Pearlina Farley, Waddell Rains and Geneva and Wylene Bint.

After the business session the teams of the visiting departments and the Cisco team will compete in races and contests. Following the sports events the firemen and their guests will meet at Lake Cisco for a barbecue and dance that follows.

Completion of Sale Awaits Approval of Title; Price Is Not Disclosed

Sale of the Laguna Hotel here to Victor Cornelius of Eastland for an undisclosed consideration was announced Monday. Contract of sale has been executed and transfer of title is expected to be completed within the next few days.

The hotel, a 100-room, eight-story steel, concrete and brick structure, built in 1928 at a cost of approximately half a million dollars, is being sold by William Seipel of San Antonio through Edwin Schroeder Co. & Associates, who purchased the property from the National Hotel Company of Galveston in 1944. Guy Patterson, Eastland realtor, handled details of the transaction for the sellers.

Included in the sale are several business buildings in the same block.

Purchase of the Laguna is the first substantial venture into hotel property by Mr. Cornelius, whose career acquired an Alger-like touch some ten years ago by an almost fabulous success in developing an obscure idea into a theatrical advertising service of national proportions. His firm operates at Eastland one of the largest printing and graphic arts plants in West Texas. Since building his advertising business, however, Mr. Cornelius has invested heavily in real estate, principally apartment properties and business houses at Eastland, and in oil holdings, some of which are in the immediate Cisco area.

Purchase of the Laguna, Mr. Cornelius said, was prompted by the steady and widespread oil and gas development in this area and the favorable outlook for new production. He plans a thorough renovation of the property to place it in the top rank of small city hotels.

The Laguna was opened to the public in March, 1929, when it was regarded as one of the best appointed hotels in this section. It was built by William C. Witt and Associates after a campaign by Cisco Chamber of Commerce and civic leaders who raised $140,000 as Cisco's contribution toward a cost of nearly $500,000. During the depression and after a flush East Texas oil field and ten-cent oil had spelled a temporary decline in oil activity in West Central Texas, the hotel suffered the fate of numerous other properties and went under the hammer. For several years, however, and since the revival of oil and gas activity here it has been unable to meet the growing demand for accommodations.

Mr. Cornelius' purchase of the property was hailed with satisfaction by Cisco business and civic leaders as a positive step toward restoring the hotel to its former prestige and a necessary service to the community and the public at large.

Fire Department Initiates "Fire Prevention Week" By Visiting School

The Cisco Fire Department, under the direction of Fire Chief H. O. (Andy) Anderson, initiated "Fire Prevention Week" by starting an extensive public school educational program Monday morning with a visit to the schools by members of the department who traveled to the grounds on department trucks.

The principals of the schools staged fire drills among the students and when they reached the grounds they found the trucks and firemen waiting to tell them of the dangers of fires and the best prevention methods. Secretary of the body, Bill Kendall, talked to the students and issued literature prepared by the National group. The boys and girls were allowed to inspect the equipment.

In speaking of the fire prevention campaign, Chief Anderson pointed out that millions of dollars and hundreds of lives could be saved annually if proper care was exercised in the home.

"Your home is your own fire-trap" he said as he outlined some of the methods to be used in preventing loss and saving lives.

First, he pointed out the need of precautionary practice. "A large number of fires are caused by carelessness. Every one should exert every effort to assure himself and his family that there are no hazards on the premises," he stated. Anderson also pointed out the value of having some sort of fire extinguisher handy at all times.

He listed some of the main steps in fire prevention in the home as follows: Keep oil rags in extra step-on cans; keep electric cords free from abrasions, replace if worn, don't overload lines; use flame-proof curtains in kitchen; never use flammable liquids to clean clothes, mere rubbing can ignite them; watch overheating of electric appliances; keep used fats off stove; keep flammable liquids in red closed containers outdoors; keep matches away from children and where rats and mice can reach them.

He set out the following rules that should be followed in case fire does break out in the home: first, be sure that every one is out of the house; second, call the fire department; third, confine the fire to as small a location as possible by closing all doors and windows; fourth, fight the fire until the department arrives.

Additional information will be given by the department during the week set aside to make the public "fire prevention" conscience.

Cotton Carryover Is Over 5,000,000

The Agricultural Department reported Monday that the carryover of cotton from previous years crops on August 1 totaled 3,081,000.

This was 551,188 bales larger than the carryover of 2,530,122 bales on August 1, 1947. The carryover is the amount of old-crop cotton held in all positions at the start of a new marketing year.

This year's crop has been estimated at 15,219,000 bales.

The department said a carryover of a little over 3,000,000 is not excessive. Considering that consumption and exports had been running well over 11,000,000 bales a year.

First Class Rating Indicated For Cisco Post Office By January 1

If the current upward trend in gross receipts continues during the coming three months, the Cisco Post Office will be advanced from second to first class on January 1, 1949, according to figures released by Postmaster L. H. McCrea today.

To achieve first class rating, a post office must sell $40,000 worth of stamps a year. Sales during the first three quarters of 1948 totaled $29,519.01. Receipts for the third quarter, ended September 30, amounted to $10,340.14—a 36 per cent increase over the same quarter of 1947.

First quarter, 1948, receipts were 11 per cent above the first quarter of 1947, and the second quarter showed a 13 per cent increase. If the trend continues, the post office should exceed $11,000 during the final three months of 1948 to achieve the first class rating.

Alsabrook and Kemp File Report On McCrea No. 1

An official potential report had been filed with the Texas Railroad Commission today for the Alsabrook and Kemp No. 1 L. H. McCrea et al, Mississippi lime producer recently completed in the Kleiner pool north of Cisco.

Apparently an edge well, the official test showed 92 barrels of 44.7 gravity oil with 42 per cent water in 24 hours. The production was on pump from open hole at 3,973-85 feet. It is located on an 8-acre lease.

It was learned that Alsabrook and Kemp, who recently took 60 acres in the Kleiner pool on a farm-out deal from Hickok Oil Company, expected to begin a well on their new tract by October 15. It was understood that a drilling company in Abilene has been given a contract for the well.

Old Cavalry Post Listed For Sale

One of the products of a period of the United States Cavalry, Fort D. A. Russell at Marfa, Texas, will undergo the next to last round of its disposal as surplus property during the month of October.

The regional office of the War Assets Administration announced that a sale of approximately 340 acres and 50 buildings of the fort to priority holders and the general public will open on October 7. Most of the other real and personal property of the post has already been sold or transferred. After the land is sold, the last step will be sale of the Fort Russell utility systems.

The army's foray in search of Mexico's Pancho Villa brought about establishment of the cavalry post at Marfa in 1915. General "Blackjack" Pershing brought his men to the fort before it had been built up, and they were first quartered in tents. Later, quarters and administrative buildings were constructed in the form of native adobe, stuccoed and plastered cottages.

These are the buildings the WAA will offer for sale, along with the land on which they are situated. The post was kept active in connection with army activities at Fort Bliss, El Paso, until mechanization of the cavalry resulted in putting it on the surplus list following World War II.

The WAA's offering will be subject to applications by federal agencies, state and local governments and non-profit institutions until October 18, when the priority period will expire. Unclaimed property will be offered to the public without priority, and bid forms will be available to the general public on October 28.

Details of the sale will be furnished by the Grand Prairie regional office of real property P. O. Box 6030, Dallas 2, Texas.

New Look In Kitchen Will Be In Exhibit

Three modern, colorful all-gas kitchens that housewives have seen only in national magazines can be seen in reality in the Natural Gas Building at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, October 9-24.

Faithfully reproduced from McCall's, Ladies Home Journal, and Better Homes and Gardens by Lone Star Gas Company, these kitchens were selected as the most outstanding designs of the year.

Natural birch cabinets, gay snack-lounges, handy snack-bars, and practical planning desks are some of the newer elements that appear in the reproductions.

Each kitchen will occupy its own booth in the Natural Gas Building, with one wall cut away, providing fair-goers with an unobstructed view of all features.

Pamphlets will be available about each kitchen so that interested Fair visitors can carry home floor plans and descriptions of the features which may be incorporated into their own building or remodeling ideas.

Labor Trust Is Blocking Houses

A central agency to correlate the latest scientific developments in housing and broadcast them to the public "is necessary first step" toward meeting the present housing crisis, according to Livingston W. Houston, president of Rensselaer Institute, Troy, New York.

The shortage of adequate housing has been growing steadily since 1900. Mr. Houston explains adding that the monopolistic control of building skills by labor "is one of the basic forces blocking a broad program of home-building, and another is lack of standardization of various items. The 2,000 or varying local building codes also, he said, "are a load on manufacturers who wish to market factory built dwellings on a national basis.
