HCJC Bond Issue Is Marketed At 2.5 Pct.

Trustees of the Howard County Junior College canvassed returns of a $350,000 bond issue Friday evening and marketed the issue at an average of 2.5 per cent.

With word of the issue apparently well spread, representatives of a dozen bonding and investment concerns were on hand to confer with the board. When offers had been submitted, the board elected a refunding proposal, deeming it an offer it could not afford to turn down. A saving of $30,000 was involved.

Successful bidder was the Central Investment and the First Southwest companies with an average of 2.587 per cent. This, however, was on a proposal to refund the bonds over a 25 year period instead of 30 as shown in the election call.

Official results showed that the bond proposal for a permanent home for HCJC had carried by 97 to 295 votes. The Vincent box, showing 13 for and 2 against, was included in the complete, official count.

The sale is conditional upon approval by the attorney general's approval and a waiver by the state board of education. The state automatically has option on all school bonds at the acceptable bid, but it does not wish to match the figure, it can waive.

Bonds will be issued originally under the 30-year term. The bid of the successful company was 2.6089 average for these, or a net interest cost of $160,342.50. However, they will be refunded promptly as a 25 year issue at the 2.587 per cent figure, or a net interest cost of $129,445. This would mean a saving of $30,897.50 over the 30-year bid.

Savings over the high bid submitted would be $37,517.

Offers received by the board included Dallas Union Trust and Hudson & Co., $163,750 for 2.6643 per cent; Columbian Security Corp. and William N. Edwards & Co.,

County Nearing All-Time Cotton Harvest Record

45,600-Bale Figure Reached With Gins Still Far Behind

Howard county Saturday stood only about a week away from an all-time cotton harvest record.

According to Herald estimates, ginnings through Saturday evening stood around 45,600 bales. And most gin yards were still glutted with cotton waiting to be ginned. Based on the volume waiting at gins here, there were something like 500 to 750 bales in the county waiting to get to the stands.

Output at gins stood in excess of 5000 bales for the week despite continued forced-draft operations which put an increasing strain on machinery.

This was the fourth consecutive week that gin production had hit or exceeded the 5,000 bale mark. Since the first week in October when the harvest really swung in to stride, the average has been about 5,000 bales a week. The gain since Oct. 9 has amounted to 26,500 bales.

Saturday's total surged beyond the 45,000 estimate, the roughest of the early and mid-season estimates. Observers now point to a 60,000 bale yield with a possibility that this figure could be exceeded.

The record harvest was in 1937 when the county was credited with 50,670 bales. This might be equaled this week. Almost sure of eclipsing is the 49,085 bales ginned in 1941.

Whatever Howard county's final ginning figure reaches this year, the ultimate production total is apt to exceed it. A considerable volume has gone to out-of-county gins in less congested areas.

Seed purchases by the Commodity Credit Corp. were approaching the 7,000 ton mark. Operations have been transferred to the airport area where mountains of seed, in the midst of an ocean of baled cotton, are rising.

Many fields in the county still have cotton piled, awaiting a chance to get it to the gins. During the week harvest operations slowed perceptibly due to the holidays. A few reported getting over fields except for the final gleaning. The labor situation was fairly static. While pullers cut heavily into the reserve, there was a minor exodus of hands.

Grade of cotton remained about the same at strict low middling, but the ideal dry season for harvest took a slight toll on the staple. Some during the week pulled out 26-32nds. Others raged up to 29-32nds. The emergency open storage facilities at the air base area, set up by the Farm Bureau, had broken the handling bottleneck.

Ward's Chief Aide Seized By Commies

Says Lilienthal Is Ringleader Of Atomic Plot

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) charged tonight that David E. Lilienthal is the ringleader in a "heinous plot" to give Great Britain the secret of an American super atomic bomb.

Johnson said that working with Lilienthal, retiring chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, are "certain politicians, scientists and publications in this country."

All, Johnson said, are "actively engaged in a conspiracy."

The senator also linked the Washington Post to "this unwise scheme." He made his charges in a letter to the Post replying to a Post editorial critical of him. Johnson made the letter public.

Lilienthal could not be reached. Johnson's accusation came after a high government official had said privately the senator's discussions of atomic weapons on a television program were a big factor behind President Truman's crackdown on talk about defense secrets.

Mr. Truman yesterday ordered Atty. Gen. McGrath to lighten the safeguarding of atomic and other security information. The President's action is understood to have been directed mainly at Johnson, a member of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee.

On the television program Nov. 1, Johnson took the position that there has not been enough secrecy about this country's atomic program.

He said the United States has developed an atomic bomb six times more powerful than the one dropped at Nagasaki in 1945, has made much progress in work on a bomb 1,000 times more potent than the Nagasaki weapon and is well on the way toward development of a device which would explode an enemy bomb before it reaches the target.

The Washington Post criticized Johnson Nov. 1 for his television remarks.

GOP Solon Asks Naval Blockade Of China Coast

State Department Strongly Protests Arrest of Stokes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Chinese Communists have suddenly seized another American diplomat at Mukden-Angus Ward's top aide. A Republican congressman immediately proposed that the United States Navy blockade the China coast until he is released.

The Communists' arrest of Vice Consul William N. Stokes in connection with "spying charges" was made known today by the State Department. It ordered "the strongest protest" to the Red commanders in the Manchurian city.

That was not enough for Rep. Judd (R-Minn.), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He suggested the blockade.

"We should have begun a naval blockade a year ago when they first started this line of action," said Judd, a former medical missionary in China. "Falling this, we should have mobilized the forces of world opinion—something we didn't try until a few days ago."

The State Department last week asked 30 nations to bring pressure on the Chinese Reds before they freed Angus Ward, Mukden consul general. What effect this appeal had was not clear.

Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.), who also is a member of the foreign affairs unit, suggested that the State Department immediately lay the case before the United Nations and ask prompt action to get Stokes freed.

Stokes was the chief lieutenant of Ward, who was released only this week after a month's imprisonment by the Communists on charges which the State Department declared were entirely trumped up.

The new seizure came with stunning unexpectedness at a time when American officials believed the worst was over in the Ward case. They had assumed it would be only a matter of days before Ward and his staff would be allowed to leave Mukden.

Rep. Judd told a reporter he was not demanding direct military action against the Chinese Communists. "There are types of action that can be taken short of war and we had better take those steps if we want to keep the respect of the Asiatic people."

HOW THE LIGHTS WENT OUT
Reporters, left and right, make notes as Lieut. Col. W. H. Campbell (gesturing) of Chicago describes his approach to Bolling field air base as pilot of a B-17 plane. The plane wrecked an electric line, plunging a big area of Washington into darkness. With him is the co-pilot, Maj. Van Parker of Oakland, Ill. The plane

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley flew to Paris tonight to urge quick final agreement by the Atlantic treaty powers on a strategic plan for defense of the western world against Russia.

Johnson and Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, left international airport aboard an Air Force Constellation plane immediately after attending the Army-Navy football game here.

The two were whisked to the airport under a police escort. Members of their staffs accompanied them.

The plan due to be adopted, officials said, will cover at least five types of defense tasks to be undertaken by one or more of the 12 nations in the Atlantic alliance.

MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

Community Chest Fund Hits $23,200

Still reacting to the holidays and the weekend distractions, the Community Chest crawled up a notch Saturday.

At the close of headquarters office for the weekend, a total of $23,200 was on hand and pledged. This was approximately 62.7 per cent toward the $37,000 goal.

There were no large contributions. However the first reports came in from rural workers. A. J. Stallings, Lomax, and J. L. Baugh, Jr., had turned in $100 on their first reports. Half a dozen others were still at work.

Some partial reports were received from employe groups and few contributions from business firms trickled in.

Still at work were the canvassers for Cosden Petroleum Corp. and the Texas & Pacific Railway company, which have large employe groups being invited to participate in the Day's Pay plan.

Workers showed little response to fervent appeals to make reports before the close of business Saturday. Accordingly, headquarters asked that major group leaders contact their workers and insist that the reports be made early Monday.

Ted O. Groehl, general chairman, who has been out of the city for the past four days, was back today. He plans to check over reports and outstanding contact lists Monday. On the basis of the study, a general meeting is contemplated. Efforts will be made to press the campaign quickly to a successful conclusion.

The way the Chest now stands would mean that the Salvation Army, the Girl Scouts, the YMCA, the Boy Scouts, Alcoholics Anonymous would have to attempt a year's operations on a two-thirds budget. This would mean either crippling their programs seriously, or subsequent individual campaigns in an effort to make up the deficit.

To avoid either, the Chest is urging all workers to function quickly and the public to give generously to a six-in-one campaign.

Four Killed In Car-Train Crash

STAMFORD, Nov. 26. (AP)—A father and three of his children died in flames near Lueders today when the family car and an attached house trailer crashed into a moving train.

The mother and two daughters received severe burns. The mother is not expected to live.

Dead were:
H. H. Kilpatrick, 35, an oil field worker who was driving the 1942 model sedan.
Jerry Kilpatrick, 13-year-old boy.
Elsie, age 10.
Silvia, age 7.

The four bodies, two in the front seat and two in the rear, could not be removed from the smoking wreckage until almost two hours later.

The mother, Mrs. Alla May Kilpatrick, 33, was reported in "a very critical" condition at a Stamford hospital. She was burned over much of her body.

The other two daughters, Christine, 14, and Joyce, 8, were burned, but doctors say they would recover.

JUST NO HONOR AMONG THIEVES

Two teen-age youths confined to the county jail here provide proof positive that crime does not pay.

The two were returned here from Lubbock Friday to face charges of having burglarized the City Package store of approximately 12 cases of liquor the night of last Nov. 1.

The youths lamented to local authorities they gained nothing from their adventure here, since they were hijacked of their load of spirits shortly after their arrival in Lubbock, their home town.

Two men are being retained in the Lubbock jail, accused of sticking up the two youths and making off with the whiskey.

Man Dies In Car Mishap Near City

Orville Fletcher, about 32, of Sand Springs was killed almost instantly last night when the car in which he was riding became involved in a head-on collision at Sand Springs.

Six other persons were injured, five seriously, when two cars collided about 8:30 p. m.

Charles Fletcher and Mrs. Lola Fletcher, son and wife respectively, of the dead man, and Sally Marhafka, his niece, all of Sand Springs, received serious injuries in the accident, doctors said. They were all in the Fletcher car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McShan of Colorado City were seriously injured in the other auto involved in the collision. Their son, Pat McShan, escaped with minor bruises.

The collision occurred when Charles Fletcher turned his car off highway 80 in front of a Sand Springs cafe. Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser, who investigated the accident, said Fletcher had been proceeding east on the highway; McShan was going west, according to Kiser.

Extent of injuries to persons involved had not been determined late last night. Mrs. Fletcher had a broken leg and broken arm. McShan sustained a broken knee cap and head injuries, while Mrs. McShan had a broken leg and chest injuries, doctors stated.

Other victims were being x-rayed. The injured in the Fletcher car were brought to the Big Spring hospital in a Nalley ambulance. The McShans were at the Medical Arts.

3 RECAPTURED AFTER JAILBREAK

AMARILLO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Three desperadoes who escaped jail here were captured today—two of them shortly after a holdup and the third after an intensive search.

Captured were Edward Lee Rader, 23, James Farris 28, and Leo Earl Rader, twin brother of Edward.

Edward Rader and Farris were arrested about 2 o'clock this afternoon not long after the three had staged a holdup at Radio Station KYLE's transmitter station near Amarillo.

Leo Rader and a man described as an Amarillo police character were found hiding some five hours later in a clump of weeds on a lot near Amarillo railroad tracks.

The Rader twins, Farris and Dwight Hoskins, 24, escaped from the Potter County jail here early Wednesday. Hoskins, under indictment for murder, was recaptured 15 minutes after the break.

Rader and Farris were captured without resistance. Police said Farris was armed with a loaded gun of Belgian make. He also was carrying a box of shells.

The captured Rader told reporters the three had been holed up in a vacant farm house near the transmitter station most of the time since their break.

A. B. Clopton, engineer at the KLYN transmitter, broke into a network program to broadcast the fact the men held him up and fled in his auto.

Within a few minutes officers were hot on the trail.

Police said the two men were captured near the Greyhound Bus Station after they had bought tickets to a theater here, entered, and gone out a rear door.

Telephone Strike Referendum May Be Called In City

Leo Mears, Midland, district chairman of the Southwestern Bell Telephone plant department, delivered the principal address at a called meeting of telephone workers at the Settles hotel here Friday evening, at which time employees of the utilities company were informed a strike referendum may be coming up this week.

W. N. King was selected strike director here, in event such develops.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

Cotton continues to be the top story in this area. Howard county is on the threshold of a new production record. Martin county likely will establish a new figure this year, and Dawson county is in line to shatter its records. Approximately 46,500 bales have been turned out by gins in this county so far and another 15,000 is not at all improbable.

IDENTIFIED AS 'LOVE BURGLAR'

Fred Felix Adair, Jr., has been identified by at least four Dallas women as the man who raped or attempted to rape them during the last several months. He is shown as he was taken from the Dallas city jail for further questioning. Police dubbed the man sought as the "love burglar" early in the series of assaults. The "love burglar" attacked women at night when they were alone. Adair has signed statements witnessed by police and reporters. He is married and has a daughter 18 months old. He is 28 years old. Mysteries In Public Lockers Annoying To Firm Official

By DAVID A. STEIN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 26. — Frederick G. Smith doesn't like mysteries, especially when they're wrapped in packages.

In two big, shell-lined rooms off Times Square, he has hundreds of mysteries to solve. Each of them is from a public locker.

Smith is district manager of the firm (American Locker Co.) which operates thousands of the dime-a-slot parcel bins in New York's railroad, bus and subway stations. Just how many are in use is a trade secret. Nationally, public lockers garner an estimated 40 million dimes a year.

At first Smith worried about boxes of bones that turned up in the bins. Now he knows that the little skulls and skeletons do not mean murder. Usually they are cat bones, which he dutifully returns to universities from which they were borrowed by absent-minded stuents.

Police, secret service men and FBI agents frequently call on Smith for information. "We help as much as we can, but we never give tips to the police," he emphasizes. "If we did, we might as well sign the death warrants of people who work for us."

About 5,000 lockers are changed every day. If a locker isn't emptied after 24 hours of use, its contents are removed, the bin is sealed for three days, and the lock is changed before it is put back into service. Locks are switched from railroad to subway to bus stations, then out of the district.

One conspicuous unclaimed item is a typewriter with an extra-large carriage. Smith called the maker about it. "I bought it," he said. "I bought it by tracing the serial number. The typewriter had been traded in, and there the trail grew cold. In almost a year, no one has claimed it. With other forgotten pack-

INSECT NAILED AS BABY KILLER

'Swat That Fly,' Is Advice Of U. S. Public Health Service

ATLANTA. — "The fly flew in the grocery store, it lit on the counter and it lit on the floor. . . . Maybe you remember that old nursery jingle; maybe you are singing it to your children now. If you are, stop it and kill that fly."

The communicable disease center of the U. S. Public Health Service has just about concluded that the fly is one of the deadliest enemies your child can have.

Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr, a product of the University of Virginia Medical School and director of CDC says the fly has been nailed just recently as a baby killer in the case of shigellosis.

That's just a big medical word for the fatal diarrhea which carries off 6,000 to 8,000 babies annually and is the dread of all hospitals and mothers.

Just before the war, the death rate was 4,000 to 1,000 higher, but more about that in a moment.

Dr. Vonderlehr and his colleagues are extremely suspicious of the fly for another reason. Laboratory tests have shown that flies contain the dread poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) virus.

That was why the CDC embarked on a fly control and study program two and a half years ago which still has another two and a half years to go.

At the end the CDC hopes to have established once and for all the relationship of the fly to polio outbreaks.

One thing more about the fly: Swat it. Don't just spray with DDT. Tests have shown that in the last several years the common house fly has developed a remarkable immunity to the stuff.

The CDC is strictly a war baby grown up. Back in 1942 just after the outbreak of World War II, the U. S. Public Health Service and the armed forces began having jitters over malaria.

Thousands of troops were being shoved into camps in the South and Southwest here 58,277 cases of malaria had been reported. By the end of the year troops were drifting back from the South Pacific and North Africa, both heavily infested.

The surgeon general's office set up an organization in Atlanta known as "malaria control in War Areas." This outfit sprayed oil, paris green and DDT all over the place.

It dug ditches, drained swamps and spent thousands of man-hours clearing debris from the still waters in which mosquitoes breed.

The job was done well. There was no malaria outbreak last year six years after the work was begun. 28,000 blood smears for malaria were performed by CDC laboratories. Only four were positive.

With the malaria situation apparently under control, the U. S. Public Health Service figured it had something hot in this war born outfit.

Congress agreed and the CDC was born.

The CDC now has laboratories scattered about the country working for your welfare—staying home to curb rat borne typhus, leprosy, Rock Mountain spotted fever, rabies, various types of encephalitis (brain inflammation) fever, Acute febrile meningitis and others.

Last September the CDC announced that for the first time mosquitoes had been identified posi-

Music Rehabilitating Penitentiary Inmates

MCALISTER, Okla., Nov. 26. — Folks who like their music to come from fiddles and guitars get an hour of good listening on a Sunday night radio program here.

The show's station KTMCA officials say it's their most popular—features western tunes from a 10-man band crew aptly named "The Outlaws."

"Prisoners On Parade" is unusual for one big reason. The show is written, produced and directed by an all-prisoner staff and it comes by remote control from within the high, white walls of the Oklahoma State Penitentiary. O. E. Kepplinger, civilian supervisor, is the only person connected with the program who isn't a prisoner of the state.

"These men," says Warden Clarence P. Burford, "are being rehabilitated through their music."

Take Jim Easley, the 31-year-old master of ceremonies. He's serving a life term imposed when he was convicted of murdering his wife in Tulsa eight years ago.

The state pardon and parole board is considering his case this month. Easley plans his own band if he's released.

And there's Harry (Cicero) Clark, who was born in Memphis 37 years ago. Harry—the salty fiddler, he's called—will complete his three-year sentence for second-degree burglary next year. Then he hopes to become a musical supply and record dealer.

Jimmie Hamm, born in Nashville and reared in Houston, is just 22 and was only three when he started playing a violin. But in July he started playing with forgery. Oklahoma law put him away until next year.

Ralph Guist, born in Lady Smith, Wis., is a four-instrument mandolin, electric mandolin, banjo and guitar. He was with several bands until he arrived in Oklahoma in 1944. A year later, a car theft conviction netted him 15 years.

Most of others have similar band employment backgrounds—how not all of them. There's 30-year-old Ed Pruitt of Ardmore, Okla. who learned to use his instrument—the steel guitar—since he was admitted last year for forgery.

Stroble Plea Of Insanity In Sex Slaying Likely

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. — Fred Stroble, who faces trial on a charge of murdering six-year-old Linda Joyce Glendon, now complains of "buzzing in the head."

With Dec. 2 set for the 66-year-old grandfather to enter a plea, he told reporters Friday "I think so" when asked if he will plead insanity.

"I'm so dizzy I can hardly see," he said.

If Stroble makes this plea, the court must appoint three psychiatrists to make an examination. This usually requires two weeks and would delay the speedy trial which the district attorney is seeking. His office had hoped to bring the case to trial no later than Jan. 2.

Meanwhile, subpoenas were issued to make sure that Stroble's daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. Ruben Hausman, and their son, Freddie, 12, will appear Dec. 2. Dep. District Attorney Adolph Alexander said he had information that the family was planning to move and leave the jurisdiction of the superior court.

Little Linda's strangled and battered body was found in the backyard of the Hausman home Nov. 15. Stroble, in a statement to the district attorney, admitted killing the girl after she resisted his attempts to "play with her" in a bedroom.

Rainwater Warns Now Is Time To Overhaul Gas Heating Equipment

Brisk fall mornings give the signal for cleaning and adjusting all winter heating equipment. Champ Rainwater, manager of the Empire Southern Gas company here, advises local householders.

All air inlets to gas burners, often clogged by dust and lint, must be checked and thoroughly cleaned if heaters are to give the maximum in efficiency. Rainwater warned. Burners should be adjusted to insure the proper mixture of gas and air for best heating results.

Natural gas burns best when mixed with air at a nine-to-one ratio, he said. If air inlets become clogged and the burner gets out of adjustment, gas bills go up and heating efficiency comes down. Empire Southern servicemen or individual plumbers can make necessary adjustments to all gas burners, Rainwater stated. Gas company engineers will also check heating requirements and the size of heating appliances for the maximum in heating efficiency.

The insulation of walls and ceiling will cut down on winter heating expenses as well as ease the summer cooling problem, construction men say. Weather stripping around doors and windows helps to keep out cold winter air, lowering heating requirements of any structure.

Residents of any section of the city where gas pressure gets too low during cold snaps have been urged to notify the gas company so that corrective measures may be taken, Rainwater stated.

Plans for Hereford Sale Here Dec. 1 Almost Completed

Preparations for a registered Hereford sale here Dec. 1 are entering their final phase.

Rexie Cauble said Saturday that the cattle were in good flesh for the sale and that they would be dressed down by the middle of the week for pre-sale display. More than 1,200 catalogues on the sale which will offer 53 animals. Included are one herd bull, 12 fat bulls, 25 cows and 15 yearling heifers.

Cauble Hereford Farms is offering the cattle in a reduction of the herd, which is one of the longest established in West Texas. The sale is to be held at the West Texas Livestock Auction company plant northwest of the city. There will be dinner on the ground for visitors at 11 a. m. on Thursday the day of the auction. Earl Garlin is to be the auctioneer.

Boston Grand Opera To Visit Lubbock

Grand opera is coming to West Texas next month.

The Boston Grand Opera company will present "La Traviata" and "Carmen" at Lubbock on Dec. 7-8. Both productions will be in the Lubbock senior high school auditorium. The Lubbock American Legion post is sponsoring the appearance of the company.

Elvira Hetal is among the stars for the Boston artists who represent the first Grand Opera company to be booked at Lubbock. Advance tickets are on sale at the Legion hall at 910 Texas in Lubbock.

Uncle Sam Getting Ready For Nation's 17th 10-Year Census

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Uncle Sam is going to ask you a lot of questions next April, but what you say will be confidential.

Beginning April 1 an army of 140,000 census enumerators will start calling on people in every city, town and farm community to find out the nation's 1950 population and obtain housing and agricultural information.

The Census Bureau already has prepared the basic questions for the 17th 10-year census. Agricultural census forms will be mailed to farmers in most states in advance of the population enumeration, and the completed forms will be picked up when the enumerators come around.

Hundreds of high speed tabulation machines will sum of the millions of facts collected by the census field forces.

Basic population questions which will be asked each person include name, relation to head of household, race, sex, age, marital status, state or country of birth, citizenship status, and employment status, the preceding week of every person over 14 years old, and the occupation, industry and class of worker.

Every fifth person the government will ask what state and county he lived in a year earlier and whether he lived on a farm. It will ask country of birth of father and mother, highest grade of school attended and school attendance.

Every fifth person 14 or over will be asked the duration of employment and number of weeks worked in 1949. Income received in 1949 from various sources, income received by relatives in the same household and whether men are war veterans.

Every non-farm owner-occupied unit will be asked, number of dwelling units in the property and whether mortgaged. Non-farm renters will be asked their monthly rent, any amount paid in addition for electricity, fuel and water and whether the rented unit is furnished.

For every fifth dwelling unit the enumerators will get information on the year it was built, heating equipment, heating fuel, cooking fuel, refrigeration equipment, kitchen sink and whether there is electric lighting, radio and television set.

ROBERT FROST, DIRT FARMER AND POET, HONORED WITH GOLD MEDAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The only dirt farmer in this country with a dozen and a half honorary degrees after his name had a gold medal added to his unique list of honors at a public ceremony in this city the other day.

Already the holder of several other medals, the winner of four Pulitzer prizes, and a man who has been writing poetry for 60 years, he is Robert Frost.

He said his biggest crop this season on his 300 mountain-side acres in Ripton, Vt., was 5 or 60 gallons of maple syrup. But to New Yorkers and almost everyone else, his biggest crop was the "Complete Poems of Robert Frost," published last spring by Holt.

And how about Russia, and the atomic bomb, and the things other people worry about? "The human race," he answered with a grin, "is very inextinguishable."

He came here to receive the gold medal given by the Limited Editions Club to "the American author of that book which is considered most likely to attain the stature of a classic." From all he publications of the last five years, the judges chose Frost's "Complete Poems." Awards in previous years went to Donald Culross Peattie, Wyn Wyck Brooks, Ernest Hemingway and E. B. White.

For the first 10 years of this century, Frost lived and raised a family by working a farm in Derry, N. H. Now only a few months under 75, his hair frost white, he is still a working farmer. Though he has a man to run his place, this year he tended to his quarter-acre vegetable garden without anybody's help.

"But since before he was a 15-year-old youngster, when a grown-up New York publication bought a poem of his for $15 or $20, he has forgotten which his life has revolved around poetry, and farming came in between. His father died when he was 10, and he was brought east from his birthplace, San Francisco, to live with a grandfather in Lawrence, Mass. The grandfather suggested he try poetry for one year, and forget it if it didn't pan out. The determined boy answered in the words of the auctioneer: Give me twenty, make it twenty, give me twenty," and the subject was never mentioned again.

"I was kinda scared," he remembers now, but bold inside just the same.

The boldness paid off, though it must have seemed as hard a row as any ever hoed by a grubbing farmer. He was 38 when his first book, "A Boy's Will," was published. From then on, the poems came out in rich, rapid succession, and he was hailed, with no one to contradict it, as a matchless lyric voice.

He talks in the burled, low-pitched tones and the homely phrases of the New England farmer, and while I listened to him, it was hard to realize we were in his daughter's apartment in Greenwich Village, instead of sitting around a stove in a country store and chewing on a couple of straws.

The poet, he said, should never write poems for money, but should never let 'em be printed for nothing. Frost has never believed that the world owed him a living, but from the start, he said, "I always thought I'd be smart enough to make the world let me earn a living at what I did best."

Though he does not find so many young poets around as there used to be, he believes they may appear suddenly as they did in the years when he was beginning his career. And they would have as much chance as ever:

"The world has always had a place for poets," he said, but couldn't help adding: "though poets dead more than alive."

'Mad Dog' Killer Is Electrocuted

CHICAGO, Nov. 26, (U)—James Morelli, protesting his innocence in a "mad dog" killing ory nearly two years ago, died in the electric chair in the Cook County jail today.

The thin, bushy-haired murderer appeared calm as he walked the 10 steps from his cell to the death chamber a minute after midnight.

The execution of the 22-year-old youth was witnessed by 154 persons, the largest number ever to attend an execution in the jail. Morelli was the 51st person to die in the jail's electric chair.

Morelli was convicted and sentenced to hang on the first high voltage charges surged through his body. He was pronounced dead by seven doctors.

Morelli was convicted and sentenced to death in connection with one of Chicago's bloodiest crime sprees. Four men, including one of his two accomplices, were killed and two others were wounded on Dec. 12, 1947.

Since his conviction, Morelli had won five stays of execution by the courts and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. But all efforts for a last-minute reprieve Friday failed. On Thursday, two young men were seized by police near the jail as they attempted to smuggle a gun and two hacksaw blades to Morelli.

Last night Morelli had willed his eyes to any blind man who would furnish "liberal financial aid" to his wife, Genevieve, 38, and their 22 months old daughter. But State's Attorney John S. Boyle said such a procedure would be illegal since Mrs. Morelli had not given her written consent.

Morelli's wife and daughter and his parents visited him in his death row cell last night. Earlier, Morelli told newspaper reporters "I still say I am innocent. I'd even take a lie test."

But Boyle, in court Friday, had described Morelli as a "cold-blooded" assassin, a "cold-blooded" assassin, a "cold-blooded" assassin. Boyle said the appeal court and the federal district court ed, heartless" killer. Boyle appeared in the U. S. Court of Appeals refused to intervene.

Morelli was convicted for the murder of Emil Schmeichel after he previously had been sentenced to 199 years in prison for another of the three killings. One of his companions, Thomas Daley, 42, was slain by police when he resisted arrest. The third, Lowell Fentress, is serving two 199 year prison sentences.

Trial witnesses said the three fatally shot John Kuesis, a garage operator, for giving police information about a robbery. Then, the witnesses said, they killed Schmeichel and Theodore Callis, because they had witnessed the slaying of Kuesis. Two other men taken on a gangland style ride with Schmeichel and Callis were shot and left for dead.

TEC Placements Up To 61 During Week

Local Texas Employment commission placements jumped to 61 for the week ending Friday, Leon M. Kinney, director, announced.

All the new placements were in non-agricultural positions, principally pre-Christmas sales jobs. A number of workmen were placed on an oil storage construction job near Snyder, Kinney stated.

The TEC handled 68 new job orders during the period and accepted 22 new work applications. A total of 321 reception contacts were made. Unemployment compensation claims, both old and new, numbered 19.

The TEC currently has openings in several Christmas sales jobs, Kinney said. Workers are wanted especially for afternoons and Saturdays.

Several of the jobs might become permanent, the TEC director said.

Local C-C Road Committee Meeting Set for Thursday

A meeting of the chamber of commerce highway committee has been called for Thursday at 7 p. m., George White, chairman, announced Saturday.

The group will discuss the possibility of constructing a road from Fairview to Vealmoor, as well as offering aid to expedite construction of the road from Big Spring to Andrews, White said. Decision to call the meeting was reached at an executive committee meeting at the Setliff Saturday.

The executive committee also voted to recommend to chamber directors that a meeting of the special office building committee be set, Douglas Orme, chamber of commerce president, said. The recommendation would call for a survey to determine the need of additional office space here, and aid in securing an adequate office structure if needed, Orme stated.

Dr. R. B. G. Cowper is chairman of the special committee. No date has been set for the meeting.

Gargantua, Giant Gorilla, Found Dead In Circus Cage

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26. (U)—Gargantua, The Great, has tramped his last season.

The giant, snarling gorilla—star of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus for 12 years—died on the same day the "greatest show on earth" folded its tents for the last time on its 1949 tour of the nation.

His powerful, 550-pound body was flown to Baltimore, Md., to undergo an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Press agents said the body will be mounted and presented to the Peabody-Museum at Yale University when Prof. Adolph Schultz at Johns Hopkins Medical School has completed the autopsy.

The lifeless form of "Gargy" was found early Friday by his keeper, Jose Tomas. It was sprawled in the corner of his $20,000 air conditioned cage.

His much publicized mate, Toto, toyed with an orange in the adjoining section of the rubber-tired den, apparently oblivious to the passing of her ferocious spouse.

Gargantua's career as a circus attraction is unparalleled—with the possible exception of P. T. Barnum's famed elephant, Jumbo.

From the day the still-growing gorilla was obtained by John Ringling North, circus president, until his death, the name Gargantua was a household word. His twisted, snarling face has been pasted on untold thousands of barns and billboards across the country.

When North bought a female gorilla, Toto, to be Gargantua's bride, the pending nuptials were widely publicized. The "marriage," however, never was consummated.

It is estimated that 40 million circus goers stared at the ugly animal in its 12 years of tramping.

Former Big Spring Man Accepts Call From State Church

N. C. Dalton, formerly of Big Spring, has moved to El Campo, in Wharton county, to accept a call from the Round Mott Church of God.

Dalton has been active in the Church of God here for several years and has been serving as an evangelist. Currently he is leading in a series of cottage prayer meetings at El Campo, but soon he hopes to break ground for a new church plant.

The Rev. Wesley R. Hutchings, now of Texas City and formerly a pastor of the Main Street Church of God here, is to lead a revival meeting in the church at El Campo starting Dec. 5. Dalton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Dalton.

Bennett Elected Head of Local Sheriff's Posse

Dr. M. H. Bennett was elected president of the Big Spring Sheriff's Posse at a meeting of the organization Friday night. He will succeed R. L. Tollett.

Other officers chosen by Posse men were Elton Taylor, captain; Lieutenant, E. W. Lomax; corral boss, Alvin Walker; secretary, H. J. Morrison; treasurer, H. P. Wooten; and directors, Dale Douglas, R. R. McEwen, J. R. Dillard, H. W. Wright, and Dick Fitzgerald.

John R. Dillard, Fitzgerald, John Marchbanks, Herman Fowler, and H. J. Morrison were named to the Posse's Futurity committee. The group also voted to amend the organization's charter to include women in the membership.

WORKING CONDITIONS FAVORABLE

West Texas, New Mexico Now Employing 42,078 Braceros

EL PASO, Nov. 26. (U)— Not counting 200 bracero cowboys in the Big Bend area, 42,078 Mexican nationals are working under contracts in West Texas and New Mexico.

Fred C. Wendt, director of the Texas Employment Commission for the El Paso District, said the El Paso Labor contracting office at Fort Bliss processed a total of 25,877 Mexican Nationals before it closed recently.

Of this number 18,211 were cotton pickers for employers in this West Texas area and 9,666 were for New Mexico cotton growers.

Besides these, the Chihuahua, Mexico labor center, processed 17,000, 800 of these going to sugar beet fields in Colorado Wyoming and Montana.

Texas got 7,500 and New Mexico the balance.

Generally speaking, conditions under which braceros in this section are working are favorable.

Cotton pickers were contracted for three months, the minimum. That has been and is the only farm work under way. The average pay for the first picking was $1.75 per 100 pounds. Thereafter, it was $2. The poundage for the average picker was 210 pounds. Good pickers made 400.

In the South Plains country of Texas where cotton is pulled—a picking process—braceros can and do make $9 a day—some more. Pulling 600 pounds a day is the average and the minimum price is $1.50 per 100 pounds.

Bracero cowboys for ranchers in the Big Bend, Presidio, Brewster and Terrell Counties, work under a six-months' contract.

The pay ranges from $45 to $60 a month, plus room and board. These ranchers filed applications for a total of 529 cow hands. Certifications from the Mexican Government have been slow. To date, 200 ranch employes have been processed. Before the procedure is over, Wendt expects to process a grand total of 600 braceros for Big Bend ranchers.

There are comparatively few braceros in this section illegally. From the date the contracting started, Sept. 11, the U. S. Immigration Border Patrol has been conducting an intensive roundup campaign. While the contracting was going on, aliens here before Aug. 1 were turned over to the center and taken by employers. Others deported, which is the present situation.

Bojangles Robinson, Noted Negro Tap Dancer, Succumbs In Hospital

By JOHN RANDOLPH
AP Staff

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. — Bojangles danced his way upstairs again last night... for the last time.

Death came to America's great tap dancer—the smiling Negro with the twinkling feet—while he slept under an oxygen tent with a falling heart.

Once before, when asleep Bill Robinson had dreamed his famous upstairs-tap routine—and woke to make a fortune with it.

"I was being made a lord by the King of England," he explained, "and he was standing at the head of a flight of stairs. Rather than walk, I danced up to get it."

Robinson, 71, had been a public entertainer from the age of eight. He carried his nickname, "Bojangles," for almost 40 years. It meant happy-go-lucky.

He began as a little stable boy dancing for pennies in Washington beer halls, reached the top of his world on Broadway and in Hollywood, and made anywhere from $2 million to $4 million.

But he was almost broke when he went to the hospital two weeks ago, and his friends were arranging a benefit when he died.

Robinson never really retired. He kept on dancing until his eyes failed him three months ago and he could no longer see the steps of the old routine. He kept in top-notch training until the end. To celebrate his 60th birthday, he danced 60 blocks down Broadway.

With him when he died was his second wife, Elaine. Also present was his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Smalls, and Marty Forkins, his manager since the early 1920s.

Although he made up to $2,000 a week in show business and $6,000 a week in the movies, cash never stayed with him very long. He gave lavishly to charity—both in money and benefit performances—and he liked to gamble. He was also a crackerjack pool player.

Probably his most famous movie appearance was in "The Little Colonel" in 1933 with Shirley Temple—who called him "Uncle Bill" from then on.

Robinson will lie in state in the Abyssinian Church from 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Services will be at noon Monday, with burial in the actor's section of the Evergreen Cemetery in Brooklyn.

Collection Picture Reveals 78.2 Per Cent Of County Taxes Paid

With another ad valorem tax deadline coming up this week, the composite picture of current tax collections of political subdivisions in Howard county showed Saturday that 78.2 per cent of the rolls had been paid.

Aggregate of payments for the county, state, junior college, common and three independent school districts stood at $663,000. The total levy for all was $1,103,000.

The two per cent discount for November payments still holds good through Wednesday evening. It was possible the total might reach $900,000 by the end of the month.

Largest single collection was reported by the Big Spring independent school district with $235,000 on a $235,000 levy in the roll. This was 74.5 per cent of the roll.

All the agencies served by the county tax collector's office put together a total of $401,000 through Saturday. Included were the payments for state, county, Howard County Junior College, the Knott Independent and all the common school districts of the county.

The Cochran Independent School district, which alone has passed its discount period, had little better than $85,000 on hand.

17 Initiated by Knights Of Columbus At Midland Tuesday

Initiatory degrees were conferred on 17 candidates from four West Texas cities at a meeting of the Knights of Columbus in Midland Tuesday.

J. Domenet, J. E. Settles, Marvin Schneider, Bill Perry, Martin Deblinger, and Dave Wait composed the Big Spring delegation to the meeting. Candidates were from Big Spring, Lubbock, Odessa, and Midland.

Next meeting of the local council will be held Wednesday at the basement of the St. Thomas Catholic Church here.

All-Music Program To Be Broadcast Over KBST Today

An all-music program will be broadcast by the chamber of commerce over station KBST today. Edith Gay, secretary, has announced.

Vocal selections by a sextet made up of Barbara Greer, Ann Crocker, Susan Houser, Jan Masters, Wanda Lou Petty, and Kitty Roberts and soloist Charlotte Nichols will be included on the 3 p. m. program. Jan Masters will play several piano numbers. Miss Gay said. The chamber of commerce secretary will be master of ceremonies.

Red Troops Only 50 Miles From Capital

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—Communist troops pressed towards the Chinese Nationalist capital today in an area only 50 miles to the east.

At the same time they were moving rapidly to isolate the city on the south and southwest.

Spearmen of two Red forces totaling 95,000 men were officially acknowledged to be 50 miles away in the vicinity of Manchuan.

Commodity Prices Show Increase

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The Associated Press index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices this week increased to 162.01 from 160.56 a week ago, but was still well under the year-ago level of 179.97.

The index base year of 1926 equals 100.

Gains in industrial, livestock and grain and cotton commodity prices contributed to the overall increase, outweighing declines in the food, textiles and non-ferrous metals components.

Stock Market Making Stand

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The stock market dug in for a stand Saturday at the end of a shaky week.

Gains exceeded losses by a modest margin. Most price changes were in minor fractions.

Most motor stocks, recently popular but under pressure Friday, finished Saturday with small gains. Chrysler dropped 2 points Friday but rebounded 4 at 90 1/2. Packard and Studebaker inched ahead but General Motors slipped 3/4 to 69 1/4.

Chemical issues were almost uniformly higher, including Allied Chemical, Du Pont, and Union Carbide. Dow Chemical was unchanged.

Sales were 410,000 shares compared with 500,000 a week ago. The Associated Press average advanced 1/8 of one point to 68.2.

New highs for the year were established by 21 stocks while two touched bottom.

During the week approximately half a billion dollars were lopped off the market value of all stocks.

City Air Shipments Show Biggest Gain In Entire State

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—Air express shipments from Texas cities totaled 27,576 in October, up 5 per cent from September but 4 per cent below October a year ago.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported 10,008 shipments from Dallas. Houston was next with 4,892, followed by San Antonio 2,812; Fort Worth 2,022; and El Paso 1,499.

Big Spring turned in the largest increase from September to October—69 per cent. Other large gains in air express shipments were registered in Plainview 33 per cent; Bryan and Lubbock 22 per cent; Waco 19 per cent; Fort Worth 17 per cent; San Antonio 14 per cent; and Del Rio 11 per cent.

The largest monthly declines in air express shipments was recorded by Fort Stockton 108 per cent; followed by Harlingen 45 per cent; Longview 43 per cent; Odessa 21 per cent; Palestine and Brownsville 19 per cent; and Austin and McAllen 15 per cent.

Top Educators Will Speak At Houston Meet

HOUSTON, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—Some 400 of the South's leading educators will be here next week for the 54th annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The United States commissioner of education and the presidents of the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard University will be among the convention speakers.

The meeting opens Sunday and continues through Thursday. Ten other educational groups are to meet in conjunction with the convention.

Harold E. Stassen, head of the Pennsylvania school, is to speak Monday night on "Education of free men." Stassen, a prominent Republican presidential hopeful, is a former Minnesota governor.

Earl J. McGrath, commissioner of education speaks Wednesday morning on "Do we need a new type of advanced education?"

The Harvard president, Dr. James B. Conant, will be the principal speaker at the convention's annual banquet Wednesday night. He is to speak on "Science and Common Sense."

Oldham Bid For Trucks Accepted

City commissioners voted Friday to accept the George Oldham Implement company's bid for supplying the city with two new trucks for use in garbage collection.

The Oldham concern submitted a bid of $2,610.50 each as selling price for two K-7 International trucks with two and a half ton ratings. No delivery date was specified.

The city plans to mount its present hydraulic garbage compressing units on the trucks. Present garbage vehicles will be equipped with flat beds and used in other city departments, City Manager H. W. Whitney said.

Steaks Too Tough For Hi Gridders

WAVERLY, Ill., Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The steak dinner given for the Waverly High School football team last night by the Knights of Pythias turned out pretty tough.

No one could eat the steaks. Seems K. of P. cooks, in flouring the plunkers, used patching plaster.

Gamecocks Defeat Deacons, 27-20

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 26. (U.P.)—A 10-yard touchdown return of a pass intercepted by Quarterback Ed Pasky was South Carolina's margin of victory in a 27-20 win over Wake Forest today. The teams matched touchdowns for the rest of the way before a Southern Conference crowd of 20,000.

Scalpers Need OK From Authorities

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—Notre Dame-Southern Methodist football ticket scalpers have been warned by police that they're in for trouble—unless they've got a license.

Yes, in Texas you have to take out an annual license to scalp tickets and it costs $250.

Deputy Chief of Police Harry T. Riddell said Texas penal codes against unlicensed scalping of tickets "are going to be fully enforced."

The fine for violation of the license law is not less than $100 and not more than $50, or imprisonment in the county jail for a maximum of one year, or both the fine and imprisonment.

The SMU-Notre Dame game has been a sellout since the start of the 1949 grid season. But there have been ample numbers of tickets offered for sale in newspaper advertisements and at considerably above the $4.90 regular price.

St. Louis Browns Purchase Estalella

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The St. Louis Browns announced yesterday that they had purchased veteran outfielder Bob Estalella from the Philadelphia Athletics and would end him to their San Antonio arm of the Texas League.

Estalella was one of the players who jumped to the Mexican League in 1946. He returned to the Athletics last season.

O'Daniel Urged to Run for President

HOUSTON, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The Houston Post today quoted W. Lee O'Daniel as saying much of his heavy mail these days urges him to run for President.

William H. Gardner, Austin correspondent for the Post, interviewed the former governor and U. S. Senator at the O'Daniel two-story, native-stone house on a bush-covered hill near Aledo, 15 miles west of Fort Worth.

O'Daniel told Gardner that as much of his heavy volume of mail urges him to run for president as for governor.

"But with his customary eagerness about divulging his plans, he wouldn't say what he intends to do in 1950. Or thereafter," Gardner said.

O'Daniel said: "When I get ready to announce anything, I'll do it in the usual way—call all the newspaper boys in and tell them at the same time."

Gardner said he found O'Daniel in a double garage "nailing a box that looked like it was intended for a hen nest."

The ex-governor, he said, talked freely about state and national affairs.

WINGS OVER Local Air Traffic Hit by Holidays

Holidays cut down on military air traffic during the past week, but it had its effect on civilian flights, too. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Ward and family flew to Hutchinson, Kans. in their Cessna for Thanksgiving. Jack Odie, CAA control tower chief, wound up a 10-day leave by watching his alma mater, TCU triumph over SMU Saturday. Gordon (Dogie) Stone flew to Fort Worth for the game also.

Runway lights are back in generally good condition with exception of one runway, where re-

Local Poll Tax Sales Lagging

Sale of poll taxes here is still lagging. County Tax Collector-Assessor Bernie Freeman announced Saturday.

At least yesterday, only 372 polls have been purchased. An additional 251 exemptions had been granted up to that time.

Persons have until Jan. 31 to obtain poll tax receipts and protect their voting rights for the 1950 elections.

Normally, the voting strength of the county is in excess of 6,000.

Royal Court Moved To Windsor Castle

LONDON, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—King George and Queen Elizabeth moved their Royal Court to Windsor Castle today.

It was the first time in 40 years the royal family has held court during the autumn in the famous old castle 21 miles up the Thames from London.

the area's output is like, drive around today on the northeastern and northwestern slopes, then swing out to the airport section. You'll see something like 50,000 hales, plus around 7,000 tons of cottonseed.

Anxiety to get cotton to gin has resulted in some trucking to points outside the bollworm infested area—contrary to regulations. Quarantine officials last week urged producers to cooperate and avoid necessity of clamping down on movement of cotton to gins.

Howard County Junior College lacked only 25 votes getting a 5-1 majority for its $350,000 bond issue for a permanent home. At the end of the week trustees had marketed the bonds for 2.5 per cent average, utilizing a refunding plan to amortize over 25 years instead of 30 provided in the call. This means that by tightening up and paying in about $2,000 more per year, the issue can be retired five years earlier and at a $30,000 savings to the taxpayers.

When the Herald's daily box score on the number of deathless days in traffic inside the corporate limits jumped from 699 to 715 in a single day, many people wanted to know how come. In jumping from Friday afternoon to Sunday morning papers, we simply did not keep up with the days as we should have.

Big Spring has closed out a football season which was gratifying chiefly in terms of a year or two from now. Now comes basketball, and fortunes are due to be vastly better. The junior college should come up with a sound aggregation, and the high school quintet is due to be flashy.

E. C. Dodd, HCJC president, will be in Houston Monday for the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He won't submit the HCJC membership application, but he will serve notice that the application is coming up next year. Under its temporary building situation, HCJC couldn't apply.

Discrimination Out

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—The National Interfraternity Conference recommended today that college Greek-letter societies wipe out any existing barriers to membership based on race, religion or nationality.

O'Daniel Urged to Run for President

He quoted O'Daniel as saying: "Many people—some of them good men—have asked me to run for the Senate on the Republican ticket. But I tell them if I wanted to go back to the Senate I wouldn't be doing it the hard way."

"All my information indicated I could have gotten more votes and more financial support than ever before if I had decided to run for re-election to the Senate last year."

"It's got to the point where Congressmen don't care any more about what party ticket they ride into Washington than they do about what railroad ticket," O'Daniel said.

"There are more crooks in Washington per square inch than any where else in the country. When I was there we had about 12 good senators; there are less than that now."

"We are completely gone. We're 100 per cent socialists now, and the next step will be communism."

"God might be intending to save us with a miracle," said O'Daniel. "I don't know. He hasn't taken me into His confidence yet."

Eastern Howard Test Progresses

Increasing interest was being focused on the Southern Minerals and Forest Oil No. 1 R. V. Outsize, east-central Howard county deep well test, at the end of the week.

The venture was past 6,540 feet at last reports, and was drilling ahead. There have been unconfirmed reports that the exploration has been high on structure. Location is in the center of the southwest quarter of section 28-31-1n, T&P, two miles northwest of Coshoma.

In the Vainisvool pool, Seaboard No. 2 Cecil Mansfield, 1,996 feet from the north and 1,975 feet from the east lines of section 33-33-3n, T&P, was bottomed at 7,836 feet and running casing preparatory to a test.

Moore No. 1 Jones, a west step-out from the pool discovery, was below 6,973 feet. It is 1,990 feet from the north and 702 feet from the east lines of section 26-33-3n, T&P. Seaboard No. 9 Zant, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 28-32-3n, T&P, was rigging down for test. Casing pressure was 750, tubing pressure 700 pounds.

Lamar Hunt No. 1 Carey Feaster, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 4-26-1n, T&P, six miles north of Colorado City, progressed to 4,393 feet in line.

A new location was announced for south Harding county. It will be the York & Harper No. 6 L. C. Clark, 12 miles west of Water Valley.

Gilmer Aiken Program Costly

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26. (U.P.)—First year cost of the Gilmer-Aiken program will be $181,397,000 or less, L. P. Sturgeon of New Boston, director of the Texas Minimum Foundation Program, said today.

Dean L. D. Haskey of the University of Texas College of Education, predicted the cost would increase in the second and third years and then "level" off between $225 million and $235 million annually.

They spoke at the concluding session of the Texas State Teachers Assn., annual meeting here.

Sturgeon said schools must keep accurate attendance records if the Gilmer-Aiken plan is to succeed.

"It is vitally important that each school receive full credit but no more," he said. "There must be no manipulation of average daily attendance records."

Sturgeon said the attendance funds will total about $160 a year or about 90 cents a day per child.

Haskey said the rise in school costs could be traced to the "bumper crop of babies caused by the war."

Dawson Ventures Near Sprayberry

Two tests in southeastern Dawson county were nearing the Sprayberry section Saturday.

Seaboard No. 3-D-A Robinson, 660 feet from the north and 1,745 feet from the west lines of section 37-34-5n, T&P, ran Schlumberger at 6,640 feet. Seaboard No. 3-D-A Robinson, 660 feet from the south and east lines of the tract, was bottomed at 3,335 feet, having cemented seven and five-eighths inch string at 3,354 feet with 800 sacks.

Seaboard No. 3-D Lee, 1980 feet from the north and 360 feet from the east lines of section 47-34-5n, T&P, was fishing at 6,715 feet. Seaboard No. 3 C. W. Shaffer, 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west of section 48-34-5n, T&P, progressed to 4,641 feet in line.

Two Explorations Are Due in North Snyder

Two new explorations to test the Canyon lime reef have been planned for the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry County.

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2 L. S. Herod is to be located 467 feet from south and west lines of the west half of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is projected to 7,000 feet. Sun Oil Company No. 3 H. J. Brice will be 467 feet from south and west lines of northwest quarter of section 385, block 97, H&TC survey. It is eight miles north of Snyder.

TAKES 20 CURTAIN CALLS

'Texas, Lil' Darlin' Is Broadway Hit

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (U)—The sections of the United States—a few of those in Texas, in particular—are the background for Broadway's newest hit musical comedy, sometimes bizarre political campaign which takes place in certain "Texas, Lil' Darlin'," which was cheered for 20 curtain calls at its premiere last night in the Mark Hellinger Theater.

With Kenny Delmar, the "That's A Joke, Son" Sen. Claghorn of radio, making his Broadway stage debut in the leading role, it is a tasteful burlesque of the national political scene. Add with its brash, brave humor it promises to be as successful a political commentary as was "Of Thee I Sing" in 1931. Not only does it sketch a comic cartoon picture of politics in Texas, but it also casts some humorous barbs at such Washington figures as President Truman and Major General Harry Vaughan.

Authors John Whedon and Sam Moore have written into the libretto a character who is State Senator Himiny Smith who is running for one of his many terms in Texas. Smith's platform in the one he has used for years, "Promote Everything, and then forget you promised it after election." This year the only new thing he has added is "Remember The Alamo—And Mary Martin." He is capitalizing upon the current Broadway success of Texas-born Mary Martin in the musical "South Pacific."

But, Smith, for the first time in his career is meeting stern opposition from World War II veterans because he has fallen down not only on veterans housing, but also on other projects needed by all the people as a whole. And the veterans win despite Homily Smith's support by the New York publisher of a national picture magazine.

Other than Delmar, Producer Anthony Farrell, has given this musical an unstinted, colorful production and an exciting cast, most of whom are little known on Broadway. But, "Texas, Lil' Darlin'" should make them extremely well known and liked, especially Mary Hatcher, an enchanting singer from Florida, and ten-year-old Betty Lou Keim, a most versatile youngster from Malden, Mass.

France's Strike Ends Ineffectively

PARIS, Nov. 26. (U)—France's 24-hour general strike ended today as quietly as it began, with relatively little effect on every-day life.

At four spots—St. Nazaire, Cherbourg and Brest on the west coast, and Dijon southeast of Paris—there were minor clashes between strikers and police.

Leaders of the nation's two largest labor unions, conceded privately that there was scant chance of carrying the strike through Saturday as the Communist-dominated General Labor Federation had advocated.

Officially the strike ended at 9 p.m. CST Friday. The CGT and the non-Communist workers' force called the 4-hour walk-out to back up demands for more pay, cost-of-living bonuses and a return to collective bargaining free of government controls.

Brannan Plan Hit By Grange

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 26. (U)—The National Grange has rejected the Brannan farm price support program as "an internal cancer that would ultimately destroy our free enterprise system."

The resolution condemning the farm program proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan was a highlight of the closing session of the 12-day National Grange convention last night. Delegates from 37 states took part in installing Master Albert S. Goetz for his fifth two-year term just before passing the resolution which said of the Brannan Plan: "The proposal has totally undesirable political implications. Clearly, under such a system, that party which would promise to farmers the largest bonus out of the treasury would garner many votes not obtainable on the basis of a honest, sound platform."

"It would then become a race to see which party would promise most." The resolution said the Brannan type of subsidy would make farmers "public beggars for a fair income" and "destroy their character and self reliance."

Winners in Herald Christmas Shoppers' Contest Announced

Eight Big Spring people will share $52 in cash awards, as winners in The Herald special Christmas Shoppers' contest announced Saturday.

Winner of first place is Mary Bogart, 203 East Park, who receives $24. Second prize of $15 goes to Verla Ache, 708 Runnels; and third award of $10 to Mrs. S. M. Barbee, 110 Gollad. Winners of five $5 prizes are Mrs. Howard Stephens, 701 W. 18th; Juanita Cox, 509 Bell; Delmar Martin, 203 N. Nolan; Mary Martin, 1909

Runnels; and Doyle Mason, 606 11th Place. Contestants worked with a cooperative advertising page from last Sunday's Herald, entering in designated wreath spaces the names of "Christmas Shopping Contest" items which were on display at various cooperating stores. Judging for the prizes was done on the basis of accuracy and on novelty and originality in preparing the completed pages.

Miss Bogart compiled the items into a "Volume of Values," an attractive bound booklet in green with white lettering. Each item was listed on a separate page, printed on a miniature folder, and this nested as the centerpiece in an elaborate Christmas wreath.

Miss Ache's second place winner attracted attention of judges since all Shopping items were sketched in hand, in crayon, in each of the designated spaces. Mrs. Barbee's third place winner was mounted on a large sheet of red cardboard, edged with pleated white curtain scrim, and with contest items arranged in the shape of a large Christmas tree.

The Christmas Shoppers' event was sponsored by The Herald in cooperation with various Big Spring business houses.

Checks to the prize winners will go into the mails Monday from the newspaper.

Texas Shark Fishery May Be Established

ROCKPORT, Nov. 26. (U)—A Chinese love of shark fin soup may produce a brand-new industry in Texas.

Results of a state marine laboratory fishing experiment off the Texas coast show there are enough sharks in the warm waters to support a fishery. This means several commercial sharking boats, plus occasional sharkers could build an industry to help supply the world with shark fins and livers.

Vitamin-rich livers are more valuable than fins. But fins would produce extra revenue to make fishing for the dusky creatures profitable. Shark skin to an extent is made into leather. Shark liver extract was given to air force pilots during the war to improve their night vision.

Livers are rich in vitamin A, which is extracted as a substitute for cod liver oil. The price ranges from 10 to 12 cents per pound. But Gulf sharks sometimes have livers that weigh 200 pounds.

Roughly, the livers make up 13 percent of the shark. The fins are exported to the Chinese for their loved delicacy—shark fin soup. In an experiment off Rockport, the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission cooperating with C. A. Porter of the shark industries division of the Borden Milk Company, fished for shark. Results were gratifying.

Eighty-nine sharks were caught off miles-long trawl lines using 318 hooks, baited with porpoise, red fish and trout. Most of them were tiger sharks. They liked the porpoise best.

Several sharks were lost in towing them to port. The experimental boat, captained by George Nava, was too small to bring all the catch aboard. An average price of $6.50 per shark was realized.

Porter said, "The experiment showed commercial shark fishing would be profitable along the Texas coast. The Borden Company purchases shark livers from all over the world. But they get none from Texas."

C. L. Baughman, of the state marine laboratories said sharking could be carried on in bad weather when shrimp fishermen cannot operate. This would be profitable off-season fishing for shrimpers.

The marine laboratory experts conducting the test were limited by lack of adequate equipment. They feel if they had a larger boat and could go farther out in the Gulf, the trawl lines would be filled with hammerheads and bull sharks. They grow bigger and have livers richer in vitamin A.

SAGE ADVICE FOR RACCOONS

CACHE, Okla., Nov. 26. (U)—Here's a sage suggestion for raccoons which might be tempted to try their legs on a power line wire: Don't.

Yesterday Ranchman Jack Howenstine saw a raccoon climb a pole, walk along a wire, then step over an adjacent one. The wires short-circuited. The raccoon fell to the ground, dead.

Pontiac Station Wagon Price Cut

DETROIT, Nov. 26. (U)—Pontiac division of General Motors Friday cut $250 from the price of its station wagon and $25 from the tag on its hydramatic transmissions.

There were no changes in the prices of any of Pontiac's conventional type passenger cars. Earlier Friday Oldsmobile also announced a $25 cut in the price of the hydramatic transmission. The Pontiac and Oldsmobile revisions reduce the hydramatic price tags to $158.50.

Texan Sent Four Kids Through College, Now Seeks Own Diploma

ABILENE, Nov. 26. (U)—A San Antonio man sent four children through college. Now he's working for a diploma himself.

He is Victor Ortiz, 58-year-old sophomore ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons University. He's from San Antonio.

Until 1935, Ortiz was unable to read or write. About that time he circulated a petition to start a high school in his section of San Antonio. The petition was successful. Ortiz went to the new night school from 1935 until 1940 for three hours a night, after working all day.

When his children received their high school degrees, he wanted them to go on to college.

They did. A daughter, Mary went to Southwestern University Georgetown, and is now a registered nurse. A son, Joe, was graduated from the University of Texas as a mechanical engineer. Another son, Arthur, received his architectural engineering degree from Texas A&I College in Kingsville. Vera went to St. Mary's university in San Antonio and obtained a lab technicians' rating.

Victor Ortiz and his wife both enrolled at Hardin-Simmons in 1946 on a scholarship.

For several years they worked from noon to 9:30 p.m. at an Abilene hotel. Then they would go home, and sit up late, studying. This year, Mrs. Ortiz was unable to continue her college career. But the husband is determined to get that degree.

Ortiz was born in Mexico, brought to Texas as an infant and fought in the first world war.

DOESN'T KNOW WHAT'S WRONG

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (U)—The man who sent out all those postcards branding Los Angeles as a wild and wicked city, says Police Chief William Worton, is a 56-year-old janitor, Charles Janson.

Janson was charged with sending defamatory matter through the mail after police compared his writing with that on the postcards.

Said Janson at his arraignment Friday: "I don't know what it's all about."

Greatest Compliment a Car Ever Had!

NUMBERED AMONG THE HAPPIEST Cadillac owners are many, many dealers who sell and service other well-known makes of cars.

They feel perfectly free to avail themselves of Cadillacs because they know that all the world holds Cadillac in a class apart. Hence, it is no reflection on the cars they sell when they seek, for themselves and their families, the exclusive advantages which "the Standard of the World" provides.

This, of course, is the greatest compliment a motor car ever had—and the respect upon which it is founded has been fifty years in the building. Throughout all this time, there has been the strictest adherence to the highest ideals of engineering and production. Not once has the inflexible rule of quality been eased for a single day.

It is a wonderful thing to own such a car. It is a wonderful thing to drive it—to relax in it—and to have it as a cherished possession. All in all, it enhances the enjoyment of the whole day's activities.

We think you would sense all this—and more—after an hour or so at the wheel. Why not come in some day, quite soon—for a ride that's a revelation? We should be happy to have you any time.

Tarheels To Test Rice Owls In Cotton Bowl Game Jan. 2

Virginia Win Clinches Bid

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 26. —North Carolina's football players sang happily in their showers late today.

They had something to sing about. They had just managed to win over Virginia 14 to 7 and they got a bid to the Cotton Bowl.

Their happiness came shortly after they had been as tense as a band of football players can get. In the closing minutes of the game they had just managed to hold off a Virginia threat that would have tied the score.

North Carolina was named Saturday to play Rice in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Jan. 2.

All-America Charlie Justice was down on his knees on the side lines during these tense moments. Asked if he was praying, he said: "You bet your life I was praying."

Justice said he was happy at the prospect of playing in the Cotton Bowl.

But Charlie added that he didn't want to play any more games as tight as the one with Virginia.

After North Carolina took a 14 to 0 lead, Virginia came back in the fourth quarter to score once and get to North Carolina's seven in the closing seconds of the game.

"We're crowd pleasers," Justice grinned as he recalled the many tight games he and his mates have played this year. "I don't like to play them that close."

Of the Cotton Bowl game, Justice said "I want to go very much."

The Tar Heel squad voted yesterday to accept the bowl bid if they won today's game.

Coach Carl Snavely was asked by reporters what he thought of Justice now that his regular season playing days are over.

"He's the greatest halfback we've ever had," then he added: "He's the best I ever coached."

Justice ran 14 yards for one of North Carolina's touchdowns and passed to North Carolina's great end, Ar Weimer for the other.

Justice and other members of the Tar Heel squad said they did not realize that Weimer was close as he was to setting a collegiate pass receiving record. Weimer fell one short of tying a record set by Cliff Coggins of Mississippi Southern Thursday. Coggins caught 53 passes this season and Weimer caught 52.

Of the Cotton Bowl game, Irvin Holdash, North Carolina's great defensive center said:

"I'm ready. Man, I'm ready to go. I want to get down there and ride one of those horses. I hope we can win if we go."

Bison Selected By All Coaches

Sterling City's Eagles, champions of District Eight six-man football, placed two players on the Daily Herald's all-conference team chosen by the coaches.

War Birds who made the grade were Henry (Buz) Bliznak, 172-pounder power-runner, and Jimmy Lindsay, 142-pounder, who played big roles in Sterling's convincing bi-district win over Court-ney last week.

Wayne Huestis, Forsan's speedster, was the only unanimous choice of the starting sextet but Lindsey lacked only one vote of being a universal selection.

Gene Krall, Christoval; Billy Dean Zachary Rankin; and Gene Dillard, Paint Rock, were the other first team choices.

Duard Grossham, Sterling City, lacked one vote of tying for a first place position. Grossham made the second team along with LeRoy Butler, Sterling City; Virgil Bennett, Forsan; E. L. Tankersly, Mertzon; and two Rankin athletes, Norman Yoachum and Don Still.

The first team mobile and touchdown-minded, averages around 162 pounds in weight.

FIRST TEAM

 BACK—Henry Bliznak, Sterling City, 172 pounds.

Indians Batter Wolfpack, 33-7

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Nov. 26. —William and Mary's Indians crushed North Carolina State's Wolfpack behind Joseph (Buddy) Lex's passes today, 33-7, in a Southern Conference football game before 8,000 fans. Lex passed for three touchdowns. The game ended the season for both eleven.

Cards Meet Packers

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. —The Chicago Cardinals will attempt to register their seventh consecutive victory over the Green Bay Packers in their National League football game at Comiskey Park tomorrow.

The game will be played on a frozen gridiron.

Defeat for the Packers will knock them back into fifth place in the Western Division of the league.

BID TO LITTLE ROCK

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 26. —Little Rock, Ark., Junior College early tonight was selected to represent the east in the Little Rose Bowl football game Dec. 10.

Cadets Surge To 38-0 Win Over Middies

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. —A seething Army football team smashed Navy today, 38 to 0, for the worst defeat in this service classic that now has run fifty games. President Truman and 102,443 other spectators shivered throughout the contest both because of the cold and Army's might.

The Cadets, who whipped Navy by a forty to six score in 1900 for the previous worst defeat in the series, grabbed their first touchdown after the opening twelve plays but they saved the masterpiece for the second half.

Bobby Vinson, a defensive back in the Army's two platoon system was on the field for the kickoff and cradled the ball on his own eight, streaked down the middle of the field for 92 yards for the touchdown that made the game a rout.

Army built up a 13 to 0 edge in the first half, getting the first at the end of a five-yard smash by Gil Stephenson that ended a 65-yard march. In the second period Army's 6-6 Galiffa sneaked over from the five after a 79-yard march but Jack Mactummel missed the conversion of that one to make it 13 to 0 at the half.

Vinson's blistering run was followed in the third with another Stephenson touchdown, set up when Elmer Stout intercepted a Bobby Zastrow pass on the Navy thirty. Penalties moved the ball to the ten and Stephenson went over in two tries. Stephenson got his third tally on the first play of the fourth on a one-yard slant and Herb Johnson got the final midway of the session as the chilled throng began leaving the stands.

Army also dominated the first period that Navy gained only nine yards and never was able to pick up a first down. Immediately after the touchdown Army marched to the ten-yard line where a penalty halted the drive. Just before the period ended the Cadets this time with Frank Fischl doing the heavy work, battered to Navy's 35.

A 22-yard run by Stephenson and a pair of passes from Galiffa to Dan Faldberg and Bill Kellum gave Army a second touchdown early in the second period. The flip to Faldberg was good for 32 yards and the toss to Kellum 11. Galiffa then scored the tally himself by sweeping his own left end. Mactummel's try for the point was blocked.

Army appeared off on another scoring jaunt later in the session but the Navy stalwarts held on their own one-yard line. Stephenson, who had been wrecking the Sailor forwards, was on the bench during the final yards with a knee injury. Karl Kuckbahn took over the plunging role but gained only two yards in four tries.

An apparent sixth touchdown for Army was called back after Herb Johnson, third string back, had stormed 32 yards into the end zone. Army was offside on the play and gain. Bob Black, son of the coach, pointed to Navy's five-yard line where the Middies started a drive up field. But it wasn't long before Army had the ball again and this time Johnson went over from the one for a marker that did count, and Mactummel converted.

Notre Dame Storms Past Trojans In Final Home Game, 32 To 0

SOUTH BEND, Ind. Nov. 26. —Notre Dame exploited all the breaks and methodically rumbled to its ninth straight victory and 37th game without defeat with a 32-0 triumph over a game Southern California eleven today.

An Irish home finale crowd of 57,214 saw the relentless Irish punch across two first period touchdowns and one each in the next three quarters.

The Trojans, suffering the most one-sided setback in the 21 meetings between the intersectional foes, made their deepest thrust in the opening period, reaching Notre Dame's 13.

A soggy field hampered the running attack of both teams, but the Irish effectively mixed alert defensive play and Bob Williams' timely passing to wear down the Trojans.

Five different Irish players scored, but the issue really was settled with less than three minutes left in the first period when Williams winged a 40 yard scoring pass to Eng Leon Hart.

Little more than a minute later, Irish Safety John Pettibon raced 43 yards for a touchdown on an intercepted pass and after that the game was a plodding battle with the outcome apparent.

Eight Class A Teams Advance In Playoffs

By WILBUR MARTIN
 Eight more Class A football teams smashed into the second round of their championship play-off.

Bowie, Garland, Mineola, Grand Saline, New Braunfels, French (Beaumont), El Campo, and Uvalde last night joined seven other first round winners.

Waco beat Temple, 14-6, in a Class AA game last night. This division and the City Conference open championship play next week. Grand Saline beat Kaufman, 20-12, in the biggest upset last night, pushing over two touchdowns in the final two minutes of play to ruin the Lions' undefeated, untied record.

Edna was another undefeated, untied team that took the field, losing to El Campo, 14-7.

Arlington, unbeaten but tied, deadlocked Garland, 6-6, and lost on penetrations. . .

Mineola rolled over Levertit's Chapel, another unbeaten but tied team, 39-20, scoring two touchdowns in the first four minutes of play.

In other games, Bowie whipped Burkburnett, 19-7, New Braunfels downed Brenham, 27-13, French defeated Alvin, 21-19, and Uvalde blanked Edison, 34-0.

Littlefield, Wink, Ballinger, Atlanta, Mexia, Rosebud, and Mission earlier this week moved ahead in the playoffs.

The second round will match the winner of the Lefors-Phillips game against Littlefield; Wink-Ballinger; Bowie-Garland; Mineola-Atlanta; Grand Saline-Mexia; Rosebud-New Braunfels; French-El Campo, and Mission-Uvalde.

Bobby Don Walker and John Kelly sparked Mineola's victory, Walker scoring two touchdowns and Kelly three, on two runs of 35 yards and one of 71.

Bobby Page passed to Bill Hardy for two Levertit's Chapel scores and Don Gregory tossed him another payoff aerial.

Wayne Sullivan passed to Edmon Smith to give Grand Saline its tying touchdown, then Chubby Spears' 60-yard return of an intercepted pass set up the winning tally. Sullivan scored it from the four.

Donald Lee Bloom passed for one Bowie touchdown and ran 70 yards for another.

Axtens Named To Herald's All-5 AA Football Eleven

Four Abilene Lads On Team

All five schools were represented on the Daily Herald's 1949 All-District 5AA football team. The champion Eagles of Abilene high school, given their greatest scrap in their final regular game of the year by an underrated San Angelo outfit had 3 linemen and one back on the mythical eleven Angelo came in for three of the berths, Sweetwater two and Big Spring and Brownwood one each. Billy Hooper, Sweetwater; Hul Ingraham, Abilene; Don Low, Brownwood; and Bobby Clatterbuck, San Angelo, comprised the first team's backfield.

Hooper and Clatterbuck were stellar passers. Although Clatterbuck rarely ran with the ball, he was a wizard at handling it. Hooper and Low were stand-out ball carriers. Had Low been with a top-ranking team, he might have been considered the best back in the state. Lee Axtens, rangy, aggressive Big Spring center, won that position easily although his team fared rather poorly in its last few games. Axtens was a 175-pound senior who revelled in defensive play.

Flanking him at the guard posts were Ronald Williams, San Angelo, and Ron Rhodes, Abilene. Big Spring linemen said Rhodes posed a problem for them all evening and they found it nearly impossible to move him out of a play.

Charley Thompson, 240-pound junior of Sweetwater, and Ed Hodges, Abilene, won the tackle berths. Though Walt Schleyer and Sam McKnight, Angelo, pushed them all the way. Perhaps the district's standout performer was George Kendall, a tall end who led the Angelo Bobcats in scoring. Kendall was terrific on offense and used his 205 pounds to excellent advantage in repelling enemy thrusts. His running mate at the terminal posts was Don Strange, 168-pounder who wore Abilene's colors. Amos Jones, Big Spring, was named to the second team secondary along with Billy Bishop, Brownwood; Dwight Trice, San Angelo; and Bill Galusha, Abilene.

Sweetwater Rotary To Host Gridders

Members of the first and second All District 5AA football teams, chosen by the coaches, will be honored at a Rotary Club banquet in the Sweetwater high school gymnasium at 6:30 p. m. Monday, Dec. 12. It has been announced. Coach Bob Woodruff of the Baylor Bears will serve as principal speaker.

Griddler Reported In Grave Condition

BEAUMONT, Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) Charles Whatley, 17-year-old football player, was reported in serious condition today following a game injury.

He sustained a brain concussion and it was reported his right side was paralyzed. Whatley is quarterback on the French High School team. The team played Alvin in a bi-district game here last night.

TEXANS TO PLAY

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) Some junior college in Texas will be selected in a few days to meet Pearl River Junior College in the annual Memorial Bowl football game here Dec. 9.

Ballinor, Wink Officials Meet Here Today To Decide Game Site

School officials and coaches of Wink and Ballinger will gather at the Settles hotel at noon here today to work out details for the Class A state quarterfinal football game between teams representing those schools next weekend. Wink qualified for the second round of the playoffs by trouncing Haskell last week 47-14, while Ballinger squeaked by Ranger, 6-2, to a late touchdown to slip into the quarterfinals. Wink is champion of District 3A, Ballinger 7A.

McCULLOCH GREET'S 19 CAGE HOPEFULS

Nineteen prospects answered the first call to high school basketball practice here Friday afternoon and Coach Larry McCulloch said he was expecting several more by Monday.

The Longhorns, of whom bright things are expected this season, have little more than a week of work ahead of them before their opening game of the 1949-50 campaign. McCulloch's troops plunge into activity Dec. 6 in Lamesa, at which time they play the defending 5AA champions, the Lamesa Tornados. Lubbock's Westeners, who won their first place in the AA state meet last year, will host the Steers Friday Dec. 9.

Local fans can get their initial glimpse of the herd in action Tuesday, Dec. 13, at which time they entertain Midland. The locals are booked to take part in the Midland tournament Dec. 16-17. On Tuesday, Dec. 20, they'll have the Odessa Bronchos as their guests. That's a significant date, in view of the fact that the Hooses are coached by Johnny Malaise, who McCulloch replaced as coach here.

McCulloch, a standout athlete himself while at Texas Tech, has half a dozen lettermen around which to build his team.

Back from last year's squad are veterans Wayne Brown, Howard Washburn, Amos Jones, Harold Rossion, Floyd (Pepper) Martin and Howard Jones.

Competing for first string jobs will be such strapping youngsters as Ross Wood, Aubrey Armistead, W. C. Blankenship, Jr., Paul Fortenberry and Charles Porch. Bobby Gross could develop into quite a court hand. Others reporting Friday who must rate consideration for A string jobs include: Bobby Leonard, Jerry Choate, C. B. Harris, Jackie Jennings, Gerry Scott and Ray Adams.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) - Kentucky will meet Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl game here Jan. 2. Kentucky won the choice for the bright bowl spot last night by walloping the University of Miami 21 to 6.

The powerful Wildcats from the Blue Grass State are still in town. They've been grinning knowingly all day.

Kentucky and Miami knew last night that a bowl bid rested in the balance as they staged one of the most spectacular games of the year in the Orange Bowl Stadium, where Miami's Hurricanes play all their home games.

Miami would have earned the Orange Bowl spot had it won. But the inspired Hurricanes could not slow down the opposition at a more skillful, faster and sorer team, and the Wildcats clawed their way into the New Year Classic.

Kentucky won nine games and lost only to Southern Methodist and Tennessee this year.

Santa Clara's 'vice-beaten and once-led team accepted the other Orange Bowl bid Tuesday while en route home from a 28-21 defeat at the hands of Oklahoma.

They will be the first California team to play in Florida's Orange Bowl. Santa Clara made two trips to the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, defeating Louisiana State 21-14 in 1947 and repeating against the same team in 1938 by a 6-0 score.

Kentucky never has played in a major post-season bowl game. Bryant's arrival in 1946 lifted the Kentucky gridiron machine out of the conference doldrums. In four years his boys have chalked up 29 victories, 11 defeats and two ties. He Wildcats now stand second only to powerful Tulane in South-eastern Conference standings.

Their record this season included victories over Mississippi Southern 71-7, Louisiana State University, 19-0, Mississippi 47-0, Georgia 25-0, The Citadel 44-0, Cincinnati 14-7, Xavier 21-7, Florida 35-0 and Miami 21-6. They were defeated by Southern Methodist 20-7 and by Tennessee 6-0.

A crowd of 33,000 jammed Horned Frog Stadium to watch the durable Berry who has played 41 games in four years for TCU and gained nearly four miles of territory rushing, passing, running back kicks and kickoffs and returning intercepted passes, in his final game. It was a grand symphony of the flying feet and rifling arm of Berry played as his swan song.

For Southern Methodist it was a bitter pill. The Methodists, picked before the season started to win the conference championship thus closed out in fifth place with two victorious, three losses and one tie. All football is over in the conference except Southern Methodist's game next Saturday at Dallas with Notre Dame.

Texas Christian excelled both in the score and statistics, rolling up 331 yards rushing and passing to 312 for Southern Methodist and making his first downs to 13. Southern Methodist scored first on a 37-yard run by big Kyle Rote with Walker kicking the extra point.

Texas Christian tied it up in the second period on the passing of Berry. From the Texas Christian 14 Berry threw to George Boal who tore his way to the Southern Methodist 29. A pass from Berry to Jimmy Hickey made the touchdown. Homer Ludiker converted.

The Horned Frogs took the lead early in the fourth period after Shankle Bloxom recovered Rote's fumble on the TCU 49. A pass from Berry to Boal who lateraled to Morris Bailey, who in turn lateraled to Jack Archer, carried 20 yards to spark the drive. Berry raced over from the SMU-five-yard line for the scorer Ludiker again converted.

Kentucky To Oppose Broncos At Miami

Cast in First Bowl Contest

RICE FLOCK EARNS COTTON BOWL BID

By MAX SKELTON Associated Press Staff

HOUSTON, Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) - Rice's Owls used a powerful ground attack and a break today to defeat Baylor 21 to 7 and take the Southwest Conference championship and become host to North Carolina in the Cotton Bowl.

A standing room crowd of 31,000 saw the Owls stop the effectiveness of the strong Baylor passing attack, overcome a touchdown deficit and move to their first undisputed title since 1937.

Immediately after the game, Dan Rogers, head of the Cotton Bowl, announced in Fort Worth that North Carolina had accepted an invitation to meet the Southwest champions January in Dallas.

The victory gave Rice its first undefeated conference campaign record in history. An early season 7 to 14 loss to Louisiana State is the only blemish on the Owls' regular season record. North Carolina has lost to Louisiana State, Tennessee and Notre Dame.

Rice all but tossed its good passing game aside while coming back strong on the ground for two second period touchdowns that overcame a 7-0 lead taken by Baylor the first time it received the ball.

Burr had tossed perfectly for five passes totaling 39 yards as the Bears sped 64 yards in 12 plays for their first lead. Burr tossed 4 yards to End J. E. Eason for the score.

Only one pass was used as Rice struck quickly in the second period for touchdown drives of 55 and 61 yards.

It was Gordon (Sonny) Wyatt, 165 pound junior halfback from Sour Lake, Texas, who sparked both drives, although the scores were made by sophomore Billy Burkhalter, a halfback, and senior Fullback Bobby Lantrip.

Burkhalter slipped through left tackle from the 11 for his tally, while Lantrip rumbled at the same spot for his.

A blocked punt set up Rice's final score in the third period. Reserve Guard Delwood Lee broke through to block Burr's kick and the ball jumped out of bounds on the Baylor 35.

A penalty offset a couple of ground gains, and forced quarterback Tobin Rote to take to the air. Two tosses to James (Froggie) Williams, the great Rice left end, were good for 12 and 21 yards and the score.

Wyatt was by far the day's individual star and his net gain of 117 in 21 tries sent him into an unofficial first place in final conference standings among ground gainers.

Today's rampaging gave him a 10-game total of 704 yards in 137 tries, to 694 in 145 for Robert Smith Texas A&M's hard running sophomore fullback.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) - All-America Halfback Charlie Justice teamed with End Art Weimer today to lead North Carolina to a 14-7 football victory over Virginia and a Cotton Bowl trip.

Word that the Tar Heels would accept an invitation to fill a Jan. 2 date in the Dallas Bowl came from Jake Wade, North Carolina's sports publicist at the end of the game.

A record crowd of 48,000 in Kenan Stadium—3,500 more than the field's rated capacity—saw Coach Carl Snoddy's club drive its way to third post-season bowl bid in four seasons.

The Cotton Bowl invitation was the first for a Tar Heel team. On New Year's Day in 1947, North Carolina dropped a 20-16 decision to Georgia in the Sugar Bowl. Last New Year's Day, North Carolina went back to the New Orleans bowl and bowed to Oklahoma by 14-6.

The result left North Carolina with a record of seven wins and three losses for the season. The Tar Heels stopped North Carolina State, Georgia, South Carolina, Wake Forest, William and Mary, Duke, and Virginia. They lost to Notre Dame, Tennessee, and Louisiana State.

It was a near thing for the Tar Heels today. Virginia, trailing by 14-0 at halftime, came back to dominate the second half and had the Tar Heels practically on the ropes at the finish.

After Quarterback Whitey Mitchell sneaked over from the one-foot line with a minute to play and End Carlton Elliott converted 10 out the deficit to 14-7, the Cavaliers recovered the ball on an on-side kickoff and smashed to North Carolina's seven before the Tar Heels could find the stopper.

Justice and Weimer, playing their last game before the home fans, pulled out all the stops on their specialties in running up the North Carolina touchdowns.

Purdue is the oldest rival on the 1949 Notre Dame football schedule, having first engaged the Irish in 1896.

Berry Is Star As Christians Wallop Ponies

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26. (U.S.P.) - Little Lindy Berry, the rock of Texas Christian, said his valedictory to college football today by passing and running his team to a 21-13 victory over Southern Methodist.

Berry scored one touchdown and passed for two more as the Horned Frogs licked the Methodists for the first time in seven years.

The Christian quarterback took 27 passes and completed 17 for 250 yards. He also netted 21 yards carrying the ball. The game's top runner was Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist, who rolled up 102 yards in 13 carries.

All-America Doak Walker of SMU sat out most of the last half as the result of a leg injury. It was after his departure from the game that the Horned Frogs swept to the victory that gave Texas Christian a tie for third place with Texas in the Southwest Conference standings.

The Sommers were magnificent in winning their 20th straight victory before 50,000 persons. They announced acceptance of the New Orleans bid immediately after the game.

The Aggies were game but wilted early under the solid Oklahoma line, which was led by All-America Candidate Wade Walker. The first line and two of the backfield were playing their last home game.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 2 team, scored two touchdowns in each of the first three quarters-five of them in spectacular plays. The contest was the last for Jim Lookabaugh, coach of the Aggies for the last 11 years. He resigned last month.

The closest the Aggies were able to move to Oklahoma's goal was the two-yard line at the end of the third quarter after a passing attack.

There was no stopping the Sooners on the ground, or in the air, as Quarterback Darrell Royal cleverly mixed the attack that netted 353 yards rushing and 181 passing.

The Aggies were allowed 38 net yards rushing. This makes Oklahoma the top rushing team in the nation and best at rushing defense.

A&M made 199 yards passing but could not battle the Oklahoma line when it counted.

Vicious downfield blocking opened the way for many spectacular runs included the 90-yard gallop by George Thomas at the start of the second quarter. The touchdown along with another, makes Thomas the nation's leading scorer among major college players with 117 points.

Borger Man Free On Bond In Slaying

BORGER, Nov. 26. (U. S. P. Swaffar, 48, was free on $2,500 bond today after he was charged with murder in the fatal Thanksgiving Day shooting of Frank S.

Bullard, 32.

Bullard, Borger truck driver, was shot and killed as he sat in his home. District Attorney Bob Galloway said Swaffar declined to make a formal statement. Swaffar told officers the shooting was the result of about three years of "family trouble."

Corns On Morgan Fingers Are Symbols Of Success

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (U. S. P.) Morgan turned away from the piano and held out his hands, palms down. "Look," he said, "I'm the only piano player in the world with corns on the backs of his fingers."

The corns are by-products of Morgan's singular style. He raises his hands as high as his chin; then flops them down on the keyboard. Quite often they turn over in flight and he strikes a key with the back of a finger.

The corns are symbols of success. He didn't have any a dozen years ago when he was playing and singing in saloons for $2 a night. "My first job was in Shepman's Cafe and Garden in Cincinnati," Morgan said. "It was a beer garden. If it rained, you didn't get paid."

"I went on to other spots. But nobody paid any attention to me. So I began to lift my hands high. It worked. It was the gimmick that distinguished me from a million other piano players."

Morgan began to go places—among them Africa and Sicily as a tall gunner with the Army Air Force. But he didn't go very far professionally until he came to Chicago.

He was booked, sight unseen, into a North Side night club. The manager was under the impression that he had hired a comedian. He didn't laugh when Morgan sat down at the piano but he agreed to let him work for a week for $225.

"I spent nine months there," Morgan said. "When I left Nov. 3, I was getting $1,200 a week and turned down a three-year contract."

One reason for leaving is that he plans to make New York his operating base after a two-week appearance at a theater here in December.

Morgan, small, skinny and 24, was delighted to learn this year that the golden goose of show business lays nest eggs of various and wonderful kinds.

He made his first record, "Jealous Heart," in April.

"I told my wife, 'Honey, I think we've got something,'" Morgan recalled. "We drew out the money we'd been saving for a house and used it to exploit the record. It topped a million in copies sold this fall and it's still going."

He has made three more records since then. He has had a show on a television network since May.

Millions have become acquainted with his high-handed keyboard technique and his high-and-low voice.

"They call me the windmill of the piano," Morgan said. "My voice? Baritone range with a tenor quality or inflection. Some folks think I'm corny. But I don't think so. It's down-to-earth music."

ACTOR GIVES DOG HOWLS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26. (U. S. P.) Those weren't wolf calls echoing through Hollywood streets. Just 50 varieties of dog howls.

Police arrested Actor Dean Hall, who makes his living barking like a dog for the movies. Booked on suspicion of drunkenness, Hall told officers Friday that he can imitate 50 breeds.

Fellow prisoners said he kept them awake all night proving it.

New Floral Shop In City to Open Formally Friday

Cottage of Flowers, a new floral shop in Big Spring, will observe its formal opening Friday evening at 1309 Gregg.

Owner-manager of the new concern is Iva Johnson, a long-time resident of Big Spring and identified with the florist trade for the past decade. The cottage is being specially reappointed for its purposes and a new refrigerated floral display case has been installed. On the opening day, there will be favors for all visitors, said Mrs. Johnson.

Road Right-of-Way Requirements Are Narrowed to Three

Right-of-way requirements on the Big Spring-Lenora farm-to-market road have been narrowed to three.

Deeds conveying roadway to Martin county were completed this week by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keaton, Big Spring, who gave the land for the road. One of the remaining tracts to be had belongs to an out-of-state owner. County Judge James McMorris said at Stanton he was hopeful of completing the project in time for the January highway commission lettings.

First Texas Farm Home Loan Made

BONHAM, Nov. 26. (U. S. P.) Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn handed a 41-year-old farmer at Windom, near here, the first Texas farm home loan.

Eugene Winchester will use the $5,000 from the farmers home administration to modernize the home and barns on his 60-acre farm.

Rayburn told the 200 persons at the ceremony that soil conservation is America's greatest domestic problem. He warned that continued wasteful use of the soil will leave farmers looking for fertile land instead of a market for surplus.

The National Geographic Society says wheat and vegetables mature in the short summers of eastern Siberia, where temperatures drop to 90 below zero in winter.

Polio Cases Show Further Decline

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (U. S. P.)—The number of new cases of infantile paralysis dropped last week for the 13th week in a row.

The Public Health Service said 735 new cases were reported during the week, bringing the total through Nov. 19 to 40,523, compared with 25,775 for the corresponding period of 1948.

Knife And Fork Club Organized, First Dinner Scheduled Dec. 16

Organization of a new dinner-and-lecture organization for Big Spring—the Knife and Fork Club—was completed at a preliminary meeting of about 50 members Friday.

The new club plans seven meetings during the coming winter months, at each of which will appear an outstanding lecturer booked through the national Knife and Fork organization.

Membership in the unit is to be limited to 125 couples, and already nearly 100 couples have been signed up.

Plans are to perfect organization in time to have the inaugural dinner meeting on December 16, at which time the speaker will be Dr. Gerald Wendt, a noted science authority.

Letters on the club's plans and policies were going into the mails Saturday, and officers indicated that they expected to complete full membership within a few days.

A nine-member board of directors was elected at Friday's session, attended by about 50 persons. These are the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, R. P. Kounitz and Mrs. Ralph Baker, three-year terms; W. E. Greenlees, Dr. P. W. Malone and Miss Jessie Morgan, two year terms; and R. W. Thompson, A. Swartz and Lewis Price, one-year terms.

The board then elected Price as president, Greenlees as first vice president; Swartz as second vice president; and Tom Rosson as secretary-treasurer.

Price later is to appoint members to serve on five committees: by-laws, house and meals; publicity; membership; and reception.

Outline of the function of the Knife and Fork club was given by E. M. Avery, representative of the national organization who has been here to help form the local unit. Avery explained that the Knife and Fork club goes into no civic endeavors, but simply provides periods of good fellowship and mental stimulation as derived from talks presented by the visiting speakers.

Maurine Crane, MEC, presided during the business session.

Fern Polacek was accepted as a new member. Formal initiation will be observed at the next meeting, Friday, December 9.

Officers for 1950 were nominated.

Mary Lee Rogers Becomes Bride of A. Lovell Gibbs

DALLAS, Nov. 26—Before a candlelighted altar banked with white chrysanthemums and greenery, Mrs. Mary Lee Rogers became the bride of A. Lovell Gibbs Friday evening in the Tyler Street Methodist church. The Rev. Homer Vanderpool officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is a former resident of Big Spring.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ross of Lindale, were unable to attend the ceremony because of illness. Gibbs is the son of Mrs. Josephine Gibbs of 323 N. Tennant street.

Given in marriage by O. J. Bradley, the bride wore a champagne beige gabardine suit with navy and winter pink accessories. Her pink satin velours hat was studded with pearls and rhinestones and draped with a French imported veil which was held in place by a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses. She wore a pink satin blouse and rhinestone ear clips and choker.

Mrs. E. N. Martin was matron of honor. Richard Crisman was best man. Ushers were John O. Ross and E. H. Gibbs.

"Because," "At Dawning" and "Sweet Mystery Of Life" were the musical selections presented by Mrs. E. H. Gibbs and E. N. Martin.

A reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. O. J. Bradley and Mrs. J. H. Lowry served the

Ramona Weaver Becomes Bride Of Gerald Harris

Ramona Weaver and Gerald Harris were united in marriage in a single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. C. C. Rhodes, pastor of the Westside Baptist church, in his home Wednesday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Weaver, 904 Abram.

For her wedding, the bride chose a beige gabardine suit, a rose blouse and brown accessories. Her rose hat was feather trimmed. She wore an orchid shoulder corsage. For the traditional something old, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding ring; something new was her wedding ensemble. She borrowed a lace handkerchief from her mother and she wore a blue garter. A penny was placed in her shoe for luck.

Following a short wedding trip to El Paso and Mexico, the couple will be at home at 1010 Nolan wedding cake. Mrs. Bruce Ross and Mrs. Carl Taylor presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. John O. Ross was at the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to the home of the bride's parents in Lindale, the couple will reside at 1607 Taft.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Bruce Wilhoite, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butler and Mrs. W. H. Ross.

Boston Opera Company To Present "La Traviata" Here On December 9

Big Springers will have an opportunity on December 9 to see and hear "La Traviata," (the last one) presented by the Boston Grand Opera Company. This is the first time which the company has visited the west since 1939. The cast is on a transcontinental tour which includes many principal cities. Other performances in this area are scheduled at Lubbock and San Angelo.

This opera which is composed of Verdi's music and Dumas' love story, is being sponsored by the American Association of University Women, Big Spring branch, and will be held in the municipal auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are scheduled to go on sale this week.

The opera opens in the house of Violetta, a courtesan, who is surrounded by her friends. Although in ill health, undermined by consumption, she tries to join in the festivities. Among her admirers is Alfredo Germont. She is touched by his sincere devotion. She sings the famous air, "Ah fors e lui," suddenly she changes as if there were no hope for lasting love and dashes into the brilliant "Sempre libera," which concludes Act I.

In Act II, Alfredo's father, annoyed at his son's infatuation, seeks an interview with Violetta and demands that she renounce Alfredo. She promises to do so and writes a farewell letter to her lover, and leaves her friend Flora's house where there are to be festivities that night. Believing that she has deserted him for his rival (Baron Daubol), Alfredo goes to the house of Flora Hervois where a ball is taking place, and openly insulting Violetta, is challenged by the Baron.

At the beginning of Act III, Violetta is in the last stages of illness, anxiously expecting to see

Episcopal Officers Include Big Springers

Bob Foster, Jr. of Amarillo, was elected president of the Episcopal Youth Commission of the Missionary District of North Texas, when officers for the year were named Saturday afternoon. Martha Ann Johnson of Big Spring was elected vice president. Alan Conley, Lubbock, treasurer, and George Quarterman, Jr., Amarillo, junior commissioner. Foster appointed Ann Russell of Amarillo, as recording secretary.

Big Spring's St. Mary's Episcopal church is serving as host to the conference which began Friday afternoon and ends this afternoon. Omar Pitman, Jr. of Big Spring, is the retiring district president. Martha Ann Johnson was elevated from the office of district secretary to the vice presidency.

Saturday sessions were devoted to routine business and climaxed with a banquet and dance held at the Settles hotel at 7 p.m.

The conference officially opened at 10 a.m. with welcome addresses by local church officials and Mayor G. W. Dabney. Committees were appointed by Martha Ann Johnson, district secretary and instructed by the district president, Omar Pitman, Jr.

The conference opening was preceded by the celebration of Holy Communion with Bishop George H. Quarterman as the celebrant and a breakfast served in the parish house by members of the St. Mary's Episcopal Auxiliary who are serving all conference meals except those at the Settles hotel.

Following lunch, several young people made brief talks concerning world relief projects. A general discussion of the projects was led by the district president. The budget was presented by the chairman of the finance committee.

After a brief recess, the nominating committee presented their report and a vote was taken. This was followed by reports from the activities committee and the publicity committee. The afternoon session closed after completion of other business matters.

League colors, red and white, were used in the banquet decorations. Silver stars and streamers completed the arrangements. The banquet program included films shown by Richard Deats and the Rev. Claude E. Canterbury. Deats showed films of the Big Spring centennial celebration and Canterbury, films of the summer camp held at Ceta Glenn and the trip to the national convention held in San Francisco—California—this fall.

Registration for the conference, which includes delegates from Odessa, Midland, Lubbock, Amarillo, San Angelo, Abilene, Colorado City and Sweetwater, began at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon. Following the registration, a dinner was held at the parish house. Omar Pitman, Jr. presided at the banquet and directed a sing song.

Later in the evening, the district entertained with an open house to which all church youth in the city were invited. Omar Pitman, Jr. and Alan Conley took the mike in an imitation television show. Get acquainted games were played.

During the regular evening prayer service, Bishop Quarterman read the parable of the talents as recorded in Matthew's gospel and used it as a source for his evening

meditation. He told the youth that they were between Thanksgiving and the first Sunday of Advent, two observances which should make them deeply aware of the fact that they were receivers of gifts from God and that they were under obligation to use those gifts. The Bishop declared that God has made and makes no claim on man until he makes gifts to him. He stated that in the parable of the talents, judgement was on the basis of what people had done with their talents. "Some day, and I think many days," said Quarterman, "we do face the judgment of God. He has claims on us and each person is responsible for the use of the talents which he receives." He said that such claims were righteous because of God's gifts. He stated that if God is the lord and giver of life then he has a right to have a claim on how we use this life. The Bishop declared that God also has a claim on man's church membership. He said that God has this claim be-

Houston Rites Are Read For Former Resident

Announcement is made here of the wedding of Margery Lucretia Sherar and Jack Donald Riggs in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church in Houston at noon Saturday, November 19.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sherar, Warwick Hotel, Houston. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William J. Riggs, 807 Runnels.

Dr. Charles L. King served as officiant at the double-ring, informal service. Only members of the immediate families attended the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in an imported suit of cinnamon sheer wool, with autumn brown velvet trim. Her shoulder veil of matching cinnamon fell from a brown velvet cloche. Her accessories were brown suede. She carried a spray orchid bouquet atop a white satin Bible.

Betty Moore, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Moore chose a sheer wool suit of cocoa brown and matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of autumnal-colored chrysanthemums.

Jack McDaniel of Beaumont was best man. Ushers were Robert Boykin, Wolford Hardy, Jr. and William Darbandt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sherar chose a midnight blue ensemble of tissue faille and harmonizing accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Riggs, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a suit of sheer gray wool, grey accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Forest club, Houston.

Mrs. Riggs attended Hollins college in Roanoke, Va. and was graduated from the University of Texas. She is a member of the Phi Beta Phi social club. Riggs is a graduate of Big Spring high school and attended Mississippi college and Notre Dame. He received his degree from the University of Texas, where he was a member of the Chi Phi fraternity.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Snyder, where the bridegroom is associated with the Reed Roller-Bit company.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Taylor and son, David Lawrence, have had as their guests, Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Taylor and daughter, Martha and Anna. Mr. and Mrs. Belvin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor and Larry, all of Sedan, N. M.

We're Looking For People With Both A Heart And A Conscience

We're looking for a couple of thousand people in Howard county who have a heart and a conscience.

Considering that there are upwards of some 30,000 people within the county confines, there ought to be that many people who would at least like to be regarded in that category. And we're sure there are that many, and more.

But so far there are several thousand people, who for one reason or another, have not stepped forward and had a part in the Community Chest. Or perhaps they have not had the part they would like to have if they really understood what the Chest is.

It is, first of all, a community affair. That takes in everyone. The Chest doesn't belong to "they." It belongs to you. If it functions as it should, it will be because of you; if it falls short, it will be because of you.

The Chest is sort of a mother institution. It provides the means by which one campaign will gather in funds for distribution to the cooperating agencies. They welcome the Chest as the happiest solution to their annual and essential problem of financing. They are dependent upon its success for unhampered operations during an entire year.

Only after the various agencies have submitted their requests and explained their programs is the total reached. But this does not mean that every giver must contribute to each agency in the ratio of its budget to the total. On the contrary, any gift may be designated or earmarked for distribution according to the donor's wishes. Thus, giving is made democratic.

But all these fine points are to no avail unless there are enough people with a conscience and a heart. There must be hearts willing to open as generously as possible, knowing full well that six agencies are dependent upon the Chest for a full year. There must be a conscience that will bother the individual so long as he or she lingers back, hoping that someone else will carry the financial load of providing all the agencies which help our youngsters, give succor to the needy, or a helping hand to the defeated.

Do you have a heart and a conscience? Have you brought or mailed your Community Chest contribution to headquarters in the Empire Southern Gas company offices? If not, won't you do it today or first thing this week?

Merry-Go-Round-Drew Pearson Demo Lady Brain Turns The Tables On Two Women's Clubs With A Vengeance

WASHINGTON—Mrs. India Edwards, the lady brain of the Democratic National Committee, was debating on the New York Herald Tribune Forum with the heads of two leading women's clubs—Dr. Frances Scott, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and Mrs. J. Blair Buck, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

ans, one Chinese, an Iranian and several Mexicans. The college has used these students on speaking teams to deliver foreign-affairs talks all through Nebraska. This has kept midwesterners closely in touch with the outside world and has been a factor in combating the isolation that engulfed the Mid West after World War I.

Capital Report-Doris Fleeson Lilienthal Personally Smaller Than The Things He Stood For

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The resignation of David F. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission means for liberals and New Dealers in the administration—the doffing of a hair shirt that they wore for the sake of principle.

scored in Iowa. The veteran Iowa editor, Pulitzer prize-winner and ex-A.E.C. commissioner, W. W. Waymack, has so strongly rebuked Hickenlooper for insisting upon his Lilienthal charges that doubt is expressed whether the Senator can succeed himself next year.

But they found him personally smaller than the things he stood for. The departing chairman is too often intellectually arrogant with those of lesser gifts. He has treated friendly Senators, who could as easily have hunted with the hounds, as mere patronage seekers and has denied them a cooperation of which they felt entitled. He made them feel smaller, not better, despite their support of him, and this was supremely irritating.

It is recalled that Lilienthal recently had to appeal to Chancellor Hutchins of the University of Chicago for help in soothing atomic scientists at Chicago who have been protesting A.E.C. security rulings. Finally, it is suggested that the chairman might well have been ruffled by President Truman's "old stuff" label on a commission report about Washington's vulnerability to atomic bombs.

The Nation Today-By James Marlow Total U. S. Consumer Income 90 Pct. Higher Than In 1939

WASHINGTON, (AP)—THE LITTLE MAN opened his belt a notch, pushed away his plate of bare turkey bones, said "aaahhh" in a satisfied way, and sat down by the radio.

It was easy to let China melt out of his mind as he rolled his tongue around, still tasting the gravy and the wonderful cranberry sauce.

But the announcer was saying France was shutting down for 24 hours. Organized workers were striking for a day because they wanted more money.

Around The Rim-The Herald Staff Approaching Winter Will Be Wet, If Farmer's Almanac Is Correct

Another sign of the reliability of the seasons appears, with the arrival at editor's desks, of The Old Farmer's Almanac for another year.

Last year, Mr. Weatherwise said the year would be "not so cold—but icy," and those of us who remember the ice and sleet storms of last January and February would credit him with being a fairly accurate forecaster.

The 1950 edition is out, to chalk up the 158th consecutive annual publication. This is always an intriguing journal to read, and certainly may occupy a place of importance on any bookshelf, whether in a farmer's kitchen or an industrialist's library.

Mr. Weatherwise says spring will be cold and late. The groundhog, on February 2, will find the weather so bad that he will not come out of his hole at all. But the skies will clear after sunset and he will come out then to see his shadow in the light of the full moon—"something no living groundhog will ever do again on this day."

I was a little chagrined to see that the old Almanac is yielding to the influence of modernism to the extent of including a few pages of fancy coated paper with slick pictures. The good old-fashioned flavor is retained through most of the editorial content, however.

The Almanac's editorial philosophy is one recommended, and is so down-to-earth with reprinting one paragraph, giving earth that we can take the liberty heretofore credit to the esteemed editor:

There is the usual prosaic information for handy reference, including the next year's list of holidays and special occasions, eclipses (there'll be a full eclipse of the moon visible throughout the U. S. next September 25), planting, growing and harvesting tables, fish and game laws of the various states, gestation and reproduction tables for assorted animals, astronomical tables for each month of 1950, some household hints and recipes, and a few pages of anecdotes and pleasantries calculated to help a reader while away a long winter evening.

The deep waters of the spirit well up because of this mid-century point, we ask not so much whether but whether we have come, for it is obvious our material and scientific progress has surpassed any and all of mankind's dreams. Yet, churches are empty; asylums are overcrowded; war is no thing of the past—most of the world and the majority of the people in America lack proper housing, sustenance, medical attention, and the "happy" life.

And the weather forecast? Well, the Almanac's specialist in such field, one Abraham Weatherwise, makes his predictions as usual, and describes the coming winter simply as "wet."

And the weather forecast? Well, the Almanac's specialist in such field, one Abraham Weatherwise, makes his predictions as usual, and describes the coming winter simply as "wet." His predictions are made primarily for the New England territory, but he indicates they may be applicable to other areas, and one is constrained to hope that the moist forecast holds true in the South.

Matter Of Fact-Joseph Alsop Reluctant Horatius Groomed To Oppose Taft Next Year

WASHINGTON.—Jack Kroll, chairman of the C.I.O.'s Political Action Committee, paid a private, unannounced call on President Truman last week. Other recent callers have been Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan and Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman. C.I.O. president Philip Murray is expected to make a similar visit to the White House shortly.

of Ohio's leading Democrats has been eager to take on the redoubtable Taft. Lincoln himself has shared this reluctance, although he has been the labor groups' favorite Horatius from the beginning. Lincoln's reluctance has sprung largely from two sources. In the first place, he is a registered Republican, and he feared that he would not get real support from the White House and the national Democratic organization. In the second place, he feared that lacking this support, Ferguson, who has a considerable personal organization in Ohio, would beat him in the primaries, before he had his crack at Taft.

The White House calls represent the culmination of the efforts by the liberal and labor groups to find a strong candidate to oppose Taft. These efforts have had their humorous aspect—they have been a little like the famous lines from "Horatius at the Bridge": "Those behind cried forward, and those before cried back." Except for a run-of-the-mill politician, State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, and a few political eccentrics, none

The labor groups and their liberal allies are convinced that only Lincoln, who is an excellent, colorful speaker, and who has a real farm following, has a chance to beat the detested calls of the Taft-Hartley act. Hence the calls on the White House, which are part of the determined campaign to overcome Lincoln's hesitations.

Notebook-Hal Boyle Even Bluebirds Come To Hear When Ageless Soprano Sings

NEW YORK, (AP)—BLUEBIRDS PERCH on her windowsill when Freida Hempel sings.

For 33 years she has lived in the same apartment overlooking Central Park. On dreary days she hangs up a pink ribbon in the living room to cheer her up. And the apartment is fragrant always with the scent from a brass plate heaped with dried rose leaves.

They like to hear her voice—as kings and presidents did in the past. Now in her 60's, the blonde soprano, a star in the golden age of song, still gives concerts. And she teaches her art to young singers who want to go into opera.

"We have to improve on life a little to make it beautiful," she said. Once a day Madame Hempel, her maid, Rosa, and her old dog, Brownie, walk across to the park. The people she passes may fail to recognize her, but the pigeons don't. They flutter around her in a blue-gray cloud. She distributes 100 pounds of feed each week to the birds and small animals.

Affairs Of The World-DeWitt MacKenzie Yugoslav Sculptor Refuses To Put Self Under Red Regime

IVAN MESTROVIC, THE FAMOUS Yugoslav sculptor who is in voluntary exile in America, tells me Marshal Tito has urged him not once but many times during the past three years to return to his native land—but Mestrovic is sitting tight for the present.

begin with these key facts: Mestrovic is rated as one of Yugoslavia's great patriots; he is a red-hot nationalist and dislikes dictatorships of all sorts; he is strongly religious and has been a staunch supporter of the Catholic Church, one of his close friends being Archbishop Stepanac. The archbishop is now in a Yugoslav prison under a 16-year sentence on a charge of collaborating with the axis powers.

This great artist, whose work aroused the enthusiasm of the immortal Rodin, is teaching sculpture at Syracuse University Fine Arts School. He says he likes SU and its friendly atmosphere. There undoubtedly is a stirring story back of Mestrovic's repeated refusal to return to the land he loves. However, he chooses to preserve the Mestrovic-Tito mystery. I had a long chat with him a couple of days ago and he epitomized the reason for this decision thus: "I am not in sympathy with the regime."

FOR BREVITY THAT'S RATHER REMINISCENT of Cal Coolidge's famous "I do not choose to run." Still, if you know the Yugoslavs, and if you know the story of Mestrovic's life, it's rather easy to add a good deal to his statement. We might well

Reserve Officers Invited to Take Part in Maneuvers

Applications from organized reserve officers to participate in the largest peace-time maneuvers in the western hemisphere will be accepted by the Texas military district until Dec. 16.

Those accepted will be assigned to augment the umpire group for the exercise, which centers off Puerto Rico for a test of amphibious landing techniques and equipment. Approximately 80,000 Navy, Army, Marine and Air Force men will participate.

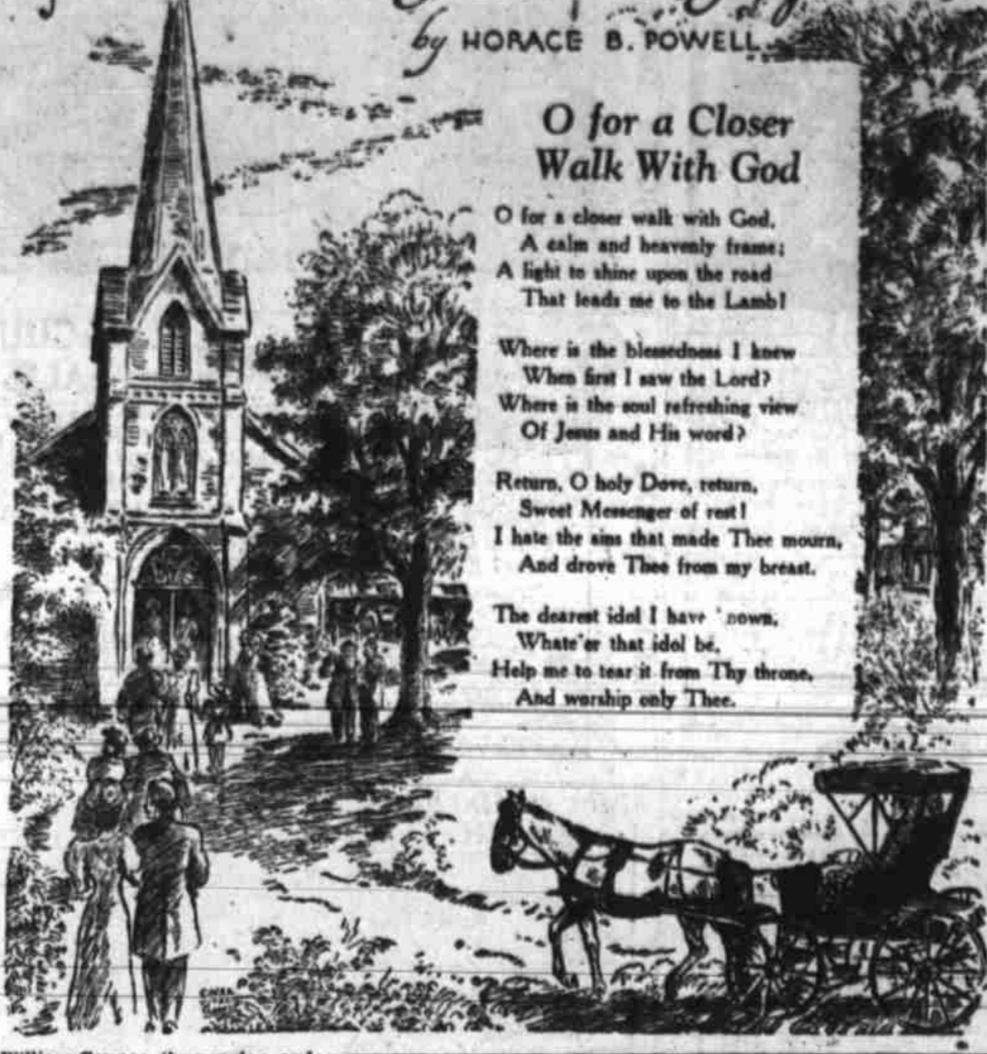

Openings are mostly for company grade officers. Those selected will report to Camp Lee, Va. between Jan 10 and 17, and will be released to return between March 20 and 30.

To Feature Musicians

Several local musicians, including the Houser sextette, will be heard on the Chamber of Commerce program Sunday afternoon. The program is scheduled for 3 p.m. over Radio Station KBST.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE B. POWELL

O for a Closer Walk With God

O for a closer walk with God,
A calm and heavenly frame;
A light to shine upon the road
That leads me to the Lamb!

Where is the blessedness I knew
When first I saw the Lord?
Where is the soul refreshing view
Of Jesus and His word?

Return, O holy Dove, return,
Sweet Messenger of rest!
I hate the sins that made The mourn,
And drove Thee from my breast.

The dearest idol I have now,
What'er that idol be,
Help me to tear it from Thy throne,
And worship only Thee.

William Cowper, the popular and distinguished English poet, left a treasury of verse to bless posterity and no jewel in the collection is more beautiful or beloved than his hymn, "Walking With God."

It appeared under that title in a volume called "Olney Hymns," which Cowper and John Newton, minister-hymnist of Olney, put together and published in 1779. Its theme was inspired, apparently, by the Bible verse, "And Enoch walked with God," which is found in the twenty-fourth verse of the fifth chapter of Genesis.

It was turned out at a time when Cowper was distressed by the illness of Mrs. Mary Unwin, who for years had been his loyal friend and companion and who had helped him through several very trying mental crises. Cowper himself discussed the circumstances under which the hymn was written, in a letter which he wrote one day to an aunt. Enclosing the verses just as we know them today in hymn form, he wrote:

"I began to compose them yesterday morning before daybreak, but I fell asleep at the end of the first two lines. When I awoke again, the third and fourth verses were whispered to my heart in a way I have often experienced."

Cowper was born in 1731 in Berkhamstead, where his father was serving as rector of a Church of England parish. He was educated at Westminster and was called to the bar when he was 23. There were times in his life when he suffered from melancholia which bordered on insanity. In 1768, after recovering from one of these mental attacks, he moved to Olney where he met John Newton, and the partnership which was to produce many of Christendom's most precious hymns, began.

Officers Capture Four Escapees

GATESVILLE, Nov. 26. (Sp1)—Four of 20 inmates of the State Training School for boys were captured last night, shortly after they escaped.

Sheriff Joe Wite if Coryell County said school officials told him the break occurred on a pre-arranged signal as the 20 were leaving the dining hall after supper.

Four boys ran away Wednesday and eight Thursday. All of these have been recaptured. The school has no walls or prison fences, and its guards are unarmed.

White attributed the break to a state of unrest among inmates about the recent administrative shakeup at the school.

My Friend Irma Comes To Screen

If you're a devotee of wacky comedy and if you keep up with the radio comedies you'll be interested in the Ritz theatre's laugh offering for today and Monday. "My Friend Irma" bounces onto the screen. Marie Wilson, who created the lovable crackpot of radio fame, repeats her role in this hilarious entertainment. She is co-starred with John Lund, Diana Lynn, Don DeFore, and Dean Martin, and Jerry Lewis, a new zany comic team making their screen debut.

IRMA AND FRIENDS—Diana Lynn, Marie Wilson and John Lund in a scene from the comedy "My Friend Irma," which is featured today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. It's an adaptation of the popular radio serial about a goofy girl, and Miss Wilson appears in her radio title role. Lund is Al, the boy friend, and Miss Lynn is long-suffering roommate, Jane.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

'Modern Romances' An Added Feature

A new program now being heard on KBST each day, Monday through Friday, is "Modern Romances". This is a dramatic program, with true to life stories taken from the pages of the magazine of the same name. Each episode is a complete story in itself. In scheduling "Modern Romances" KBST adds another popular program to its list of morning favorites, including "My True Story" at 9 a. m., Betty Crocker's Magazine of the Air at 9:25, and the mid-morning edition of the news at 10:30 a. m.

GREER AND LOUELLA
Currently in London, Greer Garson, M.G.M. screen star, will be interviewed by Louella Parsons, Hollywood columnist, via a transatlantic telephone conversation on the broadcast of ABC's Louella Parsons Show this evening at 8:15 over KBST.

"TOWN MEETING"
Government, labor and business will be represented in ABC's America's Town Meeting broadcast over

KBST Tuesday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p. m., on the question "Is Profit-Sharing the Answer to Labor-management Disputes?" Participants on the program will include affirmative speakers W. Stuart Symington, Air Force secretary and former president of the board, Emerson Electric company, St. Louis, Mo., and Col. Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president, Daisy Manufacturing Co., Plymouth, Mich., and member, Executive Council, Council of Profit-Sharing Industries.

Negative speakers will be Lemuel R. Boulware, vice-president of General Electric Co., and member, Board of Directors, American Management Association; and Joseph D. Keenan, director, Labor's League for Political Education, American Federation of Labor.

"I WAS A STRANGER"
"I Was A Stranger" is the Biblical dramatization to be presented on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" over KBST today, at 4:30. In this inspiring and realistic story, interest centers on the Christian principles of kindness and aid to others who are hungry and homeless.

The differences of interpretation and practice of the Master's teachings, as between big and little people, is well demonstrated when Micah and Naomi, servant-slaves to the great man, Jeremiah, give newly baked bread and roasted meat to a stranger, before Jeremiah himself is served. The harsh reprimand of this proud and righteous man is silenced with the Master's words, "I was hungry and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger and ye took me in."

Treasure Hunt Dramatized In Lyric Feature

The strange story of the fabulous Lost Dutchman gold mine, and its $20,000,000 treasure over which many men and women fought and died, will be seen today and Monday at the Lyric theatre in "Last for Gold." Glenn Ford and Ida Lupino are co-starred in this true story of love, jealousy, murder and buried gold. The large supporting cast is headed by Gig Young, William Prince and Eddie Buchanan.

Based on Barry Storer's factual book, "Thunder Gods Gold," "Last for Gold" thrillingly traces the fascinating story of how the fabulous treasure was discovered and then depicts the love, violence and murder it invited as strong men and a clever woman fought for its control. Finally, the legend of the treasure is brought up to date as the descendant of the alleged owner returns to Arizona's Superstition Mountains, actual vicinity of the mine, in an attempt to possess his heritage.

Ford, in one of the meatiest roles of his career, plays the brutal, domineering gold-hunter who doesn't even stop at murder to achieve his feverish goal. A shrewd piece of casting has put lovely Miss Lupino opposite him as an unscrupulous woman who is equally ruthless. Young, as Miss Lupino's wavering husband; Prince as the latter-day descendant of the owner of the Lost Dutchman bonanza, and Buchanan as a wily desert-rat, are others in the cast.

Film Deals With Social Problem Of Unwed Mothers

Ida Lupino said "yes" to Hollywood's "no."
That's why she and Associate Producer Anson Bond made "Not Wanted," a semi-documentary feature-length drama dealing with the plight of unwed mothers, which is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

When the original story went to studios, the reply was "it couldn't be done on screen. Not a story of unwed mothers." But the custodians of Emerald Productions — that's Miss Lupino and Bond — said the idea suited them fine and was exactly what they were seeking in their desire to produce pictures on controversial topics. And so "Not Wanted," which Film Classics is releasing, went before the cameras, with Elmer Clifton directing.

"When we read the story," Miss Lupino said, "it haunted our thoughts. There's a great and pathetic story in the tragedy of unrequited love that shadows so many innocent lives and destroys happy homes. We have done a frank and honest picture on the unwed mother theme but without any sensational overtones. We hope good taste guided our every production move."

The star, who is not appearing in the picture, spent hours with officials of maternity homes and hospitals acquiring background material.
"The response of these splendid humanitarian institutions throughout the country was enthusiastic," Miss Lupino said. "Everyone agreed that it was a picture that should be done."
