MORE THAN 30 DEATHS CAUSED BY EXPLOSIONS FROM STARTING FIRES

According to an announcement of the Fire Insurance department, the improper use of gasoline or kerosene has already resulted 30 deaths in 1941, Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner warned.

Starting or quickening fire with kerosene alone accounted for 15 of the 30 while two housewives lost their lives in January and February cleaning clothes with gasoline.

Commissioner Hall pointed out that it is suicidal for any person to attempt to keep gasoline in the home for such purposes; starting or quickening a fire, cleaning clothes, woodwork and floors, or other purposes, since gasoline vaporizes at ordinary temperature and the inflammability of gasoline fumes and its explosive power is sixteen times greater than dynamite.

"There is a growing sentiment in Congress for legislation to curb such strikes," Russell said.

The Stephenville colon, serving his first term in the house, said his mail from constituents showed insistent demand for legislation of this character.

"Had it not been for these strikes and labor departments records show they have hurt many national defense projects, we could have produced enough additional material to equip an army large enough to halt the German invasion of Greece," he said.

$80,000-ACRE HOME READY FOR WILD DUCKS IN CANADA

The estimated 50,000,000 ducks now migrating northward to Canada will find 880,000 acres of protected feeding grounds prepared by American sportsmen, President John W. Coleman of San Francisco told the annual meeting of Ducks Unlimited recently.

Duck hunters representing thirty states met recently and planned to extend the preserves to a million acres during 1941, and to launch a financial campaign, in which duck hunters will be asked to give 5c for each duck shot.

E. Herrick Low, vice-president of the New York Corn Exchange Bank, was elected president of the organization. Other officers included Coleman as chairman of the board, and Vice-Presidents Will J. Reid, Los Angeles, and Lawrence C. Phipps, Sr., Denver.

The Canadian field director, T. C. Main, reported twenty-two new dams were constructed last year in the duck feeding grounds of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which he said saved 500,000 ducklings from starvation during the summer drought.

A tentative budget of $100,000 was adopted for 1941 to build dams for another 120,000 acres.

To finance the work, 5,000 coin banks have been prepared for distribution to hunting lodges, resorts hotels this autumn.

The inscription on the bank asks hunters to give 5c for each duck shot and 10 per cent of all poker winnings at hunting lodges.

Coleman pointed out that if a nickel had been given for each of the 9,000,000 ducks shot by Americans last year, the fund would have yielded $450,000, enough to double the available duck supply.

FEWER INJURIES IN HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL GAMES

AUSTIN. — Although more teams participated in interscholastic football last autumn, there were fewer injuries and no fatalities among players, Athletic Director R. J. Kidd reported Friday.

Kidd advanced the opinion that greater concern for safety methods taught in summer coaching schools, league insistence on weekly, injury reports and a blanket insurance policy plan resulted in increased safety consciousness on the part of coaches, parents and schoolboys.

The average AA class squad dropped from forty to thirty-eight players and the average six-man football squad grew from thirteen to sixteen. Altogether, 679 teams participated.

Peak injury period was at the start of conference play, October 6-12, and the third quarter in games showed the greatest number of injuries because "boys went back into the game without proper warming up."

Line play was responsible for the greatest part of 670 sprains, 382 fractures, 144 dislocations and 126 cuts listed by coaches.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Tabor of Clyde and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Coleman of Wilson spent Saturday night and Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nelson.

Funds For Cancer Control Asked Of Callahan County

Mrs. W. P. Brightwell has again been named Callahan county chairman by the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer in its peace time war against an affliction that annually claims 163,000 lives. Mrs. Brightwell will accept donations, 50 percent of which are to remain in this state to be used for research, the balance going to national headquarters for research of a wider nature. In Cross Plains contributions to the cause may be left at the Citizens State Bank or at the office of the Review.

The following prepared article concerning the dreaded malady and plans of its control has been released by the state headquarters:

"Death is always sad, but when it is avoidable death the tragedy is least bearable. Conservative medical authorities tell us that between one-third and one-half of those who die from cancer could and should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment.

"Medical and research science is doing its part. Million volt x-ray machines have been developed, radium is more widely distributed, new surgical techniques have been perfected. We who are the public, the chief victims of this disease, are not doing our part.

"In order to give the individual information necessary for his own protection and for the protection of all, a campaign of education and enlightenment, aimed at both men and women, is being conducted by the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. Its program is carefully planned by leading physicians and carried out by volunteer women."

almost every industry and business included in the omnibus tax bill is pleading to be released, racing is willing to be taxed.

consumer, the producer and business in general." Says the Austin American. "The consumer is the real 'goat' of the law." Out in West Texas, the Post Dispatch calls the tax "a fine on efficiency" and continues. "A spokesman for the Southwestern Cattlemen's Association recently reported that a program in which producers and chain stores worked together had materially increased beef and lamb consumption and given the cattle industry three of the best years in its history. The chain stores have participated in similar programs on behalf of cotton, fruits, pottery, cactus plants and other commodities whose sale had to be increased if producers were to avoid possible ruinous losses." The San Antonio Express sums up, "Civic sentiment generally demands repeal of the unwarranted Texas chain-store tax."

Why, cry, cry again.

to find Harold Ickes in it, would you?

Lady: Have you tried to cure
this parrot of swearing?
Pet Shop Owner: H—, yes, lady,

CROSS PLAINS GETS OVER 2 INCHES RAIN

More than two inches of rain fell in Cross Plains over the week-end, bringing the rainfall for the first 110 days of 1941 to 10.94 inches.

Moisture this week was of especial benefit to small grains and recently planted gardens and fields.
The moisture was somewhat "spotted", almost missing Cross Cut and Burkett. Too, it was accompanied by hail, however, no appreciable damages have been reported.

POWDERED ARMY DIET

The old German Army diet of canned meat, sausage and bread has in the present war, largely been replaced by food-stuffs in concentrated powdered form, the Commerce Department reported.

This change is said to greatly facilitate the transport of army food supplies as the troops are able to carry in their haversacks, without additional weight or bulk, foods of high nutritive value and with special vitamin properties.

The concentrated army foods include various kinds of powders, such as tomato powder, cheese powder, apple powder and jam powders, together with highly vitaminous vegetable juices. A special type of powder known as "Bratling" powder, consisting of mixtures of soda, corn and milk protein speiced with herbs, forms an important part of the diet.

Troops connected with armored-car units, aviators and Alpine troops are provided with a special series of concentrated foods. The new military schedule of nutrients also includes new types of refreshments, chief among which is tartaric acid
sugar containing grape-sugar, whey, milk and fat as well as an addition of Vitamin C.

The German military nutrition plan is reported to have required experimental work extending over a period of years, involving extensive scientific studies by experts in the fields of agriculture, medicine, dietetics and military organization. The personnel devoted to the task of developing the plan is said to have been equal in numbers of an etire army.

Will Plant 30,000 Pine Trees

Henderson county farmers have received 30,000 pine trees from the Alto experiment station to be planted as an experiment on land not suitable for crops or pasture. The varieties are loblolly, short leaf, long leaf and flash.

Salem Witchcraft Executions

According to E. C. Nevins "Witch-

17 actual executions for witchcraft in Salem and nearby New England, including Giles Corey, the last victim of the delusion, who was pressed to death between stones on his refusal to plead guilty or not guilty.

STRANGE LANGUAGE COMES TO BROWNWOOD

If you hear a soldier say, "Two brass hats and a padre just went by in a jeep," don't fear for the sanity of our armed forces.

The soldier merely means two members of the general staff and a chaplain drove by in a reconnaissance car.

If they'd been in a "bath tub," the soldier, in all probability a member of a mechanized cavalry unit in this case, would have meant they were in an armored scout car.

The army has a language of its own; colorful and often more expressive than plain English. Almost everyone is familiar with a few military slang terms — A. W. O. L. for absent without leave, for instance.

A few of the terms, rounded up at Camp Bowie, are listed below. Some of them are brand new — yardbird, playmate and tin can, for example. Others, sky pilot, yellowlegs, are old — even pre-World War.

Selective service trainee — yardbird, playmate.

Reconnaissance car—jeep, jeepette.

Knife, fork and spoon—artillery. Sugar—sawdust.

Medical officer—medico, pillroller. Sometimes applied to any member of a medical regiment.

Dentist—tooth carpenter.

Full colonel—the man with the chicken on his shoulder. This expression comes from incident, fictitious or otherwise, in which the yardbird is supposed to have told the colonel, "You ain't a colonel. You're a moss sergeant. I can tell by the chicken on your shoulder."

Chevrons—hash marks.

General staff—tass hats.

Portable radio transmitter-receiver—walkie-talkie.

Hectograph reproducing machine—jelly roll.

Field kitchen—bean gun.

Chaplain—padre, sky pilot.

Horse—hayburner, bangtail, goat, skate, dog, crowbat, caballo.

Cavalryman—cowboy, yellowlegs.

Cavalry scout car—tin can, bath tub, baby buggy.

Motorcycle with side car—tricycle.

Motorcycle solo.

Complaining—honkin', griping, greusing.

English peas—ball bearings.

Headquarters company—pencil pushers, the slave battalion.

Saber—cheese knife.

Infantryman—doughboy, beetle smasher, gravel agitator.

Bread—punk.

Butter—axle grease.

LESS COTTON IN STORAGE

Though the war situation has not helped cotton as much as it has some other commodities, the recent withdrawal of line from the government's loan stocks is encouraging. Higher cotton prices in recent weeks have caused an estimated million bales to be taken out of the warehouses and placed in commercial channels. Farm officials in Washington estimate that this figure will reach 1,250,000 bales by the middle of May.

Of course, the amount of cotton in storage is still immense; but it is helpful to have this amount diminishing instead of increasing. The rise in cotton prices has had a stimulating effect on commercial buyers. Many of the large cotton merchants need stocks to cover the commitments they have made in the last six months, and some of them look for a higher loan rate on the new crop.

In view of the carryover still on hand, the increase in the domestic use of cotton may not warrant immediate increase in acreage; but the general cotton outlook has improved. The stronger demand is heartening to those who are seeking new domestic uses for cotton to balance the drop in exports. Persistent research and experiment may result in material and permanent enlargement of the home demand for lint.

Yeast breads was the subject of the meeting, loaf and hot rolls were made from white flour, Clover leaf rolls, cinnamon rolls, butterflies and Parker house rolls were made from whole wheat flour. All but the loaf was ready to eat in two and one-half hours. It was a very interesting demonstration especially for farm people or those living too far from a bakery to get the bread hot.

Everyone who attended and saw the demonstration went home with the determination to make more yeast bread, for the family.

Miss Brown explained the idea of the area meetings was to contact more women, and we would not call it a club meeting; but a demonstration and there will not be any recreation, or refreshments served; but all members are urged to attend these area meetings.

After roll call and minutes were read, the meeting adjourned to meet at Cottonwood, April 25th, at 2 p.m. and then at Atwell on the 29th, in an all-day meeting with Mrs. D. L. Sessions, and between time we hope to finish our mattress and comfort making.

Those present were: Mrs. Alton Tatom, Ben Riffe, Ben Pillans, J. C. Brashear, Otis Purvis, Buddie Martin, W. A. Lawrence, Paul Brashear, Miss Linnie Brashear and Miss Clara Brown and hostess, Mrs. D. C. Foster.

The human eye is scarcely able to see some tiny insects at a distance of a yard; certain birds can see them from as far away as a hundred yards.

DISPENSABLE HUMAN PARTS

A larie percentage of Americans have had some portion of their bodies removed by operation. How many parts can we get along without? A good many, says Prof. G. H. Estabrooks, an eminent surgeon, who cites the e"dispensable" parts: we can get along with one lung and do well without a stomach or parts of the colon and intestines. We can part with the gall bladder, the spleen, the appendix and one kidney. Even the bladder may be removed; and man can live with half a brain. In a pinch we can dispense bereft of all these parts would be with two quarts of blood. A man in a pretty bad way, yet still might survive, Professor Estabrooks says.

Frances Jane Crosby, blind from birth, wrote 2,000 religious hymns in her lifetime. Some days she wrote six or seven, and completed one, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," in fifteen minutes.

The most easterly part of the United States mainland is West Quoddy Head, in Maine. There is an East Quoddy Head, but it is a Canadian owned island off the coast.

D. A. Abernathy of the Hart community was in Putnam Tuesday afternoon and while here set his dates ahead with the News. Thanks Mr. Abernathy.
