A certain consulting psychologist, Dr. David Seabury by name, has come forward with the startling announcement that all civilized peoples the world over will be crazy by 2159.

He says this war was brought on by people who are mentally unbalanced and the process among the rest of us is already well advanced.

The learned doctor may be right about the war being brought on by men of unbalanced mind. In fact we do not doubt his statement. The excessive love for money, the greed for power and unadulterated selfishness are plenty to unbalance the mind of any human being when allowed to have full sway, as seems to be the case with some of the world leaders in the present war.

The trouble with these leaders is that they have not developed the necessary spiritual values that tend to make the well-rounded man and hence they have plunged the people into the worst war in the history of the world and the future is not flattering.

Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney of New York died the past week of a heart ailment. She was 65 years old. She came into national recognition through a bitter court fight for the custody of her ten year old niece, Gloria Vanderbilt whose father was Mrs. Whitney's brother. Her contention for the custody of the child was that Gloria's mother was not a suitable person to bring her up.

Mrs. Whitney, whose marriage to Harry Payne Whitney in 1896 united two of the greatest fortunes in America, Mr. Whitney died in 1930 leaving to his wife and three children a fortune of $100,000,000.

Mrs. Vanderbilt will inherit about ten days.

From the Comanche Chief — The safety razor enabled us to save so much money that we bought a washing machine which saved so much money that we bought a refrigerator, which saved so much money that we bought an automobile, which saved so much money that we bought a house, which saved so much money that we now own the washing machine outright and have to make only eight more payments on the refrigerator, 17 on the automobile, and 180 on the house.

FARMERS SHOULD INOCULATE PEANUTS BEFORE PLANTING

Almost all of the Callahan County peanuts growers will have planted peanuts before a month has passed. A very inexpensive and wise treatment that all lagoons and field crops should have is treatment to resist disease. There is more than one inoculate material that is being used for the inoculation of peanuts. Any material used for peanuts does not cost more than seven cents per bushel and it is very easy to handle.

The planting seed should be placed on a wagon sheet or a cloth and the inoculation material sprinkled over the seed. This can be done easiest in a closed building where there is no wind, and it is to be remembered that all seed should have this material on the hull before being planted. Experiment records show that the inoculation of peanut seed has increased the yield per acre more than seven bushels.

Any information needed regarding this material may be obtained from the community Land Use Planning member whose membership consists of 60 farm-men and women in Callahan County.

LESS SUGAR, BETTER TEETH

Sugar rationing may be just what the country needs, the Public Education Department of the American Dental Association said.

Dr. Lon W. Morrey, director of the association, said that if the United States' per capita sugar consumption was "drastically cut over a considerable period of time" there would be a sharp reduction in tooth decay. He pointed out that almost 50 per cent of eligible fighting men rejected by the army were suffering from bad teeth, in many cases decayed.

He called for a campaign of "preventive dentistry" among parents, restricting the child's consumption of sweet foods and nurturing "a generation of teeth that last."

Dr. Morrey based his conclusion on experiments on the diet of orphans and Eskimos. Children in orphanages were observed by University of Michigan researchers, who found that group receiving a low sugar diet suffering less tooth decay.

Farmers To Vote On Wheat Quotas Saturday, May 2nd

The farmers of the nation will go to the polls Saturday, May 2nd to vote on wheat quotas which will determine whether the farmer can plant more than his quota and sell his production. Quite a number of farmers in this immediate territory planted more than they were allowed to plant last year and practically lost their years work as they were taxed 49 cents per bushel for violating the quota voted.

The quota was voted by about 70 percent last year, but conditions are different from what they were a year ago, and it is a question of waiting for the result of the election to know what attitude the farmer will take this year. As to this immediate territory it will not make much difference since there will be very little grain produced her anyway.

Seniors Of Putnam High School Visit Carlsbad Cavern

Last week the seniors of Putnam High School enjoyed a three-day trip to the Carlsbad Cavern of New Mexico. Leaving Putnam at 5:30 Friday morning, they journeyed via Hobbs, New Mexico, to Carlsbad and spent the night in Stevens Hotel of that interesting city. On Saturday morning at 10:30, the students began the 750-foot descent into the cavern, and a fairland of natural beauty began to unfold to them. Through a labyrinth of trails, park rangers led the group from one magnificent underground chamber to another, where thousands of stalactites and stalagmites, i.e., icicle-shaped rocks) have been in the process of formation for years. At noon the students lunched in the underground cafeteria and resumed their journey within half an hour. The climax of the trip was reached in the "Big Room" when the group sat transfixed in darkness before the huge "Rock of Ages", and heard the quartet sing the old favorite hymn of that name.

The junior class was also in the company this year. They were invited at the request of the seniors, because they felt that the juniors might not be able to make the tour next year due to war conditions. This trip was made possible through the efforts of the senior class and their sponsor, Mr. Webb. The following people were kind enough to donate their cars, even though our nation faces a rubber shortage: Mrs. U. L. Lowry, Mrs. Lynn Williams, Virgil Wagley, Herbert Mikeworth, and Mr. Webb. The senior class is especially grateful to Mr. Mikeworth, who is not a resident of the Putnam community, for his generosity and kindness.

Those making the trip were: Seniors:—Betty Wood, Jamie Damon, La Juan Gunn, Estelle Lunsford, Theron Byrd, Billie Frank Kennedy, Lee Rutherford, Doyle White, Darrel White, F. L. Armstrong, Earl Gunn, Clyde Maynard, Billie Mac Park, and John Allen Pruet.

THE PEANUT

The peanut has enlisted for the duration. Once it served chiefly as an aid to circus-going. Now it is a many-purpose vegetable. It promises oil for soap, cintments and butter substitute, glycerine for explosive, protein for the diet. If palm oil from overseas is cut off and meat runs short, the peanut will stand by. American farmers raise 750,000 tons of peanuts a year.
The government, with a war on its hands, asks them to double that production. The peanut is as much at home in China, India and Senegal as in America. Its name in Africa is "nguba," hence its down-South nickname "goober."

THE GLASS AGE

Living in glass house is nothing.
Anybody can do it now, by the simple procedure of using glass byck in the walls along with the glass panes in the windows. The walls can be transparent, translucent, or colored, according to taste.

The real wonder is that we may dress in glass clothing. Fiber glass, made simply from sand, sodium, and other common materials, may be spun into slippers as lovely as Cinderella's. It may also be spun and woven into cloth of various kinds, said to be durable, warm and capable of taking any colors desired.

These facts have been known for some time, but not much practical use has been made of them. With common materials of commerce used up as they may be in the course of this war, we may have a notable

Did You Place Your FALSE TEETH
in a Glass Last Night?

Thousands do and wonder why their dentures remain dull and stained—why they suffer with offending denture breath. They fail to realize that water alone is not a cleaning agent—but now, there's a great formula perfected by a dentist, called Stera-Kleen that thoroughly cleans false teeth like magically brushing! Simply put a little Stera-Kleen Powder in a glass of water—soak your teeth—now they sparkle, are really clean and look like the day your dentist said, "Don't they look natural?" Try Ster-Kleen—lasts long—costs only 30¢. At all druggists.

Old Farmer's Recipe: Mix Allura and Lemon Juice to get quick relief from pains of rheumatism and neuralgia. Druggists have Allura—grocers have lemons.

In coming months, ranchmen in the extreme west part of Texas may be asked to grow pilot plantings of gaulthie, the plant from which rubber may be extracted. Areas in California, New Mexico, and Arizona also are said to be suited to the desert plant.

County Agent Says - -

The Insecticide Situation Agriculture has a call for increased production on one hand and a shortage of several standard in-secticides on the other. Here's about the way insecticide situation shapes up:

First, the cotton farmer is faced with a decrease of from 25 to 40 percent in the available supply of calcium arsenate.

No shortage in lead arsenate is anticipated, but the supply will be used principally in the control of fruit and vegetable insects; therefore we cannot count on this material as a substitute for calcium arsenate.

Other substitutes, such as Paris Green and white arsenic, will be unavailable for all practical purpose except for stocks carried over from last year.

Plentiful supplies of both natural and synthetic erollite should be available, but the effectiveness of this material in controlling cotton insects is limited.

There will be no shortage of dusting sulphur to control the rotten fleahopper.

Vegetable growers will fare a shortage of the rotenone insecticides, which have grown increasingly popular in recent years.

Some manufacturers of commercial rotenone mixtures (made from the rotenone bearing roots such as Derris, Cube or Timbo with carriers of sulphur or inert materials), report that supplies have been depleted and that much delay is anticipated in renewing stocks.

If there are supplies of Derris, Cube or Timbo in storage at local points, these may be mixed with sulphur, clay or talc. If the sulphur on hand is of the wet-table type, this may be used in lieu of dusting sulphur and can be applied either as a dust or spray.

No shortage is anticipated in the available supplies of the pyrethrum or of the tobacco insecticides, such as tobacco extract, free nicotine and nicotine sulphate.

The supply of lead arsenate is apparently sufficient to take care of vegetable growers' needs and this insecticide will again come into use to control chewing insects, a purpose for which it has been largely replaced by the non-toxic-to-humans rotenone insecticides. Use of lead arsenic on vegetables should be followed by the usual precautions.

Fruit growers will find enough lead arsenate on the market for normal use and the ingredients for lime-sulphur are plentiful supply.
There is no shortage of oil for oil emulsion sprays in Texas.

Victory Pledge Popular

Requests for 153,500 Victory demonstrator's pledge cards have already been filled by the A. and M.
College Extension Service, and 50-000 more are being printed to fill additional orders. This includes 3,500 printed in Spanish for Latin American people pledging their cooperation to the war effort.

"The Victory Demonstration is a war-time program, encouraged by the Extension Service," according to Extension Director H. H. Williamson. "Texas made it for Texas. The Victory Demonstration has an appeal—a patriotic appeal, and while it was planned primarily for country people, I find urban people like it, too. It points the way for every red-blooded American who wants to help win the war on the home front."

Small red white and blue lapel buttons are being worn by several thousand Victory Demonstrators in the state. Orders in the last month have aggregated 4,350.

"As a Victory Demonstrator doing my best to help win the war, I will produce food, feed, and fiber to assure good health for myself, my family, and others.

"I will take good care of everything I use—food, clothes, furnishings, equipment, machinery, buildings, livestock and the soil as well as scarce articles such as rubber and metals.

"I will buy carefully anything I must have and I will buy U. S. War Stamps or Bonds with all the money I can.

"I will work hard with my family and neighbors and help people to be cheerful, to have courage and to take part in all war activities.

$699,108 For Blue Stamps

Texas families participating in the food stamp program of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, U.S.D.A., purchased $699,108 worth of blue stamp foods in March.

Orange food stamps clients were required to buy amounted to $957-007, making a total of $1,656,115 in food purchased with food stamps during the month. The 286,900 persons participating represented 74-0000 families.

Participants in the food stamp program must first buy orange food stamps with the money they would ordinarily spend for food, and are then issued blue food stamps with which they can obtain at least 50% more food.

The program is primarily designed to help assure farmers a ready market by increasing the food purchasing power of needy families. At the same time, it is helping build a stronger America by making additional food available to undernourished Americans.

Official studies made, account for March blue stamp food purchases by under-privileged families in the state as follows: 207,264 pounds of butter valued at $81,132; eggs totaling 328,495 dozen valued at $98,524; flour, corn meal and hominy grits amounting to $198,331; potatoes and other fresh vegetables valued at $27,771; and $84,740 worth of oranges, grapefruit, apples, pears and dried prunes.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
 by BOYCE HOUSE

San Antonio is the most romantic of all Texas cities. In fact, take the word of one who has roamed amid the vaunted splendors of Los Angeles, the quaintly beautiful city of the Alamo is more picturesque—and it's not 1,200 miles away.

"A foreign land at home", somebody has described San Antonio. An old Mexican playing a harp almost as big as he is, a singing blind man being led by a little daughter, a withered brown crone begging pennies, dark-eyed beauties with flashing teeth and wearing bright colors and gleaming jewels—these are sidewalk dramatic personae.

Then there is the old Menger Hotel, once the mess of the cattle kings of the Southwest, and still a busy place, with its rotunda that gives the visitor a view of the marble and gold of the balustrades for three floors above. And you will see a bronze plaque commemorating Sidney Lanier—for the great Southern poet spent a winter in San Antonio and stopped at the Menger.

Sunshine, palm-trees, flowering shrubs of exotic coloring and pungent aroma, soft Spanish syllables—manana, amigo, hasta la vista—and from somewhere the faint strains of a guitar and a tenor voice rendering "La Paloma"—such is San Antonio.

Then there is the Mission of San Jose with its famed window, a blossoming in stone that was carved by a Spanish artist whose fingers have been dust for centuries, and the bell-tower with its winding stairs hewn from logs.

And the old San Antonio River, its water a beautiful blue, winding through the center of the city, spanned by a score of bridges, its banks a smooth slope of green—memories of O. Henry and Brann the Iconoclast, for both these great writers lived here; memories of Robert E. Lee and Albert Sidney Johnston; memories of the war-shouts, "Who will follow old Ben Milam into San Antonio?" and "Remember the Alamo!"

Not to have seen San Antonio, to have revealed in its magic, to have thrilled at the spot where Bowie and Crockett and Travis died—one who has not felt these kindling emotions has not truly known Texas to its fullest.

This thrilling story was found in the "66" News, published at Phillips:

As he coasted down the hill, he traveled faster and faster. The wheels turned at a terrific pace; the motor generated its last possible ounce of power. People were clustered at the turn, ahead of him, waiting to see if he would get safely around it. As he approached the curve, the crowd held its breath. Like a flash, he was zooming around the turn. The thrill was too much for one spectator. "Look!" she screamed. "He's going around the curve on two wheels!" He heard but he only laughed. For he knew he was on a motorcycle.

Berton Braley says that snobbery is the pride of those who are not sure of their position.

Amid the sternness of Tom Carlyle—whose "Sartor Resartus" is one of my favorite books—one Cooperating in National Cotton Week are farmers, manufacturers, chain stores, independent merchants, wholesalers, extension service, women's clubs and other groups.

Home Making Hints

The first in a series of information letters to Victory Demonstrators of Callahan County have gone out from the office of the County Home Demonstration Agent, Ellen comes across little valleys of verdure and wild flowers in the midst of granite mountains—such as these:

The sacred air cities of Hope; the mean clay hamlets of reality; The inarticulate mystic speech of Music.

Thought kindling itself at the fire of living Thought. And there is epic tragedy in these few words, "The wreck of matter and the crash of worlds."

The colored race is noted for the use of superlatives in conversation as for example:

"Niggah, don't mess wid me", Sambo warned, "because when you does, you is flirtin' wid a hearse."

"Don't pesticate wid me", replied Rastus, waving his fist. "Don't fo'ce me to press dis upon you, because of you do, Ah'll hit you so ha'd, Ah'll jes' natch'ally knock you from amazin' grace into a floatin' opportunity."

The other countered with, "Ef you mess wid me, Ah'll jes' make one press and tomorrow mornin' dere'll be a man pattin' you in de face wid a spade."

make last as long as possible. This admonition is given. "Remember: A Victory Demonstrator's home and farstead should be as orderly as an Army Camp and as clean as the deck of a battleship."

Do you eat at least one green vegetable each day—more if possible? That's what the guide to good diet, drawn up by the Nation's nutrition experts, says each of us needs. For green vegetables have their place too, in meals that taste good. With their pretty green color and their fine fresh flavor they are perfect side partners for meat and potatoes.

The smart cook fixes vegetables for the table so they keep their fresh garden look and taste, along with their vitamins and minerals. To her it's a crime to overcook green vegetables or to pour down the sink the juice, the good old-fashioned pot liquor.

Some of the rules for good cooking of vegetables to make the most of what Mother Nature put in them are: 1. Use little water, slightly salted, cook a short time and never add soda to the cooking water. Soda destroys vitamins. 2. Have the water boiling when you put green vegetables on to cook. 3. Leaving off the lid helps to keep the green color. With leafy greens, use a lid at the start until they are wilted. 4. Serve all the juice with the cooked vegetable or use it in soup or sauce. That's being thrifty with vitamins.

Since cabbage is one of the cheapest vegetables on the market at present, it would be well for homemakers to capitalize on its use right now and the following recipe is suggested:

Five Minute Cabbage
 Heat 3 cups of milk, add 2 quarts of shredded cabbage and simmer for about 2 minutes. Mix 3 tablespoons of flour with 3 tablespoons of melted fat. Add to this blended flour and fat a little of the hot milk. Stir into the cabbage and cook for 3 or 4 minutes, stirring all the while. Season to taste with salt and pepper and serve at once.

NEW! "BACTERIOSTATIC" FEMININE HYGIENE

now finding great favor among women...

Many doctors recommend regular use of douches as a precautionary measure for women who want to be clean, dainty—for women troubled by offensive odor or discharge.

Some products may be harmful to delicate tissues. But not Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash! Pinkham's Sanative Wash is gaining great favor among women because it's NOT a harmful germicide. Instead—it's a mighty effective "bacteriostatic" (the modern trend). It not only discourages bacterial growth and infection, but thoroughly cleanses and deodorizes. Very soothing—relieves minor irritations and discharge and has a tonic effect on delicate membranes. Inexpensive! Get your bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Sanative Wash today. All druggists.
