Reading AND Writing

By John Selby

First a word from Ludwig Lewisohn on his changing idea of literary form and method:

"I am persuaded, despite many apparent signs to the contrary, that naturalism or realism as a method... is passing. The complicated and tragic character of the age requires a different kind of expression. Prose is moving nearer to poetry in the larger sense and story nearer to myth, precisely as (analogously) thought is moving nearer to what is called roughly faith, and science nearer to religion."

The reflection of this idea is to be found in earlier books of Lewisohn's, and it is to be found in his new novel, "Trumpet of Jubilee." But this magnificent work is in no sense a modern fairy tale. Lewisohn does not mean that he discards all the advantages of close observation and direct, literal statement.

He has awaited what is (for a writer) rather a long time to do his novel on the Jewish situation in Germany. If the wait is at all responsible for the superlative quality of the book, it is a shame some other writers were not as slow. I have steadfastly refused to judge Germany until I could revisit her and see for myself; this is the first novel by a Jew expressing the Jewish side of what has happened that has been uttered, convincing to me. And a book like "Trumpet of Jubilee" can be judged only on a personal basis. Its subject is too much alive, too actual, too fiery to be appraised in general terms.

It is simply the story of what happened to a Jewish family in Berlin, of the tragic death of a Jew who believed he was a German first of all, of what later happened to his family. The framework means very

Pattern No. 457

A smart looking knitted blouse like this one will be a welcome addition to every woman's wardrobe. When it can be knitted as simply as this one surely you will all want it.

Besides stitch-by-stitch directions, in the individual sizes (32, 34, 36, 38 and 40) we also include two sets of tissue paper patterns—a pink set of "working" tissues to guide you as work progresses; and a set of tan blocking tissues; also diagrams to aid you; also what needles and what material and how much you will need.

The design is very simple to make, and with the pink tissue to guide you as you increase and decrease, you scarcely need to give the instructions a thought.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 457 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to little; the story has been written many times since 1923. It is the universal values which the author has put into the book which mean anything, and it is a triumph to find that these values are not expressed sentimentally; that the book remains a novel, though more powerful than any tract.

Temple Folk Contribute Heavily To Aid Aimee Fight Slander Suit

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (AP)—Gold teeth, cash and wedding rings from the congregation of Angelus Temple became a "war chest" for Pastor Aimee Semple McPherson today in her fight against a $1,000,000 slander suit.

Meanwhile, the blonde evangelist retired at least temporarily from the spotlight in another suit—the $150,000 slander action filed against her attorney, Willedd Andrews, by her daughter, Roberta Semple.

The million-dollar damage claim against Mrs. McPherson by her former co-pastor, Rhea Crawford, co-"angel of Broadway," is set for trial Wednesday and yesterday Giles Knight, temple business manager, pleaded stringently for the pulpit for contributions to finance the defense.

Bulky envelopes, dropped all day into a huge metal bowl on the temple rostrum, bore these words: "We will defend our pastor with our cash, chains, gold coins, platinum, silver, gold rings, wedding rings, bracelets, gold teeth, pins. Blessed are they that protect the precepts of the Lord."

It took three men to carry the collection to a counting room last night, Knight said.

Miss Crawford did not remain silent at her home. "I am deeply humiliated," she said, "that I should be the means used by Mrs. McPherson and Giles Knight to separate the faithful Angelus Temple flock from their few pitiful remaining material possessions."

Attorney Andrews was slated to be his own chief witness today at trial of Miss Semple's suit.

St. Mary's Women's Units Hold Lively Initial Joint Meeting

Initial joint meeting of women's units of the St. Mary's Episcopal church was held Monday afternoon at the parish house with the St. Mary's auxiliary as hostess group. Program which was participated in by the auxiliary, St. Cecilia club and St. Anne's club concerned reports on the various community houses sponsored by Episcopalians, and afterwards a short business session was held.

The devotional was given by Mrs. J. B. Young and members answered roll call with a current event pertaining to religious activities.

Reports from the various units were given by Mrs. Shine Phillips of St. Mary's, Mrs. William Tate of St. Cecilia's and Mrs. W. M. Paulsen of St. Anne's.

Program topics were given by Mrs. V. Van Gieson who gave a paper on the United Thank Offering. Mrs. George Garrette, who read an article on the Little House of Faith, followed. Miss Mary Louise Gilmour, who gave the History of Seaman Hall, and Mrs. Turner Wynn, who discussed St. Anne's Mission of El Paso.

Plans were made for the joint meeting to be held on each third Monday. The May meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The group also made tentative plans for group activities.

During the social hours Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Garrette, Mrs. M. K. House and Mrs. E. V. Spence served tea from the attractively decorated tea table that was laid with silver appointments and centered with a large bouquet of vari-colored spring flowers. ROLLED, TOSSED WITH GAS PAINS!

Stomach Pains At Night Almost Unbearable, But Van-Tage Relieved!

Many druggists in this section say they never saw anything like the way Reliable People praise Van-Tage. This is the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in Great Quantities in Big Spring. Recently Mrs. A. B. Shepherd, of Three-D Stock Farm, Arlington, Tex., endorsed it.

"No matter what I ate, even Mrs. Shepherd a drink of pure water, would fill me up with gas until I could hardly breathe, and make me have terrible pains in my stomach. I couldn't even keep a drink of water on my stomach. It seemed like it was impossible for me to get a good night's rest, for I was so nervous and full of gas pains that I just rolled and tossed from one side of the bed to the other. My kidneys also broke up my rest, too, as they were so sluggish that I had to get up three or four times every night. I read about Van-Tage and got it. The very first dose seemed to go right to work on me, and now I am not in misery with gas and I feel like an entirely different person and can hardly believe it."

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at Collins Bros. Drug Store; also sold by all Leading Druggists in Big Spring and throughout Texas and Nearby States—adv.

ARMY VERSUS NAVY

IN WAR MANEUVERS
HONOLULU, April 20 (AP)—The United States army was ready today to move Honolulu from the United States navy.

At any time now—some army officers have a hunch it will be Friday—the fleet will "attack" Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated, and attempt to capture Pearl Harbor.
But soldiers of the Hawaiian department aided by the Hawaiian naval units, are ready to greet the foe with a withering blast of blank shells.

Engaged in its annual maneuvers, one of the fleet's problems is the theoretical conquest of the islands, and the Pearl Harbor naval base is the vital spot at which to strike.

Robinson said last night's conference developed strong sentiment that "every practical effort should be made to limit expenditures and appropriations so as to close as soon as possible the gap between income and outgo." He added, however:

"The indications are that if appropriations are conformed to estimates the (1938) budget will be out of balance.
"It is thought ways may be found without increasing taxes to bring the deficit to a narrow margin."

"The senate leader joined with Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee in saying no new taxes were contemplated at this season.

The White House conference was designed to put finishing touches on a broad re-vamping of income and spending estimates for both the 1937 and 1938 fiscal years.

EXHIBIT SPACE AT EXPO GOING FAST

DALLAS, April 20—Porto Rico will send both official and commercial exhibits to the Pan American exposition in Dallas this summer, stamping the island's name before vacationing Americans, international fair officials, were assured this week.

Charles H. Abbott, who has just completed a flying tour of Central and South American capitals bearing invitations to the exposition, was dispatched from Havana, Cuba to San Juan, to work out details with industrial leaders anxious to publicize the products of the island, among which are sugar cane and rum. Space of 8,000 square feet already has been reserved by Southern Feeds, whose agents cabled reservation of exhibit space.

Four transportation lines serving trade channels between North and South America, one by air and three by sea, added their names to the list of contracted exhibitors this week, asking for a space of 10,000 square feet.

Pan American Airlines, and the cooperating shipping lines, Grace Lines and Munsen Lines, are the newest exhibitors. The exhibits, in a pooled space, will occupy the first portal and exhibit wing in the 400-foot Hall of Transport and Transportation, which flanks the Esplanade of the Americas, opposite the twin building, the Hall of Varied Industries.

Cotton Planting Time Is Here—For Experiment Work

Cotton planting season is on at the U. S. Experiment Farm, but only for the sake of experimentation.

First of a series of half a dozen "date" plantings on one-tenth of an acre tracts has been accomplished. The plantings will comprise the first and 15th of each month to and including July 1.

Three varieties are planted in the test. They are Half and Half, representing early maturing short staple cotton; Mebane, long staple, average maturing, and Rowbin, late maturing.

The tests are made with the view of ascertaining what time of the year is best for planting the different varieties of cotton seed. The plots are harvested and ginned separately for accurate figuring. Variety, most important cotton tests, likely will not go into the soil until the last of May, or even later.

Eliomer Martin, UAW president, said at noon the board had no statement to make either on the Canadian situation or plans for organization of workers in Henry Ford's plants.

Company Would Renew Strike Negotiations

OSHAWA, Ont., April 20 (AP)—General Motors of Canada agreed today to resume negotiations with a committee of its 3,700 striking employees this afternoon.
The company issued the following statement:
"The company at the request of C. H. Millard (of the strikers) has agreed to meet the negotiating committee to discuss a basis of negotiations which would follow return of the men to work."

The strike issue is recognition of the United Automobile Workers. Millard is president of the Oshawa local.
The speed of this new peace move surprised observers after the strikers rejected a company proposal at a drama-packed mass meeting last night.
So far the company has insisted it would never recognize the international union as representative of its workers, while the strikers with equal determination have stood up for their demand for unqualified union recognition.

Wants Action in June

Mr. Roosevelt asked that his relief appropriation for next year be made available early in June "so that its expenditure can be properly planned prior to July First."

Declaring maintenance of a sound fiscal policy requires careful planning of authorizations and appropriations, the president said "it is impossible to maintain a proper balance between revenues and expenditures unless restraint" is exercised.

Analysis of tax returns for March, the president said, indicated income taxes would produce 267,200,000 less than forecast in January estimates and that other revenues would fall off $337,000,000—due in large part to the obstruction of collections by numerous law suits against the government."

Mr. Roosevelt asserted, however, he expected to save $295,000,000 in current expenditures by eliminating or deferring unnecessary spending.

San Antonio Puts B'mont Notch Lower

By the Associated Press Beaumont's Exporters club is at the top position in the Texas league's spring pennant race today, despite a defeat at the hands of the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

Shippers Fall Before Hammery Kimerlin's Curve Ball, 3 To 1

The Shippers fell before Hammery Kimerlin's curve ball yesterday as the San Antonio hurler scattered 10 hits. Other teams with a chance to move ahead of the Exporters lost their games.

It was a day and night of spangling pitching performances, featured by the three-hit shut-out of Dallas turned in by Clyde Labl of Tulsa. Labl was threatened only twice by the Steers as the Oilers nosed them out 1-0.

Tulsa's run came in the first and second innings by Janeco and Sands and a fly to center by Florio. Labl fanned nine and didn't allow a walk. Curt Fullerton gave up only seven hits but couldn't match the great exhibition by the Oilers' moundman.

San Antonio bunched five hits with walks to snap Beaumont's winning streak. Two passes paved the way for two Mission runs in the second.

Dutch Schesler, veteran Galveston right-hander, scattered six hits to blank Houston 5-0. Schesler was in trouble but once he struck out Ray Zimmerman with the outfield filled to steam an impending walk-off. Doubles by Frits and Susan figured prominently in the Houston scoring.

Oklahoma City staged a victory book finish to beat Fort Worth 4-1. The Indians scored two runs in the last of the ninth. They spotted three Cats four in the first but kept pecking away for a garish finish that gave them victory. Jim Grantine, who relieved Steve Larkin for the Cats in the ninth, walked Texas Governor to force in the winning run.

Few Fans Know Where Teams Got Nicknames

By JOSEPH B. KELLY BOSTON, April 20 (AP)—Thousands of fans will attend opening major league baseball games today but few will be able to tell where their favorite teams got their nicknames.

In the American league but two teams—St. Louis and Philadelphia—retain the names they had when they entered the circuit.

The St. Louis club began as the Browns and the Browns they remain. Past years, fans in that city voted an emphatic "no" to a proposal to change the team's name. The club was named after a crooked St. Louis American Association team of the late 1880s.

Athletics and Philadelphia have gone had in hand since the days of baseball. At one time there were three baseball clubs in that city, all Athletics.

The name White Stockings, formerly used by the National League team, was revived by two Chicago city baseball writers, Carl Green and Irving E. Sanborn, and soon shortened to White Sox. Boston's Red Sox owe their name to a newspaperman.

An official vote of fans decided upon the name Nationals against Senators for Washington. But in many cities the team is still known as the Senators.

Another club which owes its name to baseball scribes is the New York Yankees. Detroit's first team played in the National League as the Wolverines. About 1888 or '90, Philip J. Reel, a newspaperman, coined the present name; Tigers on the club's name. Cleveland has been known as the Indians since 1915.

ANTI-LYNCH Hysteria

Texas and the South owe thanks to Sen. Borah, the veteran independent republican for his plain-spoken condemnation of the so-called lynch bill run through the house of congress, supported by democratic members in an open appeal to race prejudice and the vote of negroes.

News dispatches recording the house debate recited it was supported by a New York democrat from a district of heavy negro voting strength.

The South deplors the day when national legislation is pushed through on a plea of race prejudice against the citizens of the South.

And of course it is not an anti-lynching bill at all. It is a bill to reach in the treasury of Texas, or Louisiana, or into the county treasury and take a fine of public money because that state or that county has been the victim of a lynching when an accused criminal has been taken forcibly from an officer.

FISHIN' DAYS SOON

As the world grinds on, and we labor at daily tasks, let us recall there are pleasant days ahead.

Fishing will be in open season again in a few days most everywhere in Texas.

Since the sleet and snow of a late-March Easter, the trees have become green again. The prettiest bluebonnets of a decade wave an invitation outdoors. Young corn just coming up, marches in straight rows like tiny soldiers.

Soon we can go out to the river or creek and fish for the fine bass and white perch that are getting a little more plentiful in our streams. We can at least enjoy the Saturday afternoon holidays to return to the ancient sport. We can thank a national government for providing hours of leisure in the lives of every-day working folks, that gives more chance to go fishing.

Whether fly-casting sportsman, or plain worm-bait fisherman, Texans are yearning for the time to get back on the bank and try again for the big fellow that was too smart last year.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Despite its aloofness and reputation for brusque dealing, New York, like a little old lady, occasionally offers a graciousness of manner that rivals the hospitality of a border town.

Take the case of David H. Clark, one time chief deputy district attorney, Los Angeles, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances last January and turned up later in Europe.

He came in on the Excambion the other day, from Marseilles, and with the strange pattern of his background, it was natural that a full-strength turn-out of ship reporters was on hand to greet him.

For Clark is, among other things, the officer who shot and killed two men on the west coast. Twice he went to trial and was acquitted.

Now his inexplicable disappearance, his rumored appearances in various parts of Europe, and his decision to sail back to New York had the reporters buying his return like a pack of hounds on the scent of fresh game.

But he was reticent to the extreme, upon his arrival. He finally parried the press with this promise: "I'll see you tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the lobby of the Commodore."

Long before the appointed time he was preceded by an army of reporters, columnists and photographers. The news photographers quietly began to set up their flashlight cameras. The lobby began to look like an army encampment.

Apparently, this did not meet the favor of a clerk, for Clark was not a guest of the Commodore, and he (wholly within his rights) thought the resultant disturbance would be of no particular benefit to the hotel.

Overhearing his mutterings, one of the reporters quickly called the hotel press-agent on the phone. "Yes, indeed," he said. The hotel was happy to have Mr. Clark interviewed there. Better still, adequate arrangements would be made at once for a more private interview upstairs.

So, in a twinkling, a large suite adjoining the ball room was thrown open to the press, the staff promptly fetched 40 chairs, and a dozen large pitchers of ice water. There were cigars, too. The hotel said it was only too pleased to be of service. That Mr. Clark wasn't registered there did not matter. The attendants bowed out, leaving Mr. Clark to the boys.

And, for the purpose of this story, that is all. What Mr. Clark said you may read in the regular columns of the news. It just seemed, to this observer at least, one of those rare flashes of courtesy that, from time to time, bob up in brusque, busy Manhattan.

Dudley Digges, now playing the Emperor Franz Joseph in "The Masque of Kings," gave his 3,000th performance for the Theater Guild the other night. He has acted in 23 Guild plays.

Joker found in new trade commission bill
 Liquor exempted from advertising restrictions.
 Treasury registers protest with congress.
 Objectionable sentence expected to be eliminated.

Wet Joker
 WASHINGTON, April 20—If democratic Treasurer W. Forbes Morgan had not recently jumped to the distillers for a reputed $100,000 per year, there would be no commotion over a hidden liquor joker in the new federal trade commission bill. As it is, there is plenty. Even President Roosevelt is said to have interested himself to avoid an embarrassing predicament.

Sharp legislative eyes spotted an obscure sentence tucked into the middle of the sixteenth page of the new federal trade commission bill. The measure, as a whole, lays down strong restrictions against false or misleading advertising practices for food, drugs, cosmetics or other "devices." Then comes this unexpected restriction: "This section shall not apply to distilled spirits, wine or malt beverages as such commodities are defined in the federal alcohol administration act."

This safeguarding of the distillers' interests is said authoritatively on the inside not to have originated with Morgan or any of the other half dozen or so high new orderers who lately have joined the same business group. The job is being attributed to one or two congressmen.

Nevertheless, off-the-record discussion at the capitol has become hot enough to draw from the treasury an unpublished official protest to congress against the provision.

Spring Board
 This is the first unhappy moment caused Mr. Roosevelt by the recent dissections of his political and official friends to the new and rapidly growing liquor industry. It can hardly be the last.

Shortly after Mr. Morgan had left the democratic national committee to go into the big money, one of the able Michigan politicians there, Norman Baxter, also shifted to the distilled spirits industry. About the same time, Mr. Roosevelt's minister plenipotentiary to the Costa Rican government, the capable Leo R. Sack, folded his high hat and joined Schenley Products company. Two treasury employees also have entered this same productive field. Of course, Dr. James M. Moran, long associate with the old treasury prohibition unit, is drawing $50,000 annually as head Washington man for the institute.

For these and other reasons, the house interstate commerce committee will probably nip the joker from the bill some time this week.

Note—The official explanation for exempting liquor advertising from federal trade commission supervision is that the federal alcohol administration already has this authority. However, that FAA authority is not as extensive as is proposed for other products under FTC. The present government regulations do no much beyond requiring that the age and contents be stated truthfully.

Next
 Negotiations have been under way for some days which may take another new deal left-winger into a large, or semi-large, private business. The negotiators are not the molasses group, which lured Dr. Tugwell, but someone just as sweet.

Prices
 Recently the president has been saying that durable goods prices are going too high and that his policies would be switched to help the non-durables. (The durables are steel, copper and the heavy goods, while the non-durables are things more closely associated with the average citizen, such as food and clothing.)

It is hard to believe, but the government has no figures on the relative prices of durables and non-durables as a whole. That is, government economists know the prices on all the various products but have not computed an average for either group.

The best available figures are those of the national bureau of economic research in New York City. Its latest price computations show: (1929 equals 100)

	Durable Goods	Non-Durable Goods
1935 average	87.0	81.2
1936 average	88.5	81.7
1937 January	93.1	88.7
February	94.5	88.8

This indicates the president is right in his assertion that durable prices are ahead of non-durables, but they are not as far ahead as the average of the years 1936 and 1938.

Notes
 The treasury has not yet expressed itself, but it has no objection to the Cochran proposal to levy income taxes on federal and state employees under a constitutional amendment. From the standpoint of a more equal distribution of taxes, the proposition is appealing, but from a revenue raising standpoint, it is unattractive. Federal and state salaries are low.

The victory of Lyndon Johnson,

newly elected house member from San Antonio, is being advertised as a triumph for the president's court proposal. On the surface it was; but many astute Texas authorities there would have afforded him a victory regardless of the position he took on the court plan.

The Norwegian government's delay in approving the appointment of Mrs. Daisy Harriman has prompted much speculative conversation in diplomatic circles. There seems to be an undercurrent of feeling that some foreign governments do not particularly like our policy of naming feminine political or social women to diplomatic posts, although you will never hear them say so loud.

Since the Wagner decision, one Washington business man has been greeting his office force each morning: "This is just the humble boss arriving."

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—One of the reasons you see so many old-time stars in today's pictures is "the secret six."

"That's an informal organization of directors. It doesn't hold meetings, collect dues, or give parties. It does all its business by telephone. When W. S. Van Dyke, for instance, finishes with an old-timer in one of his films, he gets on the phone and calls one of the other "members" to let him know if that director hasn't a spot available, one of the others has, and the word gets around. That way the people who were yesterday's stars get a fairly consistent break. Former Extras

This little sunshine-dispensing group is composed of directors who used to be, many of them, extras when the people they're helping were big shots. Among them are Van Dyke, Richard Wallace, James Hogan, John Ford, Wesley Ruggles, Al Hall, Norman Taurog, Robert Z. Leonard and Lewis Milestone.

Hogan had just finished "planning" a fairly well known comedian—who had had only two days work in the past four months—when I called on him for some of those early movie yarns that lend so much color to this industry.

"Most of us lived in a boarding house just off what is now the Hollywood boulevard business section," he said. "Two dollars a month apiece for lodgings. Milestone lived in a cutting room—he was in charge there, at night, with a broom. Sometimes I'd sleep in Priscilla Dean's dressing room at the studio—slept on a cane-bottom couch and when I got up my back looked like a waffle. We didn't always have the $2 for the boarding house. Most of us were cowboy-and-Indian extras. Got $1.50 a day—the dime for carfare. You were a big shot if you made $3 a day!"

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDEMER

Chapter 19
FRIENDS, YES, DAMN IT
 "Oh, George—there is somebody else!"
 He was silent at that for a moment. Then he said haltingly: "Eve, I know this is inexcusable, but it means—well, everything to me. You haven't made up the other fellow just to shut me off!"
 "No, I haven't. There are reasons why we have to not let it be an actual engagement now," Eve explained; "we aren't in a position to afford to marry, and you know—you keep it quiet till you can tell people when you're going to."
 It sounded lame to her as she said it. If it had been anybody on earth but George Cleveland, all tied up with Mital and Mita's help on Danny's job.
 "All right, I see," said George, evidently not seeing or approving too violently.
 "Oh, I'm so sorry—but it's real—there is somebody—" she said incoherently.
 "There would be, I suppose, with a girl like you." He was a little whiter. He stood up. After a moment he spoke again with some effort. "We'll be neighbors till you go. It may be weeks, or months, I don't know your plans, I mean, I'll go on the principle that it hasn't happened, and we're darn good friends, and I'm on my way upstairs to help Uncle Henry put up an extra bed or two for the Featherstones. I—" he smiled for the first time—"I like you too much to have us stop liking each other because I wanted us to love each other. Promise?"
 She drew a long sigh of relief.
 "Oh, George, thank you! It's selfish but we are friends."
 "Yes," said George impatiently, "damn it, that was to have been the take-off!"
 A late ray of the sunset glowed across his head where he stood in line with the window, and turned his thick sandy hair bright. It suddenly occurred to Eve that he had unquestionably been a red-haired little boy; which meant that under what she considered his stolidity must somewhere be temper and sensitiveness. Somehow she liked him better for the flash of crossness.

"Now I'll go find Uncle Henry in the garage," he said with his usual manner, and walked out of the room in the direction of the attic stairs.
 Eve sat still a moment longer to pull herself together. Then she remembered Ellen and the Featherstones and the necessity for supper.
 Candles On The Mantel
 Marilyn, all alone and half asleep, was still curled in the big old sleepy-hollow chair that had been the last thing brought down from the attic, a chair that really belonged on the second floor. The room was warm after the chill of the halls, for somebody had piled the big hearth high again with logs. Candles burned on the mantelpiece. Peter, probably. Peter was sweet about things like that, small luxuries attentions; he always remembered to renew your candles for you and push ash trays near and stand ready with your coat held. He waited on his Marilyn as devotedly after 12 years of matrimony as he had when they married.
 Eve knelt down by the fire, warming her hands.
 "Where's everybody?" she asked. Marilyn yawned, stretching her body like long thin kitten.
 "Hello, Eve! Pete always has a nap about this time. Judge is out somewhere. I found a sweater in the hall closet that I think was yours, so I made Judge put it on; that was right, wasn't it? Ellen's out doing domestic in the kitchen. I told her we didn't want a thing just a sandwich or two; we don't ever have regular meals to speak of anyway, except when we go out and prey on our swank friends, wretches that we are. What a shame Denny couldn't stay." She watched Eve shrewdly, trying to guess how things were between them. "He's such a darling."
 Denny. Eve was suddenly close to Denny in her heart. She leaned against the mantel, forgetting to answer. Ah, what a pity that the word "want arranged so that it was Denny who could have the old Seymour house and horses and car." all the leisure he wanted! Denny, who could be so lordly and wonderful if only he had what George seemed to need so little. Her face was rapt in the candlelight. Marilyn laughed at her lovingly.
 "Love's young dream, darling!" "Love's young dream, of course!" Eve said promptly. "I was thinking that I can't leave Ellen to it. She rose to go out."
 "Oh, Ellen loves it. Never so happy as when alone with a good book and her little chafing-dish, like all actresses," said Marilyn.

Out In The Kitchen
 Eve heard footsteps on the stairs. George and Uncle Henry, having done their good deed in the Featherstone bedroom.
 George said, "Well, goodby, Uncle Henry. See you at 10 tomorrow about those sweaters."
 Oh, he was all right. She needn't worry if he could speak in that cheerful busier-susslike way. She could go on being friends with him, thank goodness! He was like Ellen, he had a talent for friendship.
 Eve waited until she heard the front door open and close, saw the gleam as Uncle Henry passed into the lighted kitchen and shut that door, too, after him; and slowly followed.
 The big square kitchen looked warm and homelike. Three contented people were sitting down at the old cherry table near the gas range. The flames of the lamps on the brackets shone brightly through their polished chimneys. On the old drop-leaf table Ellen had spread one of the old-fashioned checked red-and-white table-

WINTER-RACERS ARE PROMINENT IN DERBY FIELD

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Not since Black Gold won the Golden Jubilee Kentucky Derby in 1924 has a winter-raced horse won the $50,000 added stake for three-year-olds at Churchill Downs.
 Turfmen used to say that "no good horse ever races in the winter." Although, with the rich stakes at winter tracks in recent years, this adage no longer holds true, the bookmakers, who set the future odds on major racing events, apparently believe no winter races horse will win this year's Kentucky Derby on May 8.
 Odds on the "big five" winter-raced horses range from 20 to 49 to 1, while quotations on the five best thoroughbreds which led a life of ease the whole 12 months range from 6 to 15 to 1.
 Here are the "big five" in each division among this year's derby nominations:
 Winter-raced—Fairy Hill, Court Scandal, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars Case Ace and Mrs. Military, and Dewitt Page's Maudie.
 Winter-raced—E. R. Bradley's Brooklyn, J. H. Louchheim's Pompano, Mrs. Mars' Reaping Reward, Samuel D. Riddle's War Admiral, and Warren Wright's Galsan.
 Joseph E. Widener's Brevity, which finished second to Mortal L. Schwartz's Box Venture in last year's derby, will race in Florida during the 1938 winter, and after being bumped at the start, came closer than any winter campaigner to winning the rich stake since the triumph of Black Gold 12 years ago.
 Population of California's two state prisons has shown a marked drop in the last two years.

ANTI-BOOKMAKING LAW APPROVED BY THE LOWER HOUSE

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—A bill outlawing horse and dog race bookmaking and imposing drastic penalties on violators today passed the senate after overwhelming endorsement in the house.

The proposal, authored by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill and others, passed by a vote of 103 to 3 at the close of the first night session of the house on controversial matters last night.

The bill would impose a fine of from $50 to $250 on bettors, $100 to $1,000 and up to two years in jail for operators of pool-sellout and bookmaking establishments, $100 to $1,000 and a jail sentence for the owner or lessee of premises used for that purpose and $100 to $1,000 fines for telephone or telegraph companies permitting their lines to be used to transmit racing information after being notified by law enforcement authorities to that effect.

"Rookie shops are the greatest racket that ever came into Texas," Hardin said, "and we ought to stop them."

Increase Shown In Crude Production

TULSA, Okla., April 20 (AP)—An increase of 26,499 barrels daily in the nation's production of crude oil during the week ending April 17 brought a new peak of 3,462,302 barrels daily for the period, the first new high mark since March 23, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma had an increase of 15,775 barrels daily and a new total of 657,400 barrels, East Texas decreased 599 barrels daily to 460,098 while total Texas increased 26,864 barrels daily to 1,375,925.

California production dropped 4,500 barrels daily to 620,500 and Kansas increased 13,800 barrels daily to 192,578 barrels.

Eastern states including Michigan declined 151 barrels daily to 106,812 while the Rocky Mountain section increased 6,050 barrels daily to 75,510.

WORKERS SEEKING REFINERY CONTRACT

KILGORE, April 20 (AP)—John T. Allen, organizer of the East Texas council of the oil workers' union, hoped today to sign the first contract in the East Texas district since the Committee for Industrial Organization unionization drive began.

Allen said he and a committee of workers would meet officials of the Spargo Refining company of Shreveport today to discuss a union contract which would extend 18 months, provide a 26-hour week, two weeks vacation with pay for men who have worked a year or more for the company, and increase salaries ten per cent over those paid April 1.

The Spargo company is the refining division of the Atlas Pipe-line company and employs 128 men.

Changes Mind, Releases Boy He Kidnaped

OAKLAND, Calif., April 20 (AP)—A conscience-stricken kidnaper, who said he released five-year-old William Grinnell Blodgett, 2nd, because he would rather starve than cause suffering to the boy's parents, was sought in a widening hunt today by police and sheriff's deputies.

The boy was missing for five hours yesterday after a young man invited him away from his two playmates and into an automobile. Later, the lad was found with an explanatory note pinned to his clothing.

Captain James Ritchie, sheriff's investigator, said William and Leroy Gardner, 5, and Leroy's sister, Joan, 6, described the kidnaper as a smiling young man about 23, of medium height, wearing a gray suit and white shoes.

Just before dark William walked into a gasoline station five miles away from home. The attendant, Edna Rose, found a note pinned to William's clothing, partially directing the finder how to return the boy home.

COURT PLAN BACKED BY LABOR LEAGUE

HOUSTON, April 20 (AP)—Labor's non-partisan league here today was on record as expressing support of President Roosevelt's court re-organization plan.

Congressman Wright Patman told an audience here last night that President Roosevelt is championing the cause of the plain people in his court fight.

At the conclusion of the talk those present passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the plan on motion of George A. Wilson, secretary of the Houston Labor and Trades council.

CONSERVATION PLAN IS BEFORE SENATE

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—The senate today received a bill establishing a state-wide soil conservation plan which had been amended to permit optional participation by farmers.

A diversion of 10 cents on the $100 valuation of the state ad valorem tax for general fund purposes and a $75,000 appropriation would provide the state's part of financing the program with contemplated federal aid.

Local districts would be formed by vote of two-thirds of the resident land-owners and would formulate their own program. Farmers would govern the local, county, district and state organizations.

Districts would be authorized to furnish financial or other aid to land-owners or agencies to promulgate wind and soil erosion prevention programs.

OFFICER'S TRIAL STARTING TODAY

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 20 (AP)—In this excited village of 300 inhabitants, Kentucky's most celebrated murder case since the assassination in 1900 of Gov. William Goebel—that of Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, charged with slaying his beautiful fiancée, Verna Garr Taylor—was called today for trial.

Counsel for the big, bald, 60-year-old general, long a military and political figure in Kentucky, contend he cannot obtain a fair trial in Henry county and seek a change of venue.

Mrs. Taylor was found shot to death in a ditch along a lonely road the night of Nov. 6 last. Near the body lay the general's service revolver. A bullet from the gun had pierced the heart.

TITLE CHANGES WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—

The senate voted to change the title of retired coast guard commanders from commodore to "rear admiral, lower half," because it doesn't want them confused with yacht club officials and other civilian functionaries.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bishop returned Monday evening from a brief visit to Austin.

CHINESE GUNMEN ARE SENTENCED TO DEATH

NANKING, April 20 (AP)—Nine Chinese gunmen convicted of attempting to assassinate three government leaders in 1935 were sentenced to prison or death today by the Nanking metropolitan court.

Three were sentenced to die for assassination attempts against Dr. T. V. Soong, former finance minister, Premier Chiang Kai-shek and Wang Ching-wei who was premier at that time. Six accomplices received prison terms of from five to 12 years. Three others were exonerated.

Those convicted filed appeals.

AUTO HITS TREE, OFFICERS INJURED

DALLAS, April 20 (AP)—Squad Officers Max E. Moore and Paul Ashenburt were injured seriously today when their squad car crashed into a tree as they were answering a burglary alarm.

D. T. Crouch of Abilene, friend of Moore, who was riding in the rear seat of the car, was thrown to the pavement. He told investigators he was asleep at the time of the crash and did not know what happened.

Failure of the steering mechanism to function as the officers swerved around a truck was blamed.

Methodist In Mission Drive

Special Programs Will Be Held Here In Fund Campaign

Methodists of Big Spring church, together with all those in Southern Methodist, will be asked this week to assist in a church-wide offering to relieve the Board of Missions of a debt of $385,000 incurred during depression years rather than recall missionaries from the foreign field.

Rev. C. A. Rieckley, pastor of the First Methodist church here, is directing not only the local participation, but is serving as conference director in the effort for the Northwest Texas Methodist conference. Directly in charge of the campaign for the whole church is Bishop Arthur J. Moore of San Antonio.

April 22-25 are the special dates on the campaign. These dates are significant because they commemorate the 89th anniversary of the coming of Rev. Charles Taylor and Rev. Benjamin Kenkins, the first foreign missionaries of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The local churches, along with others in the South, will have dinners Friday night and special services Sunday in commemoration of the missionary sailing of 89 years ago. The First Methodist church event Friday night will be held in the basement of the church. Special radio programs have been arranged for Friday, and arrangements will be made at the dinner to tune in on the major programs, so addresses by bishops can be heard.

Forgery Ring In East Texas Broken

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—G. F. Sullivan, chief administrative officer for the railroad commission in the East Texas oil field, notified headquarters here today he believed the last manifest forgery ring had been smashed with the arrest of two men at an East Texas tourist camp.

He reported the men were placed in separate jails and charged with conspiracy to forge commission manifests. He said he watched one make delivery of four sprout-manifest books, which were seized and held as evidence.

Sullivan and another commission agent trailed the pair to the tourist camp from Louisiana. He did not give their names or say to what jail they were taken.
