House Committee Wants 'Food Czar' Appointed

All Rationing Powers Would Be Given Him

Step Reflects Congress Dissatisfaction With Present Setup

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Reflecting congressional dissatisfaction over home front war operations, the house agriculture committee today approved a bill to create a "food czar" with complete control over wartime food production, distribution, pricing and rationing.

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) said the measure, introduced by President Roosevelt, would create a czar for foods similar to the czar now handling the War Production Board rubber and oil.

The sweeping legislation, if it becomes law, would take from the Office of Price Administration all food rationing and pricing powers and put them under the "war" food administrator, Chester C. Davis.

Approval of the bill, which is sponsored by Fulmer, was by a 15 to 8 committee vote, with all 12 republican members and six democrats supporting it. Eight democrats opposed.

Such an all-over food administrator had been suggested by the republican congressional food study committee.

The measure provides: "The war food administrator is authorized and directed, notwithstanding any other provision of law (including title one of the First War Powers act, 1941), exclusively and finally to exercise, on behalf of United States, either directly or through such other offices or agencies as he may designate, all powers, functions and duties conferred or imposed upon any officer or agency of the United States by any law, order, regulation, or directive with respect to the nation's food program in the United States and territories, including the production, processing, distribution, rationing, procurement, requisitioning, allocation of, priorities, storage, exportation and importation of, provisions of labor and facilities for, and the establishment, maintenance, and adjustment of prices for, food and food facilities."

No Letup In Bomber Raids

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Despite mounting bomber losses, there is high authority for the conclusion that the stepped-up round-the-clock Anglo-American raids on the Ruhr and other nerve centers of Nazi war industry will be pressed home relentlessly through the weeks ahead when cross-channel flying conditions are most favorable.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, made that clear in his Columbus speech this week. He echoed the official Allied view expressed in London that the results attained by mass day-and-night bombardment fully justified the "surprisingly small" Allied casualties, as "measured by the loss in planes and installations suffered by the enemy."

Marshall cautioned, however, against "hasty conclusions or impromptu conceptions" as to the role of air power in the struggle. His obvious desire was to erase any impression that the air battering of Germany is aimed at knocking her out of the war by that means alone, as Pantelleria was knocked out.

Congress Is Cool On Using Draft Club On Strikers

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt's proposal to meet any new coal strike with a draft club was viewed in most congressional quarters today as an inadequate substitute for the anti-strike bill, which many lawmakers now expect him to veto.

Ickes Taking Active Charge Of Coal Mines

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Secretary Ickes moved today to undertake active charge of the management of coal mines and indicated he expected to continue operating them for the government "for a considerable period of time."

Hitherto Ickes has maintained only nominal control of the mines he took over at the president's direction May 1, but, calling 29 major mine owners to meet with him here tomorrow, he said:

"Developments in the controversy between the mine workers and the operators which is under the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board indicated that the government will be compelled to continue custody and operation of the mines for a considerable period of time."

"I still hope that the controversy will be speedily settled so that private operation of the mines may be resumed under conditions which will not involve danger of interruption of production."

Planes Crash, One Falls In Path Of Train, Derails It

SOUTHVILLE, Mass., June 24 (AP)—Two Army planes collided and burst into flames at a high altitude today and one of them crashed directly in front of a six-coach passenger train, bound from Worcester to Boston, derailing the engine and five of the coaches.

One pilot parachuted to safety and the other was believed to have perished in his burning ship. None of the approximately 150 train passengers was injured, railroad officials said, but the engineer suffered a slight cut.

Axis Vessels Sunk By British Subs

LONDON, June 24 (AP)—British submarines operating in the Mediterranean have sunk an armed axis merchant ship of 7,000 tons and destroyed two auxiliary vessels, two medium-sized supply ships and eight small supply ships, the admiralty announced today.

Stevenson Tries Presidential Chair, Finds It A 'Nice One'

AUSTIN, June 24 (AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson was back in Texas today, admitting that he had sat for a moment in the presidential chair in Washington.

"He wouldn't say whether it fit. 'Did the chair fit you, governor?' 'Well, it wouldn't want to say,' the governor replied. 'Is it a nice chair?' 'Oh, yes,' he responded, 'it is a nice chair.' 'How did it feel?' 'Well, it was a nice chair.' Stevenson was more specific on other matters. He said he had presented to

Nazi, Italian Targets Hit On Same Trip

Big Lancasters Make Roundtrip From Britain To Africa

LONDON, June 24 (AP) A new technique of air bombardment was demonstrated dramatically by several squadrons of RAF Lancasters which early today completed a shuttle round-trip from Britain to Africa, bombing a German target on the way down and an Italian port on the run home without loss of a plane.

The air ministry disclosed that the aircraft which devastated three acres of the old Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen Sunday night continued to a North African base and returned home last night by way of La Spezia, blasting the naval base at the latter port.

This shuttle technique never was used before on a large scale at long range. The attack on La Spezia was but one of three or more newly reported aerial blows against Italy and her guardian islands.

Wellington bombers of the north-west African air force made a five-setting raid Tuesday night on the northern Sardinian port of Olbia, a commune from Gen. Dwi, Lt. D. Eisenhower's headquarters said. Heavy RAF bombers of the Middle East command generated two violent explosions and a number of fires in an attack on the airfield at Comiso, Sicily, it was announced in Cairo.

In addition, the Italian high command communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said Allied planes attacked the Sicilian towns of Porto Empedocle and Catania. The Catania raid was reported to have caused 119 casualties and wrecked many civilian buildings.

The Lancasters' extraordinary raid on La Spezia, which has a population of 100,000 and a number of ship and submarine building yards and repair depots was the sixth since the war began.

On the way back they winged about 500 miles to La Spezia and 700 homes. Thus each trip was somewhat shorter than the regular 1,400 miles round trip to La Spezia. None of the planes was lost.

Formations of Allied planes picked up the offensive again in daylight. During the morning aircraft

Nazis Massing Men In France, Italy

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Indications that Germany is moving huge forces into France and Italy in preparation to fight off an invasion were reported today by Secretary of War Stimson.

He asserted also that "an extraordinary lull" in ground fighting on the Russian front has occurred although the weather has been highly suitable for military operations.

There are indications, Stimson told a press conference, that "the Germans are materially strengthening their forces in France." He added that reinforcements are understood to be moving in "for the fascists in Italy."

Stimson estimated that from 10 to 12 German divisions have been moved into France and several to Italy.

CRASH KILLS TWO

PERRIN FIELD, Tex., June 24.—Lt. Cliff G. Zwick, 21, and Pvt. Archie H. Hazard, 22, were killed in the crash of their Perrin field plane near Fort Smith, Ark., while on a training flight yesterday, the field public relations office said today.

Germany Admits 'Incredible' Devastation

By JAMES F. KING LONDON, June 24 (AP)—A deadly cargo of more than 15,000 tons of bombs has been unloaded on Germany in the past month by giant British bombers, two thirds of which have fallen on industrial centers in the Ruhr valley where the nazis themselves admit "incredible" devastation.

According to British figures, 10,000 tons of explosives rained ruin in the period from May 22 to June 22 on seven areas centers in that area—Dortmund, Essen, Wuppertal, Bochum, Oberhausen, Krefeld and Muehlheim. Lord Selborne, minister of economic warfare, estimated on June 10 that a million homes in the Ruhr had been destroyed, leaving up to 5,000,000 persons homeless.

The effect of the 10,000 tons of destruction heaped upon the seven cities of Dortmund, Essen, Wuppertal, Bochum, Oberhausen, Krefeld, and Muehlheim—with an aggregate population of under 2,000,000—can be gauged when it is recalled that the heaviest weight of bombs dropped on London in one raid was less than 800 tons and the total for 90 nights was only 7,500 tons.

Man Killed In Car Crash, Son Is Injured

Jesse L. Hush, 49, night superintendent of the Coaden Petroleum Corp. refinery here, was killed instantly and his son, Donald Lee, 9, was injured seriously Wednesday at 8 p. m. in a truck-car collision just east of the city.

As a result, Raymond Carl Rockey, 20, driver of a Transport Co. gasoline truck, was freed under $500 bond on a misdemeanor charge of negligent homicide. The crash occurred immediately opposite the Minute Inn on the east highway and the truck, loaded with more than 4,000 gallons of gasoline, literally added to the door of the lunch room before stopping.

Impact of the collision hurled Hush from his car and beneath the dual wheels of the truck. Highway patrolmen and sheriff's officers, investigating the crash, said the Coaden superintendent was twice crushed by the wheels as the truck slid to the door of Minute Inn and then rolled back toward the highway.

Donald Lee was rushed to the Big Spring Hospital for treatment of his injuries, which included extensive head injuries, according to his physician.

Walter Grice, justice of peace, who entered a verdict of death due to the crash, said that apparently Hush and his son were returning to their home near Coaden after getting some groceries and ice.

In a statement to sheriff A. J. Merrick, Rockey said he was following another truck, which first swung out as if to cut across the road to the lunch-room. Rockey said he cut in front of the truck but at that instant the other truck swung back to the bar ditch on the right and pulled to a stop. To avoid a crash, he continued, he swung quickly to the left, saw the approaching car and knowing he could not get back, attempted to whip around on his left. Instead, the truck apparently went into a skid.

Born in Miami, Okla., in 1894, Hush came here 14 years ago to join the employ of Coaden refinery. He had been associated with the company continuously since.

Coffee Ration Made Larger

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The next two coffee rations will be on the basis of one pound for six weeks—the most liberal allowance since the beginning of rationing—the Office of Price Administration (OPA) announced today.

The present ration is one pound for four weeks. The lowest ration has been one pound for six weeks but for the most part one pound for five weeks.

OPA said large stocks of green coffee already on hand as well as the more regular arrival of imports with which to maintain these stocks, made possible the increased ration. It cautioned, however, that any deterioration of the present favorable supply situation would make smaller rations necessary and that consumers must be prepared for such reductions whenever they are necessary.

Army Casualties Since Start Of War, 63,958

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Army casualties since the beginning of the war to date total 63,958, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

The lull in recent fighting has permitted the Army to complete a tabulation of its casualty reports, Stimson told his press conference, disclosing that the Army has lost 2,255 men who were killed in action or died of wounds, 17,128 wounded, 23,687 missing, and 16,615 officially reported prisoners of the Japanese, the Germans or the Italians.

"While our casualties have been heavy, said the secretary, "it is certain that in practically all theaters of war in which our troops have been engaged, the enemy's losses have been much greater than our own."

He added, however, that future military operations are likely to involve much greater numbers of our troops and that correspondingly heavier casualties should be expected.

Sicilian, Sardinian Points Hit Again

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 24 (AP)—British heavy bombers from the Middle East command swept across the Mediterranean to attack the enemy airfield at Comiso in Sicily on Tuesday night while twin-engine Wellingtons from Northwest African bases blasted Olbia in northern Sardinia.

Communique today said the heavy bombers caused two violent explosions and set two large and a number of smaller fires at the Comiso airfield and that the Wellingtons left several fires burning on the Olbia docks.

The bulk of the American air forces remained idle yesterday. Only routine patrolling was carried out during the day, General Eisenhower's headquarters announced, but a plane of the coastal air force sank an enemy tanker.

The Cairo communique said that bombs dropped by the RAF heavies were seen to burst in the hangar and workshop areas on the north and south sides of the Comiso airfield.

All the Middle East bombers returned safely, but the northwest African headquarters reported two aircraft missing from the day's operations.

The attack on the Sardinian targets represented a departure from the pattern of this week's major bombing forays all of which have been directed at objectives on Sicily or the Italian mainland. Allied bombers paid their last big visit to Sardinia last Friday.

(The Italian high command declared in a Rome-broadcast communique that Italian torpedo planes had sunk a 7,000-ton tanker off the Algerian coast while bombers raided Egyptian communication lines at Fuka and a Levant airfield at Latakia "with good results.")

(Latakia, almost directly opposite the British island of Cyprus, might serve as a jumping off spot for U. S. AAF and British RAF offensive operations in the eastern Mediterranean.)

Cosden Case Is With Jury; Hines Freed

DALLAS, June 24 (AP)—A federal court jury today took under consideration the government's case against the Cosden Petroleum corporation, Raymond L. Tollett, its president, and R. Weldon Thomson, its pipeline superintendent, tried on charges of conspiracy to violate the Connally "hot oil" act.

Judge T. W. Davidson instructed the jury to return a verdict of innocent for the fourth defendant, M. M. Hines, a company employe. Nash Adams, special assistant to the attorney general, made the motion to dismiss the case against Hines.

Time To Pay For Benefits, Cadets Told

"With a firm hand, a steady eye and a strong faith in God you will triumph." This message of inspiration went to graduating bombardiers of the Big Spring school Thursday morning, as members of class 43-9 received their wings and commissions. It came from a father of one of the class members, H. E. Tamplin, Troy, Ohio, who, in congratulating the young men on their "great day," said "your parents, your friends—every true American—will be praying for your safe return."

Tamplin, in reciting the benefits of America, told the class "The time is here when each of you are called upon to pay in a measure for some of the benefits you have received. And I am sure that each of you as a graduating cadet realizes the responsibilities and duties which lie ahead. If I were to ask any of you, realizing the dangers which you have ahead, if you wanted to give it all up and go back home with the war not yet won, not one of you would make such a decision. This is the spirit, the stuff, that has made America great, and the spirit which will lead you on when the way seems dark."

And there is confidence, said Tamplin, that God rules our destiny. Said he:

"It would be difficult to convince Eddie Rickendacker, who tossed around on that rubber raft for 21 days, that there is no God. You could not convince those brave men who flew over Tokyo and dropped their deadly missiles, and who suffered untold agony before reaching help and medical assistance in the wilds of China, that there is no God. And you could not convince those heroic men who fought their way out of the fox holes in Guadalcanal against heavy odds, that there is no God. It is that steadfast faith in the power of God over men that will lead you, my sons, over the rough and diffi-

Stamps N, P And Q Are Valid July 1

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Blue Food Ration Stamps N, P, and Q, from book number 2, will be valid from July 1 to August 1, inclusive, the Office of Price Administration announced yesterday.

These stamps are intended for purchases of processed food. Blue stamps for June, K, L, and M, will remain valid during the first seven days of July and the similar seven-day carry-over period will prevail for the July stamps through August 7.

Validity dates of Red stamps to be used during July will be announced shortly, OPA said.

Proud are all three of these people, and well they might be, for Thursday marked the day that Parks H. Tamplin, center, earned his commission and wings at the Big Spring Bombardier school as class 43-9 was graduated. On hand to share the occasion with him were his fiancée, Miss Doris Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pearson of Tipton, Okla., and his father, Harry H. Tamplin, Troy, Ohio, realtor, who was graduation speaker. The elder Tamplin, who came here early for Father's Day, has lost one son in action during the war.

Yanks Fly 2,000 Miles For Raid

By The Associated Press

American bombers flying 2,000 miles round-trip were officially credited today with scoring a direct hit on a cruiser and setting fires visible 70 miles in an attack on the Japanese base at Macassar, Dutch Celebes.

Thirty-eight tons of bombs were dropped.

Striking in daylight, on the longest flight yet undertaken from bases in Australia, U. S. Liberators pounded the enemy stronghold in great force and returned with the loss of one bomber, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burleson are wearing big smiles today because their son, Wayne, is home on a brief visit after a year and a half at Honolulu. As a civil service machinist, Wayne was in on the gigantic job of restoring Pearl Harbor and the fleet to usefulness following the infamous Jap attack on Dec. 7, 1941. # How America Bombs The Axis On The Sea It's Hit Or Miss Fourth in a series on attack methods of the bombers in the U. S. Army Air Forces, as explained by instructors at the world's largest bombardier school.

Feature—
Every man and boy in America has probably fancied himself flying through the clouds in a big bomber, a combination of Colin Kelly the pilot and Meyer Levin the bombardier, dropping a two-ton "egg" right down the funnel of a Japanese battleship or aircraft carrier.

Although sinking Jap fleets is one of the principal pastimes of the Army Air Forces and Navy fliers, its decidedly not that simple. Destruction of each flotilla has involved the use of various weapons in different ways, according to the problem at hand and the types of planes available. Generally speaking, here is the way the air forces would operate against an enemy surface fleet if all kinds of bombers were available.

Fleets Spar For Position
An attack by an air force upon a surface fleet is strategically almost the exact opposite of a duel between surface forces. When two ocean fleets meet, their light units spar around while each side tries to bring its battleships into favorable position.

By contrast, the heaviest bombers are probably the first to see action against an approaching enemy surface fleet. The light airplanes follow with more destructive and decisive blows at closer quarters.

Because of their range, Flying Fortresses and Liberators make the initial attacks upon the enemy. They would like to hit his aircraft carriers if possible.

But the "flat tops" are far in the rear of the approaching fleet and are protected by their fighter planes. Bombers might not be able to reach them effectively at first. Fortresses and Liberators are forced to fly at high altitudes because of their build and comparative lack of speed, which make them easy targets for the terrific concentration of anti-aircraft fire aboard modern warships. Thus they must try to hit fleeting targets from five to seven miles below unless bad weather gives protection for a closer approach.

Destroyers Can Maneuver
It is practically impossible for a single bomber to hit a fast surface ship, such as a destroyer or light cruiser, under such conditions. With binoculars the enemy can see bombs start their descent, and in the 45 or 50 seconds before they reach sea level he can wheel a speedy vessel about and head in the opposite direction.

Pattern bombing, similar to that used in high-level attacks on heavily defended industrial centers and shore installations, will increase the chances of scoring.

STOP SCRUBBING FALSE TEETH
Kleenite ends messy, harmful brushing. Just put your plate or bridge-works in a glass of water, add a little Kleenite. Fresto! Blackest stains, tartaric acid film disappear. Your teeth sparkle like new.

KLEENITE needs no brush

on ships but a destroyer might even dodge the salvoes from several planes. A battleship or heavy cruiser offers a target several times easier to hit and its loss would be a harder blow to the enemy fleet.

Transports, also less maneuverable and usually slower than warships, are prime targets for bombers. But as they are not as well defended with anti-aircraft guns as the warships, heavy bombers will leave them for the smaller planes which must attack from a shorter range.

Pattern Bombing On Ships
A pattern attack upon a ship usually involves a somewhat different technique from an assault upon stationary targets such as factories or dockyards. The object is to cover all possible positions of the vessel as it maneuvers to escape. A carrier caught while receiving or discharging planes will be unable to maneuver abruptly but most surface ships under air attack will continually change course.

A frequent tactic for assaulting a split the bomber formation into flights converging over the target. The leading might drop its bombs first while the others wait momentarily for movement of the vessel to indicate the direction of maneuver.

Many bombs must necessarily be wasted in pattern bombing of ships, but it is the best way to assure a certain number of hits from high altitudes.

Screw Worms Are Spreading Rapidly
Screw worms are multiplying and spreading at an unprecedented rate, County Agent O. P. Griffin reported today.

He attributed this condition largely due to a shortage of labor on farms and ranches, thus reducing correspondingly the amount of preventative and curative work that can be done.

Much can be done toward checking the infestation by use of Smear 82 on all wounds before infestation or within three days after eggs are laid. Every precaution should be taken to prevent wounds of any kind. From all indications, he said, it would appear advisable to keep a supply of Smear 82 on hand.

Facts About The Pay-As-You-Go Tax Plan

(Fourth in a Series Issued by the Treasury Department)

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional tax?
A. No. The withholding tax is merely an easier way of paying your regular annual income tax on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Q. I am a married man with one percent of my pay in war bonds and 5 percent, after subtracting withholding exemption, for the Victory tax. How can I pay the additional twenty-percent withholding tax on top of that fifteen percent and still have enough to live on?
A. In the first place your twenty-percent withholding tax includes your Victory tax. If you are married and have one child, your exemptions will bring your tax down to approximately 8 percent. For instance, if your salary or wage is $30 per week, your withholding tax will be approximately $4 per week, and instead of paying an annual income tax of approximately $212 in a lump sum, you are paying it at the rate of $4 weekly.

Q. Suppose when I make my return next March I find my employer has withheld more than enough money to cover my tax. Will the excess be refunded to me?
A. It will either be refunded to you or credited against other income taxes due from you.

Q. Suppose my employer withholds tax from my wages, but does not turn it over to the Government. What protection have I?
A. The employer is liable for the payment of the tax and must furnish the employer with a written statement showing the amount of tax deducted. Penalties are imposed upon employers for failure to make and file returns or pay the tax within the time prescribed by law. The employee is amply protected.

Q. Do I have to wait until the end of January to know how much of wages my employer holds out?
A. Yes, for the official notice or receipt unless your services with your employer are terminated before the end of the calendar year.

Q. What happens if the receipt the employer gives me gets lost or destroyed?
A. You should make application to your employer for a copy of the receipt.

Q. Does it make any difference if I change jobs several times during the year?
A. No. Each employer is required to withhold the tax from wages.

Q. What advantages are there payments made to you.
A. You will be paying on your tax to me in this withholding? income and Victory tax as you receive your wages.

What if Peace brings new cars promptly or not? You'll be yearning to get away from headlines—rations—hours of volunteer war work . . . to get around again with your weary, happy soldier boy—home at last. And with driving restricted now, your car should have plenty of miles left, just so you're not tossing them away these days, by half-ruining your engine with acid.

But formerly, the frequent fast driving that fully heated the engine kept expelling acid. So the hazard was mild compared to what it is today, when acid works while your rationed engine rests.

One great recognized precaution against this is to OIL-PLATE your engine by changing to Conoco Nth motor oil. Its special

Much like body parts plated against atmospheric corrosion, the cylinders, rings, bearings and other parts now hard to replace are OIL-PLATED against internal acid corrosion. # Hunters Due To Get Ammunition They Will Need

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—There will be ammunition for the hunters who can show a need for it this year, government officials said today, but the gasoline shortage may yet save many a bounding buck.

Officials who said plans were under way to provide ammunition for civilian sportsmen, and to see that it goes to those who need it, declined to say how distribution would be controlled. It was indicated, however, that each hunter's present supplies would be considered in fixing his allotment.

Total stocks in the hands of sportsmen are believed to be fairly large, but distributed so unevenly that some are stocked for the season while others haven't a thing.

The war production board said production of shotgun shells and other ammunition useful to sportsmen was "huge," with steel being substituted for brass and copper, but reported that almost all of it had to be channeled to the military services.

The limitation order set up quotas—35 shotgun shells each quarter, for instance—for "essential civilian users," including defense plant guards, other law enforcement officers, farmers and ranchers, who get authorizations automatically.

All other sporting authorizations are required to show essential need, and WPA hasn't considered recreational hunting in that category.

Meanwhile, Ira N. Gabrielson, the wildlife division director, said sportsmen who can solve the gasoline as well as the ammunition problem can expect good hunting when the season rolls around.

"Generally speaking," he told an interviewer, "the game situation is good. With exceptions in some scattered places, the game population the country over looks as good this year—of not better—than last year."

They're Just A Half-Game Out Of Top

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals are supposed to be the only big league team in the big leagues this year, in the frank opinion of the best judges of baseball talent, and this strangely enough is paying high tribute to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cardinals are so good that they can keep players like Jimmy Brown and Johnny Hopp and Danny Litwiler lolling on the bench. On the other hand the Dodgers are old and doddering, with doubtful pitching, a glaring infield gap and a confusing outfield.

Yet the standings today show that this outfit of oldtimers, of whom only one regular is under 30 years of age, is just half a game out of first place in the National league and harassing the Cardinals every step of the way.

They are on a six-game winning streak with five of those victories coming at the expense of the New York Giants, who lost both ends of a doubleheader yesterday 7-2 and 6-0 and stumbled into the cellar.

In the first game Rube Milton pitched five-hit ball and in the second old Curt (Daniel Boone) Davis nearly treated the big week-day turnout of 27,887 paying customers to a no-hitter, going until two were out in the eighth inning before another veteran, Dick Bartell, tagged him for the Giants' first hit. Davis permitted another single in the ninth, but gave no walks.

The Cardinals were clipped by the Cincinnati Reds 3-3 with the St. Louis ace, Mort Cooper, pitched charged with his fourth defeat after being belted off the mound by a three-run fourth inning.

At Chicago the Cubs divided a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates to move out of last place for the first time since early May. Claude Passeau pitched a five-hitter to win the first game 4-1, but the Pirates battled back to take the nightcap 7-3.

The Boston Braves noosed out the Philadelphia Phillies twice 1-0 and 4-3 in a pair of air-tight pitching struggles.

The American league also produced some dazzling pitching, not the least of which was in a night game at Philadelphia as the Boston Red Sox beat the A's 1-0 on a four-inning home run by Leon Culbertson.

The New York Yankees and Washington Senators split a pair of shutouts to remain two games apart at the top of the standings.

Kal Newhouse limited the Cleveland Indians to five hits to win 3-1 in the first game of a doubleheader and then Cleveland captured the second 3-6 in 11 innings with a two-run homer by Jeff Heath in the final game spilling victory.

The Chicago White Sox advanced into sixth place by trimming the St. Louis Browns 4-3 with punched hits for a pair of two-run innings.

Californian Is Hot After Tennis Title

EVANSTOWN, Ill., June 24 (AP)—That likable rowdy from Southern California, frolicked Earl Cochell, now looks like the man who might give favored Francisco "Pancho" Segura his best scrap before the upper bracket singles winner is determined in the National Collegiate Athletic association tennis championships.

No one has come close to upsetting the nationally fourth ranking Easador native who plays for the University of Miami. Pancho defeated Walter Driver of Texas yesterday, 6-3, 6-2 to advance to the quarter finals while Cochell was moving ahead at the expense of the Big Ten champion, Roger Downs of Northwestern, 6-1, 6-4.

Segura was paired today with Wayne Anderson of Tulane, a 7-5, 8-4, 7-5 winner yesterday over Ben Fress of U. C. L. A., while Cochell was matched with big Robert Odman of Washington. Odman won yesterday from William Bauman of William and Mary, 6-4, 6-3.

Tom Brown, Jr., of California, seeded No. 2, still is the tower bracket favorite. A 4-6, 6-3, 6-0 winner yesterday over Bob Wasserman of Ohio State, Brown is matched today with Robert Kimbrell of Southern California, an 8-6, 6-2 victor over Robert Smidly of William and Mary.

Today's doubles pairings include: James Evert and Robert Faught, Notre Dame, vs. John Hickman and Walter Driver, Texas.

HANGARS TAKEN By Air To The Fighting Fronts
KANSAS CITY, June 24 (AP)—To the fighting fronts American transport planes now haul fabricated hangars—these insubstantial structures can erect in a jiffy, says Glen C. Speakman, sales manager for the Butler Manufacturing company.

The 32 tons of each hangar is packed in sections so compact that planes can deliver them o any front within hours, not days, after an order is placed, Speakman said.

A crew of 30 inexperienced soldiers on any of the fronts should be able to assemble a hangar swiftly, he said, providing a shelter 120 feet wide, 100 feet long, with a minimum ceiling clearance of 39 feet, and without pillars or supports to clutter the floor space.

Already in service are steel-framed, canvas-lined hangars of an earlier design made by the company.

The new wrinkle, Speakman explained, consists of thin steel planks bolted on the outside of the frame, providing an insulating air space between the steel and the canvas inside wall. It makes the hangars warmer in the north and cooler in the tropics.

The hangar, Speakman said, is just as moveable as a circus tent—and no poles to put up!

Stan Musial Out For Hitting Title

By OSCAR KAHEN
AP Features

ST. LOUIS—Stanley Frank Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, is walloping the ball at a pace that may make him the National League's batting champion because he's a smart player who profits from experience.

"I think a lot of my job and I think a lot about my job," Musial said.

That statement may come as a shock to the skeptic who believes a strong back and a weak mind are the necessary factors for success in baseball. Strength is required and young Musial is proof that intelligence counts, too.

Take the left-handed slugger's experiences in the Polo Grounds in New York as a case in point.

Last season, in running up a batting average of .318, he got only five hits in 21 times at the plate in the Giants' home field, a feeble percentage of .333.

"I mulled over those games in New York and I figured out the trouble," Musial said. "The short right-field at the Polo Grounds was a temptation and I used to pull every pitch. Now I ignore the wall and hit straight away."

As a result, in his first four games in New York this year, he smashed out nine hits in 19 times at bat for a lustrous average of .473.

Musial is not only pounding the ball hard but he's a terrific beater in the jinx that causes many freshmen stars to become sophomore busts.

One reason for the first-year feat, second-year fame is that the pitchers catch up with some of the youngsters by the time their sophomore season rolls around. For Musial always had confidence in

STANLEY FRANK MUSIAL

Musial, the reverse is true. He's using his experience to catch up with some of the pitchers.

"I don't keep any written records," he said, "but I have a pretty good idea in my head of every pitcher in the league. I know just how each pitcher throws and what he has on the ball. That helps a lot in batting."

Musial always had confidence in his ability to hit, even when he was a pitcher of stellar promise at the start of his baseball career. He was used frequently in the outfield. A shoulder injury, suffered when he attempted a shoestring catch, ended his pitching days in 1940.

Converted into an outfielder, he started the 1941 season with Springfield, Mo., and batted .378. Stepping up to Rochester the latter part of the year, he hit .328 and be fin-

Poison Gas Defense Plans Are Set Up

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—A staff of poison gas spotters has been recruited, it was disclosed today, to collect samples in the event of an enemy air attack and speed them to laboratories for quick identification so that counter remedies can be applied to the civilian population.

They will turn over the samples—which could be objects contaminated by the gas—to army unit gas officers. Six laboratories have been set up at strategic points for quick analysis.

lashed the season by batting .429 in 12 games with the Cardinals.

Manager Billy Southworth used Musial only against right-handed pitchers last year but this season he is proving he can hit southpaws with equal effectiveness.

"I'd like to win the batting championship," Musial said. "With Emos Slaughter, Pete Reiser and other good hitters gone, I think I have a chance."

Sgt. Arnold's Body Arrives

The body of 8-Sgt. Harbert (Freddie) Arnold, who was killed early Sunday in an air plane crash near Albany, arrived Thursday at the Eberly funeral home with 8-Sgt. Joe Robert Myers as the official escort from the Del Rio air base where Arnold was stationed.

Two officers and two other enlisted men were killed in the accident of a Laughlin army medium bomber which was on a routine flight near Albany Sunday morning. Arnold, born Sept. 29, 1920 in Jones County, attended the Big Spring high school and joined the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1939. He was a member of the unit for two years and later joined the army.

He was one of seven sons Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have sent in the U. S. army and was originally stationed with the 358th school squadron at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo before transferring to Del Rio.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. H. C. Arnold of Del Rio; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Arnold of Big Spring; six brothers, Sgt. C. C. Arnold, Pvt. D. G. Arnold, T-Sgt. E. L. Arnold, overseas, Pvt. W. B. Arnold, 8-Sgt. A. D. Arnold and Pvt. W. N. Arnold.

have to pay up as high as $8 a package for them, which is the price that has been quoted in India.

They're rationed through army post exchange facilities, and there's a shortage in all war theaters, all the time.

To help overcome it, Americans at home are building up "Smokes for Soldiers" funds to get the cigarettes to the boys, and the local American Legion post is assuming sponsorship of a drive which is to start in Big Spring soon.

Through arrangements with American cigarette manufacturers, a 5-cent contribution will buy a pack for a soldier; 50c will buy a carton; $25 will buy a case, and on purchases of that much and more, special stickers will be attached to packages advising the soldiers as to the donor.

Board To Check Pleasure Driving To Save Tires

Acting in response to OPA warnings that the immediate outlook for rubber is indeed dark, the combined gasoline and tire panels of the Howard county rationing board Thursday threatened to crack down on pleasure driving by supplemental card holders.

Moreover, said Sam Goldman, chairman of the gasoline panel, the gasoline board is going to be more exacting in granting these supplemental cards and even more stringent in passing on requests for "special" allotments.

"We are going to give special attention to pleasure driving," promised Goldman. "Cars with supplemental cards found at honky-tonks, going on fishing trips, etc. may be in line for a cancellation of all coupons."

Requests for "specials" (such as emergencies, moving from one city to another, etc.) will be directed first to the OPA office here and then passed upon by a member of the board.

Bombings

were heard over Folkstone, winging toward northern France and Belgium.

Official air sources declined to speculate on whether the successful trial trips across Europe could be accepted as a pattern for the future.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's attack on Tokyo was a partial application of the principle in that the U. S. bombers took off from a carrier and landed in China.

The RAF test aroused speculation as to whether the U. S. air forces might stage similar raids. The range of the Flying Fortresses and Liberators would make such runs possible at least across France to North Italy.

Officially described only as "several squadrons"—which means at least several dozen—planes—the Lancaster force was strong enough to ravage three acres of the important radio location equipment plant in the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen and also to severely damage the Maybach Werke Motor plant on the way out.

On the return trip the docks at La Spezia were bombed accurately, the communique said, and stores of oil set afire.

Follow The Nutrition Yardstick

If you do, you'll feel better, look better and keep your youth longer. If you don't, you may keep going reasonably well but you'll never know what you missed. Or you may not even keep going so well. Group I, those green and yellow vegetables. If your eyes get red and inflamed easily, more of these will help the situation. If they don't, there's no use inviting this kind of trouble, and others, by skipping your carrots, peas, green beans and such.

Cantaloupes, now coming into the markets, are good for Vitamin C. Just like those citrus fruits and tomatoes in Group II. This food group is so important to keep you from getting tired too easily, to keep your bones and teeth tough and sturdy. But you can't store it from day to day. It's EVERY day or you'll start slipping.

Group III is easy. It's any other vegetables and fruits you haven't already checked off in the first two groups. Potatoes, apples, onions, beets—take your pick and go, fortified.

Almost any part of your very complicated body—teeth, eyes, bones, blood, fingernails, nerves—and the strength to keep fighting this war—get a boost from milk. Drink it plain, in cocoa, soup, pudding... however you like. But give yourself a break by absorbing a pint of Group IV every day.

Eat some meat, fish or eggs every day to repair that part of you that wears out from the strain of working or just living. That's Group V, for protein, and if there's a meat, fish and egg shortage in your store or your pantry, eat peanuts and dried peas or beans.

You'll likely get Group VI (whole grains or enriched cereals or bread) and Group VII (butter or fortified margarine) without noticing them, unless you are worrying about your weight. Even if you are, don't cut them out entirely. Chances are, you're working too hard right now to get fat on a couple of slices of bread and butter per day, unless you're absent-mindedly exceeding your personal sugar ration.

No, you can't eat your way out of a broken leg but you can do a lot toward keeping your teeth in, your eyes bright and your spirits up.

Make Variety The Keynote In Preparation Of Summer Salads

(Official news of rationing, nutrition and other war programs affecting the home and kitchen, prepared by the Regional Office of War Information.)

Plenty of salads make brighter meals; are among the best ways to score on the nutrition "musts", and frequently save work for the meal-fixer. But do use imagination and variety, to keep your family happy.

Even though salad oil is rationed, you will find homemade French dressing invaluable. Change it for different salads, different meals, by some of these variations. All suggestions are for a basic one-half cup of your own French dressing, mixed with lemon juice instead of vinegar, for more Vitamin C.

For green salad—add one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, three tablespoons tomato juice and three tablespoons diced onions.

For cole slaw—add one-fourth cup chopped ripe or stuffed olives.

For fruit salad—add two tablespoons chopped mint leaves.

For vegetable salad—add one-half can tomato soup, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoon grated onion.

GREASE IN HITLER'S EYE
 If you're one of the 17 women in every 100 who regularly save kitchen fats for re-use but hadn't planned to turn them in to the butcher for war purposes, your local salvage committee would probably like a word with you. This is the message they want you to get: when those fats are no longer usable for cooking purposes, they're still can help make glycerine, so urgently needed for fighting the war.

Another thing—don't be discouraged from doing your bit in this important salvage campaign because it takes a long time to collect a pound of kitchen fat. You don't have to collect a pound before hurry it down to the butcher shop, unless you mean to sell it to him.

MIX 'EM UP
 Sometimes a too-generous single crop from your Victory garden becomes monotonous. Try varying the looks of the plate by mixing up vegetables. Many of them cook deliciously in combination.

New potatoes and green beans are standard. But try together also peas and carrots; potatoes, carrots and onions; corn and lima beans; tomatoes with lima beans with corn, with okra, with eggplant.

BUTTER-SAVER
 While the war effort needs all the waste fat you can salvage from the kitchen, you're not asked to turn in what you can use in cooking. A little left-over bacon drippings and flavor and save butter when you add them to string beans, limas, dried peas and beans, cooked greens, scalloped potatoes.

USEFUL WEINERS
 Don't ignore the frankfurter. Low in price and point value, it becomes a special dish when split, drowned, and heated in home-mixed barbecue sauce. Or skip the sauce and heat frankfurters in the same skillet in which you are lightly frying onions. For an entirely different flavor, substitute apples for onions in the skillet.

Frankfurters also go a long way when cut up into a casserole of cooked macaroni. Mix in bouillon-cube gravy or a few juicy tomatoes and sliced onions; then a few minutes in a hot oven completes the tasty dish.

How To Keep Down Food Bill

If you're interested—and who isn't—in helping to hold food prices in line with OPA ceilings, here is a simple routine to follow whenever you go grocery shopping. You may have cut out the list of top legal prices from your newspaper, and if you did, be sure to take it with you. However, if the paper got away from you before you had a chance to clip it, you still can check by the prices posted in your store.

Retailers must display their ceiling prices. If they don't write your local ration board about it. And if you're overcharged, get an itemized sales slip and mail it to the board. Willful violators of OPA regulations are subject to jail sentences and heavy fines. The chances are, though, that your grocer is as willing to cooperate with OPA rules as you are, and a reminder from you may be enough to bring him into line.

HOWARD IN LONDON
 LONDON, June 24, (AP)—Roy W. Howard, president and editor of the New York World-Telegram, has reached London for a brief visit. It was disclosed today. The publisher made the trip on the same plane as Lord Beaverbrook and W. Averell Harriman, American lend-lease expeditors in England yesterday.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"
 Without Painful Backache
 Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffing under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with "stinging and burning" sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Club Women Find Work, Income As Paper Hangers

Home demonstration club member of the Brown club, Martin county, have found a way to help the labor shortage and at the same time swell the club treasury. They have become expert paper hangers and have had so many calls for work that they could paper indefinitely if their home work and farm jobs did not claim first attention, according to Fern Hodge, county home demonstration agent.

The Brown club first started paper hanging when members of the club needed help in papering rooms in their own homes. In 1942, the club was short of funds and Mrs. R. C. Stocks, president, suggested that the club bid on the job of papering the school teachers.

The group got the job and has been busy ever since. Early this year the women learned of an apartment in Big Spring that needed papering. When the job was completed, word of the club's work spread and the women received other jobs, including the papering of a six-room house. The treasury boasts $80 as a result.

The women, who guarantee their work, go about the task systematically, dividing the group into trimmers and cutters, "pasters," and hangers. One member puts on all the final touches. They are so expert now that the six-room house was papered in nine hours and the ceiling paper was hung in the last two rooms in 35 minutes per room.

Right now, with food preservation work in full swing, Brown club members have discontinued their papering except in their own homes, but as soon as canning season is over they probably will be ready to gather their paste buckets, ladders and scissors for more paper hanging jobs.

Baked apples stuffed with rice and salted peanuts, lightly sweetened with honey or corn syrup are grand for dessert. Serve warm or cold, plain or with cream.

Use the water, drained from cooking vegetables, in sauces, soups or stews. Cool and store the stock in covered jar in refrigerator.

Eat Salads—And Like 'Em!....

By Mrs. Alexander George (P) Food Editor

One good way to make your family want to eat the nutritious foods they ought to eat is to have a tempting main-dish salad. Fresh vegetables coming into the markets or coming up in Victory gardens now provide plenty of taste-enticing and vitamin-rich ingredients for a variety of salads. A main dish salad saves ration stamps besides eliminating a lot of cooking fuss and fuel for the busy housemaker.

First pickings from the garden are just right for JUMBLE SALAD BOWL. To serve 4 or 5, mix together 1 cup thinly sliced fresh radishes, 1-3 cup sliced spring onions, 2 cups diced cooked asparagus, 1-3 cups shredded lettuce, 1-3 cup salted peanuts and 1-4 cup French dressing. Chill for an hour or longer. Press 3 cups cottage cheese (rather thick) into

Picnic Potato Salad
4 to 5 cups diced cooked potatoes
1-2 cup sliced scallions
3-4 cup diced celery
2 sliced cooked frankfurters

Some Answers To Garden Problems

Many Victory gardeners are inquiring why tomato plants are shedding blossoms and developing blossom-end rot. . . . And housewives are asking why pinto beans do not always cook soft.

In areas where hot, dry weather prevailed at blossoming time, incomplete pollination resulted in shedding of tomato blossoms. Later blossoms no doubt will result in setting fruit on healthy plants. Blossom-end rot usually is detected when the fruit is about the size of a marble or a 50-cent piece. The fruit should be removed from the vine. As spraying does little, if any good, the most practical remedy is to keep the soil well supplied with moisture for the remainder of the fruiting season. This disease usually develops under hot-and-dry-today-rainy-tomorrow weather conditions. Gardeners shouldn't give way to discouragement under these troubles, but should help the plants by providing uniform moisture for the remainder of the growing season.

Now the beans! It has been discovered that the way pinto beans are handled in the field is responsible for the way they cook. If left on the plants until the plants mature and die they will be tough and hard when cooked. The beans should be left on the plants until the pods begin to turn brown, but with the plant foliage still green. Plants then should be pulled and placed in small stacks for three or four days to dry. The beans then can be picked off or run through a thresher. After shelling they may be placed in 50-pound cans or tight bags to prevent weevil damage.

All Registered Farm Workers 'Booked Up'

All of the 210 farm workers registered with the US Employment Service are now employed and are booked up through July 1, it was reported by the extension service agricultural employment service today.

There may be a few workers in Big Spring who are not registered who will be available, but even so it appears that there will be a shortage of near 200 workers for one period, June 25 to July 4.

All requests for farm labor should be registered at the county agent's office henceforth. Mrs. Charles Pruitt has been named as labor clerk and will specialize on this work.

Similarly, all persons who can and will do farm or ranch work, are urged to register at the agent's office.

No effort will be made to recruit high school youths until farmers say they will use them, and farmers were asked to indicate whether they can use inexperienced help when they register their labor requirements.

Standardization To The Nth Degree

For some time it has been apparent that, in order to obtain a maximum of civilian commodities from a minimum of material and plant and manpower, it will be necessary to institute a program of standardization that may go far beyond the tentative steps already taken.

War Mobilization Chief James F. Byrnes is supposed to be working on such plans. The publication PM, which maintains intimate contact with many of the leftist elements in Washington, prints what it says will be the elements of standardization. They are:

- "Elimination of brand names on all commodities."
- "Elimination of trade marks."
- "Ruthless curtailment of varieties in all products."
- "Standard grades and styles in very limited numbers."
- "Standard prices."

PM's article begins to lay the groundwork for a publicity campaign which will endeavor to put across this planned economy. The keynote, as you must have guessed, will be the charge that all opposition is based upon selfish economic motives and plays into the hands of the Axis.

We have no doubt at all that the plan-a-better-world shock troops in Washington, who for years have been trying to kill brand names and trade marks by every stratagem, are preparing such proposals and will try to foist them upon Mr. Byrnes.

Knowing quite a bit about publicity methods, we have no doubt that this story is a trail balloon designed to test the strength, the alertness, the skill and the location of the opposition to unnecessary ideological phases of this program, which are the two first enumerated.

If those proposals ever reach the open, we shall oppose them. We shall express our opposition regardless of the fact that, because of the advertising of brand names and trade marks helps to finance publication of this newspaper, we shall be accused of selfish motives.

Competition among manufacturers and merchants, based upon brand names and trade marks, has given Anglo-Saxons the highest standards of living this world has ever seen—both by creating employment and by making that employment produce an ever-greater quantity and quality of consumer goods.

We believe in an economy of plenty, not one of scarcity. We shall fight for such an economy—pleased that it makes possible the maintenance of a free press, and refusing to be frightened off by innuendo or epithets.

Ickes Proving Himself Valuable In War Effort

WASHINGTON—It's a bout time we devoted more than a passing mention to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Something has happened to this one-time bull's-eye of the New Deal. How long has it been since you have heard the derisive epithets, "the Great Ick," "Horrendous Hal," "the New Deal Hatchet Man," "the Sourpuss Secretary," or "the Great Grouch" hurled at him? A good long while, certainly—and there's a reason. I don't mean that there's any move on to defy Ickes. If there were, the "old Curmudgeon," as he likes to refer to himself, would be the first to quash it. He surpasses them a saint. But his words in the council of the mighty are carrying a new weight these wartime days.

Ickes has been righter than a rabbit about a good many things vital to our war effort. It has been a long while since he brought down the wrath of a lot of people when he got bullheaded and told the Germans he wouldn't sell them a cubic inch of our precious helium. So what? So now lighter-than-aircraft are developing as one of our greatest weapons against the U-Boats.

His fight to develop hydro-electric power reached its climax when Grand Coulee was nicknamed "Ickes's Folly." The nation laughed, but Mr. Grump reloaded his guns and kept right on firing until both projects at Bonneville and Grand Coulee were operating. Ask any engineer's office boy today war production would be without the hydro-electric work of Ickes's Bureau of Mines and Geological Survey in developments of the last decade. The development of mining and processing of metals is a good, fat book in itself.

When he started bellowing about prospective oil and gasoline shortages in the east, many critics dubbed it "Ickes's private oil and gas shortage."

Now he is emerging as the great mediator in the coal strike situation. Twice he persuaded John L. Lewis to avoid a showdown by sending his United Mine workers back to the mines while contract negotiations were continued. Some say that this bol on the back of war production should be allowed to come to a head. That question can be argued, but don't misunderstand Ickes's part in it.

Through his bituminous coal division and administration of the laws under which it functions, Ickes has had ten years' experience with both operators and miners. He knows their problems and it's significant that he hasn't leaned one way or the other in this row and apparently has continued. Some say that this bol on the back of war production should be allowed to come to a head. That question can be argued, but don't misunderstand Ickes's part in it.

THEY CALL IT PACIFIC

Chapter 22
I remember, especially, Captain Arthur Wermuth of the 57th Filipino Scouts and Corporal "Jock" Jacob, who was Wermuth's partner. Wermuth was already a legend among our forces by the time early February when I tracked him down during those moping-up operations against the Japanese landings on the west coast. A few days before, in similar fighting, he had been shot through the chest, the bullet just missing his lung and coming out through his back. Jock had been shot at the same time, but the 6-foot 2-inch corporal had put Wermuth on his back and carried him out of range of the Jap machine guns.

Wermuth was tough and competent, a veteran of life outdoors. All his life he had spread conventions and looked for adventure. Many times his dislike of stifling forms and customs had got him into trouble, but now, in war, he had come into his own. I had difficulty getting him to tell me his story but when he finally did, checking his diary as he went along and occasionally calling over one of his Scouts to refresh his memory, I remarked, "Art, I'm going to call you our 'one-man army!'"

The Scouts had followed Wermuth on a score of epic feats of reconnaissance: the burning of Samar; an anti-Jap "suicide" detail in which the Scouts cut out three hundred Japs who had infiltrated our lines and tied themselves in trees; a scouting trip on which Wermuth alone killed thirty Japs with his tommy gun; several daring patrols behind Jap lines where Wermuth captured prisoners and brought them back alive; an attack with hand grenades on a hidden Jap machine gun which had cut down three Marines who went to the front lines with Wermuth in search of excitement.

To the Scouts, Wermuth was a symbol of American boldness and resourcefulness. He told them, repeatedly, and he believed himself, that help was coming; help in sufficient quantities to turn the tide and enable them to drive the Japs from their homeland and return to the families with, of necessity, they had left behind in Manila or in their native villages, at the mercy of the Japs.

As we sat in the woods that night and talked Wermuth told me: "You know, I've been lucky. Three wounds and still walking around. I wouldn't mind being killed, but the one thing I hate to think about is capture. If there is any way to avoid it I will never be taken prisoner as long as I can shoot."

Ten months later the name of Captain Arthur Wermuth was on a list of prisoners published by the Japs. Apparently, when the end came in Bataan, he had nothing left with which to shoot. Every minute of imprisonment must be a lifetime of torture for him.

Another fighter like Wermuth, another one-man army, was Lieutenant Roland G. Saulnier of New Bedford, Massachusetts. Everybody along this sector of the western Bataan front knew "Lieutenant Franchy." Franchy's parents were French-Canadians and he spoke English like a character in a play on French-Canadians. When the war started he was a private in the army at Manila, in charge of pigeons. In the early fighting in Bataan he suddenly found himself the only American with a battalion of Filipino troops and he took command. For a few days he was scared stiff, but then he discovered that he enjoyed fighting, had a talent for it. He nursed his Filipino youngsters along as a mother pigeon would her flock, slapping them on the back, running to help in response to their frantic cries of "Franchy! Those damn Japs are attacking!" He stopped the Japs cold along this sector of the front, fighting with machine guns, hand grenades, pistol, rifle and bayonet. And Franchy, too, assured his young Filipinos that help was on the way.

There were the boys of New Mexico's 200th, whom I met the second night of the war and whom I visited on Bataan whenever possible to swap yarns and stories of our experiences. They quickly changed from green youngsters to experienced, resourceful, anti-aircraft experts. Their physical appearance also changed, shockingly, from the husky, healthy youngsters of Manila to thin, sickly men with deep-lined faces. Just before I left Bataan, I went over to see Sergeant Joe Smith and the other boys of Battery F. I wrote a story about them and months later, through an editorial in their home town paper, I learned that to many people in the United States, also, the Battle of Bataan was not remote but highly intimate and personal.

The editorial in the Carlsbad Current-Argus, written by Managing Editor Kenneth L. Dixon and entitled "Letter to Lee," said in part: "Yesterday, we carried your story about your visit to the Carlsbad boys of 'first in spite of hell' Battery F. You said all of them were alive and well. You said they

Capital Comment — Gossett Wants Parity For Chinese

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herold Washington Correspondent

We've been having a lot of hot, muggy, sticky weather here lately in Washington; not very conducive to writing pieces for the papers, or anything else for that matter.

I'm sure his multitude of friends in Texas will be pleased to know that Col. Myron Blacklock of Marshall, is steadily recovering from his long illness; he has already left the Walter Reed Hospital to visit his apartment in Washington and hopes before long to go to Texas to recuperate. Col. Blacklock, Texas democratic national committee member, entered active service with the 26th division as finance officer when it was federalized in the fall of 1940; his first assignment in Washington was with the Services of Supply; last November he was transferred to the petroleum division of the war department and promoted to full colonel; he is one of the most loved men in the Texas group in Washington and his many friends here wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

"Rural America is God's golden creation for us," said the Texas congressman Wright Patman.

Earl Clark of Breckenridge, former Texas Christian university football star and coach of Midland high school, is now an instructor in the machine-gun school for F.B.I. agents at Quantico in Virginia; has been a G-man since last fall; is a brother in State Representative Lester Clark of Breckenridge.

Dr. Harmon Lowman, president of Sam Houston Teachers' college at Huntsville, happened to be in Corpus Christi the day President Roosevelt, President Canacho and their parties visited the great naval air base near there. A lady who was present told Dr. Lowman the following story: When the automobile carrying Mrs. Roosevelt approached one of the office buildings in "The Base," there were several young women employees gathered at an upstairs window. Purely in a spirit of fun and banter, one of them exclaimed: "Oh, there comes Eleanor. She and I are such good friends. I'm thrilled to see her, and I know she'll be thrilled to see me." Then, to continue the play, she leaned forward and called in a voice she did not think Mrs. Roosevelt would hear: "Hi, there, Eleanor! But the first lady heard her and quickly looking up, waved a hand and called back with a smile: "Hi, there, Girlie!"

Many correspondents here are feeling kind of blue because they have given up hope of ever hearing again from Kenneth Stonehouse, Washington correspondent of Reuters, and his popular wife, both of whom appear to have lost their lives when the British transport plane was shot down by the Nazis on its way from Lisbon to London three weeks ago.

Congressman Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, says his bill to repeal the Chinese exclusion laws and to put China on an equal footing with all other nations whose nationals are permitted to migrate to the United States "is not a bill to lower immigration barriers or to let in more immigrants"; declares he favors tightening up restrictions on immigrants from all nations, thinks we should admit fewer people to this country; his bill is designed simply to place our Chinese friends on a parity with other foreign nations friendly to us.

"In her propaganda campaign of Asia for Asiatics," says Gossett, "the Japanese have had two potent weapons, both of which we have placed in their hands; the first was extra-territoriality, which our state department wisely abrogated several months ago; the second is Chinese exclusion, which can be abrogated only by act of Congress!"

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Cornelia Otis Skinner Is Having A Go At Movies

By ROBBEN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Cornelia Otis Skinner went crazy—"loud, soft, and medium"—as her introduction to movie acting. She still likes it. And she was still a little screen-frightened when she left for her eastern home, though not averse to repeating the experience.

"A first night in the theater is nothing to compare with having a close-up taken of you," she said. "On the stage, no matter how nervous you are, you can still move around. Here you have to toe those little black tape marks they stick on the floor to mark your place, and I still haven't figured out how one sees them without looking down."

Miss Skinner is tall, handsome, patrician and dignified—not at all the misadventuring awkward soul her gay books lead you to expect. She sat erect in her chair in her studio dressing room, and for a while I thought she was just another magnificently deceiver—a comedy writer who was rather sad about it all. Sad, but a perfect lady withal.

It was disheartening, but only for a while. The thing was, she didn't lambast you with her humor. She didn't reach for it. It just crept out now and then, unexpectedly as a white mouse scurrying into a dark room. It was better that way.

We got to talking about "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," her book with Emily Kimbrough which brought her to Hollywood in the first place. Once they were here, her old friend Charlie Brackett, the producer, asked her to make a test, and when she was, on the train homeward bound he wired her to come back—to play Miss Holloway, the heavy, in "The Uninvited."

"I'd made one screen test some years ago," she said. "It was acid. I hadn't expected this one to be different. Once I was working I found it strange and interesting. My first scene was with Donald Crisp. Afterward, the director said 'Print it' and I wondered what that meant. From high above, on the catwalks, somebody called down, 'It's a lily.'"

"Mr. Crisp explained that meant, 'It's a wow.' Then the voice from above: 'I knew your father.' It gave me a nice, warm feeling to hear that."

Unlike "Young and Gay," Miss Skinner's next book will be a serious family history—of her father, Otis Skinner, her mother Maude Skinner, and herself. She said she hoped the girls cast to play her and Emily in the movie "Young and Gay" would not be conscious comedians—"we didn't think we were funny." She couldn't think of any actor who could play her father, and as for her mother—"she'd have to look like Gladys Cooper and act like Billie Burke."

"Young and Gay" was, as she said, "full of facts." It all happened including that night the young innocents spent in a French pleasure palace under the impression it was a refined inn.

President's Health Will Permit A Fourth Term, Authentic Sources Say

WASHINGTON, June 23, (AP)—Whether or not President Roosevelt's name is on the presidential ballot again in 1944, the chances are his health won't be the deciding factor.

That was the word today from D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well-informed capital observer who said that close associates of the president generally conceded that the 61-year-old chief executive could stand the strain of another campaign and term.

"You understand, of course," laughed D. C. mythical District of Columbia spokesman who represents authentic but unquotable sources, "that I'm not saying whether the president should or shouldn't run again or whether he will or won't win a fourth-term nomination—I know when to keep my big mouth shut."

"However," he added, "A lot of people have asked whether Mr. Roosevelt's health would permit him to make another presidential race, and right now it looks like it would."

Speaker stressed that the president has suffered no serious illnesses in the past year or so—has been ill less than during previous times, as a matter of fact.

"It's true that the strain of war is telling on him," D. C. said, "and that he isn't getting enough exercise. He's less inclined to walk even shorter distances than he used to be. And he hasn't been able to make his semi-annual trips to Warm Springs (Ga.) for rest and treatments."

But the President still is capable of throwing the day's troubles off his shoulders when the day is over, speaker said, adding that this capacity kept him going long after younger and more physical-fit men were worn out.

"In addition," speaker concluded, "he has—as you know—taken several trips of late and, contrary to popular belief, the trips pep him up rather than tire him. He shakes off routine and comes back relaxed."

dent Queson, small and intense. Most of the time he was in a wheel chair, gravely ill of a tubercular condition that was aggravated by the dusty air in Manila tunnel. While his aides pushed his wheel chair along, President Queson would talk warmly and spiritedly of the fight that the young Filipino soldiers were making. Frequently he had to cover his face with a handkerchief, while his slight body was shaken by coughs. He had told his people that they would have to learn to fight and die, and he was proud of the way they were learning.

Perhaps the man I shall remember longest, of those I knew in Bataan, was a Filipino. He was dead when I saw him, with a straight line of machine-gun holes across his chest. It was the same day that I met Wermuth, and some of Wermuth's Scouts Point to watch the first mopping up of the Japs there. Alongside the path through the jungle we saw the body of a Filipino in combat uniform. He had been killed while fighting off a score of Japs. Other Filipinos were digging a grave a few feet away. The face of the dead man looked familiar, and I asked his name.

"That is Sergeant Hilario Francisco, sir," one of the others answered. "Perhaps you knew him in Manila. He was frequently on duty at the Manila Hotel."

Then I remembered the night shortly before the war when an American woman had slapped the face of Sergeant Hilario Francisco and shouted at him, "You Filipinos are dirt."

I wished that she could have been there that afternoon, in Bataan, when his fellow Filipinos shoveled the dirt into Sergeant Hilario Francisco's newly dug grave.

Russians Active In Belgorod Sector

MOSCOW, June 24. (AP)—An assertion in the Soviet midnight communiqué that Russian units had struck at German defense lines west of Belgorod stirred the speculation of Moscow military observers today, since the town, on the lower-central part of the front, long has been in German hands.

Belgorod is 40 miles northeast of Kharkov, which also is held by the Germans.

Whether the reported Soviet action west of Belgorod means the Russians have captured it recently, without making any public announcement, or whether they merely slipped around the town for a quick thrust remains to be explained here.

Optional Wool Program Asked By Fisher

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Representative Fisher (D-Tex.) asked today that disposition of the 1943 wool clip through the government wool purchase program be made entirely optional with growers. He contended that present regulations were causing confusion and delay in the industry.

The program originally provided that growers could sell their new clip only to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). An order was issued June 11, however, amending the original regulations and providing that growers who sold directly to mills last year could again sell to mills, in quantities not to exceed amounts of 1942 contracts.

Fisher appealed for modification of existing regulations in a letter to Lawrence Myers, director of the General Crops Division of CCC. He declared that an erroneous impression prevails among a great part of the industry that the wool purchase program virtually was cancelled by the amending order of June 11.

Fisher said: "Unfortunately, sufficient stress was not given in the releases and other announcements to the fact that mills still can buy direct from growers no more wool than they bought from growers last year, and that no middleman whatsoever shall be a party to a 'direct purchase' provided for by your amendment."

"The amendment, I am confident, could not affect more than 10 per cent of the Texas clip as approximately 90 per cent of the clip generally is handled through public warehouses and similarly situated middlemen as considered in your explanation of the direct-purchase amendment."

Report Vichy Men Slain In Algiers

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. (Adv.)
