Who Pays Hospital Bills For Indigents?

By Ray Martin

Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles dealing with medical and hospital costs for indigents, this one from the hospitals' angle.

Joe Smith, a man in his 50's who has no family, recently had a heart attack, requiring sedation and oxygen. And intensive care in the hospital. Somebody had to pay the bill!

Oxygen, sedation, hospital rooms and intensive care cost money. Joe Smith had no money. He probably never will be able to work again. But what to do about those expensive needs of Joe Smith posed a problem. Joe landed in the hospital, of course, and the manager of the hospital has presented Joe's bill to the county. What disposition the county will make of the bill remains to be seen. As a matter of fact, three alternatives are open to the hospital in the case of the indigent:

1. The indigent's bill can be paid by the county.
2. The indigent can be sent to John Sealey hospital in Galveston, a hospital which is state supported, and handles hundreds of such cases.
3. Or the local hospitals can simply refuse to accept the patient in the first place.

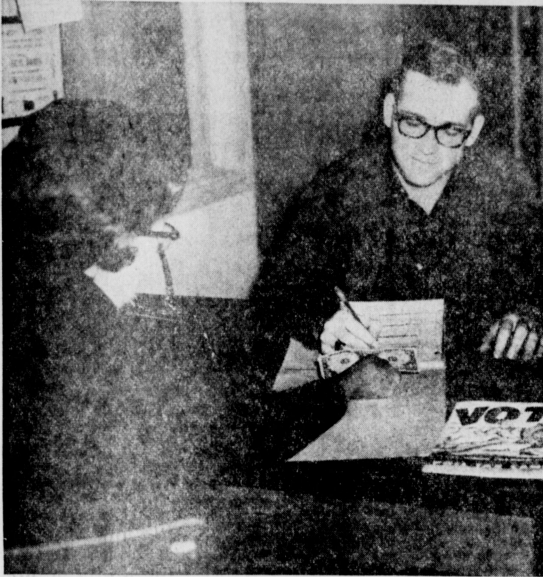

Of course we must hasten to explain that the third action is never resorted to, hospital officials say. Which means, says one hospital manager, "that we, the hospital, frequently stand the loss ourselves — not the county or the state. And that, of course, means that Mr. Average Man must pay the bill or the hospital would go broke."

Let's take another case pointed out by the hospital manager. This is the case of Tom Turners. Tom is a hard worker, but he has no education. He works every day but his take-home pay is never more than $150 a month. He is married and has four children.

Now a realistic appraisal of the situation would reveal that Tom can provide his family with a poor type shelter, some food and very poor clothes. And there would be utility bills. But there would be nothing left over for medicine, hospitals and doctor bills.

One hospital official said the county needs a welfare director "as step No. 1 in solving this increasing problem of who pays for the indigent's medical bill."

One business manager summed it up like this: "We must develop a program that will take care of the increasing problem of dealing with the unfortunate who, for one reason or another do not have money to pay their medical and hospital bills. We need a budget and we need a director of relief for EACH county. And both the budget and the director must be realistic."

Bailey county's 21 guns have turned out a total of 8,211 tickets of cotton for the 1965 growing season, a check by the Journal revealed. The Bailey County Electric Co. operative reported the 16 guns served by that organization turned out 72,678 holes. The other 15 guns had a total of 25,532 holes.

Three Muleshoe high school pupils were in Lubbock yesterday to try out for basketball. They include Neil Finley, Jan Landers and Jan Everett. Those picked at the Tech trials will go to Dallas Feb. 8-11 to try out for the 180 - 190 - member all-state band.

Farm Bureau membership drive will kick off at Holiday Inn East Tuesday to be followed by the statewide campaign slated for Feb. 7-12 inclusive. County membership chairman here is Adolph Wittner.

Building Cost $10 Square Foot, Schools State

Muleshoe's $921,258.28 school remodeling program has had its final accounting this past week, and Superintendent Neal Dillman sums up what the program "broke" for $10.25 per square foot of cost.

"And that," pointed out the superintendent, "is a pretty good figure for anybody's building program!"

Of this amount, $32,020.80 was spent in remodeling the old high school cafeteria and rooms in the junior high school.

DeShazo elementary school contained 39,132 square feet, the report shows, and total cost was $342,400.69.

The new high school cafeteria contains 11,452 square feet and cost $131,745. Junior high school gymnasium, one of the finest high school gyms in West Texas, contains 17,496 square feet and the structure cost $189,290.

Eight new junior high classrooms, containing 9,067 square feet, cost $107,080. The new vocational annex of the senior high building contains 10,561 square feet and cost $80,155.

This is a total of 87,708 square feet of floor space for a total new construction cost of $851,970.69. Add architect's fees of $47,256.79, and the total cost stands at $899,227.48. And from the above figures, Dillman arrived at the square foot cost of $10.25.

'Go-Go' Schedule Set By Merchants

"There won't be any merchant food-draggers during 1965, and everybody's going to have a job to do." That's the word — or the hope — of Harvey Bass, whose appointment is head of the county merchants' committee, "that every merchant will cooperate fully and that we can work together as a solid unit to put over the biggest retail program ever attempted in Muleshoe."

"We hope," said the head of the all-important merchants' committee, "that every merchant will cooperate fully and that we can work together as a solid unit to put over the biggest retail program ever attempted in Muleshoe."

Bass said he is planning "a number of activities" for the year, ranging all the way from February through Christmas. He called it "an explosion of activities for the Muleshoe trade territory."

Bass said he hadn't yet named his committee members, "but we need good men to head the various promotion activities," he explained, "so I'm taking my time in naming the committee members."

He said that one of the events planned for this year will be a "sidewalk jubilee sale," similar to those carried on successfully in several other area towns, including Hereford. That event, the merchandise will literally be moved onto the sidewalk for a whirlwind, one-day sale, and merchants and salesfolk will dress "old-fashioned."

There will also be a "parade type of sale — a moonlight moochers' sale which will be held, of course, at night."

One of the first of the big promotions, however, will be the George Washington birthday promotion to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

"And one of the things we are already planning is the big July 4 celebration with the retail trade program coming on July 1 and 2," Bass announced. "We already have our big July 4 celebration, and this year that event will come on Monday. Well, we figure a good time for a sales promotion will be on Friday and Saturday before the July 4 celebration."

And speaking of long-range plans, Bass said "it's already time to start planning for next Christmas' celebration. We don't want to wait until the last minute to plan any event, because we believe that the sooner events are planned, the better the program can be carried out. So, we think we ought to start planning our Christmas program right away."

Bass summed up with: "We want every merchant to help us put over a good sales promotion in Muleshoe throughout the year. We believe they will and we can have the biggest promotion in West Texas. Anyway, everything is 'go-go'."

Elections Called For City, Schools

John Q. Public is going to the polls this year in "consistently greater numbers" than in several years. This was indicated Friday by the "substantially larger numbers" of persons who have paid their 1965 poll taxes and thus have become eligible to vote in ALL elections this year.

A check of Tax Assessor-Collector Jean Lovelady's office Saturday revealed a total of 1800 or more persons had paid poll taxes despite the fact that there is a possibility that poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in Texas elections will be "blocked out" by federal court action between now and the first election day.

However, voters, just to be on the safe side, have been paying their poll taxes "like clockwork," with several agencies joining in to boost the sale. The chamber of commerce stamped the territory this past week to sell receipts. Saturday the Muleshoe Jaycees were down town in force, pushing the sale of poll taxes at a dozen different spots (see picture at top of page.)

The Jaycees also will sell the receipts tomorrow, clear on up until midnight Monday, the deadline for issuing poll tax receipts.

Mrs. Lovelady says the greatest number here paying poll taxes has been 2500, add — See ELECTIONS, Page 5

New Barbiturate Curb Goes Into Effect Tuesday

Muleshoe druggists will be unable to fill prescriptions for amphetamine and barbiturate drugs more than five times from the same prescription in less than six months. The new ruling goes into effect nationally next Tuesday, Feb. 1.

After that date, the federal government will extend its controls over amphetamine and barbiturate drugs in an effort to curb the illicit traffic in these drugs not heretofore possible through state law alone. Starting next Tuesday, a system of controls over the complete flow and distribution of these drugs from manufacturer — See CURB, Page 5

Continued from Page One • To the ultimate consumer will help close leakage into illegal channels, it was explained. Manufacturers and wholesalers are required to register with the Food and Drug Administration and must account for all sales of drugs covered under the Drug Abuse Control Amendments passed by the 89th Congress. Manufacturers and wholesalers may make sales only to those authorized to possess these drugs — pharmacies, hospitals, physicians and registered wholesalers.

Although the major controls of this law are directed at cutting off the large supplies of amphetamines and barbiturates flowing through channels outside the health professions, restrictions are imposed on the legitimate flow of these drugs in order to control their distribution as completely as possible. So that on February 1, the legitimate market being treated with these drugs will begin to notice these restrictions.

Your physician can authorize your pharmacist to refill these drugs only up to five times of a six month period of time. New prescriptions is then required.

Amphetamines have wide application in medical practice. They are prescribed frequently by physicians to assist patients who are seriously overweight.

To relieve mild depression and to treat narcolepsy, a disease characterized by uncontrollable sleeping spells.

Amphetamines sometimes are taken in excessive doses by emotionally frustrated and unstable people seeking thrills.

Many of these abusers are younger people. Amphetamines are also misused by truck drivers and other whose jobs demand that they stay awake and alert for long periods of time.

Barbiturates are one of the most useful classes of drugs in medicine. They are valued for their ability to induce sleep or relieve tension.

Doctors frequently prescribe them to control convulsions (as in epilepsy), to increase the effects of pain-killers, and to reduce high blood pressure.

Drug abusers turn to barbiturates to remove themselves from the pressures of everyday living, often taking them with alcohol to magnify the effects and produce a "cheap drunk."

In addition to pharmaceuticals containing only amphetamines or barbiturates, combinations of these two classes of drugs with each other will be controlled under the Drug Abuse Law.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs has the authority to bring under these controls other stimulant and depressant drugs having a potential for abuse. Under consideration are 17 additional drugs, including some tranquilizers.

For the first time, FDA agents may be armed; may execute search warrants, and make arrests. The penalties for violations of this law are considerably stiffer than on previous amphetamine and barbiturate law violations.

Under the federal law, any one who sells amphetamines or barbiturates illegally to a minor will be liable to a $5,000 fine and two years imprisonment for the first offense and $15,000 fine and six years imprisonment for the second offense.

Teachers Here Hear National Teachers' Chief

The Lubbock County Unit of TSTA and Lubbock Classroom Teachers Association held a joint meeting Monday in the Lubbock Christian College Cafeteria.

Mrs. Juanita Avinger, Lubbock TSTA president, was mistress of ceremonies. Clay Henderson, Lubbock CTA program chairman, introduced Nat Williams, Superintendent of Lubbock Schools, who introduced the symposium speakers — Richard Batchelder, NEA president, Washington, D.C.; Miss Harriet Griffin, TSTA president, Fort Worth, and Miss Betty Buford, CTA president-elect, Plainview.

Batchelder is a housemaster (principal) in Newton, Mass. and is a direct and witty speaker. In discussing the NEA theme "Free to Teach", he stressed four goals to which teachers need to commit themselves if the profession is to be elevated:

(1) Teachers must be free from so many non-instructional duties

Steve Jones was in Slayton during the past weekend visiting with his parents. Steve attends Lazbuddie High School. He is helping his uncle and aunt, the Raymond Houstons.

Jane Birdstrawn has been employed at Pat's Beauty Shop in Lazbuddie.

Mrs. Harold Wilson, Wilcox, Ariz. was in the area a few days last week. Mrs. Wilson came to Muleshoe to be at the bedside of her father, M. L. Boern, a patient in the Green Memorial Hospital.

(2) Education must be adequately financed. The richness of our country must be tapped and spent where the children are.

(3) Teachers must have academic freedom. The process of education is like a two-edged sword; children must be free to learn and teachers must be free to teach.

(4) Teachers should participate in the profession and control areas which affect their competence. Richard Batchelder pointed out the many services which the NEA offers educators, namely, nationwide salary research, legislative representation, network TV and radio programs, speakers for professional meetings, educational travel, low-cost insurance, investment opportunities and defense of rights.

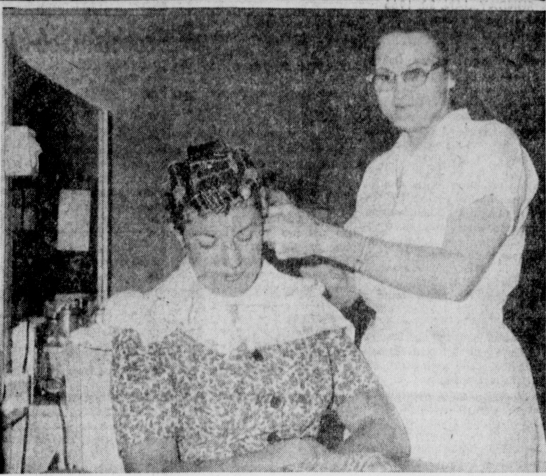

The three speakers showed the interdependence of each organization to make a united profession, yet that each professional organization is unique in its structure.

"Big corporations such as United States Steel and Standard Oil are continually conducting research to obtain quality products, so teachers must be constantly seeking methods and ideas to produce the highest quality in education," concluded Miss Griffin.

Those attending from Muleshoe were: Mrs. R. E. Everette, Mrs. James Jennings, Muleshoe TSTA president, Mrs. Willie McAlpin, Muleshoe CTA president, Mrs. Jack Beddingfield, CTA board member, and Mrs. John Watson.

New Soybean Stirs Interest In High Plains

HALFWAY — The new Patterson short-season variety of soybeans developed at the High Plains Research Foundation has aroused considerable interest throughout the North and South Plains as well as Oklahoma and New Mexico. The Patterson variety has performed well in extensive tests through the High Plains during the past four years. Foundation seed of this new variety will be distributed from the High Plains Research Foundation headquarters at Halfway, and from the B & B Grain Co. at Spearman.

The Patterson soybean variety was developed by Dr. Earl H. Collister, Chief Agronomist and Director of the Foundation. Paul Belcher, Technician, and Berry Love, Agronomist, assisted in perfecting the Patterson variety.

The Patterson variety has the following desirable features for the High Plains area: (1) an additional cash crop; (2) a catch crop in case of hail or blowout too late in the season for replanting cotton or grain sorghum; and (3) a means of double cropping the land by planting this variety after wheat, then going back to wheat in the fall after harvest.

The Patterson bean matures in 105 days if planted after

It fruits around four inches above the ground, and has considerable shattering resistance. Its early maturing characteristics promises a saving in water for the farmers, usually with one less irrigation. Another feature of the Patterson is its bland taste, which makes it most desirable for human consumption and should have an appeal to the Foreign Trade which desires this type bean.

Now, the wave is completely concealed after the hair style, yet it is strong enough to hold the design each week say the hair dressers at this shop.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, under the laws of the State of Texas, all citizens desiring to vote in elections held in the year 1966 must qualify by paying the poll tax or obtaining a certificate of exemption from the poll tax by January 31, 1966; and

WHEREAS, it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to participate in the processes of self-government and preparing himself to vote; and

WHEREAS, our right to vote is the most basic of our constitutional freedoms, secured in battle by our forefathers and defended in every generation by brave men willing to shed their blood to protect this right, which is the cornerstone of our liberties and is now under attack by a ruthless communistic society which has never permitted free elections; and

WHEREAS, the wildest possible participation in elections is a proud sign of civic health and of a citizenry dedicated to the defense and the exercise of our American way of life.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of the City of Muleshoe, urge that all our citizens who are eligible to vote proceed promptly to pay their poll taxes or obtain their certificates of exemption in order that they may be qualified to vote. A people who does not exercise their rights stand in danger of losing them. I hope, therefore, that every eligible citizen of the City of Muleshoe will be a qualified voter and will cast his vote in 1966.

Wilbur LeVaque
Mayor, City of Muleshoe
