36th Texas Division To Hold Brownwood Reunion Jan. 19-21

Brownwood, Texas.—The first reunion of men of the famed 36th Infantry Division, the "Texas Division" which invaded Hitler Europe at Salerno, fought through the rugged mountains of the interior of Italy, and pushed the Nazis back through France, Germany and Austria, will be held in Brownwood January 19-21.

All former members of the 36th Division—and that includes veterans of the World War I Division—are invited to attend the reunion by officials of the 36th Division Association and by the City of Brownwood and the Brownwood chamber of commerce.

Highlights of the three-day reunion include a street parade in downtown Brownwood, memorial services for 36th Division men killed in action, several dances, business sessions and general get-togethers of the Texas soldiers.

Sunday afternoon, January 20, Governor Coke R. Stevenson will dedicate the 36th Division State Park at nearby Lake Brownwood. Major General Fred L. Walker, wartime commander of the 36th, will accept the park on behalf of division veterans.

Numerous state and national dignitaries, including high-ranking War Department officers, will attend the reunion.

Persons planning to attend the reunion should write or wire for hotel, tourist court or private home room reservations to the Brownwood Hotel as soon as possible. Only reservations for double rooms at hotels can be accepted. Single men can, in an emergency, be accommodated at Camp Bowie.

The program can be heard in Texas over KGNC, Amarillo, WFAA, Dallas, KPRC, Houston, WOAI, San Antonio, at 7:30 a. m. and over KWRU, Corpus Christi, 8:30 a. m.

a fine, balmy day in JULY

IT'S a fine, balmy day in July—outside, of course. But in the cold room at the John Deere Tractor Works, the thermometer reading was ten below zero when this picture was taken. Humidity can be regulated in this cold room, too. And, if tests require a wind, anything from a gentle zephyr to a howling gale of 40 miles per hour can be created.

Creating their own weather conditions enables John Deere engineers to test ideas and conduct experiments that are of vital importance to the John Deere owner. Here it is possible to check and recheck, adjust and re-adjust until there is no doubt as to the performance of a John Deere under extreme weather conditions.

Of first importance is the matter of lubrication when the motor is cold. Will there be residual lubrication enough to protect gears and operating parts until the cold oil in the crankcase is heated enough to circulate freely?

Add this phase of John Deere research to all the other tests and trials conducted by the planning and experimental departments, and the answer is simple—nothing is left to chance or theory. All the ingenuity and experience of trained engineers have been brought to bear on the main objective—to turn out a tractor that will operate successfully under all conditions and give a maximum of economical, dependable service to the farmer.

There is no substitute for the accumulated experience gained through more than a hundred years of single-minded devotion to the manufacture of better farm implements.

TEXAS STATE GUARD NEWS, COMPANY C—10th Bn., MORAN

Greetings!! Yes this is your Company C, "Newshawk," and back on the job, starting the New Year with an important announcement concerning the local unit of the Texas State Guard. We closed out a very successful year in 1945, and are looking forward to an even better year in 1946. Captain George McCargo stated Tuesday night that plans were practically complete for the Company C Rifle Club, which will soon become a reality. He said that, first of all, each and every contestant would be required to know how to shoot, so a sighting bar has been procured, with which to learn how to sight. The Captain further stated that there is plenty of ammunition on hand at the Armory for this purpose, for all kinds of rifle work. The contest will be arranged in the form of a tournament, with the probable starting line-up as follows:

- Captain McCargo vs. 1st Sgt. Pettit.
- Lt. Booth vs. Lt. McCollum.
- S. Sgt. Jim Parrish vs. S. Sgt. Elmer Jones.
- S. Sgt. H. W. Brooks vs. S. Sgt. John Alexander.
- Sgt. Roy Newton vs. Sgt. Carroll Louder.
- Sgt. Tim Hamilton vs. Sgt. R. E. Weber.
- Sgt. Ed Moore vs. Sgt. Frank Midkiff.
- Sgt. John Henry vs. Sgt. Oscar Wise.

- Pvt. Harold Gardner vs. Pvt. H. W. Brooks Jr.
- Pvt. Edwin Lummus vs. Pvt. Carl Crawley.
- Pvt. Connie Alexander vs. Pvt. Eugene Anderson.
- Pfc. Jay G. Terry vs. Pvt. Riley Jones.

Like any other tournament, as a contestant is eliminated, those remaining in the race are regrouped, and face stiffer competition each time, until the opposing teams are narrowed down to a mere handful, or perhaps 2 or even 1. This rifle course promises to be by far one of the most interesting and educational events as well as essential, that any unit of the Texas State Guard has ever attempted. Any HE man likes to know how to shoot, so just find out who your opponent is, and get ready to "beat the heck" out of him. Now the first thing you have to do is to be in your place Tuesday night, January 15, as regular attendance is your first qualification. So come on—let's get started.

Yule Cards Chosen On 'Scientific' Basis

A bright high school girl has worked out a scheme for choosing Christmas cards that really seem to fit the recipient. First she figures out the pet likes and hobbies of the people on her list, and puts them down opposite their names—this way:

Auntie Agatha—kittens.
Johnny—ice skating.

This sort of gives her an idea of what kind of pictorial matter they'd like to see on their Christmas cards. Then for the extra special people like Mummie and Dad, and her brother in the Army, and her sister, and the nice pastor of her church, she underlines their names a couple of times which means that they get Christmas cards that say right on them—"Merry Christmas to Mother and Dad," "Hi Sis, it's Christmas," or "Christmas Greetings to My Pastor."

Then she looks for cards that will express her own personality, just as if she had written the verses herself. She thinks it's lots of fun reading through the cards, then suddenly like coming on one that's it. For example, she said that no matter how darling a card she saw with kittens, she wouldn't send it to Auntie Agatha unless the verse sounded as if she herself had written it.

The city has a force employed cutting a channel turning in about 100 acres more drainage in the City lake. With this additional drainage, there will be no doubt of Putnam's water supply for several years in the future. We had plenty of drainage if we could get hard rains as we did a few years ago. We only had two rains during 1945 that we caught much water. One of them the lake was filled about two feet and the other about 18 inches. The balance of water was caught just a few inches at a time. It is doubtful if the lake ever filled more than half full.

Mr. Mobley lives here among the Putnam people, and his work as commissioner on the roads and work accomplished among the members of the court is too well known to the voters for the writer to make any comment, further than to ask our readers to give Mr. Mobley every consideration before going to the polls to cast your vote at the Democratic primary in July.

Shopping Hangover

SHOPPING is hard work at best—hard on the feet and hard on the pocketbook. Stores are crowded with buyers, goods are still scarce, and bargains aren't always easy to find.

Except electricity! Lady, you don't have to stir one step outside your home to get a whopping big bargain in comfort and convenience—at low pre-war prices.

Electric service is always right at your fingertip—plentiful, dependable, ready 24 hours a day to lighten your household burdens and make your way of living more pleasant.

And it's cheap! As a matter of fact, the average family is getting just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

Yes, electric service is a rare household bargain. But not by accident. It's the result of the hard work and experience of the men and women in your company.
