WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and innocent and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It sits in your stomach. Your bowels are constipated. You feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See all drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

DON COSSACK RUSSIAN MALE CHORUS TO APPEAR HERE ON MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 21

The Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus, the sensation of the music world of three continents have been a staging unit since 1923, when the success of their first concert in Vienna started them on their world-wide odyssey. Today they travel on Nansen passes, which means that special passports must be made out for them with the phrase "en voyage" substituted in place of country. They are practically "men without a country," continually en voyage, their homeland a memory passionately cherished while they roam distant lands.

Undoubtedly that is why their singing casts a thrill on the hearer. One is moved by the passionate intensity of this secret longing. When they sing "The Homeland," it is not mere words—they are articulating or artistic interpretation that they are thinking of. Each man is singing his homeland. "I think upon the homeland, The wide and rolling plain; The distant fringe of mountains, The field of ripening grain. I hear the lark at sunrise, The nightingale's sweet song, Dear Motherland, dear Russia, The land for which I long."

These men, known as the Don Cossacks, come from that part of Russia through which the river Don flows to empty itself in the Sea of Azoff. They are distinct from the Kuban Cossacks, or those of the Urals, Terek, Azor, Astrakhan Orenbourg, Transbaikial, Amor. But they all descend from the freedom-loving, adventurous refugees of Muscovite Russia, who to avoid taxes and military service, fled southward to that region disputed by Turk and Tartar, and later conquered for Mother Russia.

Under the leadership of the dynamic but dynamic Serge Jaroff, these present descendants of the wild-blooded Cossacks, now peaceful "Singing Horsemen of the Steppes" will give a program of Russian music Monday night, January 21 at the Municipal Auditorium under the auspices of Ray E. Fuller post Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Carl S. Blomfield, district manager of the Texas Electric Service company, returned Wednesday morning from Fort Worth, where he attended a joint meeting of district managers of that company. Mrs. Ada Canda, of Abilene is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Pierson.

Personally Speaking

Mrs. O. J. Hamill is being attended now by her sister, Mrs. H. M. Boatright of Pulaski, Tenn., who came here on account of her sister's illness. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Open are in Merkel.

Charters Granted In Texas During December Show Marked Increase

AUSTIN—New charters granted to Texas corporations during December showed a marked rise both over the preceding month and over December, 1933, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Capitalization of the new companies totaled $4,328,000, an increase of 238 per cent over November and 330 per cent over December last year. The number of new corporations totaled 122, against 104 in November and 94 in December a year ago. For the entire year 1934, however, total capitalization of the new corporations aggregated only $22,380,000, a drop of 21 per cent from that of 1933, and the total number of new companies was 1441, a decline of 8 per cent from the year before, the bureau's report said. These facts tend to emphasize the rising trend in new charters which has been taking place in recent months. Oil, merchandising, and transportation companies showed the greatest increase in the number of new charters granted. The number of charters granted to out-of-state corporations during December also increased sharply both over the preceding month and over December last year. Six companies were capitalized during December at $100,000 or more, against only one during November and one in December last year.

LOOKING FORWARD

Now is the time when we look forward to another school term. Now is the time to take stock and see if your daughter is taking the course that will best suit her for the future. The Home Economics course will help prepare her for both. Home Economics is probably the most composite, inclusive, and adaptable subject taught in our schools today. Its interests center chiefly with the home, the well-being of the family and its members, the food they eat, the clothes they wear, the houses they live in, and the money they spend. It is a known fact that home making is the largest vocation in the world. It has the largest number of workers, the longest hours, the most variety of jobs. Ten years from now 99 per cent of today's high school girls will be married. Will your daughter, as one of the future home makers and mothers, be prepared to meet the situation?

Many Students Enjoy Play, "Green Pastures", Given Monday

Harrison Offers Advice To Wheel Readers
By ROBERT HALEY
"The Lawd is comin'" and now he has gone back into the farm country from whence he originally came. Monday night the popular Broadway production, "The Green Pastures", made a one night showing here. Heading the cast was Richard B. Harrison, who gave an excellent portrayal of "de Lawd."

Ben Daniels, Junior Mentor

A mere summary is an inadequate manner of giving to anyone the many fine points the play possesses. In its plot, character, setting, and religious background. "The Green Pastures" is quite the best, most original, and most easily appreciable drama produced in several years. It had to be good to continue the long run it has had all over the country.

Everyone of the actors gave excellent renderings of their parts and the songs given by the choir were so well sung that it was easy to feel the spirit which must fill the enthusiastic negro congregation as they would sing them at a revival.

Ben Daniels Is Value To School Sports

For the past four years the Junior sports of Big Spring High school have been directed by Ben Daniels. Ben, who has lived in Colorado the past three years, has been coming to Big Spring every day to coach football, basketball, and track for the younger aspirants.

B. S. Basketeers Beaten By Davids

The Bearded Beauties of '35' with several new players on their squad did not find it necessary to exhibit their full strength upon George Brown's inexperienced quint. The Davids did not try at much clashing as in '33' and '34' but played hard enough to eke out a 24-22 score over the Bovines. The Steers, with only three days of practice, found it hard to get their eye on the basket, although Olie Cordill rang up ten points mostly like it.

Students Enjoy Pretty Weather

Due to the continued good weather which has been experienced for such an unusually long period of time, many pupils of this school and other people who are out of school have taken to hiking over the nearby hills on Sunday and Monday.

Shaping—

Today is the day business men get a chance to air their minds before the NRA about the price provisions in their Codes of Fair Competition.

Long before this open forum was called the present administrative board of NRA made up its mind that an elastic yardstick should be laid on industry insofar as price-fixing was concerned. In some industries it was desirable; in others impossible. Some needed stringent regulation and others would be happy with a looser set of rules.

Anyone properly affiliated may have ten minutes for facts, figures and oratory. A sideline would be inclined to observe the breath laid on industry insofar as price-fixing was concerned. In some industries it was desirable; in others impossible. Some needed stringent regulation and others would be happy with a looser set of rules.

The grand strategy committee is lining up the procession of new measures for passage through Congress. Vice-President Garner and Speaker Byrns head the committee. Majority Leader Bankhead will join hands as soon as he recovers—although it's known that he's very ill. Chairman O'Connor of the Rules Committee will pull a strong oar.

The big Democratic majority has the steam-roller in fine shape. If labor and industry were not sharpening their knives the prospect would be good for greased legislation. Bonus boosters must be beaten somehow—nobody knows just how, at this stage. Then come inflationists later in the month.

Interruptions and delays from the Huey Longs and Townsend old-age funds make paving material for the steam-roller. The great machine must have something to work on. Republican opposition is not enough to make it worthwhile to steam up the roller.

The State Department. Calling the roll, they were Robert Worth Bingham, who represents us at London; William E. Dodd, at Berlin; Breckenridge Long, at Rome; and William C. Bullitt, at Moscow.

If the talk that has leaked out of their meetings with Secretary of State Hull is true they have a tough row to hoe, but the understanding is there was talk on the fire about reviving the purposes and ambitions of the ill-fated London Economic Conference of June, 1933.

This would involve international monetary stabilization and a lot of other things on which nations generally seem to see eye to eye about as clearly as you would with Ben Turpin.

Revenue—

There would be more trembling over the cost of the new program if financiers and business men generally did not have confidence in Secretary Morgenthau. Some anxious comment is made, but in the main it is felt that Morgenthau has set up an organization with the strength and resourcefulness to hold government credit impregnable while financing the new undertakings.

"After all, Uncle Sam has the gold," is a common remark. A larger tax bill seems to be probable. The House Ways and Means Committee and Senate Finance Committee have taken steps which point clearly to added taxes besides reenactment of most of last year's taxes. Committee men shy away from public talk on tax matters. They want the public to approve the program first—taxation is a disagreeable subject.

Notes—

Labor-industry disputes and possible adverse decisions by the Supreme Court overhang the new administration program. Private comment in Washington criticizes lack of incentive to private industry. Confidence in government credit buttresses Roosevelt's plans. Some increase in taxation is being considered.

Seating Facilities At Texas U. 55,000

AUSTIN—Seating capacity, 55,000 plus. It would take a mighty big crowd to make the University of Texas hang out the "Standing Room Only" sign should all seating facilities of that institution be put into service at one time. The stadium has a normal capacity of 42,000, with bleachers available for an additional 4,000. The men's gymnasium has a seating capacity of 4,000 and approximately 3,500 or 4,000 can be seated on the main floor, though as many as 15,000 or more persons have been crowded into the building for such events as the governor's inaugural ball. The Hogg Memorial Auditorium used for small theatrical performances, lectures, etc., accommodates 1,325, and numerous smaller auditoriums, each with a capacity of several hundred persons, are afforded by the chemistry, biology, physics, geology and law buildings and by Garrison Hall.

Re-Employment Office To Be Installed Here

E. A. Elliott and C. E. Belk of the National Re-employment Service were here Wednesday morning in the interest of establishing a sub-district office here. The location of an office here has been approved, they said. It will be opened February 1. Abilene will get the district office for this area with Big Spring, Coleman and San Angelo receiving sub-district offices. Big Spring will be headquarters for a section including counties from Midland to Gaines to Yoakum to Garza to Howard.

Elliott and Belk were collecting data on the various counties and on Big Spring and Howard county in particular. The office here will require two men to maintain it, they said. Purpose of the re-employment service is to offer to business channels "a high class employment bureau service," said Belk. "Should a business man desire a new worker," he continued, "we could immediately send three or four especially qualified applicants to him for an interview. This would do away with his having to interview a flood of applicants, many of whom would be in no wise qualified for that type of work." They were to leave Wednesday afternoon for San Angelo Thursday they will be in Coleman.

18-Ounce Baby Dies Suddenly

EL PASO, (UP)—Maria Jesus, 18-ounce baby died suddenly Tuesday in the modest El Paso home of her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose N. Holguin. "She died suddenly," said Mrs. Holguin. "She was a good baby." Doctors explained that the tiny baby simply did not have strength enough to overcome the ordinary illnesses that babies normally have.

Reduction Of Water Rate, Club Topic

Garden Club To Start Membership Drive This Week As Part Of Project

Members of the Garden Club are planning a membership drive throughout the city beginning Friday. This was voted on at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the Federation Clubhouse. The drive is being held early this year to get the club into early working order and gardens begun in time. The goal of the club is to procure at least 100 members. The 1935 project of the club is a reduced water rate, said Mrs. Morgan, president. How effective the reduction will be depends a lot, she said, on the membership of the club; if the men and women of Big Spring who want beautiful yards and good vegetable gardens this summer will join with the Garden Club and help work out the water problem something satisfactory can be accomplished.

City Manager Spence who has shown great interest in city beautification has agreed to meet with the club at its next meeting January 22nd, at the City Federation clubhouse and speak on the subject of reduced rates. The club has set its membership

INSTANT STARTING LIGHTNING PICK-UP

TRY THIS BETTER WAY OF STARTING YOUR CAR IN EXTREMELY COLD WEATHER

Automobile makers recommend this method of starting in cold weather, except for cars with automatic starters. Try it for a quick, easy start without danger of "flooding" by too much choking.

1. Leave ignition OFF. Pull choke out all the way. Push down your clutch pedal and keep it down.
2. Open hand-choke one-third. Leaving ignition OFF, step on starter for several motor revolutions.
3. Push choke back in. Turn ignition on. Step on starter. Motor should fire instantly.
4. Warm up motor gradually. Use choke sparingly, only enough to get smooth firing.

*If your motor does not start instantly on Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze Gasoline, it needs mechanical service.
