Good management allows pasture plants to make good growth before being grazed heavily, and supplies supplemental feed, such as cottonseed meal and roughage, for ivestock. This benefits both the asture and the livestock.

Early grazing also is too high in vater content to provide nutrients which livestock require for full growth, maintenance and producion. Often, for the first few weeks after pasture becomes green, does not supply enough forage to satisfy animal's appetite; and, even when the appetite is satisfied, animals cannot eat enough to provide nutrients they need.

To supply dry matter and help prevent scouring, early pasture should be supplemented with hay, cottonseed hulls, sorghum bundles r other dry roughage.

Beef cows which are nursing calves should also be fed 2 to 4 pounds daily, of cottonseed meal, pellets or cake until grass contains sufficient nutrients to carry them in good condition. Growing heifers, and control all operations from the calves and stockers need 1/2 to 11/2 pounds of protein concentrate

The usefulness of accounting does not cease with the completion of a transaction; a record must be available in permanent form. Dependable bank records may be the only means of settling disputes that arise long after transactions have, to all appearances, been completed and forgotten. Thus a prudent person will cause all of his business transactions to flow through a bank.

You've heard the story about Socrates of old who carried the lantern in search of an honest man, but here's a modern version of the same type of quest, one which concerns a well-known Cross Plains citi-

Twenty years ago Andy Hudson stuck aside a dollar bill which he had reason to believe had brought him luck. "The first time I find a really honest man", said Andy to his wife, "I'm going to give him this piece of currency".

Years passed and Andy held on to the antiquated old dollar bill, yet often reaffirming his intention.

Last week Andy read of a Snyder farmer who found $43,-000 in currency and advertised for the rightful owner so that he could return it. When the owner was found and proper identification made the Snyder man handed over the money, refusing to accept even a small award.

"That must be a really honest man", declares Andy and I'm mailing him this week my 'lucky one spot' which I've had ready for these 20 years".

What has a railroad got to do with Easter Eggs?...

Who would think that the railroads have anything to do with those gaily colored candy eggs that delight the hearts of little children at Easter time? But they do-because whether it is candy Easter eggs or tractors, toothpaste or motor oil, the railroads bring them from the manufacturing plants of the nation-to you.

Yes, the railroads DO make a valuable contribution to your day-to-day living.

And, too, they help to protect your safety and welfare. How? The millions of dollars the railroads pay each year in federal, state and local taxes help maintain schools, police, fire and sanitation protection for you and your family.

And, the railroads provide good jobs for thousands of people - people who spend their salaries in their home towns, thus contributing to the prosperity of their individual communities.

Yes, the railroads are more than a system of transportation. They are a vital part of your life and well-being.

The Texas and Pacific Railway, as a service and tax-paying "citizen" of Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico takes an active interest in these three great states.

It is proud of its share in helping bring better living and greater prosperity to the towns and cities it serves.
