As this report cords. The ordinance also requires the owners who trade in bicycle to have them transferred in the secretary's office so that the officers will have better chance to check on stolen bicycles.

Another section of the ordinance, which requires that all bicycles to have two and one-half inch headlights and tail reflectors on all vehicles, which will aid in preventing accidents. The ordinance will not go into effect, before May the 1st

This is a good ordinance and every city or town should have some regulation of this kind. You can go into most any town and find a lot of boys and girls riding bicycles, on the streets or highways, which endangers the lives of themselves and others who want to use the streets. This would limit the number of bicycle used.

Less equipment can do more work if there are more days when it can be used. To make that possible, the agricultural engineer advises planning the cropping system, including strip cropping, so that some terrace construction work may be done whenever time and equipment are available. Reviewing the year's work, Bentley says that observation on the effects of terracing, ridging, contour furrowing, chiseling and other practices on grassiand indicate that contour furrowing is the most nearly universal applicable, considering the benefit to the grass and the cost of the work. The emphasis which has been placed upon contour furrowing has caused a swing to a summary of the work done on
