

WTCC Parade Plans Given Attention

'Typical Family' Car To Tour The West Texas Area

Preparations for the 22nd annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here May 16-18 Thursday centered around efforts to consolidate details for development of the All-Youth parade on May 17.

Scouts, 4-H Clubs Following a meeting of the Round Up committee Monday evening, Max Bentley, convention manager; J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager; Albert Darby, camping chairman for the Big Spring district; C. S. Blomfield, district scout chairman; S. P. Gaskin, Sweetwater, area executive, and Charles Paxton, Sweetwater, Buffalo Trail council president, will confer on parade plans in an effort to design marching order for Boy Scouts participating in the parade.

Meanwhile, Ruth Thompson, district county home demonstration agent, and J. D. Frewitt, district farm agent, sent out letters to agents in 15 surrounding counties informing them of plans and asking that 4-H club delegations be sent to Big Spring on May 17. Stimulating interest in the Typical American Family contest sponsored in West Texas by the WTCC and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the Fort Motor Co. will dispatch one of its custom built cars for transporting the families to New York and the World Fair to Big Spring soon. From here, it will make a tour of the entire West Texas area, including the home towns of 10 district directors who will be judges of the winning families in their territories. It will be brought back to Big Spring several days in advance of the convention and will be ready to rush the ultimate winners to New York.

The Typical West Texas family, however, will be subjected to a rigid schedule here, appearing at the revue the evening of May 16, at the convention assembly the next morning, the newspapermen's dinner, and then in the parade that afternoon, riding in the car that will start its journey to the fair as soon as it breaks rank from the parade.

Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, will present the family at the convention assembly and wish its members luck to New York. During Thursday, three more sponsors were added to the list coming here for the convention. One of these was a Big Spring girl who will represent Texas Tech. She is Winifred Piner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Piner. Another college sponsor announced was Margaret Cole for Daniel Baker college at Brownwood, Haskell's sponsor was announced as Ruth Balke, bringing the number to 31 entries.

PROGRESS REPORTED IN BRICK MAKING

Workers on the NYA concessions and cafeterias building project at the Moss Creek lake site are making rapid progress in manufacture of stabilized adobe brick to be used in construction. When the supply is complete, work will be started on laying out the structure. Tests have indicated the brick, made of soils on the site and emulsified asphalt, is of good quality.

PROCLAMATIONS IN WHOLESALE LOTS

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Topping his triple announcement of proclamations earlier this week, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today issued a four-page statement in which he proclaimed: May 5-11 as "National Music Week in Texas"; May 15 as "World Goodwill Day in Texas"; May 12-18 as "Peace and Goodwill Week in Texas"; and May 26 as "Buddy Poppy Day in Texas."

Further Armaments On A 'Pay-As-You Go' Basis Advocated By USCC

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce, adopting a 24-point program recommended by its resolutions committee, called today for faster United States arming on a "pay as you go" basis.

Commending steps thus far taken to strengthen the army, navy and air forces, the resolutions group said it was imperative to speed up preparations so that "any potential aggressor, however powerful and ambitious, will be fearful to attack us."

SLAIN BANK CLERK — Irvin Howards (above), cashier of the Lawrence State Bank, Lorman, Texas, was the victim of a robber-slayer who escaped with $1487. Rewards totaling $6,000 were posted for apprehension of the robber. No one saw the bandit or bandits enter or leave the bank.

"We should carry our national defense on a pay as you go basis," the proposed resolution added. "We believe that substantial economies can be effected in the operations of the government and that such economies should be made at once in the interest of national safety. With these economies we believe that any additional burden necessary for our safety will be assumed readily by businessmen and all other citizens."

The committee suggested further that the organization ask congress to "reaffirm its determination to keep the United States out of war, unless our nation is endangered."

There was no reference to the question whether loans should be granted to the French and English governments in the event their assets in this country are exhausted before the end of the European war.

Other highlights of the proposed declarations included: Prolongation of the government's "easy money" policy "threatens the whole system of private savings and private enterprise."

Congress should stimulate the free flow of capital into investments by removing "deterrents" from the laws regulating issuance of private securities.

The wage-hour act should be repealed, and the labor relations act fundamentally amended this session.

Reduced expenditures, not additional taxation, must be relief upon to end annual federal deficits.

Businessmen should cooperate in an expedited armament program by granting vacation leave with pay to men in the national guard while they are in training.

The department of state should continue to take prompt diplomatic action against discrimination and interference prejudicial to American rights abroad.

The country's future highway program should include a system of free inter-regional highways, and the cost of highway facilities provided especially for military purpose—also serving general traffic—should be apportioned between the federal government and state or local governments in proportion to benefits.

Federal aid to farmers "should be limited to that portion of the crop which is domestically consumed."

Texas Convict Is Taken

OLTON, Okla., May 2 (AP)—Dick Broyles, fugitive Texas convict, was captured five miles northeast of here today by two officers who found him sleeping in a stolen automobile parked in a pasture.

Constable Dave Irwin said he and Police Chief Ben Clark opened the doors of the car, awakened Broyles by jamming their pistols in his ribs and the convict surrendered peacefully.

The car has been identified, Irwin said, as one stolen at Cushing Tuesday night from B. F. Cook, a Cushing resident who was abducted and forced to drive an armed man through three counties.

Broyles was taken to jail at Drumright. Officers said no decision had been made on whether he would be returned to Texas or held in Oklahoma for trial on robbery and abduction charges.

Irwin said he asked the convict if he was guilty of the crimes laid at his door since his escape and Broyles replied, "I'm the boy who did it all."

At least three persons who have been abducted and robbed in this vicinity in the past two weeks identified Broyles as their assailant after viewing rogue's gallery photographs.

Broyles escaped recently from officers taking him from Wichita Falls to the state penitentiary at Huntsville. He is under a 35-year sentence for armed robbery.

GROUP AGREES ON RIVER-HARBOR BILL

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—A senate-house conference committee agreed today on a rivers and harbors bill authorizing expenditures of $110,035,450. It struck out a $24,509,000 project for East River harbor, off New York City.

The Senate-house group also eliminated a $2,980,000 Florida project on the Caloosahatchee river and Lake Okechobee drainage areas and restored a $3,700,000 project on the Guadalupe river in Texas.

AGREEMENT ENDS STRIKE AT DAM

DENISON, May 2 (AP)—Truck drivers, shovel operators and laborers working on part of the Denison dam project ended an 11-day strike late yesterday with agreements signed between workers and employers.

Employees of the Julian C. Field company, engaged in the production of sand for the Denison dam river dam outlet works will go back to work this week, as soon as reorganization details are completed. The contracts were signed with three American Federation of Labor groups.

'DOUBLE-HEADER' ORDER ATTACHED

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Validity of the Texas railroad commission's order prohibiting use of train "double-headers" was attacked in an injunction suit filed by all Texas railroads in a district court today.

The railroads contended the order conflicted with provisions of an interstate commerce regulation and with a power brake rule of the safety appliance act.

Addressing a letter to sponsor Church, Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism assailed the plan as an attempt to precipitate war between the United States and Germany, adding: "It (the proposal) indicates that the time has arrived for the American people to begin to list our war makers. You have won the unique position of war maker No. 1."

GERMAN BOMBS HITTING NORWEGIAN VILLAGE—A low-flying German warplane, according to British-approved caption material, is shown bombing this village north of Elverum on the Glomma river in Norway. Smoke rises from a house hit by one of the bombs. Germans later captured Rena. This picture was transmitted by radio from London to New York.

Scout Group To Convene

Albert S. Darby, camping chairman for the Big Spring district, Thursday called an important meeting of the Round Up committee for Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the chamber of commerce office at the Settlers hotel.

Reports from the several committees connected with the tenth annual Round Up, which will bring more than 200 boys and leaders from 15 counties in the area to Big Spring on May 17-18, will be heard at the parley, said Darby.

A feature of this year's program will be the participation of Oscar H. Benson, national director of rural scouting for Boy Scouts of America, in the campfire program the evening of May 17. The public is invited to join in this program.

Saturday the scouts will compete in various events in scoutcraft and athletics before being served a noon meal by Big Spring friends. On the basis of estimates from previous Round Ups, each boy may be expected to consume a pound of choice beef, half a loaf of bread, one pint of lemonade, beans, and as much ice cream as can be furnished.

ISSUES PARDONS — BATON ROUGE, La., May 2 (AP) Governor Earl K. Long today, less than two weeks before he leaves office, issued executive pardons freeing more than a score of long term convicts from the state penitentiary.

Rev. Lancaster's Father Succumbs

Funeral services for A. Lancaster, father of Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church of Big Spring, were scheduled for 3:30 Thursday afternoon at Kempner, Lampasas county.

The elder Mr. Lancaster, a farmer in Lampasas county, succumbed Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, following a long illness.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster were at the bedside when death came, having left here Sunday when advised that his father was in a critical condition.

Texas College Boys Ready To Have A Try At Hitler

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Some Texas college boys and a professional strong man started scheming up a plan to kidnap Adolf Hitler today while a college dean branded the "war-mongering" as a million-dollar reward offer for the Nazi fugitive.

Unidentified Pittsburghers, through President Samuel Harden Church of the Carnegie Institute, offered the cash to anyone who'd deliver Hitler to the league of nations, unharmed, before May 31.

The Texas boys telephoned a Dallas newspaper saying they'd like to attempt the "snatch" but were "deterred by lack of finances."

They suggested that the Carnegie Institute finance them and forget about the reward.

Another Texan, a professional strong man in Houston, wired the New York Times: "Will you after Hitler and bring him back. Must have hundred-thousand-dollar drawing account and transportation to Germany made possible."

Addressing a letter to sponsor Church, Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism assailed the plan as an attempt to precipitate war between the United States and Germany, adding: "It (the proposal) indicates that the time has arrived for the American people to begin to list our war makers. You have won the unique position of war maker No. 1."

Nazis Report Capture Of Norwegians

'Enormous Quantities Of British Supplies' Said Taken

BERLIN, May 2 (AP)—The German high command announced tonight that Nazi forces have entered Andalsnes, allied debarcation point on Norway's west coast which the British have abandoned.

BERLIN, May 2 (AP)—Germany today reported British forces in Norway in a "head over heels" withdrawal in the strategic Andalsnes region and the capture of 3,500 Norwegian officers and men by German columns which succeeded in establishing an unbroken line from Bergen to Oslo in southern Norway.

Troops Captured — The high command said German vanguards had driven to about 25 miles southeast of Andalsnes, British base 100 miles south of Trondheim, capturing 300 Norwegian troops in the operation as well as "enormous quantities of British supplies" at Dombas, railway junction in the interior southeast of Andalsnes and southwest of Trondheim.

DNE, official German news agency, in a report from the front later said that fights around Andalsnes "no longer offer a difficult military problem" and a thrust on that base now appears to be one of the main German objectives.

The agency, which earlier had said the British left Dombas in "headlong flight," asserted the German troops now are breaking the last vestiges of enemy resistance in the region.

"The opponents' effort to halt the advance of the German troops definitely has failed," DNE said. It asserted that "desperate" resistance was being encountered in isolated spots.

DNE reported that "enemy troops" which last night were about 50 miles northwest of Dombas, near Kleven, were overwhelmed and 300 Norwegians, among the forces covering the British withdrawal, taken prisoner.

In the war on the allied sea power, the high command announced the sinking of one British merchant ship, severe damaging of six others and a hit on the after deck of a cruiser.

In the air war, it said German warplanes "continued successfully on schedule disturbing and destructive air attacks against enemy land forces" and the shooting down of six British planes.

The high command said the troops which advanced east from Bergen and those from Oslo had joined on the Bergen-Oslo rail line, giving the Germans control of communications over the breadth of southern Norway.

Anxiety had reached an acute point with the announcement that British shipping had been diverted from the Mediterranean as a precaution.

Phillips' visit to Ciano was his second in two days. The ambassador called at the foreign ministry yesterday after seeing Mussolini and, it is said, received assurances from Il Duce that Italy did not plan any war move for the present.

Italy Assures That Yugoslavia Is Safe From Invasion

ROME, May 2 (AP) — Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano today assured United States Ambassador Philip H. Barbour that Yugoslavia, Italy's neighbor on the Adriatic, was safe from Italian invasion, it was reported in usually reliable quarters.

The United States ambassador's talks with Premier Mussolini yesterday and with Ciano today noticeably eased tension in diplomatic circles.

Anxiety had reached an acute point with the announcement that British shipping had been diverted from the Mediterranean as a precaution.

Phillips' visit to Ciano was his second in two days. The ambassador called at the foreign ministry yesterday after seeing Mussolini and, it is said, received assurances from Il Duce that Italy did not plan any war move for the present.

Favorable Weather Boosts Estimates On Wheat Output

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP) — Two crop experts who released estimates of United States winter wheat production today agreed that crop improvement during April because of favorable weather had added approximately 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels to the prospective harvest.

Their figures indicated, however, production probably will be more than 100,000,000 bushels below last year's crop of 563,431,000 bushels.

Mrs. E. H. Miller's estimate was for a harvest of 455,237,000 bushels while the forecast of James E. Bennett and Co., spelled by C. M. Glavin, was 449,000,000.

The April 1 production estimate of the government was 426,215,000 bushels.

Cotton Use Program To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The agriculture department announced today it would continue this year a program inaugurated in 1938 to encourage greater use of cotton bagging for cotton bales coverings.

It will pay a subsidy of 25 cents for each cotton covering used on the 1940 cotton crop. The payment will be made directly to manufacturers, who in turn would be expected to make a corresponding reduction in the price of such bagging to ginners and other distributors.

The customary covers are made from materials heavier than cotton, principally jute.

Officials said that they hoped the 1940 program would divert 11,000 bales of cotton into the manufacture of cotton bagging. They estimated that between 100,000 and 150,000 bales would be needed for the manufacture of bale coverings for an average crop of American cotton.

Won't Be Trapped Into A 'Dispersal Of Forces', Chamberlain Declares

LONDON, May 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today declared the withdrawal of British troops from the Andalus area, abandoning the attempt to take German-held Trondheim from the south, but declared Britain would keep on fighting Germany in Norway and refused to be trapped into letting down her guard in the Mediterranean.

"We have no intention of allowing Norway to become merely a side show," Chamberlain told the house of commons, "but neither are we going to be trapped into such a dispersal of our forces as would leave us dangerously weak at the vital center."

He asserted that blows to the German fleet permitted "an important redistribution of the main allied fleets" and announced a British French battle fleet in the eastern Mediterranean on the way to Alexandria, Egypt.

Chamberlain's statement was his second report on the Norwegian campaign but he made it clear at the outset it was only an interim report, that there was much he could not say for fear of disclosing strategy to the Germans, and announced a debate in the house of commons on the campaign would be held next Tuesday.

The troops withdrawn from the Andalus front were being transferred "elsewhere," Chamberlain said.

This led to speculation whether they were joining the British-French army based at Namsos, 100 miles north of Trondheim.

A war communique reporting the withdrawal, however, said "there is nothing further to report from Namsos." It told of "continuing" operations in the far northern Narvik sector, where a German garrison is holding off allied forces.

Chamberlain's announcement indicated the allies were abandoning to Germany all Norway south of a line running from Trondheim east to the Swedish frontier, including nearly half the country's total area, six-sevenths of the population and nearly all industrial centers.

Today's German high command communique indicated Norwegian troops had been in action on the Andalus front covering the British withdrawal. Large contingents of Norwegians were reported surrendering, apparently when this covering action was completed.

The prime minister promised further disclosures next Tuesday, insisting that more information now would merely help Germany and endanger lives of British fighting men.

He did not amplify his statement that an allied battle fleet was in the eastern Mediterranean, but Britain this week has given evidence of anxiety over the possibility of Italy entering the war on the side of Germany by forbidding her merchant marine to use the Mediterranean for through voyages.

Chamberlain pictured Germany as prepared for invasion of the Netherlands or Belgium, or both, an action he said "would not scruple" to undertake.

"Or, it may be that their savage hordes will be hurled against southeast Europe," he said.

"They might well do more than one of these things in preparation for an attempt at a large scale attack on the western front or even a lightning swoop on this country."

In announcing the abandonment of the west Norwegian base of Andalus, Chamberlain said: "We have now withdrawn the whole of our forces from Andalus under the very nose of German planes without, so far as I am aware, losing a single man in this operation."

He said the Norwegian campaign has "merely concluded a single phase" in which neither Britain nor Germany thus far has achieved their objectives and "their (the German) losses were far greater than ours."

"German losses in men cannot be estimated but they must have amounted to many thousands."

The crowded house received Chamberlain's report in comparative silence. Many members appeared to be stunned by its implications.

Senate Overrides Presidential Veto

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The senate overrode President Roosevelt on a veto today by a vote of 73 to 23 and wrote into law legislation to grant travel pay and food allowances for officers and men held in service in the Philippines after the war with Spain.

The house previously had overridden the president, 274 to 82. The legislation has been disapproved three times by the president, but the first two vetoes—in 1935 and 1936—were sustained by congress.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.) urging the latest veto be overridden, told the senate the legislation involved between 7,000 and 8,000 claims totaling about $3,200,000.

CONVICTED IN SLAYING

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 2 (AP)—Thomas Allen Boyd, 28-year-old Attica golf course greenskeeper, was convicted of first-degree murder today in the sex-slaying of 11-year-old Elizabeth DeBruicker, Fountain county farm girl, and his sentence was fixed by the jury at life imprisonment.

Seasonal oblivion was decreed today for the battered old felt as Mayor C. C. Dunham proclaimed Sunday as "Straw Hat Day" in Big Spring.

"Frown though he is to be conservative in donning spring headgear—unlike ladyhood who beads the last snowflakes with her new bonnet—the male of the species may now rest assured, under the mayor's proclamation, that he will not be a show-off with his new straw."

The perennial favorites—the sailors and the floppy brims—are still in vogue, but this year the hands have gone on-ho-ho. They are about as speckled as a trout and gaily colored as the rainbow.

Of course, there are the usual new departures, the conglomeration of bales with straw spun around, the Panama and facsimiles, colored straws designed like felt, missionary or "bring 'em back alive" hats, and a variety of other cooler head-pieces to suit any man's taste and pocketbook, too.

Cooperating in the move, merchants are now displaying a fine collection of summer hats for men, who now may buy with perfect assurance that they won't be the first one to appear with their new hats.

So, according to Mayor Dunham, it will be straw hat season from Sunday until the last stretched, bent and belated hat blows off with autumn's first gales.

Animals Sense Something Wrong, In Doing Their Acts To Help In Auctioning Of Truck Circus

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—The animals seemed to know something was wrong.

In the middle of the pony act one of them jumped the barrier. The trainers had to coax the elephants through their tricks. There wasn't any band.

Downie Brothers circus was being auctioned off because there was no more money to buy hay for the animals or gasoline for the big red trucks.

The circus employees were losing their jobs, but they tried bravely to whip up bidding.

They herded the elephants into the ring and put them through their tricks. Then they brought out a couple of performing horses. The animals bowed, knelt for a rider to mount, and danced.

Six little ponies trotted and pranced in formation. Some children in the crowd laughed and shouted.

The auctioneer valued the show at $35,000 and asked for a bid of $4,000. Nobody raised a finger. It was decided to sell the show in pieces.

"We'll sell the elephants first," the auctioneer said.

The crowd streamed into the barn where the six elephants were munching hay and throwing dirt on their backs.

Frank Walter of Houston, who owns a fair sized circus as a hobby, bought the elephants for $3,500.

The two camels were sold to A. W. Kennard for $160 each. Kennard said he was buying them for Walter.

The tents were offered next, then the chairs and the horses and the trucks.

When it was over there wasn't anything left of Downie Brothers circus, once billed as the biggest truck show in the land.

NOW IF IT WERE REAL!—A tree trunk served as dummy gun for this camouflaging drill at Fort Benning, Ga.

Keep Out Of War, Urges The USCC

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Demands that the United States government keep out of the European war and alter many of its domestic policies took form today at the annual meeting of the United States chamber of commerce.

Well-informed sources predicted the organization would refrain at this time, however, from taking a stand as to whether the United States should lend money to the allies in the event their financial reserves are exhausted before the war ends.

Included in the program for the chamber's business session were demands for economy in government, amendment of the Wagner labor act, and measures designed to facilitate registration of new securities and the flow of private capital into business ventures.

WAR ON PEACE

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—British authorities are acting against overzealous pacifists of the Peace

Pledge Union, it was disclosed today. Scotland Yard is serving summonses against certain members in London, Oxford and Cambridge, the press association stated.

FAVORS MORE FUNDS

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) said today that private testimony by Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, had convinced him that a senate appropriations subcommittee should go beyond budget recommendations in allocating funds for defense equipment.

FAVORITES ADVANCE WITHOUT CASUALTIES IN FEM'S MEET

JAMESON FACES STERN TEST IN JO HENSON

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—Over the soft spots, four favorites of the Women's Texas Golf association tournament buckled down to the business of keeping form in the groove in quarter-final matches today.

National champion Betty Jameson, who hasn't had to get out of a slow walk to win two matches, admittedly was perturbed over her engagement with Miss Jo Henson of Paris, a girl whose game comes very close to being of championship calibre.

Only yesterday Miss Henson shot Brook Hollow in even women's par to move in against Miss Jameson. But today—she was excited again. Critics have been waiting two years for the young North Texan to "arrive" as definite titular member, but she won't adjust her temperament to the game.

Golf to Jo Henson is fun. She is a refreshing figure in a cluster of tournament veterans who play the game to the hilt, but Jo is stymieing her advance in tournament golf by refusing to play calmly—or, more bluntly, coldly.

She was almost perfect in eliminating Mrs. C. F. McAdulf 7 and 6, getting off the tee with distance and following up with a fine short game.

Betty was also par 39 on the first nine to build up a six-hole lead over Mrs. W. H. Ainsworth of Houston, running out her string of pars on the first four holes of the last nine to win, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, of Fort Worth, continued perhaps the most consistent play of the tournament by downing Miss Marie Levi of Dallas, 7 and 6.

Miss Jameson and Mrs. Goldthwaite were favored to move into the upper bracket semi-final match, but Mrs. Goldthwaite had a stout foe today, Miss Kay Pearson of Houston, who smothered Miss Hilda Urbank of Austin 4 and 2.

Mrs. Jack H. Lapham of San Antonio, the sportswoman who seven times won the title, almost dropped out but rallied on the eighteenth and defeated Mrs. Harry Scott of Houston, one up.

Today she meets a townsman, Mrs. E. R. Fry, who disposed of Mrs. Frank Jones, Dallas' city champion, 8 and 7.

Mrs. Dan Chandler, who plays Mrs. H. A. Peterson of Dallas, defeated Mrs. C. O. Stevens of Dallas, 7 and 5. Mrs. Peterson defeated Mrs. Jedd Roe of San Antonio, who missed an 18-inch putt on the home green.

Missions Lose League Lead

By The Associated Press
It's called the Texas League but three states have teams in the race.
And it's always a good idea, when you start picking the probable winners, to wait for all returns from Oklahoma before passing judgment.

Oklahoma City and Tulsa didn't begin very well but today they're the "menace" for leading Houston and runner-up San Antonio.
Last night the Redskins knocked San Antonio from the top with a 10-inning 6-5 victory, the win pushing Oklahoma City into undisputed fourth place.

Tulsa stayed in third place with a 6-1 decision over Shreveport.
Houston swept a double-header with Fort Worth to head the pack, 5-2 and 10-4.

Dallas broke an alarming losing streak by nosing out Beaumont 6-5.

Dit May Be Horse To Beat Favored Bimmie

By SID FEDER
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—The hunch player in the "beat Bimmie" fraternity, bouncing around all over the place trying to keep warm and looking for something to stop "Mr. Big" in Saturday's Kentucky derby, put the ringer right smack on Max the mystery man Hirsch today.

"Is it possible," the fraternity brothers wondered, "that Max has another bold venture to spring on the folks in his Dixie this year? Can history repeat so that Max pops up with another outsider from New York to knock off an odds-on home-town boy who's been making good in a big way?"

He did it against Brevity in '36 as nicely as you please, and the set-up is similar this year in more ways than the frosting on your julep glass, although Saturday's expected field of eight or nine is considerable short of the 14 who answered to "My Old Kentucky Home" then. He did it on a fast track that day, too, and the weather man today said he reckoned it would be fair for Derby Day.

Of course, Col. E. R. Bradley's sweet-stepping hope for a fifth derby win is still the "people's choice" in this derby village. But the fifth one in every quarter, including some of the most capable horse-trainers in town, wasn't so sure. And, oddly enough, it was because Bimmie won the derby trial Tuesday so easily that some of the boys and girls were willing to hem and haw a bit.

Slow Time
They're pooh-poohing for the simple reason that he ran the last quarter of that mile in the slow time of 26 2/3 seconds, compared with a first quarter in 22 4/5.
They feel that tough extra quarter in the derby isn't going to be just what the doctor ordered for Bimmie. The diehards point this out despite the fact that Bimmie was running on a slow track Tuesday.

KLEM: 'I've Never Called One Wrong'

BOSTON, May 2 (AP)—It didn't take baseball players long this season to find that umpire Bill Klem was still drawing that line.
The National league season wasn't an hour old before Klem drew the line—the toe stripe in the dirt over which no player is foolishly enough to venture.
"That line is Klem's last word. Whenever players become too voliferous and argumentative over a decision and crowd Bill too closely the veteran arbiter just traces a line in the sand and walks off. That generally ends the fuss, if they step over the line they're out of the ball game and maybe fined, too.

Bill is 65, the oldest umpire in the game and starting his 39th season as a play-caller. He served warning to Boston and Brooklyn—and indirectly to the rest of the league—in the Bees' opening game that he was still boss and still inflexible.
Lippy Leo Durocher, the Brooklyn manager and a guy quick to challenge the ump, and Babe Phelps, the Dodgers' catcher, gave Bill the works over a decision against Brooklyn. So Bill drew the line and neither crossed it. (Phelps made the mistake of indulging in a bit of tongue-wagging afterwards and got thumbed

B'ball Season Has Been An Eventful One

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—For a youngster less than three weeks old, the 1940 major league baseball season has established itself as one of the liveliest, newsmost campaigns in the game's history.

From no-hit games to slugging battles and from occasional batches of playable sunshine to snowstorms and flood, this infant season has been a feast of surprises for fans, players and owners alike.

The season opened April 16 with the greatest mass display of brilliant pitching in the game's first-day history. Bob Feller of Cleveland hurled a no-hitter against Chicago's White Sox; old Lefty Grove of Boston, Kirby Hoge of the Phillies and Whitlow Wyatt of Brooklyn all pitched masterful games.

After that opening-day spurge the fans settled back, anticipating a few humdrum weeks of see-saw play in the National league and the quick building of an early lead by the New York Yankees in the American.

What have they had instead? The almost unbelievable string of Brooklyn victories; the Yankees' loss of six of their first 10 games; the first game in major league history washed out by a flood (at Cincinnati) and the phenomena of a heavy, May-day snowstorm which froze-out the Chicago-Boston National league game here yesterday—only a few hours after the same teams had enjoyed almost perfect weather in their series opener.

A lot of comparative secondary activity is providing plenty of "kick" for the playing customers: old Dix Dean's coming on and off the come-back trail; the interest in Detroit's switching Hank Greenberg from first to the outfield; the speculation on how good young Dom DiMaggio will be when or if he ever starts playing regularly with the Boston Red Sox.

Volley Ball And Basketball Are Stanton Sports

STANTON, May 2 (Sp1)—The new Stanton school gymnasium was the scene, Monday evening, of a mixed tournament, in which games of volleyball and basketball were played. Besides school and faculty teams, several teams were made up of local townspeople, to participate in the contests. A large crowd was present.
Among the winners of the contests were the men of the faculty, who defeated the high school girls (two successive volleyball games with the scores of 15 to 8 and 15 to 7, respectively. A hotly contested game of basketball between the "fat" and the "lean" business men of Stanton ended with the "fats" winning, 21 to 18. The men of the faculty defeated the high school boys in another basketball game, 30 to 29.

WILL RAMSDELL CHALKS UP 1ST VICTORY

By HANK HART
The WT-NM league's batter-cup hitters—Howard Taylor's Clovis Pioneers—fell victim to Will Ramsdell's trickery and the overwhelming mace power of the Big Spring Barons Wednesday evening as the homelings closed out their home stay with an impressive 17-3 victory.

Battering the palms for a total of 18 base hits, the locals put on their classic hitting show of the year, sewing up the decision as early as the third inning with a nine run uprising. Tony Rego's forces worked over three pitchers, including Taylor, who went to the hill in the midst of the wild third beat.

Ramsdell had things his way from the start and eased up to coast in after bearing down through the first five rounds. He was stingy with his hits, giving but seven over the route.
No less than five of the locals collected as many as three blows each. Carl Cox, the new far corner custodian, debuted with three singles and drove in five runs. He was joined in the swatfest by Ed Don Muratore, who had a brace of doubles and a single, Bill Scopetone, Snooks Carroll and Steve Stiek.

Thirteen men went batward in the fatal third when seven hits were combined with four bases on balls for the nine runs. Stiek succeeded in scoring twice while Cox collected two of his licks before the side was started.

Bill Hewitt started on the hill for the invaders, giving it up as a bad job to Ed Hyer in the third. Hyer failed to last out the round and Taylor took over, finishing the job despite the fact that his "nuttin'" ball was hit freely.

Ed Laurel, who had gone hitless in two games, unbuttoned his shirt on a couple and got back in the groove.

Pioneers Need New Players To Become Contending Club

In the words of Jake Christie, Clovis pitching veteran, victories of the New Mexico city's baseball club "are going to be as scarce as hen's teeth this season."
The Pioneers, a seventh place club last year, have lost a few valuable pitchers, most of their power, all of their enthusiasm.
Manager Howard Taylor of the Pioneers cannot hope to put a contending ball club on the field with the material he has on hand.
The return of Hack Harrison, one of the league's better hitters in 1938, will help but not enough. Chances are Hack will not hit within 50 per cent of his .357 batting average of last year.
Too, Dick Rastitz, who hit .240 for the New Mexicans in '38, is now wearing an Amarillo uniform. In his place behind the plate is a youngster by the name of Schmidt who will be lucky if he hits .375.

Taylor's inner corner of Williams at third, Adkins at short, Harrison at second and Wagner at first is weak. Adkins and Wagner are potential 300 hitters but to date only Adkins has approached his form of last year. Wagner is being fooled on too many pitches.

Taylor is facing many difficulties. Since Clovis is an independent ball team, he can turn no where for assistance. He should not be blamed for the plight of the club but will suffer for it.

BOOMERS SLAM JACKS, 6 TO 5

By The Associated Press
The Kilgore Boomers could breathe easier today in the East Texas league race.
All the other first division clubs proceeded to lose last night while the Boomers were nosing out Jacksonville 6-5.
Runner-up Palestine was swamped 11-0 by Henderson with Sampe pitching a three-hit game.
Tyler's rejuvenated Trojans continued to win, downing Marshall 6-7.
Texarkana beat Longview 5-4.

Dodgers Must Start Over, Lose, 9-2

By JUDSON BAILEY

The real test for the Brooklyn Dodgers will start today.
This isn't as ridiculous as it may sound, because an era in the lives of the darling Dodgers has just been completed—a miraculous era of nine consecutive victories climaxed by a no-hitter—and today they are just another strong contender in the National League.

The awakening—beaten 9-2 by Cincinnati—was a rude enough to shake any day dreams that may have afflicted the Brooklyn. Hugh Casey was going along pitching a no-hitter for three innings and the writers were wondering what superlatives they could say about a second no-hitter that they hadn't used the day before for Tex Carlton's remarkable exploit.

Then it was boom-boom-boom so fast in the fourth inning Manager Leo Durocher didn't have a chance to get Casey off the mound before the Reds had made six hits and scored eight runs.
The Reds and Dodgers had another date today and since only two games now separate them in the standings, more fireworks were possible.

The rest of the National League was rained out yesterday, but the American had a full day.
The New York Yankees got back in the groove with a well-pitched five-hit game by Monte Pearson giving them a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The Philadelphia Athletics stopped the Cleveland Indians, 5-1, on the effective seventh-inning hurling of Nelson Potter, with Wally Moses and Bob Johnson lending helping hands.

The Boston Red Sox moved back into a tie for first place with a 12-4 conquest of the Chicago White Sox.

The Washington Senators gave away a 10-7 game to the Detroit Tigers, who made four errors in trying not to accept the generous gesture. But Washington's four pitchers prevailed, giving 15 walks and 10 hits.

County Demo Convention Delegates To Be Named In Precincts Saturday

Democrats in the 14 voting boxes of Howard county will face the task of selecting 190 delegates Saturday to the county convention. L. S. Patterson, chairman of the county democratic executive committee gave the total delegates for each box based on the primary election of July 1935 when a record vote was cast here.

Prospect of lively times in some of the precinct meetings was dulled somewhat Tuesday with the announcement that Roosevelt and Garner forces in Texas reached a harmony agreement. Previously, it had appeared that there might be a struggle in the larger town boxes to gain control of the county convention May 7 by instructing precinct delegates either for Roosevelt or for Garner.

At the county convention, 10 delegates will be chosen to attend the state convention on May 25. According to the statement released by Patterson, the various boxes will have the following number of delegates: No. 1 (Big Spring)

Wheeler And Pitman Back FD Policies

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Two democratic senators—Wheeler of Montana and Pittman of Nevada—called today for endorsement of President Roosevelt's administration in the party platform.

"Any other course would be political suicide," said a statement by Wheeler, a candidate for the presidential nomination if Mr. Roosevelt does not run.

Pittman told reporters the platform to be adopted at the national convention "must endorse the principles of the Roosevelt administration," but added that this "does not mean the endorsement of every piece of legislation sent to congress."

Wheeler forecast that the platform would pledge the party to keep out of war, try to bring farm prices to a parity with industry, try to reduce unemployment, and "denounce totalitarianism in all forms."

While democratic platform talk was in the air, Postmaster General Farley arranged for a round of political conferences, including one with Vice President Garner. Both are candidates for the presidential nomination.

From Garner's campaign managers, E. B. Germany and Clara Driscoll, came a statement that the vice president's chances for the nomination "are improving daily."

It was issued following conclusion of an agreement between supporters of Garner and of President Roosevelt that the Texas delegation to the national convention would be pledged to Garner but

School Winners In Austin For League Meet

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Skillful schoolboys and girls of Texas, 1,300 strong, converged on Austin today for the opening of the 80th interscholastic league meet tomorrow.

From a field which last fall numbered 500,000, state champions will be named Saturday afternoon in track and field events, tennis, oratory, one-act plays, typewriting, shorthand and journalism, said Roy Reddick, director of the University of Texas-sponsored league.

Some 500 schoolboy entries will vie for individual and team honors in 14 track and field contests. Qualifying heats will be staged Friday, while finals will be run off beginning at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Forty eight tennis stars from eight state regions will determine boys' and girls' championships Friday and Saturday.

Mediterranean Is Vital Oil Supply Line For Great Britain, France

TULSA, May 2 (AP)—Diversions of Britain's shipping from the Mediterranean would cut one of the allies' direct supply lines for a necessity of modern warfare—oil.

While sources here pointed out that Britain and France, especially Britain, have been obtaining much of their oil for their war machines from South America and the Netherlands West Indies, they said direct access to a substantial supply would be lost if the Mediterranean is closed to British tankers.

No figures for war needs have been obtainable but France and England bought a total of about 400,000 barrels daily before hostilities began.

Altogether, Iraq, Iran and Rumania were estimated to have made available about 165,000 barrels of oil, or its refined products to the allies through Mediterranean ports.

Some of this supply probably found its way into neutral countries, and it was said some still might be moved to the allies by neutral tankers.

Abadan, on the Persian gulf, was estimated to be exporting about 215,000 barrels daily from Iran, with about 50,000 of it going to the allies through the Red Sea, Suez Canal and Mediterranean. The remainder is needed by Britain in the Far East and Australia.

Should the Suez Canal route be closed, the oil moving westward faces a long and time consuming trip in slow tankers around Africa.

Pipelines from Mosul and Kirkuk in Iraq supply the Mediterranean ports of Tripoli and Haifa with another 85,000 barrels daily of oil controlled by the allies.

In addition, it was said British, American and French companies operating in Rumania have been supplying the British and French with about 30,000 barrels daily by way of the Mediterranean.

STUDENTS RETURN TO THEIR CLASSES

PORT WORTH, May 2 (AP)—Elementary and high school classes of Lake Worth school, marked by a strike of 72 students, were due to reopen today, paving the way for a settlement of the controversy.

Trustees yesterday reached this decision shortly before 175 patrons and students met to consider court action to compel reopening of the school.

The school was closed Tuesday by the board after the students walked out in protest because V. E. Ramsey, high school principal, had not been reelected. Reopening of the school was on condition of no further demonstrations by the students.

TRAINING TROOPS

PARIS, May 2 (AP)—The news service of the Czech national committee reported today that Germany, after starting to destroy the "Czech Maginot Line," now is restoring part of the fortifications to train her troops for action on the western front.

Celebrations Have Backing Of Uncle Sam

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 2. (AP)—Uncle Sam this summer is "angeling" a $100,000 theatrical venture for the Southwest.

In the role of show-backer, he has dug into his jeans to finance a road show in which everybody and his sister in New Mexico, Arizona and West Texas can take a crack at playing "Coronado and Conquistador."

It's part of the Southwest's super-special four-star attraction being staged in connection with the Coronado Cuarto Centennial—the 400th anniversary of Francisco Vasquez de Coronado's conquest of the Southwest.

Coronado, a Spanish boy from below the border who made good in 1940 although he failed to find any gold in 1540, left a hero's role to be filled at every stop on the show's travels over the three-state area.

To give everyone a crack at seeing the footlights from behind, local casts of 500 to 800 are to be enrolled to support the principal actor and the lovely Beatriz, Frankie's wife.

The show, "Coronado's Entrada," is to be presented in 17 Southwestern cities over a 6,000-mile itinerary starting here May 29. Everything from lighting systems to horses goes along.

As underwriter, Uncle Sam foots the bills for getting the show in production, for the costumes, the props, the stage as long as a football field, and the transportation.

STATE WINS AND LOSES TAX CASES

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—The state won one tax case and lost another in the supreme court Wednesday. The secretary of state was defeated in an important case in which he sought to collect additional corporation franchise taxes from the Atlantic Pipeline company. The supreme court refused to reconsider a holding of the Austin civil appeals tribunal that most of the pipeline company's operations were interstate in character and therefore not subject to the franchise levy.

The court declined to review another decision of the Austin civil appeals tribunal sustaining chain store taxes levied against the H. E. Butt Grocery company with headquarters at Harlingen and the Southwest Texas Grocery corporation with headquarters at Del Rio. The state took the position the 34 stores should be considered as one unit because Butt assertedly owned a majority of stock in both corporations. The corporations contended they were separate entities. The state tax is graduated upward according to the number of stores in a chain.

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The weather bureau reported today that April rains ended threatening drought conditions in much of the midwestern farm belt. However, an area comprising the west-central and southwestern great plains continued relatively dry. Okla. Waters Are Covering The Highways

DISNEY, Okla., May 2 (AP)—Capitive waters of the $20,000,000 Grand river dam today were burying the first of the highways involved in an unsettled state-federal dispute and threatening to turn this little damsite town into an "island."

Rising backwaters in a branch of the Grand river, which is backing into a 52,000 acre reservoir behind the dam here, overflowed about 300 feet of U. S. highway 59 near Grove, Okla.

Traffic nearly had halted and barricades were ordered erected at two points.

Disney, perched at the east end of the dam, planned itself as an "island" appealing to the tourist trade but the little boomtown hasn't any bridges. Highway outlets will be east and west, the dam-created lake extending north and south. A road atop the dam isn't open yet and routes eastward include small fords, quickly made hazardous by rains.

PRESIDENT ASKED TO RECALL ENVOY FROM VATICAN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 2 (AP)—The general conference of the Methodist church today formally asked President Roosevelt to recall Myron C. Taylor, his personal envoy to the vatican.

"His appointment," the official pronouncement read, "has created a spirit of uneasiness and resentment in the minds of a great number of people, and instead of promoting peace has engendered discord and strife, which seems calamitous at this time when there is imperative need for harmonious united action on the part of all those who fear God and love righteousness."

It passed over vigorous protests by several delegates who said "this is no time to stir up religious hatreds."

Make The Census Accurate

Census figures are supposed to be disclosed, except from the bureau in Washington, after the count is completed. But always there are off-the-record estimates or intimations that give interested folks in most cities some idea of what the population will be, and already there are grumblings that many people must have been missed by the enumerators, because the total is not nearly what it ought to be.

That is because it is the custom of many civic agencies and public-spirited citizens, and these estimates are always too high, each city having a natural desire to be as big as possible, in the belief that bigness means it is a better city, which sometimes is true but most often not.

Then there is the estimate based on the number of public utility connections, forgetful of the fact that more and more families each year are availing themselves of these conveniences and that the ratio of people to such connections is constantly decreasing.

There should be, and probably will be, some increase in most of the cities of Texas—in the larger, because large cities are nearly all growing larger all the time, and in smaller ones because of the influx of people from the country to get "on the work" as employment by WPA and other agencies is commonly referred to. Otherwise there would be but slight basis for anticipating much increase in the average small city population.

Chambers of commerce doubtless will, and should, take steps to see, after enumerators have finished their work, that no one is overlooked. Many people, however, are enumerated without being personally visited, their data being supplied by a member of the family, so there should be care to see that individuals have really been overlooked before statement is made, charging an enumerator with failing to count everybody.

As much care should be taken to see that the enumeration is not falsely exaggerated as to see that it is complete. The main thing is that the census should be accurate.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—That there's nothing new under the sun has become such a trite phrase that anyone who reads may run off at the mouth with it a dozen times a day without getting more response than a casual "ain't it so?"

Nevertheless, ever since the European wildfire burned into Sudestenland and spread to the Finnish forests, reams have been written and more reams talked about "new methods" of warfare. With the German foray into Scandinavia, this talk has broken out anew. Commentators and military observers are at it hammer and tongs.

BUT WAIT A BIT

Armies, guns and supplies, dropped from the skies—marvelous! Thousands of troops ferried by planes across the Skagerrak into suffering Norway—wonderful! The old troop transport system soon will be obsolete. Better start junking the ships. Better start building armadas of the skyways.

Submarines and planes, the brand new way of dealing with the death. That A. Hitler and his gang—what geniuses! They've made the only really original contribution to warfare in our generation.

Wait a minute before you start passing out any medals—if credit it can be called—to A. Hitler, Stalin K Kammerada, Inc. Let's take a look at three letters dug up by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Letter No. 1, dated 1784 and written by a man who had just witnessed several balloon ascensions: "It appears, as you observe, to be a discovery of great importance, and what may possibly give a new turn to human affairs. Convincing sovereigns of the folly of wars may perhaps be one effect of it; since it will be impracticable for the most potent of them to guard his dominions. Five thousand balloons, capable of raising two men each, could not cost more than five ships of the line, and where is the prince who can afford so to cover his country with troops for its defense, as that 10,000 men descending from the clouds might not in many places do an infinite deal of mischief, before a force could be brought together to repel them?"

The author? Benjamin Franklin!

AND THAT'S NOT ALL

But wait! Go back more than 200 years, to 1670 and hear what Father Francesco Lana had to say about an airplane which he invented, but which, because of poverty, he could not build:

"It may be thought that God will never suffer this invention to take effect, because of the many consequences which may disturb the civil governments of men. For who sees not that no city can be secure against attack, since our ship may at any time be placed directly over it and descending down, may discharge soldiers. The same would happen to private houses or ships at sea. And this they may do not only to ships but to great buildings, castles, cities, with such security that they which cast these things down from a great height out of gunshot cannot on the other side be offended by those below."

And that's not all! 170 years before that, old Leonardo da Vinci, drew marvelous plans for a submarine, and in his notes set forth this reason for not making his invention public:

"How by an appliance many are able to remain for some time under water, how and why I do not describe my method of remaining under water for as long a time as I can remain without food; and this I do not publish or divulge on account of the evil nature of men who would practice assassination at the bottom of the seas, by breaking the ships in their lowest parts and sinking them together with the crews who are in them."

So you see if there's anything new under Mars, Hitler et al. didn't think of it first.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Sardi's is a famous restaurant in West 44th street where theatrical people and writers frequently gather. The other night after the opening of "Morning Star" this scene took place:

Two men came in and sat near a table where a lone diner sipped a bowl of onion soup.

One of these men was Martin Gable, co-backer of the comedy, "Life With Father," and also producer of various radio shows, including "Medicine Show Gable's companion was unknown to us, but they must have been discussing personalities for this man suddenly inquired: "Who would you rather be than anyone else on Broadway?"

Gable thought that over for a moment. Finally he said, "Paul Muni."

Across the way the lone diner touched his napkin to his lips, got up, and moved across to where they were sitting. He bowed low. "I thank you, Muni said, 'but for the life of me I can't understand why."

Gable almost fell out of his chair.

In our opinion the new south seas club. The Hurricane, doesn't quite come off. This is the spot that has gone Semoan-Tahitian-Hawaiian at considerable expense, but beneath the grass skirts there is still a little too much of Broadway. It is a wish room, and one that its backers have high hopes of. Maybe these hopes will be justified. To us it seemed as if a lot of nice little Broadway chorus girls were merely playing charades for the evening. It isn't their fault. We liked the music—both the rumba and the Hawaiian the latter by Eddie Bush. But when we go to see hula dancing we like for the hula to be hula!

Take it from Ezra Stone, the horses have changed. After sampling the parimutuels at Jamaica, Stone came wagging his head back to Broadway—with this cockeyed yarn:

Two horses it seems were grazing in a pasture when an impudent little filly scampered past.

Horse No. 1—"What's she got to be so stuck up about?"

Horse No. 2—"Plenty. Her old man happens to be Man O' War. He just gave her 250 bales of hay—and mister, that ain't money."

As it was in the beginning, is now, and always will be, the circus this year is a big hit in New York. The same old thing, the tigers, the leopards, the clowns and the acrobats, yet they never fail. Any other show that didn't come up with a complete assortment of new material would languish and die. But the circus never changes. And it prospers every year.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—For today's embarrasing predicament I nominate Republic studios and the gentlemen concerned with a movie entitled "Doctor's Don't Tell."

They bought the magazine story, and then they started to film it. It is about a refugee doctor (Charles Coburn) and his pretty daughter (Sigrid Geric) who come to America and find themselves wanted in the Dust Bowl. Sigrid finds herself wanted, in time, by the handsome farmer (John Wayne), and romance flourishes.

Well, the thing is getting along famously. There's only one drawback. As the story progresses, it bears less and less resemblance to the story which inspired it. The title has no bearing whatever, which ordinarily doesn't bother anybody around the picture business. However, they like the title. They want to keep it. And what are they going to do about it?

"We're going to work the title in—somehow, somewhere—before the picture's finished," they'll tell you.

That reminds me of this studio's epic of last year which began as "Wagons Westward." That's a good title, but they didn't want one that sounded like just another western. They made it "Man of Conquest"—and now, if you look over the production sheet, you'll see "Wagons Westward" listed. It's another story and another cast.

I found the master DeMille in a genial mood on the set of his new epic, and we got to talking about Indians. He is using plenty of them in "North West Mounted Police," and he is concerned about Indians.

"There are just about a hundred full-blooded Indians left for pictures," he informed me sadly.

"Only a hundred?" It made me sad, too. "What has happened?"

"Best," said the Master cryptically, and waited. "Best," I came through obligingly.

Best. There are strong-armed Indians—with fat paunches. The Indians of the plains had strong arms and no paunches. They never had heard of Milwaukee.

As one of the earliest members of the Madeleine Carroll for Queen club, I think a protest is in order. Here is that blonde beauty in a picture again (it's DeMille's) with unfair competition. She can stand it, but here she is playing a well-bred, gentle role in a movie that has Paulette Goddard flashing around as a wildcat halfbreed.

It's like putting Venus de Milo on a set with Lupe Velez. You may admire Venus, but Lupe wouldn't let you watch anybody else. And then there was "My Son, My Son!" Madeleine was nice and beautiful, while two actors—Hayward and Aherne—uncharacteristically acted themselves into the major share of attention. We Madeleine for Queen members haven't read the DeMille script, so we don't know that Madeleine is to be just a beautiful back-drop, but if that's how it is, we'll be ready with our scalping knives.

LITTLE SPITFIRE

By Jean Randall

Chapter 18 EXPLANATION

"Really the safest friends for you in this neighborhood are the Misses Ponsonby," Mac informed her. "Sweet, if withered spigeters, restfully feminine. Not an ambition between 'em," he went on dreamily. "No desire to make money, have a career, do anything, in short, save make their men friends comfortable."

Gone in a flash was Brenda's new-found amiability, gone was her docile acquiescence with his opinions. She sat straight in her chair, her eyes sparkling, every curl apparently tightening in rage.

"Just nice comfortable featherbed, in fact, yielding to the slightest pressure, totally lacking the slightest vestige of a backbone!"

"Featherbeds don't have backbones, my child. If you're going to write, you must learn not to mix your metaphors."

"I shall mix them if I please! And nothing on earth would induce me to fall back on the Ponsonby sisters for companionship."

"No ambition save to make their men friends comfortable? If that isn't masculine conceit I never heard it displayed! Mac, I do really think—"

"I sighed. 'My fault! I apologize! I'm sorry I ever said it—whatever it was! Brenda, do we always have to fight? Couldn't we spend just one peaceful evening now and then? I'll tell you," he proposed. "Say on alternate Thursdays and Sundays we agree to dwell in love and harmony—well, in harmony, at all events."

"I am very easy to get along with," she informed him loftily. "At home I have the reputation of being a very agreeable person."

"Gee, you lie, and you know it. A spitfire you'll die—unless you marry a brute who will club you into submission."

"Perhaps you'd like to undertake the task?" Her voice was as sweet and cold as lemon ice.

"God forbid!" He spoke in genuine alarm. "I'm a hard working man with neither time nor strength to discipline a small whirlwind like Miss Brenda Burnham. When I marry—"

"Yes!" she prompted as he paused. He shook his head. "I shall never marry!"

"Oh, but you will, Mac! You're exactly the sort of man who needs to become a domestic drudge in order to be happy. I can see you tinkering with the leaking faucet on Saturday afternoon, taking the two oldest out for a walk on sunny Sundays, leaving the office ten minutes early to buy the loaf of Vienna bread your wife couldn't get at the neighborhood baker's."

He smiled at her. "It's not such a bad picture you paint, my dear. I can imagine enjoying all those things—with the right woman."

She maintained a self-righteous silence. Not Brenda would question him coquettishly about that "right woman."

The front door slammed and Isabel came in. She looked gay and rather smart in her new taffeta evening frock with its jacket of silver brocade. Her eyes were dancing.

"Oh, dears, what do you think? I'm going on the Matinee Hour! Every afternoon except Sunday! And scads of money!"

Mac's voice was warm with pleasure. "Good for you! You deserve every bit of success that comes to you." He was on his feet, holding out both hands. "Here, sit here and tell us about it!"

She was still telling Mac about it half an hour later when Brenda slipped away to bed. Though they bade her a polite good night, she was convinced that neither of them really knew she had left the room.

Single-Minded Ned Barrow arrived on Friday and promptly telephoned Brenda. There was a pre-emptory note in his voice which she met in her own direct fashion.

"I've got to see you, Ned," she told him. "About something important."

"You bet your sweet life you've got to see me! And I'll tell the world it's important!"

"When?"

"I'll have the car in front of your house in ten minutes."

She chuckled as she took off her smock and put on a scarlet crepe gown, pulled a small matching felt hat down over her ears and caught up a light coat. She liked Ned's single-mindedness. He wanted what he wanted when he wanted it! She found herself hoping that in spite of the mysterious girl with her child and her apparent claim on the young millionaire, he would win Elaine Abernathy.

He barely gave her time to get settled beside him before he began. "Well? How do matters stand with Elaine?"

She was not to be outdone in forthrightness. "Ned, who was the girl you met in a downtown drugstore and paid money to? A girl with a baby named for you?"

"What!" he shouted. "Who the devil has been telling you—"

"It's true then?" she questioned sorrowfully.

"Of course it's true. But how anyone found out, or what business it is of theirs—"

"It might be Ab's business, don't you think? And Elaine's?"

He stared at her with puzzled

WOMEN GET MANY
P. O. APPOINTMENTS

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The United States mail is not so male, after all.

Postmaster Farley disclosed today that 27 per cent of the postmaster appointments in the last seven years have gone to women.

And the ladies have got some pretty big jobs. The list of post-offices on the distaff side includes: Los Angeles; Little Rock, Ark.; Fall River, Mass.; Portland, Maine; Arbor, Mich.; Galveston, Texas; Camden, N. J.; Oakland, Calif.; Minot, N. D.; and Long Beach, N. Y.

ROBERTS IS 65

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts observed his 65th birthday anniversary today. He has been on the bench since 1930.

Garner Makes 'Long' Speech

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Usually taciturn John Nance Garner made a speech at a dinner last night and before he was through it had run into sizeable wordage—at least sizeable for the vice president.

He was heard at a dinner given by Texas business men for the congressional delegation of their state.

"I'm not going to say anything that amounts to a darn thing now," Garner declared at the outset then wound up by asserting:

"Until you have a candidate you'll never have a president of the United States."

Garner said that when he became vice president he "entered into an agreement" with President Roosevelt regarding his public utterances.

The vice president added that he agreed never to make any recommendations for office or as to legislative policy unless his advice was asked.

He took notice that many Texans held important committee assignments in congress and said it behooved a state to return an incumbent to congress if he "was honest and intelligent."

Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, introduced Garner.

The business men giving the dinner were here attending the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting.

FAR CRY FROM THE WAR—While British authorities tackle the problem of what to do with the children who returned to crowded London as a result of the winter's war "inactivity," these little evacuees enjoy the hospitality of Lady Dorothy MacMillan at Chelwoodgate, England. Thousands of youngsters returned home, when air raids failed to materialize.

Hospital Notes

Big Spring Hospital

Birth of a daughter, at the hospital Thursday morning, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson. The baby, weighing six and one-half pounds, has been named Delia Mae.

James Edward Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Brooks, who was injured last Friday evening in a bicycle-truck mishap, was able to return to his home Thursday.

Dean Sparks of Eastland, who had undergone major surgery, was dismissed from the hospital Thursday.

TEXAS GAINING IN LIBRARY SERVICE

FORT WORTH, May 2 (AP)—Texas, although still one of the lowest ranking states in the union in per capita expenditures for public library service, has been making rapid gains during the last decade, particularly in the field of county libraries.

This was pointed out at an institute of county libraries held here today as a pre-convention feature of a four-day Texas Library association meeting, opening tonight.

Among the speakers were Miss Dorothy Journey, Austin, extension director of the state library, and Miss Katherine Ard, Neuces county.

LOST: A LICENSE

KANSAS CITY, May 2 (AP)—Richard Jones, 22-year-old caddy, and Miss Annabelle Hogue, 18, hope someone will hurry up and return their marriage license. They lost it rushing to a minister's home and they don't want to buy another.

SHARP SEEKS SECOND TERM ON COURT

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—John H. Sharp of Ennis formally announced his candidacy today for a second six-year term as associate justice of the state supreme court.

Nominees for two of the three places on the court will be chosen in the democratic primaries this summer. In addition to the associate justice, the people will vote on a chief justice to serve out the term of the late C. M. Cureton. W. F. Moore of Paris, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointee to the chief justiceship, perhaps will seek to continue in that post.

Judge Sharp had been a member of the supreme court commission of appeals for five years prior to his election to the state's highest tribunal in 1934.

THE LAST STRAW

CAMDEN, N. J., May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy C. Kipp of Burlington, N. J., told a divorce master she kept her troubles to herself when her husband, Samuel, of Altoona, Pa.,

Knocked her down and kicked her, hit her with a bed lamp, pulled a gun on her while they were out for an automobile ride and threatened to throw her down a well.

But when he threw her out a kitchen window, she testified, she decided to do something about it. She sued for divorce—and got it.

NO NIGHT BASEBALL

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 2 (AP)—Base hits are illegal after 10:45 p. m. in Lewiston. District Judge A. H. Featherstone fixed the curfew hour in deciding a suit of five home owners who charged that night baseball was a nuisance.

NEGRO SOUGHT IN HOUSTON SLAYING

HOUSTON, May 1 (AP)—A negro was sought today for killing John Frank Lee, 42, unemployed automobile mechanic, and for assaulting his wife, Lola, 37.

Mrs. Lee said the negro, armed with a pistol, made three visits to the Lee home and on the second fatally shot her husband. On the third trip, she said, the negro forced her into a bedroom and attacked her, the pistol pressed against her.

Two sons of the couple, Earl 13, and Edgar, 15, were in the three-room house. Another son, Elmer, 17, was away at a CCC camp. Edgar slept through the shooting and attack, Mrs. Lee said.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2 (AP)—Booming business brought Alabama's iron industry back to World war production peaks today with every blast furnace in this area in operation.

Pig iron output jumped to 100 per cent when two furnaces, out for several weeks for repairs and rebuilding, began pouring iron. Steel remained at the relatively high level of 83 per cent, up five points from the low of the year, and some observers regarded as significant the fact that all nine of the blast furnaces which supply steel mills were in full operation.

eyes which slowly cleared into angry comprehension.

"So? That's what they think, is it—Ab and Alaine?"

"Alaine doesn't know a thing in the world about it."

He sighed with relief. "Well, thank heaven for that! I don't think I could have borne it if Alaine had so misjudged me."

She seized gladly on the last two words. "Misjudged you? Ha! I thought so. Suppose you tell me all about it, Ned."

"Suppose I don't." His lips set in a stubborn line. "It's nobody's business but mine and the girl's. I'm not under obligation to go around explaining every foul idea some evil-minded idiot has about me."

"Don't be so wholesale about it, Ned," she bade him. "It's only one idea—hardly that. But yourself in—well, in the place of anyone who is a friend of Alaine's. If you were witness to the sort of scene we're talking of, wouldn't you feel justified in requiring an explanation from the hero of it—or of the villain, as the case might be? At least before you advised Alaine to elope with you—I mean with the villain?"

Half-Sister

He turned the car around in the middle of the block, causing a traffic officer to blow a warning whistle after him.

"Ned! Where are you going?"

"To lick the tar out of Ab Abernathy."

"I would," she jeered. "It will make Alaine welcome you with open arms, and promote a nice family feeling all around. Ned Barrow, you behave yourself if you want me to help you! I've no time to waste on ridiculous boys."

He simmered for five blocks, then unwillingly slowed down.

"All right. What d'you want to know?"

"Who that girl in the drugstore was, Ned."

"You consider that a fair question? One I ought to answer?"

"Most certainly I do." And then as he seemed unable to break his sulky silence, she said despairingly: "Oh, why will men act like such idiots! Here I am leaving my work in the middle of the afternoon, doing my very best to further your cause with Alaine, and do you help me the least bit in the world? You do not. You brace your forehead and roll your eyes and heshaw in the setting sun. All right, my dear, all right! It's nothing to me whether you ever see Alaine again or not. She's nothing to me; you're nothing to me. I'm sorry I ever interested myself in the affair. Take me home, please. I'd like to finish a chapter before dinnertime."

He smiled at her crookedly.

"You win! Gosh, what a hard-boiled little tartar you are, Brenda! I sure pity Mac!"

She stiffened in the seat beside him. "Will you kindly explain that last remark, Ned Barrow?"

"No offense—golly to Moses, Brenda, no offense at all! It was merely a passing thought. It has passed."

"It had better pass," she informed him sternly. "Now if you can keep your mind on your own affairs long enough to explain—"

"The girl is my half sister," he said briefly.

"What! But why—? Does Alaine—?"

"No. Nobody knows. My father was married twice. His first wife ran off, taking Cynthia—the girl in the drugstore—with her. There was a divorce. When dad married my mother he came to live in this part of town. I suppose not even Ab would expect him to get out engraved announcements to say that he had been married before?"
