Achievement

Should not a special day be set aside for offering thanks to the manufacturers of automobiles? How often do you hear of an accident that is due to a defect for which the maker could be blamed? Very rarely.

The automobile manufacturers are entitled to high honor for this achievement. Without compulsory laws or government inspection they have produced a product which has safeguarded the lives and limbs of the entire population. Accidents, with the exception of a minute percentage, are due to the carelessness or recklessness of drivers. Wheels do come off and then may be due to the negligence of owners.

I have never heard a manufacturer boast of this achievement. Possibly they are restrained by superstition.—Exchange.

Honorable Cecil A. Lotief, who has served the 107th district honorably and admirably, consisting of Callahan and Eastland counties, faces a runoff. Lotief has a good record and a clean one. He has received many words of praise for his work from his colleagues on all sides.—That is something worth while in any man's life, politically or otherwise.—It has been noticeable that Lotief administered the affairs of his office unbiased, without discrimination and heved to the line of duty as an American citizen and a subject of the State, of Texas as would be expected of any honest public servant that was placed in office by the vote of the people.—Eastland Telegram.

Valuable Advice

Mrs. C. K. Peek tells us that the most enthusiastic praise she can get for her cooking is to have Mr. Peek pass his plate back for a second or third helping. "This beats anything that words can express when it comes to showing approval," she says. "When it comes to compliments that husband of mine is the most cheerful fiber in the world; but when he passes his plate back for more or asks for another helping or another cup of coffee, I know he likes it."

Eugene Sunderman: "What are the dining hours at your club?"

Willie Geter: "From 6 to 8 for all except the committee."

Eugene: "Why the exception?"

Willie: "Because Rule 5 says: The committee is at liberty at any time to fill any vacancy in their body."

A Frenchman was relating his experience of studying the English language. He said:

"When I first discovered that if I was quick, I was fast, that if I was tied I was fast, if I spent too freely I was fast and that not to eat was to fast, I was discouraged. But when I came across the sentence, 'The first one won one-dollar prize' I gave up trying to learn the English language."

OLD SKIPPER

Charles Winger, who portrays his famous role of "Captain Andy," in Universal's screen version of "Show Boat," the attraction coming to the Plaza Theatre on preview Saturday night and again Sunday and Monday, received his first taste of showboat tramping almost 40 years ago. While still in his teens he left a tent show to play aboard James Adams' famous old floating theatre, "Cotton Blossom." Bad weather on the Mississippi that season convinced young Winger that land tramping was much more agreeable and he returned to solid ground. Winger has also played "Captain Andy" on the stage and over the radio.

Albert Weed of Hart and Louis Weed of Dan Horn were Putnam visitors Saturday.

UNION SCHOOL BUILDING BURNED

The Union school building of the Union community was burned last Friday night. Origin of the fire is not known, as the fire was first discovered about four or five o'clock in the morning when smoke was seen coming out of the roof of the building. It is reported that there was $11,000.00 insurance on the building and fixtures. This building was erected about five or six years ago and was one of the best buildings in the county. It was an all ground floor structure containing about eight class rooms and an auditorium. It is not known what arrangements are being made for this term of school, however several pupils have transferred to the Putnam district.

DROUGHT BECOMING SERIOUS AROUND PUTNAM

The drought is becoming serious around Putnam. The feed crops are burning and will be ruined within the next few days unless rain falls. The cotton is beginning to fail and unless it gets rain soon, it will be greatly damaged and the crop will be reduced considerably from what it appeared it would produce a few weeks ago. Also water is becoming scarce and a number of people are hauling at the present time. The city supply is getting low and if dry weather continues it will not last longer than October 1st.

PUTNAM MAY HAVE WPA ROAD PROJECT

Efforts of Pete King, county commissioner of Precinct No. 3, and others to obtain a road project using WPA assistance may terminate in a road project for the precinct in the near future. Quoting from a letter Mr. King received:

"Since the beginning of our program, there has not been sufficient men in the Putnam community to operate a project.—Recently we had thirteen men certified in your precinct; two or three were working on a WPA project in another locality and nine were working on the PWA school building, leaving only two men unassigned. Even taking the men who were on the school job we would still not have enough men to operate a road project in your locality.

"It might be that later on when a project is completed in Mr. Freeland's precinct, we might be able to arrange to use some men from the Cross Plains area and combine them with the Putnam men and operate the road project north of Putnam, or later on they might be brought from Baird provided you could arrange transportation in both cases.

"I believe with the above explanation, you can understand the situation and assure you we will be glad to consider a project in your community when conditions will allow it. In this connection, I call your attention to the fact that we are now employing our allowed quota of men in the district and we cannot add to the number of workers through new certifications.

"Yours very truly,
W. S. James, District Director."

Mrs. Archie Kelley of Big Spring has been visiting in the home of Mr. Kelley's mother, Mrs. Tom Kelley. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kelley are building a new home at Lueders and Mrs. Kelley has spent several days there recently.

There has been unloaded one car of face brick, and workers are trucking all of the filling brick from Brownwood. Tom Kile has the contract for hauling the brick and has unloaded several thousand already. Tip Ross of Gorman has the contract for erection of the building.

Denton county's first bale of cotton was ginned last Tuesday afternoon and weighed 485 pounds and was classed strict middling. It was to be sold Wednesday. Several other bales were expected to be in soon, as cotton was said to be opening early this season on account of the continued drought and heat. News reports said that cotton in that territory was good and better than an average yield was expected.

VERNON R. KING THANKS PEOPLE OF CALLAHAN CO.

Thanks, friends and voters, for the splendid vote given me in the recent primary. Though I did not receive a majority of the votes cast, I am deeply grateful to those who were loyal and supported me. For your and for my own satisfaction, my campaign was made as those in the past, strictly on my own merits and ability, and clear of dealing in personalities.

I also wish to express my thanks and appreciation for your confidence, and the honor of serving you for the past three and a half years. Your co-operation, accorded me during that time, was a great help to me in discharging the duties of the office, which I trust was done in an efficient and courteous manner. I at all times endeavored to employ the most capable and efficient deputies to help in taking care of your tax matters, and will assure you your records will be found correct and in order.

Again thanking you for all favors extended to me in the past, I am,
Sincerely,
VERNON R. KING.

SENATOR ROBINSON AND THE CONSTITUTION

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader in the United States, commenting upon the acceptance speech of Governor Landon, neatly expresses what he calls in a neat way, "bosh," in the campaign cry, "Save the Constitution," raised by the Republicans. Senator Robinson declared that when enactments of Congress are being held unconstitutional by 5 to 4 decisions of the Supreme Court it is absurd to assume that those who prefer the minority decision favor "wrecking the constitution." It is not how the decision is handed down by the Supreme Court or how many judges are with the majority, as we live in a government that believes in a majority rule and when the court hands down a decision even though it is by a vote of 5 to 4 it is the fundamental law of the land until reversed, and Senator Robinson and every one who is in the United States Congress took an oath to uphold the constitution and laws of the United States, and without an exception every time the court handed down a decision holding some law unconstitutional that had been passed by the New Deal administration, they immediately commenced to have some law passed to give them the same power by violating the court's rule. They claimed all of these laws that were passed curtailing the rights of the citizens were emergency measures but as soon as the court declared them unconstitutional they wanted to make them permanent by passing some subterfuge after taking an oath to support the constitution. We believe that there are a number of men in the United States Congress who have violated their oaths to the citizens of the United States and who are subject to impeachment under the terms of the constitution in the place of reelecting them to another term. It has been suggested that congress reorganize the Supreme Court, and stock it with New Deal politicians so that they could put over the entire New Deal program which has been the worst failure of anything that ever occurred in the United States. The pointing to big profits by some of the large corporations as evidence of recovery is pure bunk for political purposes. We will agree that prices have been jacked up under N. R. A. and other New Deal legislation until there is prosperity for a small percent of the population; but the multitudes are in dire circumstances and as proof we have to only point to reports on relief which is more than 20,000,000 as reported by administrator Hopkins and more than 11,000,000 (million) unemployed after an expenditure of about $17,000,000,000 (billion) of the people's money. The burning question in the 1932 campaign was the reemploying of the unemployed and in the good year 1936 the same question is before the people, how are we going to employ the unemployed, as there is as many unemployed today as there ever were if we drop those who are employed on government projects which is more than 7,000,000 and by adding these to the unemployed of more than 11,000,000 (million) plus the 7,000,000 which would equal more than 18,000,000 instead of 15,000,000 in 1933 at the time this regimentation was begun. Have we made any progress?

END OF 1935-36 COTTON YEAR

The first figures on the production and consumption of American cotton has been made public by Secretary Plauché of the New Orleans Cotton

Times Do Change

by A. B. Chapin

Exchange, giving the commercial cotton crop of 1935-6 just closed on July 31, and he places the production at 13,321,000 bales against 9,470,000 bales last season and 13,368,000 bales two seasons ago. The world's consumption of American lint cotton was placed at 12,405,000 bales against 11,537,000 bales last season and 13,368,000 bales two seasons ago. The carryover of American lint cotton at the close of the season was 6,732,000 bales against 8,728,000 bales last season and 10,598,000 bales two seasons ago. Exports for the season 6,257,000 bales against 5,038,000 bales last season and 7,729,000 bales two seasons ago.

Domestic mill operations continue at a comparable high rate; also the sales of finished goods with prices strong and little second hand goods being offered. No doubt the high basis maintained for the actual cotton has restricted the placing of more forward sales by the mills.

However, with the small stock of American cotton carried over by the mills and merchants, it is thought the replacement necessary by the trade will create a large demand for new crop shipment.

The above figures look bullish and that we might have higher prices for cotton; but when we look at it from another standpoint it doesn't look so bright since the President raised the tariff on cotton goods 42 percent and after taking a look at our export trade. If it had not been for the raise in our tariff there is no doubt but that our exports would have been about seven million bales, as our exports have dwindled to practically nothing for the last two months. There was shipped out of Brazil a short time ago 30,000 bales of cotton—the largest cargo ever shipped from that country at one time and all of it went to Japan with the exception of about 280 bales. Also Germany has bargained with Brazil for two hundred thousand bales and both countries gave as their reason the raising of the tariff and stated that if the American government would not take any of their goods they could not buy American raw cotton and this is the result of politics at Washington. Japan was the best buyer of American cotton that we had and to raise the tariff 42 percent on cotton goods was a direct slap at the Japanese trade and it will keep out about two million dollars worth of manufactured cotton goods; but at the same time it will lose us the sale of $90,000,000 of raw cotton. No business man that knew anything about business would slap the best customer he had in the face as has been done in this case. Do you think keeping out of this country the sale of $2,000,000 worth of manufactured goods is worth the loss of the sale of $100,000,000 (million) of raw material? There is something wrong with

31 MAJOR COMPANIES CHARGED WITH PRICE FIXING INDICTED

There were indictments filed in 23 cases against major oil companies under the Sherman anti-trust laws, charging them with violating the law in the matter of price fixing and other violations alleged in the indictment. There are 34 who were named in the true bill, in addition to the oil companies, they included 58 individuals.

The defendants names among the first warrants issued were nine for the arrest of prominent Chicagoans included Edward G. Suebert, president of the Standard Oil of Indiana, Henry M. Daws, president of the Pure Oil Company, Keith Fanshier, petroleum editor of the Chicago Journal of Commerce and Bryan S. Reid, Chicago executive of Secony Vacuum Oil Company.

Federal prosecutors there, cooperating with authorities who directed the investigation resulting in the formal charges of conspiracy to manipulate the price of gasoline to the independent jobbers in 10 midwest states, said bonds of $5,000 in each cash would be demanded.

Hometowns Question Success

There is a certain little cross-roads hamlet which in all its history has produced just one famous man. A visitor parked his car in front of the general store one day and, having made a small purchase, sat down on the steps beside a grizzled old resident.

"Come from the East?" the veteran asked. "New York?"

"The visitor nodded. "Ever hear of a fellow named Sam Smith?"

"If you mean Dr. Samuel Smith," said the visitor, "why everybody has heard of him. He's one of the famous surgeons of the world."

"So they tell me, so they me," the old settler ruminated. "They tell me he has a private chauffeur and makes thousands of dollars a year. Can't hardly believe it, myself. Seems like there must be some mistake. People in New York ain't so smart as they're supposed to be, I guess. Why, I knew Sam Smith when he used to run around this here town with his pants held up by one suspender."

An interesting treatise could be written about the stigmatism of the home town. It seldom can see the full stature of its famous son because its vision is blurred by memories of the insignificant boy. The Great Teacher went back to Nazareth "where he had been brought up." He had attracted crowds in Jerusalem, performed mighty words, but the home-town met him with a sneering scepticism. In Springfield, Illinois, there were stubborn folks who contended up to the very end that Abraham Lincoln was over-rated.

The home town answer, in most instances, has been one of doubt. The home town never can quite forget that it knew him when he used to have his pants held up by only one suspender.

Success in "Second" Mile

A sermon which sticks in my memory was preached from the text: "Whosoever shall compel thee to go with him one mile, go with him twain."

This seemingly absurd injunction, said the preacher, is actually the secret formula for successful living. Who is the man who gets ahead in business? It is he who, being compelled by the rules to travel the first mile—the mile from nine o'clock to five—voluntarily adds a second—the mile of over time, extra thought, and added effort. Who are the couples who enjoy happy marriages? Those who, having sworn to travel the first compulsory mile of fidelity and financial support, gladly add the second mile of thoughtfulness, tenderness, and mutual respect.

A friend had a very sick child, and his own physician, baffled and worried, advised calling in one of the most famous consultants in New York. The consultant is a quiet, assured man, well over sixty years of age, and it took him only a few minutes to make his diagnosis and prescribe a treatment under which the child began immediately to improve.

My friend said to the doctor: "How in the world does he do it?" To which the doctor replied: "That man has had one of the best consulting practices in New York for twenty-five years. His annual income must have been around $100,000. But all that time, and right up to now, he sees patients only half a day. The afternoons he spends in the hospitals, going through wards from bed to bed, studying every case. The result is that where one of us sees a dozen cases of a certain type in a year, or even in a life-time, he sees a thousand. Another man, having reached the heights of the profession, might have settled back and been content with his big fees. This man studies harder today than any one of us."

Travelling the first mile diligently, a man can make a living; it is the second mile that makes success.

12 TEXAS COUNTIES ADDED TO DROUGHT RELIEF DISTRICT

The President placed 34 more counties on the drought relief list last Monday, 12 of which are located in Texas. The twelve in Texas are Archer, Childress, Clay, Collingsworth, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger, and Wise.

Sources close to the agricultural department's drought committee said officials turned their attention chiefly to the possibility of making feed loans to farmers through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Governor Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, it is said, had called the attention of federal authorities to increasing fear among farmers that heavy purchases of feed stock by the private trade meant higher prices during the winter season.

FARM NOTES

(ROSS B. JENKINS, County Agent)

Trench Silo Demonstration Planned at Old Settlers' Picnic

So many people are inquiring and writing about the trench silo which is winning approval over all the United States that permission has been given the county agent by the officials of the Old Settlers' Picnic to place a small trench silo demonstration near the grounds so that all persons interested in learning how to preserve the wonderful feed crop this year may see and hear suggestions that may be put into practice on their farms.

This picnic as announced in another place in this paper is to be held on the Bayou on the McCoy ranch 14 miles south of Baird, August 14, and everyone is invited to attend, especially to do honor to the lovable old people who yet live to inspire the younger of this generation.

Weed and Grass Killer

There has probably never been more concern among the farmers with their problems than today over the spreading of Johnson grass, Bermuda grass, and obnoxious weeds. The following solution is suggested as a cheap eradication and has been found by the Department of Agriculture to be very effective. It should be applied when the weeds or grass are about matured. One pound of white arsenic, 2 pounds sal soda (sodium carbonate) and 9 gallons of water. The mixture should be boiled together until the solution is clear. When this solution is sprayed on the weeds or grass or cultivated plants it will kill them. Caution: Some farmers add large amounts of water to the above mixture and use it as a spray to destroy leaf worms, but the danger to the plant is so great that it should never be practiced. The above solution when made into one gallon of water and then poured into slots cut as chips from trees will kill the trees. This formula is known in scientific circles as Keszle formula. It should always be boiled outside the house and care should be taken that it does not come in contact with the skin.

Soremouth in Sheep and Goats

Sheep men, especially, have been bothered in Callahan county this summer with soremouth. It is also an infectious disease that occurs just as often among goats. The technical name is Contagious Eithyma. It is quite prevalent on the large sheep and goat raising range of Western Texas and elsewhere. Sometimes it is also very troublesome among feeder lambs in the feed lot. Older animals may be infected artificially or from getting the emulsion in cuts or bruises.

The disease manifests itself by a swelling of the lips followed by papules, vesicles, pustules, and scab formation so that the lips become unpalatable and stick together by a brown crust. The crusts finally slough off and the wounds heal without leaving a scar. The disease itself is not very fatal but losses from screw worm infestation of the wounds, from reduced thriftiness of the young animals, or from shrinkage in the feed lots may be very heavy. Sheep that once have the disease become immune.

The disease is invariably found to occur among lambs.

TREATMENT: Medical treatment for soremouth at its best is unsatisfactory. This may be expected from the nature of the disease, since it is caused by a virus which is so small that it cannot be seen by a microscope. They are too small to be called germs. This virus penetrates into the skin, into the tongue, and parts of the mouth and causes an emulsion to be secreted which forms a brown like crust which, as stated above, will shed off leaving no scars or bad effects. If any treatment is to be given it is suggested that a mixture of one part of tincture of iodine to 2 parts of glycerine be made and applied to the scabby part. This preparation has the tendency to soften the scabs and thus keep the lips more pliable. If glycerine is not used 2 parts of white vaseline may be used by working one part of tincture of iodine into it.

Very few animals ever die from their disease and it is most prevalent in young animals up to one year of age. The greatest trouble as stated above being that it is a predisposing cause for screw worms and results in stunting the young animals and causing a great shrinkage in the feed lot.

STATE TAX RATE FIXED AT 62 CENTS

The state tax board fixed the tax rate for next year at 62c, the same as in 1935. There was no change either in the total rate or its component parts from last year. The constitutional maximum of 85c for general revenue and seven cents for Confederate pensions were retained as was the 20c rate for the available school fund.

The board announced that in fixing the rate for school purposes it had considered the action of the board of education in setting $19.00 per capita apportionment. The board also considered an estimate that the school fund would have a cash balance of $1,283,797.55 (million) at the end of the fiscal year, August 1936, and after paying the $2.85 per capita apportionment for the current year.

A report by the state comptroller department showed a cash balance of $764,466.90 in the school fund on June 30, and estimated receipts for July at $4,426,613.50. The balance unpaid on the 1936 apportionment was $3,897,283.85.
