Designed specifically to bring reasonably priced breakfasts, lunches and dinners to coach passengers and at the same time reduce traveling expenses of sleeping car patrous, the T&P economy meals start as low as 50c for breakfast and 90c for lunch and dinner. T&P Dining Car Superintendent Findley said that the 50c breakfast, for example, would offer hot cakes with butter and syrup, plus coffee. The noon and evening meals center around nine entree choices which will be altered throughout the week. Favorites like Irish stew, chicken pot pie, croquettes and lamb casserole are being featured. Vegetables, bread and butter, salad and drink are included. Lower priced dining car food is the fifth service the T&P has pioneered on southwestern railroads in the past six months to improve traveling conditions for the general public. The other four are 1) credit cards, of which the T&P has issued 3,400; 2) educational tours for youth groups; 3) complimentary coffee hours at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. on all T&P diners; 4) a hotel room service at passenger destinations which began with Chicago hotels and just this week was extended to include eleven other cities-Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, El Paso, St. Louis, New Orleans, Fort Worth, Atlanta, Los Angeles, New York and Dallas.
