Hockley County United Fund Drive to Kick Off Tuesday, October 2nd, at Breakfast Meet

Fourteen drive chairmen have been selected to conduct the campaigns of the annual Hockley County United Fund drive beginning in October.

Eddie Courtney and Bobby Taylor, co-campaign chairmen for this year's drive, recently met with their chairmen to map out plans for the drive. Starting Oct. 2, breakfast meetings each week will mark the beginning of different parts of the United Fund drive.

The advance drive, led by Charles Battin, and the branch house drive, spearheaded by Neal Catt, will kick off the campaign on Oct. 2. On Oct. 9 the general business drive, chaired by Frank Hunt, and the South Plains College and Levelland Public Schools, led by Dr. Marvin Baker and Bill Vardeman, respectively, will begin.

The kickoff breakfast for the business employees drive will be on Oct. 16. Gerald Self and his crew of workers will be seeking donations from most Levelland employees during this part of the drive.

The final kickoff breakfast will be Oct. 30 when the Hockley County farmers and area towns will be asked for donations. Bob Henderson will lead the farm drive. Conducting the area town drives will be Mrs. Mildred Avery or Whitharral, Leroy Standisfir of Sundown, Mrs. Mary Grace of Anton, Mrs. T.C. Ivey of Petit, and Murl Gary of Pep. Chairmen for Ropesville and Smyer are yet to be selected.

The United Fund this year is hoping to raise $30,000 from Hockley County residents. The money collected will be given to the Levelland Boy's Club, Texas Rehabilitation Hospital, the Youth Centers in Pep, Whitharral, Ropesville, Sundown and Anton, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, American Red Cross, U.S.O., and Boy Scouts of America.

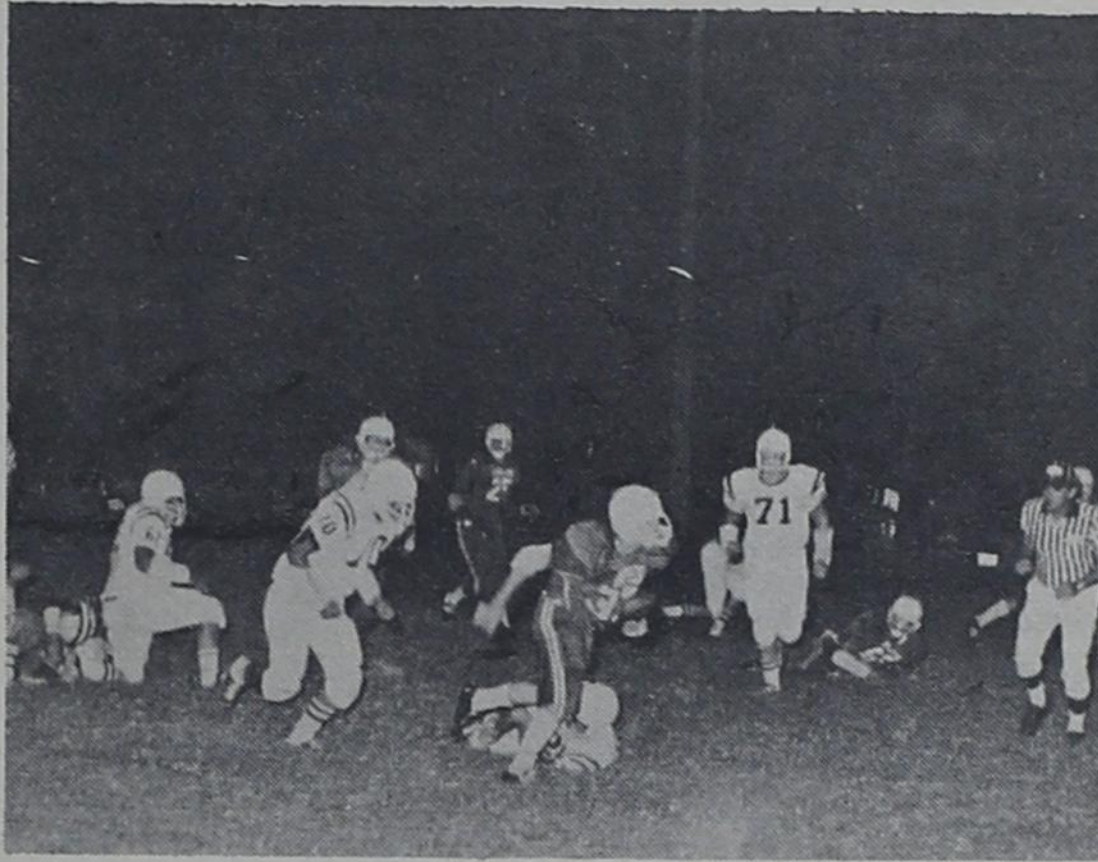

Services Read for Mrs. Mrs. Annie Tucker

Services were held last week for Mrs. Annie E. Tucker, 94, of Rt. 1, Meadow, at First United Methodist Church, the Rev. Delton Fisher officiating. Burial was in Decatur under direction of Rix Funeral Directors.

Mrs. Tucker died Saturday in Brownfield Nursing Home.

Mrs. Tucker was a resident of Terry County 40 years, moving from the Wells community.

Survivors include four sons, Winfred and Donald, both of Ft. 1, Meadow, Claude of Sundown and Marion of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. Lena Lewis of Ropesville; a Bring on Hale Center! Ropesville's young Eagles, flushed by a 27-13 victory over Sands last Friday night, will visit the Owls this week and hope to notch their second triumph of the young season.

The Eagles struck fast and furiously against Sands, scoring 20 points in the opening period and then holding off the losers, who saw their record drop to 0-3.

Bobby Thomas got the scoring parade underway with a two-yard smash at the line. Then, a few plays later, Rudy Quintanilla got under a punt, pumped steam into his strides and raced 75 yards for the second score.

Jerry Martin, not to be left out of the fund, ran 10 yards for the third first quarter score and Ropes held a 20-0 bulge.

It was well that the Eagles had built a good lead, for Sands came roaring back. The visitors saw Ed Kennemer spring five yards in the second quarter and then, in the fourth period, Neil Givens cut the margin sharply.

The Eagles responded with just 10 seconds left. Quintanilla tossed 10 yards to Max Blackman to close out scoring. Blackman booted three of four extra points for the Eagles.

Comment

Miles Per Gallon

The U.S. automobile industry has long stressed style, speed, power and a comfortable ride in selling cars. Rather far down the priority list in sales publicity has been miles per gallon.

Now the Environmental Protection Agency wants U.S. makers to list prominently on all new cars the miles they go on a gallon of gasoline. The EPA's interest is in reducing pollution through better mileage (less gasoline burned), which can be achieved by more efficient engines and lighter automobiles.

Considering the fact that some of today's personal luxury models get only six or seven miles to a gallon, EPA is striking a blow not only against pollution but for the pocketbook of the consumer. U.S. makers should agree to the government request in the public interest, and prominently display mileage performance data on new models.

Autumn, 1973

Late in the afternoon of September 22nd (11:21 p.m.) autumn arrives. And while some think of seasons in calendar months, autumn will last until early evening of the 21st of December.

Of all the seasons, autumn is by far the most nostalgic. If spring brings new life and warmth, autumn brings the end of a summer, of a growth cycle, of the hot summer days, of school holidays and many vacation freedoms. And it brings first hints of winter's harsh winds and bitter cold.

The fields turn brown or gold or tan and the trees switch to every color, yellow, red, orange, etc. Hunting begins in most areas, football causes many a heart to beat faster, food tastes better, one has more energy, the weather and skies are clearer and a walk outside among turning leaves and chill winds never fails to bring back memories of falls gone by.

September and October in more northerly states and October and November in more southerly latitudes bring about the most beautiful days of the year, for those who love fall. These are the months to prepare for winter, for Christmas, for the end of the calendar or tax year. For when autumn ends, there are only four days until Christmas and ten until 1974.

For The Hunter

This is a note to hunters in this area, to be heeded by all sportsmen. It concerns the preservation of wild life.

Too often in the past we have heard hunters boasting of killing more than their quota, of using unsportsmanlike methods to bring back game.

Those who persist in violating legal limits are guilty on two counts: the legal count and the sportsmanship count.

It is the duty of all sportsmen to discover every violation, especially when many occur on land owned by those breaking the law.

This editorial is an appeal to sportsmen to observe limits and the law. In the long run, such a policy will pay dividends to every hunter.

Equal Rights

Stung by setbacks in many states this year, leaders of various American women's action groups say they are launching a new campaign to win ratification of the so-called equal rights amendment to the Constitution by 1976.

Having originally targeted victory by this year, this is an admission of defeat, at least in the immediate future. What hurt the movement was the growing conviction by many women that the much publicized amendment would take away many special privileges they now enjoy. They then turned against political and sociological theorizing.

As a result, the amendment was defeated in eighteen states this year, and rescinded by one state (Nebraska) which had earlier passed it. Most Americans obviously have come to agree with the vast majority of less publicity minded women, represented by Phyllis Schlafly of Alton, Illinois, among others.

Mrs. Schlafly told reporters recently: "You have an occasional woman built like an Amazon but there aren't many," referring to heavy work. The military draft, the ending of the tradition that men should support their wives, the end of women's many special privileges, all seem to have doomed the idealistic sounding amendment, and rightly so; the sexes are different and laws can't change that fact.

overproduction and disaster prices does not appear to be great.

Nevertheless there is a degree of risk, particularly in view of the market's dependence on foreign purchases," he adds. "And the Secretary is correct when he says the Government is accepting 'a part' of that risk. But farmers too will be accepting a great deal of risk, and the respective risks of each should be clearly understood."

For cotton, the Government assumes a part of the risk under the 1974 farm program in two ways. Producers, first, are guaranteed a "target price" for the production from allotted acreage (not total acreage). Second, the Government provides producers with a price support loan of 25.26 cents per pound, basis Middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average location, on all of their production.

The target price will be 38 cents per pound. Producer payments, in the event of a market break, will be the difference between this target and the average price paid to farmers for all cotton sold in 1974.

"This of course means," Johnson cautions, "that when a payment is involved farmers who sell their cotton for a price below the national average will have a total return below 38 cents."

Should cotton prices, nationally, hold at or above 38 cents, there would be no payment. In this even the most significant provision of the cotton program for next year would be the built-in insurance feature which protects producers against total financial loss in the event of weather-induced crop failure.

If producers are unable to plant because of drought, flood or other abnormal weather conditions, they will receive a payment of 11 2/3 cents per pound on the payment yield (projected yield from their allotment).

Also, should abnormal weather after planting reduce total production from the farm to less than 66 2/3 percent of expected yield (payment yield times allotted acres), the producer will get the same payment rate per pound on the difference.

The producer's part of the risk is obvious. If the "target price" system will not provide total return equal to production costs, he is risking the amount of the deficiency on his allotted acreage. And if he overplants his allotment, he is risking the difference between the loan value of his crop and his cost of production.

"A somewhat similar situation exists for producers under the wheat and feed grains sections of the new law," Johnson says, "but so long as there is a clear understanding of the program, the producer has a good chance to make the right planting decisions."

"And in some instances farmers will have forward contract options on their crops, which will further aid the decision making process," he adds.

The current Administration, through Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, is calling for all-out production of agricultural commodities in 1974 and is taking off almost all planting restrictions to that end.

In a nine day tour of western states Butz is proclaiming that prospective world supply-demand conditions will be such in 1974 that there is little risk of an oversupply bringing on a drastic drop in farm prices. Moreover, he says the Government, under the new farm program, is accepting a part of the price risk that does exist.

"And we have to agree with the Secretary on both counts," says Donald Johnson, executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. "There are in fact strong indications that world demand for cotton, wheat and feed grains will continue to provide good markets, assuming no further government interference with exports. Therefore the risk of

by Joe Kelly

If anyone wants to be generous, Texas Tech is most welcome to be the recipient of any charity, the Red Raider football team that is. They made the most of handouts Saturday afternoon.

New Mexico, supposedly tougher than Utah and with the quarterback called by Coach Jim Carlen "probably the best quarterback we've faced since I've been here," didn't measure up. But then, when any team gets down 14 points in 93 seconds, it's tough to play catchup.

Rudy Feldman, the personable Lobo coach, agreed. He pointed to Tech's maturity and poise, saying that "Tech just sat back and let us try to catch up, taking advantage of our mistakes. We have a young inexperienced team and things like that can happen."

Feldman didn't think the defense played as bad as 41 points would indicate and I tend to agree. After the joy of victory wears off a little, you look at the game in retrospect.

What I did was to look at Tech's success on third down situations, and the picture, with Texas coming up this week, is not assuring.

Tech had 15 third down plays. The Raiders scored one touchdown on 3rd and 8, picked up first downs on three situations of 3rd and 1, 3rd and 1, and 3rd and 7. Good! Four out of 15.

But, 11 times they couldn't make 5, 4, 3, 7, 6, 22, 3, 3, 9, 11, 4 yards. Generally, short yardage situations.

This echoes Carlen's complaint after the game that he was disappointed more in the offensive line than anything else. He wasn't singling out this year's line, but was analyzing Tech's progress in two years. The offensive line was the only place solid improvement hadn't been made.

At the same time, he thought that the offensive line played better against New Mexico than it did against Utah. Again, he said that New Mexico wasn't Utah, and neither are a Texas.

Now, here's Carlen at his press conference after the game. "I'm not smart enough to figure your psychology. I don't know if it (the Texas loss) made our players play any better, I don't know if it will make Texas players play any better next week against us. I leave all that to the experts. Texas is the same team you writers picked in the top five of the nation, the best in the conference. I guarantee you one thing, they won't fumble eight times against us, they won't make the same mistakes against us that they made against Miami. Leaks is a top offensive player. To beat Texas, you've got to whip them in the line, and that's tough. They're big and strong."

"Something special for Texas? Oh, we'll put in a few new wrinkles this week. Their defense is a problem. We've faced two 5-2 defenses and now we have to face a split 6. That creates problems. We face the toughest three games in a row since I've been here—Texas, Oklahoma State, Texas A&M. I tell you, when we get through the next three weeks, we'll be experts on the wishbone. Diller was no Leaks and the New Mexico halfbacks don't block as well as the Texas halfbacks. There's no comparison between New Mexico and Texas. The difference between Utah and New Mexico? Utah was more mature. I still say they're going to beat a lot of folks this year. Our kickoff coverage was better tonight and our short yardage was better. But our offense is not consistent and I don't like that."

Carlen said that Joe Barnes, who got his bell rung pretty good, wasn't scheduled to play the second half Saturday anyway. "We planned to go with (Jimmy) Carmichael. He's a good quarterback and he needs to get the game experience."

Carlen also said that George Smith has been hurt by being out of action, that he needs to get his timing back and getting used to being hit. At the present, Freshman Larry Isaac of Estacado is the only healthy tailback

Tech has (out of four).

Off football and to Willie "Say Hey" Mays, one of the alltime great baseball players. Willie's aches and pains finally caught up with him and he announced his retirement last week.

Willie Mays was a credit to the game, to sports. He will never be forgotten and his enshrinement in the Hall of Fame is only a matter of waiting the necessary five years. I hate to see him leave. He was one of the most colorful players in an age when color is going out of baseball.

Tech Stuns New Mexico 41-7; Travels To UT This Week

by Joe Kelly

If anyone ever tells you lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, don't you believe it, especially if it's at Jones Stadium and in consecutive football games.

The type of lightning that struck Utah in Texas Tech's opening game, struck in the first minute and 33 seconds of its second contest. The Red Raiders joyfully accepted it and used two quick scores to beat New Mexico 41-7.

What happened was this: on New Mexico's opening kick-off, Lawrence Williams was stopped at the Tech 15, not the best field position. But the Lobos were offside and kicked again. This time Williams had fortune smiling. He started upfield, got some blocking, cut to his left, shook off a tackler and raced 95 yards to score with 19 seconds gone.

On Tech's kickoff, Robert Davis fumbled and Greg Waters recovered at the 26. Three plays later, Joe Barnes found Williams cutting over the middle and connected, with the swift Wichita Falls runner stretching the final five yards for the score.

In all, Tech scored four touchdowns in two games in the total time of 5 minutes, 13 seconds.

The Lobos started to come back from a 14-0 deficit, but Don Woods fumbled when hit at the Tech 26 and Aubrey McCain pounced on the first of his two recoveries at the Raider 12.

Tech didn't score on that possession, but it drove 44 yards in eight plays for its third first quarter touchdown, which came as James Mosley broke to the goal, fumbled and Andre Tillman took the errant pigskin for a six-pointer.

After that Tech notched six

Netherby. On page 162, under the subheading "Legs" is this... "This year I'm also going to try a scheme that a friend of mine, Dr. John Baker of Dallas, Texas, uses to strengthen himself for the backpacking season. John bought two 20-pound weight vests from an outfit called Elmer's Weights in Lubbock, Texas."

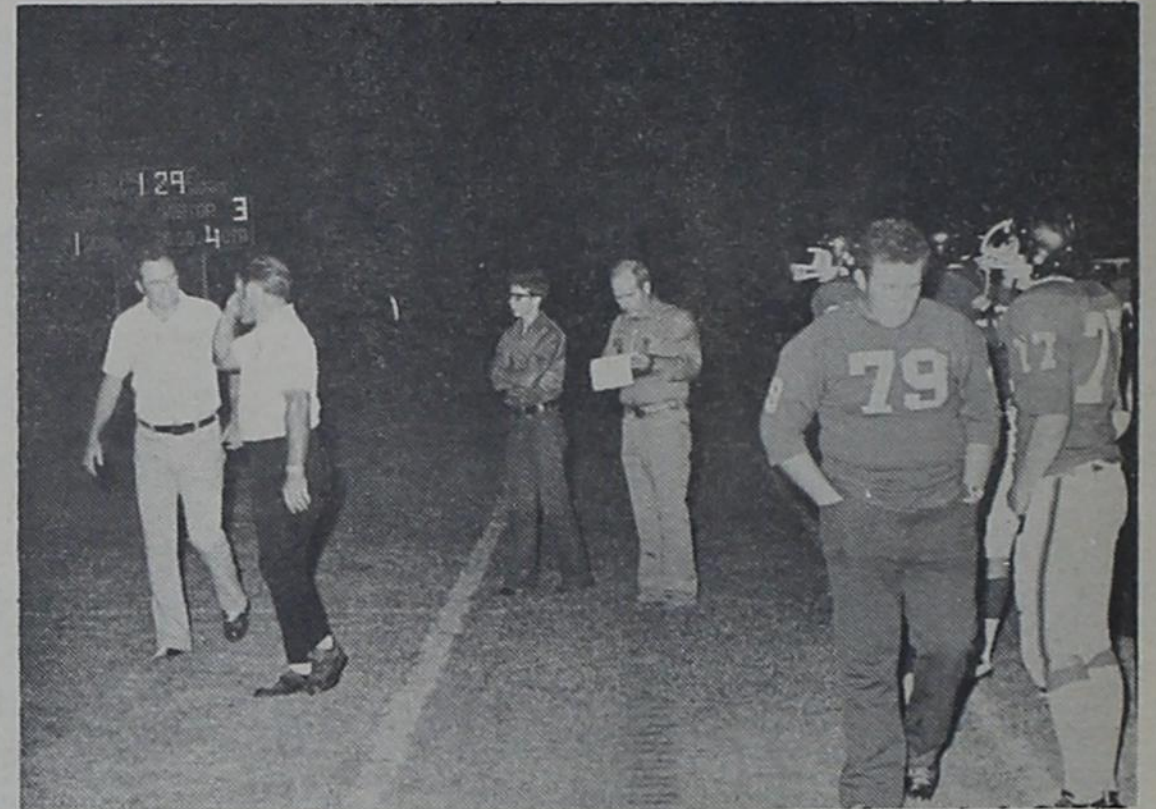

Aside to State Rep. Elmer Tarbox: Hey, Elmer, looks like the fame of the weights is spreading. My oldest son bought ankle weights and I've used them, too. They're great!

points on a pair of 41-yard field goals by Don Grimes, who also had a perfect five for five extra points to run his string to 56 without a miss; a one-yard run by Jimmy Carmichael for a tally; and a 2-yard smash by Mosley.

It hardly matters, but the Lobos averted a whitewash when tackle Edgar Bell fell on Randy Olson's fumbled punt in the Raider end zone with 6:43 left in the game.

This week the Raiders find out how real they are when they tackle Texas in Austin before some 80,000 fans. It will be the first conference game of the year and, while Tech has all the incentive it needs, the Longhorns should be like a hive of angry bees. They were upset by Miami, 20-15, in their opener Friday night and, to paraphrase the commercial, it's not nice to fool Mother Royal.

Mustangs Drop Heartbreaker to New Deal Friday Night

The scoreboard tells the story Friday night, with 1 min. 29 sec. left to play, the score is 3-0, and that's how the game ended, with the Mustangs losing a close one.

Despite the heroics of Bobby James, Shallowater fell to the New Deal Lions Friday night, 3-0, and now look forward to this week's game against Sudan.

James picked up 63 yards on 18 tries for the Mustangs in their losing effort against New Deal and it seemed as though the rugged fullback was going to pull victory out of defeat almost by himself.

But footballs take funny bounces and it was a not so hilarious one that cost the Mustangs victory. Shallowater had staged a 65-yard drive for what appeared to be a game winning march. But a back fumbled into the end zone and a New Deal player claimed the errant ball to stymie the Mustangs.

Bill Bingham's 31-yard field goal, with two minutes left in the first half, were the only points in the game and evened both teams' records at 1-2.

Shallowater showed offensive heft, smashing New Deal's defenses for 186 rushing yards and adding 63 yards through the air.

Schneider - Strong Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. C.B. Strong, announce the engagement of their daughter Charlotte, to Mark Schneider, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Carl Schneider of Weise, Idaho. The couple plan to wed November 3 in Wolfforth United Methodist Church. Schneider is in the Air Force and is stationed at Reese Air Force Base. Miss Strong is a 1973 graduate of Frenship High School and plans to attend South Plains College in Levelland next semester.

They voted to hold a rifle raffle, the rifle to be given away at the Halloween Carnival. A total of 27 members paid their dues for the next year.

Jr. Varsity & Freshman Football

The Freshman and Jr. Varsity football teams played at Morton last Thursday. The freshmen won by a score of 12-8. This was their first game. The Jr. Varsity won by a score of 36-14. They are undefeated so far this year.

Fair Winners

Deelana Moise, Frenship High School homemaking student won several ribbons in the canned good category in the Junior Foods Division.

Mrs. Juanita Strong won second place with a decorated purse.

Mrs. Glenda Drennan won honorable mention in the miscellaneous division with a picture.

Benton Easter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Easter won first place with an oil painting in the 4th, 5th and 6th grade Fine Arts Division.

Other winners from Wolfforth in this division were Russell Woods with water color painting; Wilbert Nelms, ink, crayon, and pencil drawing; Sandra Alexander, mixed media and Andy Carrizales, craft or sculpture. In the first, second and third grade division, Stephanie Jones of Wolfforth won in mixed media.

Tweedy Texans

Autumn northers blowing in will find tweed-clad Texans. Tweed fabric surfaces are big news, according to Mrs. Robinson, County Extension Agent.

Fabrics and garments currently available in Texas stores indicate this new fashion emphasis for Fall and Winter '73.

Named for the Tweed River in Scotland where first produced, today's tweeds include an assortment of light to heavy weight, rough textured, sturdy fabrics.

Although originally a woven woolen fabric, they're currently available in a wide variety of fibers and blends, offering ease of care and a wide range of styling possibilities. There's a cost for every pocketbook, plus a natural look and hand.

Traditionally, tweeds are characterized by their mixed color effect, such as Donegal tweeds. They also may be the same color, checked, plaid, striped and patterned.

Tweeds combine well with other patterns since their subtle coloring is easily repeated, producing a unified effect.

Tweeds tailor exceptionally well in suits and sportswear for both men and women.

This fabric offers "plus" features for every individual if selected accordingly. Depending on boldness, it projects self confidence and sophistication. Tweed texture can minimize figure faults and irregularities. For example, texture dullness absorbs light, reducing effect of size. Bulkier tweeds, on the other hand, become slender figures. However, petite persons should not choose an extremely large scale tweed since the contrast would be overpowering.

When in doubt of the overall effect or appearance, stand in front of a mirror and hold the garment or fabric to your body in the area it will be worn. Does it make you appear larger or smaller?

Observe effects on the skin and eyes when worn near the face. Coarse or fine features can be complemented by the proper textured tweed. Avoid extreme contrasts and similarities.

by Jewel Robinson

Mrs. J.K. Wright of 310 Avenue I has shared with us a new relish recipe or at least its new to me. This recipe sounds good and it is a unique way of using zucchini squash. Thank you Mrs. Wright for sharing this recipe with Hockly County:

Squash Relish

- 10 cups unpeeled zucchini cut in chunks for soaking
- 4 cups onions
- 3 to 4 bell peppers, chopped
- 1 red pepper, chopped or 1 can pimentos
- 5 tablespoons salt

Cover the above with cold water and soak overnight. Next morning drain and rinse in water. Then grind squash and onions and add:

- 4 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 1/2 cups apple cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons tumeric
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons celery salt
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg

CLEAN ENERGY
FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource . . . natural gas.

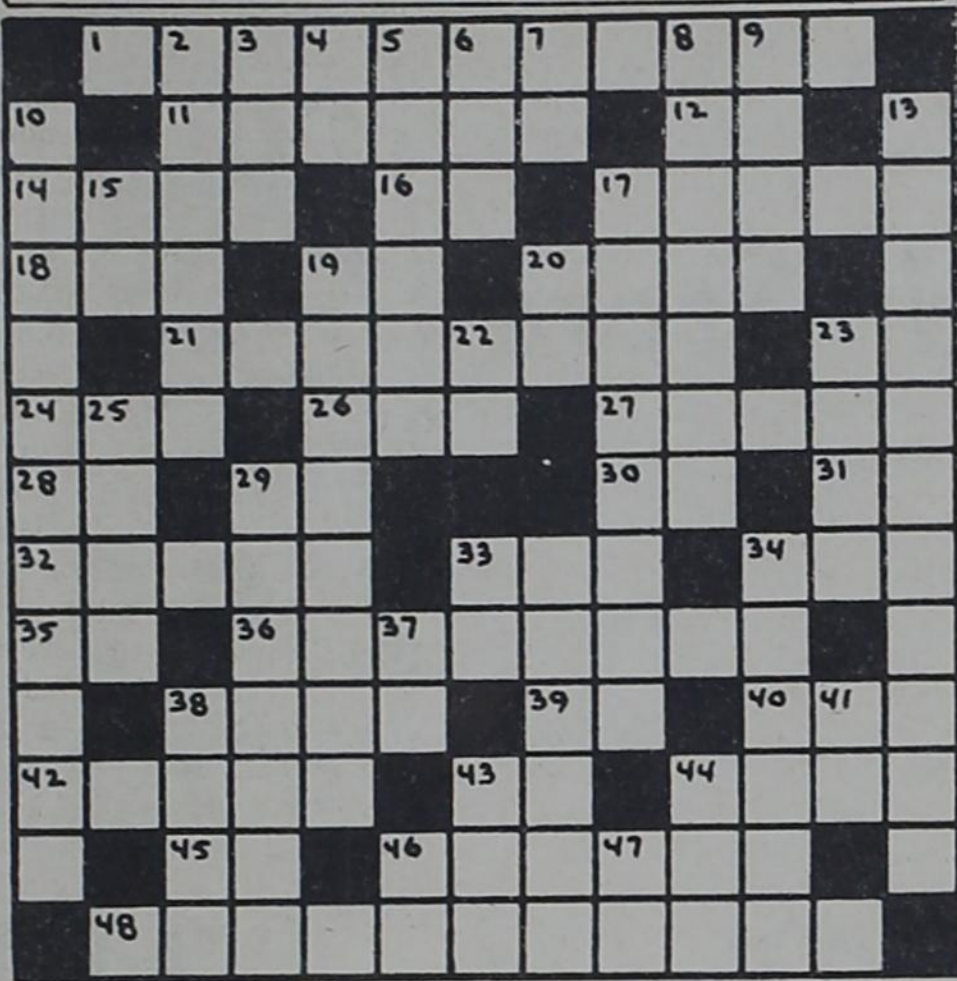

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.
