Who Is In The Race For Office

A citizen in the Ropes community asked the question the other day, "Has a certain man withdrawn from the race? We have failed to see his announcement in the Ropes paper."

We don't know whether the man spoke of has withdrawn or not, but we do know the candidates who have announced in the Plainsman — men seeking your vote by announcing in the newspaper that serves you—in the only newspaper that adequately serves this community. It would seem that a candidate seeking office, if he desired the votes of the Ropes community, would announce his candidacy through the newspaper that serves the community—in short, "your" newspaper.

Below is our announcement column—you can see for yourself who has announced:

Rain And Sand Storm

On Wednesday night of last week, as the Plainsman was being printed, the Ropes section was visited by a regular spring thunderstorm and rain that, in spots, amounted to almost a quarter of an inch. This was followed by a mist and some disagreeable weather.

By Saturday the skies were again clear and Sunday and Monday were spring-like lays.

On Tuesday we were treated to a sand storm in the morning which stirred up a lot of dust, but three o'clock the wind had diminished to some extent, and in the Ropes vicinity there was little or no blowing.

Roland Evans, who had been to Brownfield during the morning, stated that the sand was whirling in that fair city.

Weir Clem On Job

Weir Clem told the Plainsman this week that the duties of his office would not permit him to make an active campaign, but that he was meeting all the people possible.

A series of break-ins and robberies over the county has kept the sheriff's department on the go, but Sheriff Clem said that there had been a let up and that this past weekend was rather quiet, with only one small loss being reported to his office.

However, these break ins have not been confined to Hockley County, but have been occurring in all counties on the South Plains, as well as other sections of Texas.

While arrests are made and culprits are convicted the break-ins continue at a merry pace—seemingly the more arrests, the more there are who want to take the chance for easy money.

Olen Petty Here Saturday

Olen Petty, candidate for state representative of this district, was among those in Ropes this past Saturday.

Olen is trying to meet all the folks in the four counties that he is seeking to represent, and it is keeping him busy night and day.

Political Rally Ropes April 30

As in former years a political rally will be held in Ropes on Saturday night, April 30. All county candidates will be present and perhaps candidates running for District and State office.

If the weather permits, the rally will be held in front of the Plainsman office as in the past.

There will also be country music.

This will be your opportunity to hear your favorite candidate express himself and see how he appears on the speaker's platform.

Keep this date in mind.

Grocery Prices in Ropes At Low Level-- Check Prices in Ads Before You Buy

You will hold those in the community who will tell you of the savings they make by buying their groceries in chain stores in neighboring cities.

We've heard this time and again.

So, this past Monday morning we gathered about us the newspapers printed in the different towns and cities, and what we found was a little surprising — Ropes prices were not only as low as prices quoted in advertisements of the different chain stores, but in some instances they were lower.

The first item to catch our attention was hamburger meat in Ropes for 3 pounds for $1; in adjoining towns and cities the same price.

The second item was bacon, in Ropes at 2 pounds for 89 cents; in adjoining towns and cities 98 cents.

The third item was ice cream, in Ropes half gallon 59c; in adjoining towns and cities 69c.

The fourth item was tuna, in Ropes 25c a can; in adjoining cities and towns, same price.

The fifth item was cream style corn, in Ropes 7 cans for $1; in adjoining city, 7 cans $1.05.

Of course, this is only five items. But it is enough to give you something to think about—can you drive miles and save?

We don't think you can. Do not only think about it, but take the ads appearing in the Plainsman and figure what you save—ask for every day prices at Ropes stores and compare with others—that will give you the true picture—it never pays to trade away from home if it can be bought at home.

Snider Thinks Mechanical Cotton Gathering Soon

E. M. Snider, who lives southeast of Ropes, told us this week that he thinks the mechanical cotton gathering is at hand. His belief comes from the constant improvement of the cotton "pickers" now being developed, as well as the high price being demanded by farm labor for gathering cotton.

Mr. Snider pointed out that with the decline in farm prices that the day of high labor was almost a thing of the past.

Freedom in Truth

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"

Jno. 8:32
The fourth of the Ten Commandments reads, "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy". Ex. 20:8. The sabbath day came on the seventh day of the week. This law to keep the Sabbath was not given until the children of Israel were in the wilderness. In Neh. 9:13-14 Nehemiah speaks of how Jehovah "camest down also upon Mt. Sinai, and spake with them from heaven. . . and madest known unto them thy holy sabbath". Nehemiah says God "made known", not reminded them of the sabbath. The sabbath covenant was made with the Jews and none other. Moses wrote, "Jehovah made a covenant with us in Horeb (Sinai). Jehovah made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all alive this day." Deut. 5:2-3. The Ten Commandment covenant was not made with the Gentiles, but with the Jews. The sabbath was given as a commemoration of their bondage: "And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and Jehovah thy God brought thee out thence by a mighty hand and by an outstretched arm: THEREFORE Jehovah thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day". Deut. 5:15. The sabbath law was not given to us today. It was given to the Jews. It was given because they had been in bondage in Egypt. None of us were ever in bondage in Egypt, therefore the law does not apply to us. We are to worship the Lord on the first day of the week, Acts 20:7; I Cor. 16:1-3; Rev. 1:10, and not on the seventh. THINK on these things.

Price Outlook For Cotton Not Good

A price slash of about $40 per bale of cotton is ahead during the next three years for Plains cotton farmers under existing price support legislation, says Dan Davis, general manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association in Lubbock. By 1963, it appears that allotted acres for all growers will be down to the "Choice A" acreage and the price will be supported at the "Choice B" loan level, he predicted.

Unless the present law is changed, the 80% of parity support of the 1959 crop will skid to 65% by 1962. In addition, a change in the quality base for computing support prices will chop some $7.50 from the price of cotton from 1961 onward. The present price support schedule for Middling 1" cotton at Lubbock is: 1959-34c; 1960-31c; 1961-27c; and 1962-25c. These projections are in round figures based on the minimum levels authorized by the present law.

The 23 Plains counties have been producing about two million bales annually. A cut of $40 per bale will reduce the value of the Plains cotton crop by some $80,000,000. There are no indications at present that the upward trend in such production costs as labor, machinery, fuel, taxes, etc., will be reversed.

Few have realized the impact of such a calamity, either farmers or people whose business depends on buying power of the producers. There is a general feeling that the outlook for cotton is bright. For the farmers who grow it, the outlook is certainly dark, a heavy reduction in price with no increase in acres, Davis said.
