February Is Scouting Month

February is Scouting Month across the United States and is observed by scouts in the form of a Blue and Gold Banquet. The Cub Scouts of Ropesville held their banquet Monday Feb. 19th with the Lions Club as official hosts.

Boys from the Ropes Boy Scout Troop were in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies with the Cubs of Den 1 providing the entertainment. They presented a skit in which they were attempting to take an ordinary boy, Jody Means, and by process of an operation turn him into a Cub Scout. Doctor Shane Lourie, Assistant Eddie Salas and Nurse Davy Roberts performed their duties well, and by removing such things as hate, prudishness and idle hands and replacing them with love, reverence and busy fingers accomplished their mission. Operation A was a success!

Next the Lions were invaded by Tarzan & Jane and their Jungleland Band. Tarzan, played by Kevin Cartu and Jane, played by Jimmy Tuy, led their monkey band of Jody Means, Danny Ochoa, Eddie Salas, Shane & Shannon Lourie, Jeff Tuy and Davy Roberts in their version of Ray Stevens' recording of "Guitarzan." Guest speaker for the evening was Jerry W. Stevens who is a district scout executive. He commended the Lions Club for their support of the scouting program.

The Cubs of Den 1 would again like to express their appreciation to the Lions Club for sponsoring them and making their banquet such a big success.

Cotton Harvest 90 Percent Complete

Ideal weather conditions enabled South Plains farmers to resume the cotton harvest and approximately 90 percent of the crop is now out of the fields, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock.

Samples from 102,000 bales were tested and classed at the South Plains U.S.D.A. COTTON classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa during the week ending Friday, February 16th. This brought the total classed for the season to 1,666,000 bales.

No-Fault Insurance

This year legislatures in many states will consider no-fault automobile insurance. Only five states now have good no fault laws: Massachusetts, Connecticut, Florida, Michigan and New Jersey.

In recent years trial lawyers' lobbies have managed to defeat this reform in a number of states. They, of course, see a financial gravy train coming to an end through enactment of reform legislation eliminating the need for a court trial before insurance can be paid victims. Also opposing the reform, quietly in some cases, have been some insurance companies, for no-fault automobile insurance has lowered rates. It also speeds payments and makes them more equitable.

No-fault automobile insurance is badly needed reform and is certain to eventually prevail in all states.

Voters, by letting their state legislators know they know the facts, can hasten the day of reform in forty-five states now without it.

Film Talk

A topic about which millions of television viewers waste time listening to nothing is film production. It seems that almost every film made in Hollywood or for television, and most of them are sorry, is discussed up and down and backwards by various film types—in the most somber, serious tone and manner (as if it were important, or anyone cared) in another program.

While everyone is entitled to his or her opinion, there's nothing about acting which makes actors and actresses especially well informed, or even well qualified to speak out on national issues and problems. In fact, the very nature of the business limits actors and actresses from living in a normal world, experiencing a somewhat typical life. They are, as a group, uniquely unqualified to solve national problems, and few of them are really informed or experienced in social, government or educational work. Also, most films are aimed solely at making money; their so-called significance is usually minimal.

It is bad enough to pay unemployment compensation to paint and powder dandies when they don't find a role to suit them, and report out of work (many feel they should be required to accept any honorable employment). But its even more painful to see and hear so many, obviously uninformed or half-informed, popping off on national and international issues. More good entertainment and less sermonizing would be in order from the film world.

The News Council—Some Support—Impounding—Nixon to Win—

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Although, ironically, some of the nation's most powerful liberal newspapers are refusing to cooperate with the new News Council being set up by the Twentieth Century Fund, the idea is getting increasing support.

Chairman of the council is Roger Traynor, former chief justice of the California Supreme Court. Six other members are to be journalists and nine others will have some journalistic experience. Thus council membership is not likely to persecute the press, misunderstand it or criticize it unless there is some justification.

The purpose behind the News Council is to establish a body to which the average citizen can complain if he or she feels news media have been unfair. This is desirable, if only because of the media's current credibility gap.

The National Council will consider complaints about the three giant networks, the three news magazines, public broadcasting, the wire services, including services of the New York Times and Washington Post, and two newspapers—the Christian Science Monitor and Wall Street Journal.

There has never been such a body to serve the public and thus few Senators and Congressmen are bold enough to speak out on the need for the council; many quietly support the idea, preferring council monitoring to government monitoring.

President Nixon is likely to win the contest concerning Executive and Congressional authority as it relates to his refusal to spend monies appropriated by Congress in 1972.

Though much noise comes from the Hill, especially from solons whose pet projects are involved, there's little Congress can do to make the President spend money.

Many members realize that had Mr. Nixon spent all Congress appropriated in the 92nd Congress it would have long ago been necessary to raise the national debt ceiling. The President feels this would have been irresponsible, and probably has the support of the majority of Americans.

"Man, If You Want To Stay In This Game, You'd Better Get In Shape"

State Capital NEWS

By: Bill Boykin

BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex. (Spl)—A new kind of "drug war" seems to be shaping up in the Legislature.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe spelled out his recommendations for complete revisions of drug laws and promised to "lobby hard" with all the resources at his command as governor to get the bill passed.

As introduced in the House and Senate, it called for harsh penalties against dope pushers, annual registration of those who deal in legal drugs — and lowering the penalty for first offense possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor.

Briscoe's bill would allow possession of up to eight ounces of marijuana without risking felony charge on first offense. However, the misdemeanor would be punishable by up to a year in jail and/or $2,000 fine. The Governor also called for stepped-up education and rehabilitation programs. The bill was drawn, said Briscoe, to mesh with the 1970 federal controlled substance act to allow governments at all levels to work more effectively together.

A few days later, however, former Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, who headed a Senate study committee on drug abuse, assailed the governor's proposals as "an out-and-out fraud as a reform measure." Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena introduced in bill form the far-reaching provisions of Kennard's committee.

Brooks' bill would "decriminalize" marijuana possession and set moderate felony penalties for sales. It would also make simple possession of most drugs (heroin excluded) a misdemeanor and provide for commitment of users to rehabilitation facilities. On the other hand, it would call for non-paroleable life sentences of convicted "big time" heroin dealers.

The controversy continues to boil on the reduction of penalties on use of marijuana—and increasing penalties on those who sell marijuana or hard drugs.

H.B. 86 by Rep. Lindon Williams implements more stringent penalties on those who sell drugs.

It is backed by the Austin based Legal Drug Control Society, headed by E.E. Armistead. Armistead has passed petitions for over a year, and submitted these to the Legislature.

"The Legal Drug Control Society asks that concerned citizens write their legislators to express support for H.B. 86," Armistead says. "We realize that there is no simple solution on this complex problem of drug abuse, but removing the pusher and dealer from the scene will certainly be a giant step in the right direction."

Armistead started his crusade against the drug pushers when his daughter jumped from the University of Texas tower two years ago. Her notes told about experiments with drugs.

COUNCIL MAKES SURVEY FOR LEGISLATURE—County judges and clerks and District clerks and judges have been asked for important research information to help the Texas Legislature make decisions on current legislative proposals.

Questions on marijuana, automobile accidents, probation, etc., have been posed by the Texas Civil Judicial Council—which is charged in state statutes with the duty of supplying information to the legislature affecting state courts.

"It is understandably difficult for a legislator to judge the merits of proposed legislation wisely without any estimate of its impact," said Ronald Earle, chief counsel for the Judicial Council. "The Judicial Council is seeking to provide this needed information instead of conjecture."

In seeking information regarding the number of persons currently on probation the Judicial Council will be exploring uncharted territory, Earle added. "The impact of probation on the criminal process is too important not to consider in more detail."

Current proposals on changes in the Judicial Article of the Texas Constitution sets up machinery for an Administrator of the Court—whose office would compile statistics from the courts on a year-round basis.

DELAY DENIED—Lt. Gov. Hobby gave repeated assurances that his plans for a March 20-21 citizens conference on ethics in government will not delay senate consideration of reform measures passed by the House.

Meanwhile, some House members blasted Hobby for indicating final Senate approval of the reform bills would be held up until after he receives advice of citizens on ethics legislation at the conference.

Hobby said hearings will move forward on ethics, lobby control and campaign financing measures. He noted it is extremely unusual for the

New Vaccine

A new vaccine developed at the Pasteur Institute in Paris is thought to protect those immunized against all strains of influenza for three or four years; the revolutionary capability of the vaccine is that it protects against strains not yet in existence but certain to evolve. No flu vaccine has ever done this.

Though the new vaccine has not yet been sufficiently tested, the Director of the Pasteur Institute, Dr. Jacques Monod, a Nobel Prize winner, calls it "revolutionary." Other experts say if the vaccine does indeed protect against future strains of influenza, it represents a significant research breakthrough.

Since influenza is a serious threat to the weak and elderly, a vaccine which can immunize for several years is certain to save many lives and may well constitute a medical milestone.

Senate to vote on controversial measures before March 9 anyway. The Lieutenant Governor said the citizens conference carries out his campaign pledge to seek voter input on matters of intense public concern.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Supreme Court refused an appeal by Continental Oil Company to issue an order in an energy shortage action involving the company's inability to deliver natural gas under contract with other concerns.

The high court upheld lower courts restraining Crystal City from locking what's left of the local country club and upholding a 1956 lease of city land.

Court of Criminal Appeals overruled a conviction for theft against a former Crane County hospital executive who allegedly sold a compressor unit used in treating respiratory diseases. The court decision said Crane County had never become owner of the machine, and there could have been no theft or embezzlement from the county.

QUARTER PLAN DELAYED—The Senate passed and sent to the governor legislation to delay for two years mandatory implementation of the quarter system in state public schools.

The bill (HB 92) moves the mandatory start-up period for the quarter system from next September to the 1975-76 school year. Small school districts urged the delay.

BARGAINING BILL ADVANCES—After nearly eight hours of debate, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving policemen and firemen collective bargaining rights if local voters approve.

The watered-down bill would prohibit strikes by the firefighters and police, and it would require they get the prevailing wage for their area in comparable work.

SHORT SHORTS

The Senate rejected 13-17 the appointment of Ray Kirkpatrick to the State Insurance Board.

Lt. Gov. Hobby asked Sen. H.J. Blanchard of Lubbock to investigate the spending of the Legislative Property Tax Committee, a panel set up to seek ad valorem tax reform.

Parks and Wildlife Department once more is seeking authority to raise hunting license fees from $3.25 to $5.25 and fishing licenses from $2.15 to $4.25.

Atty. Gen. Hill filed a motion for rehearing of the U.S. Supreme Court decision January 22 which threw out the state's abortion laws.

A bill to permit the Attorney General to recover damages for deceptive trade practices or deceptive advertising victims has Senate Human Resources Committee approval.

HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE

Kate, Ali similar

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — I wonder whether Bob Evans has noticed the similarities between his current favorite, Kate Jackson, and his ex-wife, Ali MacGraw.

Both have long legs, long, dark hair and the model look, and, as a matter of fact, both are former models.

However, Kate, the feminine lead in "The Rookies," prepared for an acting career more seriously than did Ali, who'd never had a thespian lesson in her life when she fell into the lead in "Goodbye, Columbus."

Miss Jackson, a Birmingham, Ala., girl from an excellent neighborhood, attended the University of Mississippi briefly ("because I'd heard you had a good time there") before returning home to enroll in theater arts classes at Birmingham Southern College, a school with a noteworthy drama department.

After that, still hardly more than an adolescent, she moved on to Stowe, Vt., to work as an apprentice with a summer theater.

Finally, rounding out her professional preparation, she attended and was graduated from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and was enrolled in Monique James' New Talent Development Program at Universal.

Asked how her nontheatrical parents in Birmingham reacted to her teen-age escape to New York, Kate says, "They were just glad I wanted to go as long as I did."

As to their reaction to her romance with Evans, Paramount Pictures' glamour-boy boss, Miss Jackson has no comment.

Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Zindel has won again. While visiting Barbra Streisand at

She likes her name. "And besides," she says, "lots of people think the doll got her name from me." ... Priscilla Presley (Beaulieu) and Mike Stone are sharing the same mail box. Further, he's been bringing his kids over to Priscilla's place to play with little Lisa Presley. Or maybe they just happen to be with him when he stops by to pick up his mail. If you doubt that he and Cilla are that cordial, you can see their names together on their mutual box. ... Anna Kashfi's most devoted beau is freelance advertising artist James Hamford.

Of all the Hollywood stars, none was more shocked and dismayed at the sudden death of former President Lyndon Johnson than was Hugh O'Brian who spent two and one-half days with him at the LBJ Ranch in December.

As a souvenir of that visit, Hugh has a fine, recent photograph of the late president looking as hale and hearty as the Marlboro Man.

"That's what he called the ranch," Hugh says, "Marlboro Country."

The picture is autographed by Johnson to Hugh as, "A good man and a very special friend."

O'Brian, nonpartisan in his politics, attended the inauguration as a friend and supporter of Mr. Nixon's and has been equally friendly with other presidents regardless of party affiliation back to and including Eisenhower.

Of our past three presidents, on the basis of their greatness in office, Hugh says he thinks history will rank Nixon first, Johnson second and Kennedy third.

"History will certainly record that Kennedy was a very beloved president, though not as universally beloved as Eisenhower," he says, "and at the time of his election, maybe we needed someone to love."

"But there's a difference between being respected and loved."

MOVIE MEMORIES

by Bob Harman

WHO WAS this screen actor seen in motion pictures since the 1930's portraying coaches, parish priests, and reporters?

Answer: Pat O'Brien.
—From HOLLYWOOD PANORAMA. E. P. Dutton, Publishers.

"Johnson was a strong president and one of the greatest politicians of our time. He knew how to get the legislation that he wanted passed.

"People say that Nixon is a strong president but not a warm one. However, he's actually a very warm man.

"Watching him dancing with people at the inauguration parties, I was impressed by his warmth and by his nerve. He must have driven the security people crazy.

"It took a lot of guts to mingle with people the way that he did."

Since his television series "Search" went on hiatus, Hugh has been recovering from knee surgery done to repair cartilage injured during the first episode of the show.

Like Christopher Lee says, the practice of black magic is the worship of evil, and evil is real. So the stars and their hangers-on who are fooling around with witchcraft should try another hobby. Tennis is a lot safer, even if you're playing with Spiro Agnew.

After reading Time magazine's comments concerning "The Last Tango in Paris," I can't understand why Marlon Brando hasn't been arrested for indecent exposure. And I'm not joking!

But, to the everlasting shame of the human race, the picture is already making money.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I am 16 years old and I have a boyfriend who is 17. Sometimes when I go out with him, he treats me as if I were 5 years old. Although, I guess I might act a little like a child when I get mad, but he treats me like that a lot. My mother also gets on my nerves. When my mother gets mad at me she tells me I should be glad that she lets me go out so much with my boyfriend. She thinks I'm not old enough to go out seriously with a guy. I think I am and we both are deeply in love with one another. Isn't my mother being over-protective? Should we elope?

OUR REPLY: Wait a minute! What was that last question? "Should we elope?" Read over your letter again. It doesn't sound to us like you and your boyfriend are so deeply in love. Come on, wake up! By just reading your letter, the worst advice we could give you would be to elope. You are just hanging on to a slowly dying romance. The problem isn't with your boyfriend or with your mother, it's with you. Maybe your mother's advice to you is your best bet - you aren't quite mature enough to be deeply in love.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY. 40601.
